Mike Zebrofki, 16, escaped, and while he was being sought, Melvin Powell, Windsor, who had only 45 days to serve of a four-year sentence walked away.

During the fire, 96 prisoners "worked like slaves" to put it out, Dr. Heaslip said. There was no disorder in the custodial buildings and no escapes, he added.

POSSESSION IS STAYED.

TORONTO, Aug. 20. (CP).—Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy agreed yesterday to stay a writ of possession against the Greek Orthodox Holy Virgin Church at Oshawa, provided a certified cheque is delivered by Rev. Maxim Charles Chawrina, pastor of the church.

The cheque, for $1,200, would cover principal and interest on a mortgage held by David Sych, Toronto, pending outcome of a legal action to settle what persons are entitled to redeem the property. The cheque is to be made payable to the Supreme Court of Ontario.

Premier Aberhart Challenges Authority To Disallow Acts

EDMONTON, Aug. 20 (C.P.). — Authority of the Dominion Government to disallow Provincial legislation was challenged in a telegram sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King by Premier Aberhart in reply to notification from Federal authorities three Alberta Acts had been disallowed. Copies of the telegram were released here to-day by Premier Aberhart.

The Alberta reply "again asserts with all possible emphasis that the legislation in question is within the sphere of our jurisdiction" and charged disallowance of the banking legislation is "deliberately violating property and civil rights."

"Future disclosure of the institutions so self evidently inciting you to disallow our legislation will simultaneously saddle your Government with full responsibility for producing a most serious constitutional crisis," Premier Aberhart's message said.

The telegram, sent last night several hours after Premier Aberhart announced a spjecial session of the Legislature would be called to pass legislation substituting for that disallowed by the Federal Government, declared "our people insist that we

Crystal Palace Ruins Are Razed By Fire

London, Aug. 20.

THE ruins of the Crystal Palace almost wholly destroyed in a fire last November, caught fire today and the remains of the building were levelled.

The section left standing after last year's fire and which burned down today included the "old school of fine arts" and the roller skating rink.

SIXTY STRIKE AT EAGLE LAKE PLANT

LINDSAY, Aug. 20.—Dissatisfied with hours and wages, sixty employees of the International Cooperage Company at Eagle Lake, in Haliburton County, went on strike yesterday.

The industry is said to be the largest in the country and the plant was forced to close down. Trouble started among the workers on the dry timber, who were working longer hours than the green timbermen, for the same pay, $2 per day. The men are required to perform a certain amount of work each day, no matter how many hours it takes.

Eighteen of the dry timbermen went on strike on Tuesday and yesterday the strike spread to the rest of the employees. Negotiations are proceeding between the men and J. S. Greer, superintendent of the plant, in an effort to effect an agreement and a return to work.

General Franco's Legions Push On Unopposed

Last Loyalist Stronghold on Northern Coast is Doomed.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 20—(AP)—General Franco's conquering legions slogged through the mud of the Biscayan Hill country today toward an apparently doomed Santander.

The insurgent chieftain visited his relentlessly advancing front, pleased by the now almost unopposed push toward the Spanish government's last city stronghold on the northern coast.

The insurgent offensive yesterday was confined to infantry attacks against the last strands of the government's defensive. Thick fog and a driving rain throughout the southern sector grounded the insurgent air fleet and Franco's field guns were useless in the low visibility.

The insurgent operations were centered on two vital highways, the Burgos and Palencia roads running north toward Santander, but the advance guard deployed on either side of the highways to wipe out Santander's dwindling forces.

The Italian "Black Arrow" brigade, a powerful unit of Franco's army, was reported within a few miles of Torrelavega and of all his forces the nearest to Santander.

The French trawler Louisette arrived yesterday at Bayonne, France, with refugees from the beleaguered seaport who said the capitulation of Santander was considered inevitable.

Tramp Tries Rescue Thief Steals His Pack

Winnipeg, Aug. 20.

WHILE Ian Howell, 24-year-old transient from Windsor, Ont., was making an attempt to drag a man from the Red River here yesterday, the meanest man in Winnipeg crept beneath a nearby dock and stole Howell's packsack, Howell said today.

The unidentified man who fell or jumped from Provencher Bridge drowned when Howell couldn't hold him up above the choppy waters.

CAR DRIVER INJURED.
(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 20.—Arthur Masters, 24-year-old son of Richard Masters, had his hand badly lacerated on Wednesday when his car failed to make a sharp turn on the road near Bannockburn, striking a rock. He was brought to Tweed for medical attention.

Hon. H. C. Nixon Believes Charges Against Strikers Should Be Dropped

TORONTO, Aug. 20 (CP). — Charges laid against 16 Peterborough textile workers, following disorder outside the mills of Dominion Woollens, Limited, during the recent strike, might well be dropped, "now that the trouble is ended and they are back to work," Hon. H. C. Nixon, Provincial Secretary, said today.

Mr. Nixon emphasized that this was his personal viewpoint only. He gave it when asked to comment on the motion of Cornwall textile workers, who last night ended their strike with Canadian Cottons and at their mass meeting requested that charges against the 16 at Peterborough be withdrawn.

"My own reaction is—accept the suggestion and forget it," said Mr. Nixon.

Hon. Paul Leduc, Attorney-General, is in Ottawa.

Trees, Hydro Poles Are Reported Down In Many Sections

Second Cyclonic Electrical Storm Within One Week Sweeps Province.

(By The Canadian Press)

Death and destruction were left to-day in the path of the second cyclonic electrical storm to sweep Southern Ontario within three days. Two men were killed, at least 10 persons were injured and the toll of property damage ran into thousands of dollars.

Wind uprooted a tree on the farm of William Breen, 59-year-old North Oxford farmers, and it carried Hydro-Electric power wires down when it fell. Breen, hastening to extinguish the fire that broke out in the tree, stepped among the live wires and was electrocuted.

At Sarnia, George Rennie, Toronto steeple-jack, was working 200 feet in the air on the Imperial Oil Refinery smoke-stack. A lightning bolt struck him and he lost his balance, plunging to death below. A fellow-worker, F. McPhee, was uninjured.

Also in Western Ontario, at Forest, was a storm accident in which 84-year-old William Codling and two others were stunned by lightning. The bolt ripped through Codling's home, blowing Hydro fuses and shocking Mr. Codling, Miss Alice Wright and Mrs. Sam Shepherd.

Seven Men Injured.

Eastern Ontario listed seven storm casualties. Thomas Wiseman, Ernest Compeau, Ronald Casselman and Wiliam Tennell were stunned by lightning when it struck a tree they were standing under at a golf course near Brockville. Elmer Mulligan and James Terry were shocked by a bolt that killed a farm horse near Stittsville, while Thomas Keyes, Carp, received a skull fracture when an automobile struck a truck in the storm.

Terrific wind lifted the roof from the Queen's Hotel at Carleton Place, west of Ottawa, tossing it into the street. Four automobiles were damaged and falling trees disrupted power and communications.

Car Misses Bridge Five Persons Dead

CHILLIWACK, B.C., Aug. 20 (CP) —Police today investigated an accident which took five lives early yesterday when an automobile missed a wooden bridge on the highway six miles west of this Fraser Valley town and plunged into McGillivray Creek.

The dead, all of Pioneer, B.C., are: V. Soderlund, Mrs. Soderlund, Mrs. Ida Erickson, Miss Muriel Erickson and Mrs. A. Pindale, Mrs. Soderlund's mother.

The five were driving from Pioneer in the Bridge River gold-mining district to Vancouver, when, police said, the car apparently left the highway on a turn, missed a wooden bridge spanning McGillivray Creek, and hurtled into about 10 feet of water.

Belgian Minister Is Honored By Legion

Ottawa, Aug. 20.

PRESENTATION of Vimy Pilgrimage medals to Baron Silvercruys, Belgian Minister to Canada, and A. Major, Belgian Consul in Ottawa, was made by the Canadian Legion at a function here yesterday. Attended by Dominion Command officers, the ceremony was presided over by Lieut.-Col. L. R. LaFleche, D.S.O., Deputy Minister of National Defense and a former Dominion President of the Legion.

Colonel LaFleche recalled the hospitality extended to the Canadian pilgrims a year ago by the Belgian people, and commented particularly on the reception accorded members of the National Pilgrimage Committee by King Leopold.

WILKINS LEAVES FOR FORT SMITH

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Aug. 20.—(AP).—The big silver flying boat, carrying Sir Hubert Wilkins and five companions on an Arctic search for six missing Russian Polar fliers, took off from the harbor here to-day on a 1,200-mile flight to Fort Smith, N.W.T.

Zooming from the harbor, the flying boat roared into the north-west. Skies were cloudy over Northern Ontario and Manitoba and visibility was poor.

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 20 (CP).—Sir Hubert Wilkins' silver flying boat was poised here today for a 1,200-mile flight across the Northern Canada hinterland to Fort Smith, N.W.T., and then into the Arctic to join the search for six Soviet transpolar fliers.

Sir Hubert and four companions landed here last night, less than five hours after taking off from Toronto on the second lap of a "rush flight" from New York. They planned to hop today to Fort Smith with Co-Pilot Al Cheeseman added to the party.

The huge aircraft, purchased for the expedition by the Soviet Government, began its 2,700-mile aerial jaunt to the Arctic from New York yesterday. After a stop of little more than an hour in Toronto, the flight was resumed.

Sir Hubert and his Canadian pilot, Air Commodore Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, were accompanied by Engineer Gerald Brown, Radio Operator Raymond Booth and Rus-

Campbellford Home Is Damaged By Fire

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 20.—Fire did considerable damage to the Martin home on Second Street on Thursday afternoon, when a bolt of lightning struck a chimney at the south end of the house. Striking with such force that bricks were thrown from the chimney top, the bolt ignited the roof of the two-storey brick building. Although both of the occupants, Misses Annie and Jennie Martin, were out at the time, the lightning was seen to strike by Grant Anderson, who turned in the alarm. Firemen had two lines of hose in use and had got the fire under control when a second alarm was sent in to which part of the department responded. While smoke continued to belch forth from the Martin house-top, the truck proceeded to the fire hall, where it was learned that the second alarm was for a small chimney fire at the Daly residence on Front Street. It was not until a hole was cut in the roof of the house that the blaze was extinguished.

Hudson Bay Route Is Reported Safe

OTTAWA, Aug. 20—(CP).—The Hudson Bay shipping route "is no more dangerous, and in some respects less dangerous, than the St. Lawrence route," it was stated in a report of the Imperial Shipping Committee released here today.

The Committee, which sets insurance rates for the far-northern shipping lane, reported a fast, modern tramp steamer would have no difficulty in making three round trips between Churchill and Europe in the official navigation season, from Aug. 5 to Oct. 15.

Can Be No Prosperous Canada Without Prosperous Middlewest

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20—(CP). — There cannot be a prosperous Canada without a prosperous Middle-West, M. E. Nichols, managing director of The Vancouver Daily Province, said yesterday in an address here to the Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants.

Urging concerted action by the government and people of Canada to restore productivity of the drought-stricken areas of the Prairie Provinces, Mr. Nichols said: "It is the part of humanity to relieve the suffering. It is the part of sound business to bring productivity to the vast areas which in normal years proved its capacity to produce and can be made to produce again."

The home market was the backbone of continuing prosperity, he said, and the backbone of the Canadian home market was the farm.

"The Prairie Provinces have entered much too strongly into the economic structure of Canada to be treated as an indifferent factor in the nation's prosperity."

CHINA'S AIRMEN

Brings New Panic.

Japanese shells and Chinese air bombs crashed along the boundary between the French Concession and the Chinese city to-day. The bombardment brought new panic to the International area.

It was the first time shells from Japanese naval guns had touched this part of Shanghai. Casualties were not known immediately.

Lives of foreigners were endangered by the bombardment. Three Chinese planes roared over Pootung, across the Whanpoo from the French Concession, and dropped eight bombs on Japanese-owned wharves, warehouses, and cotton mills, which burst into flames.

Japanese pursuit ships raced toward the lumbering bombers. One of the Chinese planes caught fire from machine-gun bullets and crashed to the ground.

Fires raged in parts of Pootung and the Japanese area of Hongkew.

The midst of the air bombardment Chinese shells from a concealed rooftop position in the Chinese city, adjoining the French Concession, crashed into Japanese-held sectors of the Whangpoo River shores.

Chinese forces, attempting to drive the Japanese into the Whangpoo River, apparently held the Japanese along the river's banks in north-eastern Shanghai. Chinese artillery repulsed a Japanese effort to land a flanking detachment at Liuho, 12 miles north-west of Shanghai.

Flames roared through most of the Hongkew section of the Japanese area, menacing the Soviet and Japanese Consulates and the famous Astor House Hotel.

Japanese naval sources declared the Chinese fired the houses to cover a retreat, but other sources said Japanese had fired many Hongkew buildings to smoke out the Chinese.

Independent reports from the area said Chinese had not yielded an inch of their gains, and that the Chinese attack had split the Japanese lines.

Far to the north of Shanghai, Chinese armies, at least 100,000 strong, were reported to have launched a general offensive to wrest from the Japanese conquered areas of North China.

The northern assault was designed to force the Japanese out of Tientsin and Peiping.

Ogopogo Reported Stoco Lake Waters

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 20. — Have we an Ogopog in Stoco Lake, Tweed! Messrs. Orville Conley and James Green report that a large reptile, not unlike a huge alligator, is part of the finny tribe of Stoco Lake. "While fishing in the vicinity of Sheep Island, the monster reared its head and swam for several yards before heading for the marsh-land", Mr. Conley stated. The two men claim the creature measured several feet in length and had a large head, resembling an alligator's. The Ogopogo, if we may call it that, made its way quietly along the surface with little fuss and disappeared quickly on the approach of the boat. The fishermen proceeded immediately to the spot but it had beaten a hasty retreat. What is it?

Two New Bishops Are Appointed

OTTAWA, Aug. 20 (CP).—Appointment of two new Roman Catholic bishops was announced here to-day by the Papal legation. Mgr. Leo Neiligan of Edmonton was named Bishop of Pembroke and Mgr. J. F. Ryan of Hamilton was named Bishop of Hamilton.

Mgr. Neiligan, Vicar-General of the Edmonton Diocese, will succeed Bishop Patrick Ryan of Pembroke, who died a few months ago. Mgr. Ryan is Vicar-General of the Hamilton Diocese, and succeeds Archbishop J. T. McNally of Halifax, who was Bishop of the Hamilton Diocese until a few months ago.

CATTLE PRICES BREAK LOWER 3,000 NOT SOLD

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—(CP)—Cattle prices broke lower on an overloaded Toronto Livestock Market this week, the Dominion Livestock reported, and about 3,000 head were unsold at the close. Calves were steady to firm. Hogs dropped 75 cents with further reductions in prospect. Lambs added 25 cents on a short supply while sheep held steady.

The cattle run included 5,900 from the west, mostly stockers. About 1,400 cattle were held over from the preceding week. Packers' coolers were loaded with slow-moving beef and the demand for killers was confined to a few choice steers and some fed calves. Closing prices on a few sales of killers were down fully 25 cents for the week.

Common to medium butchers sold at $4 to $6 cwt. with boners at $3 to $3.50. The top on butcher steers and heifers was $7.25 on Monday. Cows closed at $3 to 4.50 for butchers with canners and cutters at $1.75 to $2.75. Bologna bulls were $3 to $3.50 but there were no sales on butcher bulls after Monday. Fed calvesopened at 8.50 to $11.50 cwt. and closed with tops at $10.75.

Stocker prices dropped fully 25 cents after a slow early movement. Closing sales on common to medium store cattle were at $3.25 to $4.50 with picked lots reaching $5.50. Some good feeders sold early in the week at $6 to $6.25 cwt. Milkers and springers made a general top of $55 to 65 with some a little higher.

Choice vealers were priced at $9.50 to $10, with common grades downward to $5. Thin grassers ranged from $3 to $4.50 and some heavy western calves brought $5.50.

Hogs Closed At $10.50.

Off-truck bacon hogs closed at $10.50 and sows at $7 to $7.25. On dressed weights the closing quotation was $14 delivered for basic grade.

Good ewe and wether lambs firmed to $9.25, culls and bucks selling at $7 to $8.25. Sheep were unchanged at $1.50 to $4 cwt., according to quality.

This week—Cattle 9,130, calves 2,785, hogs 3,479, sheep and lambs 2,210.

Last week—Cattle 11,824, calves 3,387, hogs 4,116, sheep and lambs 4,736.

This week, 1936—Cattle 8,230, calves 2,297, hogs 4,668, sheep and lambs 2,545.

Erect 2 Flag Poles At Town Cenotaph

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, August 20.—Two flagpoles are to be erected at the Cenotaph which has recently been raised and repointed under the supervision of A. M. McKeel. The steel poles, one of which is to be placed at the north end and one at the south end of the memorial, are the gift of Charles Payne, K.C., Belleville. Mr. Payne, who is a former resident of town, on hearing of Mr. McKeel's desire to have the flagpoles, generously offered to donate them to the committee.

With the installation of the four floodlights by the Water and Light Comission and the erection of the flagpoles from which the Union Jack and Dominion Ensign will fly, the work on the Cenotaph will be completed.

Heads Commission

Chairman of a three-man Royal Commission to inquire into transportation problems effecting Ontario will be Mr. Justice Chevrier of the Supreme Court of Canada (ABOVE), according to Premier Hepburn. The remaining commissioners have not yet been appointed. The inquiry, to be patterned after one conducted in Nova Scotia last year, will delve into hours of labor for transport employees, wages and the matter of competition between commercial vehicles and railroads.

D. ROSS PLATT IS MOVED TO LONDON

Succeeding D. Ross Platt who has been promoted to managership of the London branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, H. G. Fitzgerald has moved to the city from Sudbury to take over the managership of the Peterborough branch.

Mr. Fitzgerald comes to the post here with many years' service with the bank behind him. For the past 15 years he has been in the north country, a post as manager of the Cobalt branch preceding a connection of nine years with the Sudbury branch. Previously he had served in a number of other Ontario centers.

He took a prominent part in the civic life of Sudbury. On his departure he was president of the Kiwanis Club, honorary treasurer of the Sudbury board of the Institute for the Blind, a director of the Idyle-Wild Golf and Country Club and a member of the Institute of Mining Metallury.

Mr. Platt leaves after twoyears in the managership here during which he established himself as an active figure in the community. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club, of the Peterborough Club and of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club. He came to this city from Picton.

Cholera Epidemic Is Fresh Menace

HONG KONG, Aug. 20—(AP). — A cholera epidemic menaced an area of several hundred square miles on the South China coast today, including this British haven for refugees from Shanghai.

The plague struck Hong Kong, spread to the Portuguese colony of Macao on a mainland peninsula, and reached out up the Pearl River to Canton, China.

Shipping officials here expressed fear it would be necessary to cancel all calls at this port and to quarantine ships which already have arrived.

This created the danger that evacuation of British nationals from China might have to be suspended.

Of 136 reported cases of cholera last week, 82 already have been fatal. The epidemic caused 19 deaths the week before.

England now has 2,000,000 anglers.

ROWE PROMISES TO TAKE HYDRO OUT OF POLITICS

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 20 (C.P.).—Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative Leader, gave the electors of Ontario last night a pledge to "take Hydro out of the vicious political juggling in which it is to-day." He addressed an open-air meeting in Lanspeary Park.

The Opposition Chief said an impending power shortage was the reason for a general election this fall. He challenged Premier Hepburn to deny that a new contract for power for Ontario's publicly-owned system is being negotiated.

"Before 10 years are up the province will need 1,250,000 horse-power for industrial consumption, and if we face a crisis at that time, Mr. Hepburn is to blame," he said, adding a promise that municipalities would be represented on the Hydro Commission if his party were victorious.

A vote for David Croll, former Hepburn Cabinet Minister, Liberal candidate in Windsor-Walkerville, was a vote for the Government which "kicked him out of his party," said Mr. Rowe. Croll had been ejected from the Cabinet because of sympathies for the Committee for Industrial Organization, but Hepburn continued in office a senior official "who belongs to the C.I.O."

Member of a C.I.O. Union

Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer of the Ontario Labor Department, was a member of a Trade Union officially associated with the Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization," said Mr. Rowe.

"It is not the duty of any Prime Minister to criticize or commend the unions the labor man joins as long as those unions remain within the bounds of British democratic principles," he said. "It is the duty of the Government to uphold law and order."

He praised Prime Minister King for the Federal disallowance of "recent dangerous legislation of the Aberhart Government in Alberta." Mr. King might have to disallow legislation passed by the Ontario House in 1937 aimed at making Hydro "judgment proof." This was a possibility unless the present Government were "abolished" on Election Day.

At present, he said, it was possible for a child to be run over by a motor truck owned by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission and the parents "could not get redress against the Hydro, the Government, or the driver without a special flat from Premier Hepburn."

Dummy Bombs To Be Dropped During Mimic War

Royal Air Force men wearing gas masks and carrying dummy bombs (filled with sand), are about to load a bombing aeroplane at Winchester, Eng., in preparation for the three days of mimic war over London. The theoretical bombing of the great metropolis was undertaken as a means of testing and subsequently improving the air defences of London.

Short Chase Results Wire Chief's Arrest

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 20.—A short auto chase along the Kingston Road on Wednesday afternoon by Scarboro Township Chief Constable Draycott, after a suspected car, resulted in the arrest of George Deline, 37, and the finding of 500 pounds of copper wire, alleged to have been stolen from the village of Northbrook, a few miles north of Tweed.

Deline was later handed over to Provincial Constable Fred Jarvis on a charge of stealing the copper wire.

Notified early Wednesday of a wire robbery in the village of Northbrook, Chief Constable Draycott started patrolling Kingston Road near Stop 12. He noticed a car with its rear section heavily loaded down, travelling west. He recognized the driver and quickly overtook the vehicle.

Tweed Firm Truck Damaged In Crash

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 20.—A truck owned by the Gordon Steel Works, Tweed, was badly smashed up on the main street at Brighton, crashing into two telephone poles. Harry Leal, accompanied by Grant Shorey, were proceeding to Toronto with a load of plow points when the accident occurred. Fortunately neither of the occupants of the cab were injured. It is believed that the load was too heavy toward the front end of the platform and the driver was unable on making a sharp turn to control the vehicle. The truck was left at a Brighton garage for repairs.

ROOSTER SWEEPSTAKE.

HOLDREGE, Neb., Aug. 20 (AP).—Just to be different, the Phelps County Junior Fair Board is planning an "international rooster sweepstakes" next week. Here is how it works: Leased to eight-foot strings, roosters and their "drivers" will race down a 50-yard speedway. The driver must stay behind his bird, and neither haul, lead or otherwise give physical encouragement to the rooster's program.

"Entries," warned the committee, "are limited to the common variety of barnyard rooster—no pheasant rooster or bantams allowed."

WORK HAS BEGUN ON PARISH HALL

YOUNG'S POINT, Aug. 20.—Work has commenced on the Parish Hall of St. Aidan's church.

The shed which in former years had been used to accommodate the horses and buggies has been torn down and the new parish hall will be built on the same ground.

Mr. George Irland and son of Deer Bay, are bunding the stone foundation, after which the work will go right ahead.

Rev. E. C. Moore announced on Sunday evening that the same gentleman who donated the fireplace in the parish house of St. Matthew's church, Bucknorn, has again very kindly donated a fireplace for the parish hall at St. Aidan's Church. At the gentleman's request his name is withheld, but his great kindness to both churches are greatly appreciated by Rev. Mr. Moore, Messrs. Robt. Johnston, Percy Stenner (church wardens), and by both congregations.

Mr. and Mrs. Chatten of Omemee, were the host and hostess at a gathering of their own family and also a number of their friends.

Held at the dam in Young's Point on Sunday, Aug. 15th, twenty-two sat down to a sumptuous chicken dinner and all that goes with it, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. After the dinner an hour or so was spent in a social manner when all departed to their respective homes, having spent a very happy afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Merrill attended the wedding in Oshawa on Saturday of their nephew, Mr. Lloyd Smith and Miss Margaret Davis, both of Oshawa.

Miss Margaret Heard and Master Douglas Heard are spending their vacation with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons, in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Line of Howell, Mich., are the guests of Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Moore at the rectory.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Merrill of Oshawa, are spending their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kennedy and family of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bannon and family of Peterborough, and Mr. and Mrs. Snider of Oshawa, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stenner at the Lakeview House on Sunday.

Birthday Honours Bobcaygeon Woman

BOBCAYGEON, Aug. 20.—On Monday afternoon friends and neighbors of Mrs. John E. Cameron gathered at her son's home to honor her on her seventy-ninth birthday. The ladies chatted, recalling many happenings of years gone by.

Later on in the afternoon, Jean Cameron, grandchild and Reva Tiers, great grandchild, carried a large basket covered with yellow tissue paper, full of gifts and set it in front of their grandmother.

These gifts were opened and passed around so all could see. Although taken completely by surprise, Mrs. Cameron, in her cheery way, thanked all the ladies for their thoughtfulness to her.

Made a Useful Discovery

The Examiner has received two complaints regarding games of chance which are operating at the Peterborough Exhibition, and the claim is that a number of the games should be closed by the police. One letter says "I watched one of the games for quite a while, and then I played at it and am convinced there is no chance to win. The man who is operating it is bound to take the most of the money which is placed before him."

And right there the gentleman who wrote that note has made a discovery which he will do well never to forget. If he goes about much he is apt to find not only at Peterborough Exhibition but elsewhere a number of similar games all under the guise of amusement or "take a chance." If he has found out from actual participation that the chances are all against his winning then he will keep away in future.

It takes only a little elementary reasoning to show that the men who operate games of chance are not travelling about the country and pitching tents and putting in their time for the purpose of entertaining the public. Not at all. They are out to make money and they know in advance they are going to make it as long as patrons can be found who will stand in front of their places of business and keep on putting the hand in the pocket and coming up again with new cash.

The man who admits he has learned he cannot win at such games has found out something well worth remembering.

And a Girl Won!

Well, well and ho-hum! It came about this way: There is a class at the Peterborough Exhibition for boys and girls under 15 years, and the idea is to show competence in the handling of a colt in the show ring.

What's more—the other competitors were boys!

Nora took a three-month-old colt into the show ring and won. And it is a fact that colt at three months is not the easiest thing to make behave. It would not have proceeded far enough with its instruction to know how to haw, to gee or to whoa. Just what it was that Nora said to the colt of three months is something we do not know, but she stepped that young animal through to first place.

Nora—you must be a dandy.

A Reasonable Suggestion

At the conclusion of the meeting where workers voted to accept terms which ended the textile strike in Peterborough a resolution was passed asking the Crown to drop various charges launched against those who had participated in disorders at the time the mills were first opened for the return of workers.

What the reply of the Crown may be we do not know, but there is a degree of common sense in the passing of the resolution. It may be that once charges are laid they are of such a nature that it will be considered necessary to carry them through to a hearing and conclusion.

If the way is open for the charges to be dropped it would mean the aftermath of the strike would be cleaned up just that much earlier and there would be no need then to continue in court the trouble which has now been settled. The Examiner believes public feeling is strongly bent toward concurring in the wish of the textile workers and that the entire incident be closed as rapidly as possible.

When a Strike Ends

The textile strike in Peterborough has been settled, but it has not been definitely stated just how many employees the mills may be able to take on at first. The business of the Bonner-Worth Company for instance is supplying yarn to other factories which use it to make their finished product. When such a plant is closed for seven weeks it means that mills which have been purchasing yarn from Peterborough have been forced to go elsewhere for their supplies. For the time being that business has been lost to the local industry. Against that condition is the fact that stocks on hand must be much depleted through stoppage of operation.

A textile factory is not one which has a sustained or fixed output. Like any other business it must find customers for the goods which it produces. The degree to which it will operate following a seven weeks' stoppage of output depends entirely on the amount of business it can secure from its customers. Some of this may have departed temporarily; a portion of it may have been permanently lost. That is a point which will have to be settled when the mills start operating.

A Father And His Son

There are occasions when a father can feel no pride in saying "This is my son." An aged farmer from West Flamboro was in magistrate's court at Hamilton and the reason was he had to give evidence against his son, a man of 35 years. He also requested that the son be sent to an industrial farm where he might have a chance to rehabilitate himself.

The immediate charge against the son was assulting and threatening his parents. According to the father the son had learned a good trade but had not worked at it for years. He preferred to stay home and make trouble. His last move was to shove members of the family out of the house and mother and father were sitting under a tree when a constable arrived.

The parents in this case are not seeking to have their son support them; they apparently want him to go ahead and make his own living. Actually it must be a heart breaker when a father has to go to court in order to make his son leave him alone. The great majority of fathers never receive or expect anything in the way of financial support or assistance from their sons, but they have just reason to anticipate compensation by seeing the sons go out and make for themselves a decent and honorable place in the world. The father who has to pick his steps and make them lead him to court to give evidence against his own son must have been travelling along a road where the going was hard and where the light ahead was dim indeed.

A Basket Of Blueberries

"It is just too ridiculous for anything." Or it may be the word used was "outrageous." Used by a lady who was discussing the price being asked in a store for a basket of blueberries. "Those things don't cost anything; people do not have to plant them or care for them; they don't even own the property where they go and pick them; all the cost would be going out and gathering them." She did not buy.

Whether this lady ever went picking blueberries is something we do not know, but we have a suspicion she never went forth and filled a basket. We have tried it on several occasions, using a fairly small pail and the pail when filled would be emptied into a basket. When the berries are picked they make a sound between a tinkle and a small thud as they drop on the bottom of the small pail. They have a way of keeping up this sound for an unusually long time and the bottom of the small pail seems as large as the bottom of a tub, indicating of course that it takes a deal of work to cover the bottom of the small pail.

As one estimates such things we would say it would take a long time to fill a basket with blueberries. There may be some patient and expert people who could do it in a day, but we are moved to the belief that filling a basket of blueberries in a couple of days would be a sufficiently good performance to mention with a degree of pride in the family circle. And the price to which the lady was objecting was $2 per basket, and that price would include the cost of the basket, some transportation charges and a profit for the merchant who was handling the berries. We have a feeling if the lady had gone forth and picked that basket of berries and then placed the price on the work involved she would have regarded the $2 as something which the Minimum Wage Act should be asked to cover.

A Scenic Route

It was the Rotary Club of Lindsay which made an effort to try and pull tourist traffic from Callander toward that city. The idea was that this traffic would go north on the older and better-known road from Orillia on to Huntsville and then on the North Bay Road. On the return trip the Lindsay Rotarians argued the better way would be to turn off at Huntsville and come by way of Dwight, Dorset and Minden.

The Lindsay folk did their share of publicity and had the route all mapped out. What success was theirs we do not know, but their advice was as sound as could be. For scenic effect there is no comparison between the two routes.

The road from Dorset to Minden has been blasted out of the rocks in many places; it skirts lakes of size and beauty. It winds and it twists, but it is well marked and an enchanting thing. By that route it is less than 140 miles from Huntsville to Peterborough. A panorama of outdoor life, a pleasant invasion of a continuous procession of lakes and streams. The development of that route would undoubtedly be a feeder for the Kawartha Lakes district. It would bring in tourists who have heretofore known nothing of this district.

Why Japan Is Bold

Execution of 72 Russians after a wreck on the Trans-Siberian Railroad is accompanied by the declaration they were paid by Japan to practice sabotage. Much that is happening in Siberia is a mystery, but a total of 310 executions there in the last three months is highly ominous. It bespeaks a condition of which the Japanese were doubtless aware when they launched their new Chinese adventure.

A Japan unafraid of attack upon her troops by Russia on the Asiatic mainland is vastly more formidable to the Chinese. If, as suspected, there has been a widespread breakdown of Russian morale and a considerable part of Russia's huge standing army is disaffected, the military clique at Tokyo will know how to make capital of it at home. The stakes Japan is playing for in North China have been the dream of decades. With Russia at the moment out of the picture as a potential and powerful foe, those stakes can be made to seem to the Japanese people, poor and overcrowded, as almost within their grasp.

A carefully nourished belief that Japan is about to realize her "destiny" and become a great power on the mainland is a means for getting purse strings loosened. Vision of new and permanent prosperity through the acquisition of natural resources and control of Chinese markets in the five Northern provinces, at least, can be counted upon to make an already tax-burdened people submit to heavy additional taxes for its accomplishment. This is all the truer since there is little likelihood of interference by the League of Nations, or by those world powers which have important spheres of interest in China, at least so long as their interests are unassailed.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Highway traffic between Kenora and Winnipeg has doubled since last year and that will probably not be listed by the railways in the "good news" column.

The old saying says that they never come back but we notice that former Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York has landed himself a $12,000 job.

Mr. Bennett is in danger of being chased out of Calgary it is hay fever however and not his constituents that may drive the Conservative leader out of his home town.

Col. Drew says that workers in Russia are starving while the Soviet Commissars ride around in high-powered cars. That is a condition that is never even mentioned from the soap box.

A commission has been appointed to study the transportation problem in Ontario. Hitch-hikers are hoping the new body will recommend a standard code of signals.

At Windsor two youths have been given eight months in jail, with ten lashes added for a holdup that netted them 74 cents. Crime is a poor proposition on those terms.

Six new cases of tuberculosis were found in Peterborough during July. With 25 local patients already receiving treatment in sanitaria the increase in cases is disturbing.

David Croll may not get endorsation from Queen's Park but so long as he receives the approval of the electors of Windsor—Walkerville the former minister is not likely to lose much sleep.

Western naturalist predicts bad weather because wild geese have started to fly south. It may be of course that the birds have merely been frightened by so many Russian planes crossing over the North Pole.

Hon. Duncan Marshal has honored the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition by coming in his capacity as Minister of Agriculture to formally open the annual event. His presence is a tribute to the standing the Peterborough Industrial has reached.

The death of James McIntyre, veteran minstrel and vaudeville man will be regretted by the older theatrical patrons. Oldtimers will still remember the gales of laughter that McIntyre and his partner of 64 years Thomas Heath caused at the Grand Opera House.

THUNDER

(By A. R. K.)

¶ When comes a thunder storm around, my Aunt Lucile cannot be found, not when the clashes roar; there is a closet filled with clothes, and there Lucile most always goes, and then she shuts the door.

¶ And that's the way she will behave, nor does she claim she's bold or brave, no other thing she'll do; the thunder gives her such a fright, she bangs the closet door up tight, and stays until it's through.

¶ And folk may scoff at Aunt Lucile, and laugh at just the way she'll feel, it's nonsense so they say; in storms they go about their jobs, nor does the heart drop fifteen throbs, they go their even way.

¶ And men have told to Aunt Lucile, what makes the terror seem so real, and why it makes her squirm; they've used big sounding words I know, on how the storms will come and go, quote scientific term.

¶ While others tell her it is grand, how storms will battle on the land, and how the skies are rent; there's grandeur in a storm they claim, that's how we come to get some rain, that's why the storms are sent.

¶ And Aunt Lucile will listen too, and follow them the whole way through, she'll even crave for more; but when the next storm starts to churn, straight to that closet she will turn — and then she'll bang the door.

SOME of the things people used to do are now declared to have been without reason. Take the planting of potatoes. There have been a good many folk who always contended they should be planted in the dark of the moon. From Washington comes word that the Smithsonian Institute has conducted a good deal of experimental work on that and kindred ideas and the verdict is that the old belief is just plain—bunk.

Alexander Reiner is 70 years of age and lives in New York, and the chances are people would never have heard about Alex but for the fact that he appeared in court and got his name in the papers. Police found a great deal of wine in his premises and he was arrested. Charge was he intended to sell it and break the state laws. Alex rose and said that was wrong. Since the year 1915 Alex had never touched a drop of watgr and drank nothing but wine. Case dismissed.

A. J. Sparrow was driving a truck along the road near Elgin, Ill., when it did what a number of other trucks have done—turned over in the ditch. On the truck Sparrow had four hives of bees which he was transferring to better territory. Cars generally stop when they see a truck in the ditch but this time they didn't. The bees were mad and drivers were glad to get along.

Many Uses for Peanuts

ONE of the greatest minds of the age is that of Dr. George W. Carver, a Negro scientist of the Tuskegee Institute. He can be well called the peanut man because he has found so many things which can be made from peanuts. Included are—cream, cocoa, chocolate, instant coffee, sauces, ink.

Then he has found 17 different kinds of stains and an oil which is largely used in treating infantile paralysis.

Dr. Carver has never bothered about taking out patents on his processes and it is recorded that he has not yet made a dollar for himself out of all his work.

The ends of the peanut plants after blossoming turn into the ground and develop seeds which spring up the following year. Peanuts themselves are dug from the ground.

✧ ✧ ✧

A pound of protein derived from steak sells for approximately $1.16 while an equivalent amount of peanut protein may be obtained for 36 cents.

✧ ✧ ✧

And peanuts are not subject to disease prevalent among most other plants.

Perhaps You Know This

THE intensity of the sun's ultra-violet rays is almost eight times as great in the month of August as in the month of January. At noon it is nearly twice as strong as at three o'clock in the afternoon.

✧ ✧ ✧

After all there is nothing new in this idea of going about in the sun with scanty clothing. Hippocrates, regarded as the "father of medicine," prescribed sun therapy and built a temple for its advocates almost 2,400 years ago.

✧ ✧ ✧

Word of caution. There are deaths from sunburn every year particularly among fair-skinned people because their bodies do not contain the pigment granules in the outer skin which form a screen to keep the ultra-violet and infra-red rays from penetrating to the true skin underneath. Exposed directly to direct sunlight burning takes place and congestion follows.

✧ ✧ ✧

Authorities agree that the dark-skinned individual is safe in going in the sun but the fair-skinned one should be aware. Go at it gradually and do not make a long exposure. The idea of getting burned or tanned in a hurry is dangerous particularly to the one whose work is indoors.

Ever Chase a Bat Out?

ONE scientist comes to the front with the statement that a bed bug can live a year without eating.

✧ ✧ ✧

✧ ✧ ✧

Let us correct one phrase — "As blind as a bat." All bats have eyes and in some varieties they are highly conspicuous. The origin of the phrase in all probability may be attributed to the fact that bats appear to be dazed by a sudden gleam of light.

✧ ✧ ✧

The feet of the bat are not at all developed and cannot be used for walking. For that reason the bat is always seen flying or at rest.

✧ ✧ ✧

Fact too that the bat is a friendly thing and can be tamed. In two days a naturalist found a bat would eat out of the hand and liked to have its back rubbed.

✧ ✧ ✧

Wrong idea to try and destroy bats because they are useful. How? Well they prevent damage to rafters and other woodwork by devouring the beetles and grubs that bore into them.

Old Bible Dictionary

ACCORDING to Fact Digest a Bible dictionary written 1,000 years ago and now published for the first time is expected to settle the mystery of how the Israelites made their golden calf and many another puzzles in Old Testament stories. The dictionary, said to be the oldest comprehensive Bible dictionary in existence, was the work of a famous Jewish scholar, David ben Abraham al-Fasi. It was so important in its day that scholars merely referred to it as "The Book."

✧ ✧ ✧

Perhaps you already know this—the word "religion" does not appear in the Old Testament.

✧ ✧ ✧

The Gideon Society has on file a number of letters written by persons who state that the mere presence of a Bible in their hotel room made them refrain from committing murder or suicide.

Fighting Infantile Paralysis

Parents Should Watch Always For Signs of Early Symptoms.

(From Woodstock Sentinel-Review.)

THOUGH still in the experimental stage, medical science has discovered a method which it is hoped will prove effective in protection against poliomyelitis. It is based upon knowledge that the germ enters through the nose, where are exposed the hairline endings of nerves that lead to the brain. A cautious announcement was made yesterday by Dr. Sidney D. Kramer, director of the infantile paralysis commission of Long Island College of Medicine and formerly associated with infantile paralysis research at Harvard.

Medical science has evolved a serum for treatment of this dangerous disease, but up to the present seems to have been baffled as to its origin and the reasons for its widespread recurrence at certain times. Progress such as indicated by Dr. Kramer inspires hope that with increasing knowledge it may yet be controlled as have so many other maladies.

The number of cases in the United States at the present time is reported greater than at any time in the past five years. The disease has broken out at several places in Ontario. Toronto has 61 cases, and the total is rapidly rising to that of 1931, when 161 cases were reported, 12 resulting fatally. In 1936 there were 14 deaths in this province from poliomyelitis, and the likelihood of crippling effects necessitates prolonged after-care for those who recover.

The disease has always been most prevalent during August, September and October, when parents should be on the outlook for it. It is "catching" for about 21 days and any patient with suspicious symptoms should be isolated. Unfortunately the symptoms are neither constant nor regular, but usually the onset is marked by fever. The child may be sick at the stomach, drowsy, complain of headache, stiff neck or back. Many of these symptoms may be present with la grippe or an acute intestinal upset, but important signs of paralysis which do not occur in those conditions are spinal stiffness, a tendency to drop the head backwards, a very rapid pulse. The thing to be emphasized is that the doctor should be called as soon as the slightest suspicion is aroused, if he is to be of assistance. Serum sometimes prevents development of the paralysis and lessens the danger, but is useful only in early stages of the disease, and the physician should have opportunity to make prompt diagnosis.

The Humming Bird Is Worth Seeing

This Lovely Summer Visitor Tarries Only the Briefest Time.

(From the Ottawa Journal.)

In these sultry, dog-days there is more interest in cool breezes, burgeoning gardens and the open places than in high politics and foreign wars. For that reason a correspondent who recently wrote about the visit of a ruby-throated, humming bird to his garden probably aroused more comment than the latest despatches recounting further slaughter in China and Spain.

This letter showed a great love of birds but did not suggest much familiarity with the ruby-throat. We were in like case prior to consultation with those eminent Canadian authorities, Messrs F. A. Taverner and Hoyes Lloyd, from whom was gathered information that may be welcomed by Ottawa's numerous nature lovers.

First of all humming birds are found only in North and South America. That is why Overseas visitors are nearly always interested. When here in 1932, Earl Baldwin, a great bird lover, got up several mornings before seven to study Canadian birds, particularly the "hummer." He was around the gardens and groves on Parliament Hill and in parts of Rockcliffe and saw a number of lovely little shapes.

There are 500 species of them, but only the ruby-throat is ever seen east of the Mississippi. Arriving in early May, returning south in September it ranges as far north as Alberta. Its plumage contains the most gorgeously brilliant, metallic hues known among created things, the back a magnificent green, the underbody grey, round the throat a deep band of iridescent ruby. Only the male has this band.

Its unique accomplishment denied all other forms of bird life is its ability to fly forward, backwards, sideways or remain stationary in the air. Its nest is one of the most amazing achievements of nature as well as one of the most beautiful. Outside bits of bark and lichen, woven together with cobwebs, effectually hide the structure from all but the keenest eyes. For lining the mother bird gathers plant and thistle down, felting the material into a compact mass, so small that a maple leaf can roof it over, so strong that Winter's storms leave it unharmed. Two white eggs are hatched, the period of incubation being 14 days. It is a peppery, pugnacious midget, will attack anything from a wren to a hawk and so fearless that it will probe a flower held in the hands or, flying through an open window, feed almost at once on sugar held between the lips.

Now and for the next three weeks is an excellent time to see this little gentleman, who feeds on many kinds of insects and gathers nectar from cup-like and long-throated flowers, particular favorites being delphinium, columbine and bergamot. Only a third of its time is spent on the wing but careful searchers may find male or female hummers perching for long periods in the vicinity of their feeding grounds. The only thing with which it can be confounded is the large sphinx moth, making almost the same "hum" and seen in the evenings round flower-beds. A certain spot to find hummers now is any place where jewel weed or "Touch-Me-Not" is blooming.

Everyone interested should be quick about it because in little more than three weeks these lovely Summer visitors will be humming their way at 75 miles an hour to Winter homes in Florida or beyond the Gulf of Mexico and the far Andes.

Uncle Sam's Dread of Plenty

Increased Crops Throw Congress Into a Panic.

(From the New York Times.)

ON the heels of the estimate of a 15,593,000-bale cotton crop this year, Government experts forecast a corn crop of 2,659,000,000 bushels, a wheat crop of 890,000,000 bushels, and 1937 harvests in general more than 10 per cent. above average. There was a time when an announcement of this sort would have been gratefully welcomed. Commentators would have spoken of farmers prosperous because they had so much to sell, of increased traffic for the railroads, of larger exports. But the present estimates seem to have thrown Congress into a sort of panic. The country must be saved from this alarming abundance. One group in congress wants the Government to lend the cotton growers money on their crop to the extent of at least 10 cents a pound, to protect them against a fall in the price below that amount. The President has no objection to this on principle, but insists that it should not be done unless the Government has power also to reduce crops. Still another Congressional proposal is that cotton growers be paid a direct benefit of 2½ cents a pound.

There is no sound economic reason why any of these things should be done. There are very weighty reasons why they should not be. The proposed loan policy would do no harm to precisely the persons that it seeks to benefit. It was tried with the 1933 and 1934 crops, with disastrous results. It pegged American cotton at an artificial price compared with that of other countries. Foreign buyers therefore turned to other cotton, and American exports dropped violently from 8,400,000 bales in the 1932-33 season to 4,600,000 bales in the 1934-35 season. If we now revive the Government loan policy, the cotton grower would get temporary relief at an exorbitant price in the long run.

Nor would it at all help matters if a Government loan policy, as the President insists, were accompanied by Government crop control. It is true that by the Government's power to decree a crop scarcity the Treasury could protect itself to some extent again loss on its loans. But this would only be at the expense of American consumers and consumers everywhere. When private monopolists dump foodstuffs into the sea to maintain market prices their action is denounced as criminally wicked. Yet it is difficult to see the difference in principle between their action and that of a Government which orders a crop shortage to protect the money it has foolishly invested in high loans.

The insistence on Government crop control moreover, rests on the persistent delusion that the prices of our principal crops are determined by domestic supply. They are, in fact, determined by world demand and world supply. By cutting down on our own production we merely stimulate production abroad. The figures in the case of cotton are revelatory. In the 1932-33 season the American cotton crop was 14,668,000 bales and the foreign crop 16,347,000. This year the American crop is estimated at 15,593,000 bales and the foreign crop at 19,500,000. Obviously, in comparison with the earlier period, it is not the increase of about one million bales in the American crop that is significant, but the increase of nine times that amount in the foreign crop. The chief stimulus to that immensely increased foreign production was precisely the American price-pegging policy and crop-reduction policy that many of our politicians, with incredible blindness, are bent on reviving.

Even if it could be shown that a crop-control policy, or a loan policy, or an outright subsidy were beneficial to the farmers rather than the contrary there would be very reason under present conditions to oppose it. The markets have been taking the news of large crops rather calmly. The farmers are not threatened with annihilation. If in some cases they must accept low prices because of the large crops, they will compensate to a large extent in total income by the very fact that they have larger crops to sell. There is no reason—except a frankly political one—why any group of producers, at the expense of every one else, should be guaranteed a fixed price for competitive products. There is no reason why the particular relationships that prevailed for a short period more than twenty years ago between one set of prices and another should be regarded as forever "right" and permanent, and demanded as a permanent parity" regardless of changes in the meantime in supply and demand and relative production costs.

ON A HOT NIGHT

(Midland Free Press)

A ST. MARY'S man on a recent hot night decided to drive down town in his pajamas to post a letter. His wife, also in pajamas, went along. A puncture, and they had to walk home, causing a sensation.

Shucks! The St. Mary's folks ought to glimpse the Lady Godivas on our streets in broad daylight any summer day. 'Twould take more than pajamas to shock us. We even doubt that we would have turned a hair had we been witness of an event which shattered the peace of Fergus. A young man took off his flannel trousers, and then drove under a street light to change a tire. We are not surprised after that exciting event to read in the Fergus News Record!

You don't hear us complaining about those little girls who go around dressed in only two handkerchiefs and a pair of sandals. When the temperature goes over 80, we admit they have more sense than we have.

Be careful, Hugh! You might not look as cute as you think.

HE SAVED A ROBIN

(Regina Star)

THERE'S a man we like in Regina. We don't know him. We've never seen him. His name is T. H. Skaling and he's a C. P. R. lineman.

We like Mr. Skaling because he risked a fall of 40 feet to the ground when he crawled 80 feet out on a telegraph cable to release a robin caught by its feet in the wires and hanging head down. He ruined a suit in the process, but the little bird was saved. After the rescue he had to repeat the dangerous crawl back along the cable to the pole.

TORONTO, August 20—(C.P.).—Declines of 10 to 35 cents in bacon hog prices were registered at Barrie and London to-day, while other markets were steady.

Liveweights: — Branford, $10.40; Hull, $10; London, $10; Peterborough, $10.15.

Dressed-weights.—Barrie, $14.35; Hull, $13.75; London, $13.30; Kitchener, $13.30; Peterborough, $13.40.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 20—(AP).—Hogs, 500; good and choice, 160 to 260 lbs. averaging 185 to 240, $13.10 to $13.15; others with run of medium quality, $13; trucked ins, $12.65 to $12.90; rough weighty sows, $10 to $10.25.

Cattle, 50; plain grass steers and heifers, $7 to $8.50; mostly heifers at $8a down; low cutter and cutter cows, $4.50 to $5.65; fleshy lots to $6.25; plain lightweight bulls, $5.58 to $6; medium kinds to 650.

Calves, 200; good and choice, $12.50 to $13; plain and medium, $8.75 to $11.50.

Sheep 1,000; medium and mixed grades, $9.75 to $10.50; fat ewes mostly $4.75 down.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20—(C.P.).—Weighed down by hedging pressure, wheat futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange lost early gains and dipped more than two cents below yesterday's close.

Weakness in United States markets resulted in loss of support here, with closing prices 1⅝ to 1¾ cents lower, October at $1.22½, December $1.19, and May $1.20⅝.

Export buying of 250,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and investment purchases in early trading sent prices a cent higher.

But trading turned dull in the second half of the session and hedging of new wheat deliveries totalling 1,236,000 bushels yesterday depressed values more than three cents from the day's high points.

Rains in Southern Alberta yesterday and general showers in Manitoba started the market off on a firm basis. Belief harvesting operations in Manitoba would be delayed a few days, however, proved insufficient to bring out a flood of buying orders in face of bearish news.

Yesterday's Quotations.

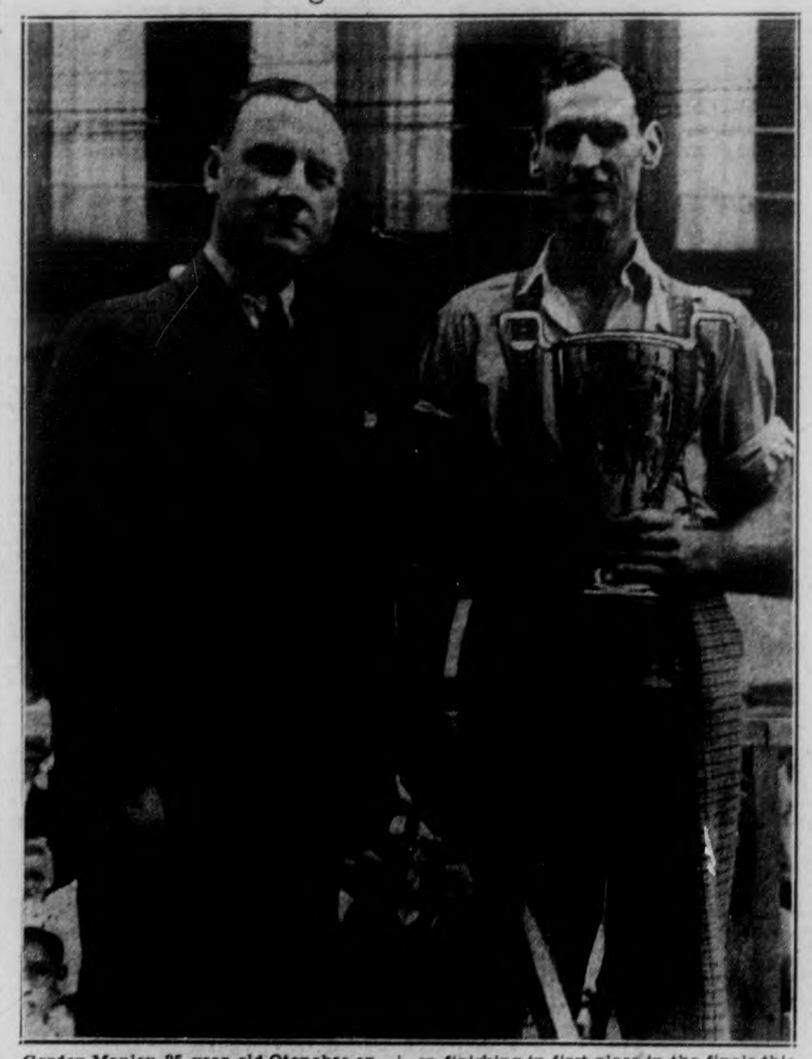
GROWS LIKE MAN.

PORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 20—(CP)—A tuber that grew like a man was produced here today by G. O. Hartwell, London, Ont., school teacher residing here for summer. Five potatoes grew together, one providing body, one head, two legs and one a nose. "The human" tuber grew in garden of R. L. Sexsmith, principal of Douglas street public school.

Minister Relaxes

It's a big step from flying in a huge cabin aeroplane to playing golf, but Hon. C. D. Howe, federal minister of transport, is shown (ABOVE), after he had taken it. Mr. Howe is shown playing golf at the Port Arthur Golf and Country Club during a visit to his home constituency. The transport minister recently made a 17-hour flight across Canada from Montreal to Vancouver, following the Trans-Canada airline route.

Smiling Victor Is Acclaimed



Gordon Manley, 25-year-old Otonabee entrant smiles his acknowledgement after being handed The Examiner Trophy emblematic of the world bucksaw championship by Harold Garner, managing director (at left), on finishing in first place in the finals this morning against Tom Walling, ex-champion and Walter Orde. are pledged go forward in obedience to them, not to you nor to the banks."

"Frustrating us will not evade the final outcome and will only lead to our people demanding with ever increasing insistence that their will shall prevail," the wire said.

"This is the opinion of your own Minister of Justice who stated in Parliament March 30, 1937: 'I do not think in a federation such as this the power of disallowance could be exercised by the central government.'

"Then he went on to say: 'I believe the Provincial legislatures would feel that they are still supreme and sovereign within the sphere of their jurisdiction.'

"We again assert with all possible emphasis that the legislation in question is within the sphere of our jurisdiction in which the clearly expressed will of our people is supreme and sovereign."

Challenging the right of the Dominion "to invade a purely Provincial field in delegating authority to any institution to control and restrict our people's credit," the wire charged such action was "deliberately violating property and civil rights. This constitutes social lawlessness which you should not support."

56 SECONDS IS TIME REQUIRED

List of Contestants.

Richard Rice, R.R. 11, Peterborough, 1.56.

Harry Hill, Hall's Bridge, 1.40 2/5th.

Jack Wood, St. George, Ont., 2.07.

Each of the contestants, including the four who contended for the honors on the day previous, received an order on a local merchant in addition to passes for Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

Merchants who co-operated in the staging of the second annual bucksaw championship and on whom orders were issued by T. L. Ashton, advertising manager, included: Warne Brothers, Nellis Ltd., Grafton's Ltd., Fashion Craft, Canadian Department Stores, Patienick, Richard Hall Ltd., Ed Riley, McBride and Franks, Playmor, Schneider Bros., Bond's Drug Store, and Grant and Loucks.

FAIR DISTRIBUTION IS ALL THAT ASKED

Want No Preference

English said strikers realized fully that there would not be jobs for all in view of the abandonment of the night shift. He stated they would not return, however, until assured a fair distribution of work on hand with no preference being given "scabs" over strikers.

No Discrimination.

H. S. Leybourne, Auburn controller, said every effort to recommence operations without discrimination was made. "We would like to take all these men back immediately, but we have lost so much business that that will not be possible," he stated. "We are not in a position to resume our night shift at the present. It is our hope to be able to resume operations to a basis on which we can give work to all, but how soon that will be it is impossible to say."

He said it was not the company's intention to displace loyal workers who remained through the strike in order to provide places for returning strikers, yet no discrimination would be shown.

When claim of the strikers that night weavers were occupying looms and thus displacing strikers was called to his attention, Mr. Leybourne said most of those who had been on day looms before the strike were put back to work. In a few isolated cases, loyal workers who had been shifted to day during the strike remained on the looms, he said.

Mr. Leybourne said evidence that no discrimination had been practiced could be found in the fact a number of the prominent strike leaders were among the large body offered jobs. He did not supply names in this connection. Inquiry among strikers revealed Alex. Townsley, strike secretary, and Elmer Hackey, committee member, were given jobs at the opening. Mr. Leybourne said there was not an immediate opening for Strike Chairman Mike English this morning as English was a night operator at the time the strike broke out, and the night shift has not been resumed.

At the time the plant was closed down by the strike, it had been operating with an advance of about eight weeks' work ahead, Mr. Leybourne continued.

The strike resulted in so many cancellations of orders that the mill will operate on little better than a day-to-day demand basis for the present, he said.

After standing about the plant gates until 10 o'clock while additional workers from other departments joined the renewed walkout, strikers marched in a body from the plant to the Community Hall. There they debated their next move. It was agreed to discourage any possible walkout of Bonner-Worth workers.

"Apparently the agreement is being lived up to at the Bonner-Worth and it would be a breach of the agreement by us to allow a walkout," English stated.

Men and women approaching the Bonner-Worth to resume work at 7 o'clock this morning sang "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here," in a jubilant mood. After entering the plant, they were assembled in the east wing and addressed by the management. They were then deployed to the various departments and wheels in all sections of the building went into motion.

Two police were on watch but no incident occurred when the Bonner-Worth workers returned to the buildings at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

CRIPPLED BY PAINS IN THE LEGS

Physical Instructor Loses Use of Limbs.

If rheumatism is crippling your limbs, and making life miserable for you, read how this man obtained relief from the same trouble:—

"I am a swimming and physical instructor. Early this year I had violent, stabbing pains in my legs from the hips to the big toe. In the mornings, I could not walk for three or four hours. Massage oil, pills, etc., did me no good. Someone begged me to take Kruschen Salts. In despair I got a bottle. After I had taken three parts of the contents, I was as fit as ever, except for a little stiffness of the joints, while in general health I was far better. Kruschen has put me on my feet again."—H.L.S.

Rheumatic aches and pains are often caused by the accumulation of too much uric acid in the system. Keep down the excess of uric acid, and it stands to reason you'll get glorious relief. That is just what Kruschen Salts does—brings quick relief from the cutting, stabbing pains of rheumatism, because it actually rids your blood of excess uric acid.

Young Farmhand Dies On Gallows

MONTREAL, Aug. 20—(CP).—Gaetan Choquette, 20-year-old farmhand convicted of strangling his widowed employer at her lonely farm home near suburban Longueuil six months ago, was hanged to-day at Bordeaux Jail. The disarranged body of Mrs. Henri Brosseau was found on her bed while her five children played in adjoining rooms. The widow of only three months had been strangled by a man's heavy belt.

SENATOR FARRIS HEADS BAR.

TORONTO—Senator J. W. deB. Farris of Vancouver today was elected president of the Canadian Bar Association, succeeding Mr. Justice H. H. Davis of the Supreme Court of Canada.

While a definite decision has not been reached it is expected the 1938 annual meeting of the association will be held in Vancouver.

Members of Conklin Shows Attend Memorial Service

The late Donald Wood McCaffery, formerly a member of the Conklin Shows (providing entertainment this week at the Peterborough Exhibition) was killed on August 18, 1935, while the Shows were in Peterborough. Last year and again this year, touching tribute has been paid to the memory of the young man by his former associates by gathering at his grave in Little Lake Cemetery for a short memorial service. This morning at half past ten, all the shows were closed, while the members gathered for the service, after which the grave was covered with gladioli blossoms. Poppies were deposited also by the returned men, members of the Canadian Legion, who are on duty at the Exhibition grounds.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Canon J. D. Paterson, who conducted the funeral service two years ago. Canon Paterson read a letter from Donald McCaffery's mother in Scotland, with whom he has been in touch, to the Show members.

75 Per Cent. of Unwed Mothers Come From the Rural Districts

DALLAS, Aug. 20 (AP).—Not from the crowded cities with all their bright lights, but from the rural districts come 75 per cent. of the unwed mothers, Col. Mary Stillwell, retired Salvation Army leader, said today.

A rising tide of loose living, especially among younger women, can be stemmed only in "religion and the church," she declared.

"I used to think the girls had come to big cities and were the innocent prey of traps. Now I know that virtually all of them have fallen in their home communities and come to the city to hide their shame.

"Unmarried mothers differ greatly now from the class we used to get," she said. "Once they were from the underprivileged class. Now we have a thick sprinkling of High School graduates, college girls and even trained nurses."

For the parents of these women Colonel Stillwell, the mother of eight children, had bitter words. "The mothers come to see them, without shame at their condition. They smoke, are roughed and powdered, talk loudly."

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

'Tis the Divinity that stirs within us;
'Tis heaven itself, that points out an hereafter,
An intimates eternity to man.
—Addison.

Dear Friends:

This is a continuation on life as we have it, and life as we might have it. So many times I tell you of the Divine power we all have within us, used or unused. When you use it, all life is not made smooth, but there is certainly much of sorrow we can miss.

Some of us make scarcely a ripple on the sea of life, and some of us make big waves which rock the lives of thousands. But I tell you without fear of contradiction that if every person were to use applied psychology, we would then see the glory of life as it could be lived.

What you you think was the most important writing in the Bible? The thing that affects most people? The practise of which would bring so much happiness to all. Don't you know? It's very simple, just: "Do unto others as ye would they would do unto you."

No kind of dictator who used it would make war on another nation and see the heartbreaks that would prevent, the saving of youthful lives to live gloriously.

No person would wilfully hurt another, for they would stop first and think if they would like that done to them, and every heartache prevented that way would make for happiness.

No one would be overbearing to another, nor gossip about their neighbor, nor use sarcasm as a means to hurt or belittle those around them, for they would be thinking of what they would like others to do to them.

The whole trouble is right now only a few in each community are using this "do unto others" formula, so naturally it isn't balanced properly. You know how haltingly your car runs when it is not running on all six cylinders, it's "missin." And the same applies when only one or two are doing their best to make others comfortable, either in the home or the neighborhood.

And this Divine spark I talk about is not only a theory, but a fact. Without it we would be like the beasts of the field, with no ambition, no striving upward, no accomplishments of any kind. We would have no hope for here nor for the hereafter.

Applied psychology enables you to take a hand in your own life, it helps you get your heart's desire, it opens your mind to possibilities you never dreamed of before. And while I am on this subject I would like to tell you of a remark that was made to me last week.

The person looked earnestly at me and said, "You know Roberta, it would never do for you to get rich or even well-to-do, for then you would not be able to help others as you are doing now." But I have reminded him that I might be able to help far more if my mind were not taken up so much trying to earn enough to live on.

I would have more time to study these things out, to try them and see if they would work, I would be able to give more readings and so able to help more than I can possibly do now. I have never valued money only as a means to an end, but it is vitally necessary in living.

So all I can do is use this Divine spark for "the greatest good to the greatest number" as somebody said. Have you never felt as if there were something within you, which if you could use intelligently, would bring much happiness to you? That is where applied psychology shows you how and where to use it. I wish I could tell you here how to use it, but it would take too long.

Your Friend, ROBERTA.

We Noticed

Lets Her Husband Shift for Himself

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(AP).—Affable Mrs. Dixie Bibb Graves of Alabama is going to let her Governor-husband shift for himself while she sits in the United States' Senate for five months.

"Always before," she said, "we have gone everywhere together—done everything together—.

"When he became Governor, I felt his job was more important. I did everything possible to help him, and limited the club activities which had been my principal interest outside my home."

Governor Graves appointed his wife last night to the seat vacated by Hugo L. Black, who resigned to take his oath of office as a Supreme Court Justice.

The 55-year old Alabama woman will serve until a Democratic primary next Feb. 1, selects the party's candidate for the remainder of Black's term, which ends in January, 1939.

She is the fourth woman ever chosen for the Senate. The only feminine member this year has been Miss Hattie Caraway of Arkansas.

We'll Dine At the DeLuxe

That's what many Exhibition visitors say, when they plan to eat. They know there's no finer place. The service, the modern appointments and the food, all are the very best. Why not join this throng of smart "diner outers" and visit the DeLuxe Cafe.

Bailieboro Pair Observes Golden Wedding Anniversary

Family and Neighbors Honor Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dawson on Happy Occasion.

BAILIEBORO, Aug. 20.—Over one hundred and fifty relatives and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dawson, of Bailieboro, assembled on Tuesday evening, August 17th in the hall at Wallace Point, to extend their congratulations to them on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Joseph W. Dawson and Emma Stock were united in marriage by Rev. B. Greatrix in 1887 and have resided all the fifty years of married life in South Monaghan. Harry Dawson and Minnie Stock were groomsman and bridesmaid fifty years ago, but the latter was the only one alive to attend this anniversary.

Of the six children there were present Edith C. of Toronto, Bruce of Ayr, Hadrill of Bailboro, and Ida (Mrs. H. M. Tennant) of Ottawa, but the youngest son, Lawrence and the youngest daughter, Hilda, (Mrs. Dr. Somerville) of Timmins, were unable to attend.

Address Read

The pastor of the circuit, Rev. E. M. Cook, of Fraserville, acted as chairman, and after a few introductory remarks and personal congratulations, called on Rev. M. W. Leigh, B.A., of Kingston, a former pastor, to read the following address:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Dawson:

There is an old saying "It is worthwhile to be worthwhile."

It is wonderfully worthwhile for any community to have worthwhile people living in it throughout many years. There is community development, there is loving service and good example which for long may be apparently taken for granted but nevertheless is appreciated, and will, at an appropriate time, find expression.

One of these appropriate times has come to us today and we have seized upon it to congratulate you upon the attainment of the golden anniversary of your wedding.

Our presence and what we do today are more than an expression of congratulations. They are a means we have chosen to express our love and esteem for you for the lives you have lived among us as Christians, as neighbors, and as helpful friends.

We hope we can so convey our hearts to you that you will feel within yourselves that life has its recompsenses and has, after all discounts, been very much worthwhile.

We pray that today, and every day yet to be yours, you will feel that there is flowing back into your lives a fuller measure of what you have given to us. We feel that you have taught us the truth of what is contained in "Lift's Mirror."

"There are loyal hearts, there are spiritz brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you....
For life is the mirror of king and slave;
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you."

For the remainder of your days we pass on this as our benediction:

The sun be warm and kind to you
The darkest night, some star shine through.
The dullest morn a radiance brew,
And when dusk comes—God's hand to you."

As tangible expression of what we have tried to express in words, please accept these gifts. They are a token and symbol of esteem that you have brought into being in time but which will be when time is no more.

Signed on behalf of your neighbors and friends.

At the appointed time, Mrs. Charles Dawson presented gifts of money, enclosed in envelopes tied with golden ribbons, and Alan Tennant of Ottawa, (a grandson), presented the flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson replied very appropriately after receiving the address and gifts and a short program of instrumental and vocal music followed before the dainty refreshments were served to all present.

Hall Decorated

The hall was beautifully decorated with golden streamers issuing from a golden bell overhanging the nicely iced, three-storey cake, presented by Mr. H. Stock of Peterborough, and which was in the centre of the table at which the bride and groom and their children sat.

When the address was finally handed to Mr. Dawson it contained the signatures of one hundred and twenty seven persons.

The gathering was one of the largest and most enjoyable the Dawson families and relatives have had in recent years.

Tweed Park Damaged In Electrical Storm

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 20.—The severest storm of the year, passed over Tweed on Thursday afternoon, causing considerable damage to trees, and minor property damage. Several residents reported the loss of windows, blown out by the wind, while several large trees were uprooted, and large limbs were torn from other trees. Considerable damage was done in the Memorial Park where a large willow tree was uprooted and the tops of many other trees severely damaged. Hydro service was disrupted where falling trees broke the wires in several sections of the village and at an early hour in the evening the southern section of the village was still without power. A total precipitation of .66 inches was recorded during the storm, which reached nearly cyclonic proportions at one stage. This section has been practically free of storms this year, and this is the first one in which any damage has resulted. Crops will be damaged by the heavy wind and rain which fell in Thursday's downpour.

Fan Protests Are Most Peculiar

1.—Arrange for Clarke Gable to: (a) Sleep in a sleeping bag for feminine admirers who like him tough. (b) Not sleep in a sleeping bag for feminine admirers who worry about bears, rattlesnakes, etc.

2.—Persuade Myrna Loy not to have a baby in the next "Thin Man" picture. (That final scene in "After the Thin Man" where she was knitting tiny garments may prove troublesome, but carry on somehow).

3.—Keep Joan Crawford off bicycles—so many of her fans think it's undignified.

They bet Gary Cooper to stay out of fast autos, and Bing Crosby to wear his hat over the eyes, off the face, or the right on the left—or to wear no hat at all.

Fortunate, indeed, are those women who have a pantry, hall-end or over-sized kitchen which can be partitioned-off with Donnacona Board and made into a charming Dinette like this. Not only is it dainty and attractive but it is so convenient—saves many tiring steps each day. As for design—the unique natural rough-cast finish of Donnacona is delightful—or you can decorate it in any colour you desire. Consult your Donnacona Dealer or write us for details of such remodelling projects under the Home Improvement Plan. This charming 9' x 11' dinette was built for only $42.00 including material and labour.

TREES UPROOTED IN MANY PARTS

Many other eastern districts reported loss to crops. Wire services were disrupted in Brockville, Smith's Falls, Perth, Vanleek Hill and Hawkesbury.

Serious fires were caused by lightning blasts and spread by the wind. A bolt truck a transformer and ignited a four-storey frame and stucco stores building of the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph. Forty prisoners were called out to fight the blaze and, with the Guelph and Kitchener brigades, prevented its spread to other prison buildings.

Carried From His Home.

A 50 mile wind spread fire from the barn of Percy Celments in Dover township near Chatham to destroy William Graham's home, 200 yards away. Two other farms were threatened by flying shingles. Alvin Graham, 15, in bed with a broken leg, was carried from the burning house.

Mount Forest, north of Guelph, was hit by the worst storm. Half the trees in the town were shattered or uprooted. Three barns were destroyed, several others damaged, a greenhouse, several verandahs and a back kichen were battered by cyclonic winds.

In Toronto, eight street cars were stalled by blown fuses, $1,000 damage was done to Simpson Avenue United Church steeple. Farmers in suburban districts lost buildings. One at Brittania lost five calves and four pigs when a lightning-ignited fire burned his barn with $6,200 loss.

Farmers grumbled about the delay caused threshing and harvesting operations and eyed their flattened fields, particularly of corn. Hail accompanied the rain in parts of Hufon county. Trees were blown down in several sections, blocking roads and tearing down telephone lines. Orchards suffered.

Bad in Western Part.

Lambton county was caught in the storm's path. On concessions two and four, Bosanquet, several buildings were damaged. Windmills on the farms of William Zavitz and Howard Percy were damaged. Part of the roof of William Sitter's barn was lifted eight feet.

Middlesex reported damage to stooked grain from excesive moisture, with consequent rot and sprouting. Two large barns in Ailsa Craig were struck by lightning and destroyed. Both were on the farm of Simon Thompson and were valued at $2,000 exclusive of the season's harvest. H. A. Lamphier, east of Elginfield, also lost his barn and part of the Elginfield tile yard roof was blown away.

Preston, Guelph, Galt and Stratford reported damage. In Stratford a cloudburst was accompanied by lightning that knocked down the chimney on Fred Montgomery's house. It also hit a water pipe, flooding the home where three children were. Montgomery was called from work to turn the water on.

IMPROVED ROADS

CHARLOTTETOWN — (CP). — From the tourist standpoint Amram Scheinfeld, prominent New York writer and artist, believes development of improved roads, and also of the highways of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick is "vitally necessary" to form a connecting link with the magnificent Federal highway system in Maine." Poor roads in the adjoining Maritime Provinces will always, to American visitors, be a deterrent from visiting this Province, he said.

RICE KRISPIES not only taste delicious. Their "Snap, Crackle, Pop" in milk or cream is music that says "Get hungry!"

Children love this ready-to-serve cereal. First they listen. Then they eat up every one of those crisp, crunchy, toasted rice bubbles.

At grocers everywhere. Served by all restaurants. A Mother Goose story printed on every package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. Quality guaranteed.

SO CRISP they actually crackle in milk or cream

The Examiner BULLETIN BOARD

Stunned when struck by lightning as he was about to descend from a scaffold 225 feet in the air George Rennie, Toronto steeplejack, fell to his death at Sarnia.

The first case of infantile paralysis in Lambton County was reported yesterday from the village of Cold Springs. It was the first case at that place in seven years.

T. R. Dent, breeder of the late Springbank Snow Countess, world champion Holstein, has shipped to a New York man a February bull calf of this year for $1,000; a Woodstock story says.

John Martin of Bright has been appointed deputy sheriff of Oxford County. The appointment goes into effect immediately.

Fire at Reformatory

A two-storey frame auxiliary stores building at the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph was completely destroyed by fire.

Windsor reports a rumor that Al Brady and members of his notorious gang have left Toledo with the intention of slipping into Canada.

On the resignation of Senator Hugo Black to accept appointment to the United States Supreme Court, Governor Graves of Albama has appointed his own wife to fill the vacancy in the Senate.

Four persons were drowned when their automobile plunged into a creek six miles from Chilliwack, British Columbia.

Organizers Attacked

Two organizers of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee testified at Cumberland, West Virginia, that they had been beaten and had to spend several days in the hospital because of their efforts to organize 12,000 mill workers of the Weirton Steel Company.

At Vancouver 24 bread drivers for McGavin, Ltd., bakers, pleaded guilty to working more than 54 hours a week, the maximum under the Work Act. Sentence was suspended.

Five youngsters in Vancouver, ranging in age from 6 to 10, have been turned over to their parents by police after admitting robbery of a church and other thefts.

Two newspapermen, Gordon W. Powley and Fred Pense, have been given $25 each by the Canadian Bankers' Association for resourcefulness shown in connection with the capture of an alleged bank robber.

Will Accept Veto

Premier Aberhart said yesterday that the Alberta authorities will accept without contest the Ottawa Government's veto of Alberta's bank legislation.

James Shipley, 29, of Toronto, was seriously injured when a heavy transport truck collided with the rear of a standing street car.

A new vaudeville circuit to operate on a 27-week circuit in 20 United States and Canadian cities including Toronto is announced from New York.

The first sturgeon to be caught at Port Burwell in many years was taken by Mark Bates. It weighed 70 pounds and was worth $1 a pound at its dressed weight of 42 pounds.

Old Driver Fined

At Hamilton, William Brown, aged 74, of Morriston, was fined $20 for reckless driving. He said he had picked up a girl and had had three glasses of beer.

Mrs. Melville Oliver of Meaford, mother of four children, died suddenly from a heart attack when informed that her son Fred, who had been undergoing treatment in Toronto had been brought home.

Ross Smith, aged nine, of Toronto was killed when a heavy platform upon which he and there other boys were attempting to climb, toppled over on him.

With more than $75,000 worth of loot already recovered from their flat, Mrs. Anne Pocius and her two daughters of Chicago are being held by the police.

WILKINS PLANE

sell Rogers, who flew the plane from San Diego, Calif., to New York Tuesday.

Russell will teach Kenyon the peculiarities of the plane and leave the expedition at Coppermine, N. W.T., returning to New York by commercial air lines.

Supplies for a long Arctic search were loaded in the plane here, including toboggans, pumps, heaters, eiderdowns and winter clothing.

The route to Fort Smith lies over the wild forests and lakes of Northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan. From Fort Smith the fliers will cross the Barren Lands to the Arctic coast and then westward to Aklavik near the mouth of the Mackenzie River where other fliers are participating in the search for Sigismund Levanetfsky and five other Russians unreported for a week.

Sir Hubert and Hollick-Kenyon both expressed belief the missing Russian fliers are alive and that they will be found.

Hollick Kenyon has had extensive experience in the Polar regision. He was lost for 56 days with Lincoln Ellsworth in the Antarctic in 1934. Formerly identified with Canadian Airways, he now is director of a Toronto air transportation company.

JUMPED IN TIME

NEWCASTLE-UNDER-LYME, England—(CP).—L. B. Darrall, pilot of an airplane forced down by a storm in a field near here, escaped by jumping without a parachute when the craft was 30 feet from the ground.

Once They Had Thrones

Two former crowned heads of Europe occupy chairs on the terrace of their hotel, overlooking Lake Lucerne at Burgenstoch, Switzerland, and, perhaps, dream of the days when they sat on thrones of gilt and purple plush. They are ex-Queen Amelie, of Portugal and ex-King Ferdinand, of Bulgaria. It is reported that Ferdinand may return to Bulgaria to participate in ceremonies marking the 50th anniversary of the accession to the Bulgarian throne of the Coburg dynasty.

MRS. CLEMOS LaCHAPELLE

Following a lengthy illness, the death of Mrs. Clemos LaChapelle occurred on Monday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Abram, Township of Hungerford.

Deceased was born March 10, 1864, and was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rahotte. She was married to Louis LaChapelle, who predeceased her some twelve years ago. She was a devout member of St. Carthagh's Church and a member of the League of the Sacred Heart.

Surviving are four sons, Joseph, James, Edward and Mitchell, all of the Township of Hungerford, and two daughters, Mrs. John Albram, Hungerford, and Mrs. Harry Green of Toronto; four brothers, Paul and Peter of Michigan; Joseph S. of Hungerford, John of Montreal, and one sister, Mrs. Patrick Kelly of Oshawa.

The funeral was held on Wednesday morning at St. Carthagh's Church, where Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Den Cullinane. Interment in St. Carthagh's Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Joseph S. and John Rashotte, brothers; James and Mitchel Trudeau, John Hott, Joseph Bergeron.

FRED JEFFERSON WINNER OF CAR

Fred Jefferson, 104 Lansdowne street, a young married man in the employ of G. Whittaker & Co., drove home a new Chevrolet automobile last night, second of the four that are being given away at the Exhibition this week.

He held the coupon with the winning number, 553171, the second drawn by Tom Brown, president of the Exhibition, from the De Laval churn.

The first number announced was 453980, but some person who stayed home from the night show probably had it, and missed the chance of getting a new car.

In the first night's draw, Gerald Lafave who won the Ford sedan appeared from the crowd outside the grandstand gate, and luck returned to the same area Thursday night, for Mr. Jefferson emerged from the twilight between the midway and the grandstand with the winning ticket in his hand. It was verified by Mr. Brown and several other directors. Mr. Jefferson was introduced to the crowd, and claimed his prize.

HON. FAULKNER IS NOMINATED

troduce into the campaign all manner of irrelevant allegations, the latest of which was that he (Hepburn) had, through his Hydro contracts cancellation policy been responsible for social credit in the West."

Better Aberhart Than Lewis

"Mr. Rowe," said he "has linked me with Aberhart. Well, at that, I'd rather be linked with Aberhart than with John L. Lewis—(cheers. —but Mr. Rowe shows a deplorable lack of constructive policy when he raises such charges. As a matter of fact I was the only speaker of either party who went through the West during the last Federal election campaign who had the courage to say that Aberhart's policy, afterward implemented with legislation, was not economically feasible or sound, and to warn that if it succeeded Aberhart himself would be the only person who would have to work in Alberta.

"I went so far in that regard that certain sections of the Liberal press bitterly criticized me. Let me tell you that there is no similiarity between Aberhart's policy and our policy with regard to the Hydro contracts. Social credit out there, as Mr. Rowe well knows, affects the banking system, something entirely under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government. I do not disagree at all with the action the Dominion Government has now taken, but I would sharply disagree with them were they to attempt to disallow our Hydro legislation, which is a purely domestic affair of our own concern.

Would Cancel Again

The Prime Minister was again cheered when he stated that if he had to do it over again he would deal with the original Quebec power contracts as he had done in 1935. "If," said he, "men like Howard Ferguson and George S. Henry and others get together behind closed doors and bind you people to the dictation of a lot of Quebec power companies, without your elected representatives having any recourse, then democracy is a farce and justice a sham in this fair Province of ours."

In attacking the Government's contracts cancellation policy and blaming it for the "sorry Aberhart action" in the West, Mr. Rowe, charged the Prime Minister, had again definitely shown his hand.

"It means," said he, "that Mr. Rowe, if elected to power, will restore the terms of the old contracts and penalize all those thousands of Hydro consumers who are now benefiting from the lowered rates and reduced service charges which the money we saved by our cancellation policy has brought about."

Faulkner Nominated.

At the meeting of the West Hastings convention—Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health in the present administration, was unanimously chosen as the riding's Liberal standard-bearer in the approaching election. The Prime Minister in thanking the audience for its choice, stressed the point that he wanted Dr. Faulkner's services at his disposal in order that he, the Belleville physician, might complete, if nothing else, the work on which he had started of stamping out tuberculosis in Ontario.

Dealing again with his "determined drive" for recovery of the $5,000,000 in succession duties out of which he said the Province had been "deprived" under previous administrations, the Prime Minister said: "Don't let Rowe tell you, when he comes here, that he will continue our drive if he gets into power. He cannot. His hands are tied. He couldn't do it even if he wanted to. Too many of his supporters are mixed up in the mal-administration, fraud and collusion that was part of the settlements negotiated with these rich estates over past years.

The Premier advised Ontario to "look out for this fellow Hogarth," who had, he said, financed the Tories' campaign of misrepresentation in East Hastings last December, and who today was one of the big financial backers of the Rowe campaign.

"Let me warn you," he said, "that if Rowe gets into power, Hogarth again will extort his pound of flesh. Rowe will not be able to control him."

Return of a Tory Administration would mean a return of depression and stagnation rather than continuance of the "peace and prosperity" that Ontario has now attained, declared Premier Hepburn.

Liquor Policy

Definite assurance the Prime Minister gave that the Government would never extend beer and wine authorities to restaurants, such as had been promised by the former Henry Administration. A policy of local option and municipal authority as to hours of closing would always prevail. No wet community would be permitted to force its views on a dry section, and conversely, no dry settlement would be allowed to dictate to a wet district.

Dealing hastily with the C.I.O. situation, Mr. Hepburn stirred his audience repeatedly to noisy acclaim with the declaration that as long as his Government remained in power, C.I.O. organizers would be shown short shrift.

"So we're going to fight them to the last ditch," said he: "We don't want any C.I.O. in this country, and we are going to keep them out. With the advanced labor legislation which we have on our statute books, and which has settled three strikes in the last week, and which may settle another tonight (as Brockville), we contend with our labor difficulties in a fair, orderly and constructive fashion. We don't need any dictation from Lewis or his paid organizers, like Welch, who cost 200 silk-knit workers their jobs and who will have a lot of Peterborough people walking the streets, too, while he goes on to some other place to stir up more trouble.

No Red Herring

"A vote for Rowe, I tell you, will be recognized by Lewis and his crowd as support for them. There is only one way to insure peace and progress for the future in Ontario, and that is to return a Liberal Administration to power." (Cheers.)

Mr. Rowe, said the Prime Minister lacked the courage clearly and unequivocally to state his position on the issue. He was like "the little red rooster you see on the barn," turning north, south, east and west, as the wind changed. On occasion, said he, he was inclined to come out against any lawlessness that Lewis and his organizers might preach, but it should not be forgotten that during the Oshawa strike of last spring when the Government was faced with a crisis, Mr. Rowe said no.thing, did not come to the support of the Government in the policy it then "so courageously adopted."

"No," said Mr. Hepburn, "I'm afraid Mr. Rowe is running away from the question. He refers to it as merely a red herring that I am using. Well, let me say to him that he will change his mind in that respect when the ballots are counted. The people know differently."

DOG RAN TOO FAST.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 20 (AP). — Warden Homer Chapman's bloodhound is "in the doghouse" at the Houston County convict camp.

The hound was put on the trail of a fugitive but ran so fast he outdistance the posse. The pursuers, bewildered, followed the yelping of another hound and found a treed raccoon.

Next morning, they found the warden's bloodhound. He was tied to a fence with the convict's suspenders.

in the producing of better livestock in this country. Hon. Mr. Marshall spoke of the great fairs that are held in the Old Country. They were actually invaluable institutions in the promotion of the livestock industry as an essential branch of agriculture. Partly as a result of these exhibitions the British Isles were acknowledged throughout the world as the central breeding ground of cattle, horses, sheep and swine of the highest quality.

The Minister expressed his appreciation of the encouragement the Peterborough Exhibition was giving to young farmers of this county and of Central Ontario as a district, and with his congratulations upon the present achievement by the men who were carrying on this work in the community he wished them greater success in the future.

13-Month-Old Holstein Heifer Bred By Otonabee Farmer Wins Grand Championship

"Otonabee Supreme Ormsby Lady" thirteen months old Holstein heifer [illegible] by Joseph Tully of Otonabee, won the female grand championship of its breed at the Exhibition Thursday afternoon, regarded by directors as probably the outstanding event of this week's show.

Against the strong competition from the herds of the Hon. George S. Henry and J. M. Fraser of Streetsville, bothof whom are reported to be going on from Peterborough to Ottawa and the Canadian National Exhibition, Mr. Tully's senior heifer calf was first awarded the junior championship and was then advanced into the all age class for females of the Holstein breed, the section in which the female title was decided.

Applause broke out all around the prize ring from the breeders and others following the Holstein judging when it was realized that a Peterborough county senior heifer had gained the distinction of being the best female Holstein in the show, and it is not often that handclapping is heard in that section of Exhibition grounds.

Predicts More Honors.

G. Arthur Brethen of Norwood, prominent among Holstein breeders of the province and Dominion, stated to the Examiner that district farmers generally would be delighted with Mr. Tully's success.

"I wouldn't be surprised," he said "if Mr. Tully's heifer is recommended for all-America rating. Fred Hubbs had a letter yesterday requesting nominations from Peterborough, if any appeal to him, and I imagine that greater honors are in store for the Otonabee title winner. Nominations generally come for animals shown at the C.N.E., the Royal Winter Fair, Ottawa and London."

"Otonabee Supreme Ormsby Lady" is of the third Holstein generation bred by Mr. Tully on his farm in the fifteenth concession of Otonabee. Its sire is "Hays' Supreme", the herd foundation male he bought a few years ago. Mr. Tully is one of the youngest breeders in the district, still under thirty, and his accomplishment Thursday afternoon was declared by directors to be one of the greatest satisfactions that have come to them since Peterborough was elevated to a Class A Exhibition. He is secretary of the Peterborough Holstein Breeders' Association.

"We have contended all along that farmers of this county and district have the ability to develop winners even against the leaders of the province," Tom Brown said. "Mr. Tully is another who has shown that it can be done, and he certainly isn't in the same financial class with men like Hon. George S. Henry and J. M. Fraser."

Robert Holtby of Port Perry added his compliments to Mr. Tully's success, and general opinions predicted that more would be heard in the future from Mr. Tully's herd.

Other Local Breeders.

"Our other Holstein breeders also deserve mention," A. D. Runions said. Stewart Nelson of Otonabee, Joe and Fred Mann of Smith, Norman McConkey, and Matchett Brothers of Otonabee all made a good showing, and everyone was delighted that our own cattle did so well. Stewart Nelson of W. A. Nelson & Son was on the Peterborough prize-winning judging team four years ago. In fact he is only a recent graduate from our junior farmer company. He showed four animals and got at least three prizes, one being a first with his heifer.

Five Holsteins were entered for the female grand championship, the breeders being Mr. Tully, Hon. G. S. Henry, J. M. Fraser, Norman McConkey and a cow from the Tambyln "Cedardale Farm" at Orono.

"Leave out the strong herds that come here and your local breeders will no doubt win more prize money, but that doesn't go very far." Bob Holtby commented to the Examiner. "Mr. Tully knows today that his heifer has won a high honor and will receive recognition by the very fact that it defeated strong contenders."

Several of the directors recalled that the Mann Brothers of Smith won the Holstein grand championship two years ago, and their cow later captured first prize in the aged cow section at the Toronto Exhibition.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, August 21

Interesting events, with important bearing on the future fortunes, are presaged from the mutual and lunar aspects ruling this day. There is a stabilizing and expansive influence affecting the financial aims or other productive enterprises, which seem to be connected with influential persons either in the realm of capital or politics.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year in which there will be an expansive and progressive influence, probably in speculative enterprises or in connection with "big business." Those in power will be approachable and friendly, and there are likely to be happy reactions to this spirit of co-operation and good will on the private life.

A child born on this day may be endowed for business, cultural, political or social success, with decided trends toward the latter. It may attain conspicuous position in life.

Last Stone Is Laid On Crescent Street Embankment

The last stone in the new embankment of Little Lake around Crescent Street was laid at noon Thursday with a little ceremony marking the completion of a labor project that was begun October 13 last. The stone was placed in position by W. H. L. Mellis, supervisor of the work, in the presence of Mayor Macdonald, Senator F. P. O'Connor, Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, J. J. Duffus, M.P., and others. The rip-rap will be extended another 106 feet by the Little Lake Cemetery Company from the end of the public work in line with the cemetery gate. The stone face is one-half a mile long and 20 feet wide; the number of men employed ranged from 45 to 8 who were engaged in the last stage; and 22,000 cubic yards of stone were provided from the city's gravel pit. Cost of the work was borne by the federal Department of Public Works, the appropriation having been obtained through the co-operation of Mr. Duffus, Senator O'Connor and Mayor Macdonald for unemployment relief.

PLANS ARE LAID SEYMOUR EXHIBIT

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 20—The regular meeting of the Seymour West Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Alex. Green Thursday and Mrs. James Waters presided. A hearty vote of thinks was given to Mrs. Robert McCulloch and Mrs. Charles Macoun and the others who helped for the silver anniversary celebration last week. The War Memorial Fund, cooking sale, bazaar, and fall fair price lists were discussed and a committee was appointed to inquire about the donations of the War Memorial Fund. Everyone who had a thrift exhibit for the fair was asked to bring it to the Institute's next meeting, when a committee would choose the ones to be used in the Institute exhibit. It was announced that the prize list for the Institute's section of the Seymour Fair would be ready in a few days. It was requested that anyone having Institute table-cloths should bring them in. The members were told the date of the Belleville Convention, Sept. 29 and 30, and also the District Officers' Rally at Codrington, August 24.

The program included a guitar solo by Gladys Kimbirat; recitation, Yvonne Waters; vocal duet, Jack and Joe Smith, who were accompanied by A. Hazell. The topic, "Teaching Boys and Girls to Have the Correct Attitude Toward Each Other," was given by Mrs. James Waters after which Ila Wood gave a reading entitled, "Miss Dorothy Entertains the Minister," and Miss Betty Green sang with guitar accompaniment, "The Little Shirt My Mother Made For Me." Lunch followed the National Anthem, with Mrs. Percy Wood, Mrs. George Van Volkenburg, Mrs. Raymond Free and Mrs. Cecil McCulloch assisting the hostess.

GAS MASKS EFFECTIVE

BELFAST—(CP)—Assurance the government's civilian gas-masks would protect against all known types of gas was given by letter to the British Medical Association meeting here.

Main Street Topics

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up By Examiner Reporters.

CATTLE PARADE AT 3.30 P.M.

WANTED IN WOODSTOCK.

Walter Baylis who is wanted in Woodstock on a charge of stealing a motorcycle was arrested here yesterday by Provincial Constable Silvester and city police, and is being held for the Woodstock authorities.

CHINESE RED CROSS.

No action has been taken locally so far to raise money among the local Chinese for the Chinese Red Cross, but several members of the colony expect that an organizer may be here in a short time. Peterborough Chinese are prepared to contribute to the fund.

IS STAYING HERE.

"I'm not going," a local Chinese laundryman told The Examiner when he was asked when he was going home to enlist for the war against Japan. "Lots of people in China," he explained with a grin.

VISITS EXHIBITION.

Senator Frank P. O'Connor of Toronto, who takes a great interest in the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, is in town to pay his annual visit to the big Fair. He was at the grounds last evening in spite of the bad weather.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition announce that Saturday will be another Children's Day at the big Fair, and children will be admitted at the gate for 5 cents. In addition 2,400 prizes will be distributed at the gate to the youngsters.

QUICK MONEY.

Mathematicians in the crowd at the buckaw contest this morning decided that Champion Manley was about the highest paid wood-cutter in local history. He received $50.00 for sawing less than a minute, and the crowd figured that the rate of almost $1.00 a second set a new all-time record in the matter of pay for that class of work in this district.

SALE OF LAMBS.

Some of the prize livestock, including lambs, will be sold at the Exhibition Saturday morning at 10.30 o'clock.

GUARDS ARE STONED.

Patrol men on the south fence and sheds at the Exhibition were stoned from their positions Thursday by youths who laid down a barrage of rocks in advance of an attempt to scale the fence.

CASES ENLARGED.

Charges of wife beating were preferred against two different local men in police court this morning, and in both cases there was an adjournment; it being explained that there was a good chance of the difficulties being adjusted without court action. "Just a hot weather squabble," said Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., who appeared for one of the accused.

C.P.R. EXECUTIVES HERE.

T. F. McArthur, C.P.R. freight agent was host and guide Thursday to a party of the company officials on their annual visit to the Exhibition. They were W. C. Beck, superintendent of the Trenton division; G. D. Brophy, district passenger agent; D. A. McColl, district freight agent; C. B. Andrews, assistant general passenger agent, and C. Roy Jones, assistant to the general manager of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, all of Toronto.

HELD JOINT LUNCHEON.

Members of the Kiwanis Club and Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board held a joint luncheon at Empress Hotel today under chairmanship of Kiwanian Dr. J. J. Craig. Members of the Fair Board present included: Thomas Brown, president; Arthur Bredin, managing director; Art Runions, county agricultural representative; Alex. Huston and Vivian S. Milburn. Entertainment was supplied by three midway performers in the persons of Stella the tattooed lady who is said to have 365 tattooed designs on her body; Clicko, an African Pygmy, reputed to be 104 years old, and Burkhart, the anatomical wonder.

LINDSAY HARD HIT BY ELECTRIC STORM

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 20. (CP)—The fierce wind and electrical storm which swept this district yesterday caused considerable damage in some sections, but fortunately no real loss is reported. The lightening put two transformers—one at Horn Bros. Woollen Mills and the other at the Crayon Limited, out of commission and crippled the power supply. The main transmission line was also affected and the town had to depend on Fenelon Falls power for a time.

Throughout the town sections of trees were blown down. In the country, where the storm had more sweep many trees were blown down. One traveller who motored from Leaverton today informed the Examiner that there were nearly fifty trees down along the highway. The rain was quite heavy in some sections and many motorists were stalled on the highway because of its intensity.

Drunken Motorist Gets Fifteen Days

Andrew Roseweir, a farmer residing at Camborne, pleaded guilty in Police Court this morning to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, and was sentenced by Magistrate Langley to fifteen days in jail.

Chief Constable Newhall told the Court that Roseweir was very drunk and that his car had struck a boy on a bicycle on Perry Street, injuring the lad slightly.

As Roseweir was being led downstairs he approached the Magistrate and asked if he could not be let off with a fine. "I have no one at home to look after the stock," he explained.

"You had better take that up with the members of Parliament and get the law changed," said Magistrate Langley. "I have no option in the matter as the law now stands."

Hector Crowley, who accompanied Roseweir, was fined $10, and $4.50 costs, for being drunk.

The Rambling REPORTERS

BOYS WILL BE BOYS.

A north end resident on Thursday watched two boys stage a real fistic encounter on the street. One youth was ten and the other well past six, but large for his age. The battle raged back and forth for a long time much to the disgust of the northender who put in a call for the police. When the constables arrived the battle was still raging but short work was made of it when they were ordered into their own yards.—C.

6,226 ATTENDED ON SECOND DAY OF EXHIBITION

Paid admissions to the Exhibition Thursday totalled 6,226 as compared with 9,941 on the second day last year.

The day's rain put a crimp in the aggregate attendance for the two days, 16,864 as against 21,411 for the corresponding days a year ago. Complete grandstand totals were not available lacking the figures for the reserved seats.

A group of Conklin's midway provided entertainment at the Kiwanis luncheon. Melvin Burkhart of the World's Fair Freaks was master of ceremonies. He gave a smart demonstration of card tricks and other sleight of hand stunts and also an act entitled "anatomical blunders" along contortionist lines. With him were Stella, the Tatooed Lady, and Chicko, a wild African bushman, the only one of his tribe, it was said, who has survived side show life.

OBITUARY

THOMAS E. CUNNINGHAM

The death occurred very suddenly in Orillia this morning of Thomas E. Cunningham, a former resident of Peterborough. Born in Percy Township, the late Mr. Cunningham came to Peterborough, where he married Miss Katie Hooper.

Surviving are his sorrowing widow, two daughters and one son, three brothers, J. J. and W. H. Cunningham of Peterborough and R. A. of Hamilton, also one sister, Mrs. E. Walton of Dennistoun avenue, Peterborough. Funeral announcement later.

WILLIAM ROBERT HUGGINS.

The death occurred this morning at his residence of William Robert Huggins, 450C Mark Street. He passed away in his 79th year. A native of Galt, Ont., Mr. Huggins had been a respected resident of Peterborough for the past thirty-five years. Predeceased by his wife, the former Mary Young, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Clifford Harding, and two sons, Lee and Jack, all of Peterborough, also five brothers, Thompson, South Monaghan, Sheppard, Benefort, Braden, Ballieboro, and David and Jack of this city, also three sisters, Mrs. D. McLeod, Peterborough, Mrs. H. Miller, Toronto, and Mrs. George Hunter, Detroit. The funeral is to be held on Saturday, with services conducted by the Rev. E. W. Rowland, at Nesbitt Funeral Home at 1.30 p.m. Interment at Centreville Cemetery.

WILLIAM W. HARRINGTON.

William W. Harrington of 306 Rogers Street died in the city this morning in his 75th year. Born in Brighton Township he was a son of the late Levi Harrington and Mary McCarthy. Prior to taking up residence here a year ago he had lived for some time in Hollywood, California. Mr. Harrington was a member of Tripoli Lodge, A.F. and A.M. Milwaukee, and a member of the Wisconsin Consistory and the Shrine. Predeceased by his wife, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Ella Dinner, of this city, and a niece, Mrs. Chas. English. The funeral is to be held on Saturday at 3 p.m. with services at Nesbitt Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. E. W. Rowland. Remains will leave on the afternoon C.P.R. train for interment at Madison, Wisconsin.

POULTRY JUDGE HAS KEEN EYE CATCHES FAKING

Poultry entries at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, stated by George Paxman, enthusiastic chairman of the Poultry Committee, to total nine hundred, fell short of last year's record by almost two hundred entries.

Sections chiefly affected were bantam, pigeons, rabbits and waterfowl, but with these exceptions all classes were well filled and competition was extremely lively. Keenest competition was among the Reds, Giants and Mediterranean.

Judging this year was being done by G. P. Purser of Lindsay. A poultry judge of twenty years' standing with wide experience throughout the Dominion including Ottawa, Royal Winter, and Canadian National Exhibitions, Mr. Purser said he was strictly basing his awards on the fact that Peterborough is now a Class A Fair.

While he was loud in his praise of the general quality of the birds in each of the various classes, the judge said he had come across some "faking" and had eliminated all such cases without hesitation. Among faking of birds complained of were some that had been doctored with rouge, lipstick and even shoe blacking to cover up defects of comb or plumage.

Apart from these few exceptions, Mr. Purser was greatly impressed, he said, with the general standard of the exhibits. He believed that any one of the birds he had placed in the award list could go to the C.N.E. or any other grade A fair or poultry show and figure on being in the prize money.

Expressing keenest disapproval of exhibitors who would fake entries for show purposes, Mr. Purser stressed the importance of maintaining highest standards.

While it is his first visit to Peterborough Exhibition as a judge, Mr. Purser has officiated at shows of Peterborough Poultry Association and he thought local poultry fanciers were to be congratulated on their general good showing.

Re-opening Of Mill Been Postponed

FOLEYET, Ont., Aug. 20 (CP)—Re-opening of the Pineland Lumber Company sawmill here, scheduled for today, has been postponed indefinitely, it was announced, pending the return of a number of "key" workers who left town during a month-long strike, settlement of which was reached Wednesday.

More than 125 men were involved in the strike which crippled the business life of this little community 100 miles north of Sudbury. In the terms of settlement, the men agreed to return to work at the prevailing wage scale, plus a bonus at the end of the season.

Staff re-organization is under way, company officials said today, and until this is completed they were unable to announce the date of the mill's re-opening.

Vegetables, Grains And Roots Reveal Splendid Growth

Splendid Showing is Made in This Department of Peterborough Exhibition.

The vegetable, grain and root crop section at the Exhibition made a particularly splendid showing this year, and emphasized the truth of the assertion that Ontario has experienced a bumper crop.

Invigorating sunshine and refreshing rain of the summer that is fast waning played an important part in the net result of the lovely showing under the big top, but beyond that the display represents honest toil of the farmer and market gardener alike.

Two of the chief exhibitors in the market garden section would appear to be J. M. Lowes and Son and C. F. Kilney and Son, judging by the large number of awards shared by these two local firms. They are represented in almost every class with choice displays of potatoes, cucumbers, marrows, pumpkins, celery, beans, beets, tomatoes, carrots, onions, etc.

One side of the big tent features an impressive array of grain in sheaf, while a large corner section is devoted to an outstanding display of seed grain by the Boys' Grain Club sponsored by Peterborough Rotary Club.

Old Folk Taken To The Exhibition

The Salvation Army League of Mercy of which Mrs. Jack Smith is head on Thursday afternoon provided eleven old folks from Anson House with a picnic outing at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. They were driven to and from the Fair in three automobiles, being accompanied by Adjutant Neil Warrander and Mrs. Warrander and Sergeant-Major R. C. Braund and Mrs. Braund. While at the grounds the welfare of the old people was looked after by close to twenty members of the League. Refreshments were served in a tent on the grounds.

Large Python Escapes From Its Box On The Midway Of The Exhibition

Midway performers at the Exhibition got a bad scare during the night, it was reported, when one of the pythons slithered unobserved from a stout box in which it was held captive in a sideshow and enjoyed several hours of freedom.

The fearsome reptile embodying 30 feet of muscle and sinew was discovered harmlessly coiled within the folds of a tent some yards from its home lot, oblivious to the hours of anxious suspense its absence without leave had caused.

Burkhart, one of the sideshow performers known as "the anatomical wonder," verified the story of the python's escape. He said that while pythons are not poisonous, and kill their victims by constriction, there was a real danger while the reptile was loose.

The reptile, one of many in the sideshow, has not eaten for almost three months. He is fed four times a year and his next meal will be due when the show arrives at Canadian National Exhibition after playing Peterborough.

This type of snake eats only live animals and shortly a squealing pig will become a victim of the reptile's growing appetite as the time for his quarterly feeding draws around.

His last meal was a 50-pound piglet as well as several live chickens, it was claimed.

BELLEVILLE GAINS LEAD IN PLAYOFFS

The Aajmaa Club of Belleville took a 6-4 win over Young Petes at Central here last night in the first game of the two-in-three Junior O.A.S.A. playdown series. A big crowd of fans saw a smart scrap between two good outfits, with the issue in doubt till the final out. Return game is scheduled for Belleville to-night, and third, if necessary, perhaps on a neutral diamond.

Chuck Dorrington's boys put up a stiff fight against a classy crew, but the Bellevilles got all their runs in the last three frames, pushing over the winning markers in an exciting ninth frame. Dracup pitched for the Aajmaa outfit, limiting the Young Petes to nine hits as he fanned two and walked one. Fleming pitched for the locals, allowing 10 hits as he struck out one and walked one. He gave way in the ninth to Craig, who fanned one and gave no hits or walks. Creighton got three hits for the losers and Coursey two, while Moon and O'Neill had two each for the winners. Moon hit a homer and pulled off a fine catch in the field. The teams:

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

THE PETES may have to play one more game or they may not—it depends on whether or not Kingston beats Napanee this e'en in their postponed fixture. If the Ponies win, the locals will hardly be called upon to go to Napanee Monday, as the Gibbards will be out of the running then. If the Ponies lose, the Petes will have to play it off to settle third place in the standing. At anyrate, the locals have now played 23 games of their 24-game schedule. A long scedule to eliminate one squad, what? And just for fun we were checking over some of the Petes' batting averages the other day. A few of the boys have improved since the averages were last run—at the two-third mark—and some of 'em have slumped. At least, the team as a whole is playing better ball now than in midseason.

* * * * *

EDDIE STARR is tops now with a mark of .347 in 19 games. Les Burton is next with .323 in 22 tilts, and Bill Calladine is third with .312 in 23 contests. Those are the only .300 hitters we have now, as Al Clark dropped out of the charmed circle and is clouting the ball at a .253 clip at present, behind Cy Whatley who has jumped to .271. Ken Long has a .236 mark, Chuck Kearns is batting .221 and Vic Brown in three games has .200 to his credit. The rest are hardly worth mentioning when it comes to waving the willow effectively. So that's how it is just now.

IN CONNECTION with the big swim at the Toronto Exhibition, four local lads will put on some water stunts in surf-board riding and water skiing. The Toronto Ex. officials asked the Peterborough Canoe Co. to demonstrate in this respect—following the showing of Eric Dinesen for the company last year in Toronto—and the local company agreed. The four fellows are Eric Dinesen, Bill Taylor, Mel Hunter and Rollie Rennie. They are practising here now and may be seen tonight at six in front of the Mark St. wharf, going through their paces. It's good stuff.

WESTCLOX and Motorists game tonight is shoved over till tomorrow eve at seven in Central. Game should be started on the dot. It is a playoff tilt to declare an O.A.S.A. team, and Westclox need but one win in this four-in-seven serial. Motorists tied the last one and may pull out a nod tomorrow. Both clubs are plenty classy and will dish up some fine softball. It ought to draw plenty of fans. The winner goes into Ontario intermediate playdowns against Belleville.

RAIN yesterday afternoon washed out the two scheduled harness horse races at the Exhibition. The 2.29 class, with nine starters, and the smaller 2.14 class. Probably three races will be run Saturday instead. Each one is for $200 in prizes and some fine pacers and trotters are entered. The free-for-all Saturday ought to be a honey. Stan Lowe is chairman of the Race Committee, Jack Climie of Tillsonburg is starter here again, with Lou Ferguson and M. Storey the judges. Dave Fleming is the perennial course clerk, and Freddie Willshare is timer. Only local hoss billed to go to the post yesterday was Art Johnston's entry, Midnight Express—"all right, gentlemen, it's 12 o'clock; you going to stay here all night?" Remember?

ONLY one softball game last night, the Westclox gals' tilt in Cobourg being postponed owing to rain. It will be played tonight in Cobourg and, if the Lakeshore lasses win, these teams clash here at the Bowl tomorrow (Saturday) p.m. at 6.30. If Westclox win tonight, the series is over. Up at Central yester twilight, Belleville Aajama Club copped a 6-4 nod over Young Petes in a classy junior O.A.S.A. playdown scrap. The teams appear evenly-matched and put on a fine battle before quite a few customers—many of whom were late, no doubt thinking it would start at seven o'clock. The local kids still have a good chance of evening it up and winning out. Next game is billed for tonight in Belleville, if rain doesn't again interfere. No softball listed locally for tonight.

QUINTE scribe takes a rap at us as we used to sometimes ride him and other Belleville guesmers—though he picks his spots and has ducked umpiring a game here this summer—in C.O.B.L. contests. The says Manager Woodley returned after the junior ball game here the other e'en and blasted Umpire Ike Batten hard and" Woodley informed Peterborough interests it would be no dice insofar as Batten was concerned as a possible official for the return game Saturday." Don't you love that—coming from ex-Umpire Woodley, who was mobbed here two years ago for giving some terrible decisions in a Kingston-Petes' playoff game? Looks like chickens come home to roost, or maybe those who live in glass houses gather no moss. Rotarians play in Belleville on Saturday.

LOOKING over the box score of the Oshawa-at-Kingston senior game the other day, we see where Hurst, Foley, Mathews and Wallace got the only hits allowed by Paczkowkski. And Elliott and Webber led the Ponies with two each. Tony fanned nine and walked one as Biddle breezed the ball by five and issued two Annie Oakley's. Foley's hit, by the way, was a triple. The GM-men played errorless ball whereas Elliott booted two on the other side and Red Scrutton one. The Ponies are slated to tackle Napanee tonight in a postponed game, but it looks like rain so maybe Joe Daley will do a bit more phenagling, and try to get the Petes to play Monday in Napanee instead.

MARMORA BEATEN BY DELORO 8 TO 7

MARMORA, Aug. 20. — Deloro softballers emerged victorious from their encounter with Marmora on the latter's grounds on Thursday evening to the tune of 8-7. This represents the score at the end of the fifth, the game being called by Umpire Cousins before the completion of Marmora's half of the sixth owing to bad light. Johnny Fox was the star hitter, getting homers for Marmora in the fourth and sixth. Loveless for Deloro tripled in the first and circled the bases in the fourth. Fox pitched the whole game for Marmora while O'Neill relieved Gray in the sixth.

Score by innings:

ON MONDAY, August 23, at 7 p.m., we will have another one of those popular local twilight doubles ...These contests have been a wonderful success this season, and we would like a capacity entry on this occasion...The fee, 50c per player, and be sure you take a lead or a second for a partner.

ON WEDNESDAY, August 25th, we will hold our last open tournament of the season...It will be doubles for men, and is wide, wide open. Chris. Graham, manager of the Empress Hotel, has very generously donated a shield for this competition, and it will be well worth trying for...Chris. has always been a great supporter of our club, and his offer is greatly appreciated...Let's make this tournament the best of the season....It's the last half-holiday this summ....

THURSDAY'S query: "There is no law or rule governing the personnel of a rink entering in open competition—but in local games it is different, sometimes the committee will limit the rinks to certain restrictions, in order to take care of leads and seconds...Our advice to the younger and less experienced players in this—be not afraid of any rink—four skips on one rink only can mean one thing—disaster...They each try to impress on the whole would that they (personally) know more about the game than anyone else...The consistent differences in opinions on shots to be played not only upsets the entire rink, but in many cases they leave the green with a headache, and in nine cases out of ten, a good licking.

TODAY'S QUESTION: "A skip with the last bowl drew shot, but his bowl had a chalk mark on it for having been a toucher the previous end. The opposing skip insisted it was a dead bowl. What is your opinion?"

IF THE WEATHER clears up we will hold a mixed tournament tonight at 7.30...Draw from the board and 25c all around is the fee.

With fifteen rinks from Peterborough, Cannington, Fenelon Falls and Lindsay competing, the annual ladies' Irish trebles tournament got under way at the Lindsay Community Bowling Club Thursday evening. The first draw was held up for several hours by heavy rain, but later perfect bowling weather prevailed.

The first-round results follow:

Mrs. Hepburn (Peterborough) 16, Mrs. Stephens (Lindsay) 9.

Mrs. Hussey (Lindsay) 16, Mrs. Hop (Peterborough) 11.

Mrs. Hendry (Peterborough) 12, Mrs. Mark (Lindsay) 9.

Mrs. Dyer (Peterborough) 15, Mrs. Williams (Lindsay) 9.

Mrs. Arnold (Peterborough) 17, Mrs. Beatty (Cannington) 8.

Mrs. Scott (Fenelon Falls) 32, Mrs. Brandon (Cannington) 9.

Mrs. Austin (Fenelon Falls) 20, Mrs. Cook (Cannington) 18.

Mrs. Brass (Lindsay), a bye.

Finished 1-2 In Lake Erie Swim

Martha Norelius of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. (LEFT), congratulates Mrs. Lenore Wingard of Homestead, Pa., after she added the world's professional open-water half-mile swimming championship to her world's half-mile pool record. The course was on Lake Erie off the shore of the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland. Her time was 12 minutes and 9 seconds. There was no previous open-water record. Miss Norelius, staging a comeback, finished second.

IS FIRST BREAK.

LONDON, Aug. 20—(AP).—Portugal's rupture of diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia stood today as Europe's first official "outside" break resulting from the Spanish War.

Authorities recalled that Portugal, Italy, and Germany severed diplomatic relations with the Madrid-Valencia Government of Spain last fall; but this remained the first case of rupture between two countries, neither of which is a party to the Spanish War.

Rain Spoils Keene Game In 6th Inning

(Examiner Correspondence)

KEENE, Aug. 20.—Maple Leafs and Keene played a 13-all tie, the game having to be called on account of rain in the latter part of the sixth. A good crowd saw some heavy hitting and neat fielding. Cavanagh for the Leafs allowed 13 hits, walked two, striking out one; his teammates gave him good support.

Don McCarthy started for Keene, allowed four hits, and was replaced by Wood in the second; he was touched for six hits, struck out three, and walked five; both received fair support.

Ivan Fletcher hit a home run; Fred Whalen a triple; Bill Wood a double; C. Corbett connected for two doubles; V. Lazure a home run. Cavanagh a double. C. Corbett and Giardino led the Leafs at bat with two hits. I. Fletcher and B. Wood led the locals with three hits apiece.

Answer Is Given To Origin Of Earth

Washington, Aug 20.

IF a wandering star had not passed close to the sun 2,000,000,000 years ago to snatch a chunk of it away there would be no earth on which to live, Dr. Leason H. Adams of the Carnegie Institution of Washington said today.

That answer to the much-debated question of the earth's origin is now the most generally accepted theory, he added.

The attraction of the star passing the sun lifted out a piece of material from the sun's flaming boiling surface and carried it 90,000,000 to 150,000,000 miles before dropping it in space to cool and become habitable, the Carnegie

Sets Golf Record

Miss Marion Miley, of Lexington, Ky., established a new world record for women when she won the western golf derby at Chicago with a 72-hole score of 309. The total was 11 strokes under the best previous score for the distance which was set by Mrs. S. L. Reinhardt, of Chicago.

A NEW KIND OF "JAIL BIRD."

WALKERTON.—Many "jail birds" have inhabited the Bruce county jail here in its long history, but only this week has Governor Belle been host to homing pigeons. A wandering bird who preferred jail to home settled down in the yard and has declined to leave.

Chicago Cubs Regain Ground With 7-3 Win Over Pittsburg

TORONTO, Aug. 20—(CP)—Charley Grimm sat down with pleasure today to eat a few of his own words.

The diet was about as appetizing as a barbed wire sandwich, but jolly Cholly had a lot of fun stowing it away, nevertheless, especially since it had to do with a bright spot for his Chicago Cubs and their three-game lead on the National League pack.

The words, spoken by the Cubs' pilot when the current season was just a youngster, revolved about big league baseball's champion hard luck guy, Curt Davis, and his right-hand pitching prowess. The Cubs, said Grimm at that time, didn't expect much, if any, help from Davis this year. And for weeks, it looked as though Cholly had it figured about right. The big lumberman from the northwest wasn't fully recovered from last year's stomach ailment before a sore arm put him on the shelf again in the early weeks this year.

But even without him, and in the presence of a record-breaking list of injuries, the Cubs were sporting a growing lead in the pennant chase.

Then came the slump. They lost five in a row, and their lead was cut to two games over the reviving Giants.

Davis Comes Through

Into that situation, Grimm threw Davis yesterday, largely because there wasn't much else to do, the hospital list being what it is. And Davis showed that he's ready to take his regular turn again by coming through with a 7-3 decision against the perennial Cub jinx, Pittsburgh's Pirates.

The victory really meant two games to the Cubs. Had they lost and the Giants won, their league lead would have been shaved to a single game. But the Giants dropped an 11-inning, 2-1 heartbreaker to the pitching mastery of Jim Turner and Boston Bees, and gave the Cubs another breathing spell.

Yanks Maintain Edge

The Yankees, meantime, got the breaks to maintain an 11½-game edge in the American League with a 12-inning, 4-3 decision over the Senators. The second-place Detroit Tigers, featuring a pair of homers each by Rudy York and Gerry Walker, walloped the White Sox 12-4 in a game cut to six innings by rain. The second game of a scheduled doubleheader was rained out.

Getting effective pitching from Jon Warneke and Mike Ryba, the Cardinals clouted the Reds 6-2 and 5-1 for a twin win. The Phillies and Dodgers split, Brooklyn winning the opener 3-0 and dropping the nightcap 7-5.

Eric McNair's pinch-homer gave the Red Sox a 5-4 edge over the Athletics. The Indians ran away from the Browns 9-1.

Number 68

That cramped feeling you have at times in your downswing comes from being bent forward too much. Your body bend is too much toward the ball. This tightens your midsection and makes it impossible for you to swing smoothly.

How do you get into such a position? When, in most cases this faulty bend comes from allowing your head to lower in the backswing. This you can do very easily unless you take steps to avoid it. You may be very intent on keeping your head down during your swing or trying to keep it steady and right over the ball and without realizing it you will let it lower as you swing the club back. Along with the lowering of your head will be the dropping of your left shoulder and leaving your weight on your left leg.

Having done any of these things in backswing it is impossible to compensate for them in your downswing. Try as you will, you cannot overcome the tension built up by this forward bend. The best way to eliminate it and avoid lowering your head in the backswing is by keeping your head up to the proper level. This can be done by trying to lift it slightly as you take the club back.

CHIEFS DISPLACE MONTREAL ROYALS FOR SECOND PLACE

TORONTO, Aug. 20. (CP)—The sensational play of Syracuse Chiefs and the hot battle for playoff berths is overshadowing the steady methodical race of Newark Bears, nearing their first International League championship since 1934.

The Chiefs have displaced Montreal Royals in the runner-up spot, position the Montrealers had held since May 28, and are riding the crest of a six-game win streak. Meanwhile the duel going on between Buffalo Bisons and Baltimore Orioles for the last place in the first division found the Orioles in the driver's seat.

The Chiefs, behind a pair of brilliant hurling performances by Earl Cook and Whitey Moore, subdued Buffalo Bisons last night by scores of 8-0 and 5-1. Cook and Moore allowed but seven hits between them while fanning 18 batters and holding the Bisons scoreless through 15 consecutive innings.

Leafs Rained Out

The Orioles were rained out of a double bill at Toronto and as a result of their idleness found themselves a half game in front of the Bisons. The Royals, also rained out of a doubleheader with Jersey City, found their night off wasn't as fortunate to them as it was to the Birds. They fell a half game astern of the Chiefs.

The Bears moved on to Rochester and belted out a 6-1 victory over the Red Wings and, despite the change in the runner-up position, maved a bit closer to the pennant.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 20.—(CP).—The iron men of the Border Cities to-day gave softball historians something to mull over. After the wrong team showed up for a game here last night, the resulting fixture went 18 innings before Bator Ice of Hamtramck, Mich., emerged with a 2-1 victory over Hiram Walkers of Windsor.

Bower Bearings of Detroit were scheduled to play a Senior Men's Detroit Triple A League game with Hiram Walkers at Kennedy Stadium. Bowers could not come. At the last minute it was arranged that Bator Ice, another club in the same league, should substitute. Play began at five past nine and finished 10 minutes before midnight.

Bolter pitched all the way for Windsor against Murray and Rostkowski. Muray went the first 16 innings and yielded only four hits, did not walk a man. Bolter walked three. Murray really blew them in, getting 33 men by the strike-out route.

Marylebone Gains Ninth Cricket Win

DUNCAN, B.C., Aug. 20.—(CP)—Visiting one of the oldest English communities in British Columbia, the Marylebone cricket team recorded the ninth victory of its Canadian tour yesterday defeating Cowichan by five wickets. The Canadians proved no match for the opposing bowlers, compiling only 61 runs but five visiting players were dismissed before victory was assured. Hitting freely, M.C.C. went on to make a total of 1935.

J. T. Neve and A. P. Singleton bowled with deadly effect for the M.C.C., opposing wickets falling rapidly. Neve sent five men bac kto the pavilion for 19 runs and the Oxford University skipper got four at similar cost.

Remember When—

Jack Dempsey, dethroned as world's heavyweight boxing champion by Gene Tunney in 1926 and again beaten in 1927, started a comeback six years ago to-night. His barnstorming ended August 15, 1932, when King Levinsky, Chicago fish peddler, gained a 10-round decision over him.

DELONG.—On Wednesday, August 18, to Mr. and Mrs. Orville Delong (nee Violet St. Clair), the gift of a son. Toronto Telegram please copy.

DIED

HUGGINS, William Robert. — On Friday, August 20, 1937, William Robert Huggins, of 450C Mark street, in his 79th year. Funeral on Saturday at 1.30 p.m., with services at Nesbitt Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. E. W. Rowland. Interment at Centreville Cemetery.

HARRINGTON, William W. — On Friday, August 20, 1937, William W. Harrington of 306 Rogers street in his 75th year. Funeral on Saturday with services conducted by the Rev. E. W. Rowland, at the Nesbitt Funeral Home at 3 p.m. Remains will leave on the afternoon C.P.R. train for interment at Madison, Wisconsin.

IN MEMORIAM

SANDERS. — In fond and loving memory of our dear little Donald, who went to be with Jesus one year ago to-day, August 20, 1936.
We think of him in silence,
His name we oft recall;
There is nothing left to answer
But his picture on the wall.
—Always remembered by Mamma, Daddy Harold and Arthur.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Fred Patterson and daughter and Mrs. N. Bell, Norwood, would like to thank their many friends who sent floral tributes, cards of sympathy, and to those who helped in so many ways during their recent sad bereavement.

19 NOTICES 19

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORT, CANADA
TRENT CANAL
REPAIRS TO CONCRETE IN CANAL WALLS, CAMPBELLFORD.
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and marked "Tender for Repairs to Concrete in Canal Walls, Campbellford," will be received at this Office until 12 o'clock Noon (Standard Time), August 31st, 1937.

Drawing, specification, labour conditions, and form of contract to be entered into can be seen on or after the date of this Notice at the Office of the General Superintendent of Canals, Department of Transport, Ottawa, and at the Office of the Superintending Engineer, Trent Canal, Peterborough, Ont.

Copies of drawings, specification, labour conditions and form of Tender may be obtained from the said General Superintendent or Superintending Engineer upon payment of the sum of $25.00. To bona-fide tenderers this amount will be refunded upon the return of the drawing and specification in good condition.

An accepted bank cheque on a chartered bank of Canada for the sum of $2,500.00, made payable to the order of the Receiver-General of Canada, must accompany each Tender. Bonds of the Dominion of Canada and/or Canadian National Railway Bonds, guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada, will be accepted in lieu of or in conjunction with such accepted cheque. In any case, the sum so deposited will be forfeited if the party tendering declines to enter into a contract for this work in form generally as exhibited ("Contract form, Construction") at the rate stated in its Tender.

Cheques and/or bonds accompanying Tenders will be returned to the respective parties whose Tenders are not accepted.

FRENCH ACCEPT PLAN.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—(CP-Havas). — The French Government today accepted the British plan for neutralizing the Shanghai area.

The plan calls for evacuation of Chinese and Japanese troops and the safeguarding of their respective interests by the United States, Great Britain and France.

The Foreign Ministry, upon receipt of the British suggestion, dispatched a note of approval to London.

Press reports from Nanking said Britain was understood to be seeking the co-operation of Italy and Germany.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Mary Barrett, ambitious to become a dress designer, is in Paris where she has just obtained a job with Countess Anetka, owner of a small dress shop. She had been recommended to Anetka by Mark Sutherland, American playboy and mutual friend who admired Mary from the first following their meeting on shipboard. Mary likes Mark but misses Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York shop who gave her her start several months previously. She left Castle's shop suddenly, disillusioned, after an altercation with Tony's head buyer, Francine Long, and sailed for Paris impulsively. More and more she realizes she is in love with Tony.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 13.

In late September Mark Sutherland was returning to America.

Mary drove out to the airdrome with him and bid him farewell with a mixture of relief and regret.

She'd known him for less than two months but those had been crowded months. For all that she had never felt that Mark had a genuine measure of her liking, she was deeply grateful to him. She had many reasons for being grateful; Mark had made it possible for her to find a niche in the world that she wanted; he had made her introduction to Paris a gay and unforgettable one. When he left, she knew she would miss him, would find time for the thoughts that she had been able to crowd out of her mind.

They'd done everything there was to do in Paris, at least the things that it was possible for two young, gay companions. They'd seen the revues, dined in famous and in out-of-way places. They'd danced at the Embassy, the Lido and the Ermitage Muscovite. They'd gone to the Moulin Rouge and Bal Tabarin. She'd seen Mark play polo at the beautiful field at the Saint Cloud Country club; and screeched herself hoarse at his side the night they went to Wonderland to see the boxing matches.

He'd bought books for her at the stalls that lined the Seine, presented her with quaint bouquets bought from the bright-eyed old ladies who added so much color to those ambling adventures.

Yes, she would miss him. But she was relieved that he was departing, for these were days and nights when it took all the energy she had to make order out of chaos in her new life.

Her days were humble ones, filled with the tasks attendant on her desire to prove of worth to Anetka; days that ended in fatigue so great that she had little spirit for doing the things she wished to do.

If, in what seemed like another life to her now, she had gone back to the studio apartment on the East river to spend her evenings dreaming happily of her future, it was a different kind of dreaming. Less practical and more heart-warming, the first had been. But the routine was the same.

Lying in the huge old-fashioned bed with sketches and notebook beside her at the end of the days during that first September, she didn't dream; she planned.

And during these days, let us look at her. Mary Barrett with the copper curls, less cared for, brushed away from her face and pinned neatly to keep them out of her eyes. Her eyes are often harassed. There is so much to do. Trying to accomplish three things at once. Anetka wants her tea made, a scone toasted. The tinklink bell announces that someone is on her way up the narrow stairs. Gabrielle cannot be trusted to see that the gas is turned off under the iron on the stove which waits for Mary to press the orchid organza with loving strokes.

Anxious to please. And more importantly, anxious to accomplish much. Eager hands skillfully plying a needle with the tiniest of stitches; snatching a precious sketch before it is lost under a bolt of fabric, wielding a dust brush carefully over the cluttering objects in the "showroom."

That was Mary Barrett at the end of September when Mark Sutherland flew to London and thence sailed to America—Mark, to whom she owed more than she knew.

But it was a changed Mary Barrett you would have seen in Anetka's shop by the end of November. It was a changed shop, and that was Mary's doing.

There was the same furniture, covered now neatly with tete de nigre and turquoise slip covers. No longer were there hassocks to trip over, dusty bolts of fabrics to be moved. The glass over the photographs shone cleanly in the light. The mirrored wall was polished. Deep yellow silk lampshades cast a golden, flattering glow over the room.

And at the now tidy and business-like desk in the corner, Mary Barrett, in a black silk apron, bends over an account book, wets the point of her pencil with her tongue, and grins satisfactorily.

For an instant she frowns, trying to remember which of the three seamstresses has been assigned to Mrs. Hartman's beige jersey. She makes a quick decision to tell M. du Lac that unless he gives her a professional discount, Anetka will no longer purchase her twill from him. And she really must scold Anetka; she shouldn't have tried to sell that shade of green to the jaundiced Mrs. Poole. Mary regretted running off at tea time the day before. When she wasn't there, Anetka was sure to make some stupid error, like charging so little for the blouse that would have brought at least 300 francs.

"Pieces! Mademoiselle!"

Mary looked up from her accounts, followed Gabriell into the workroom. Mrs Hartman's beige jersey was ready for her inspection. She turned it inside out, studied the finish on the seams, gave it back to Madelon with instructions to remove a pucker.

The bell tinkled, was followed by Anetka's welcoming voice. Busy with scrutiny of a piece of fur which had arrived a few minutes before, Mary paid no heed. In a moment she sighed, and put it on the table, slipped off her apron, patted her hair.

Anetka's voice called to her:

"Cherie! Marie! Come please. Madame Alleeng wishes to consult with you!"

She picked up her large sketch pad and soft pencil, parted the curtains and saw with a proprietory eye that at last she had trained the maid to dust properly.

"How do you do, Mrs. Alling. .... This is the daughter you promised to bring to us? .... But of course, she is quite right! She should wear pink with her lovely Titian hair! Now, I think something Grecian ....." She picked up her sketch pad, sketched lightly, quickly. "Something not sophisticated for such a young girl, but something ageless."

"You like it?"

"First fitting Wednesday," Mary said and made it sound like the conferring of a favor. "The price will be 1,500 francs.... No. I'm afraid we can't finish it in less than a fortnight."

She hid her smile as she bent over her appointment book, knowing the expression that Anetka couldn't hide. She must teach her not to look so startled when she mentioned prices beyond Anetka's wildest dreams, or when she said they couldn't finish it in less than a fortnight when Anetka knew they could do it in three days. She must teach Anetka a little psychology. In one month it was no longer untrue that they couldn't fill orders in less than two weeks.

Two days before Christmas, Anetka said, "Marie, I have a most wonderful surprise for you! I am going to make you my partner!"

Field Day Planned On Hastings Holiday

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 20.—A field day is being planned for the village to be held on Labor Day, August 6. A ladies' softball tournament, it is expected, will be the main feature of the day. Teams from Keene, Lindsay, Cambray, Cobourg, Peterborough, Uxbridge and Omemee will be invited to participate. Frank Gilbert of St. Catharines and a summer resident, is here endeavoring to get organized, and has offered some valuable prizes to the winners. The winners of the ladies' contest are to play a final game with a freak fat women's team from the village.

Other events under consideration are: Foot races, water sports, ball-throwing contest, tug o' war, and in the evening a dance in Lynch's hall.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S RETURN

"Stop! Stop! Please stop! Don't take away my blue trousers as well as my red coat!"

Uncle Wiggily, racing through the woods in his swimming suit of underwear, was chasing something blue. He was sure it was his blue trousers that some one had taken away from the shore end of the spring board off which he had been diving into the lake near his camping tent.

On and on raced Mr. Longears. He jumped over a bush still keeping his eyes fixed on the moving blue object ahead of him.

"Hi, there, be careful, if you please!" called a voice in the bush. Uncle Wiggily looked down as he sailed over it and saw a mother bird sitting on some eggs in a nest built in the bush.

"Oh, excuse me!" said Mr. Longears. "I am chasing my blue trousers, some one just ahead of me is running away with them."

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" suddenly laughed the bird on the nest.

"Why are you laughing?" asked the rabbit as he paused a moment before racing on.

"Wait until you see what happens when you catch up to that blue you are chasing" chuckled the mother bird on the nest. "Ha! Ha!"

"Don't tell me a Bad Chap has my blue trousers," cried Uncle Wiggily.

"Wait and see," advised the mother bird. "You won't have long to wait. Here he comes back!"

Something blue flashed in the sun at the end of the woodland lane down which the rabbit had been chasing.

"Oh, hurray! Whoever took my blue trousers is bringing them back!" cheered Uncle Wiggily. "I may not get my red coat, but if I can put on my blue trousers I can return to my camping tent and not feel ashamed of my underwear. Hurray!"

Nearer came the blue object. And then to his great disappointment, Uncle Wiggily saw it was a Blue Jay bird and not his trousers at all.

"Oh, dear!" sighed ... on response to keep gentleman.

"I am sorry if I took ... ation can suc- the Blue Jay.

"You did, but ... introduced Mayor didn't mean to," ... meeting got un- "No, I didn't," ... greeted by hearty harsh but not in these difficulties you have lost your ... trousers."

"And my red coat, too," said Mr. Longears. "Only I didn't exactly lose them. They were taken from the spring board."

"That's too bad," said the Blue Jay. "Shall I fly to your tent and tell your wife to come here with your spare trousers?"

"Please do," begged Uncle Wiggily.

"The red robin flew to do the same but it will do no harm to have two. Oh, woe is me!" and he sat down.

Away flew the Blue Jay. Soon, off through the woods Uncle Wiggily heard shouts coming nearer and calling his name.

"That's my wife, thank goodness!" said Mr. Longears. "I hope she has my coat and trousers." A moment later Mrs. Longears and Nurse Jane and all the rabbit children rushed toward Uncle Wiggily. His wife had his trousers and Nurse Jane his coat.

"Oh, I am so ashamed!" cried Uncle Wiggily, trying to hide behind a bush. But his wife said:

"We don't mind. We thought you were drowned. Buster and Custer saw your clothes at the end of the spring board but they couldn't see you. So they brought your coat and trousers home and we have been looking for you ever since. Oh, I'm so glad we found you safe!"

"So am I!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. He dressed and returned to the camp tent.

And if the looking glass will stop making funny faces at the milk bottle to sour it I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the ant.

SNAKES HAVE FLED.

Workers quarrying stone for Fort Peck Dam hearby said the reptiles fled from the sound of dynamite blasting. At this time of the year, they said, the snakes shed their skins and are blind and sensitive to all noises.

The explosions got on their nerves.

CONTEST OPPOSED AT LINDSAY FAIR

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Aug. 20.—Wednesday's police court was presided over by Magistrate F. S. Ebbs, of Oshawa, and two cases were up for disposal. Abbie Crimmons, of town, was sentenced to ten days in jail for driving a car while intoxicated. He was also assessed with the costs of the court, or in default an additional ten days. Crimmons' counsel, R. I. Moore, objected to the additional sentence, stating that the procedure had no precedent in the local court. The Magistrate remarked that it was hardly fair to have the county pay the court costs. County Crown Attorney Anderson suggested that the costs be not assessed in this case as the accused might feel that he had been victimized. John Kineer, of town, charged with consuming liquor illegally, was fined $10 and costs.

Railroader Passes.

A former well-known railroad man, in the person of Arthur Storer, passed away here Wednesday morning after an illness of two months. The deceased was born in England sixty-seven years ago, and was an employee of the Grand Trunk and Canadian National Railways in Toronto, Allandale and Lindsay for over thirty years. He was a member of the I.O.O.F. and the Masonic Order, and is survived by his wife, one daughter and two brothers.

Blanch Stata, of Kinmount, had a narrow escape from serious injury on Tuesday. The child attempted to cross the street when she was struck by a car driven by Claude Poulson. She was knocked down and was cut and bruised about the arms and legs.

The Oakville Basket Company has commenced the construction of a $10,000 sawmill at Dark Lake, Haliburton County. The mill is to be of the double cut band saw type, with steam feed. The company has also purchased a stretch of timber land from the Canada Land Co.

There will be no beauty contest at the Lindsay Central Exhibition. At a meeting of the directorate some days ago the idea was suggested by Ald. Dick Butler, and it was left over for further consideration. At another meeting of that body during the past few days, the proposition again came up. John O'Reilly, one of the directors, jumped on it with both feet. He said he did not believe putting our women on display like horses and cattle. The police of Toronto had staged a beauty contest and then went to the city beaches and arrested nude or semi-nude bathers.

Great Sections of Shanghai Are In Smoking Ruins

Loss of Life Is Heavy As Planes Continue To Bomb The City

Whole Blocks of Buildings Are Burning—No Firemen Are Available.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 21 (A.P.). — Three Chinese warplanes droned over the smoking ruins of this war-ridden metropolis to-day, pierced a barrage from Japanese warships and tried to wreck the Japanese Consulate with their bombs. Thus opened another day of warfare.

Four missiles blasted into the area behind the Consulate in the French Concession while Japanese anti-aircraft gunners attemped futilely to pick off the attackers.

Shanghai soon rumbled anew to the thunder of artillery and 525 refugees of various nationalities fled to the safety of the open sea, boarding the French liner Aramis under a shower of shrapnel. The refugees included 200 French and 175 Portuguese.

Shanghai entered the ninth day of the struggle between powerful Chinese and Japanese armies in a setting of devasation. Great sections of the city were in smoking ruins after a day and night of terror.

An estimated fourth of greater Shanghai's densely populated area was an unchecked holocaust during the night, the result of air bombardment, naval shelling and artillery demolition. The damage eached into tens of millions of dollars. The loss in life was enormous.

WOMAN MURDERED FINDING OF JURY

ELK LAKE, Aug. 21.—A jury under Dr. J. S. McCullough, Chief Coroner of Timiskaming District, returned a verdict on Friday in which it found that Mrs. Frank Dolan came to her death on March 21 last from strangulation and fractures of the skull caused by some round instrument "in the hands of some person or persons unknown."

It was the second sitting of the jury investigating the death of Mrs. Dolan, whose badly decomposed body was found buried beneath five feet of earth in the cellar of her home Wednesday. She was last seen alive on March 21.

Dr. E. R. Frankish, Provincial medico-legal expert, reported at yesterday's session of the inquest that the body of Mrs. Dolan was horribly battered. He said that his autopsy had shown that her skull was caved in on both sides just above and in front of the ears. Tremendous force must have been necessary, he said to inflict such injuries. A bone in the neck was also fractured indicating that the woman had been strangled.

Norran Malone, aged 12, daughter of Mrs. Dolan by a previous marriage, told the jury that her mother and stepfather had quarrelled on the day of her disappearance. At yesterday's session, the child's older brother had also testified that Mr. and Mrs. Dolan quarrelled frequently.

Dolan is at present being held on a nominal charge of vagrancy.

Mrs. Dolan will be buried in Elk Lake to-morrow.

Girl, 21, Is Found With Neck Broken

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP).—Police sought thoday to unravel the mystery which surrounded a 21-year old girl in hospital with a broken back, her condition fair. Detectives have been unable to discover the cause of her injuries.

The girl staggered to an apartment on West Avenue, South, during the night and aroused the occupants by pounding on the door. She said she believed she had been sleep-walking and had fallen from a window.

Doctors were called and she was removed to hospital while police checked her story. They discovered she was not known at the address she had mentioned and physicians expressed belief the girl was suffering poisoning.

18-Year-Old Nurse Victim Of Killer

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—(AP). — Miss Anna Kuchta, 18, a student nurse at the Chicago hospital, was attacked and slain, Police Captain John B. Prendergast said, by a man who crushed her skull with a brick early to-day. Detectives said the slaying was similar to those of other women in Chicago in the last two years.

The killer, police said, fled through a fire escape window when Miss Florence Palmowski, 19, another nurse, opened the door of the room.

Miss Palmowski found the body on the floor near a cot. A coroner's investigator said she had been criminally attacked.

W. E. N. SINCLAIR IS NOT RUNNING LIBERALS TOLD

WHITBY, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP).—W. E. N. Sinclair, former leader of the Liberal Party in Ontario, told a meeting of the Southern Ontario Liberal Association Executive last night he would not be a candidate in the forthcoming Provincial election.

Member of the Legislature for Ontario South, Mr. Sinclair was first elected in 1911. He was defeated in 1914 and was a candidate in the 1917 Dominion elections. Re-elected to the Provincial House in 1919, he has represented the riding ever since and headed the party from 1923 to 1930, when he was replaced by the present Premier, Mitchell Hepburn.

Mr. Sinclair has played only a minor part in the Legislature since he lost the leadership. Several times Mayor of Oshawa, where he lives, he was made a King's Counsel in 1922.

Under Mr. Sinclair's leadership, the Liberal Party included retention of the Ontario Temperance Act in its platform in the 1926 election, and the Conservatives under Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, supporting government control of liquor, swept the Province. Both parties came out for government control in 1929, and again the Ferguson forces were returned.

A convention of Ontario Liberals was called in 1930 and Mr. Hepburn was the overwhelming choice as leader. At that time he was a member of the Federal House and did not seek a seat in the Legislature, Mr. Sinclair continuing as floor chieftain until Mr. Hepburn led the Liberals to a smashing triumph in 1934.

LOSSES HEAVIEST BASE METAL LIST IN TORONTO TRADE

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—(CP)— A market retreat in the holidaying season may not mean much from the long-term angle and therefore the price declines in the Toronto Stock Market this week, running through five sessions, may signify only that the shady shores of the north are more attractive in scorching weather than the broker's board rooms.

Last week's steady expansion of volume, culminating in a turnover of 911,000 shares on the 16th, the heaviest in two months, was reversed as this week advanced and by Friday the trade had drifted down to 384,000 shares, the smallest for a full session since July 28. Very little is now heard about the early-summer fear of a gold collapse and the market pundits have fallen back on war scares to explain the current weakness.

Base Metals Decline

Losses in the week were heaviest in the base metals but they were recorded in comparatively light trading. The exchange index for the miscellaneous mines, including the base meals, declined 7.70 to168.01 where it now holds only three points of the August gain of 14 points.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting suffered the heaviest setback, dropping $3.75 to $84.50. The decline, possibly, was augmented by the break in Consolidated Chibougamau Goldfields in which Smelters has an investment of more than $1,000,000 if the company has retained all the Chibougamau shares purchased under an option agreement.

Gunman Waiting For Deportation

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 21—(CP). —Paroled from Jackson Prison in Michigan, to custody of Canadian Immigration authorities, Mito Rangeloff, convicted gunman and jail breaker, is being held in jail here pending deportation to Bulgaria.

With a wife and family in his native land whom he has not seen for 23 years, Rangeloff is anxious to return, according to statements made when he petitioned for parole from Jackson.

Rangeloff came to Canada in 1914, entered the United States and worked in Detroit. In 1922 he was convicted of a Detroit armed robbery and sentenced to from 10 to 20 years in Jackson. Three years later he engineered a jail break and escaped.

He remained at large until 1932 when he was picked up by Niagara Falls, Ont., police and turned over to United States authorities. Before being recaptured he worked in St. Catharines, Galt, St. Thomas and Niagara Falls, Ont. In Niagara Falls he served a month in jail for breach of the Liquor Control Act.

He had at least seven years of his original term to serve when parole was granted at Jackson.

Wilkins Arrives At Northern Fort

EDMONTON, Aug. 21 (C.P.). — Sir Hubert Wilkins and five companions were expected to take off to-day from Fort Smith, N.W.T., 535 miles north of Edmonton, on a flight to the Arctic coast to join the search for Soviet Russia's missing transpolar fliers.

Sir Hubert's giant flying boat, purchased for the expedition by the Soviet Government, arrived at Fort Smith last night after a nine-hour 1,200-mile flight from Port Arthur, Ont. The previous day the party flew from New York to Port Arthur via Toronto.

Delayed Opening Of Schools Is Being Urged In Toronto

Proper Step in Preventing the Spread of Infantile Paralysis.

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (C.P.). — Delayed opening of Ontario schools scheduled for September 1, was suggested to-day for municipalities like Toronto that have been stricken with many cases of infantile paralysis. Toronto's Board of Education will consider a motion next week that its schools remain closed until the current epidemic abates.

Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Ontario Minister of Health, said last night he would recommend to local authorities that they keep their schools closed if such action is deemed necessary. He believed this would be a "proper step to prevent spread of the disease."

Not wishing to make people unduly alarmed, health officials on all sides have stressed that, while serious enough, the situation is still under control. In Toronto seven persons have died of the disease, while Western Ontario recorded its first death at London yesterday. Clear of the disease two weeks ago, that section of the province now has 21 known cases.

Toronto has 104 diagnosed cases with 53 more in the immediate suburbs, 34 of them in populous York Township. The Township Council

Man's Body Found In St. Lawrence

GANANOQUE, Aug. 21—(CP). — Badly decomposed body of an unidentified man was found floating today in the St. Lawrence River off Huckleberry Island about two miles from Gananoque by Lorne Haunts of Kingston. Dr. Kenneth Gray, coroner, said he thought the body had been in the water for more than six months. It was thought it may be Charles Suler of Grindstone Island, who broke through the ice in the St. Lawrence River last winter when returning to his home after being in Gananoque

Police Stop Textile Mob With Their Revolvers

Mob Smashes Windows in Montreal Plant—Fire Hose Used.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—(CP)—March of some 300 brick-tossers on the St. Henri plant of the Dominion Textile Company, only halted after a handful of constables doing sentinel duty pulled revolvers from their belts, is under investigation, police said today.

Every effort will be made, they asserted, to track down the leaders of the mob which broke up when bricks and stones flung at the front of a four-storey annex to the big plant had smashed most of the windows.

The attack came shortly before midnight. Watchmen in the mill, one of a chain of nine operated in a half-dozen Quebec province towns and cities by the company, called a warning to the constables on duty when from a second-storey window they saw the crowd marching down narrow St. Ambroise street leading to the gates.

St. Henri which normally employs about 1,000 of the textile firm's 10,000 Quebec workers, all on strike since August 2 for better wages and union recognition, was re-opened peacefully Thursday. The window smashing siege was unexpected.

The rain of missles on the front of the annex, a short distance from the main plant, started when the mob was just a few yards from the gates. The eight constables lined up in front of the crowd calling on them to halt.

The march only stopped when the police reached for their revolvers. But small and large plate glass windows and frame windows had been crashed.

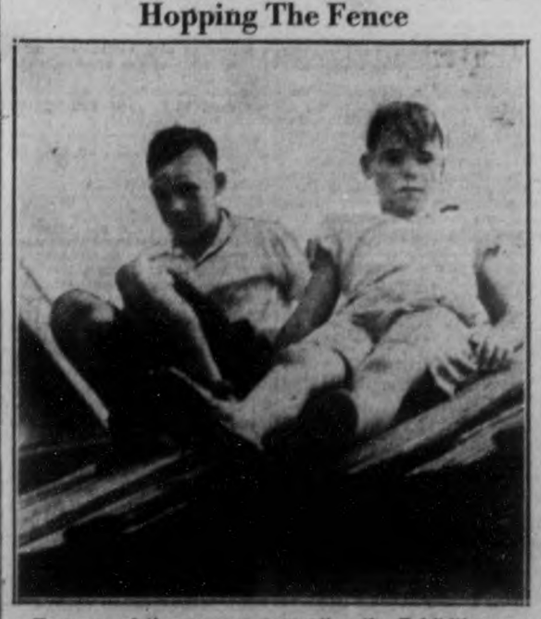
NOTED ENGRAVER DIES.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 21 (CP).—John Sanderson Dalziel, noted wood engraver, who illustrated a book by Charles Dickens, is dead.

Dalziel died Thursday after a brief illness at his home here. He was 98 and had devoted his life to art and culture.

Born in Edinburgh, he moved to London with his father, Sir Robert Dalziel, one of the owners of the publishing house which published many of Dickens' writings.

Hopping The Fence



To many of the younger generation the Exhibition presents a problem in getting into the Park. These lads were just about to drop off the roof of a cattle shed on the south side Thursday afternoon. On the right is Carnduff Hegadoren, Western Avenue, and the boy on the left is Bill Fletcher of Brantford who has been spending his school holidays at 46 Ware street.

HUGE FAIR CROWD GOOD HUMORED AS RAIN HALTS SHOW

"Caught in the Rain" was the big unrehearsed scene at the Exhibition Friday night with the entire park the stage and at least 5,000 people from the city and country the players.

Half-way through the program in front of the grandstand, perverse weather that had threatened intermittently throughout the day opened the sluices of the sky in a malevolent performance that was completely offset by the good humor of the big crowd.

After a preliminary drizzle against a background of rumbling thunder and occasional reflections of lightning, the rain gathered volume routing the unprotected Rangers' Band and the surplus spectators for whom seats had been provided in the unsheltered spaces around the stage. Whoever was directing affairs evidently decided to take a chance on the rain letting up for the continuance of the program, and the drawing for the third of the four cars that are being given away, and that manoeuvre of delay turned out to be the wrong tactic for the weather's tantrums. Instead of moving off and letting the show go on, heavier clouds arrived with increasing volume of rain, and although the people waited patiently they finally demanded action, manifestly unanimous for the disposal of the third car.

Mayor Macdonald in oil skins started the nightly concluding routine of opening the De Laval churn containing duplicate numbers of the coupons that had been distributed,

Four Men Are Rescued After 12 Days In Open Boat

Starved and Exhausted Men Brought to Land By Two Young Boys.

FISHGUARD, Pembrokeshire, Aug. 21 (CP-Cable).—Starved and exhausted, four London men were rescued last night far out in St. George's Channel after having been adrift for 12 days in an open yacht.

Although verging on collapse, one member of the crew succeeded in attracting the attention of two young boys in a rowboat by beating an alarm on a saucepan.

The yachtsmen were Sydney Hiller, owner and skipper of the 11-ton yacht Hazard; Sydney Harris, member of the British Broadcasting Corporation staff; B. Evan and John Sutton.

They left Liverpool August 8 with the intention of calling at Work, Irish Free State, and then proceeding to the Scilly Isles, off the southwest corner of England.

They encountered a succession of gales and fog. The yacht's sails were torn, the rudder disabled, and the ship was swept backward and forward across the Channel several times.

Ships passed close but did not hear the stricken yacht's signals. The men had consumed their last drop of water and had eaten all of emergency rations when rescued.

Black Bass Answer Call To Dinner

Saranac Lake, N.Y., Aug. 21.

"SO help me—It's true," declares Harold Thomas, who says he has "educated" a black bass to respond to a dinner bell, and—of all things—allows itself to be weighed once a week.

The bass—Thomas calls it "Charlie"—made its appearance in Thomas's boat slip last spring. It weighs a pound and three ounces and measures 13 inches.

Mystery Submarine Frightens The Turks

Istanbul, Aug. 21.

PRESIDENT KEMAL ATATURK, members of his Cabinet, and the Army Chief of Staff, Marshall Fevzi, suddenly returned to this Capital from military manoeuvres last night. An emergency meeting of the Cabinet would be held, it was reported, to consider attacks on shipping at the mouth of the Dardanelles by a mysterious submarine.

LEWIS THREATENS POLITICAL ACTION IN UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP) —A virtual demand by Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) for defeat of Democrats who opposed the United States Supreme Court Reform Bill widened to-day the already open rifts in the party.

His broadcast address, without precedent so far as political observers recalled named Senators O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Burkes of Nebraska and Wheeler of Montana.

He predicted the defeat of O'Mahoney and Burke and said Wheeler would have "plenty to do" in the way of explaining before 1940.

Burke, a leader of the Bills opponents, commented: "When Senator Guffey announces that he is going to see to it that Wheeler, O'Mahoney and Burkes are retired, I assume he speaks in the double capacity of chairman of the Democratic committee and White House spokesman.

"If that is true, we might just as well forget harmony dinners and get ready for a real battle."

Guffey's speech was in contrast with recent statements by Democratic chairman, James A. Farley, that there would be no reprisals for opposition to the court plan.

New Alignment

Coupled with a statement from John L. Lewis questioning the ability of Democratic leaders to carry out their program it aroused renewed speculation on a possible new political alignment by 1940.

Lewis, leader of the Committee for Industrial Organization and of the United Mine Workers who contributed $500,000 to the 1936 Roosevelt campaign, spoke as a member of labor's Non-partisan League.

He asserted the Democratic program had been sabotaged by "a small group of its more Conservative members." The leaders, he added, faced a challenge of restoring party discipline to meet problems confronting the United States or moving out to permit another vehicle to carry out the people's wishes.

He was aroused by the rules committee's refusal to allow the wage-hour bill to reach the House of Representatives floor. The committee's action also drew a denunciation from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, rival of the C.I.O.

The labor leaders' statements drew added attention to a forecast from Senator Lundeen (Fl.-Minn.) that "a national labor party is inevitable in 1940."

CATCH 28 TROUT.

INTATA LAKE, B.C., Aug. 21.—Hon. Alastair Buchan has broken this camp's record for heavy trout, catching one weighing two and one-half pounds to top a one-and-three-quarter-pounder caught by Lord Tweedsmuir, his father. The Vice-regal party fished yesterday at Nechako (Big River) and caught 28 trout.

Weighing promises that causes of their major complaints would be adjusted, Auburn strikers on a second walkout resolved last night to return to work Monday morning. The decision will not be confirmed, however, until a further meeting with company officials is held today and definite understandings concerning the procedure of re-establishing the workers is obtained, it was announced.

The promises were made by Henry Barrett, managing director of the Dominion Woollens, in a personal appearance before the strikers assembled in a United Textile Workers union meeting in the East City Community Hall yesterday afternoon. For two hours the Toronto industrial executive was the target of questions from all sections of a gathering of 150 men and women. Walter Elliott, U.T.W. local president, was in the chair and Mayor George Macdonald occupied a chair on the platform, assisting proceedings frequently.

Assurance by the executive that the complaint primarily responsible for the Friday morning walkout would be answered by placing all those who were working on the day shift before the strike back on day and those who had been working on the night shift back on night commencing Monday, was the feature product of the meeting.

Mayor Macdonald

Mayor Macdonald promised the union gathering that no police will be on hand to watch the workers enter the plant Monday.

Barrett warned that the company would not tolerate a dictatorial attitude on the part of its workers and threatened it is ready to close the Auburn mill if necessary.

He told his hearers their union had demonstrated itself irresponsible through an inability to keep order and discipline and declared that no such organization can succeed.

Chairman Elliott introduced Mayor Macdonald as the meeting got under way. He was greeted by hearty applause.

"I feel sure all these difficulties can be ironed out to your satisfaction and also to the company's

BODY OF CHILD IS FOUND IN CISTERN

INGLEWOOD, Aug. 21.—Four-year-old Joan Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Miller, was drowned here on Friday when she fell into a cistern on the grounds of her home.

Her parents were not concerned about her when they discovered that she was missing from the yard earlier in the afternoon, thinking that she was playing somewhere with other children. When she had been absent for some time, they made a search.

Although the cistern was covered, Mrs. Norman Shaw, a neighbor, recalled that the lid had been off early in the day, and when she looked down into it she discovered the body of the child. Some one had evidently replaced the lid after the child was drowned, unaware that her body was lying in the bottom of the cistern.

Dr. J. T. Thomas, Coroner, investigated the tragedy and said that he had not decided whether an inquest would be held or not. Inglewood is 18 miles north of Brampton.

Boy Suffers Loss Of His Left Foot

NEW LISKEARD, Ont., Aug. 21.—(CP).—Twelve-year-old Sidney Simmers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Simmers of Timmins, was reported in hospital here to-day as 'doing nicely' after amputation of his left foot, caught in the knife of a mower on the farm of his grandfather, James A. McNabb, in Kerns township, yesterday.

Mr. McNabb was watching so closely for obstructions in the way of the mower he did not see the boy until he suddenly sprang from behind the knife and landed in the grass in front of it. The foot was left hanging by a few shreds of flesh. Sidney was brought to New Liskeard, 10 miles from the scene of the accident, and the foot amputated within half an hour.

All labor disputes in Czechoslovakia this year have been settled peacefully.

and the rain drops were pounding on the metal roof of the grandstand when President Tom Brown drew the first number, 373053. It drew a blank from the crowd, but the second number, 528123, brought Harry G. Parnell, of 21 Park street, from the stand across the muddy race track to receive a new Dodge sedan. Mr. Parnell said he got his ticket at Bert McLeod's drug store, corner of Park and Albert streets.

In the earlier stage of the approaching menace from the sky, the elements seemed so much in a hurry to spoil the evening that at one time the moon was shining while lightning flashed, thunder boomed, and rain was mocking all the hard work and hopes of the group of farmers and citizens who as directors of the Exhibition shoulder all the worries of encouraging agriculture, pleasing people seeking amusement, and at the same time trying to make both ends meet with their banker.

The same kind of people who could sing "Pack up your troubles" on the way to the front of war found comic appeal in their plight. There wasn't a vacant seat in the grandstand when the evening show started a bit hesitantly and with a dubious eye on the misty moon when six of the men who had competed in the morning's buckaw battle demonstrated how maple logs can be quartered with almost incredible speed.

Gordon Manley, the new world's champion of the buckaw, duplicated his winning performance by cutting his four-foot log faster than Walter Orde and Tom Walling, the 1936 champion; and another trio, Ray Fry, Alphonse McManus and Rupert Brady finished in that order preceding the appearance of the three aces. Most of the vaudeville acts were presented, but the crowd was deprived of the thrilling aerial acrobatics of the Five Albanis who were last on the regular bill.

After 10.30 o'clock the rain gradually let up, and half an hour later the clouds were broken, and the sky was partly cleared. The people emerged from their shelters, many of them dampened, and some bedizened. Permanent waves and other smartness of coiffure looked ratty in spots, or something like that; many an immaculate white shoe was spotted with mud, and a casual survey suggested a rush of work for clothes pressers to bolster week-end business.

Meanwhile the peanut and refreshment vendors in the grandstand and the bingo games on the midway had found surplus profit from the rain, and the directors of the Exhibition found some solace past eleven o'clock in the fact that it was finally the end of a day of keen disappointment. Hopes had drooped, but still there was Saturday with the prospect of recouping on the last day of the Exhibition some of the losses from wet weather on both Thursday and Friday.

TORIES NOMINATE JAMES HEPBURN

PICTON, Aug. 21—Hepburn will be pitted against Hepburn in the next Provincial election as a result of the choice of candidates made here Friday by the Prince Edward-Lennox Conservative Association at its nomination convention.

However, it will not be a fight of kin against kin, because James Hepburn, local business man, is no relation to Ontario's Prime Minister, Mr. Hepburn was chosen candidate after he had defeated John A. Maher, also of Picton, on the second ballot.

Hon. Earl Lawson Speaks

"If a Public Accounts Committee were appointed to investigate Government costs, it would reveal that the total savings resulting from the sale of motor cars by the Hepburn Government would more than be equalled in one year by the cost of airplanes so freely used by Hepburn's Cabinet Ministers," Hon. Earl Lawson charged, when he addressed the large gathering. "There is no chance for such an investigation now," declared Mr. Lawson, alleging that a democratic form of Government was not possible under Hepburn, whom he charged with dictatorial methods.

Dictatorship Alleged

Instances of dictatorship were alleged in forcing through the separate school legislation in spite of a round-robin signed by thirty-eight Liberal members opposed to it; the firing of many civil servants, whose only crime was they were appointed by a Conservative Government; the refusal to allow power companies to seek redress in the courts; and the holding of four Cabinet posts by the Premier.

"Earl Rowe and the Conservative Party stand for law and order in Canada. Lewis lawlessness will not be tolerated by them if returned to power," declared Mr. Lawson. The C.I.O., he averred, had been blamed in the press for a number of labor disturbances in Canada for which they were not responsible.

"If Hepburn really wanted to keep the C.I.O. out of Ontario why doesn't he go to Ottawa and have their immigration permits cancelled?" asked Mr. Lawson. "He knew if he went there he would be told by Premier King that he was all wet."

The Examiner BULLETIN BOARD

The outbreak of infantile paralysis may result in the opening of Toronto's schools being postponed for at least two weeks.

Wilfrid Thivierge of Clarence Creek, Ont., aged 71, died in hospital at Ottawa yesterday from injuries received on August 9, when he was hurt in an automobile accident.

At Montreal, David Cote, brother of the head of the National Syndicate of Textile Workers, was arrested near one of the Dominion Textiles strike-bound plants for refusing to move his motor car.

When a tree that was being felled by municipal workers at Morrisburg dropped on their car, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duval of that town were injured.

Has Narrow Escape

Mrs. Fred Flewelling was leading a cow out of a stable on her husband's farm near Fergus, when a bolt of lightning killed the animal. She herself escaped uninjured, but the building was destroyed by fire.

James Hepburn, Picton business man has been nominated as Conservative candidate in Prince Edward-Lennox for the coming provincial election. He was chosen on the second ballot.

Four-year-old Joan Miller of Inglewood was drowned yesterday when she fell into a cistern on the grounds of her home. She was not missed for some time.

Heavy showers have halted threshing operations in most areas of Manitoba and roads are so waterlogged farmers are unable to haul grain to the elevators.

No Election Movies

Premier Hepburn refused to allow motion pictures to be taken of his political meeting at Enterprise, and stated that no election campaign pictures are to be shown.

A request that the Federal Government see that Alberta municipalities get a square deal in connection with relief costs has been voiced by Mayor Davison of Calgary.

A coroner's jury at Elk Lake has found Mrs. Frank Dolan, who died last March, had been strangled and had had her skull fractured.

After wandering in the woods four days, 21-month-old Alice Baker has been found three miles from her parents' summer home at Arlington, Vt., apparently little the worse for her experience.

Former M.P. Ill

Dr. Raymond Morand, former M.P. of Windsor was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital at Sudbury yesterday suffering from ptomaine poisoning.

One new case of infantile paralysis was admitted to the General Hospital at Sudbury yesterday. It was a girl of eight whose face was partly paralyzed.

Toronto Board of Control, at a private meeting with the Humane Society, passed a vote of $10,000 for dog-catching activities. $2,500 will be used for the purchase of a second dog-catching wagon.

A decomposed body was found floating in the St. Lawrence River two miles from Gananoque. It is thought it had been in the water for more than six months.

Cigarettes Are Costly

Found in possession of six cartons of American cigarettes Henry Hunfalvy, laundryman on the S.S. Georgian was fined $50 and costs at Goderich.

The new prophylactic preventive for infantile paralysis recently discovered by medical science is available for the people of Port Colborne, the Medical Officer of Health announces.

A strike has been called at New York against six coastwise steamship lines. The order to walk out came from the National Maritime Union, a C.I.O. affiliate.

Arrested for Smuggling.

Arrested at Windsor by Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Alfred Kilmartin, 41, of Black Lake, in the Sudbury district will be escorted to Goderich on a charge of smuggling.

Western Ontario police were searching for a hit-and-run driver yesterday who raced away after sending a London car into the ditch and injured three persons.

POLICE STOP

Reinforcements Arrive.

No one was injured. The mob's flight started when the screams of sirens on police cars racing to the scene reached the plant grounds.

Through the broken windows the watchmen had poked fire hose and were all ready to turn water on the mob when it dwindled and then disappeared through numerous, small avenues off the stone-cobbled street.

To-day police lines girdled the plant, ready to protect the loyal workmen who answered the company's back-to-work call two days ago.

Workers also will be admitted to three other Montreal units of the Dominion Textile Company, two said by company officials to be producing and the third, opened yesterday, ready to start curtailed operation.

The company in published notices repeated its offers of protection and escort from home-to-mill to workers willing to go back to duty.

Inception And Reception Of Bombing Raid On London

Gloucester Gladiator aeroplanes of the 54th fighter squadron are shown in the upper photograph, taking off from Hornchurch, Eng., in preparation for the three nights of mimic warfare over London. The lower photograph shows British soldiers co-ordinating the three phases of aerial defence which was the reception committee for the attackers. The sound locator (CENTRE) picks up the hum of the "enemy" motors before they can be seen. As soon as they appear on the horizon, they are spotted by the ground observer (RIGHT) who scans the sky with powerful glasses from a special swivel chair. After that the anti-aircraft guns (LEFT) are brought into play. The purpose of the mimic war games were to subject London to a merciless "theoretical" air attack and thereby test the efficiency of its anti-aircraft units.

LOSS OF LIFE

The gun duels of the locked forces along the winding Whangpoo River turned Hongkew, the Japanese section; Yangtzepoo, eastern section of the International Settlement; Chapei, the Chinese area, and Pootung, the industrial district across the Whangpoo to the east into vistas of charred and tumbled buildings.

Blocks Are Burning

While the bombardment continued intermittently today, blocks of Japanese, Chinese, British and American-owned buildings, as well as properties of other nationals, continued to burn in Hongkew and Pootung.

Neither firemen, water nor apparatus were available to fight the conflagration.

The native and foreign populace was stunned by the havoc. Explosions shook the city like small earthquakes.

It was reported here a number of Chinese civil pilots were joining the Chinese airforce, and that foreign aviators had been asked to enlist.

Women Ordered Home

The Italian government, it became known, has ordered wives and children of Italian aviation instructors and advisors employed by the Chinese government to return home.

The Empress of Canada also was used to rescue foreign victims in the great earthquake at Yokohoma in 1923. Four hundred fifty Britishers departed for Hong Kong aboard the British ship Shengking.

MORGANSTON MAN PAYS $25.00 FINE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 21. — Pleading guilty to a charge of keeping a stallion which was not enrolled under the Stallion Enrolment Act, Lorne McComb, of Morganston, was fined $25.00 and costs by Magistrate A. O. Langley in Police Court here Friday.

Provincial Constable Campbell told the court that the stallion had been previously taken from the lists and that McComb had continued to use it.

McComb, when he heard the charge read, entered a plea of not guilty but after reading the Act requested the court to allow him to a plea of guilty and was assessed the minimum fine of $25.00.

LOANS TOTAL $4,300

There have been 13 loans made in the town of Cobourg under the Home Improvement Plan, up to June 30, 1937, according to information supplied by the Department of Finance. The total value of these loans is stated as $4,313.26.

The list, which includes some 28 towns in Ontario having a population of 5,000 to 10,000 persons, place Cobourg in 22nd place as to the number of loans made, while the town is place 17th in the value of loans.

The total loans for all Canada, as at June 30, were 18,103, amounting to $6,343,096.90.

START CONSTRUCTION

R. Jackson, general contractor and builder in the town of Cobourg started work this week on the building of an extension to the post office in Cobourg. The value of the contract is set at some $25,000, and the addition will consist of a one-storey room to be built on the south-west corner of the present building at the corner of Division and King streets.

Wrecking of a high brick wall along Division street immediately at the rear of the post office was started Monday morning, with the ground being cleared in readiness for the foundation of the extension. It was found necessary to remove a tree from the property to allow the building of a driveway at the south side of the new building.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Douglas Whitney, 17-year-old Castleton youth was released on suspended sentence for one year when he appeared before Magistrate O. E. Langley in Cobourg Court and charged with theft of a sum of money from Fred I. Moore, of Castleton.

According to a story told the court by a son of Moore, Whitney was found upstairs over the store after a sum of money had been found missing. He was hiding under a pile of bags, but had handed over the money when discovered. The theft was said to have been committed on Saturday, August 7.

BUS PASSENGER DIES

Returning from Oshawa where he had been visiting with his wife, William Evans, 78, Port Hope, was seized with a heart attack as the bus neared Welcome last Tuesday evening, and collapsing, died before a doctor could be reached.

Dr. R. P. Vivian, called by phone from Welcome to meet the bus on its arrival here, stated Mr. Evans was dead when the coach reached Port Hope. He attributed death to a heart attack which, he stated, was probably brought on by over-exertion in hurrying to catch the bus at Oshawa. Dr. F. W. Diamond, coroner, upon viewing the remains, decided an inquest was unnecessary and released the body for burial.

PEDESTRIAN INJURED

Miss Mary Roddy, Orange street, suffered head lacerations, bruises and shock when she was struck by the trailer of a transport truck on Saturday of last week. The trailer is said to have jumped the curb and struck Miss Roddy, breaking her glasses and throwing her to the ground.

With her condition described as being "not serious," Miss Roddy narrowly escaped falling under the wheels of the trailer as she was knocked to the ground.

PAYS COURT FINE

For failure to pull to the centre of the road and signal before making a left turn, J. W. McLeod, Port Hope, was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate W. A. F. Campbell in Magistrate's Court, Port Hope, this week. The case was a sequel to a collision on the Dale-Welcome cut-off several weeks ago in which Provincial Traffic Officer H. R. MacKellar was injured and as a result of which he spent four weeks in hospital.

The injured officer testified he had crashed into the side of Mr. McLeod's car when the latter failed to give any indication of his intention to make the left turn. Both witness and his fellow officer, Lloyd C. McClure of Peterborough stated that Mr. McLeod, following the accident, admitted he had given no signal. No testimony was offered by defence.

FAREWELL IS GIVEN TO LYNCH FAMILY

On Tuesday evening, about seventy-five of the neighbours gathered at the home of Mrs. H. Lynch of Glonabee to bid her and her family farewell. A very appropriate address was read by Raymond Fitzgerald at the conclusion of which two beautiful gifts, a mantel clock with Westminster chimes, and an electric table lamp were presented to them by little Bernice and Hilda Sullivan.

Mrs. Lynch, thought taken by surprise, made a very suitable reply thanking her neighbours for their kindness and also asking them to visit her at her new home in Peterborough. On behalf of the family, Josephine Lynch expressed thanks to the neighbours.

After this those present joined in the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." The remainder of the evening was spent in community singing and dancing and some beautiful solos sung by Mr. Petrie. At midnight a sumptuous lunch was served by the neighbours.

LOSSES HEAVIEST BASE METAL LIST

Official announcement was made this week that operations at their main Chibougamau workings will be closed down at the end of this season and that a reorganization of Consolidated Chibougamau may be the next step. Chibougamau dropped from $1.10 to 48 cents in the week. Its high for the year was $2.65.

Nickel Down $2.90

Noranda trailed Smelters with a loss of $3, while International Nickel lost $2.90, Hudson Bay $2.25 and Falconbridge $1. Other sizeable losses were 40 to 50 cents for Pend-Oreille, Waite-Amulet and Sudbury Basin. Ventures and Sherritt declined 25 cents each. Eldorado weakened 20 cents.

A drop of $3 for Brazilian erased all the gains of the previous three weeks. Other utilities were heavy. Montreal Power and Shawinigan weakened $1.25 each and Power Corporation lost $1.

OBITUARY

EDMUND McIVOR

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 21.—The death occurred in Belleville General Hospital, on Wednesday evening, August 18, of Edmund McIvor of Tweed. Stricken with acute appendicitis on Saturday, he was rushed to Belleville General Hospital, where he was operated upon, but his condition gradually grew worse until his death occurred on Wednesday.

Fifty-eight years of age, the late Edmund McIvor, was born at Spencerville, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McIvor. He spent his early life in that district, afterwards moving to Stirling, following which he came to Tweed in 1917. For some years he conducted an implement business in this community.

Surviving are his wife, who was formerly Elizabeth Way, Tweed, and one son, William McIvor. The deceased was a member of St. Carthagh's Roman Catholic Church. Also remaining are four brothers, Frank, Edmonton; Gideon, New York City; William and Arnold of Spencerville, and one sister, Mrs. Ella Givins, Iroquois.

The funeral was held on Friday morning, August 20, at 9 a.m. to St. Carthazh's Church, with Rev. Dean Cullinane conducting Requiem Mass. Interment will be at his former home, Spencerville.

MISS BRIDGET O'BRIEN

The death occurred on Saturday morning of Bridget O'Brien. She passed away after a long period of declining health at the residence of Charles Theobald, 108 Dufferin street. Born in Douro Township, she was a daughter of the late Thomas O'Brien and Catharine Kennedy. For the past nine years she had lived in Peterborough and prior to that was a resident of Detroit for fifteen years. Surviving are three sisters, Margaret O'Brien, Douro, Mrs. Simon Clancy and Mrs. Charles Theobald both of this city and two brothers, John O'Brien in Western Canada and Maurice O'Brien, of Douro. The funeral is to be held on Monday from the residence to the Church of the Immaculate Conception for celebration of Requiem Mass at 9 o'clock (D.S.T.).

MAJOR COMPLAINT TO BE ADJUSTED

satisfaction," Mayor Macdonald said. "We all must remember that after several weeks of interruption the operation of the mill has been seriously disrupted and can not be put back to normal immediately."

The Mayor said many orders had been lost by the mill but that he understood a serious effort to regain lost orders was being made. What work there is will be distributed fairly, he said. If all have an equal share in the work there can be no cause for complaint, he declared.

Barrett declared "The problem we have on hand is not a problem easy of solution. I have tried earnestly ever since this trouble started to get you people back to work. Everything I have done has been toward getting you back to work with a friendly feeling between yourselves and the company. It is absolutely essential that bygones be bygones."

20-Year Loss

He said the history of the Auburn mill has been a "very painful history." For 20 years the mill has been operating at a loss, he said.

Stating the leading problem of the moment was the undertaking he gave to Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Marsh Tuesday this week. He declared the accusation made by Auburn strikers yesterday morning that the agreement was not being lived up to was false. He said it appeared to him the main objection was that workers who had been on night work were placed on day work and the consequent assumption that day workers would have to go on night work.

At this point, grumbling was heard through the gathering and a barrage of heckling threatened. James Jones took the floor to charge that a striker went to Peck Barbour, superintendent, to ask why he was not being given back his job and was told: "You ought to know why."

"The point I wish to make is this," Barrett continued. "My undertaking with Mr. Hepburn was that there would be no discrimination and there has been no discrimination. The company wants to be eminently fair, eminently so, and rather than have any matter of this kind interfere as long as the work lasts—and the results of the last eight weeks will be felt for six months or more I believe—I have instructed that workers on day work at the time the strike started will go on day work and workers on night work will go back on night work."

"Why didn't they do that this morning?" a striker called out.

"Well, they didn't do it this morning..." Barrett started to reply.

"That's the whole cause of this trouble," a striker declared.

Joe Vinette asked: "Will the night workers now on day be put back on night?"

"Yes," Barrett replied.

Mayor Macdonald suggested to the workers that all return to work for a start afresh and forget past grievances. "We all have something to forget," he said.

Alex. Townsley, strike secretary, asked: "Will night work be resumed Monday night?"

Barrett: "Yes."

Share Work

Strike committeeman Bayliss stated: "At our meeting we unanimously agreed to share what work there is among our number. All of us are willing to work one or two days about until there is full time work for all. Will work be distributed in that way?"

Barrett referred to clause No. 7 in the agreement in which he undertook to distribute piece work "fairly" amongst employees.

Ed. Allison jumped to his feet to assert: "As an oldtime worker I want to say we resent being watched by police when we go in and out of the plant. We are good Canadians and I would like to know if we couldn't start work Monday without having to walk past police on our way in."

In the course of an address to Barrett, Elmer Hickey, strike committeeman, called upon all in the hall belonging to the U.T.W. union to raise their hands. All did so with a shout which heightened a tension which had been creeping into proceedings as the exchanges between the strikers and Barrett became more heated.

"The subject of unionism has been raised and I wish to speak to you on that point seriously," Barrett said. "We have given our undertaking not to discriminate for or against unionism but our attitude is this: Any organization which has not control over its membership can not succeed. I told Mr. Hepburn the disgraceful proceeding in this city tolerated by your union were a demonstrating that the organization has no discipline."

Continuing, he said: "We must have peace, harmony, good will and co-operation. I stand here representing the management and I tell you that every one of you who goes over the line of discipline in our mills is subject to discharge. I give you my assurance now that anyone and everyone who assumes that dictatorial attitude will be fired and the mill will be closed." The speaker pounded his fist heatedly as he made the statement.

"May I call Mr. Barrett's attention to the fact that discipline was 100 per cent. last Tuesday or there would have been deaths?" Townsley asked. The statement drew cheers.

Sought Guarantee

Townsley then asked Barrett for a promise to instruct his managers that there must be "no more confusion and more co-operation." Barrett said he had already done so.

"We are ready to live up to the letter and also the spirit of Clause 7," he said. "We are going to interpret it in its broadest way Monday morning. But you must remember you cannot get a mill running again with making mistakes."

Hickey asked why it was possible to take back all workers at the Bonner-Worth and not at the Auburn and was told that conditions differed at the Bonner-Worth plant. The plant was better prepared for quick resumption of operations than the Auburn. Barrett explained.

"What are you going to do about the boss weaver?" one of the audience called out. He referred to Frank Irons.

Shouts of "Throw him out!" and "Fire him!" were raised almost unanimously in the hall. Barrett retired to a corner of the hall to discuss the matter with union leaders but made no comment when he returned to the platform.

Strike Chairman English asked: "About how many workers will be taken back Monday morning?"

"I couldn't answer that," Barrett replied. "We are going to take back as many as we can."

"How long will it take to get them all back to work?" English asked.

"It may take months," the official estimated.

No direct vote on a return to work was taken by strikers as they met privately after the departure of Barrett and Mayor Macdonald later in the evening. Organizer Welch warned them that if they returned Monday to be prepared to walk out immediately if "further attempts at chiselling" were made by the company.

"The company tried to chisel on the agreement with us this morning to see how strong we were and they found out," Welch declared.

The meeting agreed that officers of the union should see H. S. Leybourne and Peck Barbour of the Auburn today and obtain a definite understanding in regard to the manner the strikers would be treated on a return to work Monday.

DELAY OPENING OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

has ordered all wading pools closed for the present. Two children had died and nine are under treatment in Hamilton.

10 Cases in Middlesex.

Middlesex County has 10 cases, all being treated in Victoria Hospital, London. Norfolk has four, two at Port Dover, one in Simcoe, and one in Townsend Township. Perth reported one, while Waterloo and Lambton has three each.

Suggestion to delay opening Toronto schools for two weeks or longer was made by Trustee Dr. W. H. Butt, who said he would move to that effect at next week's board meeting. Another medical member of the board, Dr. J. H. Downing, agreed that the schools remain closed and suggested that swimming places and theatres be placed under ban until the epidemic subsides.

"If the trouble goes on and the weather continues hot, there is a serious situation confronting us," said Dr. Downing. "The schools most certainly should remain closed unless there is a marked abatement. There are now way over 100 cases in the city, and that is pretty serious."

Cold weather, the trustee added, would probably prove effective in checking the scourge.

Bath, England, said to have been a summer resort since 863 B.C., is having one of its busiest season.

SERVICES IN PETERBOROUGH CHURCHES TO-MORROW

A National Message

Thank God for the secret place. Thank God for the overshadowing presence. Thank God for the immunities which the Kingdom brings. Thank God for the Covenant made with Israel, which is here and elsewhere expressed.

Thank God for the gift of eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord, through which in the future we shall not dwell under the shadow of the Almighty, but shall walk in the light of His glory and "see His face."

The glory of God hovers over the place where is the centre of His Kingdom nation's worship, and from which go out the Kingdom nation's activities to spread the Gospel of His grace to all men.

The glory of God hovers over the place of the centre of the Kingdom nation's Government, from which goes out the knowledge of His law, and from which the Kingdom nation works toward the establishment of peace and good will among the nations of mankind.

That secret place is the centre of the nation's life, religious and administrative, upon the banks of the ancient River Thames.

By prayer and repentance let us bring back this nation to the consciousness of its especial relationship to God and His Kingdom on earth.

Read now, in the light of the foregoing, the whole of the 91st Psalm.

And Sudden Death

By J. C. FURNAS

(ED. NOTE: Like the gruesome spectacle of a bad automobile accident itself, the realistic details of this article—which first appeared in Reader's Digest—will nauseate some people. Those who find themselves thus affected at the outset are cautioned against reading the article in its entirety, since there is no letdown in the author's outspoken treatment of sickening facts.)

Publicizing the total of Ontario's motoring injuries—more than 10,000 last year and over 500 killed; and at the rate we're going we should hit the 600 mark this year—never gets to first base in jarring the motorist into a realization of the appalling risks of motoring. He does not translate dry statistics into a reality of blood and agony.

Figures exclude the pain and horror of savage mutilation—which means they leave out the point. They need to be brought closer to home. A passing look at a bad smash or the news that a fellow you had lunch with last week is in the hospital with a broken back will make any driver but a born fool slow down at least temporarily. But what is needed is a vivid and sustained realization that every time you step on the accelerator, death gets in beside you, hopefully waiting for his chance. That single horrible accident you may have witnessed is no isolated horror. That sort of thing happens every day, everywhere in Ontario. If you really felt that, perhaps the paragraph in Monday's paper according that a total of 15 citizens of this province were killed in week-end crashes would rate something more than a perfunctory tut-tut as you turn back to the sports page.

An enterprising magistrate now and then sentences reckless drivers to tour the accident end of a city hospital or morgue. But even a mangled body on a slab, waxily portraying the consequences of bad motoring judgment, isn't a patch on the scene of the accident itself. No artist working on a safety poster would dare depict that in full detail.

That picture would have to include slow-motion picture and sound effects, too—the flopping, pointless efforts of the injured to stand up; the queer, grunting noises; the steady, panting groaning of a human being with pain creeping up on him as the shock wears off. It should portray the slack expression on the face of a man, drugged with shock, staring at the Z-twist in his broken leg, the insane crumpled effect of a child's body after its bones are crushed inward, a realistic portrait of an hysterical woman with her screaming mouth opening a hole in the bloody drip that fills her eyes and runs off her chin.

These are all standard, everyday sequels to the modern passion for going places in a hurry and taking a chance or two by the way. If ghosts could be put to a useful purpose, every bad stretch of road in Ontario would greet the oncoming motorist with groans and screams and the educational spectacle of ten or a dozen corpses, all sizes, sexes and ages, lying horribly still on the bloody grass.

Last year a motorcycle patrolman of my acquaintance stopped a big, red limousine for speeding. Papa was obviously a responsible person, obviously set for a pleasant week-end with his family—so the officer cut into papa's well-bred expostulations: "I'll let you off this time, but if you keep on this way, you won't last long. Get going—but take it easier." Later a passing motorist hailed the highway officer and asked if the red car got a ticket. "No," said the officer, "I hated to spoil their party." "To bad you didn't said the motorist, "I saw you stop them—and then I passed that car again 50 miles up the line. It still makes me feel sick at my stomach. The car was folded up like an accordion—the color was about all that was left. They were all dead but one of the kids—and he wasn't going to live to get to the hospital."

Maybe it will make you sick at your stomach, too. But unless you're a heavy-footed incurable, a good look at the picture the artist wouldn't dare to paint, a first-hand acquaintance with the results of mixing gas with speed and bad judgment, ought to be well worthwhile. I can't help it if the facts are revolting. If you have the nerve to drive fast and take chances, you ought to have the nerve to take the appropriate clue. You can't ride an ambulance or watch the doctor working on the victim in the hospital, but you can read.

The automobile is treacherous, just as a cat is. It is tragically difficult to realize that it can become the deadliest missle. As enthusiasts tell you, it makes 65 feel like nothing at all. But 65 an hour is 100 feet a second, a speed which puts a viciously unjustified responsibility on brakes and human reflexes, and can instantly turn this docile luxury into a small bull elephant.

Collision, turnover or side-swipe, each type of accident produces either a shattering dead stop or a crushing change of direction—and, since the occupant—meaning you—continues in the old direction at the original speed, every surface of the car's interior immediately becomes a battering, tearing projectile, aimed squarely at you—inescapable. There is no bracing against the imperative laws of momentum.

It's like going over Niagara Falls in a steel barrel full of railroad spikes. The best thing that can happen to you—and one of the rarer things—is to be thrown out as the doors spring open, so you only have the ground to reckon with. True, you trike with as much force as if you had been thrown from the Continental Limited at top speed. But at least you are spared the lethal array of gleaming knobs and edges and glass in the car.

Anything can happen in that split second of crash, even those lucky escapes you hear about. People have dived through windshields and come out with only superficial scratches. They have run cars together head on, reducing both to twisted junk, and been found unhurt and arguing bitterly two minutes afterwards. But death was there just the same—he was only exercising his privilege of being erratic.

But all that is routine in any community. To be remembered individually by the doctors and policemen, you have to do something as grotesque as the lady who burst the windshield with her head, splashing splinters all over the other occupants of the car, and then, as the car rolled over, rolled with it down the edge of the windshield frame and cut her throat from ear to ear. Or park on the pavement too near a curve at night and stand in front of the tail light as you take off the spare tire—which will immortalize you in somebody's memory as the fellow who was mashed three feet broad and two inches thick by the impact of a heavy-duty truck against the rear of his own car. Or be as original as the pair of youths who were thrown out of an open roadster this spring—thrown clear—but each broke a windshield post with his head in passing and the whole top of each skull, down to the eyebrows, was missing. Or snap off a nine-inch tree and get yourself impaled by a ragged branch.

It's hard to find a surviving accident victim who can bear to talk. After you come to, the gnawing, searing pain throughout your body is accounted for by learning that you have both collar-bones smashed, both shoulder blades splintered, your right arm broken in three places and three ribs cracked, with every chance of bad internal ruptures. But the pain can't distract you, as the shock begins to wear off, from realizing that you are probably on your way out. You can't forget that, not even when they shift you from the ground to the stretcher and your broken ribs bite into your lungs and the sharp ends of your collar-bones slide over to stab deep into each side of your screaming throat. When you've stopped screaming, it all comes back to you—you're dying and you hate yourself for it. That isn't fiction, either. It's what it actually feels like to be one of the 546.

And every time you pass on a blind curve, every time you hit it up on a slippery road, every time you step on it harder than your reflexes will safely take, every time you drive your reactions slowed down by a drink or two, every time you follow the man ahead too closely, you're gambling a few seconds against this kind of blood and agony and sudden death.

Take a look at yourself as the man in the white jacket shakes his head over you, tells the boys with the stretcher not to bother and turns away to somebody else who isn't quite dead yet. And then take it easy.

Sabbath Message For the Shut-Ins

SABBATH MESSAGE By REV. E. R. JAMES Toronto

YOUR SOUL.

JESUS said: For what it shall profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?—St. Mark 8, 36.

"What are you going to be?" you ask a lad. "Of what profit are you going to be to yourself and the world"? you imply. To his answer his mother adds that has always been his desire. Happy is the lad who early in life has made up his mind what he shall be.

A boy of 12 is standing in the midst of the doctors of his church. To his sorrowing and enquiring mother he replies: "Wist ye not that I must be in my Father's house and about my Father's business?" What a light it throws upon the lad's earliest intention as to how he is to save his soul, his life. In his tenderest years his mind and imagination has been filled with the thoughts of Jehovah and the joy of doing His will.

It is not surprising that 20 years later he asks the all important question: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" In patience he has been winning his own soul, his own life, fining it with the Divine Presence and obeying the Father's will till he himself could say to his astonished apostles: "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father". He saved His life that He might pour it out" as a full, perfect and sufficient sacrifice, obation and satisfaction for the sins of the whole world."

In passing let us remember that the same Greek word is translated either life or soul. How are you to save your life, your soul? Our Lord means not what you are now but what God intends you to become. This is a slow process. God's intention is that you should save your soul, making your life worth living for yourself and your generation. You are to become through faith and repentance; tribulation, sorrow, perhaps days of darkness and disappointment, a son of God, who, to some little extent, may humbly say: "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father."

How are you to save your soul? God has given you the gife of imagination. Many have day dreams filling their thoughts and imaginations with what they would like to be. But they have no strength of character to carry out these thoughts. They waste their time and energy. Others have a strong desire for wealth and success. They fill their thoughts and imaginations with the wish to succeed and make money. They bend all their energies in that direction and they generally succeed. But they become like their ideals, hard, greedy, covetous. "As a man thinketh in his heart so he is". From the worldly standpoint they have profited but they have lost their souls, their lives in the highest sense of the word. The things of God have no attraction for them.

On the other hand if you choose the better way you will put God first in your mind and imagination. Let His spirit fill your imagination with the beauty of His purity; let His goodness attract your imagination; let His truth fill your mind. Slowly, gradually these things, these spiritual realities will fill your mind and imagination till you become like your ideals, like God and His Christ. Christ will be formed in you.

But if you reject these ideals you will discover too late that your soul, your life has lost its desire for goodness, truth and beauty; your soul has truly become insensitive to God; it has lost its capacity for the good and the beautiful. For God is indeed good and beautiful.

"The end of man is the vision of God".

"Lord, I beseech thee, shew me Thy glory".

The Place Of Religion

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By DR. ALVIN E. BELL)

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 22 is Exodus 25:1-40; 29:43-46; 40:1-38; especially 25:1, 2, 8, 9; 29:43-46; 40:34-38, the Golden Text being Psalm 33:12, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord.")

IN THE Ten Commandments Israel received an expression of the will of God, and in the Tabernacle they saw an exemplification of the way to God. By these two, a common code of morals and a common place of worship, he welded a horde of slaves into a great nation in a generation.

A Meeting Place With God.

"Speak unto the children of Israel that they bring me an offering... And let them make me a sanctuary; that I may dwell among them," said God to Moses. Our God is eager to commune with his people. His plea is ever "come unto me." To encourage reverence and regularity in their coming God planned the Tabernacle and all of its furnishings. Provided through the people's gifts it was to be an expression of their love to God. Their willingness to give was what gave value to their gifts in God's sight; "Of every man that giveth it willingly with his heart ye shall take an offering."

The Ark of the Covenant.

The chief article of furnishing in the Tabernacle was the ark of the covenant in the holy of holies. Its top, overlaid with gold and surmounted by the golden cherubim, was the "mercy seat" on which blood was sprinkled on the day of atonement. Mercy is the only ground on which we are fit to meet with God. And this blood sprinkled mercy seat typifies Christ through whose atonement we have fellowship with God.

The Table bearing the twelve loaves of bread symbolizes Christ as the Bread of Life for our sustenance. The golden candlestick typified him as the Light of the world, and the golden altar of incense the way through which we come to the Father, the laver our cleansing in Christ, and the altar of burnt offering at the entering door of the Tabernacle the cross, our only means of approach to God.

Purpose of the Tabernacle.

The purpose of the Tabernacle was to serve as a sermon in gold and other precious materials, a sermon on the way to God. "There I will meet with the children of Israel; and the tent shall be sanctified by by glory....and I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will be their God. And they shall know that I am Jehovah their God.' Every article in the Tabernacle pointed the way to Tabernacle pointed the way to God and prepared the worshipper for fellowship with God.

The Proof of God's Presence.

As proof of God's presence in the midst of his people and as an encouragement to them to seek fellowship with him in the Tabernacle "the cloud covered the tent of meeting, and the glory of Jehovah filled the Tabernacle.... For the cloud of Jehovah was upon the Tabernacle by day and there was fire therein by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their journeys." Thus God answered man's obedience in building the Tabernacle by overshadowing and in dwelling it with his glory, until, in the fullness of time, he tabernacled among them in human flesh in the person of his Son. This tent of meeting in the very centre of the camp dramatized the place of God and of religion at the very heart of the nation.

RISKS ARE RAISED

LONDON, Aug. 21—(AP).—Marine underwriters raised their war-risk rates 300 per cent today on tankers sailing in Mediterranean waters.

Recent sinkings of such vessels off the Spanish coast were given as the reason for the increase from a quarter of one per cent of value to one per cent.

CATHEDRAL MUSINGS

The wise have often said that mankind will go to any lengths in order to avoid the very real labor of serious thinking, and it would seem to be true. Humanity as a whole obeys the herd instinct and accepts its opinions and beliefs, creeds, both religious and political, ready made, without thought and it may be added without real faith. It is this blind acceptance without proper examination which is responsible for much of the intolerances of the day whether these be religious or social. It is amusing were it not so pitiful to hear for instance a staunch and bigoted sectarian consigning to perdition all who differ from him in belief, and to realize that he would be just as intolerant and uncharitable had he happened to have been born into one of the very creeds he now condemns. Is it possible that God is so unmindful of His children that He causes the majority of them to enter life in the grip of circumstance and belief that will inevitably ensure their destruction? If the bigot is to be believed that is exactly what He does. Fortunately God is more just than many of His self-styled followers. Is the Western world so sure of itself that it dares to claim the sole possession of the truth? And if it is so sure what has it to show as fruits of the Spirit? Our civilization is great in many ways, but the material aspect of life has so overbalanced the spiritual that the latter is almost non-existent. Christianity survives but mainly only in the individual scattered here and there. As a motive force in our civilization it is negligible, for if it were otherwise, this Western world would be a living example of the spirit of Christ. As it is, what have we but a mad world tottering on the apex of a gross materialism that will eventually destroy itself unless mankind awakens. It all goes to show that somehow the world has diverged from the ideals of the Master, that expediency has again crucified Him, that to serve two masters is impossible, that our spiritual leaders have lost that mystec vision which leads the hearts of men to God, and which is the very life-blood of all religion. To retract our steps, to think, to examine all things and hold fast to what is good and true is the need of today as perhaps never before. It is not a question of being true to this or that form of belief. All that is comparatively non-important. It is a matter of reviving our ideals, of being true to the highest and noblest aspects of that which is within us. For as we embody in our lives the highest we are capable of expressing, so will our present ideals be replaced by others still higher and yet more noble. That is the way we grow and come alive in the spiritual sense; not by an unthinking and slavish adherence to any outward formula but by the unfoldment and growth of the Spirit which alone gives life.

Dr. Barr Preaches To Winnipeg Unit

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21.—Members of the 16th battalion held their annual church parade at First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, when Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Peterborough, Ont., preached the special service. He took as his theme "The Music of the Gospel," striking a note of reconciliation throughout his discourse.

The main body of the church was reserved for the battalion members and officers, under the direction of W. Mackie, president. Several members of the 43rd battalion were among those in attendance.

The text and lesson was read by Col. Urquhart. Following the sermon a special ceremony was observed when the cross at the front of the church was decorated in honor of those who were killed in the Great War. A wreath was placed on the cross by Col. Urquhart.

At the conclusion of the church service the 35 representatives of the 16th battalion fell into line in front of the edifice where a period of silence was observed for fallen members of the association. The lament was played by Pipe-Major W. Sutherland.

The Place of Religion — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Exodus 25:1-40; 29:43-46; 40:1-38

God gave to Moses the plans for a place of worship called the Tabernacle. It was much like a tent surrounded by a court and enclosed by curtains.

In the innermost court was a chest overlaid with gold and surmounted by angel-like beings of gold. This was the ark of the covenant.

On a table overlaid with gold twelve loaves of bread were laid daily. A golden candlestick gave light. These represented Christ the Bread of Life and Light of the World.

The Tabernacle was situated in the midst of the camp. It was overshadowed by day and night with cloud and fire. Thus God pictured his presence. (GOLDEN TEXT—Psalm 33:12)

SERVICES IN PETERBOROUGH CHURCHES TO-MORROW

A National Message

Thank God for the secret place. Thank God for the overshadowing presence. Thank God for the immunities which the Kingdom brings. Thank God for the Covenant made with Israel, which is here and elsewhere expressed.

Thank God for the gift of eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord, through which in the future we shall not dwell under the shadow of the Almighty, but shall walk in the light of His glory and "see His face."

The glory of God hovers over the place where is the centre of His Kingdom nation's worship, and from which go out the Kingdom nation's activities to spread the Gospel of His grace to all men.

The glory of God hovers over the place of the centre of the Kingdom nation's Government, from which goes out the knowledge of His law, and from which the Kingdom nation works toward the establishment of peace and good will among the nations of mankind.

That secret place is the centre of the nation's life, religious and administrative, upon the banks of the ancient River Thames.

By prayer and repentance let us bring back this nation to the consciousness of its especial relationship to God and His Kingdom on earth.

Read now, in the light of the foregoing, the whole of the 91st Psalm.

And Sudden Death

By J. C. FURNAS

(ED. NOTE: Like the gruesome spectacle of a bad automobile accident itself, the realistic details of this article—which first appeared in Reader's Digest—will nauseate some people. Those who find themselves thus affected at the outset are cautioned against reading the article in its entirety, since there is no letdown in the author's outspoken treatment of sickening facts.)

Publicizing the total of Ontario's motoring injuries—more than 10,000 last year and over 500 killed; and at the rate we're going we should hit the 800 mark this year—never gets to first base in jarring the motorist into a realization of the appalling risks of motoring. He does not translate dry statistics into a reality of blood and agony.

Figures exclude the pain and horror of savage mutilation—which means they leave out the point. They need to be brought closer to home. A passing look at a bad smash or the news that a fellow you had lunch with last week is in the hospital with a broken back will make any driver but a born fool slow down at least temporarily. But what is needed is a vivid and sustained realization that every time you step on the accelerator, death gets in beside you, hopefully waiting for his chance. That single horrible accident you may have witnessed is no isolated horror. That sort of thing happens every day, everywhere in Ontario. If you really felt that, perhaps the paragraph in Monday's paper recording that a total of 15 citizens of this province were killed in week-end crashes would rate something more than a perfunctory tut-tut as you turn back to the sports page.

An enterprising magistrate now and then sentences reckless drivers to tour the accident end of a city hospital or morgue. But even a mangled body on a slab, waxily portraying the consequences of bad motoring judgment, isn't a patch on the scene of the accident itself. No artist working on a safety poster would dare depict that in full detail.

That picture would have to include slow-motion picture and sound effects, too—the flopping, pointless efforts of the injured to stand up; the queer, grunting noises; the steady, panting groaning of a human being with pain creeping up on him as the shock wears off. It should portray the slack expression on the face of a man, drugged with shock, staring at the Z-twist in his broken leg, the insane crumpled effect of a child's body after its bones are crushed inward, a realistic portrait of an hysterical woman with her screaming mouth opening a hole in the bloody drip that fills her eyes and runs off her chin.

Those are all standard, everyday sequels to the modern passion for going places in a hurry and taking a chance or two by the way. If ghosts could be put to a useful purpose, every bad stretch of road in Ontario would greet the oncoming motorist with groans and screams and the educational spectacle of ten or a dozen corpses, all ages, sexes and ages, lying horribly still on the bloody grass.

Last year a motorcycle patrolman of my acquaintance stopped a big, red limousine for speeding. Papa was obviously a responsible person, obviously set for a pleasant week-end with his family—so the officer cut into papa's well-bred expostulations: "I'll let you off this time, but if you keep on this way, you won't last long. Get going—but take it easier." Later a passing motorist hailed the highway officer and asked if the red car got a ticket. "No," said the officer, "I hated to spoil their party." "To bad you didn't nail the motorist, "I saw you stop them—and then I passed that car again 50 miles up the line. It still makes me feel sick at my stomach. The car was folded up like an accordion—the color was about all that was left. They were all dead but one of the kids—and he wasn't going to live to get to the hospital."

Maybe it will make you sick at your stomach, too. But unless you're a heavy-footed incurable, a good look at the picture the artist wouldn't dare to paint, a first-hand acquaintance with the results of mixing gas with speed and bad judgment, ought to be well worthwhile. I can't help it if the facts are revolting. If you have the nerve to drive fast and take chances, you ought to have the nerve to take the appropriate clue. You can't ride an amoulance or watch the doctor working on the victim in the hospital, but you can read.

The automible is treacherous, just as a cat is. It is tragically difficult to realize that it can become the deadliest missle. As enthusiasts tell you, it makes 65 feel like nothing at all. But 65 an hour is 100 feet a second, a speed which puts a viciously unjustified responsibility on brakes and human reflexes, and can instantly turn this docile luxury into a small bull elephant.

Collision, turnover or side-swipe, each type of accident produces either a shattering dead stop or a crushing change of direction—and, since the occupant—meaning you—continues in the old direction at the original speed, every surface of the car's interior immediately becomes a battering, tearing projectile, aimed squarely at you—inescapable. There is no bracing against the imperative laws of momentum.

It's like going over Niagara Falls in a steel barrel full of railroad spikes. The best thing that can happen to you—and one of the rarer things—is to be thrown out as the doors spring open, so you only have the ground to reckon with. True, you trike with as much force as if you had been thrown from the Continental Limited at top speed. But at least you are spared the lethal array of gleaming knobs and edges and glass in the car.

Anything can happen in that split second of crash, even those lucky escapes you hear about. People have dived through windshields and come out with only superficial scratches. They have run cars together head on, reducing both to twisted junk, and been found unhurt and arguing bitterly two minutes afterwards. But death was there just the same—he was only exercising his privilege of being erratic.

But all that is routine in any community. To be remembered individually by the doctors and policemen, you have to do something as grotesque as the lady who burst the windshield with her head, splashing splinters all over the other occupants of the car, and then, as the car rolled over, rolled with it down the edge of the windshield frame and cut her throat from ear to ear. Or park on the pavement too near a curve at night and stand in front of the tail light as you take off the spare tire—which will immortalize you in somebody's memory as the fellow who was mashed three feet broad and two inches thick by the impact of a heavy-duty truck against the rear of his own car. Or be as original as the pair of youths who were thrown out of an open roadster this spring—thrown clear—but each broke a windshield part with his head in passing and the whole top of each skull, down to the eyebrows, was missing. Or snap off a nine-inch tree and get yourself impaled by a ragged branch.

It's hard to find a surviving accident victim who can bear to talk. After you come to, the gnawing, searing pain throughout your body is accounted for by learning that you have both collar-bones smashed, both shoulder blades splintered, your right arm broken in three places and three ribs cracked, with every chance of bad internal ruptures. But the pain can't distract you, as the shock begins to wear off, from realizing that you are probably on your way out. You can't forget that, not even when they shift you from the ground to the stretcher and your broken ribs bite into your lungs and the sharp ends of your collar-bones slide over to stab deep into each side of your screaming throat. When you've stopped screaming, it all comes back to you—you're dying and you hate yourself for it. That isn't fiction, either. It's what it actually feels like to be one of the 546.

And every time you pass on a blind curve, every time you hit it up on a slippery road, every time you step on it harder than your reflexes will safely take, every time you drive your reactions slowed down by a drink or two, every time you follow the man ahead too closely, you're gambling a few seconds against this kind of blood and agony and sudden death.

Take a look at yourself as the man in the white jacket shakes his head over you, tells the boys with the stretcher not to bother and turns away to somebody else who isn't quite dead yet. And then take it easy.

But they become like their ideals, hard, greedy, covetous. "As a man thinketh in his heart so he is". From the worldly standpoint they have profited but they have lost their souls, their lives in the highest sense of the word. The things of God have no attraction for them.

On the other hand if you choose the better way you will put God first in your mind and imagination. Let His spirit fill your imagination with the beauty of His purity; let His goodness attract your imagination; let His truth fill your mind. Slowly, gradually these things, these spiritual realities will fill your mind and imagination till you become like your ideals, like God and His Christ. Christ will be formed in you.

But if you reject these ideals you will discover too late that your soul, your life has lost its desire for goodness, truth and beauty; your soul has truly become insensitive to God; it has lost its capacity for the good and the beautiful. For God is indeed good and beautiful.

"The end of man is the vision of God".

"Lord, I beseech thee, shew me Thy glory".

The Place Of Religion

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By DR. ALVIN E. BELL)

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 22 is Exodus 25:1-40; 29:43-46; 40:1-38; especially 25:1, 2, 8, 9; 29:43-46; 40:34:38, the Golden Text being Psalm 33:12, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord.")

IN THE Ten Commandments Israel received an expression of the will of God, and in the Tabernacle they saw an exemplification of the way to God. By these two, a common code of morals and a common place of worship, he welded a horde of slaves into a great nation in a generation.

A Meeting Place With God.

"Speak unto the children of Israel that they bring me an offering.... And let them make me a sanctuary; that I may dwell among them," said God to Moses. Our God is eager to commune with his people. His plea is ever "come unto me." To encourage reverence and regularity in their coming God planned the Tabernacle and all of its furnishings. Provided through the people's gifts it was to be an expression of their love to God. Their willingness to give was what gave value to their gifts in God's sight; "Of every man that giveth it willingly with his heart ye shall take an offering."

The Ark of the Covenant.

The chief article of furnishing in the Tabernacle was the ark of the covenant in the holy of holies. Its top, overlaid with gold and surmounted by the golden cherubim, was the "mercy seat" on which blood was sprinkled on the day of atonement. Mercy is the only ground on which we are fit to meet with God. And this blood sprinkled mercy seat typifies Christ through whose atonement we have fellowship with God.

The Table bearing the twelve loaves of bread symbolizes Christ as the Bread of Life for our sustenance. The golden candlestick typified him as the Light of the world, and the golden altar of incense the way through which we come to the Father, the laver our cleansing in Christ, and the altar of burnt offering at the entering door of the Tabernacle the cross, our only means of approach to God.

Purpose of the Tabernacle.

The purpose of the Tabernacle was to serve as a sermon in gold and other precious materials, a sermon on the way to God. "There I will meet with the children of Israel; and the tent shall be sanctified by my glory. . . and I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will be their God. And they shall know that I am Jehovah their God.' Every article in the Tabernacle pointed the way to Tabernacle pointed the way to God and prepared the worshipper for fellowship with God.

The Proof of God's Presence.

As proof of God's presence in the midst of his people and as an encouragement to them to seek fellowship with him in the Tabernacle "the cloud covered the tent of meeting, and the glory of Jehovah filled the Tabernacle.... For the cloud of Jehovah was upon the Tabernacle by day and there was fire therein by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their journeys." Thus God answered man's obedience in building the Tabernacle by overshadowing and in dwelling it with his glory, until, in the fullness of time, he tabernacled among them in human flesh in the person of his Son. This tent of meeting in the very centre of the camp dramatized the place of God and of religion at the very heart of the nation.

RISKS ARE RAISED

LONDON, Aug. 21—(AP)—Marine underwriters raised their war-risk rates 300 per cent today on tankers sailing in Mediterranean waters.

Recent sinkings of such vessels off the Spanish coast were given as the reason for the increase from a quarter of one per cent of value to one per cent.

CATHEDRAL MUSINGS

The wise have often said that mankind will go to any lengths in order to avoid the very real labor of serious thinking, and it would seem to be true. Humanity as a whole obeys the herd instinct and accepts its opinions and beliefs, creeds, both religious and political, ready made, without thought and it may be added without real faith. It is this blind acceptance without proper examination which is responsible for much of the intolerances of the day whether these be religious or social. It is amusing were it not so pitiful to hear for instance a staunch and bigotted sectarian consigning to perdition all who differ from him in belief, and to realize that he would be just as intolerant and uncharitable had he happened to have been born into one of the very creeds he now condemns. Is it possible that God is so unmindful of His children that He causes the majority of them to enter life in the grip of circumstance and belief that will inevitably ensure their destruction? If the bigot is to be believed that is exactly what He does. Fortunately God is more just than many of His self-styled followers. Is the Western world so sure of itself that it dares to claim the sole possession of the truth? And if it is so sure what has it to show as fruits of the Spirit? Our civilization is great in many ways, but the material aspect of life has so overbalanced the spiritual that the latter is almost non-existent. Christianity survives but mainly only in the individual scattered here and there. As a motive force in our civilization it is negligible, for if it were otherwise, this Western world would be a living example of the spirit of Christ. As it is, what have we but a mad world tottering on the apex of a gross materialism that will eventually destroy itself unless mankind awakens. It all goes to show that somehow the world has diverged from the ideals of the Master, that expediency has again crucified Him, that to serve two masters is impossible, that our spiritual leaders have lost that mystec vision which leads the hearts of men to God, and which is the very life-blood of all religion. To retract our steps, to think, to examine all things and hold fast to what is good and true is the need of today as perhaps never before. It is not a question of being true to this or that form of belief. All that is comparatively non-important. It is a matter of reviving our ideals, of being true to the highest and noblest aspects of that which is within us. For as we embody in our lives the highest we are capable of expressing, so will our present ideals be replaced by others still higher and yet more noble. That is the way we grow and come alive in the spiritual sense; not by an unthinking and slavish adherence to any outward formula but by the unfoldment and growth of the Spirit which alone gives life.

Dr. Barr Preaches To Winnipeg Unit

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21.—Members of the 16th battalion held their annual church parade at First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, when Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Peterborough, Ont., preached the special service. He took as his theme "The Music of the Gospel," striking a note of reconciliation throughout his discourse.

The main body of the church was reserved for the battalion members and officers, under the direction of W. Mackie, president. Several members of the 43rd battalion were among those in attendance.

The text and lesson was read by Col. Urquhart. Following the sermon a special ceremony was observed when the cross at the front of the church was decorated in honor of those who were killed in the Great War. A wreath was placed on the cross by Col. Urquhart.

At the conclusion of the church service the 35 representatives of the 16th battalion fell into line in front of the edifice where a period of silence was observed for fallen members of the association. The lament was played by Pipe-Major W. Sutherland.

The Place of Religion — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Exodus 25:1-40; 29:43-46; 40:1-38

God gave to Moses the plans for a place of worship called the Tabernacle. It was much like a tent surrounded by a court and enclosed by curtains.

In the innermost court was a chest overlaid with gold and surmounted by angel-like beings of gold. This was the ark of the covenant.

On a table overlaid with gold twelve loaves of bread were laid daily. A golden candlestick gave light. These represented Christ, the Bread of Life and Light of the World.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1937

Conditions Are Better Today

There is something well worth noting in connection with the number of entries for the Examiner 1937 bucksaw contest, and it has nothing whatever to do with the contest itself.

There were not so many persons entering as in 1936, and right there is the interesting point. This office had the names and addresses of those who had entered in the contest last year, and it was also known which ones made a good enough showing to be welcomed to the 1937 contest.

When it was found that many of the 1936 contestants were not sending in their entry forms for the 1937 contest a representative of this paper started making calls and inquiries.

He found that a number of those who had entered in 1936 were at that time either on part time jobs or on relief, whereas in 1937 nearly all of them were working and found it impossible to leave their jobs in order to enter the contest. The explanation provides a fair enough and a rather pleasant comparison of the improved conditions of 1937 as against those prevailing one year ago.

Mr. Croll's Position

David Croll, former minister of the Hepburn cabinet, has been given the Liberal nomination in his own city, Windsor, and admittedly he will be a hard man to defeat. He has seen a good deal of public service there and he will receive a good many votes which cannot be accounted for on straight party lines.

Mr. Croll is coming in for plenty of attention from speakers on all manner of platforms. He is attacked by the Conservatives as being a dangerous fellow to have in the Ontario Legislature. He is referred to as the man whom Hepburn kicked out, and as political campaign language goes, that may be near enough to the truth.

The Oshawa strike provided the fork in the road for Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Croll, for it was the latter who undertook to inform the strikers that he would recommend they go on relief if they could not settle their employment differences speedily. There is nothing to indicate that the strikers asked for such preferred treatment, nor is there anything to show that he had authority for making the suggestion.

Mr. Croll has accepted nomination as a Liberal, but how far he will feel disposed to support Mr. Hepburn is something in which there is the combined element of doubt and a good deal of speculation.

Should Be Certain

John A. Cummings, described as somewhat of a recluse, died recently at Alvinston, Ont., and nothing more might have been heard of him had he not left an estate of $52,000. Strange were his ways, and he had bonds and money hidden all over the little house in which he lived. One of those who would have benefited by the will of Mr. Cummings was a half-brother, but he is dead, and it is said there is a question of whether the Adoption Act of the province would permit his descendants to inherit the money.

One report says the provincial government will probably take the estate because there are so many complications in sight and the will was drawn up 36 years ago.

Before the government reaches out for the money it should make certain it is entitled to it. The same officials who can move to the taking of the proceeds could also become active in finding out if there are people living who are entitled to share in the estate. Certainly it would not have been the desire of the late John A. Cummings that his hoarded savings were all going to the government. The government should be clear on that point before starting the raking in process.

When The Storm Came

Two steeple-jacks were working 225 feet in the air at Sarnia when a storm came. It was one of those typical summer storms which have moved rapidly around the province in recent days. One of the men was about to descend when he was struck and stunned by a bolt of lightning. He toppled over and fell to his death.

There is a nine-inch platform on which the men work and the other man lay flat down on the planking—225 feet up—and waited for the storm to pass. Then he descended uninjured. Strange as it may seem the last thing the man who was killed had done was to adjust the lightning arrestors on top of the huge stack.

There are a good many timid people who seek shelter when a summer storm comes. To them the thought of clinging to a nine-inch platform even with a protecting rail, 225 feet in the air, would be the last word in the annals of heroic performance.

The Strength Of The Land

When Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, was speaking in Peterborough he had a short and substantial text: "The Land." He did not announce it as such, but that is what it was. He was not referring to numbers of acres, but rather to their quality. He selected Yorkshire as the place where the land was best treated, where it was inriched as it should be, and where the farmer's chief concern is that he shall pass along his land in better shape than he found it when it came to his hands. Mr. Marshall was certain England and Scotland could teach the world much about the productivity of land and the breeding of fine livestock.

That is where soil testing comes in, and it is to be carried on in Peterborough county next season. By using a new and shortened process the land chemist can tell in about half an hour what is lacking in the soil from any given field. The ingredients necessary to sustained production are nitrogen, potash and phosphorous, and the extent to which any one of these is lacking can be readily determined. The strength of the land itself is the backbone of any crop. It costs no more to work an acre of strong land than it does an acre of land from which strength has gone, and the returns are larger.

Preying On a Man's Grief

The degree to which one man will seek to prey upon the agony of another has been brought to the surface in New York with the arrest of Wilbur Rothar. He called on George Palmer Putnam, husband of Amelia Earhart, who disappeared a month ago during a flight over the Pacific.

Summarized the story is this: Rothar said he was a seaman sailing on a ship from New Guinea to Panama bound for Spain with a cargo of arms. Early in July the ship anchored off a small island to take on water. In a cove seamen discovered a wrecked plane and the body of a man. On the beach stood a woman. At Panama they identified her from newspaper pictures as Miss Earhart. Aware that their gun-running activities would be discovered if they put her on shore, the crew decided to approach Putnam. When they reached New York they named Rothar to act as the go-between.

To support his story Rothar displayed a scarf which was recognized as Miss Earhart's. He offered to release her for $2,000 and Putnam agreed, handed him $1,000 and promised a cheque for the remainder.

Then things began to happen. Putnam's "confidential secretary," who was in reality a secret service man, arrested Rothar. Then these facts were revealed: Rothar was a Bronx janitor, and he had come into possession of Miss Earhart's scarf when she dropped it at a New York airport three years ago. His story of sailing was nothing but a lie presented for the purpose of taking $2,000 from the bereaved Putnam. When an officer arrests such a man and takes him out of circulation he is doing a good day's work.

The 1937 Champion

Gordon Manley, 25 years old, brown, slim and strong, won the Examiner bucksaw contest. He did it by cutting three times through a stick of hard maple six inches square in 56 seconds. In order to win he had to saw twice; first to qualify for the finals, and shortly after to compete in the same finals. In the finals Gordon Manley bettered by 11 seconds the time he made in the preliminaries. He has spent about six years in the bush, and although the Examiner contest is but two years old it has been demonstrated on each occasion that it is from the bush that bucksaw champions come. Thomas Walling, a man well past the 60-year mark, was the champion of 1936 and the runner-up in the 1937 event, and he comes from the bush.

Gordon Manley admitted he was tired after the contest. He felt as though his knees might sag a bit. There is no surplus fleah on this young fellow, but there is a deal of hard muscle and there is much of the tan of outdoors, and yet it took about all he had in him to make those three cuts in 56 seconds. That can be accepted as a standard for all such tests: Six inch square stick of hard maple cut three times, and the man who can do it in less time than Gordon Manley will have to have at his disposal a more than generous amount of physical fitness and training.

To those who watch a bucksaw contest it may seem the cutting is all done on the down stroke. Mr. Manley explained to the Examiner such was not the case. There are two strokes, he explained, one down, the next up, and he believed just as much cutting was done on the up stroke as when the saw was being pressed down. Nor is there much "pinching" of the saw in the last of the final cut. With the old-style saw that always was the case, but the blade used by Mr. Manley and others who are experts is so made that the cutting surface is wider than the back of the blade. The Examiner is thoroughly satisfied that its 1937 contest has produced a champion in the person of Gordon Manley who will be able to defend the title against quite a multitude of those who care to challenge.

Great Wall Of China

A reader asks "When was the Great Wall of China built?" The reason for the question is that some of the military movements of recent days have been in the neighborhood of this former barrier. It can hardly be termed an effective barrier in the light of today's machines of war and conquest.

The Great Wall was constructed in the reign of Tsin Shih Hwangti (209-246 B. C.) as a protection against the incursions of the Tartars. It stretches from beyond Lanchow, Kansu province, in the west, to Chihli province, where it ends within a few miles of the sea of Shanhaikwan, the total length being about 1,400 miles.

Originally the wall was from 20 to 30 feet in height, with towers 40 to 50 feet high at intervals of 200 yards, but in the west much of it has crumbled to nothing better than a low mud wall with wide gaps. It has been best preserved in the vicinity of Peking.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Montreal has finally passed its anti-noise bylaw. Now all the authorities have to do is to make the thing work.

The campaign slogan in Ontario as Premier Hepburn is sounding it is "The C. I. O. will get you if you don't watch out."

The children who are endeavoring to imitate Shirley Temple in a Toronto contest will have some difficulty in imitating the income of the child screen star.

A Woodstock man has sold a bull calf for $1,000 which seems a high price until it is realized the animal came from the family of the world's champion Holstein.

Watching the experts saw wood many a man had to admit that his best efforts in the woodshed have been of the kindergarten brand.

Not long ago men could not get any work to do. Now they have convicted 24 Vancouver bread drivers for working too long.

The Winnipeg thief who robbed a transient as the latter was rescuing a man who had fallen into the Red River is establishing some right to the claim of being the meanest individual on earth.

After all Saskatchewan produces more than wheat. The July shipment of creamery butter from the province was the largest in any single month since records have been kept.

Premier Aberhart says the personnel of the Royal Commission to inquire into Dominion—provincial relations is biased. He probably means that it does not include any Socal Crediters.

Chinese in Peterborough are following every move in the war game these days so that if you get a veal cutlet when you ordered fish and chips blame Japan for the error.

They have discovered a dinosaur in Montana that is estimated to have lived in that region 80 million years ago. The farm relief problem was not even thought of when he roamed the west.

The young farmers' section of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition has set another new record but there is nothing particularly novel about that. The young people of this section have been making new marks every year.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe says that he was shocked by some of the speeches he heard in Hyde Park, London. In the Empire's capital they believe in letting every one with a grievance, real or imaginary, voice it.

Two newspapermen have been rewarded by the Bankers Association for bringing about the arrest of a bank robber. The size of the reward, $25, however suggests it may soon be necessary for the Association to hold a tag day.

An accident victim who had his leg broken in three places is shortly to be released from Goderich hospital after having been a patient there since last Labor Day. Nearly a year in hospital is a heavy price to pay for some one's carelessness at the wheel of a car.

TOO LONG

(By A. R. K.)

¶ Old James McStew worked in his store, of trade he always longed for more, for that he bent his back; he grabbed the coin as it came in, it seemed to gravitate toward him, he put it in a sack.

¶ Another store just down the street, got well nigh run from off its feet, McStew just raked it in; his business doubled in a year, he shoved things into highest gear, nor were his profits slim.

¶ McStew would take no holiday, nor would he ever go away, he had no time for that; he figured how he'd tour a bit, when it came time for him to quit, when he was old and fat.

¶ He said he'd sail across the sea, he'd like to see some palm-decked tree, he'd visit in Hongkow; but it would be in years to come, that he would leave and have his fun, he couldn't stop just now.

¶ Well James McStew has quit work now, and there are wrinkles in his brow, and he has lost his hair; he spends most all his time at home, and sits by hours there all alone, they wheel him in a chair.

¶ Rheumatics grip him if he'll walk, he couldn't shuffle half a block, and he is far from strong; he dreams about the trips he'd planned, of how he'd see some foreign land—he put it off to long.

ALL has not been smooth going in the Chrysler plant at Detroit. The Independent Association of Chrysler Employees now claims a membership of 23,000 of Chrysler's 65,000 employees, and there is war between that body and the United Automobile Workers, (C. I. O.) The Plymouth plant was closed as a result for a time. Typical statements made were:

U. A. W.: "Whenever you find legitimate and illegitimate children in a family there always is trouble."

Chrysler: "The Chrysler Corporation considers the whole affair a serious violation by the U. A. W. of their contract."

When the international yacht race was completed there was the usual talk about the next race. T. O. M. Sopwith, the British challenger, believes some changes should be made in the style of the yachts used, as at present the cost of bringing a challenger over is so great that only a few will compete. United States has showed superiority in the colossal style of race, but it is well to remember that country failed to win a single Olympic title last year and its boat racers are beaten regularly by European competitors.

Even Trees Have Fevers.

FOR the past six years A. F. Bellmann, of the Missouri Botanical Gardens, has been doing pioneer work in determining the temperature of trees. His thesis—trees, like men, cats or dogs maintain health only when certain temperatures exist. He found a poplar tree registers 60 degrees on a cool summer morning and rises to about 78 degrees during the day. This holds good even if air temperature rises to 100 or 110 degrees. When lack of moisture or some other reason causes a tree to have a temperature of 86 degrees it wilts and dies.

Can Go to Many Places.

JOHN Pierpont Morgan owns a mansion on Madison Avenue, New York, but when he does not care to go there he can go elsewhere.

He has an estate at Glen Cove, L. I.

If he cares to go to London there is a town house waiting him on Grosvenor Square. There is also a country residence at Aldenham, Hertfordshire.

When it comes to the season for grouse shooting Mr. Morgan and his friends can adjourn to Angus Farms, his 3,000-acre place near Edzell, Scotland.

If he does not care to go there then he can move in the direction of Gannochy Lodge in the Scottish foothills.

Last week the town of Glen Cove, L. I., announced the 1937 assessed valuation of Mr. Morgan's 73-acre estate on East Island, including a stone bridge connection with the mainland, a private yacht basin and other land under water surrounding the property. This year's figure is $1,325,170.

Paralysis Stops Holiday.

ABANDONING their yacht in Goderich harbor, a Youngstown, Ohio family sped homeward by road, rail and air in a tense race against death.

The race was begun by taxi from Goderich to London, from that city to Detroit by train, and from Detroit to Youngstown by plane.

With their four-year-old daughter believed a possible victim of infantile paralysis, Mr and Mrs. S. W. Rawson, of Ohio City, homeward bound after a Georgian Bay cruise, ran their yacht into port at Goderich. A partial diagnosis of the child's illness there led the parents to undertake the dash home.

In little more than 79 minutes the parents and their stricken child travelled the 94 miles between Goderich and London in a taxi.

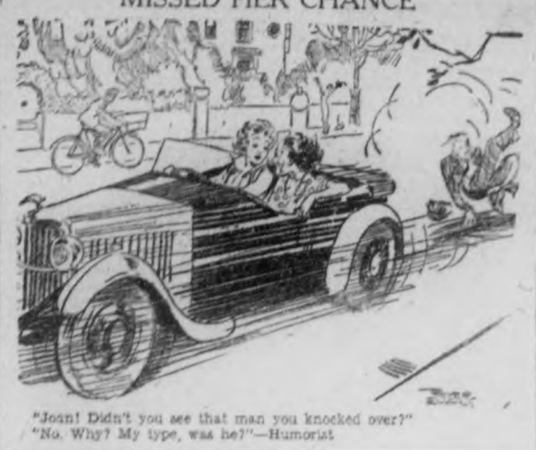
MISSED HER CHANCE



"Joan! Didn't you see that man you knocked over?"
"No. Why? My type, was he?"—Humorist

An Author In the Arctic.

Lord Tweedsmuir Should Have Fund of Material.

(From Montreal Star.)

IN his lifetime Lord Tweedsmuir has seen many lands and his ceaselessly working mind has delved in many fields of study. He has come, too, to know countless men of all kinds and classes, and to understand their thoughts. But the last few weeks must have opened to him a whole new territory of ideas, introduced to him a fascinating new part of the globe.

In the past six weeks Lord Tweedsmuir with his party has made the voyage down the 1,200 miles of waterways from the northernmost railhead in Canada down to the rim of the Arctic Ocean. He has talked to the men and women who live up there, in Canada's new upper storey—to "old-timers" who have the North so in their blood that civilization appals them, to men who trade for furs and the natives who make the catch, and to missionaries who have given their lives to the people of the North.

Lord Tweedsmuir came "out" by great airplane hops each of which would have carried him across Europe more than once. On the way he stopped at places where mining operations are going on, and where he could see for himself of the potential wealth that lies in what used to be called "waste lands."

The North, of which Lord Tweedsmuir saw so much, is going to become a more and more important part of Canada. To develop it will need a united effort from the country, and so it should help to bind the Dominion closer together. Canada is one of the few important countries in the world that still have a "frontier." Up there in the North it has one with all the romance and opportunity of other frontier regions that have passed into history.

Now the North needs someone to write about it, to tell of its hold on men, and the rewards that it offers to those who have the courage to answer its call. Lord Tweedsmuir has been to see for himself and to learn its ways. Canadians, whether "up North" or "down South," will hope that he will write of the Canadian North—for no one is better suited.

Nudity Would Not Surprise Ye Ed

Almost Naked They Go On Parade Displaying Their Hides In Public.

(Midland Free Press)

WE could not help wishing that good old Queen Victoria would come back for a year or two when we looked in a Toronto store window and saw what it is proposed the girls will wear on the bathing beaches this summer, or perhaps we should say what they won't wear. Just a pair of shorts and a fancy ribbon across the breasts which is styled "a butterfly halter" with a wide expanse of stomach and back bare to the breeze and the gaze of the curious, that was all. We are quite aware that in Africa the ladies go in what Tribby used to call "the altogether," and from the progress girls are making in their strip-tease performances on our beaches we wonder how long it will be before complete nudity will be the fashion.

There was a day when modesty was considered a feminine virtue, but to-day there seems no limit to which some shameless wenches will not go. Not only do some of them display their alleged charms on the beaches but in a summer resort town like Midland they parade up and down our main street clad in the scantiest of costumes. The bigger, fatter and uglier they are the more anxious are some of them to display their hides in public. If there is no escape from feminine nakedness on the beaches we should at least be spared from having to look at it on the crowded main street on Saturday nights.

We are reminded of a story of a London bus conductor who in the good old days comforted a ultra modest maid, who screamed and almost fainted when she caught her dress on the step of the bus and exposed her knees, with "Never mind, lady. Hop along in. Legs ain't no treat to me."

Legs long ago ceased being a treat in this tourist town. There are other treats we can do without.

Raising the Barber's Status

British Parliament Elevates Hairdressing Into Profession.

(From the St. Thomas Times-Journal.)

UNDER a bill which has passed the British Parliament the calling of a barber or hairdresser is to be elevated to that of a profession. All apprentices, assistants and masters are to be registered and subject to the discipline of a board which will have power to take away the license of any member "guilty of infamous or disgraceful conduct in a professional sense." Of what such conduct could a barber be guilty? Talking too much, or taking too large a nick of a customer's ear?

An interesting feature of this bill is that customers are not referred to as customers or patrons but as "patients." A barber will shave a patient or cut his hair. There is a somewhat sinister implication about the word patient, as if it meant some bloody business were afoot, but it may be a "throw back" to the era when the professions of barber, surgeon and dentist were all one.

Barbers are referred to in Ezekiel, so that they belong to one of the oldest professions in the world. Barbers are referred to in Roman history 1,500 years ago. In England all surgical and dental operations were performed by barbers for hundreds of years, the profession of surgery not coming into being about 200 years ago. There was not, of course, much surgery, because the science had not been studied, and there were, of course, no anaesthetics until about a century ago. A charter was granted the profession in 1461 which entitled barbers to act as surgeons. But the principal surery for hundreds of years, without benefit of anaesthetic, or antiseptic, was blood-letting, which was the cure-all for any kind of ailment. An untold number of people, of high as well as low estate, were deprived of blood which they badly needed but the theory was that diseases were due to bad blood, so some of it was taken away from them. The barber did the job, and the red and white striped pole which is the barber's sign today represents the splint with which the early barber-surgeon used to bind the patient's arm. The last surgical right of English barbers was removed in 1745 when they were prohibited from practicing dentistry, which simply consisted of drawing teeth.

Again, somehow, we don't like the idea of being a "patient" in barber's chair.

Here Is A Humane Cat

DISTINGUISHED by her deeds, requiring no formal name to set her apart, she is always "The Cat" to the keepers in the Bird House. Other cats there are—the Alley Cat that ranges the alleyway behind the macaw cages, and the Cellar Cats that do their mousing exclusively in the basement. But The Cat is the cat in the quarantine room.

When Forbush was State Ornithologist of Massachusetts he broadcast a questionnaire to determine if any cat had ever been known that would not kill birds. Almost alone in the nation-wide survey stood the four cats in the Bird House of the New York Zoological Park. Not only will they not kill birds, but The Cat displays actual embarrassment in the presence of any live edible, small bird that may be at liberty in the quarantine room.

It is all a matter of training. When she was a kitten, imported as a mouser, she was taught carefully to distinguish between legitimate prey—mice and rats—and forbidden fruit; birds of any kind or condition. The training was simple. While one keeper held the kitten, another held a small bird and with its sharp beak pecked a few times at the kitten's nose. The lesson was direct and to the point, and as a kitten and later as a cat, The Cat has never forgotten it. To The Cat, the most helpless bird is something to be feared and avoided.

In the course of the years she has borne 64 kittens, most of which have passed some time in the Bird House before going on to homes elsewhere. By some mystery of communication she has taught her kittens the lesson that she learned in infancy, and they also respected the birds in their charge. Whether they, too, in the outside world, taught their kittens the inviolability of birds is an interesting speculation, but of doubtful conclusion.

NOT WORTH A DOG

(Victoria Times)

A REAL dog-lover—one who knows dogs and knows how they should be treated—will readily agree that the continued annoyance of a barking dog is unnecessary. A little consideration and care on the part of the owner can eliminate the nuisance and the serious inconvenience to neighbors in the district. A real dog-lover will see that his pet is well fed, well watered and provided with accommodation for the night that will eliminate the restless spirit which causes a dog to howl through to the lone vigils of early morning. It is an open question whether those who will not go to this trouble for their pets and lack enough consideration to do everything possible to assure the peace of their neighbors are even entitled to the honor of owning a dog.

TOO MONOTONOUS

(Ottawa Journal)

FROM up in the Arctic circle last week came a story which many, perhaps, didn't notice. Yet it was worth noticing. Because, of its kind, it was a perfect little sermon.

Lord Tweedsmuir, in his far northern journey, was at Aklavik, Western Arctic capital, there met 84-year-old John Firth, a native of the Orkney Islands, and his half-breed wife. Firth told the Governor General he refused to leave the North because he "disliked civilization," added:

"I went out once to Winnipeg. It was in 1908, and I stood on Portage avenue watching the people rush here and there. Everyone seemed in a terrible hurry, chasing another dollar. I had three months' furlough and I had to come back in one. It was too monotonous."

"Too monotonous." Most of us, we imagine, must think of John Firth as eccentric. As "queer." Yet we wonder whether, after all, he isn't happier, and more sane, than the majority of us.

UNDER CONCRETE

(National Review (London)

IT is evident that some public authorities have too much money to spend. An evidence of this is the rapidity with which our lovely country is being laid down to huge concrete roads, said to be needed to provide for an expansion of long-distance motor traffic. We wish all success to the Selborne Society who are trying to protect a lovely district in Hampshire from such destruction, but what is wanted is not only a Selborne Society but an All-England Society for the prevention of further road building. Other districts, no less lovely, but not so well known, are being destroyed daily, and plans for yet further destruction are prepared on a large scale. What is the use of the Government appealing to farmers to grow food, what is the use of their subsidies to corn and sugar and their reduced prices for lime and slag, if they show their real indifference to the whole question of food production by encouraging these plans for putting fertile land under concrete?

QUEBEC SHOCKED

(Montreal Star)

THE law-abiding people of Quebec have been inexpressibly shocked during these last few weeks by the many acts of violence which have accompanied the unhappy strikes in various industries. Strikes themselves are rare things with us because our people are too intelligent not to know that a strike is a "war" which no one wins. It means losses all round.

But that violence should accompany strikes is not in the Quebec tradition. We have disputes between capital and labor like all the world, and we settle them within the law. But when men who are enlisted on either side are set upon, beaten and sometimes seriously injured, good old Quebec seems to be taking a blood-stained leaf from the book of the more violent, Communist-led rioters on American battlefields from Homestead to the C. I. O.

STARTING SOMETHING

(Brantford Expositor)

FROM Washington comes word that tests in every state reveal that men excel women in the driving of autos. The reports show that the males of the species generally possess better vision, are not so easily blinded by the glare of other lights, hear better, park better and concentrate more closely on the wheel. To offset this list women see better from the corner of the eye, distinguish the color of traffic lights more quickly and drive more slowly. Of course only mere men were at the head of the investigation.

ONTARIO GRAIN

Wheat, $1.05 to $1.07; oats, 41c to 43c; barley 54c to 57c; corn, 78c to 82c; rye, 75c to 80c; malting barley, 59c to 62c; milling oats, 41c to 43c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21 (C.P.). — General liquidation caused by acute weakness of Chicago corn and wheat futures pushed wheat lower for the third consecutive day on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

After holding above Thursday's close on sales of 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat to exporters and some speculative buying due to delayed harvest conditions in Manitoba and Southern Alberta, wheat futures dipped to close 1¾ to 1⅞ cents down.

Hedging pressure of new crop wheat helped run the market into a stop loss order range and only light covering in the final minutes prevented prices from closing at the day's bottom levels, 2¼ cents lower. Grain deliveries from the Prairie Provinces on Thursday totalled 1,236,000 bushels.

Liverpool brokers witnessed another erratic session and wheat closed firm, ¼d lower to ¼d higher. Losses of more than a penny were posted in early trade due to pressure of Russian offers and Argentine rain reports but prices reacted on late short-covering. Buenos Aires at noon was ⅜ to 1¾ cents higher.

Cash wheat trading continued on a slow basis despite lowering of the spreads for top grades of red spring wheats.

Light buying in oats and barley by exporters resulted in those futures trading steady around Thursday's close. Rye dipped 1½ to ¾ cent, while flax was virtually neglected.

Carolina Visitor Gets Large Lunge At Stoco Lake—Three Feet Long

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 21.—The district of Centre Hastings County is experiencing one of the best years of tourists from across the border, and the fishing is certainly to their liking as experienced by the following during the week at Stoco Lake: Jean Kirkpatrick, 14-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. K. Kirkpatrick, Columbia, South Carolina, is the envy of her companions and family at Stoco Lake, Tweed. Wednesday evening in company with her father, the party shortly arriving from the southern state, and having their first fishing trip with Jean holding the trool. The troll snagged into something she thought was the bottom of the lake. She was soon to learn that it was not so but an active fighting lunge. The battle was a series of dips and dives by the big fellow but with expert handling the splendid specimen was hauled into the boat and once taken to the shore became the cynosure of all eyes. The muskinonge weighed 26 pounds and was three feet, seven inches in length. The specimen will be mounted and the fish taken home to show his Carolina friends just what kind of fish there is in Canadian water. Stoco Lake is proving to be a favorite ground for lunge fishing at this particular time of the year and some find specimens have been taken this last week.

At Moira Lake, two miles west of Tweed, Dr. D. H. Avery and Cecil Clapp arrived to catch their quota of pickerel and bass. An American angler from Flint, Mich., was successful in landing a 37¼ pound lunge.

Mrs. Mahan, Toronto, who is camping at Mrs. Farrell's cottage, Sugar Island, captured a lunge this week which tipped the scales at 21 pounds. Mrs. Mahan had just left the wharf in front of her camp when the lunge took hold. She landed him in about fifteen minutes. The proud captor was using a trolling line and a single spoon at the time.

Lindsay Girl Fully Clothed Leaps Into River And Saves Her Friend

LINDSAY, Aug. 21. — Wanda Smoke, 15-year-old daughter of Mr and Mrs. Albert Smoke, Queen Street, on Friday saved the life of Ellen Haywood, St. Peter Street, when the latter fell into a deep part of the Scugog River.

The two girls, with the other girls, had been bathing in the river. When the party left for home, some one noticed that Ellen was missing. Returning to the waterside, Miss Haywood, a non-swimmer, was seen thrashing in the depths of the river.

Fully clothed, Miss Smoke dived in and brought the girl to shore in an unconscious condition. Artificial respiration was applied, and the girl is now resting comfortably.

PREMIER HEPBURN PROMISES SECOND SUNSHINE BUDGET

ENTERPRISE, Ont., Aug. 21—(CP).—If Ontario will re-elect his government, Premier Mitchell Hepburn promises "another Sunshine Budget." He told a Frontenac-Addington County Liberal rally here yesterday, his government was the first in Ontario this century to balance the budget.

The provincial debt was increasing when his administration assumed control, he said, but "this year I was able to present a balanced budget."

Mr. Hepburn said he found the government was being defrauded of millions of dollars in succession duties. Last year $15,900,000 was collected from succession duties and collections would total more than $20,000,000 this year.

"Big interests have challenged the validity of the act, and this brings me to one of the points why I am calling this election," he said. "We feel that the government is being defrauded of from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000."

Will Collect Duties

"You put me back and I'll collect the succession duties and you will get another sunshine budget next year."

Reviewing his administration, the Premier said: "Millions are pouring into the government by income tax, and that's paying for your roads, old age pensions and mothers' allowance.

"We're putting the burden of paying on the shoulders of those best able to pay. But I fear that if Rowe (Conservative leader Earl Rowe) is returned to power those succession duties are not going to be paid.

Mr. Hepburn reiterated his opposition to the Committee for Industrial Organization, declaring he believed in sitdown conferences rather than sitdown strikes to settle Labor disputes.

The convention unanimously chose Colin A. Campbell, member of the House of Commons for Addington, as Liberal candidate in the forthcoming provincial election. Mr. Campbell was elected to the Dominion Parliament in a 1934 by-election and retained his seat in the 1935 general elections. He has been mentioned as a prospective member of the Ontario cabinet.

ONTARIO HOUSE WILL BE OPENED ROWE PROMISES

ESSEX, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP).—Ontario House in London, England, will be reopened as a sales agency for Ontario farm products if his party wins the forthcoming Ontario general election, Hon. Earl Rowe, Conservative leader, said in an address here last night.

(Ontario House was closed soon after the Hepburn Government took office in 1934. The office of Agent-General for Ontario in the British Isles was abolished. More recently the property was sold).

"The other provinces, New Zealand and Australia, have their selling offices in England," said Mr. Rowe. "Why then should the loyal farmers of Ontario be so handicapped? Is it because Mr. Hepburn is anti-British as well as the foe of the farmers?"

Mr. Rowe spoke to the South Essex Conservative convention. James Armstrong, Mersey farmer, was chosen candidate. About 800 attended.

Betrayed Workingman.

"Premier Hepburn has betrayed the workingman—the union laborer—in his stand on the labor problem; although he himself is a farmer, he has betrayed the farmer by refusal of farm loans and reduction of agricultural services," the Conservative Chief charged.

Nullification of Hydro-Electric power Hydro contracts had betrayed Ontario's credit as Premier Aberhart had betrayed Alberta's by arbitrary refusal to meet loan terms, said Mr. Rowe. This was on top of his betrayal of labor.

"Labor has suffered long under Mr. Hepburn, and does not easily forget," said Mr. Rowe. "The working man of this province will remember Oshawa. He will remember Peterborough and the gassing of women and girls. He will remember the pitiful conditions at Brockville and he will not forget the Hepburn dictatorship is the worst enemy the working class of Ontario ever had. It has betrayed the working man and turned out the army against him."

Bonuses for better livestock breeding have been reduced, many services abolished and farmers refused loans in order to build a surplus for election purposes, said Mr. Rowe. These things together with the abolition of Ontario House had cost Ontario farmers ten million a year.

"Mr. Hepburn has no money to lend the farmer out of $9,000,000 surplus," he said. "He has no money for the better breeding of livestock. No money for the Agricultural College at Guelph, for the farmers' sons. But he has plenty of money to pay a valet $1,300 a year to look after the $15,000 bull which just managed to win fourth place at the Royal Winter Fair."

Two Years Are Spent Fixing Up Next Farm

Washington, Aug. 21.

ERNEST N. HUDGINS, young Washington and Virginia attorney, has learned he put in two years of his spare time fixing up a farm he did not own.

He bought a place at nearby Chantilly, Va., in 1935. The trouble was that Hudgins bought the farm from a bank, sight unseen, and failed to get specific instructions on how to get there.

He and Mrs. Hudgins liked the place they found. He cleared the ground and mended the roadway. Then, the other day, the real owner showed up. The Hudgins moved on down the road to their own place.

STYLES FOR COLLEGE ARE JAUNTY, SMART

Two-Piece Dresses in Velveteen or Wool Are "Right" for Classes and Quick Dash Across Campus

Two-piece velveteen suit with button jacket and ascot.

By LISBETH

THE BACK to school mass movement will soon be in full swing. Even now, mothers are looking for suitable garments to fill out the college wardrobe for the girl who is going back to school or who is starting the great adventure.

The freshman wants to look smart for she feels—and rightly too—that a good deal of her success with her schoolmates will be due to a carefully chosen wardrobe.

Jaunty and smart for the college girls is the two-toned striped coat, shown left of the illustration. It has a skunk tuxedo collar, and may be had in black and white, all black, green and brown. It will be good looking for the entire year worn over simple dresses and with appropriate accessories.

For All Occasions.

For the campus, for classes and sports wear we show a two-piece velveteen suit, center, with button jacket and ascot. Exceedingly wearable and easy to keep looking neat and chic, it comes in beige and green, blue and wine, and red and black.

A campus suit with a dash, indeed, is pictured right. It is another two-piece suit of wool with a monotone skirt and two-tone plaid jacket. It is the very thing for the crispness of perfect football days, or that last minute scurry across the campus to class when the first briskness of winter is in the air.

Notice the frog fastenings of the blouse, the tied collar matching the skirt in color, and the pert little hat of the skirt material. This may be obtained in purple and black and royal and black.

Fashion Service

It's easy as A, B, C to make this cool red and white plaid cotton dirndl jumper dress. Diagram shows minimum parts of pattern. Red rick rack accents the cunning square neck, which may be high or very low at the back.

The tailored shirt blouse of white lawn has red buttons down the front. It will be so useful for back-to-school wear.

Another suggestion for school is navy blue wool jumper and lots of cotton blouses for variety. Complete sewing instructions accompany the diagrammed sewing chart included in pattern. Style No. 2978 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2 yards of 39-inch material with 2¼ yards of braid for dress; with 1¼ yards of 35-inch material for blouse.

McNeely—Gosselin

"Something old and something new,
Something borrowed and something blue".

The old adage was followed to the letter by a bride of this morning (Saturday) when Catherine Helena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gosselin became the bride of Charles Victory McNeely, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McNeely. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Father J. J. O'Brien in the Church of the Sacred Heart.

Ferns, palms and many lovely flowers were used to decorate the church. The wedding music was played by J. Armstrong, the organist, and Miss Stella Brady sang the "Ave Maria" during the celebration of the Nuptial Mass.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white bridal satin was fashioned with charming simplicity, having a high neckline, leg-o' mutton sleeves, and high fitted waist - line from a very long train. Tiny satin-covered which the skirt fell in slim folds to buttons trimmed the back from the neckline to the waist. Her veil of silk net with longer train than her gown, was arranged on her hair with a coronet of lilies, little clusters of lilies with drops of lilly buds being formed at either side. She wore white satin sandals and white net gloves, the wrists of which were trimmed with a touch of "blue" satin—the only suggestion of color in her costume. A very "old" stirling silver ring was worn on the little finger of her right hand and tucked in her sleeve was a "borrowed" handkerchief. The bride's bouquet was of white lilies.

Miss Zita Boland, as bridesmaid, wore a princess gown of palest pink tustle. A cluster of flowers trimmed triple sheer, fashioned with a tiny the neck and rows of fine ruching the short puffed sleeves. An exceptionally large black mohair hat, with single pink flower adorning the brim, black net gloves and black suede sandals completed her costume. Her bouquet was of pale pink Rubrum lilies.

The best man was Keefe McLaughlin, Phm.B. of Toronto.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served to the bridal party by the Porter S. White Co. Later a reception for the immediate relatives and friends was held at the home of the bride, where the large number of beautiful wedding gifts were on display.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. McNeely left later by motor for Toronto enroute to a summer resort for their honeymoon. The bride chose as her going away costume a redingote of brown sheer worn over a dress of brown and natural polka dot crepe. She wore a wide-brimmed matching hat of fox felt and corded ribbon, her accessories being brown sandals, brown net gloves with yellow wrist posies and a smart handbag of tiny wooden beads.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. McNeely will reside at 181 Lock street.

Allison—Roberts

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, George Street United Church will be the scene of a very pretty wedding when Ethel Mary, daughter of Mrs. T. H. Roberts and the late T. H. Roberts will become the bride of Howard Charles Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Allison, with the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe performing the ceremony.

The church will be beautifully decorated with ferns and gladioli blossoms. The wedding music will be played by H. Northrop and Miss Jessie Patterson will sing "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Percy Priest of Morrisburg, Ontario, the bride will wear a graceful gown of white silk lace over satin, its charming little jacket fastened with tiny satin-covered buttons from the Peter Pan collar to the waist, and fashioned with long tight-fitting sleeves, gathered at the shoulders. She will wear a veil of silk embroidered net, arranged in halo effect on her hair and just touching the floor. Her ankle-strap sandals will be of white satin. She will carry a shower bouquet of Premier Supreme roses.

The bridesmaids will be Miss Olive Crough and Miss Evelyn Millar. The former will be gowned in blue taffeta. Fashioned with bouffant skirt and short puffed sleeves, the gown is gathered at the shoulders and above the fitted waist, which is finished with a narrow belt and bow of the material. Narrow bands of knife-pleating trim the border of the skirt and across the sleeves, and a cluster of pink, yellow and blue taffeta flowers are worn at the high neck. She will wear a stitched poke-bonnet of matching material, with a tiny wreath of flowers adorning the under brim. Long blue lace mittens and blue sandals will complete her costume. Her bouquet will be pink Talisman roses. Miss Evelyn Millar will wear a similarly made gown, and bonnet, but in a pale green shade of taffeta. She will wear green mittens and sandals and will carry a bouquet of yellow Johanna Hill roses.

Ronald Payne will attend the groom as best man. The ushers will be Tommy Roberts and Fred Allison.

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held at 503 Bethune street, the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Later the bride and groom will leave by motor to spend their honeymoon at Sparrow Lake. Muskoka, and the former will wear for travelling a knitted suit in a rust shade with a black velvet halo hat. Her accessories will be black suede shoes, gloves and purse.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Allison will reside at 526 Bolivar street when they return to the city.

Falkner—Mulholland

One of the loveliest weddings of the year is taking place at three o'clock this (Saturday) afternoon in St. John's Church, when Elizabeth Macbeth, younger daughter of Mrs. H. A. Morrow and the late T. David Mulholland, will be married to Graeme Falkner, will be married to Mrs. James Falkner of Ottawa. The Rev. Canon W. P. Robertson will officiate.

In the church, gadioli blossoms in shades of peach and fuchsia are placed on the altar and in tall standards at the chancel steps. Tiny bouquets of peach gladioli and fern tied with white ribbons decorate the ends of the pews. The wedding music will be played by Miss Lily Bacon, A.T.C.M., and two of the choir boys, Leslie Groombridge and Ernest Lees, will sing "O Perfect Love," during the signing of the register.

The bride will be given in marriage by her stepfather, H. A. Morrow. Her gown of white satin with v-neckline and long close-fitting sleeves, is gathered above the waist, the slimly fitting skirt falling into a train at the back. Clusters of orange blossoms (once worn by her mother) trim the veil of fine tulle which will be arranged on her hair in coronet effect, with short face veil, and covering her long train. Her jewelery will be two long strands of pearls, and she will wear white kid gloves and white satin sandals. Her bouquet will be of palest pink Sweetheart roses.

Miss Mary Mulholland, as maid of honor to her sister, will wear turquoise blue triple sheer, fashioned on soft lines, with sash of the same shade and long "finger-tip" sleeves, her gown is strikingly trimmed with rows of the material in shades of Delores blue, Cameo mauve and fuchsia, which peep over the shoulders at the front and cross at the back to fall into a short colorful train. She will wear a turban of the same material as her gown and combined with bands of the same colors, and turquoise sandals. Her bouquet will be of fuchsia gladioli.

The four bridesmaids who will attend the bride will be Mrs. Paul Hamilton of Toronto, Miss Janet Falkner and Miss Molly Wood of Montreal, and Miss Rachel Buchan of Sarnia, who is a cousin of the bride. Their gowns, similarly made and trimmed with the same shades as that of the maid of honor, will be of Formosa peach triple sheer, with matching turbans and sandals. They will carry bouquets of peach gladioli.

The best man will be the groom's brother, Dr. Keith Falkner of Espanola.

The ushers will be Alex. Donnelly, Herbert Bradburn, Melville Rogers of Ottawa, and cousin of the groom, and Peter Mulholland, brother of the bride.

The groom's brother officers of the Prince of Wales' Rangers will form a guard of honor with arch of swords for the bride and groom to pass under as they leave the church.

A garden reception will be held later at "Clonsilla," home of the bride. Mrs. Morrow will receive, wearing a gown of "blue, sky blue" triple sheer, having a short bolero jacket, trimmed with criss-crossed fine ruching. She will wear a large hat, matching accessories, and will carry pale pink roses. Mrs. Falkner, receiving also with the bridal party, will be gowned in grey lace and will wear a large hat of purple silk and a corsage bouquet of purple sweet peas and lily of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Graeme Falkner will leave for a motor trip to the Berkshire Hills in Connecticut. The latter has chosen for her going away costume a dress of navy Georgette in redingote style, the dress being finished with a large pink buckle and a bow of pink silk, and the redingote having "rie-rac" trim of the material, a smart navy felt hat and navy accessories. She will wear a corsage of pale pink roses and lily of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Falkner will live in Peterborough when they return from their honeymoon.

Guests will be present at the wedding from Ottawa, Toronto, London, New Liskeard, Kingston, Montreal, Sarnia, and Ogdensburg, N.Y.

BULKY AND COLLARLESS SHORT COATS ARE SMART

BLUE FOX in a bulky, collarless, hip-length coat is an important silhouette for afternoon and evening. Here it is illustrated for you. This is the newest note that has entered the fur field, and it is a distinctive one. The bunchy silhouette, lack of collar and short sleeves are all "different."

Color in fur coats is also an important new note. Gray and brown are particularly important. Persian paw in rich tones of gray make straight box coats without collars, three-quarter length, with mannishly tailored sleeves.

Brown and gray caracula are very smart in box coats, swaggers, princess models and in the empire silhouette. Gray, of course, blends with every color in your fall wardrobe.

Models which are particularly noticeable are the short mink in box styling, which is one of the collarless retinue, and with shoulders that are not quite as accented as many.

Blond Persian lamb may be mentioned as another "color" apple. In a full-length fitted coat ornamented down the front with little bows of silk in matching tone, with a tiny turnover collar and tailored sleeves, it is a most distinctive wrap for autumn.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

As it is the mark of great minds to say many things in a few words, so it is that little minds use many words to say nothing.

—La Rouchefoucald.

And this:

"No place is so sacred from such fops is barr'd,
Nor is Paul's church more safe than Paul's church-yard:
Nay, fly to altars; there they'll talk you dead.
For fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

—Pope.

DEAR FRIENDS:

I wonder why it is that some people tire us so much more than others? We try to be tactful and courteous with them, we try to be as nice and understanding as we can, but somehow or other we do not "click."

They seem to be all right, friendly and agreeable, they seek our society, but something inside revolts and we want none of them, yet the more we pull away, the more they seem to pursue us. Sometimes when I feel like that towards a person, I berate myself for it, I endeavor to get rid of it, but cannot, so the next best thing is try and find out why they make me feel like that.

Why am I glad to see one person, and irritable when I see another, why do I find pleasure with one and a great weariness with the other? So, I have come to the conclusion that the one who gives me most pleasure is the one who is most congenial to me, whose tastes agree with my own, who understands me better because their thought processes are more like mine.

Yet the one who irritates me and "gets on my nerves" may try more to please me, may be more generous in a way, yet even that generosity is not liked and only succeeds in making me feel obligated to one I want no favors from, so that even being generous annoys me.

And I think the reason we feel like that towards certain people is that they take more from us than they give. More stimulation, more zest, and besides that they do not know their place, they intrude at any and all times, and no matter how much they talk, "they never really say anything."

There is nothing I like better than friendly talk, but when the main topic circles around the same thing day after day, when there is no depth to it, it becomes a weariness hard to be borne.

Politeness demands that we show some interest in what these people talk about, they assume that this drivel is of prime importance to us, they annoy us beyond endurance, and hints or yawns slip past them without making a mark. When you have them in your own home for any length of time, you begin to wonder what ever could you have done to be afflicted with that type of person.

I have a technique when I encounter them on the street, I have another when I meet them at someone else's home, but I am more or less at their mercy when unfortunately I must have them in my own home.

Now, when that occurs, I use mental suggestion, or thought transference. (You don't know what that is? Then consult a true psychologist, she will tell you.) And it works every time. Sometimes it is harder than others, for they think they are depriving you of something very valuable if they go home early, but I smile and persevere, and gradually the idea takes root, and they act upon it.

And then the blessed relief when they have departed. You stretch and relax and draw a deep breath, and thank God that THAT is over for another time. Yet the true cause of a person being a bore, is that they are not mentally developed, so must get their ideas from you and me and the like of us. If only they would read, or learn, but until they do we can only "suffer fools gladly" or use mental suggestion.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

Man Held in Jail Following Assault

NAPANEE, Ont., Aug. 21 (CP).—Fred McDonald of Wilcox Mills was held in jail here today on a cargo of assault, occasioning bodily harm, following an attack Wednesday night upon Peter Pickens, 65-year-old road worker, while the latter was alone in his shanty near Erinsville.

McDonald, 30, was arrested by Provincial Constable F. W. Barrett of Napanee yesterday. McDonald, police said, will be held in custody here until Pickens is able to appear as a witness in the preliminary hearing of the charge.

Pickens is in Hospital at Kingston in a serious condition. A knife and a boulder apparently were used in the attack. The aged man is suffering from a fractured skull and broken ribs. One ear was severed.

No Civic Taxes For Five Years

HUNTINGBURG, Ind.—Citizens are convinced this Southern Indiana community is the only place to live, for they will be free of city taxes for the fifth consecutive year. The City Council, learning sufficient funds were on hand to pay all obligations, decided against city levies on personal and real property.

Policemen vs. Firemen

NEW BRITAIN, Conn.—"He who laughs last—" The cops got their ha-ha when the fire alarm rang just after they sat down with the city's firemen for a banquet. It was the firemen's turn, however, when they returned to demand that the cops find out who turned in false alarm.

FAIR DIRECTORS HAVE LUNCHEON WITH KIWANIANS

The closeness of the link between city and country was emphasized by J. B. Nelson, secretary of the Ontario Milk Control Board, in an address he gave at a joint luncheon meeting of Kiwanians and Exhibition Board representatives at Empress Hotel on Friday. The meeting was in charge of Kiwanian Dr. J. J. Craig, chairman of the club's agricultural committee.

Mr. Nelson an ex-president of the local Kiwanis Club was introduced by Harold Scott. He prefaced his remarks with a tribute to the valuable contribution which the Kiwanis Club and Fair Board are making to the community, and remarked on the six years he spent in Peterborough as agricultural representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture as providing some of the happiest recollections of his life.

He declared that the Kiwanis Club and Exhibition Board were kindred organizations in so much as both were committed to a policy of community development, and he described the Fair Board "as probably the greatest service club in the county."

Thomas Brown, president of the Exhibition Board, was among the guests at the luncheon. Others included Arthur Bredin, managing director; Alex Huston, Vivian S. Milburn and Art Runions, successor to Mr. Nelson as county agricultural representative.

Developing the thought of community service, Mr. Nelson showed how the innumerable occupations of the city dwellers are closely interlocked with those of the rural folk. Stressing one phase of this inter-relationship he spoke briefly of the milk industry and of what the Ontario Milk Control Board was doing to ensure a safe supply of milk to the consumer.

The immensity of the milk industry in Ontario, Mr. Nelson stated, was reflected in the fact that there was an annual turnover of twenty millions of dollars involved in the producing and distribution of milk alone.

Mr. Nelson declared the Ontario Milk Control Board like similar bodies in most other parts of the world, had come into being during the height of the depression when the dairying business started to get into a chaotic mess, and had proved of great assistance to the producer, distributor and consumer of milk.

Kiwanian William Ovens, manager of a local dairy firm voiced the tanks of the gathering to Mr. Nelson for his address and spoke of the valuable work which the Milk Board was doing.

Three Automobiles Involved In Crash

In a recent triple crash which occurred in a heavy downpour of rain on Highway 28 near the city filtration plant, three automobiles were badly wrecked.

Mrs. Harry Dummitt, 38 Rubidge street, stated to be the driver of one of the cars involved and her passenger, Mrs. M. Stone, this city, were severely bruised and shaken when their car overturned.

Dr. J. C. Smith, Lakefield, and his passenger, W. H. Bradshaw, escaped injury, as also did Ed. Robertson of Toronto, who was reported to have been driving a car owned by W. C. Simmons, 29 Orpington road.

The doctor was proceeding towards Lakefield, and the two other cars were travelling in the opposite direction.

Potatoes Bring 90 Cents a Bag

A profusion of gladioli and the large harvest-time supply of garden produce were features of the Farmers' Market to-day. Corn was available in good quantity at 15 cents a dozen. Apples were in demand at 40 cents a peck. Potatoes were 90 cents a bag.

Eggs appeared more plentiful but the price held firm between 25 and 27 cents. Butter was sold at 30 cents, and chickens brought 20 to 23 cents a pound.

Sparks from the Preacher's Anvil

The nation's need is that of a superking of benevolence, and He Who is the Saviour of the individual will also be the Saviour of the world. He Who rules in a Spiritual kingdom will also rule a Temporal kingdom. To Him has been promised the Throne of David, before which "every knee shall bow." He will be Ruler of the kings of the earth. As the King of Kings, the government will be upon his shoulders.

This super-state of righteousness will not come into being by the gradual diffusion of the principles of "the kingdom," but by a glorious heavenly Revelation—"Behold He cometh with clouds." "Then shall He sit upon the throne of His glory" (Psalm 2, II. Thess. 1:7-8, Rev. 19: 11-16, Joel 3: 9; Zech. 14: 3-5-9; Matt. 25: 31.) In all these Scriptures there is the story of Lord Jesus battling His way through the selfish rule of man to His earthly kingdom. It will be a day of wrath and judgment when He ushers in the Kingdom of Heaven on earth.

The Book is full of fore-gleams of that glorious millenium. The wolf shall dwell with the lamb. The tree of the field shall yield her fruit. There shall be no famine. The lame man shall leap as an hart and the tongue of the dumb shall sing. The king shall spare the poor and shall break in pieces the oppressor. Every man shall sit under his vine and under his fig tree. Nation shall not lift up sword against nation. Neither shall they learn war any more; but all nations shall serve Him.

Soul! He Who loved us and washed us from our sins in His own blood also makes us kings and priests. Those who yield to His sovereignty now will live and reign with Christ a thousand years. Happy prospect for the believer is this!

33 YEAR RECORD FOR CHRIS HUGHES WITH GRAFTON CO.

Chris. Hughes, well-known manager of Grafton and Company, Limited, in this city is to-day receiving the congratulations of business friends on the occasion of the 33rd anniversary of his connection with the long-established firm.

Mr. Hughes entered the employ of Grafton's as a parcel boy on August 22, 1904, and can look back on the day when his job was to deliver about the city the premier awards which the company distributed in its earlier years. Under the late W. E. Conway, manager at that time, he advanced to more responsible positions in the store and, in 1911 obtained promotion to a position in Grafton's London store.

In 1913 he returned to Peterborough and, with the exception of a few months in 1918, his association with the store in this city has been uninterrupted to the present. On June 1 1925 he was promoted to the managership.

Mr. Hughes recalls very few George street firms of the present day whose business establishment dates back to the year of his first employment with Grafton's. During those intervening years, the operations of the store have expanded and the store has been extended from its original frontage on No. 379 George street to include No. 381. Handling solely men's and boys' clothing and furnishings, the store has remained rigidly with that line throughout its existence.

Mr. Hughes was born in Dummer Township, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes. He received his education in local schools.

AGED TWEED MAN VICTIM OF THUG

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 21.—Peter Pickens, an elderly resident of Erinsville, was the victim of a murderous assault in his cabin on the shores of Beaver Lake, near Woodcock's Mill this week. He was found by neighbours in a partly unconscious condition and his removal to Hotel Dieu Hospital at Kingston was ordered by Dr. Hunt of Marlbank.

Pickens, who lived a lonely life in a cabin, was a recluse to whom residents paid little attention although he was respected by those of the neighborhood. He was known to have carried large sums of money on occasions. The assailant, it is alleged, entered his home after dark, and armed with a club, beat the old man viciously about the head and shoulders. The sum of $45.00 was removed from his trouser's pockets, although it is understood he carried in another part of his clothing, well secreted, a much larger sum.

When found, he was suffering from serious head and body injuries and was immediately taken to the home of his nephew, Jack Jickens, near Erinsville. Following investigations, Fred McDonald of the district was taken into custory by Constable Anderson of Tamworth and is being held for questioning.

OBITUARY

JOHN KENNEDY.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

DOURO, Aug. 21.—The death occurred in Detroit on Wednesday, August 18, of John Kennedy, fourth son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kennedy. Deceased is survived by his widow and two sons in Detroit; one sister, Miss Helena Kennedy, R.N., of New York City, and five brothers: Daniel, Francis and Wilfred of Douro, and Leonard and Vincent in Detroit. A brother, Michael, predeceased him some ten years ago.

Four Brothers At The Exhibition

The McIntyre family, sons of the late Fred McIntyre who is remembered as a former reeve of Otonabee, comprised an interesting group at the Exhibition Thursday afternoon. They were presumably the only quartette of brothers on the grounds. Left to Right: Arthur, district sales representative of the J. I. Case Company, manufacturers of farm implements with office on Queen street; David, one of Otonabee's young farmers; Charlie of the De Laval Company's district sales staff; and Ross who is also a farmer on the homestead.

Some Splendid Heavy Horses Are Features Of Peterboro Fair

Not So Many Entries This Year But Quality is High.

Quality if not quantity featured the heavy horse section of Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

While entries were not on a par with the number received last year, James Brandon of Forest, Ontario, who officiated as judge of the heavy horses was well impressed with the general standard of the horses paraded before him in the show ring in each of the various classes.

Entries in the light horse section were maintained at a better level, but here also a decrease was noted over last year. It was stated there were around fifty entries altogether in the heavy horse section and little better than on hundred in the light horse section.

George N. Graham, an exhibitor at the Exhibition for a quarter of a century and more, was this year conspicuous by his absence, and his genial presence was missed amongst the horsemen in particular and by others in general.

Prevented from attending this year on account of ill health, Mr. Graham had entries in the carriage and saddle classes. The family was well represented by Mr. Graham's son Chris and by his grandson Ken, who both had mounts in the saddle class.

Below are appended some of the results in the heavy horse section. Prize winners in the Clydesdale and foal special classes will be published in due course, together with the complete results in the various light horse classes, judging of which would be completed this afternoon.

TO ADDRESS ROTARY.

Rev. E. W. Young of St. Andrew's church will address the Peterborough Rotary club on Monday. He will speak on Ireland and his address will be illustrated by slides.

MISSED ONE STORM.

Although Peterborough got more than its share of rain last night it missed one storm anyway. A severe electric storm passed northwest of the city at 6 o'clock and swept over Lindsay and the lake districts.

LEARNING TO DRIVE.

Harry Parnell, winner of the Dodge sedan at the Exhibition last night, has a pleasant job on his hands now learning to drive his new car.

GOOD FISH CATCH.

Two O'Dette brothers had a bumper day at the fishing game on Friday evening, the pair making a catch of 15 pickerel, weighing from 2¼ pounds to 6, 2 bass 3¼ to 4 and one fair-sized junge. The happy hunting grounds was Michel's Landing at Bensfort on the Otonabee river.

TWO IN ONE.

Fishing at Chemong Lake recently, Harry C. Lord, Edinburgh street hauled in an 8-pound muskie and found he had made a two-in-one strike. The muskie was found to contain a full-sized mudcat. In addition it had a couple of shot gun pellets lodged in the fleshy part of the body behind the head.

CHEERFUL, ANYWAY.

Last night's huge Exhibition crowd was not exactly singing in the rain—but it was extremely good-natured. People joked about the downpour and took the curtailment of the program philosophically. One grandstand wit drew a laugh when he remarked, "If they could only move this Peterborough Fair out to Saskatchewan the drought problem would be over for good."

RE-OPENING OF SCHOOL.

Peterborough's schools are scheduled to open on Wednesday, September 1 in accordance with provincial regulations, which provide that the first day of September shall be the opening date unless it falls on Thursday or Friday in which case the schools reopen on the Tuesday following Labor Day. There has been no suggestion so far of delaying the opening on account of the infantile paralysis outbreak as is probable in Toronto.

PLAN KIWANIS EXHIBITION.

At a "Made-in-Canada" exhibition to be staged by Kiwanians next month to raise funds for underprivileged child work, it is announced, mechanical exhibits are to be a feature of the show. Several local manufacturing firms including the C.G.E. and Westclox, have promised to place mechanical exhibits in the exhibition and to provide operators for the machinery. Also in connection with the exhibition and the ticket sale for a car that will be raffled, a popularity contest is being held amongst young women ticket sellers.

OVERSEAS MAIL.

Mail for Great Britain and countries via Great Britain, full mail to connect with the steamer "Duchess of Bedford" sailing from Montreal, August 22, mail closes at local post office, August 21, at 8.00 p.m. D.S.T. CHARGE IS RAISED IN LINDSAY COURT

LINDSAY, Aug. 21.—John H. Watson, Castle Frank Crescent, Toronto, was committed for trial at the fall assizes on a charge of manslaughter by Magistrate E. A. Gee, in Police Court here Friday. Arising out of the death of Roland Benson Ward, 75-year-old Toronto man, the charge was raised from one of criminal negligence.

Ward died in the Ross Memorial Hospital here on June 23, from injuries alleged to have been received in a car accident west of here on June 14. Ward is said to have been a passenger in a car driven by the accused. An inquest into the death of Ward was opened on July 30, but was adjourned indefinitely with no verdict being reached.

Saw Watson In Hospital.

Dr. M. E. Gorman of Lindsay, who was called to the scene of an accident, testified he did not remember seeing either Watson or Paul O'Neill, passengers in the car at the scene of the accident. He said he met Watson at the hospital and that the accused did not appear to be intoxicated.

"I saw Mrs. Mary Kerr, third passenger in the car at the scene of the accident.; she was just being loaded into the ambulance," he said.

Asked as to whether Ward showed any signs of intoxication, the doctor stated that the injured man's breath had a strong odor of liquor. "The woman was quite intoxicated. She had a broken back and face injuries. O'Neill received minor leg injuries," said the witness.

Provincial Constable J. C. Massingham of Lindsay told of having been called to the hospital on June 14, where he met Watson. In reply to his questioning, the accused told him his car had missed a curve and left the road, said the officer. "Watson did not appear to be intoxicated but he told me he had had one or two drinks before leaving the city," he declared. "My investigations give me the opinion that the car was travelling at an excessive speed," the officer testified. "Later I found a bottle containing about a spoonful of whiskey at the scene."

Questioned by Mr. Frost, the officer said he saw no signs of intoxication on Watson, but that Ward and Mrs. Kerr were obviously intoxicated. "There were no marks on the road to show that the brakes had been applied. The accident occurred on a straight stretch of road."

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, August 22.

Sunday's horoscope holds testimony of some disturbing and menacing situations that may call for much sagacity and circumspect management to overcome. Important issues are at stake in employment, business and matters of integrity and standing, and these seem beset by jealousy, rivalry, enmity and strife.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves facing a year of contention, jealousy, bitter enmities and other menacing conditions. Like indulgences might provoke dangerous litigation or other violent reactions, where coolness, restraint, and sound acumen might prove factors to "turn away wrath."

A child born on this day may be prone to turbulence, violence, rashness, and impetuosity unless given early discipline in restraint and self-control as well as good nature. It may be energetic, adventurous, and enthusiastic.

For Monday, August 23.

Monday astrological forecast is for a day of intriguing interest, with a development to pique the curiosity or to excite the spirit of perplexity. The private life, in its domestic, social, romantic or spiritual angles, seems to be involved in this singular slant which appears to have strong bearing on the fortunes, friendships, and peace of life. The matter may be a gesture of unusual friendship or appreciation visible in a trust, bequest or other token of esteem. Change is involved.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves engulfed in a year of the marvellous, mysterious, intriguing or singular, with incidents which may have surprising bearing on the future fortunes and happiness. Thi may be in the form of an unforeseen bequest, trust or other token of esteem, friendship and appreciation, but it has angles of the curious and intriguing.

A child born on this day may have an unusual nature, artistic, mystical, romantic and subtle, but gracious and lovable.

HASTINGS STARS DEFEAT TOURISTS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 21.—The star players from the four teams in the Hastings Softball League defeated a team of American tourists from Ohio, camping west of the village, by the score of 13 to 4 last night (Friday).

Hastings scored their first run in the first innings on 2 hits and an error. They scored 4 in the third on 3 singles, Pantling's double and 2 errors. Another 4 runs crossed the plate in the fourth on three singles, triples by McKee and "Spook" Scriver, and one error. They scored 3 more in the sixth on 3 singles and Jones' triple, and their final run was scored when "Spook" Scriver hit his second triple and scored on an error in the seventh.

The Ohio boys scored 2 in the first innings on a single, H. King's double, a walk and an error. They scored one in the fourth on 2 hits, and their last one came when Hartzler tripled and scored on H. King's single.

The Hastings twirler, McKee, allowed the Americans just 7 hits, while striking out 9 and walking 4. P. Schrock, the American pitcher, was hammered for 19 hits. He struck out 2 and passed none.

"Spook" Scriver led the hitters with 2 triples and 3 singles in five trips to the plate. He was closely followed by Brinklow and Pantling, who each had a double and 3 singles in 5 times up. A Pantling to Jones double play in the fifth featured the fielding. The teams:

Americans: P. Schrock p, H. King c, ss, Wolf 3b, F. Schrock ss, c, A. King 1b, Conrad 2b, Mumaw lf, Jennings cf, D. King rf, Hartzler rf.

Unknown Assailant Attacked Farmer

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 20 (CP).—Peter Perkins, 65-year-old resident of Erinsville, is in the hospital here, suffering from severe injuries, believed received when he was attacked Wednesday, a short distance from his home. It is alleged that robbery was the motive for the attack. According to the story told by Perkins, his jaw was fractured by a stone and his ear was cut by a jack knife. Perkins is suffering from a fractured skull, a fractured jaw and three broken ribs on the left side.

After the attack Perkins was able to make his way to Tamworth, and it was found necessary to go to Marlbank to obtain a doctor.

It was reported $5 was taken from him.

FAIR DIRECTORS ARE APPRECIATIVE OF SUPPORT GIVEN

The dominant spirit of the directors of the Exhibition this morning, a hang-over from their impressions of last night, was appreciation of the support they have received from the public on two wet days of the fair.

"It was a dark spot that proved the brightest," E. F. Mason, remarked to The Examiner, "because it demonstrated the interest of the people of the city and country in what the directors are trying to do."

Reports this morning from the accounting office showed that the attendance for the three days was 94 more than a year ago, the totals being 28,885 this week, and 28,791 for the first three days in 1936.

President Tom Brown said the total receipts for the same period were $2,700 ahead of last year for the same period.

"It doesn't look very promising this morning," Mr. Brown said, "but if the weather should change after dinner I think that in the final counting we will do better than last year. We are hoping for an attendance that would give us money enough to pay off more of the note we personally have at the bank, and put the Board in a position to go ahead with other improvements."

Voluntary leadership in a community enterprise thrust Mr. Brown into strangest spotlight of his life, holding the centre of the stage in a drenching rain. He was protected with a waterproof coat, but it was a dampening experience, and he contends that younger men should have that kind of responsibility. At any rate, Mr. Brown says this is his last year as president.

"The way those people co-operated with us during the last two days I wouldn't have minded if I had got a soaking last night. I know all the directors would like me to say that the people have given us a great deal of encouragement."

So the directors are entering the goodwill of the public in larger letters as one of the intangible assets of adversity after last night's rain siege.

Charlie Westlake, general manager of the "Ex," and others all spoke in the same vein this morning.

STETSON WORKERS PLAN TO RETURN

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 21 (C.P.). — The protracted strike of 225 employees over, operations of the John B. Stetson Company (Canada) Limited will resume on Monday. The company and the strikers yesterday signed an agreement ending the walkout called on June 26 by the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers' International Union.

Strikers dropped their demand for union recognition and the company made several concessions, including abolishment of the Bedeaux system which affected about 15 per cent. of the employees. In its place a system of piecework will be introduced.

Any disagreement which cannot be settled between the company's shop committee and the management may be submitted to an arbitration board of three members. One will be chosen by employees and one by the management, a third being selected by the other two members.

Questions of wages and hour, the company and employees agreed, will be submitted to the Ontario Industry and Labor Board under the Industrial Standards Act. The board will establish a schedule under the Act to cover the men's cap industry in the province. Wages will be paid weekly instead of bi-monthly.

The agreement will remain in effect until September 1.

NOT END OF KNOTT END

MANCHESTER — (CP). — The Pressal Urban Council rejected a suggestion that the holiday resort of Knott End be re-named. The mover said he had heard people deride the name.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK.

It is said that an old Roman coin bore the figure of an ox standing midway between altar and a plough. Underneath were the words: "Ready for Either." The Christian might write under such a figure: "Ready for Both," for that is ever the true spirit of the true believer. Read Romans 12:1. The highest and best service we can render the Lord Jesus Christ can only be rendered after we have sacrificed all upon the altar—a living sacrifice to serve. Service will be unto Him, and also for those among whom you are placed. In the home, factory, office and in the Church, remember you are saved to serve. Do it as unto the Lord, for you are His.

Westlox Girls Lose To Oshawa by 26-12

Lakeshore Lasses Prolong Final Softball Series With One-sided Win.

Cobourg defeated Westlox girls, 26 to 12, last night in Cobourg in the fourth game of the three-in-five final series. It was the first win for the Lakeshore lasses in this series, though they had tied one previously. Next contest is billed for tonight at 6.30 in the Bowl, and a win for Westlox gives them the league title, but a Cobourg win will sew up the playoffs.

The affair last night was a loosely played wide-open shootfest all the way with Cobourg showing too much power at the plate for the visitors. They piled up a big early lead and added to it in later frames. R. Slater hurled for the winners, allowing 15 hits as she fanned two and walked one. M. Snowden started for the Clockmakers but gave way later to B. Blade. Between them they were nicked for 27 safe blows. The first pitcher fanned one and walked none, while B. Blade struck out three and issued two free tickets.

R. Hoskin had a homer, double and two singles for the winners, while W. Hoskin hit a homer and a double and three singles. For Westlox, M. Hawthorne and M. Ferguson hit a homer and a single each, while A. Sturgeon got two doubles and a single, and M. Snowden a double and two singles. M. Allison and A. Sturgeon went good in the field for the Delahaye squad while M. Bulkowski, J. Young and R. Thompson were best for Cobourg, the latter squad also having a double-play. The teams:

Westelox: I. Pavy, c; M. Ferguson, ss; M. Hawthorne, 3b; M. Allison, 2b; G. Mortimer, 1b; D. Merrett, lf; A. Sturgeon, cf; M. Selkirk, rf; M. Snowden, p, rf; B. Blade, p.

Cobourg—M. Perrin, 1b; T. Rowden, ss; R. Hoskin, c; W. Hoskin, cf; R. Thompson, 3b; M. Bulkowski, 2b; M. Gibson, 2b; J. Young, lf; E. Toyne, rf; R. Slater, p.

BUDGE BLASTS 'BITSY' GRANT

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 21.—(AP)—The United States top notch tennis amateur, Don Budge, and its most promising youngster, Bobby Riggs, brilliant California 19-year-old, yesterday gained the final round of the Casino tournament.

Bother are familiar with that bracket for Budge won here in 1935 and Riggs last year in his first major Eastern grass triumph.

To become a finalist for the second time in three seasons, Budge overcame his Davis-Cup team-mate, Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, 8-6, 6-0, 6-0, and Riggs kept pace with him by outlasting Frank Parker of Milwaukee, another U.S. internationalist, 6-8, 6-4, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, after a gruelling 3½-hour battle under a blazing sun.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

We wish to remind our bowlers of the twilight doubles on Monday night at 7 o'clock. We know this sounds like an old-time chestnut, but please be on time. A year ago at our last open doubles tournament we had 54 pairs competing. We don't know how many we will have out next Wednesday, but we are looking for a good crowd. Our list of 8 sets of prizes are a little above the average in quality. The first draw will be at 1.30 p.m. (D.S.T.). Fee $2.00 per couple.

FRIDAY'S question: "If the chalk mark be not removed from the bowl before it is played in the succeeding end, the opposing side may regard it as a burned bowl, and shall be entitled, before the next bowl is delivered, but not afterwards, to remove it to the bank."

TO-DAY'S question: "A bowl played out of turn looked like becoming a kitty toucher and trailing the jack. The opposing skip stopped it in its course. A protest is raised. Who is right?"

NUMBER 69

The average golfer tolerates many abuses while trying to play his favorite game. Among these abuses is the treatment he gets from caddies. As a rule the boys hate to caddy for a player who can't break 90. It means many extra steps for them from one side of the fairway to the other, and climbing in and out of rough of all kinds.

They don't stop to realize that 95 per cent. of the club membership is made up of such players, that without these player they would not have a job. They go on day after day, treating them with contempt and doing their job indifferently. Their indifference is a decided handicap to the player who is trying hard to improve his game and it is a great disgrace to the man who is responsible for their conduct on the course.

Club officials should hire a caddy master who is capable of giving the boys the proper training and keeping them lined up so that they are a help, not a hindrance, to players on the course. Whatever the reason, it is a fact that caddies get almost twice as much pay as they did 15 years ago and they do about half as much work.

In almost every case a player is more than grateful for any help received from his caddy and stands ready to reward him.

AMERICANS SWEEP U.S. TENNIS SERIES

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 21—(AP)—Three of the four players designated to defend the Wightman Cup, women's international tennis trophy, provided the United States with a well-nigh insurmountable 3-0 lead over Great Britain yesterday at the West Side Tennis Club.

The United States women were left needing only one victory in today's concluding set of four matches to attain their seventh consecutive triumph and eleventh in the series of fifteen encounters.

Alice Marble, national champion and No. 1 player on the defending side; powerful, sound-stroking Helen Jacobs, playing in her eleventh cup match, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan combined for the complete rout of the invaders.

Miss Marble, opening the program before a gathering of little more than 1,000 spectators, dropped the first set, but rallied to defeat Ruth Mary Hardwick, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, and later returned to the court to team with Mrs. Fabyan in a 6-2, 6-3 conquest of Great Britain's Evelyn Dearman and Joan Ingram.

LEAFS BEATEN BY BALTIMORE IN DOUBLE BILL

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—Toronto Maple Leafs lost their seventh and eighth successive games last night, dropping a doubleheader to Baltimore Orioles 1 to 0 and 10 to 6.

Carl Fischer hurled three-hit shut-out in the opener while the Birds placed their blows to better advantage than the Howleyites in a free swinging nightcap.

Southpaw Carl Fischer yielded only three hits to send the Leafs down to their seventh straight defeat. Mike Meola and Bota Nekola allowed only four. The only run of the game came in the first inning, when Wilburn, Abernathy and Clisell clouted successive singles with none out. Meola tightened up then and deserved a better fate, as he held the Birds to one single in the next five frames. Nekola worked the last inning and threw out three runners himself.

Toronto's first hit was Joey Gantenbein's line smash to centre for three bases to open the fourth, but Hogan and Meola succumbed via the strikeout route, and Oliver lifted to right to leave Joe stranded at third.

Stockman, batting for Meola in the sixth, and Petoskey in the seventh, started off with singles, but neither runner got as far as third.

TERRYMEN CRUSH PHILLIES UNDER BARRAGE OF HITS

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. — The New York Giants crushed the Philadelphia Phillies 13-6 yesterday to pick up a momentary half-game on the National League leading Chicago Cubs.

Blast 4 Hurlers.

The Giants blasted four pitchers for 21 hits, including Mel Ott's homer which climaxed a five-run ninth-inning burst. Ott also collected a double and a single, driving in four runs. It was Catcher Harry Danning, however, who set the pace with a triple and four singles in five trips for a perfect day with the stick. New York also sent four hurlers in, and they were reached for 13 hits. Coffman, who allowed five hits in his three-inning trick, was credited with the victory, although Carl Hubbell had to come to his relief in the sixth when he was spiked by Martin.

Pirates Gaining.

The Pittsburgh Pirates mounted to within a half-game of the third place Cardinals by handing St. Louis a 7-4 licking. The Bucs piled into Johnson and Haines for 15 hits, while Cy Blanton held the Cards to six, including four baggers by Mize and Medwick.

Although outhit, the Boston Bees bunched theirs more effectively to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6-5. Butcher, Henshaw, and Cantwell combined to hold the Phils to nine safeties, and the Dodgers got to MacFayden and Gabler for 12, but never scored more than one run in any inning. MacFayden, who gave way to Gabler because of the heat in the eighth inning, was the winner; Butcher, the loser.

Yesterday's Stars

(By the Associated Press)

Dill Dickey, Yankees—His homer in 10th beat Athletics 8-7.

Mel Ott and Harry Danning, Giants—Former hit homer, double, single, driving in four runs; Danning had triple, four singles, driving in two runs in 13-6 win over Phillies.

Beau Bell, Browns—Led way to 11-6 win over Tigers with homer, two singles, driving in two runs.

Vince DiMaggio, Bees—Drove in three runs in 6-5 win over Dodgers.

Fred Sington, Senators — Hit two singles, driving in two runs, in 3-1 win over Red Sox.

Paul Derringer, Reds—Batted in five runs to win own game against Cubs, allowing nine hits in 6-4 victory.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

BOXERS and boxing fans will be interested to hear of the formation of a new boxing club in Peterborough. It will be known as the Riverview Athletic Club and is located in the Venetian Blind Building in the rear of the Coca Cola building on George Street—down toward the C.P.R. station. The organizers of this club are Norm Bowler and Harry Low. The former is a local chap, who boxed with the Alpha Club here, while Low was connected with the Elm Grove Club of Toronto. The trainer is Wilf (Soldier) Jones, who needs no introduction to local mitt followers. They figure on a membership of approximately 50, and anyone interested is invited to drop around Monday when training commences.

* * * * * *

THE aim of the this club is to run shows through the winter here, amateur fight cards. They expect to hold the first one in the George St. lacrosse arena in six weeks time. Boasting the best-equipped gym a local boxing club ever had, the Riverview A.C. has three light bags, one kidney bag, two sets of first-rate gloves, 14 oz., an 18-foot ring, arm pulleys, dumb-bells and Indian clubs. All brand new equipment. This is an okay layout and it looks to us like the club might go over with a bang.

* * * * * *

THE manly art of self defence has slumped considerably in these parts the past few years. At one time, there were three active clubs in Peterborough and shows were run off every few weeks between good local mitt-slingers and gees from Lindsay, Oshawa, Belleville and Toronto. Came the depression in the gloved game and it faded like a cheap dress on wash day. There were two reasons for this, one being mis-matching and one being lack of suitable quarters for training and fighting. For a time, the Legion Hall was used and good crowds came to see the scraps, but later this place was barred to boxing and the game was in a tough spot. They had one card—and it was a honey—in the "Y" gym, but this spot wasn't suitable either for such a sport. The Lions Club ran the last fight program here in the Grand Opera House.

* * * * * *

WITH good matchings, that is where the boys are matched not only according to weight but to experience and style, the fight game will come back here this winter. Boxing is a fine sport if run right but it requires constant vigilance or there will be trouble. If this Riverview A.C. gets a good turnout of ring prospects, trains 'em properly and matches the pugs right for shows, some mighty fine fight cards can be lined up here again, and they'll draw plenty of fans. We haven't much doubt about this new club. It is properly equipped, with the right gents behind it, and should be a reviving tonic for the game. More about it again.

* * * * * *

SPEAKING of clubs, we'd like to slip in a boost for the way the Auburn Lacrosse Club officers treat the press. While other local clubs are okay with the boys who spread the ink for 'em, the gutted-stick moguls are more than fair. Any dope you want from 'em you get it—and they'll even tell you inside stuff they don't want printed for the time being. You ask 'em what the attendance for a game is, and they'll tell you—no whittling down on the figures or haphazard guessing. You can see their books at any time to find out how the club is financially. They will send you plenty of advance copy for writeups and sometimes even give you the story of a game away from home when it can't be covered. You have only to ask for anything and it is yours. The boys who write up lacrosse appreciate this and the club is not the loser by adopting such an attitude toward the scribes.

SMITHS FALLS and Ogdensburg stage a pro ball game here next Saturday afternoon in Riverside Park. As we said before, it is in connection with the C.P.R. employees' annual excursion from down Smiths Falls' way, the big picnic being in Peterborough this year. Knotty Lee's Colts are in fourth place now and battling hard for a playoff berth. The Smith Falls crew have been playing up and down ball lately, good one game and not so hot the next. The tilt here is a transferred Can.-Am. pro loop fixture, not an exhibition game. It should draw a big crowd of fans, as these teams play good baseball—particularly in the hitting department. Eddie Murphy, who went from here to the Colts, found their hitting too much—though he held his own in fielding.

* * * * * *

THREE of the finest harness hoss races we've ever seen were run off yesterday at the Exhibition. That 2.14 go was a pip, every heat being a battle every step of the way with all the entries very much in the running. It had the crowd all het up. The big 2.24 class also supplied some stirring finishes, and the large 2.29 race was another neat one. The track dried off fast and the pacers certainly stepped around in fast times. As a fitting climax to a swell afternoon's racing, the last half-mile of the final race was clocked in 1.03—the fastest ever recorded on the local course. Not a great deal of scoring was required, considering the big entries, and these were no kicks about the starts or the judges' decisions. A glance over the summary will show how many distant towns were represented in the races here.

* * * * * *

COBOURG gals and Westelox are at it again here this p.m.—if it doesn't rain—at 5.30 in the Bowl. Remember, it's 5.30 this time. On account of the Clockmakers took the sour side of a 26-12 score in the Lakeshore town yester eve. It was just one of those things, flocks of hits and errors with Cobourg having more of the former and less of the latter Ernie Foote's femmes dug in with elimination facing 'em and earned the nod most emphatically. But they still must win here tonight to even the serial, since Westelox licked them twice to date in playoffs and tied them once. The winner is slated to meet the Oshawa squad in P.W.S.U. playdowns next Wednesday.

* * * * * *

DESE, dem and dose: Motorists meet Westelox tonight at seven in Central in a playoff game to declare an O.A.S.A. team....A win for the Clockmakers will finish the series....Other softball dope should be listed elsewhere tonight; don't forget we go to press too early Sat'days to get all in this column....P.W.S.U. playdowns up this way are due to start next Wednesday....Our junior Rotarians were to play today in Belleville....That Kiwanis junior squad in the Quinte city is the foundation of a senior Belleville ball team in two years time....Understand Lou Bennett of Port Hope had a peeve over a stabling dispute here last Spring and that's why he didn't race his hosses at the Ex. this year....Purses at these races were $300 for each race, first four in each heat dividing the prize money....Young Petes were eliminated in junior O.A.S.A. playdowns last p.m. in Belleville, 8 to 1....The Aajmaa Club must have class to win two in a row....Kingston beat Napanee yesterday by a 6-4 count.

PROS TO TACKLE AMERICAN STARS HAVE SOMETHING

TORONTO, Aug. 21—(CP).—For a long time the eastern clan of Canadian professional golf players have been matching themselves—in a purely conversational way, of course—against the best money players in the United States. And they have been giving themselves none the worst of it, either.

They have spoken confidently of what they would do to an American team, especially in a battle on Canadian territory. In an international contest along the lines of the British-U.S. Ryder Cup matches, they would do all right. They just needed the opportunity.

It's all arranged now, the Canadian team has been picked and the United States Professional Golfers' Association will name a group of ten for the match at St. Andrew's, Toronto, Sept. 8. The U.S. team will likely include such players as Harry Cooper, Lawson Little, Jimmy Thomson, Paul Runyan, Byron Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, Ed Dudley, Tony Manero, Sam Snead and Denny Shute.

As Cooper, Thomson and Little were ineligible for the Ryder Cup team which defeated Great Britain in July—Cooper and Thomson because they were born abroad—the team that plays Canada may conceivably be stronger than that which whipped the British.

The question is squarely up to the home pros now, and they will be the first to admit that the job ahead is formidable. Who is going to knock off the par-beating Cooper? Is there any assurance a Canadian can make Guldahl, the U.S. open champion, say "Uncle?" No, there's no assurance, but there is a chance.

For one thing the five foursomes and ten singles are 18-hole events, and over the short distance anything can happen. There will be a great deal of elbow room for upsets. Any of these surprise results will favor the home side because man-for-man the invaders are better scorers, more experienced campaigners.

Team Has Good Men

This eastern campaign has produced two outstanding Canadian players—25-year-old Stanley Horne of Ottawa, P.G.A. champion in 1936 and 1937, and the tiny veteran from Quebec, Jules Huot. A few days before his P.G.A. triumph this month, Horne won the Quebec open. Huot captured the rich General Brock open.

A third top-flighter is Bob Gray, Jr. of Windsor, leading Canadian in last year's national open, when he finished with a pair of 69s right under the nose of the then little-known Guldahl. Gray is capable of lower scoring than any home player, with the exception of Huot.

The three—Horne, Jules Huot and Gray—head the Dominion forces. Other members of the team are Bobby Alston and Ernie Wakelam of Ottawa; Roland Huot of Quebec, younger brother of Jules, and four Toronto players—Willie Lamb, Lex Robson, Dick Borthwick and Jimmy Johnston.

Lamb, Robson and Johnston are experienced match players. The fact they haven't been going so well just lately won't bother them or anybody else. If there is any collapse of this Canadian team September 8, it may be expected to occur in other quarters.

Bill Dickey Gets 20th Homer As Yankees Beat Macks In 10th

Philadelphia Setback 8-7 By American League Leaders.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.— In the American League, the New York Yankees won another close one when Bill Dickey clouted his twentieth home run of the year in the tenth inning to break a tied score and defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-7. The A's had jumped on Relief Hurler Johnny Murphy for three runs in the ninth to tie the score. Singles by Piney and Brucker and three-baggers by Werber and Johnson sent the game into extra innings, and set the stage for Dickey's home run climax.

Red Sox Beaten 3-1

Boston's Red Sox were held to eight scattered hits and beaten 3-1 by the Washington Senators. Cronin's homer was the only tally off the combined efforts of Weaver and Linke. Two runs in the fourth clinches the Senator victory. Stone walked, Kuhel singled and both advanced on Myer's grounder, and both came home on Sington's single.

The Detroit Tigers were set back 1-6 by the St. Louis Brownies. Three Bengal pitchers were blasted for sixteen hits, including homers by Clift and Bell. Greeberg and Fox hit for the circuit for Detroit. Knott, Walkup and Hogsett worked on the mound for St. Louis, distributing twelve hits. The victory went to Walkup.

Indians Win 7-6.

Thornton Lee blew up in the sixth inning and walked two runs across the plate which eventually gave the Cleveland Indians a 7-to-6 decision over the Chicago White Sox. Galehouse and Hudlin combined to hold the Sox to ten hits with the former, who worked eight innings, getting credit for the victory. The Indians reached Lee and Brown for fourteen hits, including a homer by Averill. Pytlak got a double and three singles to pace the attack.

MARK 50 YEARS SOCCER LEAGUE

LONDON, August 21 — (CP). — Soccer marks its golden jubilee this season. In March, 1888, William G. McGregor sent a circular to a few soccer clubs outlining a plan to provide home and away games. His idea clicked and the Football League, now popularly known as the English Football League, was formed April 17 the same year, with 12 members.

This kindly Scotsman of Perthshire birth, Aston Villa leader, sensed the need for competitive play in football, but by no stretch of the imagination did he realize to what broad lengths his scheme would be carried.

On the eve of the 1937-38 season opening—August 28—there are 88 entries, 22 in each of four divisions including the 12 "originals." The second division was formed in 1892, the third (southern) in 1920, and third (northern) a year later.

As representatives prepare for the bruising eight-month battle, the season is marked at the outset by the retirement of the games most colorful figure, Alex James. The Arsenal and Scottish international has signed a seven-year contract as director of a football pool—a business that has grown to huge financial proportions in recent years.

The canny Scot ended last season as a sort of player-coach but preferred to finish his brilliant career with cheers ringing in his ears rather than continue. "If you become a manager you lose your self-respect, he said.

But the powerful Gunners, perhaps Englands most colorful team, are far from shattered. They are "hankering" for Byrn Jones, Wolverhampton's fleet forward and a record transfer fee of $70,000 is being discussed. They are also keen on 19-year-old Eddie Carr of Durham.

The season's opening features are billed for Wolverhampton and Valley Parade grounds, London, home of Charlton. The Wanderers are on the "spot" as they meet last year's league champion, Manchester City, while Charlton—runner-up and wonder team of the loop that toured Canada and the United States during the summer—entertains Leeds United. The Athletics advanced from the third to premier league in three years.

Sunderland's cup-winning aggregation begins the season against Middlesbrough and Preston North End, vanquished in the cup final, opens fire against Grimsby Town.

Clubs are relying mainly on home-town talent this year. Apart from the Jones transfer, the market for high-priced players is dead. Never before in the game's history has the young player such a chance to establish himself.

Only minor changes in the rules and regulations herald the season's opening, while many clubs, counting on prosperity gates, have enlarged grandstands.

Inside Sportin' Dope

BY A. WISE CRACKER

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well Mac, our senior ball club is just waiting round for developments as I write this, owing to them having bumped off the Kingston Ponies here last Sat. while the Naps was getting the short end of it at Oshawa. Here the ball game went 10 innings before the Petes finally grabbed her 3 to and it was just about the best ball game of the year with our Mister Jakaffoy and their Mister Packycowski each tossing stuff that was about as hard to hit with men on the sacks as their names is to spell and pronounce. The home talent played heads up ball and showed unusual sprightliness on the base paths, stealing 6 sacks at the expense of Mister Jimmy Arnell while Mister Hollingsworth scored from second behind Mister Kingdon on an infield out and Mister Kearns carried the winning run home from second in the 10th on a ground ball that the second baseman knocked down.

This Was a Darb

Outside of good pitching and the Petes' smart baserunning the feature of a real classy game was the running barehanded clutch of a solid smash down the right field foul line. The drive was from the bat of their Mister Abber Joyce and the mesthook that engulfed it on the way out to the remote corner for a possible home run was on the end of the left arm of our Mister Len Hollingsworth who earned himself four-star rating by that giddy grab. Mister Joyce spent the rest of the afternoong telling himself what hard luck he had especially after him falling asleep twice in the field and three times on the bases during the matinee. It was indeed a tough day for our Abber and he was likely still talking to himself when the Kingston cars hit Princess street on their arrival home.

Boys is Confident

The win about cinched a playoff berth for our talent and it will send them into the final dash with a good deal of confidence especially as it was the 3rd clever game in a row our Mister Jackaffoy, curveball specialist, has dished out.

Well, old timer, I don't want to do any premature shooting but I can't help asking the customers if they have noticed the fact that up to this writing, which is Thurs., the Giants has climbed up right on the heels of the Chicago Cubs and them birds is showing signs like they was going to crack up completely. The Cubs has to go on the road and they aint never been much of a gang away from home cooking especially under pressure and this looks like I time when they will have plenty of that. The Giants aint been playing no world's championship brand of ball but they has been going along steadily, staying in there and fighting and it looks like now the Wisecracker choice for the National League honors might breeze through and repeat last year's triumphs. The Yanks of course is in and it is only a case of how many with their opposition beating each other all over the shop.

Well, old timer, the customers will be glad to learn they won't be nothing from me for a couple of weeks owing to vacation intervening. I aint going to make no boasts about fishing and them that wants to do some ribbing let them rib, see I.

Well, take care of yourself.

Sportfully Yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

NEW KIND OF TROUSERS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (A.P.) — Self-adjusting trousers are science's new blessing for the man whose weight changes faster than he can afford to buy new clothes.

Invented and patented by Joseph Givona of Brooklyn, N.Y., the trousers can be made large or small through a combination of zipper contraptions.

Bears Need Four Victories To Clinch Minor Ball Flag

One Win Over Chiefs and Three Over Royals Turn the Trick.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—(CP) — It looked like a big week-end in Newark was due for the faithful followers of the Bears' fortunes, as the Yankee farm hands, like camels smelling out an oasis in the desert, rushed relentlessly forward mathematically to clinch the International League pennant.

Conceded the championship long ago by the other seven clubs of the circuit, the Bears, pacing themselves against the record book, needed but one victory to eliminate the last chance of the Syracuse Chiefs, and three triumphs to end the hopes of the Montreal Royals. Even if the Bears shouldn't win another game, a loss by the Chiefs or three by the Royals would also serve to wind up the current pennant chase.

The Bears beat out the Rochester Red Wings 5-1 last night as Joe Beggs chalked up his 18th win of the season with a three-hit performance. The young Bruin right-hander was almost invincible as he set the Wings down in order in seven of the nine innings.

Retain Second Place.

The Chiefs managed to hang on to second place as they split a double-header with the Buffalo Bisons, while Montreal was rained out of a twin bill with Jersey City for the second straight night. The Chiefs took a 13-2 walloping in the opener but evened matters in the second encounter when young Virgil Brown, just up from Trenton of the New York-Pennsylvania League, shut out the Bisons with four hits and won 4-0.

Ryan Takes Over Bartell's Place

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.— Dick Bartell, shortstop sparkplug of New York Giants, was forced out of action by an ailing ankle yesterday, a week after his return from the hospital list to which he was confined by a wrenched side for nearly a month.

Copies of New Zealand's new highway code will be delivered to every home.

Playoffs Arranged Hastings League

HASTINGS, Aug. 21.—The playoffs in the Hastings softball league will begin on Monday night with the Clerks and Tanners slated for the first game. All four teams in the league will take part. The system being used for the play-off is to match the first and fourth place teams and the second and third place holders. The winners will be decided by the best two out of three. The winners will then be matched for the best three games out of five to decide the league champs. The order in which the teams finished their schedule is as follows, beginning with first place holder: Tanners, Outlaws, Elgin, Clerks.

Grattan Axworthy Wins In 2.14 Race at Fair

Three Fine Harness Horse Races Please Crowd at Exhibition.

Three excellent harness horse races were run off yesterday at the Exhibition Grounds before a big crowd. Picked horses in three classes, some of the finest pacers and trotters in Ontario, fought it out in driving finishes that had the onlookers in an uproar. Grattan Axworthy won the 2.14 class, but every heat was a brilliant battle, and Midnight Grattan nosed the Simcoe stepper out for first money in the third heat. Benny Harvester took three firsts in the speedy 2.24 pace, with Dan Patch Jr. a close second all the way. In the 2.29 class, Walter Ray won the second and third heats after Infringer Grattan took the first one and was then forced out with a lame leg. Scotty Grattan was forced out with a broken wheel in the third of the 2.24 race.

Good Times Made.

Some first-class time marks were made in the nine heats run—the big crowd remaining till the last race—as the drivers pushed their horses around in tight finishes. The last half of the final heat in the smart 2.14 pace was clocked in 1.09, the fastest time yet recorded for the half-mile on the Peterborough track. The second heat of that class was timed in 2.10½, and the second in the 2.24 was done in 2.11. Little trouble was experienced in starting two large fields in the three races.

2.14 class—

Grattan Axworthy — W. J. Booth, Simcoe	1	1	2
Midnight Grattan— D.Cindarelli, North Bay	3	2	1
Worthy Widow — C. Hodgins, Haliburton	2	3	3
Willis Grattan—Mrs. Hodgins, Toronto	4	4	4
Richard Hall—D. Windover, Norwood	5	5	dr

Time of heats—2.12½, 2.10½, 2.14.

2.24 class—

Time of heats—2.19, 2.22, 2.21.

Cricket Results

LONDON, Aug. 21.—(CP Cable)—Another overturn came Friday in the closest duel for first-class county cricket onamplonship honors seen here in many seasons, when Yorkshire again displaced Middlesex from the head of the standing.

Winning their match with Glamorgan, Yorkshire went into the lead with an average of 71.20 points compared to 70.79 for Middlesex, who won their match with Somerset Thursday.

Yorkshire pulled out a win over Glamorgan by 85 runs, thanks to the powerful arm of Hedley Verity, test cricket bowler, who took 10 wickets in two innings yesterday for 147 runs and gathered 15 points for a victory when it seemed the best the Yorkshiremen could do would be to win on first innings.

The scores:

Yorkshire 356 and 171 for seven declared (Yardley 74 not out); Glamorgan 243 and 199 (Verity five for 76 and five for 71, E. Davies 63); at Scarborough.

Surrey defeated Warwickshire on first innings. Warwickshire 253 and 263 for eight wickets (Santall 75, Wyatt 72, Dollery 55); Surrey 369 for nine declared, at Birmingham.

Essex defeated Nottinghamsaire by 17 1runs. Essex 301 and 266 for seven declared (Wilcox 99) Nottinghamshire 288 and 108, at Southend.

Lancashire beat Northamptonshire on first innings. Northamptonshire 227 and 225 for four (Timms 104, Brookes 84 not out); Lancashire 230 for six declared (Iddon 83 not out); at Manchester.

Kent defeated Gloucestershire by eight wickets. Gloucestershire 434 and 182 (Hammond 52); Kent 399 and 219 for two wickets (Ashdown 62 not out, Ames 70) at Dover.

Derbyshire defeated Sussex by nine wickets. Sussex 219 and 311 (John Langridge 123, Hammond 54, Mitchell five for 87); Derbyshire 485 for eight declared and 47 for one wicket, at Derby.

COUNTER-ATTRACTION

PORTSMOUTH, England — (CP). —Play in the county cricket match between Surrey and Hampshire was interrupted twice to enable spectators to watch manoeuvres of a Royal Air Force fleet overhead.

BROKE THREE RECORDS

GLASGOW—(CP).—The British, English and Scottish records fell when Sydney Wooderson, crack English middle-distance runner, won the three-quarter mile event in a meet here in 3.09.

HAVELOCK TIES OMEMEE 7 TO 7

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, Aug. 21. — Going into the second game of the O.A.S.A. Intermediate C playdowns, after losing the first one to Omemee, the Havelock Albions battled the visitors to a 7-7 draw in nine frames on Friday evening. The game was called at this point because of darkness. The teams were very evenly matched, both showing some heavy hitting and spectacular fielding, the latter in spite of the wet grounds.

Bill Woods was on the mound for the locals going the entire route and showing plenty of steam. Reeds pitching for Omemee also turned in a great game, although he started to walk a few in the eighth, and was relieved by Adams, southpaw hurler.

Omemee took the lead in the first innings, chalking up two runs. Havelock tieing it up in the second and going into the lead by two runs in the fourth. The locals were held scoreless for the next three innings, while the visitors behind the steady flinging of Reeds proceeded to score five runs giving them a three-run margin. In the eighth the Albions bearing down worked Reeds for several walks, and before he was relieved three runs had crossed the plate to tie it up. Both teams failed to score in the ninth, leaving them deadlocked at 7-all.

The teams:

Omemee — Weir, ss; Pogue, cf; Jones, 2b; Brooks, c; Rehill, 3b; Reeds, p; Brockley, rf; McQuade, lf; Williamson, 1b.

Haveock — Renwick, 2b; Hill, 3b; Mathison, 1b; Hagerman, c; Woods, p; Whalen, lf; Wrightly, cf; Jones, ss; Brooks, lf.

Score by innings:

Omemee ..... 200 202 010—7
Havelock ..... 012 100 030—7

Locals Eliminated In Junior Softball

Belleville Aajmaa Club defeated Young Petes, 8-3, last night in Belleville to eliminate the locals in the first round of the junior O.A.S.A. playdowns. The Belleville squad took the series in two straight and demonstrated their superiority in doing it. They outhit the Young Petes in this tilt and went better defensively. Carson hurled fair ball for them and had neat support; Craig and Moorhead were bingled freely and had poor backing. Score by innings:

	R	H	E
Young Petes 000 001 020	3	8	8
Belleville .....002 121 02—	8	15	2

Batteries—Carson and Robottom; Craig, Moorhead and Creighton.

GAMBI BREAKS WORLD RECORD

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—Dark-haired and stocky Gianni Gambi of Ravenna, Italy, beat Jackie May, Toronto's blond aquadonis of the waterlanes, in their match two-mile professional swimming race at the Sunnyside pool last night. The Italian had a half-length lead on May at the finish, and was clocked in a new world's record time of 47 minutes 44 2-5 seconds, beating his own record by nearly four minutes.

Gambi, using his old familiar windmill, eighty strokes to the minute style, took the lead in the first lap and never relinquished it. May, picking his stroke up to about 65, made a desperate attempt to catch the Italian in the last 100 yards, but Gambi held fast to his lead.

The race was held across the width of the Sunnyside tank, and the swimmers were nearly dizzy completing the necessary 140 laps.

Playgrounds, playing fields, gymnasia, shower baths and drying rooms for every school is being urged in a campaign of the National Union of Teachers in England.

Remember When—

(By The Canadian Press)

Bobby Pearce easily defeated Canada's top-notch scullers at the British Empire Games at Burlington seven years ago today. Jack Beresford of England and Joe Wright, Jr., Toronto, both Diamond Sculls winners, trailed Pearce made Hamilton his home, turned professional in 1933 and is still tops.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By
MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Mary Barrett, ambitious to become a dress designer, is in Paris where she has just obtained a job with Countess Anetka, owner of a small dress shop. She had been recommended to Anetka by Mark Sutherland, American playboy and mutual friend who admired Mary from the first following their meeting on shipboard. Mary likes Mark but misses Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York shop who gave her her start several months previously. She left Castle's shop suddenly, disillusioned, after an altercation with Tony's head buyer, Francine Long, and sailed for Paris impulsively. More and more she realizes she is in love with Tony. Mary does so well in the shop that Anetka offers her a partnership.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 14.

MARY FELT the floor come up to meet her after Anetka had offered her a partnership in their thriving business. Her knees buckled and she fled to the nearest chair before they failed her completely.

"You...you....Oh, say it again, Anetka! I think I'm dreaming. Perhaps I'm going to have a nervous breakdown! Perhaps I'm Joan of Arc, hearing voices!"

"I seemply said: I am going to make you a partner. We will be Anetka—and how do you say in America?—ink..."

"Incorporated," Mary supplied, still unable to believe her ears.

If she had opened a treasure chest and found all the gold in the world, if she had been Victoria at the moment that she was told that she was to be Queen of England, if someone had told her that she had been left the state of New York as a legacy, Mary Barrett couldn't have been any more awed by the announcement.

Mary Barrett was going to be a partner in a dressmaking house in Paris!

It didn't matter that it was a little shop over in the Latin quarter, and not an imposing establishment on the rue de la Paix. Not in the least.

She managed to say, "It's sweet of you, Anetka, but, truly, you must think this over. I have no right to such a generous offer. You've done it all. It's your business! Your capital. I think you've been more than generous with me now. It wouldn't be right that I..."

Anetka called on heaven with her eyes to help her make it clear to Mary what her limited vocabulary could not do.

"Everytheeng! Everytheeng what I have is from you!"

And so it was. They'd had extraordinary luck, these two. Because Mary was driven and Anetka was without direction, the two had worked closely, each giving generously and the results had astonished both of them.

Anetka's contribution had been the means with which to work, and more importantly, her gift for making friends among the people she had brought to the shop. Mary's gift had been her ability to understand them and their wants—not their needs. It hadn't been difficult for her to sell them her ideas, because she made them feel that they were their own.

Anetka had no head for business. She had lived in a palace in her youth and she looked forward to nothing more than a livelihood. Not so Mary Barrett, with a driving force in her, a determination to reach the top.

It was Mary's organization that had made the figures in the fat account book reach to staggering heights, staggering to Anetka.

At the end of her first month in the upstairs shop, it was possible for Anetka, unbeknownst to Mary, to write to Mark in London, returning his blank checks. Mary had made more than her salary for both herself and Anetka. Their figures didn't run into fabulous amounts, but they were there, safe and promising a future.

Anetka began to dream of a little house with Sergei. A house where there would be music and icons, and her own people. If Mary could run the shop....

So Mary was made a partner.

And so Mary hurried that night toward the Place Vendome, with excitement beating wildly in her pulse. Hurried, as she had once before, to see the tangible form of her dreams.

She crossed the rue Saint-Honore toward the Place Vendome, gazed unseeingly for once at the stately facades of the houses that had sheltered Danton, Mansard and Chopin.

Coming to the shop of Lalique, she stopped spellbound. These fairy tale perfumer's shops always took away her breath with their beauty. There were no longer flower boxes, as in the spring and summer, in the windows that lined this bazaar-like place but there were the jewel-ed windows that made you feel it was unreal, and you were unreal. On to the rue de la Paix she pushed her way.

The streets were filled with hurrying figures; it was but two days before Christmas. She thought of the place she meant to occupy on the street of millionaires.

She thought of her name in gold letters on a window. And she knew that the way was long and hard. But she had both time and ability. She had nothing else to do with her life. And—save for one bitter sweet spring—she had wanted nothing else.

When her eyes had had their fill and her heart was quiet, she counted the coins in her purse, the bank notes. She hailed a taxi and bid the driver hurry to her pension; she was giving a party.

If Kate and Ellin were not there, she decided she'd sit on the stone steps and have a good cry. It was too much to expect that any girl so suddenly rich could be expected to celebrate by herself.

Her loneliness was poignant. She had no relatives, no one who loved her. She was in a foreign land. There was Mark, who liked her; Anetka, who was grateful to her; Kate and Ellin, who were boon companions. That was all she had. There wasn't even a letter for her to look forward to.

Kate and Ellin were at home, wrapping gifts, hiding the packages meant for Mary. Kate and Ellin, who for the once, did nothing to take the wind out of her beautiful sails. Kate and Ellin were charmed to share in her party, to toast her in inexpensive wine, and to declare solemnly that she would one day head the most imposing establishment on the rue de la Paix.

Solemnly, seriously, Mary accepted their toasts, their beliefs. To her it was but an expected prediction. She believed it herself. She felt anointed for the role she knew she was to play.

"After clothes it will be hats, then costumes jewelry, then perfumes. The name of Mary Barrett will girdle the globe wherever stage and screen and society beauties trail their fripperies!"

"Mari Barat!" Mary corrected pronouncing it Mah-re Baray.

"A rose by any other name will still be our little pension-playmate."

"Not a bit! Only, as in everything else, my first thought is for my career. Mari Barat sounds French and imposing. Mary Barrett certainly doesn't."

"French...French! I'm so sick of pea soup and frog's legs. Oh, how I wish I were in Brooklyn right now! Ham and eggs and home fried potatoes and baking powder biscuits and home-made ice cream, and Mom and Pop and those odious twin brothers of mine!"

"Hush, Kate, or you'll have us all in tears. Just when I'm getting worked up over meeting Bill at Chartres for Christmas. And you going off to Brussels for Christmas! Everybody wants to go home but we have to make the most of it. Don't we, Mary?"

Mary nodded her head. She had no home to go to.

There was a taste of salt in her mouth and for the first time, her triumph, her ambition failed her. She was bereft and forlorn.

DALKEY ISLANDERS CROWN NEW KING

DUBLIN, Aug. 21 (C.P.). — Dalkey Island has a new King.

Before 2,000 of his subjects, King Thomas I. abdicated and King Robert I. took his place at a mock ceremony. The ancient custom of crowning a King of Dalkey, a small island off the coast south of Dublin, was revived a few years ago.

King Thomas, otherwise known as Alderman Tom Kelly, gravely explained why he was abdicating. The Army refused to come out last summer because it was too wet and the Navy would not put to sea because it was too dry.

His successor, a broadcaster known only as "Uncle Bob," was crowned "King of Dalkey, Emperor of the Muglins, Protector of the Holy Island of Magee, Elector of Lambay and Ireland's Eye, and Sovereign of the Illustrious Order of the Lobster and Periwinkle."

Sees Heavy Rain For First Time

TORONTO, Aug. 21—(CP).—Patty Corrigan, 3½ years, saw her first heavy rain yesterday. The little tot dashed into the shower, splashed through a puddle and shrieked with delight. Until Tuesday the girl resided in Swift Current, Sask., her grandmother, Mrs. Belle Corrigan, said.

"It can rain in Saskatchewan," said the elderly woman. The rain came down in sheets five summers ago, ran in through our front door and out the back. This year the lights had to be turned on in one small town at 5 p.m. so the people could see through the grasshoppers. They cleaned the wheat like razor blades."

Old Room Found To Be Septic Tank

BURLINGTON, Ont., Aug. 27 (C. P.). — An underground timbered room discovered during the razing of the old Brant House here caused much speculation among old timers. Some believed it to be the larder of the original home of Joseph Brant, famous Indian warrior, on the site of which the Brant House was built. Others thought it was part of a passage through which the ancient chief might escape in time of danger. Builders finally decided the room, with spruce walls and flagstoned floor, was nothing more than a septic tank for the hotel.

Bedtime Story

By
HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE ANT

"Help! Help! Help!" cried a voice in the woods one day when Uncle Wiggily was hopping around with Baby Bunty looking for an adventure to show the orphan rabbit.

"Help! Help! Help!"

"Do you here that, Unkie Wig?" asked Baby Bunty.

"Yes, thank you, I do," said Mr. Longears. "I think I had better go to the rescue. You had better hop back to the camp tent."

"Oh, no, if you please," said Bunty firmly but respectfully. "I will go to the rescue with you."

"But it may be some of the Bad Chaps," said Uncle Wiggily.

"I'm not afraid," spoke Bunty bravely. Again came the call:

"Help! Help! I'm in the water and I can't get out!"

"Ha! That's where I was not long ago," cried Uncle Wiggily, thinking of how he had dived into Blue Lake and how he thought some one had run away with his clothes. "I must help whoever is in the water. Come on, Bunty!"

The rabbit gentleman and the orphan hopped quickly to where they heard the calls for help. They saw, struggling in a little spring, a tiny ant lady. She was moving her legs fast, but the wind was making the surface of the spring so rough the ant lady could not swim to shore and climb out.

"Help! Help! Help!" she called in her tiny voice.

"I will help you!" said Uncle Wiggily. Reaching a tree twig in to the water he held it until the ant lady could climb up it and be lifted safely to the ground.

"Thank you very much, Uncle

Wiggily," said the ant lady when she had dried herself in the sun. "You did me a great favor. If ever I get the chance I shall do one for you."

"Pray do not mention it," answered Uncle Wiggily politely. "It was a great pleasure to save you. I do not need any favor to pay me for that."

"Still nevertheless and notwithstanding," said the ant lady who loved to use big words, "if ever I can do you a favor I will."

"Be it as you say," spoke Mr. Longears, formal like and calm.

Then the ant lady crawled away and Uncle Wiggily and Bunty went searching for another adventure.

However, none could they find and having reached a dingly dell in the woods, where there were five flat stumps for seats, they sat themselves down on two of the stumps. It was cool and pleasant in the woods and soon Baby Bunty and Uncle Wiggily fell asleep as they sat.

When they awakened and opened their eyes they saw, sitting on the three other stumps, three Bad Chaps—the Fox, Wolf and Bob Cat!

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the three Bad Chaps, one after the other. "Now for some nibbles!" barked the Fox. And the other echoed: "Nibbles!"

"Oh, what shall we do, Unkie Wig?" whispered Baby Bunty.

"Do nothing! Sit still until we nibble you!" growled the wolf.

But, all of a sudden he began to wiggle and squirm and jiggle and jump up and down. So did the Fox and Bob Cat.

"Oh! Oh! Oh!" cried the Bad Chaps. "We are full of ants! Ants are biting us before we can bite Uncle Wiggily! Oh! Oh! Oh! Ants! Ants! Ants!"

Then, their clothing filled with biting ants, away ran the Bad Chaps. One little ant lady crawled up to Uncle Wiggily and said:

"I saw the Bad Chaps sitting on the stumps waiting to nibble you. So I crawled away and got 7,000,000 of my relations and we crawled back and bit and tickled them well."

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Longears and Baby Bunty as they thanked the ant lady.

And if the ice cream soda doesn't catch cold sitting next to the hot water bag in the movies, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Mrs. Hollyhock.

STRIKERS BACK AT LOOMS IN AUBURN PLANT

251 STRICKEN BY PARALYSIS WITH 15 DEAD

TORONTO, July 23 (CP)—While the week-end boosted the infantile paralysis death toll from 13 to 15 and the number of known cases from 244 to 251, Ontario health officials today were hopeful cooler weather would abate the epidemic which has spread through the province.

The death of Howard Binkley, 20, son of a Hamilton lawyer, was the third in Hamilton. A new case was under treatment in hospital there, bringing the number of patients to 12. All were reported, however, as responding to serum injections.

London's death list was raised to two with death of Madeline Constable, seven, of London. An Alderton young man died Friday and four new paralysis cases during the week-end increased the number of diagnosed cases to 19. Nineteen other suspected cases were under observation.

Dr. C. A. Harris, London's medical health officer, said the majority of the patients' ages range from 17 to 24 years. All swimming pools were ordered closed in the western Ontario city to prevent spread of the disease.

Forty-one cases had been reported to Ottawa health authorities since June 1, Dr. T. A. Lomer, city medical officer of health, reported. One case was reported at Peterborough, while one at Copper Cliff was believed to be the only one in northern Ontario.

Medical authorities at Toronto said last week when postponement of school opening beyond September 1 was suggested that cooler weather might save the serious situation. Temperatures dropped from 10 to 15 degrees Sunday.

Officials at Galt were hopeful there would be no additional cases as the five-year-old girl stricken there was being removed to Toronto for treatment. At Kitchener it was announced that unless conditions change considerably schools would open as scheduled. There had been no additions to Kitchener's three cases for several days.

Toronto had 113 cases under treatment. Seven deaths had been reported since the outbreak, and in the surrounding district there were 56 known cases. Niagara Peninsula had 27 cases with one death.

Provincial health authorities cooperated with municipal officials and Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health, said that he would recommend postponement of school opening in such municipalities in which it was considered warranted.

Health officials in Western Ontario planned to confer on the situation, while Dr. A. L. McKay of the Government Health Service declared that theatres, churches and beaches should be closed if the schools were closed.

TRIP OVER ROCKIES HARD ON HORSES

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP)—The Rockies, 20-year-old John Gifford said today, are "chuck full of everything."

The graduate of Upper Canada College, one of 20 adventuring college boys home after a seven-week, 600-mile trip through the Rocky Mountains, told of the party's experiences in paddling down rivers, cutting forest paths for their horses, climbing glaciers, shooting and fishing.

Under the leadership of Count Nicholas Ignatieff and Jim Worrall of Upper Canada College, the boys left here July 2. They met another group from Montreal at Winnipeg and rode through the mountains from Wembley, Alta., to Prince George, B.C., from there they paddled and poled boats down rivers to Port St. John, taking the train home from Dawson Creek.

Gifford said "I don't know what I really liked best, but I think it was the boat trip." He added: "Cutting trail was an awful bore."

Members of the returning party said the trip was "very hard on the horses." Two horses died. "We think from theart failure," and on the return journey "we had to shoot one or two."

Gratuities paid by the Government of the Irish Free State to parents of children attending schools in the Irish-speaking districts totaled $110,160 in the last school period.

Last Minute News Flashes

COWANSVILLE, Que.—A warrant charging kidnapping was sworn out today against seven men being held in connection with the abduction of Samuel Grisz, general superintendent of Bruck silk mills, seized on the golf course here yesterday and released when immigration authorities halted the car at Richmond, Vt., on the border 20 miles away.

TORONTO—A. M. Orpen, 83-year old Toronto sportsman and race-track owner, was reported by physicians to have taken a turn for the worst today. He suffered a mild stroke some weeks ago and has been confined to his home since. Yesterday he was well enough to leave his bedroom and go downstairs for dinner.

TORONTO—A conference of the Toronto Board of Health, hospital authorities and representatives of the Ontario Department of Health will be held here today to discuss the infantile paralysis situation in the city, it was announced after a private meeting of the board of control.

Released in Vermont — Dismissed Weaver Involved—Gang Uses 7 Cars.

By D. E. Barritt
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

COWANSVILLE, Que., Aug. 23—(CP).—Back home again in his hotel suite, stocky Samuel Grisz, general superintendent of Bruck Silk Mills, declared to-day he was "taking action immediately against the two score men who seized him on the golf course here yesterday and raced him by car to the international border 20 miles away.

Brought back by police from Richford, Vt., where he was released from his captors by immigration officers, Grisz dressed in white flannels and polo shirt said he had "nothing to say just now" about his brief abduction.

"I have been done a personal injury," he said in a quiet voice, while his wife lay back in bed smoking a cigarette amid a group of friends who remained up to welcome him home. "And I'm taking action immediately against the men."

Grisz abducted in view of his startled wife and two small children while playing golf said he recognized most of the gang of men who seized the mill executive and fled in seven motor cars.

The seven men detained by immigration authorities at Richford after Grisz was released from their car are known to the mill superintendent, a native of New York city and "warrants will be sworn out."

Charges Unknown

When and on what charges the warrants would be sworn was a matter for his lawyer, said Grisz.

He was reluctant to talk of his capture or the motive for the abduction. "Naturally," he said, "there was a motive but I'm not doing any talking right now, what they wanted to do however was to get me across the international border."

Equal reticence was shown by Mrs. Grisz, who exhaled a mouthful of smoke before denying she had told newspapers anything about the seizure of her husband as they walked to the fourth tee with the two kiddies.

Police said one of the men was a weaver, dismissed from the mills for insubordination last Saturday.

Lawyer for Grisz, a United States citizen, said the men were being held at Richford pending a hearing.

HEPBURN IN FAVOR OF REFORESTATION NORTHERN AREAS

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP).—Principle of the suggestion of the Originals' club of Toronto that the Ontario Government embark on a reforestation scheme is acceptable to the Ontario Government, Premier Hepburn said today.

"The time is ripe for a reforestation scheme," he said. "But I believe it is more particularly necessary in Northern Ontario where we are beginning to utilize our forest resources, than in Old Ontario."

In any such scheme as many ex-service men as possible would be employed. "In fact we would have to import men from Southern Ontario for any work we did in the north because we can't get men up there," he said.

To give temporary employment to ex-servicemen throughout the province, the Originals' Club of Toronto and the men of the Trees Association announced during the week-end, they would petition the government to adopt such a scheme, to be applied particularly in older Ontario. Veterans' organizations also favor the move.

Under the plan favored by the Originals' Club, counties would furnish the land and the Provincial Government would supply the trees and subsidize the counties on an acreage basis to an amount sufficient for the labor of planting.

UNLUCKY DAY

CALGARY—(CP).—It cost Chas. Beneckritis of Saskatoon, $3 for passing the automobile of Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, on the highway during the recent vice-regal tour of central Alberta. Arraigned in court here, he was fined for "obstructing the passage of the vice-regal car in a manner that might have caused an accident." The incident occurred near Drumheller.

INSURANCE IDEA HEPBURN PLANK

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—(CP).—An unemployment insurance program will be part of his election platform, Premier Hepburn announced here to-day. If his administration is returned to power, he said, he will immediately call a conference with other provinces to devise uniform unemployment schemes.

If such a conference fails to produce results Ontario will embark on a scheme of its own, the Premier continued. "We have already made a study of the situation, but our action was delayed pending the decision of the Privy Council with regard to the Bennett legislation.

"Now since the Federal legislation has been ruled to be ultra vires it is up to the provinces to act," said Mr. Hepburn.

Cooperation of all provinces would be essential or indigent residents would flock to the province in which an unemployment insurance was in effect, he said.

Japanese Destroyer Shells Chinese Attackers

A gun crew aboard a Japanese destroyer is shown shelling Chinese troops who made a surprise attack on Japanese controlled Tientsin. The city was one of the first captured by the Japanese during the present invasion. Meanwhile fighting between Japanese and Chinese forces has moved southward to Shanghai, where the death toll mounts daily.

ENTERED APPEAL AGAINST ORDER FOR DEPORTATION

Alfred Bailey, 33 Benson avenue, informed the Examiner to-day that he is appealing to the Department of Immigration against an order for his deportation to Great Britain effective next Friday.

'I was notified on Friday, the 13th of this month to be ready to leave on the 27th,' Mr. Bailey said. "The order came as a bolt from the blue, without any warning, and without any chance to present objection. I understand that the reasons for deportation are that I have been on relief at times since 1934.

I have written the Department protesting that no legitimate reason has been given for deporting me. I have not received relief for six months, and at any time it was only partial, for rent, light and water. I have never had any trouble with the city; I have a reputation for being industrious. I have a job now at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club in the charge of their nursery, and it should last for months. I was in charge of the Red Cross Hostel for four years, and Alderman Glover and many other citizens can vouch for how I did that job. At the present time I have two gardens, one of them that should produce about 40 bags of potatoes, and if this order goes through I will have to sacrifice them.

I suppost the deportation was arranged through the city's relief committee. I saw Alderman Dutton, but he said there was nothing he could no about it. He refused to discuss the case with me. I consider that I am being unfairly treated, that I am entitled to some kind of hearing where cause should be produced as to why they want to deport me. It is a matter of plain British justice. I dont want to be deported. I want to stay here, and I am not going if I can help it. If I had a bad record in Peterborough it would be a different matter. I have been here since 1929, and all that can be said against me is that I have been on relief at different times. I am fifty-two years old, and factories don't want men of my age. That makes it all the harder to get a job. I supose the city thinks I will be a charge against them in the future. However, I am working at present, and my job should hold out uncill late in the fall.

At any rate I want the citizens to know that I am not getting justice, and that I am going to do all I can in opposition to this action by the city and the Immigration Department."

Ontario Weekend Toll, 6 Smallest In Weeks

Highway Department's Safety Campaign and Cooler Weather Credited.

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP)—Cooler weather and a continuance of the highway department's safety campaign were seen today as factors in Ontario's week-end death toll of six, smallest in many weeks. Traffic police reported a definite falling off in highway traffic thus through the summer had reached new peaks of density.

John M. Lee, 38, Toronto, son of George W. Lee, North Bay, former president of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, was killed and three others, including his mother, were injured when their automobile crashed into a parked truck on a highway near Toronto. The driver faces a criminal negligence charge.

In the Frood Mine at Sudbury, Earl Mitchell, 23, was killed when a dynamite charge he was placing in a chute exploded. He was known as an expert chute blaster and was stope boss.

Two American tourists were killed in automobile accidents. Near Hamilton, Dr. W. L. Schofield, 58, Athens, Mich., died and his wife was hurt when their car crashed into a ditch. Near St. Thomas Hazel Ransom, Detroit nurse, was hurt fatally and three others were injured in a two-car collision.

Four weeks after his brother was killed under almost identical circumstances, James Davis, Nixon, Ont., died after being hit by an automobile on No. 3 Highway near Simcoe. His brother, Frank, was killed by a car in Charlotteville Township.

Identification of Raymond Scarrow, Brantford youth, was made several hours after he was killed by a Canadian National Railways yard engine at Brantford. It is believed he attempted to board a train when he fell beneath the wheels.

Battle Is Halted For Cigarettes

Reinosa, Spain, Aug. 23.

THE war on the northern front was halted for five minutes today while Moroccan insurgent troops went out into no-man's land and sold cigarets to their loyalist enemies.

The loyalists, 50 yards from the Moors' advance lines, called out for cigarets. A Moor replied in "pidgin" Spanish that he would sell some—at tripled prices.

After considerable haggling a Moor and a loyalist met in the middle of the battle field and completed the deal, after which fighting resumed.

Robert J. Bushell Dies In Kingston

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 23—(CP).—Robert J. Bushell, for many years manager of the Kingston Fair, died yesterday at his home, Bath Road. He was manager of the Kingston Fair from 1912 to 1930, and was known throughout Ontario, Quebec and New York State.

A former mariner, he spent some 20 years on the lakes, as waiter and later purser on boats of the Richilieau and Ontario Lines.

For the past 25 years he conducted a vegetable farm near here. In 1926 he was a liberal candidate for the Dominion House, being defeated by Hon. Dr. J. W. Edwards.

ON SUSPECT LIST.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 23—(CP).—Police said to-day a 13-year-old boy who complained his bicycle was stolen, had admitted he was one of three boys whose bicycles were seized during the week-end when they were frightened away from the city street railway yards. Night Foreman George Beer called police when he saw the trio near trolleys in the yard. Two of the boys got away on foot and the other escaped with his bicycle. Street railway officials said cash boxes in the street cars had been looted a week ago.

TRIO IN TRUCK ARE ROBBED BY THUGS WHILE SLEEPING

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 23.— Fred Gladstone, his son Frank and Buster Wallace, all of Kingston, were held up by three armed thugs while sleeping on Zwicks Island, south of here on the Bay of Quinte early Sunday and rubbed of $30 in cash.

Several shots were fired by the armed trio, one shot grazing the arm of Fred Gladstone, before they made their escape in a large sedan. Police here link the thugs with a $500 robbery of a barber shop in Picton, and believe them to be the same gang who have been molesting sleeping tourists along the highway east from Toronto.

The trio from Kingston were spending the night on Zwicks Island and were sleeping a light pick-up truck. They were rudely awakened by a curt demand to hand over their cash. A window in the truck was smashed by the thugs.

Before leaving, the thugs smashed all the spark plugs in the truck, to stop pursuit. Police were immediately notified and a sharp lookout hase been maintained, but no arrests had been made last night.

Crown Is Likely To Seek To Drop Some Of Charges

Lightning Kills Five Inside Two Days

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 23.

TWO persons were killed by lightning at Bethelltown, near here Saturday. A 16-year-old boy met similar fate at Grand Cayman to raise to five the deaths by electrocution in Jamaica and the Caymans since late Friday.

Harold Gordon and Henrietta Chambers were the two killed at Bethelltown, Louis Delisser, bookkeeper, and Adolphus Tompson, another employee at Trinity Plantation, St. Mary, were electrocuted late Friday when they leaned across a barbed-wire fence charged accidently from an electric supply source.

All But Two Departments Fully Operating For First Time in Eight Weeks.

Peterboroughs eight-week strike dispute seemed at last at an end when strikers marched uneventfully into the Auburn plant to resume work this morning. Both company officials and strike leaders expressed confidence that the understanding between the management and the strikers is now sufficiently clear that no further walkout is likely.

H. S. Leybourne, controller, revealed during the morning that the plant was in full operation with the exception of two departments. It was expected that one of these two departments would be operating by to-morrow and that the other would be started up in the near future. A night shift will be put to work to-night in accordance with the undertaking given the men by Managing Director Henry Barrett at Friday afternoon's meeting, he said.

Work continued to-day at the Bonner-Worth plant without incident.

Police were absent from both factory scenes when the opening whistles sounded this morning, apparently withdrawn at the direction of Mayor Macdonald. During the meeting between Henry Barrett and the U. T. W. gathering Friday, Mayor Macdonald made the promise that police would not be on the scene when the strikers returned this morning. It is understood the last of the Provincial police have returned to Toronto. Several remained to the week-end for special duty in connection with the Exhibition.

With the main strike trouble apparently settled, all that remained for public attention to-day was the matter of the charges against sixteen of the strike leaders and pickets.

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., said this afternoon the Crown would seek to drop some of the charges but he declined to discuss which charges would be abandoned. Strike leaders said J. L. Cohen, legal adviser, who is acting for a number of those charged, was to arrive in the city this afternoon. He would confer with the Crown Attorney, they reported.

All sixteen men and women charged in connection with strike disorders are to appear in police court Tuesday morning.

HON. J. D. CHAPLIN DIES FROM STROKE IN ST. CATHARINES

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Aug. 23.—(CP)—Hon. James D. Chaplin, 74, for 18 years member of parliament for Lincoln and a former minister of trade and commerce, died at his home here today after a lengthy illness.

Hon. J. D. Chaplin

Mr. Chaplin, in indifferent health since the campaign of 1930 that elected the Conservative government of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, suffered two strokes at his summer home at Longford Reserve, Ont., and was brought here by ambulance. Attending physicians from the start held little hope of his recovery.

Within a few hours last Wednesday, the veteran parliamentarian suffered two strokes. In critical condition, he was brought to his home here and never rallied. Gradually failing throughout the week-end, Mr. Chaplin died early this morning.

Born in Toronto, March 20, 1863, Mr. Chaplin was brought to St. Catharines by his parents when a child. He entered public life as an alderman on this city's council and successfully contested five elections for that office.

Entered Politics In 1917.

He entered Federal politics in 1917 when elected member for Lincoln on a Unionist platform. As a Conservative, he was re-elected in the elections of 1921, 1925, 1926 and 1930. He retired after the dissolution of Parliament in 1935.

Mr. Chaplin was made Minister of Trade and Commerce in July, 1926, as a member of the Cabinet

McLEAN PROPERTY SOLD.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 23.—The sale has been transacted of the house and lot situated on the east side of Front Street, known as the Terry McLean property. Mrs. Johanna English was the vendor and Hector McArthur of town the purchaser. The house is a two-storey frame structure with four rooms downstairs and three bedrooms on the second floor. A three-car garage adjoins the house. Although the purchase price was not disclosed, the property is valued at about $1,200.00. The sale was transacted through T. L. Diamond, realtor.

3 WOMEN VICTIM CHICAGO ATTACKS

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Slaying of a pretty nurse and assault upon two other women—all in a 48-hour period — sent police on a round-up today of "every man with a record for any sex offense."

The latest assault victim was Mrs. Anna Hollander, 50, who was beaten and knocked unconscious by a Negro in a south side prairie last night.

She said the man approached her from the field and struck her with his fists. Mrs. Hollander cried out: "Take my purse, take my purse," but instead he tore her dress and struck her.

Meanwhile, police guarded hospitals, nurses' homes, hotels and other living quarters for young women while authorities questioned more than 100 suspects in the rape-slaying of a 19-year-old nurse, and the razor assault upon another a few hours later.

Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed police, ordered all districts to "bring in every man with a record for any sex offense," after Miss Florence Swanson, 34 was slashed with a razor by an intruder early Sunday.

Moscow Prepares 3 Rescue Planes

MOSCOW, Aug. 23—(AP).—Three huge polar planes were warmed up today for a hazardous search in the Arctic ice fields for the Soviet flier Sigismund Levanefsky and five companions missing 10 days on an over-the-pole flight from Moscow to New York.

The rescue ships will be commanded by three of Russia's most famous veterans of Arctic flying, Mihail Vodopyanoff, Vasily Molokoff and Anatolii Alexeiff.

They are waiting favorable weather to take off on the first leg, a flight to Rudolf Island, a far northern Soviet air station, whence they will fly non-stop across the roof of the world to Alaska.

Police Duck As Bees Join Strike Firemen Save The Day

Hoses Souse Montreal Rebels' Winged Allies Imported For Occasion.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Police stationed at the gates of the Mount Royal plant of the Dominion Textile Company called fire-fighters to their aid today to fight a couple of swarms of live bees dropped at their feet from speeding automobiles, just before the mill's scheduled opening.

Two boxes of insects were tossed at the police as they lined up in front of the mill gates, about to open to admit those of Mount Royal's 1,000 employees who decided last week to go back to their machines.

As the bees from the burst boxes, the police raced to the mill and telephoned the nearest fire station.

Firemen raced to the scene with full equipment and put the Bees to flight with powerful streams of water. Then, police returned from cover and permitted workers to pass into the mill.

The strike in Quebec's textile industry affecting about 10,000, entering its fourth week seemed little nearer solution than when the National Catholic Federation of Textile workers called it August 2.

No Fooling In Russia With Death Driver

Novosibirsk, U.S.S.R., Aug 23.

A GARAGE manager was sentenced to death Saturday for an accident to one of his trucks which killed nine children. It was charged he had urged the driver of the truck, carrying children to a picnic, to go faster. The truck overturned.

The driver was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

MAY WITHDRAW BANKS.

TORONTO, Aug. 23. (CP).—Control by the province of banks operating in Alberta would be "impractical from the banks' standpoint," C. H. Carlisle, President of the Dominion Bank, said today in commenting on Alberta's latest debt moratorium legislation.

"Therefore if the legislation is such as to make it impossible for us to carry on in the province, there is only one thing left for us to do—withdraw our banks," he said.

Cloudburst Hits Northern Victoria Cattle Wading In Water, Trees Down

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 23. — The northern portion of Victoria County was swept on the week-end by a violent rain and wind storm, which was one of the worst in the memory of old timers. The rain came down in torrents for some time and stretches of marshland were converted into minature lakes. Roads running through the low lands were flooded and in portions of Carden Township, the rain fell to such a depth that cattle on the ranchland were wading in two feet of water. Large elms and maples were uprooted and the steel roof was blown off a barn near Cambray. A large number of tents at the Girl Guides' camp at Fenelon Falls were also blown down.

Reds Get Prince On Theft Charge

MOSCOW, Aug. 23 (AP).—Prince Boris Golitsine, member of one of the proudest families of Czarist Russia, today was sentenced to five years' imprisonment for stealing State property.

Under the Soviet regime, the Prince had been since 1932 the manager of a garage belonging to the Moscow Street Construction Trust. The court found he had bought old automobiles for small amounts, used spare parts in his garage to repair and overhaul them, then sold them and pocketed the profits.

Golitzine's downfall was due to an accident in which one of his rebuilt cars knocked down two Red Army soldiers of a column marching on the Moscow-Orel Road.

Two Youths Are Shot Down Walking From Dance

MORRIN, Alta., Aug. 23.—(CP)—Mysterious shooting of two youths near the main street of this town 80 miles northeast of Calgary was investigated today by Royal Canadian Mounted police.

Police said last night they had failed to uncover a clue to the shooting of George Knox, 23, and John Lane, 19, wounded by bullets from a .32 calibre revolver. The bullets were fired from close range.

One bullet entered Lane's thigh and two tore into the fleshy part of Knox' chest while they were walking down railway tracks after attending a dance Saturday night.

Police said Knox and Lane asserted they knew of no reason why anyone would want to kill them.

A JOKE BACKFIRES.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 23 (CP)—The practical joke of Percy Bonneville and Albert Walker backfired here and the two paid fines of $10 and costs each. A good prank, they thought, would be to drive a friend's car around the corner from where he parked it and make him look for it. They took the wrong car.

1,000 Wounded In International Section Shambles

Origin Unknown—Japs Land 50,000 Chinese Rear at Woosung.

(By Morris J. Harris).

SHANGHAI, Aug. 23—(AP).—An estimated 400 persons were killed and perhaps 1,000 wounded by a heavy artillery shell that smashed into a crowded department store section of the International Settlement to-day.

Dead and wounded were strewn over Nanking Road, Shanghai's shopping centre, for blocks and police feared the death toll from the single shell would reach higher.

Foreigners wounded included Anthony Billingham, staff correspondent for The New York Times, and Hallett Abend, chief of staff for The Times in China.

The huge projectile screamed over the International Settlement just as thousands were pouring into the streets for lunch.

The blast tore away the entire facade and blew out one whole corner of Sincere and Company's great department store. The fronts of the two buildings occupied by the Wing On and Company department store across the street were blown away.

Three Drop In City.

It was the first of three shells that spread new terror into the great commercial city. There was little indication whether the missile had been tossed from a Japanese or Chinese gun.

A second projectile pierced the United States Navy warehouse, one block from the Whangpoo river-front near the settlement's southern border. The shell failed to explode. It crashed through the building and shattered on the concrete bottom floor.

A third shell struck the teeming Ward Road prison in the northern sector of the International Settlement, throwing the 6,500 prisoners into renewed terror. Evacuation of the prison started yesterday but was blocked by Japanese protests many of the convicts were going into the Chinese army.

Billingham was seriously injured. He and Abend were on a shopping trip to Wing On's when the shell struck. Abend, suffering a slight foot wound, fought a way through the fear-crazed throng, carrying his semi-conscious companion. Billingham collapsed in the street and was taken to the country hospital.

He was suffering from severe shell shock, four shrapnel wounds in the chest, and his left arm and hand were mutilated. They were riding in an elevator when the blast shook the department store.

Morris J. Harris, chief of the Shanghai Bureau of the Associated Press, marked up his third escape from bursting projectiles. He had

PRESS OF BRITAIN FAVOR ARMY PLAN IF PAY INCREASED

LONDON, Aug. 23—(CP).—General press reaction to-day to War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha's plan to strengthen the army was that the scheme is fine as far as it goes but does not go far enough.

The idea of presenting the army as a career for men was regarded as an improvement on the hitherto temporary enlistment. But whether it will be a good career was questioned. The general demand for an increase in army pay was taken up by the pres together with the contention there should be less ruffianly treatment of raw recruits and more painstaking instruction.

The Times noted the increase in army ranks was to be made at the expense of reserves and therefore the scheme would be ultimately dangerous unless followed by more comprehensive measures.

The newspaper hoped a mountain had not been in labor to bring forth a mouse and stressed the Hore-Belisha scheme was really only an advance experiment and was not meeting the necessary needs of the army, which hitherto had been subject to the "inertia of a long elaborated system which has hindered successive generations from applying themselves to army reform."

Should Be First Class.

The News Chronicle urged that questions of pay, living conditions, training, and opportunities of acquiring useful skill be taken up. "It is a pity that we as a nation have so bother about keeping an army at all, but so long as we have one it should be at the highest possible pitch of efficiency," the paper said.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express welcomed the possibilities of a career job but urged attention should be given to skill and intelligence rather than physical endurance, noting the nature of army work was scientific rather than a matter of force.

The Manchester Guardian observed that depleting reserves "feeds the dog on the dog's tail," but welcomed inauguration of a "much-needed campaign to improve the army" and hoped pay and other points would be taken up as soon as possible.

"But," the Guardian added, "unless the first six months of army life are no longer based too fiercely on the old assumption that the raw soldier is a rapscallion and must be broken in at all costs, the scheme will not get far in attracting intelligent men."

The Telegraph described the scheme as a "useful if limited expedient," but hoped for "big reforms appealing to the imagination." If more money were required the Telegraph added the country would hasten to find it.

Sees Deficit Dangerous.

The Daily Mail declared the deficit in recruits was grave, that reserves were 112,000 below pre-war strength, and that there were 100,000 fewer territorials than in 1914.

"People will watch anxiously the effect produced by the new experiment, but it may be necessary to make the rewards of army service approximate more the rewards which a fit and intelligent young man can obtain in outside callings."

The Daily Herald said there was plenty of evidence that the shortage of recruits was due to the relatively low level of army pay.

"Half measures are only wasteful

Miss Ethel Young Wins Car At "Ex"

Miss Ethel Young, R.R. 3 North Monaghan, was the winner of the Terraplane automobile at the Exhibition Saturday, the last of the four cars given away by the Board with the tickets distributed among merchants of the city and district.

Miss Young held the second number drawn, the first being unclaimed.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCEPLAN COMING IN YEAR

BRAMPTON, Aug. 23.—An unemployment insurance scheme of a Provincial character will be undertaken by the Hepburn Government next year, unless some agreement is reached among the other Provinces and the Dominion for a general scheme.

Hon. Peter Heenan revealed these plans at the Liberal rally here Saturday night at which Premier Hepburn spoke in the interests of Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, who was nominated for Peel riding.

"Proper and adequate steps are being taken to institute unemployment insurance in Ontario," said Mr. Heenan, in winding up remarks concerning social legislation.

"I see the Prime Minister applauds," continued Mr. Heenan, glancing at Mr. Hepburn. "I am not far wrong in what I say."

"You weren't guessing," murmured Mr. Hepburn, smiling.

It is understood that Ontario will take the lead in calling a conference of provinces next year to discuss unemployment insurance, in collaboration with the Dominion authorities. If nothing develops from the parley, Ontario will go ahead and introduce legislation to bring it into effect in Ontario.

BRITISH STEAMER BOMBED, ASKS AID

MARSEILLE, France, Aug. 23. — (CP-Havas)—The 2,499-ton British freighter Noemiejulia to-day sent out a radio message saying it had been bombed by two airplanes.

The vessel was north-east of the Balearic Islands, giving its position as 42 degrees 7 minutes latitude and 5 degrees 32 minutes east longitude.

The planes bore the numbers 528 and 529, and black circles with white crosses and two black bars, the message said.

It was sailing near the waters of war-torn Spain where several bombings and torpedoings of commercial vessels have occurred lately.

The Noemijulia's message, picked up by a Marseille station, read: "We are being bombarded. Position 42 degrees seven minutes north, five degrees 32 minutes east. Signs two planes numbers 528 and 529 black circle with white cross and two black bars."

No further message was received immediately, leaving in doubt the fate of the vessel.

In view of recent raids, the French and British Governments have ordered their warships and planes to aid merchantmen attacked on the high seas and counter-attack if necessary for their protection.

STEAL CASH REGISTER

BROOKS, Alta.—(CP).— Fifteen dollars in cash didn't satisfy thieves who broke into a general store at Tilley, near here. They also carried away the cash register.

Grand Champion Holstein Female

"Otonabee Supreme Ormsby Lady" is an offspring of "Hays' Supreme" the herd sire of Mr. Tully purchased a few years ago. She is thirteen months old, and is of the third generation bred by Mr. Tully. The young grand champion defeated entries from herds of the Hon. G. S. Henry and J. M. Fraser of Streetaville. Mr. Tully is one of Peterborough county's youngest progressive breeders.

Soviet Sends Wilkins North To Seek Lost Fliers

Buys Flying Boat in New York —Hires Pilot Hollick-Kenyon of Toronto.

COPPERMINE, N.W.T., Aug. 23 (CP).—Sir Hubert Wilkins and four companions were within the Arctic Circle today, participating in the search for Soviet Russia's missing transpolar fliers.

Sir Hubert's big flying boat, purchased for the expedition by the Soviet Government, arrived Saturday at this settlement on Canada's Arctic coast, completing a two-day flight from New York.

Pilot Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, Toronto, took the plane into the air yesterday on the start of a long-range search flight into the Arctic wastes but fog and heavy clouds forced the party to return.

The flying boat hopped off again at 7.00 o'clock (10 p.m., E.D.T.) last night, heading westward in the direction of Aklavik, near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, where other fliers are awaiting favorable weather to continue search flights.

"MAMMY" SINGER TOPS CHALLENGERS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23 (CP).—Al Jolson, "mammy singer" of the stage and screen, today was undisputed top man in the film colony's famous "one punch" brigade, as a result of challenging a whole balcony full of prize fight fans to "come down and fight."

There have been many "one punch" fights in Hollywood, and also a number of "no punch" encounters, but Jolson's feat at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night combined the best features of both.

The challenge came as the result of a whiskey bottle being tossed out of the upper shelf during the main event between George Godfrey, negro heavyweight from Leiperville, Pa., and Hank Hankinson of Akron, Ohio.

The bottle presumably was aimed either at one of the contestants or at the former heavyweight champion, Max Baer, the referee, but Jolson immediately stood up and roared in a clear, musical voice:

"Coward! Coward! Come down and fight like a man!"

Nobody came and nobody fought but experts agreed that on the basis of the sheer super-colossal, Jolson's mass challenge outdid anything ever attempted before in the film colony, including Jolson's own best previous performances, when he socked Columnist Walter Winchell at a Hollywood prize fight arena in 1933.

Jolson was sitting with his wife, Ruby Keeler, and Mr. and Mrs. Chico Marx when the bottle came out of the darkness and smashed against a ring post. Splinters of glass showered on ringsiders, including Lupe Velez and Frank Fay, former husband of Barbara Stanwyck.

Jolson bounded to his feet and screamed:

"Come on down, you coward!"

There was no answer from the upper deck. Jolson brandished his fist, taking in some two or three thousand fight fans with his gesture:

"Coward! Coward! Coward!" he roared.

The audience was silent. Two policemen suddenly darted for the balcony and grabbed a couple of young men who seemed to have had a nodding acquaintance with a bottle.

Jolson escorted Miss Keeler to an exit, then dashed back and repeated his challenge. Finally—since there were no takers—he shook his head like a wounded lion, joined his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Chico Marx and they left the arena.

Mrs. Marx suffered a few cuts and Chico Marx had a scratch on his hand. A few splinters of glass grazed Miss Keeler's face but did not cut her.

CORONATION OAKS GROWING RAPIDLY

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23.—(CP). — Coronation acorns planted here this spring after shipment fom the Windsor estate, are well on their way to proving the truth of the old saying—"tall oaks from little acorns grow."

A recent survey of the budding crop found several that had reached the one-foot mark and had broken their flower pots. Of the 200 distributed in Manitoba by officials of the Manitoba Motor League, nearly all report the plants have leafed and are "doing nicely."

TOBACCO UP TO AVERAGE.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., Aug. 23—(CP).—About 10,000,000 pounds of Burley tobacco—an average crop—will be harvested in South Essex this year. The crop has been damaged to an extent by excessive rainfall.

CO-OPERATIVES SPREADING IN NEWFOUNDLAND

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Aug. 23—(C.P.). — What was formerly a little section of the Department of Natural Resources in Newfoundland's Commission of Government has suddenly become a full-fledged Department of Rural Construction, larger in its scope and outlay than the parent body.

Estimated expenditure of the Department of Natural Resources for 1937-38 was placed at $734,779, a decrease of $128,661 from last year. Planned expenditure of the newly-formed Department of Rural Reconstruction is $754,124, the first-year cost of an $8,000,000 program of reconstruction and rehabilitation designed to lead Britain's Oldest Colony towards prosperity.

Fisheries is No. One Task.

Logically enough, improvements to the fisheries ranks as the Number One task of the new department. The work includes improvement in the grading and classification of the products of the fisheries; the development of new types of fish products particularly fresh fish in various forms; and better organization of a market for the produce of an industry that employs more than one-fifth of the family heads of the Island.

Already the fishing industry has been aided by a series of other measures. There is a full-rate rebate of the duty on gasoline used by fishermen and a bounty of $1 a hogshead on salt; a special motor vessel has been chartered to assist all those who fish along the Labrador coast, and a reduction has been made in the duty on diesel oil used in fishing vessels. The percentage of the total reconstruction grant to be used in aiding the fishing industry will be decided after tabling of the report of a special investigating commission.

The Co-operated Movement which spread here from St. Francis Xavier University in Antigonish, N.S., has been tried and found good in Newfoundland. A Division of Co-operation within the Reconstruction Department is expected to give the movement the greatest impetus in its history, with application of the basic rules of co-operation aiding in the work of revivifying life in the villages and in improving economic conditions.

Co-ordination of Occupations.

The Movement will be linked with plans for the co-ordination of occupations. Attempts are to be made to link fishing with farming, as is done in many coastal sections at the present time. Co-ordination will also be attempted between fishing and logging or logging and farming, so that families will not have to depend entirely on a single seasonal occupation.

"In many cases where families can barely make a living out of one industry alone, the position would be immediately improved if they were able to add one, and perhaps two, occupations as subsidiary to the first. With this in mind, village life will be re-organized with a view to securing wherever practicable that the people are not wholly dependent on the fluctuating fortunes of any one industry," said Commissioner for Finance J. H. Penson.

Experiments in lead reclamation are to be carried out for men engaged in fishing and logging or who are temporarily unemployed. The Government will provide them with seeds, implements and fertilizers "on a basis which will not undermine the spirit of self-help."

Families will be transferred from sections where it seems impossible for a growing population to maintain itself because of constant failure of the fisheries and a scarcity of arable land. Co-operative societies will be utilized to market the products of more fortunate sections throughout the country.

Reforestation and Conservation.

A system of reforestation and of more effective guarding of the wooded sections of the country is included in the work of the new department. Efforts are to be made to obtain higher wages and better conditions for woodsmen, who have already received substantial increases this year as the pulpwood industry flourished, particularly in the Corner Brook and Grand Falls sections.

The now-flourishing mining industry will also come under the reconstruction program. Efforts are to be made to increase the shipments of iron ore to Great Britain, particularly from the Bell Island section; geologists have been sent out to map the country more efficiently; and hopes are held out the many abandoned copper, lead, and zinc shafts will be reopened.

The problem of Public Health is considered one of the greatest that the Government has to face. For this reason there has been planned a campaign of hygiene instruction; the establishment of field hospitals and an improved laboratory service; a raising of the standard of health in schools and an increase in the personnel of the Medical Health unit and the District Nursing Service.

In the field of education, the reconstruction program provides for restoration of pay cuts to school teachers; increased provisions for school buildings and equipment; and improvement in the facilities for adult education throughout the Oldest Colony.

Reformatory Time Given Young Men

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 23.—Magistrate Gee, of Lindsay, presided at a police court session at Cannington on Saturday and sentenced Hugh Gordon McArthur, aged 27, and Eric Barnes, alias Thompson, both of Toronto, for attempting to break into Woodward's warehouse in that village. McArthur received four months in the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph, and Barnes six months at Burwash. Both had criminal records. When arrested they had in their possession a kit of burglars' tools and were at work on the door of the warehouse when Constable Clarke appeared. They travelled in a car stolen in Toronto.

NOTED SHOWMAN R. W. MARKS, DIES

PERTH, Ont., Aug. 23. (CP).—Another link with the days when road-shows flourished and touring theatricals penetrated town and village was broken Saturday with the death here of Robert W. Marks, one of the best known impressarios on the North American continent. Founder of the famous Marks Brothers theatrical company, he died at the age of 84.

As early as 1879 Marks took the road, with one of his six brothers. Starting out one day with a horse and buggy, aiming for Winnipeg, he began a career which continued more than half a century and which saw him at one time operating no fewer than 11 shows simultaneously.

The Marks Brothers Company was well-known in the early mining camps of the United States, and equally well-known in the smaller centres of Canada. It typified an element that, so far as the Dominion is concerned, has practically disappeared from the entertainment field. The Marks Brothers claimed credit for inaugurating the 10, 20 and 30-cent shows.

ROYAL ENGAGEMENT.

CAIRO, Aug. 23 (AP).—The engagement of Egypt's young King Farouk to Mlle. Saal Naaz, 16-year-old daughter of Youssef Bey Zulfikar, Councillor of the Alexandria Mixed Courts of Appeals, was officially announced today.

HEPBURN TO BARE GIGANTIC SCANDAL IN DEATH DUTIES

BRAMPTON, Ont., Aug. 23 (CP) —Succession duties arrears in 44 estates now being investigated by the Ontario treasury department amount to between $50,000,000 and $70,000,000, Premier Mitchell Hepburn told Peel County Liberals here Saturday when they gathered to renominate Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, for the forthcoming provincial general election.

As the campaign warmed up, with the date still unannounced, the Ontario premier asked a renewal of the people's mandate for his Liberal government and said the succession duties investigation was "one of the chief reasons we are calling this election."

The money he said was due the province would be collected if the Liberals were returned. But "if these people can take these cases to the courts and procrastinate, there is a possibility a lot of money will be taken out of our jurisdiction," he said.

"If Mr. Rowe (Hon. Earle Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader) is elected, his hands will be tied," Mr. Hepburn said. "He has the same old gang around him and he won't be able to go ahead and collect these huge sums. We are going to uncover the gigantic scandal that has been going on."

Victory Or Lewis

Defeat of his government would be a victory for John L. Lewis, United States labor leader, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and "may herald the beginning of a reign of terror such as they have had in Chicago, and are still having in other parts of the United States," Mr. Hepburn said.

"I am sympathetic to labor," he proclaimed. "I believe in the right to strike and the right to collective bargaining. When I am wrong, Peter Heenan (Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests) will be the first to tell me. As long as he supports my stand on labor I will continue to pursue it. I still believe I am on the right track."

Ontario was not facing a power shortage, the premier said. The Hydro Commission had options on large blocks of power exercisable at any time.

Two Cars Collide Phalen's Corners

Phalen's Corners near Lakefield was the scene of a spectacular collision between two automobiles on Sunday afternoon, but fortunately the accident was without serious consequences for the nine persons involved.

Mrs. Lorne Webster, of Lakefield sustained superficial cuts about her face when a car driven by her husband overturned before coming to a stop right side up in the ditch after being in collision with a car proceeding in the opposite direction.

The Webster car was proceeding from Chemong to Lakefield and other passengers in it beside Mr. and Mrs. Webster were their daughters Phyllis and Mary and D. W. Barnett of Lakefield.

B. Layne, 68 Hayter street, Toronto was stated to be owner of the other car which was proceeding from Buckborn to Peterborough. He was being accompanied by L. Marini, 124 Hazleton avenue, Toronto said to be the driver, and also by Miss Ruth Campbell and Miss G. Stevens both of Toronto.

GUARD CHILDREN AGAINST GOITRE

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23.—(CP).—It costs Vancouver parents 10 cents a year to guard their childen against goitre.

For this sum children are provided with chocolate tablets containing iodine. Since the introduction in 1930 of this candied cure the percentage of Vancouver children suffering from enlarged thyroid glands has dropped from 3.9 to 1.1 last year.

BARBECUE BAIT.

GREENSBORO, Ga., Aug. 23. — (AP).— Warden J. S. Smith announced a barbecue feast for his convict wards of the chain gang.

They spread the word around. John Harris, negro who had been a fugitive for several hours, gave himself up—just in time for the feast.

FALL HATS ARE HIGH, WIDE AND HANDSOME

Black felt beret styled high, wide and handsome.

"HIGH, WIDE and handsome." That is trite but it exactly describes the fall and winter hats.

The epithet holds whether the hat be small or large, wide brimmed or the beret type. A forward and upward movement is noticed, the more extreme models being very high, with unusual and interesting trimmings and stylings.

The color combinations as well as the style of the hat pictured left is original. Black and sapphire blue is one of the newest combinations this season. This model is in black felt crown and sapphire blue wide, turned-up brim.

The other model is a beret. Berets will be very popular this season, but very much larger than formerly. The one shown in the picture verifies this statement. This beret is in black felt, with considerable height and width.

Height of the new hats vary for the maid and matron, and there are many influences seen in these new models. From Paris comes the statement that Bohemian, Grecian and Florentine inspiration is being used. Small, cone shapes are set back on the head like Florentine page boy caps. They usually are trimmed with a twist of self material.

Then there are hats with brims at front and sides only, which turn up in bold curves showing one profile, sometimes with a pert quill or some other trimming to accent the sweep of the brim.

Small beret-toques are thick and round, often entirely covered with velvet pasted ostrich, and with little ostrich plumes in the same color curling up at the highest side.

Fashion Service

No small wonder for the popularity of this navy wool jumper dress with school girls. The darling puffed sleeved shirt blouse is powder blue dimity with navy dots. Then to keep neat and trim and for variety, mummy can make another blouse or two with the same pattern. A bright yellow background challis, powder blue cotton broadcloth, red and white gingham check—there's a nice choice!

Style No. 2007 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 12 requires 1¼ yards of 39-inch material for blouse with 2¼ yards of 39-inch material for jumper.

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

NO matter how much your back aches and your nerves scream, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month.

Too often the honeymoon express is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Bethesda Friends Give Farewell Party

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCullough's beautiful home at Bethesda was the scene of a delightful social gathering recently, when over one hundred friends gathered for a farewell surprise party in honor of Murray McCullough, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. McCullough, who has taken up residence in Cavan.

Murray will be greatly missed in his home community, where he has always been one of the popular young men, and he leaves a vacancy of elder in the church, secretary-treasurer in the Sunday School, an active member in the Y.P.S. and a good friend and neighbour. But all join in wishing Murray success and prosperity in his new field.

A short musical program was given, with the Rev. Mr. Smith acting as chairman. At the close of the program a beautiful Coronation cedar-lined clothes chest of inlaid walnut was presented with an appreciative address, read by Harold Macklin. The address, which spoke of the regret of his friends at his departure and of his services to church and community, was signed by Edgar Davey, Stanley Macklin, Sam Philp and Frank Macklin.

Murray expressed in a few words his sincere thanks for the lovely gift and the spirit of goodwill which accompanied it. At the close of the evening, refreshments were served.

Finnegan—Haryett

HAVELOCK, August 23.—A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haryett, Fort Stewart, Ontario, on Monday, August 16, when their second eldest daughter, Audrey, and John Edward Finnegan of Frankford, Ont., were united in marriage; the Rev. I. Kennedy of Madoc officating.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of navy blue net, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Muriel Haryett of Toronto, dressed in flowered chiffon and carrying an old-fashioned nosegay of roses and bachelor buttons.

The groom was attended by Hubert Finnegan of Frankford. The wedding march was played by the bride's niece, Miss Joan Scott of Havelock, Ont.

Following the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Finnegan left for an extended trip to the coast, the bride travelling in a gray tailored ensemble with blue accessories.

On their return they will reside in Frankford.

Widdis—McNevan

LINDSAY, Aug. 23.—Miss Anna Marie McNevan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hall of Reaboro, was married to Mr. Louis Alvin Widdis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Widdis of Millbrook, in a ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday afternoon. Rev. C. C. Wolfraim, Lindsay, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in azure blue net over taffeta. With this she wore a halo of flowers. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Jessie McNevan, was in figured blue net over taffeta and carried pink and white snapdragon. Miss Erma Burris, niece of the bride, flower girl, was in pink organdie and carried a basket of pink sweet peas. The groomsman was Mr. George Baber of Lindsay.

At the reception the mothers of the bride and the bridegroom received, Mrs. McNevan gowned in black triple sheer crepe, trimmed with satin and a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Widdis in navy sheer chiffon ensemble matching brown accessories and a corsage of cream roses and lillies-of-the-valley.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Doig, Jr., will make their home in Peterborough.

Doig—Justin

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday at St. Peter's Rectory when Doris Campbell Justin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Justin, of Hunter street, became the bride of Francis James Doig, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Doig of McGill street. The young couple were attended by Miss Anne Johnston and John Cairns.

The bride was attired in a navy blue ensemble, with navy and grey accessories. She wore a corsage of Premier roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid wore a brown ensemble with beige accessories and a corsage of cream roses.

Hicks—Wiman

On Saturday afternoon at half-past three, the wedding was solemnized in George Street United Church of Lillian Victoria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Wiman, to Harry A. Hicks, son of Mrs. Hicks and the late Charles Hicks, with the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe officiating.

Beautiful gladioli blooms decorated the church. Arthur Collison, A.D.C.M. presided at the organ and during the signing of the register Miss Gwen Frys sang "Still As the Night".

The bride was given in marriage by her father. A wreath of orange blossoms held in place her long veil of embroidered tulle and her graceful gown of white satin was fashioned with Queen Anne style collar and long "finger tip" sleeves with tiny self-covered buttons trimming the back. White satin shoes were worn. Her bouquet was of Premier roses combined with "baby's breath".

Miss Dorothy Dougias of Toronto attended as bridesmaid. Her charming costume was a redingote of sea-shell pink suede lace worn over matching satin. Small satin-covered buttons fastened the redingote from the high pointed collar to the waist, and turned-back cuffs trimmed the short straight sleeves. Two bows of corded silk ribbon were visible near the hem of her satin skirt. Her felt turban and satin sandals matched her gown and she carried a bouquet of Talisman roses combined with cornflowers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home and later, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hicks left on their honeymoon for a motor trip to points east. For travelling the bride wore a wool suit in a soft coral shade with a white hat and accessories. They will reside in Picton.

Pryde—Chapman

In Murray Street Baptist Church at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, a very lovely wedding took place when Geraldine Myrtle, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Chapman of Jackson Park Road, became the bride of Phillip W. Pryde, son of Mrs. Pryde and the late Alex Pryde of Milton, Ontario. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe.

Ferns, palms and gladioli blooms in beautiful shades decorated the church. The wedding music was played by Arthur Collison, A.D.C.M.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white bridal satin fashioned on princess lines and worn under a slim-fitting redingote of white silk net, a charmingly distinctive feature of which was the embroidered border of large pale pink roses with green leaves at the flaring hemline. The sleeves were long and close-fitting, and tiny satin-covered buttons fastened the redingote from the Peter Pan collar to the waist. White satin slippers and white silk gloves were worn. Embroidered pink roses and green leaves trimmed also the border of her veil of white net, which fell in graceful folds into a long train, three yards beyond the hem of her gown. The bride carried a bouquet of pale pink roses.

Miss Mary Kingsbury, as bridesmaid, wore a lovely gown of pale orchid satin, having a little jacket of matching triple sheer, fashioned with tiny Queen Anne collar and very short puffed sleeves. A very large hat of fine orchid mohair, matching long silk gloves and satin slippers completed her charming costume. Her bouquet was of palest yellow roses.

Gordon Pammett, a first cousin of the bride, attended the groom as best man. Another cousin, Gerald Pullyblank and Les Pryde, brother of the groom, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception for about seventy-five guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, when Mrs. Chapman received, wearing a gown of navy and white flowered chiffon, navy hat and accessories, and a corsage of red roses. Illness prevented Mrs. Pryde, mother of the groom, from attending, but Miss Edith Pryde, the groom's sister, was present and received with the bridal party. Her gown was of pale green and white flowered chiffon, worn with a white hat, white accessories, and corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip W. Pryde left later to spend their honeymoon at a northern point, the latter wearing a dress of pale orchid flowered chiffon, a white flannel coat, white hat and accessories. They will reside on Jackson Park Road, when they return to the city.

Murphy—Allen

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 23.—A pretty wedding took place at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Lakefield, at 9 a.m. on Saturday when Margaret Eleanor Allen, Lakefield, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Allen and the late Michael Allen, became the bride of John Alfred Murphy, of Peterborough, son of the ite Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murphy. The Rev. Father Malone performed the ceremony, with the Rev. Father Garvey present in the sanctuary. Clusters of gladioli decorating the chancel of the church made an effective background for the wedding party. Mrs. Wm. Hamblin played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Stella Brady of Peterborough, sang "Ave Maria."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Leo J. Garvey of Port Arthur, looked charming in a gown of white chiffon, made on princess lines with high neck-line, shirred collar, and puffed sleeves and having self-covered buttons from neck-lines to waist. She wore a small matching turban and shoulder length veil, white lace mittens, white shoes, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bride's only ornament was a diamond pin belonging to her grandmother.

Attending the bride, was her sister, Miss Madeline Allen, who was frocked in yellow chiffon made on princess lines with matching bolero jacket and picture hat of the same shade. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Ossie Driscoll of Peterborough, cousin of the groom, was best man and Joe LeGrandeur, cousin of the bride, was usher.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where Mrs. Allen received, wearing a gown of navy blue and white marquisette with navy hat and accessories, and a corsage of roses. Mrs. D. Garvey, the bride's grandmother, assisted, wearing a black chiffon gown with black hat and accessories and a mauve corsage.

The groom's gift to the bride was a travelling bag, to the bridesmaid a mother-of-pearl rosary, and to the groomsman a rosary.

Among out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. Le Grandeur, Miss Catherine Le Grandeur and Joe Le Grandeur, Miss Clothilde Collins and Frederick J. Garvey, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. P. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. F. Driscoll, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Routly, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sullivan, Mrs. J. Garvey and daughter Mary, Mrs. Delaire and daughter Joan, Mrs. Hardy, Mrs. Lewington, Mrs. A. Scully and the Misses Blanche, Marcelle, Florence and Mildred Murphy (all sister of the groom) and Frank Murphy (brother of the groom), Adrian Devlin and Fred Conroy, all of Peterborough; Mrs. John D. Kennedy of Douro, and Misses Martha and Laura Garvey and Timothy Garvey, all of Smith.

During the past few weeks, Miss Allen was guest of honor at prenuptial showers held at the homes of Miss Florence Murphy and Mrs. D. Sullivan of Peterborough, while the members of the Catholic Women's League of St. Paul's Church, Lakefield, surprised the bride-to-be at her home and presented her with a shower of miscellaneous gifts. Members of the Sodality of St. Paul's Church, of which Miss Allen was an officer, presented her with a beautiful statue of the Blessed Virgin.

Mystery Pals

Nearly everyone belongs to some sort of club—card, sport or missionary—where the mystery pals idea of any club may be used. Each member writes her name, address, birthdate and wedding date on a slip of paper and these are drawn from a hat, taking care no person receives her own name. Then on holidays, birthdays, etc., each person is flooded with cards, a flower or a simple gift from her own mystery pal. At the end of the year identities are revealed.

Dear Friends:

This is in answer to a woman who wrote me about her husband, and the way he bullies her and the children. She confesses she is partly to blame for letting him get away with it for years, but tells me that he is getting worse as the years overtake him.

Naturally he will get worse. Did it never occur to you that he would not like a woman who took everything too meekly? Men don't want a door-mat for a wife, neither do they want a woman without spirit enough to stand up for herself or her children, and by agreeing too readily, by fear of his anger or displeasure, you do something to him which will bring the brutal side to the top.

When a child shows a tendency to bully, then is the time he should get it beaten out of him, either by the slipper or by depriving him of something he likes until he learns to curb his passions. If this has not been done, then the wife has to take the place of teachers and parents who ommitted it, then the man will know he has a mate worthy of him.

Have you never been with a person who agreed with you so much it got on your nerves? I have, and many times I have wished they would assert themselves more. Maybe you have let your husband get away with this tendency, because you wanted peace, and now you are paying a high price for it.

There is a meekness which at the root is cowardice, and the coward must face the issue some day. Then, too, it takes some disharmony sometimes to bring out the true rythmn of living. Sometimes women want things too much the same, which antagonizes a man and causes a form of bullying due to this sameness getting on his nerves.

One thing I shall never understand and that is, why should marriage alter people so. Where do all the intelligent girls go after they marry, for many men can get little of it from their wives. Where do all the courteous kindly loving men go, so that they become indifferent, careless, and even stoop to bullying? I'd like to know.

Why do women have to find amusement with men other than their husbands, and men find it with women other than their wives? What does the marriage ceremony do to both of them that so many cease to get pleasure from each other? They say, "familiarity breeds contempt," but there are many modest men and women married to each other, yet you find even amongst those, that one or other is seeking companionship elsewhere.

And so, to the lady who needs help, I would say to start making a change in her treatment of her husband. After all, even if you had the strength to fight back with your fists, you would not want to lower yourself that far. But can be indifferent, your silence will count, and if all these fail, maybe some man relation can put the fear of God into him. But try other things first. Your Friend,

ROBERTA.

A Barn Built in 1844

At a number of places in the province there are bronze tablets on buildings, placed there because of the historical interest associated with the building itself or the site on which it has been erected. Elsewhere one finds stone cairns erected at the roadside, each one telling something of early history and early settlers.

There are other little markers of this nature which are seldom seen by the public. The Examiner found one on the door of the barn on the farm of John McIntosh of North Monaghan, a former warden of the county. It was not placed there by any historical society, but it had been cut neatly in the barn door to mark the date when the original barn was built, and the figures read—1844. And that was 93 years ago.

Since the barn was first erected the original structure has been raised to permit the placing of stabling underneath, but the upper part of that barn is today the same as when it was erected in 1844, and the timbers and other material used in it are in a remarkably good state of preservation. We do not know if many barns have anything on them to indicate the year in which they came into existence. It may be the individual who so carefully carved those figures—1844—on the door of the McIntosh barn had no intention of placing anything there which in after years might be considered of special interest. The original McIntosh family was there many years before that barn was built, settling there first in 1817, and the children of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McIntosh, now living on the farm are of the fifth generation of the McIntosh family on the same land.

Closing the Schools

There is a movement on in Toronto to delay the opening of schools scheduled for September 1 until some abatement is shown in the outbreak of infantile paralysis. The argument is advanced that by so doing it will diminish the number of occasions on which a child might be exposed to infection. Truth is there is no definite knowledge of how the disease is spread, and therefore it is not known that keeping schools closed will have any beneficial effect on the situation. It is one method that can be tried when it is not known what else to do.

It has also been argued that in city schools where there are nurses employed and where teachers are well informed regarding the symptoms of the disease a child is better at school. There is a watch being maintained for the first sign of symptoms which might indicate the approach of infantile paralysis, and the case is reported for treatment at once.

We doubt whether closing schools will have much effect apart from giving to parents the feeling that something at least is being done to try and head of this dread disease.

Wherein We Differ

At the closing session of the annual convention of the Canadian Bar Association a committee was appointed to report on the question of pensions for the widows of Canadian Judges. The work of the committee is not a new venture as the same matter has been discussed before by previous committees. Admittedly the members of such committees have been luke warm in pressing the claim.

If pensions were provided for the widows of Judges the money would have to come out of the public purse. It would not be out of a fund which the Judges in their working days or in their pensioned times of retirement had made contribution.

The Examiner has no objections to a pension plan. Truth is we will be better off when one is adopted which will be wide in its application and to which people during their working years will have opportunity to contribute. But we do object to singling out a few people and making provision whereby they will be pensioned at the expense of the many who are not.

What Lightning Will Do

Ontario has had its share of lightning within recent days, and accounts of the strange things which take place are numerous. The experience of Mrs. Fred Flewelling is typical. She is a farmer's wife and lives in Peel county two miles from the village of Arthur.

It was rather late in the evening, after nine o'clock when Mrs. Flewelling went to the barn to milk the cows. She had just finished milking the cow when a bolt of lightning struck the barn and killed the cow, the animal dropping dead where it stood. The woman had to jump over the dead cow in order to make her way to safety as flames ran through the building.

But Mrs. Flewelling herself was not injured. One cannot but wonder what her feelings will be if when milking time comes again some day another thunder storm is in the making.

Why Stop Them?

When the Frontenac-Addington Liberal convention was in session a camera man from a news-reel company put in an appearance and Premier Hepburn requested him to take away his equipment. He explained that as appeal judge of the Ontario Board of Movie Censors he had recently adopted a policy of not permitting the showing of any election campaign pictures. The ruling would be applied to all parties participating in the Ontario election campaign.

If the news-reel men can find anything interesting enough to attract their attention in a political gathering then they should be encouraged to develop their art. There are scores of newspaper reporters who have followed political candidates for weeks on end who have never yet found anything particularly spectacular. After the campaign gets under way they know pretty well what a speaker is going to say before he begins. The reporter is liable to look worried and say "There is the same address he gave at——three days ago."

Nor do we believe electors seeing Mr. Hepburn in the movies one night would desire to rush out and vote for him on that account any more than they would be influenced in that direction by seeing Mr. Rowe attending a political meeting or driving a race horse. When it comes to taking and showing news pictures there should be mighty few restrictions.

"Winter" Weather

When the South African bowlers ere in Peterborough we were having what Canadians regard as ideal weather. On that particular day the sky was blue and the air of early summer was cool. It was an ideal day for working or bowling or any other thing. But several of the visitors when asked how such a day would be regarded in their land said it was like a mild day in their winter season.

South Africa has been having its so-called winter season, and we read a blizzard ranged on Table Mountain (July 17) with a fall of snow. The force of wind at Cape Town was estimated at 72 miles an hour. A few snow flakes fell in Johannesburg on Tuesday followed by a cold wind with thunder and rain. Five persons died in Johannesburg over Tuesday and Wednesday nights, the minimum temperature being 26 and 27 degrees respectively. That would be between five and six degrees below freezing point, and it was sufficient to have caused the death of several people.

It is well the South African folk decided to make their visit to Canada during our season of warm weather. If they were to encounter a spell of our sub-zero weather and a few of our famous snow drifts the results might be mischievous.

We Don't Want It

It was a good two weeks ago when a gentleman in Hamilton appeared in court to explain why he had punished his wife. Some person then made the discovery that according to old English law a husband had the right to administer a certain degree of chastisement, and on that account the wife-beater in Hamilton walked out of court, bound over to keep the peace.

Within recent days he walked back again. The effect of hearing about his rights as defined by that old common law of England had not worked well. According to the man's wife he had become boastful in the home; he felt he had a new status or some such thing which the laws of good old England had draped about him in years gone by. He proceeded to live in accordance with that musty old law for which much searching had to be done in order to find it.

The result was that when the Hamilton husband felt moved to disagree with his wife once again he proceeded with the serious business of administering more punishment. After which the wife went to court and laid a charge of assault. This time it seems the common law of England did not throw its clauses and its chapters in the scales in favor of the husband. He was convicted and remanded for sentence.

And that is as it ought to be. If there is something in the socalled common law of England of many years ago which gives to husbands the right to punish their wives then we can think of no good reason why it should have any bearing upon the conduct of courts in this country. If it required much searching to find the old law in the first place then the time spent in searching could have been employed to much better advantage. We want the best there is in English law written and incorporated into our statutes, but we want nothing of enactments which give shelter and assistance to wife-beaters.

Rules For Speakers

There were some questions and answers furnished in a paper recently and they had to do with the making of a speech. The questions were placed this way:

1. Does a speaker who wishes to appear at ease take a drink of water just before beginning to talk?
2. Are the best speeches those which appear to have been memorized word for word?
3. Should a speaker closing his talk, say "I thank you."

The answer given in each case was a plain "No," indicating that a speaker should do none of the things mentioned. He should not swill down a heap of water when starting; he should not memorize his speech and he should not say "I thank you" when he gets through.

That may be the ruling, but it is a fact that a good many speakers do seem to find a haven or some such thing in a glass of water. Some of them seem to insert the drink where there ought to be a comma in the address and a few more deliberate folk will stave off the moment of the gulp until they come to a place where a period might be used. And again there are some speakers whom an audience would gladly see taking a big drink of water in the fond hope it meant a weakening spell was on the way which would conclude a too-long performance.

And we are sure as can be there are certain speakers who should say "I thank you" when they have concluded. Not merely as a matter of form, but as a sincere expression of gratitude and recognition of the ability of the audience to endure suffering. Such an expression as "I thank you" might even include profound but unspoken thanks that nothing sizeable had been flung at the speaker and he was about to leave the premises intact. So we find it impossible to agree with the rules which say a speaker should not gulp down water when he is starting to speak or at any period while he is speaking, and that he should never say "I thank you" when he concludes.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Dr. Peter Shih says that China only asks to be left alone. The difficulty seems to be however to get Japan to see and respect that viewpoint.

Chicago justice of the peace offers a pound of tea, coffee or cocoa to every couple he marries. There is a tipoff for Charlie Shaw.

Police in several districts have been searching for hit-and-run drivers. They are the type of motorist which combines recklessness with cowardice.

At all events the dust evil did not cause a great deal of discomfort for visitors to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition last week.

The Ontario campaign is only getting nicely started and already the electors have heard about all they care to listen to on at least one "issue."

At all events the C. I. O. leaders should pass a vote of thanks to both Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Rowe for keeping their organization continually before the public.

The reeve of Oxford county has won a pillow fighting contest. After battling in the county council the picnic argument was probably just a walkover for him.

Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health has been nominated in the West Hastings riding and we have an idea he will be engaged in one of the most exciting battles of the whole political campaign.

The Spanish loyalist government has accused Italy of being guilty of piracy. It is not expected however that the charge will cause the overthrow of the Mussolini administration.

Saranac Lake boasts an educated bass that answers a call to dinner. Jim Curran will probably reply that Algoma wolves are always at the door without being called.

High-powered spraying machines are being used in a war against weeds in Ontario and it is probably that the bindweed, chicory, wild carrots and ragweed will make a formal protest to the League of Nations against unfair tactics.

The British Mineworkers Federation have voted against a resolution which would have lifted the ban on Reds within the Labor Party. The Communist plan of peaceful penetration does not seem to be making much headway.

Mayor Davison of Calgary is asking for a new deal for municipalities in the matter of relief costs. He is not the first municipal head to make such a suggestion and we do not expect he will be the last.

CURED

(By A. R. K.)

¶ My Cousin Ezra schemes a lot, and spends on it a lot of thought, he craved a holiday; he thought of friends he had one night, and schemed for some place he could light, and wouldn't have to pay.

¶ And so he tried out Uncle Jed, where he could get his board and bed, he has a goodly farm; he knew the meals out there were fine, and he could rest his weary spine, and loaf about the barn.

¶ When Ezra landed there one day, why Jed was taking in the hay, he'd started in at five; he had to catch the hay somehow, so he put Ezra in the mow, while Jed went out to drive.

¶ And Jed was short of help he said, when Cousin Ezra went to bed, some things he had to fix; the wheat was ripe enough to cut, he had to set the binder up, so breakfast came at six.

¶ And Ezra liked it none to well, to pick up sheaves just where they fell, and sit them in a row; so Jed suggested after noon, another job to do right soon, he handed him a hoe.

¶ But Ezra got a restless fit, decided how he'd have to quite, and Jed was not surprised; for Ezra camped on him before, and never did a single chore—not one since he arrived.

A NEW JERSEY farm girl asked the State Department of Agriculture whether pig's tails curled clockwise or counterwise. Then the discussion started. Fred W. All manner of people have been making all kinds of observations and the conclusion is this: If the tail does not twist the pig is a weakling. As to the direction of the twist—that's up to the pig.

Another ground for divorce has bobbed up in Los Angeles. Lucy E. Tinker filed a divorce suit against Orsan P. Tinker, her lawful and wedded husband. And the reason? Simply this: Tinker said Lucy could no longer eat toast for breakfast because "the crunching got on his nerves." Lucy refuses to dunk her toast.

Longuemere got a taste and agreed it was wine, but he was searching for whiskey which cannot be sold in that state.

"What's in that next bottle?" queried the inspector.

The inspector did so—then he spat and spat some more.

"What is that?" he yelled.

"Fly spray," came the quiet answer.

A TIME FOR EVERYTHING

Editor Examiner:

Sir: I watched the finals of the Bucksawing Contest. I was interested in the event partly because I have sawed a great many cords of wood in the same manner myself, and partly because I wished to study the effects of strenuous physical exertion on the competitors.

Tom Walling was strong and wiry. He was meticulously careful about the edge and the tension of his saw, important points of strategy. But the effort left him pale and labored. At his age competitive physical tests should be eliminated. Games of strategy or skill not testing one's physical endurance are healthful, but bucksawing competitions cannot be carried on with impunity because of the strain on the heart and blood vessels. In a man of Tom Walling's age these essential organs lack the elasticity of youth, and while he may even win prizes at times yet there are so many sudden deaths following such exertion that one must sound a note of warning.

Jack Wood did very well, but one of his build has too much fatty substance dressing around the heart to stand the embarrassment of internal pressure. He too would do well to be cautious about such contests.

When it comes to young men of the build of Gordon Manley and Walter Orde one can only say that it was a real pleasure to see their saws sink into those maple blocks. There is practically no danger to such men, and there is a lot of fun for the spectators.

Men over 50 years (40 is a better figure) and stout men should not enter the lists against youth.

The writer of the Book of Ecclesiastes says "To everything there is a reason, and a time to every purpose under the heaven." He mentions a time for several things and I'm sure if he had seen such a bucksawing contest as we saw today he would have added, "A time to compete and a time to refrain from competing."

QUEEN'S AND THE CHURCHES

Editor Examiner:

Sir: Some time ago you wrote an article on "Jumping on the Churches." If you will allow me to say so, it should have been entitled "Jumping on the Bible." First of all let us acknowledge that there is a subtle something in us that gives us warning or knowledge of things that we have not and cannot reason out. That in the sense with which we apprehend the supernatural. No man could say who or what God is or why The Universe was created. It is just as illogical to talk of mans reason about it (Modernism) as of fundamentalism (there is no such thing) and when Rev Dr. Young of St. Andrew's Peterborough wrote his splendid confession of faith to The Examiner he only needed to have added a chapter or paragraph about Higher Criticism to have made it complete. The Queen's Quarterly article is only a belated statement of what the churches are undergoing vis; a revolutionary war between the Old Faith in God and the new Faith in man. The modernist says "God is open to criticism as any other author." That is illogical and ridiculous. The great mass of the people will accept no such creed as that. They know better and the churches must rid themselves of what the Q. Q. calls their "conceit" before things can right themselves.

Cocoa Is Navy Favorite

British Tars Mostly Young And Keen On Their Jobs.

(By Grant Dexter in Regina Leader-Post)

A few days ago, the "home" battle fleet, comprising half a dozen of the largest dreadnoughts, anchored off Southend, at the mouth of the Thames, and threw their armor-plated decks open to the public.

One expects to find these great fortresses of steel manned by sailors who are physically suited to such quarters. Battleship crews should comprise tough, oak-ribbed, sun-tanned, weather-beaten tars. They should be stripped to the waist and tattooed front and back. A scar or two, fierce, straggling moustaches and generous hunks of tobacco are strongly indicated.

As the sightseers steamed along, the crew of the battleships lined the rails. Later on, abroad the Royal Sovereign, the crew were hosts to the visitors, escorting parties from lower deck to bridge. There was not one discernible tattoo mark in the fleet.

Instead of hard, sea-seasoned men, the battle fleet is manned by young, peaches-and-cream complexioned lads who seem to have come right off the dairy farms of Britain. Average age would not exceed 21 years.

There was not one mouthful of tobacco in five ships and there were few pipes. Most of the sailors, if they smoked, use cigarettes. Three hours in the company of the Royal Sovereign's crew did not uncover a single rough word. It might have been H. M. S. Pinafore.

Physically, the sailors of the fleet are splendid specimens. They looked to be the finest of fighting material. How they manage to maintain this standard of excellence in view of the oft-mentioned decadence of the British navy is baffling. Everybody knows that fighting seamen flourish on hard tack, bully beef, salt pork and Jamaica rum, or, as it is known in the fleet, "Nelson's blood."

Yet only on rare occasions is rum served to the sailors and they are not particularly keen on it. They laugh when you speak of the traditional fare of hard tack. The cook's galley in the Royal Sovereign would do credit to the finest modern hotel. Great electric ranges line each side and there are all manner of labor-saving devices. Dinner on the day of this inspection included vegetable soup, fried cod, French fried potatoes, string beans, tea and pudding.

Tea is served every afternoon and cocoa and biscuits in the evening. In the navy, cocoa takes some time to make. It is boiled for many hours. It is said that this makes it more digestible.

It is the men, not the ships, that attract attention. The battle-fleet is manned, not by hard-bitten salts, but by youngsters in the very prime of life. They are keen on their jobs as only youth can be. Appearances notwithstanding, it looked as if the heritage of Drake and Nelson is in competent hands.

Anna Jameson's Prophecy

She Forsaw Ontario Tobacco One Hundred Years Ago.

(From Woodstock Sentinel-Review).

IT is exactly 100 years ago this summer since Anna Jameson, tediously journeying through this part of southwestern Ontario, wrote: "for here all grain, all fruits which flourish in the south of Europe, might be cultivated, with success—the finest wheat and rice, and hemp and flax, and tobacco." So she writes after observing " a forest of pines, rising tall and dark and monotonous on either side," between Woodstock and London, transportation for which cost $7 and took a full day's journey.

Few of us today can realize the courage required of this cultured Irishwoman, familiar with all the travelled parts of Europe, to leave official Toronto, in order to make an extensive tour of the country between Lakes Erie and Huron. Few of us reading her illuminating book" Winter Studies and Summer Rambles in Canada," for the first, second or third time, will fail to be surprised to learn that Toronto was on the edge of the great pine forests, with sounds of wolves baying in winter nights, that roads from St. Thomas to Chatham were so nearly impassable through dessert forest and bog, that she never expected to get through.

She writes in such an accurate, impartial manner, and yet for all that, is disarming in her observations, that the book must be a lasting testimonial for all Canadians, besides being one of the very few sources of information concerning conditions throughout the Great Lakes region at the time of the Rebellion in Upper Canada.

Intelligent comments on the mode of life, the type of settler, governmental policies, and always the roads, are as if the author hung up a great wide mirror for us to see ourselves as children. She talks repeatedly of the cutting down, burning and girdling of the gorgeous forest growth which then was the enemy of the settler, herself vaguely uneasy as if she could see the far future when rain would carry off the top soil, flood the rivers and fields, because there was no bush to hold the water.

Even the tobacco of the 1937 crop, which she prophesies in 1837, is in some cases spoiled because the rains have washed the fertilizer and top soil away.

Today, it stirs reflections, with the memory of the spring floods still in mind, that "Woodstock, the nearest village as I suppose I must in modesty call it, is fast rising into an important town, and the whole district is, for its scenery, fertility, and advantages of every kind, perhaps the finest in Upper Canada."

Only one hundred years have passed.

"Wars are never won, but they can be lost." —— Bernard M. Baruch.

MONDAY HOLIDAYS

(Niagara Falls Review)

SENATOR Johnson of Colorado has introduced a bill providing for a Monday holiday when holidays would otherwise fall on some other day of the week.

The idea has had some not-very serious consideration in Canada, but as time goes on it may have more serious support.

Some one asks: "For what good, after all, is a mid-week holiday? An isolated day, it is too brief to permit any activity that is much out of the ordinary. Attach the holiday to a week-end, however, and the resulting three-day period offers time enough for a considerable outing.

"Employes should hail this proposed reform because it would, in effect, provide them each year with several three-day vacations. Employers should favor it because it would eliminate midweek interruptions by combining holiday closings with regular week-end shutdowns. Transportation services and hotels should welcome it for the increased excursion traffic it would encourage."

A FOOLISH THEORY

(Montreal Star)

WHEN theorists get together, some excellent recommendations are usually forthcoming. There are also some which are anything but excellent. One of the latter was made last week at the conference of the Canadian Institute on Economics and Politics at Lake Couchiching, by Rev. Leyton Richards, Birmingham, England.

No doubt with the very best of intentions, but also with lamentable logic and entirely inadequate knowledge of human nature, this clergyman suggested that internationalization by Great Britain of her crown colonies should be undertaken as a first step to world peace. In other words, that the Motherland surrender her territories—and, more important, the people therein residing—to some sort of League of Nations style of mandatory control.

It is difficult to discern the process of argument followed by Mr. Richards in convincing this to be a way to peace. In what possible manner could the weakening of the Empire and, simultaneously, the strengthening of potential foes of the Empire further the cause of the pacifists?

MACHINERY FAILS

(St. Catharines Standard)

THE outbreak of violence, and public disorder yesterday at textile mills in Peterborough is evidence of either or other of two conditions in this province. The machinery to effect adjustment in labor disputes is lacking, or if it does exist is quite useless. Labor disputes cannot be settled by the method of forceful intimidation of others who want to work; neither can they be settled by the police baton or the diffusion of tear gas. That Ontario would provide such a scene as that at Peterborough yesterday is a matter of national regret. Force is never an arbiter in the differences which from time to time crop up between Labor and Capital.

THE FIRST DUTY

(National Revenue Review)

SO far this season the tide of incoming tourist travel is in excess of that of last year. That, of course, means more work and responsibility for officers of the department stationed at boundary points. That a high standard of service is being rendered is evident, and the army of visitors is made to feel that Canada is a hospitable country with much to please those seeking recreation. Courteous treatment at border points has become the first rule of duty of customs officers. "Life is not so short but that there is time enough for courtesy." That is as true today as when Emerson penned it many years ago.

SEEING STRANGE THINGS.

EDMONTON, Aug. 23 (CP).—Only white child born on Victoria Island in the Arctic Ocean, June Victoria Paisley, five, is a visitor in Edmonton, scanning sights new and wonderful to her amazed eyes. Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Ernest Paisley, wife of a trader on Eskimo Island, the girl reached Edmonton yesterday after travelling by trading schooner to Coppermine, N.W.T., and then a 2,000-mile airplane trip to Edmonton.

Montreal Girl Catches Trout Which Weighs 18 Pounds 9 Ounces

MEAFORD, Aug. 23.—Not for the past ten years has there been so many large trout hooked in Meaford Bay, Meaford fishing guides state. Although a local guide, L. Anderson, caught one that weighed 29 pounds, he is not eligible for the competition sponsored each years by the citizens of the town.

Over the week-end, a Montreal girl whose native town is Chesley, landed a fish that weighed 13 pounds 9 ounces, and measured 35 inches in length. It was the largest fish hooked by a tourist, and she takes undisputed position in first place for the silver cup. Her name is Miss Mildred Lembke.

Mrs. Horace Woodford is in second place, with a trout 16 pounds 12 ounces, and Miss Elva Storey, Toronto, is third, her fish weighing 15 pounds 4 ounces.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, August 23—(C.P.), — Cattle trade perked up a little on the Toronto Livestock Market today and price gains of 15 to 25 cents appeared for some grades of choice weighty steers and fed calves, while other cattle were about steady. Calves, sheep and lambs were steady while no definite hog price was established by early afternoon. Cattle holdover from Thursday was 1,700 head.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Livestock Branch were: Cattle, 5,620; calves, 1,570; hogs, 1,900; sheep and lambs, 1,620.

Fresh cattle receipts included 3,700 from the West. A few choice weighty steers sold at $9.50 to $10; common downward to $7. Common to medium butcher cattle brought $4 to $6.50, while a few good quality reached $7.25. Butcher cows were $3 to $4.50, while a few sold for export at $4.75. Canners and cutters went between $2 and $2.75.

Bologna bulls brought $3.25 to $3.50, while good butcher bulls traded at $4 to $4.50. Choice fed calves were priced at $10.50 to $11.50, medium as low as $8.50. Common to medium store cattle were active at $3.50 to $5, while good stockers reached $5.50, and a few feeders were $5.75.

Good and choice veal calves sold at $9 to $10, with common vealers ranging down to $5. Grass calves brought $3 to $4.50.

Previous close on off-truck bacon hogs was $10.50.

Good ewe and wether lambs were $9.25, others $7 to $8.25. Sheep moved between $1.50 and $4.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Revived Southern and export buying on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange left wheat futures unsettled to-day after trading two cents lower. Late recovery at Chicago was reflected here with wheat closing 1⅛ to ⅞ cent lower: October $1.22, December $1.18⅞, and May $1.20½b.

Export business in Canadian wheat estimated around 250,000 bushels aided the Winnipeg market near the close. This trade and favorable inter-market spreading operations offset hedging pressure of new crop wheat. Receipts of wheat from Western Canada during the week-end totalled 1,038,000 bushels, about one-third of receipts at this time last year.

Lack of support to counteract hedging resulted in prices steadily going down to cents in the first half of to-day's session. Weakness in outside markets resulted from bearish reports of rains in both Western Australia and Argentina.

ONTARIO HOG PRICES

TORONTO, August 23—(C.P.), — Declines of 25 and 30 cents were posted for bacon hogs at Peterborough to-day, while other reporting markets were unchanged.

"Flying Peeress" Repays Kindness

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(AP).— Two Englishmen who befriended the Duchess of Bedford, the "Flying Peeress," when she was forced down in an Iraq oil field nine years ago, to-day received bequests of £2,000 ($9,980) each in her will.

One o fthe beneficiaries, Robert Parkyn, who is now in England, said he was "quite amazer" that his hospitality was remembered.

The Duchess and her co-pilot were guests of Parkyn and N. Gass, both employees of the Anglo-Persian Oil Company, for 10 weeks when they were forced down in the desert on a flight to India. Gass got the other £2,000.

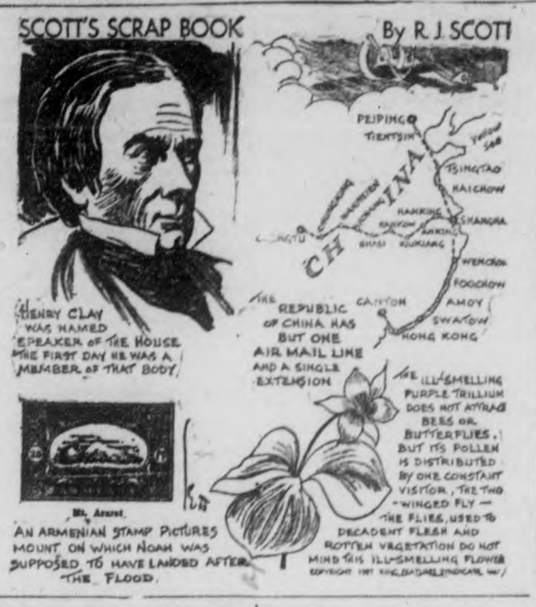
SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT



CANADA'S MARKET STORY IS RELATED BY USE OF CHARTS

The Canadian people, what they do, produce, earn and buy, and how they live, is the subject of a book entitled "The Canadian Market" recently completed by John R. Macmillan under the direction of the Research Committee of the daily newspapers of Canada.

The authors explain that the book was prepared to meet a definite need for information about Canada. Under modern business conditions the first contact any sales organization makes with its potential markets is of necessity statistical. What is the population of a given district? What is the standard of living? What is the buying power of the people? What is the best media by which they can be reached?

These questions and many others are answered in the book which unquestionaoly will make it easier for sales and advertising executives to evaluate sales opportunities in all parts of the Dominion.

It is not an ordinary book of statistics. The authors state that because statistics are almost a foreign language to people not trained to interpret them, the first objective in planning "The Canadian Market" was to present statistical data in a form easy to understand. There can be no doubt that this objective has been attained. Facts about Canada are not presented by long, dull columns of figures, but by means of bright almost gay symbols. Statistics have been metamorphosed into pictures.

Six Principal Sections

For the purpose of this study of the Canadian market the book has been divided into six principal sections. The first deals with Canada as a whole. The others present similar information but deal specifically with the five economic zones, the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario, the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia. Each section is complete in itself and draws an accurate picture of the section of Canada dealt with. The importance of this treatment to sales markets can be readily appreciated. At the same time it permits comparison as to the relative importance of each economic zone in the general scheme of Canadian economic growth.

Because, as it is pointed out in the book, markets are not locations on the map, but groups of people willing and able to buy within certain limitations of income, the book deals first with the population of Canada. The rural and urban distribution of population for the census years 1911, 1921 and 1931 and the population estimates for 1936 are illustrated providing comparison of growth or decrease in the towns, cities and rural districts.

More important to sales and advertising executives, however, is the enlargement of this population picture. This is the breakdown into age and sex classifications. As the changing age and sex classifications definitely influence the number of families, and consequently the purchasing power, this information makes it possible to forecast future business trends.

Shift of Population

It is of interest also from the merchandising point of view that the balance of population has been gradually shifting from the rural to urban centres. The population charts reveal that whereas nearly 55 per cent of the people lived in the rural districts in 1911 by 1936 approximately 54 per cent of the population was to be found in the urban centres.

The book draws an interesting comparison of the volume of British and foreign investments in Canada, showing the amount of money invested in Canadian government securities, railways and general industrial enterprises. Though it is generally known that other countries have invested huge sums of money in Canada, more than seven billion dollars, in fact, how many people knew that Canadian have invested two billion dollars abroad?

Canadian production is dealth with extensively because of its great importance on national wealth and prosperity. Two sets of charts are devoted to show the value of production over an 11-year period. The record of primary and secondary production is graphically described. Here again a popular belief is dissipated. The charts reveal that the lowest ebb in the depression period was not reached in 1932, as is generally believed, but in 1933. The charts reveal that from 1933 to 1936 production in all industries was increasing rapidly.

The Regional View.

Anyone examining "The Canadian Market" cannot but be impressed by the need to think regionally in considering sales campaigns in Canada. All comparative charts in the book emphasizes the wide difference existing between most of the economic zones, differences in population, in the type of homes in which they live, in occupational groups and in buying power.

Other features of national life portrayed by the 55 double-paged charts and more than 60 pages of text are the distribution of gainfully employed, the tenure and size of households, the volume of retail trade, the education of Canadians, and analysis of budget expenditures of typical families in three income classifications.

The book thoroughly analyzes the Canadian market, drawing information from the most authoritative sources, of which a comprehensive bibliography is given for those who wish to pursue a more complete study of the Canadian market. It takes the Canadian market to pieces, if you will, and puts it together again offering concrete suggestions as to how sales and merchandising campaigns can be planned to produce the best results.

In the analysis of media coverage and the text which accompanies the charts on this subject "The Canadian Market" presents conclusively the efficiency of the Canadian daily newspapers in reaching the Canadian public with any sales message. More than two and one-quarter million Canadian newspapers are bought every day.

"The Canadian Market" is another link in the chain which the Canadian daily newspapers have welded in the service of every individual and every industry. It is fully in keeping with the service ideals which have actuated the daily newspaper, each in its own community, for more than a century.

Gachin Holdings Limited

New Issue. Incorporated Aug. 11th, 1937

Sponsors

Gachin Holdings Limited has the same management—J. J. Carrick Limited—as Gachin Gold, which is an outstanding success and has paid regular dividends since 1933.

Vendor's Stock

No vendor's stock or promotion stock has been issued or will be issued. All shares are treasury shares.

Investments

Gachin Gold was organized in 1932 when gold stocks were depressed, and there has not been such an opportunity since 1932 to buy gold stocks as the present time.

Policy

(a) To acquire large or controlling interests in other companies, especially those whose stock is selling below break-up or liquidating value. Gachin Holdings Limited has already purchased a substantial block of shares of a gold mining company with Kirkland Lake interests—Canada's richest gold camp—at less than 50% of its break-up or liquidating value.

(b) To purchase senior and junior gold shares with the object of market appreciation and capital return.

(c) To finance into production mining companies whose properties meet the necessary requirements of our statistical engineering and research investigation.

Management

Gachin Holdings Limited is fortunate in having as its fiscal managers J. J. Carrick Limited. It was through their efforts that Gachin Gold has paid 7% on its preferred shares from incorporation, and on June 30, 1937, paid 15% on its common shares. We do not know of any other mining company in Canada that has this record of dividends on both preferred and common shares.

Provinces Hope Commission Will Lead To 'New Deal' Revision Of Constitution

Expect More Equitable Distribution of Tax Revenues and Social Service Expenditures.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23—A "New Deal" between the nine Canadian provinces and the Dominion, which may lead up to a new constitution to replace the British North America Act, is heralded in the appointment of five commissioners to examine taxation and social obligations in Canada.

Though often discussed in abstract words of many syllables, the latest move is of concern to every Canadian taxpayer and citizen, and can be explained in the simplest language.

When the British North America Act was written, Canada was an agricultural colony of about 3,500,000 people, chiefly along the St. Lawrence and on the Atlantic seaboard.

People had never heard of unemployment insurance, mothers' allowances, the gasoline tax, concrete highways, or old age pensions.

The provinces spent very little, and were quite satisfied to hand over to the new federal government all rights of indirect taxation in exchange for a few millions a year in subsidies. Their obligations were few. In those days people didn't expect the state to do everything from finding a man a job to taking care of his health.

Provincial Expenses Mount

Seventy years have gone by, and the demands on provincial treasuries have become enormous. Provinces have had to spend hundreds of millions on modern highways, telephones, education, health services, unemployment relief, social assistances of all sorts.

Their obligations have grown rapidly, but their sources for revenue are practically the same as they were at Confederation.

They are limited to direct taxes, that is, taxes taken from the individual.

They cannot impose indirect taxes of any sort, nor can they print money. Their borrowing powers are much more limited than those of the Dominion.

Facing a Crisis

These paragraphs explain the need of the present inquiry:

Several provinces have come to the end of their tether. They simply cannot meet their present social obligations with their present revenue sources. Either they must be given new revenue sources, or they must be relieved of some of their burdens, or both. The alternative is bankruptcy, or a serious curtailment of education and other social legislation, and Canada is already far behind many countries in her social legislation, largely because of financial obstacles.

The ruling of the privy council is that the Dominion government has no legal authority to adopt unemployment insurance. The provinces have the power, but they haven't the money. When the provinces, at Confederation, signed over their rights to indirect taxation in exchange for subsidies, they made a poor bargain. The provinces only obtain about $17,000,000 a year in subsidies, whereas the Dominion collects over $300,000,000 a year now in indirect taxation—all of it from citizens of the nine provinces.

Ottawa Guards Its Taxes

Naturally the provinces want a new deal. The Dominion government has even encroached upon the direct taxation field, notably by personal income tax, and takes scores of millions annually in this way. In desperation, numerous provinces have tried to invade the indirect tax field of the Dominion, but they have been checked in the courts.

British Columbia tried to collect a fuel oil tax from the oil refiners. It was ruled non valid. Then they collected it from the individual householder. That made it valid, but much more expensive to collect, as well as more trouble.

The gasoline tax is another illustration. The provinces could collect it very cheaply and efficiently from the refiners, but then it would be illegal. They have to make a pretence of collecting it from the motorist. They make every gasoline vendor a tax collector, and thus skirt around the law.

Governments have developed a habit of taking tax money where it looks easiest to collect, regardless of the fairness, or wisdom of such a tax. There are many taxes now being collected by provinces which could be more fairly collected by the Dominion, and vice versa.

The government tried to straighten this out in the session of 1934 by an amendment to the British North America Act and a couple of conferences with the provinces. The amendment, however, was defeated by the Senate.

Expect B.N.A. Act Revision

The job of the newly appointed commission is, mainly, to draw up a new tax division which will be fair, efficient, and adequate.

They will also try to decide whether provinces or the Dominion are best fitted to administer social legislation.

When that is done, and the experts have had their say, it will be time for the statesmen, the Fathers of Re-Confederation, to get busy.

Some people expect that a constitutional assembly, of all governments and public bodies in the Dominion will meet at some central point, perhaps Winnipeg, rather than Ottawa, to draw up a new constitution in keeping with the present day.

The "minority" sections of the B.N.A. Act would be carried over without change or question, but the taxation and social legislative sections would be revamped to meet the needs of 1937 or 1946.

Meantime the first important step has been taken in the appointment of the royal commission.

1,000 ARE WOUNDED BY SINGLE SHELL

just left Wing On's with supplies for the Associated Press office when the explosion occurred. He had come unscathed through the August 14 bombing of Nanking Road that killed thousands of civilians.

Other Victims

Among other foreign casualties were:

Klaus Exhart, 16-year-old German, dead; Blanche Tenney, Shanghai-born American, slightly injured; Valeria Glasser, Polish, seriously injured; A. U. Brunner, a Swiss, seriously injured.

Japanese warships and Chinese land batteries were heavily engaged downriver where the Whangpoo meets the Yangtze. Chinese disputed Japanese claims that 50,000 fresh Japanese troops had been landed during the night. Chinese artillery and warplanes were said to have repulsed a Japanese attempt to land regular army divisions, with heavy losses to the invader.

Japanese claimed more than 50,000 reinforcements had been landed in the rear of the Chinese army at Woosung, 12 miles to the north, while their warships lining the Yangtze river shelled Chinese fortifications.

The sound of the artillery duel reverberated monotonously throughout the day. It was Shanghai's 11th day of war and the northern and Eastern sections of the city as well as the rich industrial suburb of Pootung across the Whangpoo river were in flames. So fierce were the raging fires that all land operations in the fringes of the city were virtually suspended. Troops were driven from their positions by the flames.

Shel From Either Side.

The source of the projectile was a complete mystery. It could have come from either Chinese or Japanese guns, as both are so implaced along the Whangpoo banks that, by an unusual twist of the range finders, the batteries could have landed a shell in the International Settlement.

Among the eye-witnesses of the blast was Al G. Huebner, of Marinette, Wis., wo was within a half a block when the shell hit. The explosion shattered the windshield and windows of the automobile in which he was riding.

The carnage was horrible. Headless bodies, arms and legs were scattered in macabre patterns all through the arear. Like the new world emporium, which was struck by a bomb with similar horror Aug. 14. Sincere's and the Wing On and Company contain resturants, roof gardens, and dance halls, widely patronized by Chinese.

Some military experts advanced the theory the projectile might have been a 120-pound eight-inch shell which Japanese warships off Woosung were known to be firing today to protect the landing of their reinforcements.

The foreign experts explained the slightest variation in the elevation of the guns would have thrown a shel into the heart of Shanghai instead of the intended objective.

The 50,000 fresh troops from the Japanese homeland were reported by the Japanese Consular Office to have been landed in the face of intense fire from Chinese land batteries in areas within 30 miles of Shanghai.

CAMPBELLFORD,

Railway Employee Injured About Face

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 23.—Edwin Flint of town had a narrow escape on Friday last when he was working with the section gang on the C.N.R. about one mile west of town. Working with another chap in an effort to loosen a bolt with a long-handled wrench which slipped, catching Flint on the right side of the face, breaking several blood vessels in the upper part of the nose and narrowly missing his right eye. Momentarily overcome by the loss of blood, the injured boy was rushed to town, where he was given medical attention.

G. BLAIR GORDON NEVER SIGN PACT

MONTREAL, Aug. 23. — (CP). — Determination "never to sign an agreement with an organization which has shown itself so lawless and irresponsible," was expressed today by G. Blair Gordon, head of Dominion Textile Company as the strike of 10,000 employees, called by National Federation of Catholic Textile Workers, entered its fourth week.

The union, affiliated with the National Catholic Syndicate, was charged with practicing "violence and causing extensive damage to our property." There would be no agreement signed with the union, reiterated the executive, who said the skeleton staffs attempting to operate four Montreal mills were gradually increasing. It was not definite, he said, when efforts would be made to reopen the five other plants throughout the province.

Meanwhile, Alfred Charpentier, President of the National Syndicate, said "We are standing firm for all our demands," which include union recognition, collective bargaining rights, increased wages or shorter hours.

Janetville L.A. Is Well Attended

JANETVILLE, Aug. 23—Mrs. William Hill opened her home on Tuesday for the August meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, which was well attended.

The president, Mrs. Wilmer Fitze, presided and after the usual opening exercises the secretary, Mrs. N. D McGill read the minutes which were approved and the treasurer, Mrs. Charles McNeill presented a gratifying report. Following a short business session a short program was enjoyed.

Reading, "The Little White Church on the Hill," Mrs. H. Johnston; organ selection, Mrs. Roy Armstrong; reading, "The Touch of the Master's Hand," Mrs. W. Fitze.

The main feature of the afternoon was the address by Mrs. (Rev.) Boudreau of Caledonia, who is summering at Lake Scugog. Mrs. Boudreau gave a most interesting and instructive account of the Pan-Presbyterian Alliance which she attended recently at Montreal. At the close of the meeting a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Hill assisted by Mrs. N. D. McGill, Mrs. Stanley McGill and Miss Elva Capstick.

Another feature of the meeting was the birthday celebration of one of the oldest and most popular members, Mrs. Albert Stinson, who received the hearty congratulations and best wishes of all.

OPENS SQUIRREL SEASON-

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 23—(AP). — Len Dvorak, second baseman for the Hopkins team, jumped the squirrel hunting season opening date—but it was an accident.

As his team was taking a 17 to 6 lambasting in the championship game of the Minnetonka League, he poled out a long home run into a tree.

The ball fell to the grounds at the feet of an Excelsior player, and so did the squirrel.

Canadian boys also had their good points, especially "those nice French-Canadians in Montreal."

HAVELOCK

SECOND FIXTURE ENDS IN DEADLOCK

(Examiner Correspondence)

HAVELOCK, Aug. 23.—Twice the Havelock Albions and Omemee have met here to decide the second game of the C.A.S.A. Intermediate "C" playdowns, but have remained deadlocked on both occasions, the score being 2-2 after battling ten frames here Saturday evening while on Friday the game was called because of darkness at the end of the ninth with the score tied at 7-all. The teams will replay the game for the third time to-day when it is expected they will fight to a finish. The softball clubs are exceptionally well matched, Omemee winning the initial game of the playdowns by a margin of only one run, the score being 7-6.

Brunton on the mound for the locals pitched a swell game and received great support from his team. The Albions held the invaders scoreless after the first inninas in which they secured their two counters. Stephenson, Omemee's southpaw twirler was in the box for the visitors and also gave a good performance. The play was very close all the way, few hits being issued by the pitchers and both teams turning in a fine exhibition of fielding. The Albions missed a great chance to break the tie in the last of tenth, when Renwick struck out with runners on second and third and two out. The teams:

Havelock—Vover, 2b; Hill, 3b; Mathison, 1b; Hazerman, c; Woods, ss; Wrightly, lf; Whalen, rf; Renwick, cf; Brunton, p.

Score by innings:

Omemee	200 000 000 0—2
Havelock	100 001 000 0—3

ABERHART TO QUIT IF RESULTS FAIL IN NEXT 3 YEARS

EDMONTON, Aug. 23. (CP).—If Alberta's Social Credit government cannot produce results in three more years, Premier Aberhart told a crowd of 1,100 at the Edmonton Prophetic Bible Conference here last night, he "questioned" whether he would stand for office again.

Hope the "Governor-General in council" would cancel "at the general demand of the people" disallowance of three Alberta acts by the Dominion Government was voiced by the premier who declared the constitution was made for the people.

Municipal Minister Lucien Maynard, in a speech at Legal, Alta., Saturday, referred to the disallowed legislation, declaring: "Your government has absolutely decided to put these laws into effect."

Regarding an election at the present time, Premier Aberhart said last night an election involved "a lot of expense" and said he might be in favor of calling one "if I were looking for a longer term of office." Later Mr. Aberhart remarked he was always against an election unless it was "absolutely necessary."

Discussion of feasability of an election following reading of a letter, which Premier Aberhart said he has received, urging the government to go to the people for vindication in connection with the Dominion Government's disallowance of Bankers' Licensing Legislation recently enacted by Alberta.

Fear Poisoning

The letter advised the government "to go to the country" before the "minds of the people were poisoned" by the financial interests.

Two officials of the Social Credit Board—Chairman G. L. MacLachlan, and Secretary Floyd Baker—were on the platform during the meeting, held on the second anniversary of the government's election.

Most of the political portion of the program was taken up with reading telegrams and letters received by the premier supporting the government's passage of bank legislation and urging no "retreat"; and telegrams to Prime Minister Mackenzie King criticizing the Dominion government for disallowance of the acts.

Asking people to sign the "blue pledges" in which a promise is made to support the government, the premier said some persons were saying it was not necessary to sign.

"If you folks are going to be hoodwinked by rumors like that," he added, "the only thing I can get your express from is by these pledges."

The premier declared he was "sure" people were "not so dumb" as to be "hoodwinked" by the old-line parties."

"The only way I can get the opinion of the people is by an election, if you don't sign pledges," he said.

Says Report Incorrect

Mr. Aberhart asserted a telegram reported sent to Prime Minister King by Edmonton Chamber of Commerce stating the majority of Alberta people were against the bank legislation, was incorrect.

"Everybody is laughing at the impotency of the press," Mr. Baker read from a letter received by the premier.

The premier declared the statement was a reiteration of what he had been asserting continually. He contended the press was controlled. "Freedom makes for virility," he said.

"It would seem nothing can be done to remedy the situation," Mr. Aberhart said in concluding his reference to newspapers.

With the Boy Scouts

Well, Patrol Leaders and Seconds:

The second notice has been mailed to your Scouters regarding the conference being held on October 1 and 2. About 85 out of town boys will be on hand.

Have you asked your Scouter about particulars of this affair? Get busy We want as many local boys as visitors if possible. Let us all get behind Lew Grant and his committee and make this the best conference yet.

It is a great pity that most packs and troops close down for the summer season. But next week will see lots reorganizing, and it is hoped the news will then start to roll in.

The Scouters' Club recently held a picnic at Fowler's Farm, Sherbrooke street west, at which some 38 Scouters and friends were present. President Stan. Leggitt took charge for a few minues to conduct a little club business. Everyone joined in games and songs. George Brooks and Art Rose played accompaniments on the guitar and ukulele. Among those present were Dr. G. Murray Fraser, president local association; D.C. J. T. Hornsby; A.D.C.'s Lew Grant and E. Wolffe, all of whom gave brief speeches.

Scout Apple Day is drawing near. To date I have not received any news regarding cocoa tins except from my friend, Mr. Moscroo, who informs me he has several on hand. What about it, boys? Apple Day can only be a success according to the co-operation the committee receives from each one of you.

Warren Gamble, Art Northcott and Jack Rogers were guests of the 1st St. John's Rover Crew at their last meeting. Every member is requested to give in writing any definite subject he would like included in the winter's schedule.

At the world jamboree, Arthur McChrystal, aged 14 of Freckleton, near Preston, England, was chosen for the honor of making a presentation to Prince Bernhard. Arthur was the smallest Scout there, and got lost in the crowd.

On the site of the world Jamboree no less than 56 bridges of various sizes have had to be built over waterwave and ditches. So there is no lack of water.

During the coming winter it is hoped to draw up something along an Old Scout club. So those who are interested, please keep eyes on this column during the coming months.

Shanshai and Kwangsi Provinces in China will be connected by a four-day bus service.

BOOST FOR THE "M.C."

As master of ceremonies of the grandstand performance at the Exhibition last week, Dick Lush made a big hit with the artists whose acts he arranged and timed so effectively.

VISITORS AT EX.

If there were any pickpockets or other shady characters operating among the crowds at Exhibition Grounds on Saturday, they must have been dismayed to note, among others, Inspector Boyd of the Ontario Provincial Police C.I.D. on the grounds. Other visitors included Chief of Police William Carey of Cobourg, and Sergeant Harry Thompson of the O.P.P.

DO VOLUNTARY DUTY.

Doing voluntary duty at the Fair Grounds during Exhibition week, members of the local division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, treated 32 persons for illness or injury at their first aid tent. In addition they took charge of twenty-five children who at various times during the four-day "Ex" became temporarily lost from their parents. The nursing division was in charge of the Superintendent, Miss Ivy Watkins; Brigade officers being Divisional Superintendent L. E. Tomkins and Ambulance Officer J. Barns.

TWO YOUTHS REMANDED

Two local youths were remanded for a week on their appearance before Magistrate A. E. Gee this morning on charges of stealing a couple of motorcycles. One of the accused, a youth of seventeen years, was stated by G. N. Gordon, K. C., as counsel to be the son of a war veteran on the relief rolls, and the other a year older, was said to be an orphan who is unemployed and has no place to sleep or eat. "I don't know how boys so young and in such circumstances can keep out of the criminal courts. Some of us are responsible for such a condition," Mr. Gordon observed.

MIND

"Mind" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon for First Church of Christ, Scientist, Peterborough, on Sunday. The Golden Text was, "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 2:5). Selections from the Bible included the following from Exodus 3:14, "And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you." Correlative citations from the Christian Science Textbook, included the following: "I am God; incorporeal and eternal Mind; divine Principle; the only Ego." (page 255) "The human form, or physical finiteness, cannot be made the basis of the infinite Godhead."

WIN GUESSING CONTEST.

In a guessing contest conducted by Canada Packers, Limited, at their booth on the Exhibition Grounds in which contestants were asked to estimate the number of gherkins in a large pickle jar, ten persons were given Maple Leaf hams. On the first day of the Fair three contestants estimated 960, being one short of the correct guess, while on Saturday three others provided the exact answer. Contestants and their estimates were as follows: Wednesday—A. Jobe, 448 George Street; Mrs. F. Stewart, 409 Bethune Street; W. Gordon Hall, 88 London Street. Thursday—Jack Bisby, 172 Westcott Street. Friday—Mrs. Burrell, 587 Bethune Street; Ross Jordan, 186 Perry Street; Joe Bevardi, 480 Parnell Street. Saturday—Mrs. J. Smith, 614 Gilmour Street; Muriel Mitchell, McFarlane Street; J. H. Coons, 31 Benson Street.

Kittens Have 'Law' Hanging On Ropes

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 23.—(AP). — Public Defender Joseph Lovely has found himself in the paradoxical position of needing a defence—against stray cats.

Two months ago, he said, his wife "took in a particularly unhappy cat and the next day we had a litter of six kittens.

"The other day Mrs. Lovely took in another stray cat and the next day we had another litter of five kittens on our hands."

With 13 cats roaming the household, something, he indicated, will have to be done about it.

Opera Singer To Wed

Madame Ganna Walska, RIGHT, former wife of Harold F. McCormick, will soon marry Harry Grindell-Matthews, noted as the inventor of the "death ray." The internationally noted opera star, who was born in Poland, is 45 years old. Grindell-Matthews, well versed in the science of sound detection and destruction of sound, was a pioneer "talkee" expert in Hollywood years ago. He is 37, and announced the engagement at London.

HELPFUL HOUSEHOLDER.

The award for courtesy, if there was such a thing, should go to the occupants of 493 George street south. During recent heavy rains it is reported a large pool of water formed near the curb adjacent to the house when a storm drain became choked, and unsuspecting pedestrians were getting a ducking as they stepped into it off the sidewalk. Noticing the predicament of pedestrians as they made their way to the Exhibition grounds the householders at the above address secured a flashlight to a tree and directed the beam on the puddle to warn foot passengers of its presence—R.

CRASH AT MANILLA INJURES 3 MEN

LINDSAY, Aug. 23.—Three Toronto residents narrowly escaped serious injury when two cars crashed almost head-on near Manilla on Provincial Highway No. 7, late Saturday night. Edward E. Shoat, 150 Homewood Drive, had just turned out of a driveway onto the highway, when a car driven by H. J. Rooney, 67 Dorval Road, crashed into his vehicle. Arthur Davies, 332 Sunnyside Avenue, passenger in the Rooney car, received face and nose injuries, while the other men escaped with cuts and bruises. Rooney was arrested by Provincial Constable J. C. Mantingham of Lindsay, on a reckless driving charge.

ROBERT HUME IS CALLED BY DEATH

PORT HOPE, Aug. 23.—Prominently identified in the grain business in Western Canada and latterly in Montreal, the death occurred here early Saturday of Robert Hume, after a lengthy illness. Interment will be made here Tuesday afternoon after a service at the family residence, Pinehurst.

Mr. Hume was born in Port Hope, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hume. After receiving his education here, he entered the grain business in Winnipeg, Fort William and Edmonton.

He married Mona Barclay Hogg at Winnipeg in 1909 and then settled in Edmonton where he formed the Prairie Eelevator Company. He came back to Port Hope in 1921 and then went to Montreal, giving up business some little time ago.

He was a member of Ontario Lodge, A.F. & A.M. No. 26, and was a life member of the Port Hope Rotary Club. He was a former member of the hospital trust. In religion he was a member of the United Church.

Surviving are his widow, one brother, J. A. Hume of Port Hope; two sisters, Miss Margaret Hume of Toronto, and Mrs. C. H. Wickett, of Port Hope, and four children, Mary and John of Montreal, and Barbara and R. David of Port Hope.

Man Quite Sure He Wasn't Drunk

Asked what he had to say in answer to a charge of intoxication, a Mount Pleasant farmer told Magistrate A. E. Gee this morning, "I wasn't a bit tight, no more than when I was a baby".

Amidst a supressed murmur of amusement from the public benches, the aged man protested, "I was never drunk in my life. I was never the worse for liquor". He confided however, "I do carry a wee drop in a bottle because of my bad heart".

"If he keeps on talking Your Worship he'll make us believe that he wasn't drunk", the Chief of Police laughed.

"I wasn't drunk", the defendant indignantly reiterated.

Letting the defendant go without penalty and warning him "don't get tight again". His Worship received the retort. "Not a bit of fear, I never was tight yet".

Joker Raises Constable's Ire Ties Tin Cans To His Dog's Tail

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 23.—Constable Wellman of this village had his ire aroused one evening last week when some one tied six cans to his collie dog's tail. The dog sped down the main street as fast as its legs would carry it, and jumped into the raceway behind one of the stores.

The dog had a heavy coating of hair, and the constable claims it might have drowned if he had not been on hand to rescue it. He said he also believed some turpentine had been used on the animal and that it was probably the work of someone playing a joke on him as the dog did not bother anyone. The Chief said he knew who was responsible for the act and that he intends to make an example of him.

43,188 ATTENDED TO SET RECORD FOR EXHIBITION

With an attendance of 14,303 Saturday, the second largest day in its history, Peterborough's Exhibition established a new record with the aggregate of 43,188 for the four days as compared with 42,495 last year, an increase of 693.

The largest total for one day was 14,908 on a September Friday in 1920.

Fred Holmes, director, who was in charge of the sale of tickets, informed the Examiner today that directors were highly pleased with the response of people of the city and district. Farmers were conspicuous by their large number on Saturday, and it was believed that the attendance for the week would porbably have reached 50,000 if wet weather had not marred the Thursday afternoon and Friday evening dates.

The grandstand total was 14,834 as compared with 14,294 last year, an increase of 540; but the figures quoted by Mr. Holmes do not include the reserved seats.

Over Fence For Boys At Exhibition Developed Into Real Rackets

A minor racket was uncovered at Exhibition grounds on Saturday afternoon, and the racketeer was afforded a stern lecture by one of the Fair Board directors who caught him in the act.

Going over to the sheep pens to get a breach in the fence repaired, where small boys were squirming through to gain free admission, the director in question found a youth in his late 'teens crouched in the shadow of one of the pens.

Taxed with having extracted "hush money" from the smaller boys as they sneaked through the hole in the fence, the youth had to admit he had been demanding toll.

He is reported to have said that the day previously another youth collected seventy-five cents from small boys whom he caught coming through or over the fences.

Plans To Conduct Ballet Music

Viscount Hindemaro (RIGHT), brother of Prince Konoye, premier of Japan, is shown at Hollywood bowl as he discusses a forthcoming ballet production with Michio Ito, the ballet master. Konoye will conduct the ballet music. He shocked Japanese aristocracy a few years ago, when he resigned from the Japanese House of Peers to devote his entire time to a musical life.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, August 24

A very active and enterprising day is the augury based on the predominant planetary operations. The forces and faculties may be keyed to high tension for initiative and determination, but are likely to be obstacles as well as to circumvent some manner of treachery, trickery, fraud or misrepresentation. In all connections there is need for vigilance as to subtlety and peculiar and sinister situations.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of much enterprise and initiative. This may be directed largely against stubborn obstructions to plans as well as to offsetting treachery, fraud, misrepresentation, slander and other sinister attempts to assail important plans and projects. Be vigilant and cautious in all peculiar or subtle affairs and guard the speech wisely.

A child born on this day may be studious and profound as well as enterprising and energetic in putting over its constructive and practical ideas. It may be disposed to attain such ends through methods of expediency rather than principle.

AYRSHIRE CATTLE BOUGHT FOR U. S.

Fred C. Rutherford of Bonarlaw, recently bought eight pure bred Ayrshire cattle in Smith township, three from J. Gordon Mann, three from Clarence Mann and two from Ernest Rosborough. They were included in a consignment of Ayrshires to W. J. Reid of New Jersey, N.Y., who is assembling a new herd of which the sire was bought from Mr. Rutherford.

Another group of Ayrshires was recently forwarded to L. M. Hutchinson of Mt. Union, Pa., proprietor of Shirley-Ayr Farms, the purchase being made through Mr. Rutherford who informed the Examiner Saturday the market for pure bred cattle continues steady. Three blood tests by federal representatives are required for the entry of cattle into Pennsylvania, the restrictions by that State being exceptionally strict.

Husband Bites Off End Of Wife's Nose

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.

ALEX BAKARYK of St. Boniface appeared in police court Saturday to face a charge of assault, causing bodily harm, and was released on bail of $2,000. He is alleged to have bitten off the end of his wife's nose during a quarrel.

HONEY FAMILY IS GREATLY PLEASED WITH EXHIBITION

The Honey family, who featured the vaudeville bill at the Exhibition last week left during the week-end for Gloversville, N.Y., and the last of the directors to bid them good-bye was Alderman R. M. Glover, chairman of the entertainment committee.

"We have had a delightful time in Peterborough," Mrs. Honey, mother of the six young acrobats, stated to an Examiner reporter after the big crowd was gone from the grandstand Saturday night.

"If your people liked us, and we hope they did, please tell them we enjoyed appearing before them," Mrs. Honey said. "What impressed us most was their good nature and patience in the rain Friday night. They were wonderful. We should like to come back to Peterborough again some time. The girls are working on a musical feature, not a revue, which we are hoping to have ready for next season. It will include tumbling and other acrobatics.

My daughter who catches one of the boys on her shoulders weighs only 119 pounds and he weighs 160, and obviously that act involves a severe strain on her. That is what we are trying to change.

All the conditions here were pleasant, comfortable dressing rooms, excellent lighting and all the rest, and the directors provided any change we suggested."

Alfred Honey and his wife are approaching middle age, and with their charming family are a gracious, unaffected and interesting family. Their attachment to one another is obvious, the young people hovering about their mother, while Mr. Honey was directing the packing of their effects, with easy and natural companionship.

"I was thirty years in circus and vaudeville work and never met a serious accident," Mrs. Honey said. "But, a year ago I fell in a New York drug store and broke my right arm. I went in to buy Eno's fruit salts."

The Honeys have played in Covent Garden and the Palladium in London; one of their performances being virtually by royal command. But apart from all their fine record and their ability is the appealing fact that they are "regular folks," the kind you would like to number among your friends.

Can. Packers Buy Prize Hogs, Lambs

When the market class hogs and lambs that featured in prize awards at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition were sold at auction on Saturday in accordance with the regulations governing those classes, the entire lot was bought up by Canada Packers Limited.

Details in connection with the five pens of hogs purchased by the local firm, are as follows: First prize pen of five hogs from George Williams, Queensville, $12 a hundred; second prize pen from Walter Bowles, Springville, $11.25 a hundred; third prize pen from Leonard McNeil, Fraserville and fourth and fifth prize pens from Wallace Thurston, Bobcaygeon, all at $11 per hundred.

Lambs: First prize pen from J. H. Lockie, Zephyr at $10.75 a hundred, second prize pen from J. M. Fisher, Woodville, at $10.60 a hundred; third prize pen from Harold Skinner, Tyrone, at $10.25 a hundred; fourth prize pen from A. Ayre, Hampton, Ont., at $10.25 a hundred; and fifth prize pen from Wallace Thurston, Bobcaygeon at $9 a hundred.

Report Paralysis Village of Roslin

TWEED, Aug. 23.—Infantile paralysis has found its way east to the county of Hastings, Dr. H. E. Welsh, Medical Health Officer of Tyendinaga, reports one case near the village of Roslin. He had advised people in that vicinity to be on the lookout for this disease and to have undiagnosed illnesses looked after immediately.

OBITUARY

MRS. THOMAS EDGAR.

There passed to rest quite suddenly, at Nicholls Hospital, recently, a highly esteemed member of Zion United Church, Martha Brown, wife of the late Thomas Edgar. The funeral took place from the residence of her brother, Mr. David Brown, on Tuesday afternoon, August 10th, to Little Lake Cemetery, Peterborough. Services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, Warsaw, who spoke on passages from Mark, fourteenth chapter, 34th verse, and St. John's Gospel: "She hath glorified her God on the earth and finished her work." "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Abide With Me" were read during the service.

Left to mourn the loss of a dearly loved sister are seven brothers: Joseph, George, Robert, James, William, John and David Brown; also one sister, Sarah (Mrs. James Tighe).

The pall-bearers were six nephews.

MRS. WM. ARMOUR.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 23.—The death occurred on Saturday morning of Annie Grant, widow of William Armour, at her residence on Bay Street, Hastings.

Deceased, who was in her 86th year, was the last remaining one of a family of five daughters, and was born in Haldimand Township. Of a quiet but charitable disposition, she was loved and respected by her many friends and neighbors.

For the past eighteen years, deceased lived in the vicinity of Hastings, spending some time on the Armour farm in Percy Township, and later moving with her husband, who passed away four years ago, to the village. Deceased, who had been in failing health for the past six months, was very patient in her illness.

The funeral was held on Monday at 3.30 p.m. from her late residence, Rev. Duncan of Warkworth conducted the service. Interment in the Trent Valley Cemetery.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

THE Exhibition is all over for another year—and maybe we won't get so much rain now—and also the harness hoss races. We really enjoy the latter, though the two paces Saturday had too small a field to be very interesting. Some nice finishes and fair times made, but several of the better trotters pulld out in th a.m. when they spotted a wet track. The Friday races were quite a bit better, just about the best heats ever run off here. A bronx and Blue Mountain Chilicoot took a couple of firsts in the 2.18 class Saturday while Worthy Widow proved a worthy survivor in the free-for-all to gain top money twice. It took more scoring than an 18-inning ball game to get two small fields away, but the starter was patient and the big crowd in the grandstand didn't seem to mind too much.

* * * * *

IN FACT the only time the race hoss fans hollered was when one of the drivers got crabby over a couple of false starts by his pacer and plied the whip too strenuously. These gents race around the circuit pretty much at a financial loss—none of 'em making much dough out of the game—but they all like to win, naturally. And they try mighty hard to get a good break at the start. That is why they persist in breaking ahead of the field and having the gong run on 'em. After all, who of us doesn't try in our everyday business to get a jump on the other guy?

* * * * *

OVER at the Bowl Saturday eve, Cobourg gals copped a 9-8 nod over Westclox to lngthen out that final serial. Next game is in Cobourg tonight and if the home team wins, they'll be the champs. If Westclox wins, the locals get the Bond Cup and go into P.W.S.U. playdowns 'gainst Oshawa this week. Some hard hitting won the tilt for Ernie Foote's fighters and they deserved the victory. The locals will have to hustle every minute now or the Lakeshore lasses will romp off with th bunting—and we don't mean the bunts. A couple of homers, a collision on third, some odd guessing by ye arbiters, and lots of exciting softball made it a worthwhile tussle for the customers, cash and otherwise.

* * * * *

LOTS of arguments up at Central on Saturday p.m., also, as the Westclox men softballers took a 9-8 win over Motorists to win the series. They now represent Peterborough in O.A.B.A. playdowns. Several disputes over umpires' decisions in this bitter brawl and Skeets Walsh tossed out for stepping aside to let the ball plunk Umpire Harley Weir in the pantry. We didn't see this game but it must have been a hotcha number. Both sides used two twirlers and 'twas hinted rather broadly that some batters took their pokes out of turn. When leagues decided it's worth a few bucks to have an official scorer, this trick will be impossible. Naish gave way to Parsons on the winners' mound and Shine replaced Strickland on the other slab.

* * * * *

AUBURNS will clash in a sudden-death lacrosse game 'gainst Belleville Flying Rovers in Wellington tomorrow p.m. It is a semi-final tussle, the winner to tackle the Norwood-Oshawa victor in loop finals. The clubs agreed to settle the Belleville-Petes' serial at one game and then get the finals going. The locals will stage an exhibition fray here next Friday with New Toronto. Meantime, there will be a practise tonight at seven, and all players are asked to attend. It is just possible that, in case of rain in the O.A.L.A. series, the Auburns may play in the Lindsay Arena, but we doubt if this will be necessary—though 'tis an ace in the hole, at that.

* * * * *

THAT 6-4 win for the Ponies which eliminated Napanee on Friday was a hectic one. It included several fist fights, a flock of heated arguments and Umpire Corrigan having police protection to leave the field at the finish. Seems he called out Gerow on decidedly doubtful strikes with the bases cluttered up in the ninth. Williams was relieved by Paczkowski on the Ponies' mound while Pointer gave way to Blazetich on the home slab. Joyce got three hits and Buck, McQuaide and Scrutton two each for the winners; aa Card, Handford and Jeffers had a brace apiece for the Gibbards. Pointer fanned seven during his stay. Too bad the umping had to interfere in such a close and important game.

* * * * *

SECRETARY Newt Thompson of Belleville has sent word around that Napanee will replay their tie game tonight in Kingston. If the Naps win, the Petes and Ponies open their C.O.B.L. semi-final series in Kingston on Thursday. If Kingston wins tonight, the Ponies will be tied for first place with Oshawa. Which means the GM-men and Ponies will have to meet in a sudden-death game before any playoffs commence. At anyrate, Napanee are out and the Petes have third place clinched. With some squabbling as to playoff dates going on around the circuit, an executive meeting of the Central League has been called for Belleville tomorrow eve to clear these matters up. Prexy Max Swanston has been away on vacation lately.

QUINTE scribe writes: "Aajmaa juniors were much too good for the Peterborough kids and should have won by a larger score than 8 to 3. Neither Peterborough moundsmen carried enough to baffle the local juniors as they pounded out 15 hits. Carson labored on the home hilltop and the issue was never in doubt, Carson hurling steady ball and having superb support in the clutches. Adams led the locals defensively but the whole infield went good. Foster hit a homer for the young Petes. Aajmaa kids now meet Oshawa in the next round of the O.A.S.A. junior playdowns. Incidentally the Peterborough boys were not only slow afoot but booted the spheroid around badly with the locals taking advantage of every misplay." It would seem that the Y.P. lads blew up like a ton of T.N.T. in the money series—after showing plenty of promise in the local loop.

* * * * *

PICKING 'em off the grapevine: Manager Collins wants all the Petes, even the softballers, out to practise at Riverside tonight.... Young Petes and Westclox are said to meet tonight at Central in a round-robin series game....Mickey Compeau will be out about a week with a bad ankle....R.C.A.F. officers have promised to loan grid players to Belleville if the Airport hasn't a football team this autumn ....Kawartha "A" team won the title of the Kawartha Tennis Loop on Sat'day....C.P.R. softball team of Smiths Falls would like to play a local team in the Oval at 1.ifiest Sat'day....Havelock prospects are invited to start workouts tonight at the Riverview A.C. gym on George St.....Oshawa won the juvenile O.B.A.A. round over Kingston ....St. Kitts' seniors have dropped two in the three-in-five ball playoffs to Merritton....Rotarians' junior ball game in Belleville was rained out Sat'day—they'll play tonight.....Orfums will practise nightly now, starting tonight at six, in King Edward Park, and all grid prospects are welcome....With a harvest breeze ablowing, it looks like the days for B.V.D.'s are numbered, eh?

Farr Wants To Smack Baer Sore Over Max's Remarks

Would Hang One on Ex-Champ's Whiskers But Broadribb Stops Fight.

LONG BRANCH, N.J., Aug. 23 (AP).—There's a lot of off-hand opinion around here that Tommy Farr, the short-tempered Welshman, is liable to give Joe Louis a lot more trouble Thursday night at Yankee Stadium than Joe has in mind.

Farr made a lot of friends yesterday when he offered—even insisted—on climbing aboard Max Baer. He wanted to sing Max, and he would have if they hadn't pulled him off. It wasn't a phoney. The Tonypandy terror was sore at some slighting remarks Maxie made about his punch, or lack of punch, and he wanted to start something then and there.

The boys like that. Here was a guy with a lot of money coming up Thursday night, more than he ever even imagined before in his life, and he was willing to risk losing it for the unalloyed pleasure of hanging one on Baer's whiskers. If his manager, Ted Broadribb, hadn't jumped between them, Farr would have.

Farr called Baer a few things that would get the average man hit. If Max hadn't held his temper, Mike Jacobs might have had a headache today to end all headaches.

"That's how I am," said the Welshman after a shower had cooled him off just a little. "Imagine that fellow making remarks about me, after what I did to him in London. He's a plain ——."

Anyway, the cauliflower connoisseurs was pretty much impressed by Farr's flare-up. It gave them a brand new respect for him. He has one gathers, been lacking in color since he pitched camp here.

"That's the kind of spirit I like to see," said one old-timer. "There aren't many left like that these days. I wouldn't be surprised if he isn't a grand short end bet."

Tommy denies the insinuation that he butts. "I never bulsed a man in my life, and Baer is a liar if he says I bulsed him in our fight," he intoned.

Just Pulling Max's Leg

Lack Of Control May Send Feller Back To The Minors

Bobby Has Walked 65 in 79 Innings This Season — Strikeouts Total 69.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(CP)— It doesn't even take a good look any more to show what's wrong with Bob Feller. Just a peek at the standings will tell you his record, like Babe Ruth's figure, bulges in the wrong places.

With his speed and youth, he may still become the sensation of his baseball generation, but up to now, he seems well on the way to going down as a big bust.

For all the good he's done the Cleveland Indians this year, he might just as well have been back on the farm, and for all the class he's shown to warrant the book full of headlines they gave him, he might as well have been a butcher in Bangkok.

Overlooking for the moment the fact that the Cubs' worries have been momentarily sidetracked by a four-game lead in the National League race, take a look at Feller's figures for the season.

Walks 65.

He's been in 15 games for 79 innings, has allowed 61 hits, given up 65 bases on balls, and fanned 69.

Steering that course, which resembles nothing so much as the zig-zagging of a streak of lightning on the loose, Feller has come close to allowing two men on base for each inning he's pitched and for each batter he's fanned. His 69 strikeouts in 79 innings show that he's really "got something there" in that smokeball of his, but on the other hand, 126 batters have jogged to first.

His inability to get his pitches within mailing distance of home plate was never so obvious as yesterday. Although he allowed only two hits in the five innings he worked, he walked seven in two frames, five of them in a row, which does not exactly come under the head of control.

As a result, the White Sox socked him and the Indians 5-2 in the first game of a doubleheader. The Tribe came through 3-2 in the second, but by that time the record books showed Feller's fifth defeat against three wins for the year, with one of the season's queerest performances.

Cubs Get Double.

Meantime, Chicago Cubs, who were supposed to be falling apart, rolled along to a twin win over the Reds, 4-1 and 5-2. Since the Giants' doubleheader with the Phillies was rained out, the Cubs rested on a four-game lead as they headed east to tangle with their archrivals.

The Cardinals came back and took the Pirates for a double "buggy ride," 12-0 and 9-7. Dizzy Dean won his first victory since July 4 and hit his first homer of the year in the nightcap. The Dodgers beat the Bees 5-1 in six innings before rain ended their scheduled doubleheader.

Joe DiMaggio belted homer No. 36, Lefty Gomez fanned ten, and the Yanks whipped the Athletics 4-1 in a five-inning meeting. Their nightcap also drowned in the weather. The Tigers trounced the Browns twice, 11-3 and 4-3. The Senators and Red Sox were washed out.

BUDGE BEATS BOBBY RIGGS

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 23 (AP).—Smashing out a four-set victory over Bobby Riggs, ranked as perhaps his most dangerous United States rival, lanky, red-haired Don Budge of California won the fifty-seventh Casino singles title Saturday.

Later Budge joined Gene Mako, his Los Angeles Davis Cup partner, and they came from behind against Hare, the slam-banging Britishers, G. Patrick Hughes and Charles E. for a 3-6, 6-6, 8-3, 6-4, 8-3 triumph in the doubles final.

In the singles, Budge all but brushed from the court a younger who not only won the trophy here last year, but who has also dominated ten of the twelve tournaments in which he has played this year, including the three previous Eastern grass classics. The score was 8-4, 6-8, 6-1, 8-2.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

IN CONJUNCTION with the regular schedule games tomorrow (Tuesday) night, the following postponed games have been ordered by the committee:

Dr. Allen vs. T. Donaldson.
W. Moorehead vs. C. Williamson.
J. Kingsbury vs. G. Soulby.
R. Dyer vs. G. East.
E. Taylor vs. R. Hendry.

THE SKIPS-VICES and Leads-Seconds games that were rained out on Thursday, July 15th have been ordered to be played on this coming Thursday, Aug. 26th. We wish we were forceful enough to impress upon our members how important it is to be on time at our local twilight games this evening. At our last local tournament we had two pairs come over a half hour late. Not only do they upset everything but it makes it quite late when the games are over—they start at 7 p.m.

IN THE CLUB SINGLES the following games must be played by Friday night or defaulted. These games are holding back the progress of the whole contest.

G. Snowden vs. R. Burns.
M. Heath vs. R. Kerr.
R. Johnston vs. J. Price.
W. Hepburn vs. H. Wilson.
R. Dyer vs. R. Walsh.

SATURDAY'S QUERY—When a player has played before his turn, the opposing skip may cause the bowl to be stopped in its course and it shall be played in proper order.' This concludes for the time being, this line of chatter regarding rules and regulations of lawn bowling... The lee for our open doubles on Wednesday is $2.50 instead of $2 as formerly announced.

ONE OF OUR youngest and most enthusiastic bowlers stopped us on Saturday evening and naturally the conversation drifted towards bowling. He says to us, 'Say Pepper, who in your opinion is the best bowler belonging to our club?' We pretty nearly slipped up on that one but modestly checked ourselves just in time. Our answer to that one is take a good look in the mirror and there you will find that one.

Kawartha 'A' Net Players Win Coveted Morrow Trophy

Cup Is Emblematic of Kawartha Tennis League Championship.

On Saturday afternoon, the Kawartha "A" team, captained by Al Drynan, captured the Morrow trophy emblematic of the championship of the Kawartha League, in which Peterborough, Lakefield, Quaker, Port Hope and Kawatha clubs were represented. This final playoff match was really only a matter of form and merely decided what players should comprise the team to capture the cup. These were: Mrs. Ken Kingston, Misses Hazel Jackson, Anne Davis, Nan Boorman, Messrs. C. H. Crowe, H. Sills, S. O. Shields, A. Drynan, R. Mawhood and R. Hull. After the heavy rains of the past few days, it was at first feared that the courts would not be playable for the matches. Under the capable generalship of C. H. Crowe and J. Donaldson, however, a husky crew soon rolled and lined two of the courts and shortly had them in good condition, though still a trifle heavy.

When the regulation six events had been played off, the score stood at three events each. In order to break the existing tie, the two singles players on each team joined together in a mixed doubles combination. Here Isobel Kingston and Rolly Hull, last years' city finalists proved too much for Doris Ackford and John Donaldson, winning in straight sets 6-4 and 6-2. Another feature match of the day was the second men's doubles in which S. O. Shields and A. Drynan seemed to be the better "muddlers" and turned back their opponents J. H. Bell and W. Lind after three hard fought sets. Rolly Hull and Roy Tranter engaged in some well played rallies from which the latter emerged on the long end of the score. In the first men's doubles, H. Sills and C. H. Crowe were too "hot" for their opposition and took A. Jones and J. Donaldson over the jumps to the tune of 6-0, 6-4. Margaret Jackson and Kay Donaldson turned in a respectable exhibition of ladies' doubles tennis, shading their adversaries Hazel Jackson and A. Davis considerably, while Nan Boorman and Ron Mawhood made it interesting for M. Benson and Don Emery, the latter pair just taking the "photo finish" 6-4, 6-4. Isobel Kingston was just too good for Doris Ackford, in the ladies' singles contest, as she romped through to an easy 6-1, 6-1 victory.

A summary of the scores in the various events is as follows: Men's Singles: R. Tranter vs. R. Hull 6-4, 6-4; first Men's Doubles: C. H. Crowe and H. Sills vs. A. Jones and J. Donaldson 6-0, 6-4; S. O. Shields and A. Drynan vs. W. Lind and J. H. Bell 6-3, 3-6, 6-4; Mixed Doubles: M. Benson and D. Emery vs. N. Boorman and R. Mawhood 6-4, 6-4; Ladies' Doubles: M. Jackson and K. Donaldson vs. H. Jackson and A. Davis 6-4, 6-3; Ladies' Singles: I. Kingston vs. D. Ackford 6-1, 6-1. Final Mixed Doubles: I. Kingston and R. Hull vs. D. Ackford and J. Donaldson 6-4, 6-2. Final score: Kawartha "A" 4; Kawartha "B" 3.

A special tournament is being arranged for Saturday the 28th, which will bring together those Kawartha players who have not seen much action in the tournaments of the year. A feature idea of the match is that the losers provide supper for the winners. How far removed is this arrangement from the admirable Eskimo custom which gives the glory of victory to the conqueror and refreshment to the unfortunate vanquished.

ROSS WILSON WINS MARITIME HONORS

BRIDGEWATER, N. S., Aug. 23 (CP).—Ross Wilson of Toronto, displaying the hitting power which gave him second ranking in the Dominion, won three titles in the Nova Scotia open tennis tournament Saturday.

A powerful forehand drive and smashing overhead kill carried Wilson through eight straight sets as he won the men's singles and doubles and the mixed doubles championships. He defeated Don McDiarmid of Ottawa in the finals, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

Teaming with his opponent in the doubles finals, the Toronto player rushed to the net to out-volley and out-smash Bey Piers and Harry Roper of Halifax for the men's doubles crown. All three sets were 6-3.

Cobourg Team Wins 9-8 Over Westclox Girls

Lakeshore Lasses Get First Nod in Softball Playoff Series.

Cobourg girls took a 9-8 win over Westclox here Saturday night to prolong the playoff series. It was the second win for the Lakeshore lasses, who also tied one playoff game and lost twice. They play Westclox again Monday night in Cobourg and a win for the homesters will end the three-in-five series, but a Westclox victory will give the Clockmakers the league title. A fair-sized crowd saw a good game here Saturday.

The winners outhit the Delahaye damsels while the fielding was about even. Cobourg were nearly overhauled by a three-run rally for the home crew in the ninth frame and the tying run was on third at the end. R. Slater pitched for the winners, allowing 10 hits as she fanned four and walked one. M. Snowden on the other slab was nicked for 16 safe blows while striking out two and issuing two free tickets.

Leading Hitters

W. Hoskin had a homer and four singles for the victors, with R. Hoskin hitting a homer and two singles. R. Thompson got a double and single, M. Bulkowski three singles and L. Mooney a two-bagger. M. Allison and M. Snowden led Westclox with two singles each. Nice fielding was shown by M. Ferguson, M. Allison, J. Young and B. Rowden. Westclox had two double-plays, M. Hawthorne to G. Mortimer, and M. Ferguson to M. Hawthorne. The latter and W. Hoskin collided one at third hard but both stayed in the game. The teams:

Cobourg: M. Bulkowski, 1b; R. Rowden, ss; R. Hoskin, c; W. Hoskin, cf, rf; R. Thompson, 3b; J. Young, lf; L. Mooney, 2b; E. Toyne, rf, cf; R. Slater, p.

Westclox: I. Pavy, c; M. Ferguson, ss; M. Hawthorne, 3b; M. Allison, 3b; G. Mortimer, 1b; D. Merrett, lf, cf; A. Sturgeon, cf, lf; M. Selkirk, rf; M. Snowden, p.

WRESTLER DIES AT 131

BELGRADE—(CP).—Jovan Stankovitch, dead at 131, was famous 100 years ago for his feats of strength. He was the daddy of "catch-as-catch-can" wrestlers.

BURGLARS CHOOSY

REGINA—(CP).—Many and varied are the tastes of the thief. Police blotters here recorded two recent break-ins of grocery stores and listed the missing articles as a few fly swatters and several bananas.

GOLF-FACTS NOT THEORIES

By Alex Morrison

NUMBER 70

The player who has trouble lining up for a shot wastes many strokes during a round. In most cases this trouble comes from aiming only with the eyes. When it is time to take his starting position, the player invariably places himself in this way—he simply guesses at the distance his feet should be away from the ball as he looks over his left shoulder toward his objective.

This guesswork about the position of his feet finds him standing at all kinds of angles in relation to the line of play. One time he may have an open stance with his right foot closer than his left to the ball, the next time this position may be reversed. Generally he places his feet in the latter position so that with an extremely closed stance he must hit from the outside in to send the ball along the proper line.

Now the proper swing can be made and a consistent way of lining up for every shot will be had when the player places his whole body in the right position. This position finds the hips turned slightly so that the stomach tends to face toward the green or immediate objective. Such a body turn is in keeping with an open stance.

Rain Spoils Cricket Match On the Coast

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23 (CP). — Hopes of the Canadian cricketers that the Dominion will soon take its place with England and other Empire countries in the field of international cricket have been given added impetus by the visit of the Marylebone Cricket Club team. The Englishmen are en route east for the concluding matches in Ottawa and Montreal.

Rain spoiled the final match at the Pacific coast Saturday against a team representative of British Columbia. After only 90 minutes of batting, during which the M.C.C. hit up 119 runs for one wicket, a heavy shower caused abandonment of the encounter which was declared drawn.

HINTERLAND HIGHWAY

FLIN FLON, Man.—(CP).—Survey of the projected Flin Flon-Nipawin highway neared completion in northeastern Saskatchewan, and J. W. Nedley, engineer of the Saskatchewan department of highways, said only obstruction to the projected road was a five-mile stretch of muskeg which he believed could easily be drained.

Slugging Joe Meets Bomber

WESTON HORSE WINS 2.18 RACE

Two races Saturday finished the harness-horse race meet at the local Exhibition. Small fields were entered in both, a wet track in the morning causing many of the horsemen to move out without risking their trotters in the two final races. Five entered the 2.18 pace and four ran in the free-for-all. Fair times were marked and several close heats were seen by the big grandstand crowd.

Blue Mountain Chilicoot took two firsts and a second in the 2.18 race to gain the big money, while Lee Handley ran second twice but led the field in the last heat. All horses shared somewhat in the money. In the free-for-all, Worthy Widow ran first twice and second once, as Richard Hall gave her a hard race each time and took one first and two seconds. The fastest half-mile clocked was 1.07, the second in the race, while 2.14 was the fast mile, the first in the free-for-all. It required considerable scoring to get the small fields away.

BUFFALO SHADES TORONTO 4 TO 3

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP).— The amazing Newark Bears, the classic collection of youthful ball players that spread-eagled the International League, can stamp, seal and deliver the circuit's 1937 championship to Col. Jake Ruppert and his farm overseer, George Weiss, tonight.

Only one contingency stands in the way of the Bears. Should they lose to the Buffalo Bisons and the second place Montreal Royals take two games from the Baltimore Orioles, then the pennant clinching with its attendant celebration must be postponed.

After the Rochester Red Wings had halted the Bears, 8-4, yesterday and the Royals had tripped the Jersey City Giants 5-4 and 2-1; the standings of the first and second clubs was as follows:

Lefty Herb Moore, of the Red Wings, throttled Newark's pennant ambitions yesterday when he hurled a nine-inning, three-hit relief bit.

The Buffalo Bisons shaded the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 in 10 innings on a single by Johnny Tyler and Ollie Carnegie's double. Pete Sivess of Baltimore Orioles shut out the Syracuse Chiefs 5-0 in the first game of a double bill and then Earl Cook stopped the flock in the second game 2-1.

Bowmanville Falls To Oshawa Club 4-2

OSHAWA, Aug. 23.—Bert Peacock's classy Oshawa Intermediates took a firm grip on the Lakeshore O.B.A.A. grouping title at Alexandra Park Saturday afternoon when they handed Bowmanville Royals, last season's winners, a 4 to 2 defeat.

It was the second straight win over last year's Ontario finalists with Lefty Wills going the route for the locals before the largest crowd of the season. Wills had the losers completely handcuffed with exception of the eighth frame when he retired the side by a strikeout to pull himself out of a hole. George Piper, who went the route for Bowmanville, hurled shut out ball in all except the second and fifth frames, when Oshawa managed to bunch three hits on each occasion for all their runs.

Yesterday's Stars

(By the Associated Press.)

Bob Weiland and Dizzy Dean, Cardinals—Weiland pitched three-hitter and hit homer and single, driving in four runs in 12-0 opener win over Pirates; Dizzy hit homer, two singles, driving in three runs and scoring three others in winning own ball game 9-7 in nightcap.

Lefty Gomez and Joe Dimaggio, Yankees— Gomez pitched three-hitter, fanned 10 and Diamaggio hit homer, single, driving in two runs in 4-1 win over Athletics.

Luke Hamlin, Dodgers—Fanned five and allowed four hits in whipping Bees 5-1.

Ted Lyons, White Sox, and Earl Averill and Mel Harder, Indians—Former pitched five-hitter to take twin opener 5-2; Averill's homer in eighth won nightcap 3-2 as Hardner allowed five hits.

Charley Root and Augie Galan, Cubs—Root turned in six-hitter to beat Reds 4-1 in opener; Galan's triple with bases loaded in ninth won nightcap 5-2.

MOTORISTS LOSE TO WESTCLOX 9-8

Westclox men won the playoff series to declare an O.A.S.A. playdown team from Motorists at Central Saturday night when they took a 9-8 win over the Barrett boys. It was their fourth victory in the four-in-seven series and the Clockmakers will now meet Belleville in O.A.S.A. intermediate playdowns.

It was a bitter battle all the way. Both sides used two fingers and Motorists rallied in the ninth to get four runs and almost tie it up. Two umpiring decisions caused considerable dispute and ultimately resulted in Catcher Walsh of the losers being expelled from the game for stepping aside on a pitch and letting the ball hit the umpire. There was also some argument about batters batting out of turn, no official scorer being present, and a threatened protest by the losing squad. Naish and Parsons pitched for the Baptie bunch while Strickland and Shine saw duty on the Motorists' mound.

Sets World Mark For 100 Metres

PARIS, Aug. 23.—Ben Johnson, diminutive Columbia University negro flier, was timed in 10.2 seconds—A world record for 100 metres, in the International University "Olympic games" here yesterday.

It bettered by one-tenth of a second the recognized mark of 10.3 held jointly by Eddie Tolan, Ralph Metcalfe and Eulace Peacock of the United States, Percy Williams of Canada and Christian Berger of Holland.

U.S. Netters Successfully Defend The Wightman Trophy

Helen Jacobs Defeats Ruth Mary Hardwick in Deciding Match.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 23 (AP).—Completing the rout started on the opening day, the United States Wightman Cup team swept on to a 6-1 triumph Saturday over Great Britain's women tennis players. It was the most decisive margin either side has piled up since England won the second match of the fifteen-year series by the same score in 1924.

Helen Jacobs clinched the United States seventh straight victory by defeating Mary Hardwick in the first match, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, to rule the United States lead to four matches to none. Miss Jacobs then withdrew from the doubles that closed the program.

Britain's Only Victory.

A brand-new and unadjusted team of Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn and 21-year-old Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Cal., took the court against England's No. 1 pair of Kay Stammers and Freda James. The United States players lost to the 1936 Wimbledon champions, 6-3, 10-8.

After Miss Jacobs had assured the cup's staying in the United States for another year, Alice Marble, United States champion, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Babyan, No. 3 singles players, piled up a 6-0 lead for the defending side. Miss Marble, hitting out with all her power and covering the court at all times, took only thirty-four minutes to subdue Kay Stammers, Great Britain's southpaw No. 1, 6-3, 6-1, and Mrs. Babyan repeated those scores in her defeat of Margot Lumb, another left-hander.

Grand Old Man Of Major Baseball Succumbs After Lengthy Illness

BOSTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—George Wright, known nationally as "the Grand Old Man" of baseball, died last night at the age of 90, severing one of the remaining links with the era of razor-like spikes, gloveless catchers, and handlebar moustaches.

Wright, Captain of the first professional baseball club—Cincinnati Red Stockings of 1869—succumbed after a long illness. Founder of the Boston National League Club in 1871, and always mentioned among the greatest players, Wright attended major league games as often as he could in his later years. He held the first life-time pass issued by the National League.

Although he had few peers as a shortstop, Wright by no means limited his sports activity to baseball. He was credited with being the first to introduce golf to New England—if not in the United States—and won many honors in international curling and cricket.

He founded the sporting goods firm of Wright & Ditson, which he headed until recent years. His sons, Beals and Irving, turned to tournament tennis, the former bringing home two United States doubles titles with Holcomb Ward in 1904 and 1905, and the latter winning the national mixed doubles title with Molla Mallory. Wright made the first known trapball play in 1870 and with two other members of the Reds, he gave juggling exhibitions before games that won him wide popularity.

Believe Schmeling Will Get Crack At Heavyweight Title This Autumn

POMPTON LAKES, N.J., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, the beetle-browed German who "saw somezings" when he got his first glimpse of Joe Louis in the movies is seeing things again.

Max parlayed what he saw once before into one of boking's most sensational bouts of the past decade, his 12-round knockout of the Brown Bomber in June 1936. After watching Louis go through his training manoeuvres for his bout with Tommy Farr at Pompton Lakes yesterday he proclaimed to one and all, "I see somezings, I am more eager than ever to fight him. I can lick him again."

Schmeling, who set out to rewin the heavyweight title he lost to Jack Sharkey still insists he wants the title and nothing else.

"I want Louis," says Max. "I'm only after the title. I want to fight him this fall but next year is all right, too."

There are many who believe Max will get his crack at the champion this fall and that the date of the bout will be announced Friday— if Louis wins from Farr Thursday.

Captain A. S. Wilcockson, pilot of the Caledonia, the big Imperial Airways flying boat which made the initial trans-Atlantic survey flight, tells Philip G. Johnson, Vice-President in Charge of Operations, Trans-Canada Air Lines, how to fly the Atlantic. The famous pilot and the operating head of Canada's new air transport organization met recently at the Boucherville base, Montreal, on the occasion of the Caledonia's second test flight. Former President of United Air Lines, and one of the leaders in the development of aviation on the North American continent, Mr. Johnson was keenly interested in the mechanical details of the big flying boat. He went through the Caledonia under the guidance of its Captain.

Full-Grown Deer Grazes With Horses

Welland, Ont., Aug. 23.

FARMERS coming to the Welland market today from Wainfleet township told of seeing a full grown deer grazing with horses on a farm owned by Charles Sider, Perry Station.

They watched the sight until the deer suddenly looked up, leaped over a five foot wire fence and trotted along Wabash railway tracks until it reached another field where horses were grazing. The animal leaped another fence gracefully and resumed grazing. . .

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Mary Barrett, ambitious to become a dress designer, is in Paris where she has just obtained a job with Countess Anetka, owner of a small dress shop. She had been recommended to Anetka by Mark Sutherland, American playboy and mutual friend who admired Mary from the first following their meeting on shipboard. Mary likes Mark but misses Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York shop who gave her her start several months previously. She left Castle's shop suddenly, disillusioned, after an altercation with Tony's head buyer, Francine Long, and sailed for Paris impulsively. More and more she realizes she is in love with Tony. Mary does so well in the shop that Anetka offers her a partnership. Before long Mary his visions of wide success with the shop.

NO GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 15

"NOEL! JOYEUX NOEL!"

Mary opened her eyes, closed them again and pulled the blankets higher above her ears.

There was someone pounding on her door. There was someone opening her door. Two someones at 7 o'clock in the morning.

There was Kate bearing a small Christmas tree. And Ellin at her slippered heels bearing two neatly wrapped packages and several not-so-neatly wrapped.

"We came to wish you a Merry Christmas a day early. Ellin is off to Chartres this afternoon, and my train leaves in an hour."

"You're lambs!" Mary said, but she wished they would let her forget it was the holiday season.

They trimmed her Christmas tree, placed their gifts — Ellin's scrapebook and Kate's umbrella—under the tree with instructions not to open them before nightfall. Then they presented her with a third of their unbiteable cookies and stale fudge sent from home.

She saw them leave, feeling, more pathetic than she wanted to.

Anetka had insisted that she join her party. There would be music and vodka and blini. It would be very gay, she promised. Mary doubtful that there was any gaiety in her heart.

Meawhile there was the day ahead and-blessed work.

There were no customers and no work to be got out of the seamstresses. In a burst of holiday spirit, Anetka had told them not to come to the shop. And there was Anetka herself with her many mysterious packages, Anetka running in and out with her arms and her eyes filled.

Mary found work to do. She ran the sewing machines herself, ripped seams apart, pressed and packed. And then there was nothing else to do, she got out a broom and went at the long untouched workroom floor.

She drove her body but she couldn't drive the desolation out of her spirit.

She thought of mingling with the crowds on the boulevards and shied away from the idea as though she had struck herself a blow.

First thing she knew she'd be blubbering like a baby.

What was the matter with her that all her exultation of yesterday had deserted her?

She tried to summon it, to conjure the pictures of victory, of success that had so long filled her.

Mary Barrett, see yourself riding in your motor, wrapping your sables about your throat on a December night in the not so far distant! Picture the beautiful home you will have one day!

It was no good. The pictures would not come.

✧ ✧ ✧

Christmas Eve in Paris. The music of voices raised in song. The joie de vie. The myriad of colors in the blinking lights; the bustling, happy figures; the lightheartedness of it.

The snow falls in downy, white flakes. Mary Barrett, turning into a short, narrow lane in the Russian quarter, looked up at the brightly lighted gabled windows in a house right out of a scene on a postal card. Music and laughter wafted from the windows where a warm welcome awaited her.

Still she paused, motionless, leaning against an iron post, while the snowflakes clung to her eyelashes and whitened the fur of her toque. Her arms tightened about the gaily wrapped packages, so tightly that they trembled as if from her desire to make them animate. Her lip trembled.

Where was the dispassionate point of view that had carried her through her day? It dissolved, even as the snowflakes, before the sudden vision of something that might have been.

The Gaelic scene faded from her view. The sound of carriage wheels on the cobble stones merged into another sound. She heard the roar of New York traffic and its sound carried her to where her heart was. Another Mary Barrett was hurrying home to the apartment across the city. She was crossing Fifth avenue, Madison, now Park and Lexington. Soon she could see the lights of Queensborough bridge blinking at her as she crossed the last two avenues.

Closing her eyes she could see the apartment at the end of her journey as it would have been. There would be a Christmas tree where the lilacs and the roses had graced the small table. There would be a fire in the hearth. And in the big chair, a carelessly graceful figure—TONY.

"Oh, Tony where are you?" The cry in her heart became articulate.

She opened her eyes then against the next picture that sprung to her inner view. She saw Tony. Saw him in the midst of gay, happy people. Tony at a Christmas Eve party. Tony in tails. His eyes crinkling up when he smiled. When Liane Weston raised her glass to his.

She shook the quick tears and snowflakes from her eyes and lifted the latch of the gate.

✧ ✧ ✧

"Hodson!"

Hodson straightened his waistcoat and slipped a surreptitious mint into his mouth. Nos that Mr. Castle would object to his man having a nip on Christmas Eve.

"Hodson, where the devil are my rubbers?" Mr. Castle's voice came from the depths of the hall closet.

"Your rubbers, sir? If I may say so, sir, you won't be needing them. Mrs. Mortimer telephoned that she is sending her car. And I hardly think, in spite of the inclemency of the weather, you'll require them, sir."

"I didn't ask you what you thought. I'm not going to Mrs. Mortimer's, Hodson. Telephone her and tell her .... tell her I'm going .... oh, tell her anything you can think of."

"Very good, sir. your rubbers are in the gun closet."

"Thank you, Hodson. By the way, where do you think a young woman might be doing her last minute shopping in New York?"

Hodson coughed and stalled for time to answer that unexpected question. Mr. Castle wasn't paying any attention anyway.

Fifth avenue at Forty-second street. Madison avenue, across Fifty-seventh street to Park. Tony Castle, his hands plunged deep in his coat pockets pushed his way along with the crowds, not heeding the slush under his feet. The half snow and half rain made rivers that ran from the brim of his hat.

Surely he would find her tonight. If she was in New York, he must.

The girl coming toward him with her head bent against the rain! His pulse accelerated as he approached her. It slowed again; it was not she. Hour after hour he walked where she might have been, searching each face with renewed hope. The streets grew less crowded as the shoppers hurried home.

He turned into Fifty-seventh street and stopped aimlessly before the window of his own shop, thinking of a night nearly a year before.

A poor, slovenly old beggar sidled up to him. He pulled a bill from his wallet without looking at it, gave it to her.

"God bless ya, son! I guess y've never known what 'twas to be alone on Christmas Eve."

Tony's mouth twisted wryly. He turned away and hailed a taxi, ordering the driver to go to his club.

PEACH CROP IS WORTH $660,000

TORONTO, Aug. 23—(CP).—Ontario Department of Agriculture officials to-day estimated the Niagara district peach crop at 503,000 bushels, worth about $660,000 at canning factory and processing prices.

The principle of collective bargaining with all information required available under the Farm Products Control Act was used in the district for the first time this year. Growers and processors agreed on a price of 2½ cents a pound for peaches of canning quality, No. 1 grade.

Growers state the canners will use some 300,000 bushels of the crop this year. The canning industry is rapidly growing. In 1932 Ontario canned 289,293 cases of peaches, while last year it had jumped to 476,017 cases. United States imports are practically eliminated.

Compared to the 1936 crop the yield this year will be large, but it is only 85 per cent. of the 1935 peach crop.

Canberra, Australia, is boasting that 8,000,000 trees and shrubs have been planted in the city.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND MRS. HOLLYHOCK

"Unkie Wig!"

"Daddy!"

"Mr. Longears!"

Baby Bunty, Jingle and Jackie Bow Wow ran through the woods to the camping tent so fast one morning they all fell down. But, luckily, they fell on a bed of soft moss so they weren't hurt.

"But what is the matter?" asked the jolly old rabbit gentleman, who came out of his camping tent, twinkling his nose and all ready for an adventure. "Why are you running so fast and calling to me as if you were frightened?"

"We are frightened, Unkie Wig," said Baby Bunty, the orphan rabbit. And Jingle, another little girl bunny, though no orphan, said:

"I know it's silly to be scared of what you can't see, Daddy. But we couldn't help it."

Who Was It?

"Especially when it made such funny noises, Mr. Longears," barked Jackie the visiting puppy dog. "So funny!"

"What made funny noises?" asked Uncle Wiggily as he looked at the three excited animal children. "And where was it?"

"That old log cabin," said Baby Bunty.

"Near the big rock," added Jingle.

"And a funny old cat lady lives there and she was making funny noises," said Jackie.

"The children must mean Old Mrs. Hollyhock," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy who came out of the tent just then. "She is a dear little old cat lady and she lives in a log cabin all alone."

"Does she make funny noises to scare animal children?" asked Uncle Wiggily, who couldn't understand why the three had run to him so fast.

"I never knew Mrs. Hollyhock to make funny noises," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "As for frightening animal or other children, she would never do that. She loves them too much."

"What sort of noises did you hear Old Mrs. Hollyhock making?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, she was saying 'Oh, dear!' and 'Dear me!' and like that," said Bunty.

"And she mewed loud," said Jingle. "Very loud!"

"And we were afraid she would chase us so we ran," added Jackie.

Why She Cried

"You silly little chaps," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Old Mrs. Hollyhock, who has that name because she has so many hollyhock flowers around her cabin, must be in trouble. That's why she cried out. She wanted you to help her and you ran away."

"Yes, I guess we were silly," admitted Jackie.

"But we didn't stop to think," said Jingle.

"Well," said Uncle Wiggily, "I must go see what is the matter with Old Mrs. Hollyhock. She is all alone and if she is in trouble I must help her. I'll go see why she was calling so loudly."

It did not take Uncle Wiggily long for the rabbit gentleman to reach the log cabin where the old tabby cat lady lived. As he approached he could he her saying: "Oh, dear! Oh, dear me! Oh, if some one would only help me!"

"I am coming to help you!" called Uncle Wiggily. Into the log cabin he hopped and when he saw what had happened he couldn't help laughing out loud. It was so funny.

"Excuse me, Mrs. Hollyhock," he said. "I can't help laughing. But I will help you." Which he did. And how it was I'll tell you in the story tomorrow night which will be about Uncle Wiggily's firecrackers. But please don't let the cigar band play so loudly that it wakes up the folding bed.

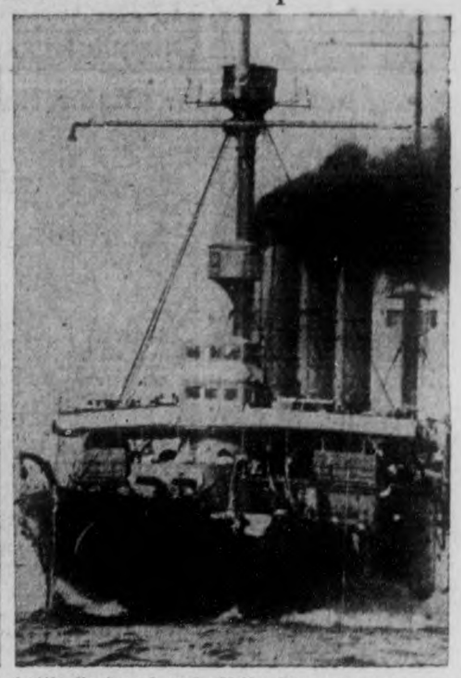
P. Shilstone, secretary of the Eastern Lawn Tennis association, of the U.S.

Chinese Capture And Scuttle Six Japanese Merchant Ships



Dare-devil Chinese forgetful of the danger they ran made a second swift and surprise attack against Japanese shipping and warships in the Whangpoo River, when they seized and scuttled six Japanese merchant ships which had been anchored at the Japanese Nissin Kisen Kaisha wharf. Several days before Chinese naval cadets had torpedoed the Japanese flagship Idzumo (RIGHT), causing damage which forced the moving of the cruiser down the Whangpoo to join the battle fleet anchored off the Japanese concession. The seizing of Japanese merchant ships was accomplished when picked companies of Chinese rushed the ships, sailed them into the emergency boom and scuttled them just above Pootung, making the upper reaches of the Whangpoo impenetrable. At the LEFT, above, is Shanghai's famous bund on the Whangpoo River which has been under fire from Japanese warships and artillery.

FAMOUS AVIATORS OF THREE NATIONS HUNT LOST FLIERS

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 23 (A.P.). — Noted fliers of three nations converged upon the Arctic to-day for an epochal effort to rescue six Russian transpolar airmen, missing for eight days on the bleak roof of the world.

Canadian, United States and Russian aviators gathered on Point Barrow in an effort to pierce the fog-shrouded mystery of what happened to Pilot Siglemund Levaneffsky and his five companions.

The Soviet ace and his crew left Moscow a week ago Thursday en route to Oakland, Calif., with a refuelling stop at Fairbanks. They crossed the Pole on their 4,000-mile hop the next day and then vanished.

Eager to repay Levaneffsky for rescuing him in Siberia four years ago with an identical heroic act, Jimmy Mattern flew through fog from Fairbanks to Point Barrow, Alaska's northern-most tip, yesterday.

Also at Barrow, waiting for a break in the weather were Bob Randall, experienced Northern Canadian aviator, and the Soviet flyer Zadkoff, one of the ace pilots of Siberia, the Russian icebreaker Krassin lay off Barrow with four planes ready to be hurled into the hunt.

Mr. T. O'Grady has returned to his home in Percy. He was removed to Peterborough some time ago suffering from pneumonia.

DAIRY FARMER DIES.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 23 (CP)—William H. McNish, 80, prominent dairy farmer of this section, died today. Although he had followed farming all his life, he never ploughed a furrow. A number of years ago he was actively interested in the farmer's institute and spoke in parts of Ontario in its interests. Long a breeder of pure-bred Ayrshire cattle his herd was among the best in the district.

Prisoners Escape But First Leave Notes

Belfast, Me., Aug. 23

"Very sorry to leave you," wrote the younger lad. "But there is nothing to be gained by staying here."

"Going to Canada," said McAuley's note. "Sorry to take French leave. They are going to send me to Canada so I might as well leave now and I will never bother you again."

Campbellford Gets 2nd Softball Win

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 23.—Taking an 11-6 victory from the Ditch Diggers the Campbellford team won their second game of the softball series on the High School diamond Friday. Although neither team scored in the first inning the Construction Gang took the lead with three runs in the second and were still ahead at the end of the third. In the second inning the first three batters went out while Stuart started the scoring for the locals in the third with a single to first getting to second on an error, stealing third and home on a second error. In the fourth and fifth the locals scored ten runs with Couch hitting a home run and Sarginson and Holmes coming in on errors.

The Diggers were blanked in the third and fourth and scored one in the fifth and two in the sixth with a home run to left field while Jeune who was walked stole second and got across the plate on a single by Patterson for the final run of the game.

The score by innings:

Campbellford	001 53x—11
Ditch Diggers	030 012— 6

Umpires: R. Ayerhart at the plate and D. Flint on bases.

GERMAN SUPPORT PROMISED JAPAN IN CHINESE WAR

(Copyright, 1937, by the Havas News Agency.

TOKYO, Aug. 23—(CP-Havas).—German support for Japan's policy after Premier Fumimaro Konoye's in China was reported here to-day warning that pro-communist elements must be eliminated from North China.

A Berlin dispatch to the newspaper Asahi said the German government press bureau had issued the following instructions to all German newspapers:

1. Give lead positions to dispatches from Tokyo.
2. Give secondary positions to reports from Shanghai, and suppress "Chinese propaganda."
3. Emphasize the strategic position of North China with regard to defence against Communism.

The Asahi correspondent said the German Government wished to remain strictly neutral as long as the conflict remained purely Sino-Japanese, but would intervene, in conformity with the Germano-Japanese accord against the Communist International, to prevent any Soviet advance toward China.

The Government of the Reich will not hesitate to sacrifice German economic interests in China in order to apply the anti-Communist accord, which is held in Berlin to have fundamental importance, the correspondent added.

POLICEMEN TOO HEAVY.

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 23 (A.P.).—Advised that one of his men was outrun by a robber in a two-block chase, Chief of Police William O. Freeman ordered overweight policemen to "train down" at a gymnasium.

"The Evanstown police are getting too fat," said the Chief. "All men under 40 will weigh in this week, and those who are overweight must reduce."

SLOT MACHINES BANNED.

KINGSTON.—Frontenac County Provincial Police have been notified all slot machines in the county must be removed at once, as they are ruled illegal. Recently the Kingston Township Council imposed a tax of $150 a machine. Provincial police at Napanee and Gananoque stated today that no such orders have been received by them.

QUILTING IS HELD BY SENIOR W.M.S.

MILLBROOK August 23. — The Senior W. M. S. of Grace Presbyterian church held a quilting in the church parlors on Thursday afternoon, with over twenty members present. Two quilts were completed, and a pleasant time enjoyed while the work was in progress.

The layette made by the Junior W. M. S. was on display, for the benifit of those who were not privileged to see its dainty articles at the July meeting. The filling for one of the quilts finished on Thursday was donated by Mrs. Jack Armstrong, and the top and lining by Mrs. R. J. McMahon.

The quilting took the place of the regular August meeting, and a brief business session was held when it was decided to hold a tea and baking sale on the second Saturday in September, the place to be decided upon later. It was also decided to accept the invitation of Mrs. Merv van Kinsman to have the September meeting at her home; failing that to motor to Mrs. J. D. Armstrong's, Fourth Line, her hospitality having also been offered; the convenience of the hostesses will be consulted in the matter.

A very enjoyable hour was spent about the tea table when the quilting had been completed, the one long table attractively laid, with summer blossoms as the floral decoration, and a tempting menu prepared. The business period was held immediately following the tea hour, while still sitting about the table, and Mrs. R. J. McMahon and Mrs. Jas. H. Paul, who had undertaken to raise funds by means of 'travelling aprons,' reported that ten dollars had been netted from the effort, this amount being paid into the treasury.

The ladies were congratulated on their success, and the gathering dismissed with the Mizpah in unison.

CRUELTY IS CHARGED.

RENO, Nevada, Aug. 23 (AP). — Helen Mills Moody, one-time United States tennis queen, probably will go into court here Monday to ask a divorce from Frederick S. Moody, Jr., San Francisco broker, her lawyer, Robert M. Price, said today.

Her suit will charge cruelty, Price said.

10 CHARGES OF BREAKING.

TORONTO — Donald Robertson, 20, and his wife, Geraldine, to-day faced 10 charges of housebreaking. When arrested yesterday the pair, police claim, possessed a truckload of articles at their home which came from city residences.

ONTARIO WILL CAST ITS BALLOTS ON OCTOBER 6

ROY WILLMOTT WILL CARRY TORY STANDARD

(By a Staff Reporter)

WARKWORTH, Aug. 24.—A. Roy Willmott, Cobourg barrister, received the nomination of Northumberland Conservatives at their convention here last night to appoint a candidate for the provincial elections. He was announced as standard-bearer of the party in the presence of his leader, Hon. Earl Rowe, and W. H. Ireland, president of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Northumberland, after defeating Fred J. McArthur, funeral director of Cobourg, a former member of the Legislature, on the second ballot, by a majority unofficially reported at approximately one hundred votes. Arthur G. Willoughby of Colborne was eliminated on the first ballot in the three-cornered contest for the Conservative honors and responsibility.

Mr. Willmott was proposed by George Gummer and Dr. W. W. Wade of Cobourg; Mr. McArthur by Harry McGuire and W. J. Corbett of Cobourg; and Mr. Willoughby by O. M. Finkle and Mrs. Charles Turney.

Nine other prominent men in Northumberland Conservatism were also proposed, but declined to let their names go to the convention.

386 Delegates Present

The vote on the first ballot was McArthur, 164; Wilmott, 162, and Willoughby 82. Apparently most of the Willoughby supporters swung to Mr. Willmott on the second division of the 386 accredited delegates.

W. D. Haig, president of the Northumberland Liberal-Conservative Association, presided.

The town hall was crowded to capacity, and hundreds of others followed the proceedings by an amplifying system. It was regarded as one of the largest Conservative meetings here in fifteen years. Interest was divided between the selectings of a candidate, and hearing the new provincial Conservative leader, Hon. Earl Rowe, whose voice was heard all the way up and down the main street in an address of nearly one hour and a half, which included an announcement that the Hon. M. F. Hepburn had decided to call the elections for October 6.

Complimentary nominations were tendered to Deputy-reeve Charles Calver Campbellford; John A. Anderson, Campbellford; O. F. Allison, Cobourg; Harry B. Phillips, Brighton; Fred K. Denyes, Brighton township; Robert J. Ross, Brighton; Dr. F. M. Dure, Brighton; Mayor Frank F. Lone, Campbellford; Roy Dodge, Cobourg.

Major J. M. Bysott of Campbellford was proposed by Charles H. Davidson, but as he wasn't present, his name was declared ineligible for

1,600 AT WINDSOR' FAREWELL PARTY

By A. D. Stefferud
(Associated Press Foreign Staff).

NOETSCH, Austria, Aug. 24 (AP).—Chorusing the old drinking song "Hoch Soller Leben," pleasants of Gall Valley bade hail and farewell last night to the Windsors, who found this quiet retreat the ideal setting for their honeymoon.

The occasion was the Duke of Windsor's garden party at at Wasserleonburg Castle and he was host to 1,600 residents of the community and countryside—with band, beer, contests and heart-shaped cake.

His party coincided with "church day" festival— one of the biggest yearly celebrations, when everyone goes to church and afterwards dances as long as his legs hang out.

Persons of all ages climbed the steep and muddy road to the party. For many it was their first glimpse of the sojourners at Wasserleonburg. All joined heartily in "Hoch Soller Leben" which means approximately "May everything always go well with him."

The Duke and Duchess tentatively planed to leave here Sept. 15, perhaps on a hunting trip to Hungary.

See Moral Doom In Sex Debauchery

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 24.—(AP).—A Michigan clergyman, once a physician, told Buffalo's Inter-denominational Bible Conference last night that the average 16-year-old girl of to-day 'knows more about sex than her grandmother did after her first baby.'

"Debauchery of sex and the sanctity of the home are driving America toward moral doom,' the Rev. Dr. M. R. De Hann of Grand Rapids, Mich., said at the annual Bible retreat at Evangelical Park.

"People don't want children anymore.

"Oh, yes, one child is all right. But three or more. That brands you as some sort of an uncivilized being."

Last Minute News Flashes

TORONTO.—A 23 year old bookkeeper frustrated three would-be roobers on Queen Street East today as she was returning to her office from the bank with a $2,000 payroll for the Stanley Manufacturing Company.

Miss Aileen Green was carrying the money in a large envelope held under her arm when a car containing three men drew up beside her just east of Pape avenue. One jumbed out and grabbed the envelope. She squeezed it tight between her arm and body and began shouting. The man fled in a car.

Seven In Quebec Textile Kidnap Are Let Off

Age Saves Them Post $200 Bonds Keep Peace Year

Admit Folly in Taking Boss to Border—Misled Says Priest.

COWANSVILLE, Que., Aug. 24.—(CP).—Seven young men pleaded guilty to-day to the kidnapping of Samuel Griss, and were given their freedom after posting $200 bonds to keep the peace for 12 months.

A plea for clemency by Defence Counsels Resnet and Rev. Z. Dadignon, parish priest of Cowansville, won freedom for the seven—Alfred Brouillard 21, his brother Ulric 30, Rene Denault, 24, J. Henri Way, 25, Rene Albert Decelles 22, Edgar Cote, 22, and Adjutor Fleury, 20.

Griss, general superintendent of the Bruck Mills, was whisked off the golf course here Sunday by leaders of a gang of 40 or more men, and rushed to the border at Richford, Vt., where immigration officers released him and held the seven for Quebec Provincial police.

The men were ordered by District Magistrate J. H. Lemay to appear before him next August. If they got into trouble in the meantime, he warned during a 15-minute lecture to the accused, they would be dealt with severely.

The men waived preliminary and chose summary trial. They pleaded guilty through Biset, who said the men had realized the folly of their act and "regreted" it. The parish priets pleaded for leniency because of their youth, and because they had been "misled."

Through his counsel, Hon. L. A. Giroux, Gris, a natie New Yorker, and a United States' citizen, agreed to release of the men. Giroux told the court names of the other men involved in the brief abduction were known to the mili executive, and action would be taken against them if there was any further trouble.

Airmail To Europe 25 Cents A Letter

Washington, Aug. 24.

AIRMAIL to Europe, perhaps to be inaugurated this fall, probably will cost 25 cents a letter, United States postal officials said today.

"We had hoped to make it 20 cents," said Harlee Branch, second assistant postmaster general. "Now it looks like 25."

He explained congress' failure to authorize a poundage rate would make the cost greater.

British Imperial Airways and Pan-American Airlines already are completing test flights over transatlantic routes they hope to inaugurate by November.

HUGE FLYING BOAT HITS SHIP IN BAY 6 OF 8 ABOARD DIE

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 24 (AP)—Disaster struck a giant U.S. Navy flying boat last night, killing six of eight men aboard a new $150,000 craft as it crashed into shallow San Diego Bay.

Two crew members escaped with minor injuries but three officers were killed and the plane almost demolished by the impact.

Its hull submerged, the wreck was quickly surround by navy and private ships as giant searchlights illuminated the bay.

The dead were listed as: W. C. Dey, Jr., lieutenant junior grade; F. L. Wallace, lieutenant junior grade; W. M. Freshour; R. Fall, aviation chief machinist's mate; R. M. Furdy, radioman, second class, and H. K. Bryan, radioman, third class, naval aviation pilot.

Two survivors were J. W. Blackman, aviation ordnance-man, second class, and T. P. Dougherty, aviation machinist's mate, third class.

The ill-starred plane, PBY-1, whose sister flying boats have flown in mass formation to Honolulu and the canal zone in the past two years, was undergoing a "routine night practice flight" for a forthcoming hop to Panama in September.

As it swooped down for a landing after being in the air several hours, the seaplane struck the Narwhal, an abandoned whaling ship once used in filming "Moby Dick."

Rival U.A.W. Men Plot Showdown

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Rival leaders at the convention of the United Automobile Workers of America rallied their supporters today for a showdown on the issue of centralization of executive power.

A report by the credentials committee promised to disclose the relative strength of the "unity" faction headed by Wyndham Mortimer, first vice-president of the U.A.W., and the "progressive" group led by Homer Martin, U.A.W. president.

Martin skipped from caucus to caucus last night to appear personally for support and to line up votes for the impending factional clash of ballots.

Pressing for decentralization of executive power, the "unity" group seeks to elect four vice-presidents who would have equal power with Martin, while the "progressive" faction would keep control centralized in the president's office.

SON TO BE TRIED IN FATHER'S DEATH

OLDS, Alta., Aug. 24. (CP).—Albert Farrar, 30, was committed for trial in Alberta's Supreme Court yesterday after preliminary hearing on charges of murdering his father, 57-year-old Fred Farrar, during a quarrel July 28 in their farm home near this town 50 miles north of Calgary.

Particulars of an alleged quarrel led to the shooting were given by Mrs. Farrar, the victim's widow, under protection of the Canada Evidence Act.

In the forenoon of July 28 she said, Albert asked if she knew if Fred Farrar had some money of his. She said she suggested to Albert that he ask his father, and she testified the son's insistent demands so wearied the father that Fred Farrar threatened to shoot Albert if he did not desist.

"Fred told Albert not to accuse him of stealing the money or he would shoot him," Mrs. Farrar said. "I went into the bedroom and heard Albert say 'be careful, it's loaded.' I heard a shot, looked around and saw my husband standing with his hand against the left breast."

85 TOMATOES ON ONE VINE.

WINDFALL, Ind., Aug. 24.—(AP) Farmers elsewhere may poast of their tall corn, put tillers of the soil in these parts think their tomatoes and cabbage are really crops about which to brag.

Mark Daugherty said today he had one tomato vine in his four-acre patch which by actual count bore 85 good-sized tomatoes.

A. D. Doggett brought out a head of cabbage which weighed 13 lbs. after being trimmed.

Young Britons Conquer Isles' 4 Highest Peaks, 27 Hours

Tackle Ben Nevis, Scafell Pike, Snowden and Carrantuobill Without Halt.

LONDON, Aug. 24—(CP)—Three young Britons set up some kind of an edurance record when they climbed the four highest mountains in England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland within 27 hours.

They began with Ben Nevis in Scotland, highest of the four. Starting the ascent at 7.01 p.m. they reached the 4,406-foot summit and were down again before dark. In an automobile they drove 150 miles into Cumberland and scaled Scafell Pike in the darkness.

They they drove to Snowden in Wales, climbing it the next morning. From Wales they flew by plane to Killarney. A car took them to the foot of Ireland's highest mountain, Carran-Tuohill. They reached the summit by 10.00 p.m. and came down the mountainside in darkness.

The hardy trio consisted of Mr. David Molesworth, Keith Porter and Donald Clegg. Ronald Clegg, brother of Donald, climbed the first three, but was too exhausted to tackle Carran-Tuohill.

Fifty of the 1,900 pilgrims from Scotland to Lourdes returned home on stretchers.

William Coss Dies In Quebec City

QUEBEC, Aug. 24 (CP)—William Coss, 59, retired member of the staff of Quebec Power Company, died here yesterday after a long illness. Besides his widow, he is survived by two brothers, Edward and Michael Coss, and a sister, Mrs. John Creighton, all of Peterborough, Ont.

Jailed For Failing To Pay Sales Tax

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—For neglecting or omitting to pay sales tax, Everett Fowler Ramsay, of a marmalade firm, was given a jail term of sixty days by Magistrate Jones yesterday. In addition to the term, accused was ordered to pay $141, which included a $50 fine and twice the amount of the sales tax unpaid. The case was said to be hr first in which a jail term was imposed in the Toronto area under the Special War Revenue Act.

ROWE CONFIDENT TORIES WILL WIN GLAD DATE IS SET

WARKWORTH, Ont., Aug. 24.—(CP).—Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader, expressed confidence to-day his party would be returned in the Oct. 6 provincial elections and accepts the "challenge" of Premier Hepburn who announced the date last night. Mr. Rowe, who spoke here last night, said he was "delighted" that the election date had been set.

He issued the following statement:

I welcome the announcement by Mr. Hepburn that the election will be held October 6.

The Conservatives of the province accept this challenge. The issues are clear cut and I am confident of victory for the Conservative party. The scandal of Hydro repudiation, the oppression of labor, the corruption of the civil service, the disgraceful administration of the Liquor Control Act, the dangerous political interference with the educational system of the province and the abandonment of British privileges in governments are the true issues that demand the consideration of the people of the province.

The Records Will Show.

The Hepburn administration has failed, as an examination of its records will show. I propose from time to time not only to discuss with the people of the province the record of the Hepburn government, but to define the policy of the Liberal-Conservative party in these and other questions.

Mr. Rowe said in an interview he would soon reveal his entire election platform. "The party is united

WHITBY DRIVER DIES IN COLLISION

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 24.—(CP).—Maurice Booth, 24, manager of a Whitby chain store, was killed early to-day when his car collided with one driven by Cyril Coombes, Bowmanville. An inquest has been ordered.

Coombes and Elsie Flint and Elmer Webber, passengers in his car, told police they saw the Booth car coming towards them on the wrong side of the road at Harmony. He stoped but was unable to avoid the crash. Police said they believed Booth had fallen asleep.

Oklahoma Indian Centre Of Interest

Belleville, Aug. 24.

AN Oklahoma Indian—one of the oil-land Oklahomans—was the centre of interest here when his limousine stopped for a moment while the liveried negro chauffeur did some shopping. The indian wore plaits of hair down his cheeks, a sombrero hung with silver coins, buckskin shirt and smoked a black cigar, oblivious of the curious.

WORKERS STONED BY LONGSHOREMEN

NEWCASTLE, N.B., Aug. 24—(CP)—The first violence of the five-day strike of 1,500 longshoremen and lumber workers was reported to-day from Chatham, where strikers stoned men unloading salt from a freighter at the Chatham wharf of W. S. Loggie Co., Ltd.

Work continued under police protection to-day without repetition of last night's disorders. An official said the action was precipitated by "irresponsible" younger members of the New Brunswick Farmer-Labor Union. Union officers called upon the men to maintain peaceful picketing.

BURWASH ESCAPE COSTS TWO YEARS

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 24.—(CP).—Two prisoners who escaped Aug. 14 from Burwash Industrial Farm to-day were sentenced to two years each in Kingston Penitentiary. They pleaded guilty yesterday to escaping and charged they were brutally beaten by Burwash officials when recaptured Aug. 17.

The prisoners, Charles Appleton of Swift Current, Sask., and George Dixon, Wiarton, Ont., also received six months each, to run concurrently, for stealing clothes from a Record township farmer's home after escaping.

Chief Custodian Officer John Galbraith and Guards J. Buller and Joseph Harey of Burwash to-day denied the charges they beat the prisoners when they were captured. Apleton charged Galbraith "poked me in the face," but the officer said this was untrue.

"There were five or six other prison officials there when you were placed in the prison car," Galbraith told Appleton. "They wouldn't lie by saying I didn't hit you if I had."

Harvey and Blair denied the prisoners were manhandled.

ROBERTS REFUSES SOO NOMINATION INTEREST OF UNITY

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP).—Dr. A. D. Roberts, Liberal member in the Ontario Legislature for Sault Ste. Marie, has temporarily retired from Ontario politics. His announcement came when he refused nomination offered by the Michipicoten Liberal Association for the Oct. 6 Provincial elections.

Central figure in a political struggle during the last legislature session, Dr. Roberts declined the nomination in the belief his action "may have some effect in uniting the various Liberal factions and achieving the solidarity of forces and unity of purpose without which victory is impossible."

During the last session Premier Mitchell Hepburn read Dr. Roberts out of the Liberal party and the Sault Ste. Marie member crossed the floor. The Premier's step followed remarks made by the member after Sir James Dunn, head of the Algoma Steel Company announced in Dr. Roberts' riding the government's intention to pay a bounty on iron ore.

Such an announcement was considered by Dr. Roberts something which should come from the member of the constituency and his remarks raised the Premier's ire. Mr. Hepburn charged the doctor with using unfair means in attempting to gain medical contracts from the Algoma Company and a brief investigation was held into the charge.

Dr. Roberts said he refused the nomination because if successful at the convention he would "in all probability" be refused endorsement of the Liberal party. His statement of the Liberal party. His statement declared his retirement was "at least temporary" and that "perhaps sometime in the future my services may be appreciated and my efforts kindly remembered."

Alberta's English 'Credit' Expert Heads Home All Well In Hand

Edmonton, Aug. 24.

L. D. Byrne, one of two Social Credit experts sent to Alberta by the British economist, Major C. H. Douglas, was en route to England today, leaving "the situation well in hand."

Before his departure last night Mr. Byrne issued a statement saying the report he was taking back to Major Douglas "could not be better."

"I am absolutely convinced that nothing will now stop the premier (Hon. William Aberhart) leading the people of Alberta to the full enjoyment of their real wealth, if only they will remain solidly united in their support of him and the government—as they are unquestionably at the moment," Mr. Byrne said.

Mr. Byrne, who came to Alberta along with G. F. Powell to investigate the technical and political situation, will continue to act as a member of the temporary commission appointed to administer social credit.

Premier Aberhart announced the proposed new debt moratorium aimed to prevent collection of money to be sent out of the province was still before the cabinet. He did not know when the order-in-council to authorize the moratorium would be passed.

Wednesday Sept. 29 Is Nomination Day Hepburn Announces

C.I.O., Cancellation of Power Contracts, and Death Duty Probe Main Issues.

TORONTO, August 24—(C.P.)—Ontario voters will go to the polls Wednesday, October 6. Eagerly awaited, the date of the provincial election was no longer a secret to-day.

Premier Mitchell Hepburn announced the date last night after a three-hour council of war with his cabinet. The announcement found the election campaign already well warmed up, the leaders and workers of all parties girded for the fray.

Conservatives have a least 30 nominees in the field. The Liberals have nine, and the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, which plans to contest most of the 90 seats, has four. Formal nomination day is Wednesday, September 29, seven days before polling.

The Liberal Government of Premier Hepburn could legally sit until the late Fall of 1939 if it so chose, but as long ago as last Winter the Premier indicated he would seek an early opportunity of testing public opinion in matters of certain policy adopted by his administration.

Fear Bad Roads In North

Mr. Hepburn disclosed in announcing the election that many of his cabinet colleagues favored October 12 rather than October 6 as election day, but this would have clashed with the annual meeting of the Ontario Ploughmen's Association. To have delayed polling until the week following would have been to run the risk of bad road conditions in Northern Ontario.

Chief issues before the electorate, according to Premier Hepburn in election addresses, are threefold. They are:

1—The Hepburn government's opposition to the entry into Ontario of the John L. Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization. This policy was formulated in the Oshawa General Motors strike and led to the requested resignations from the cabinet of David Croll, minister of welfare, labor and municipal affairs, and Arthur Roebuck, attorney-general. They disagreed with the Premier's stand.

2—Action of the administration in cancelling Hydro - Electric Power Commission supply contracts with four Quebec power companies, later negotiating new pacts with three of them, and enacting legislation designed to make Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission "judgment-proof" in the courts.

3—The government's treasury department inquiries into succession duty payments by estates. Premier Hepburn has announced that 40 more estates are to be probed in the belief the province has been defrauded of inheritance taxes.

Rowe Leads Tories

Hon. Earl Rowe, still a member of the House of Commons for Dufferin-Simcoe, leads the Conservatives into battle. In recent addresses he has attacked the administrative record of Premier Hepburn. With regard to the Liberal three-point platform he has said:

1—The Conservative party is opposed to "lawlessness" in all forms in connection with Labor disputes. It stands for the right of free association, allowing the worker to organize in any union of his choice.

2—It charges that action of the Liberal government in nullifying

New Yorkers Shiver In Tricky Weather

New York, Aug. 24.

BUNDLED in top coats against cold and dampness, shivering New Yorkers, greeted with mixed feelings today the weatherman's prophecy that sizzling temperatures could be expected back by Wednesday. The city's teeming millions, after broiling in the 93 and 92 degrees registered Friday and Saturday, were beginning to wonder if the thermometer were not overdoing it a bit. The mercury dived to the mid-60's early today accompanied by rain and chill winds.

CHINESE AVIATORS THROW NEW SCARE INTO SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25—(Wednesday) — (AP). — Chinese airplanes swept over International Shanghai early this morning on reconnaissance flights, while Japanese naval guns crashed in prolonged bombardment of Woosung and Shanghai's Yangtze River outlet to the sea to cover the landing of fresh Japanese troops.

The Chinese Air Force, following the example of their Japanese enemies, scouted the heart of the city after midnight. The planes dropped no bombs, but the roar of their engines threw Shanghai into a new state of tension.

Japanese anti - aircraft guns barked out at them.

Opposing land forces hemming the international areas seemed content to hold their lines while Japanese artillery roared to the north about Woosung, at the confluence of the Whangpoo, Shanghai's harbor, and the Yangtze.

Hull Asks Peace In Sino-Jap War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP).—A public statement from Secretary of State Hull emphasized to-day the United States' view that world opinion demanded a peaceful settlement of the dispute between China and Japan.

A threat of serious hostilities between the two nations concerned all others, Hull said. "We urge that they settle their differences in accordance with principles which in the opinion not alone of our people but of most peoples of the world should govern in international relationships.

"Without attempting to pass judgment regarding the merits of the controversy," he said, "we appeal to the parties to refrain from resort to war."

British Regiment Shanghai-Bound

LONDON, Aug. 24. —(CP)— The first battalion of the Middlesex Regiment from Singapore arrived at Hong Kong early today and is ready Hong Kong early to-day and is moment, it was announced today.

The cruiser Suffolk left Woosung, near Shanghai, where it had been stationed, for Hong Kong to pick up a battery of Indian artillery and transport it to Shanghai.

The Chinese newspaper Modern Daily News, published at Penang in the Straits Settlements, was banned for one month for violating an ordinance prohibiting Chinese and Japanese newspapers from campaigns calculated to enflame the passions of their readers.

Privately Built Super-Roads Proposed Across U.S.

Toll Gate Scheme Costing Billions to be Considered By Congress.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24—(CP)—A scheme to cover the United States with a network of privately-built, super-highways designed largely for the use of commercial transportation on a toll basis may receive the attention of Congress next session.

Chairman Lea (D., Calif.) of the House of Representatives' interstate Commerce Committee, said he would appoint a special sub-committee to study the proposal soon after the session begins.

He said he had been informed "private capital" is interested in the project, which he described as a "grandiose-sounding scheme costing many billions, but one well worthy of consideration by Congress."

The plan to be investigated, Lea said, calls for a system of "board, straight highways, with a liberal number of lanes and no crossing." Ultimately the roads would connect all the principal population centres. They would be fenced, the only access being through conveniently-located toll gates.

England exported 8,508,500 gallons of beer in the last year, and Germany only 1,270,000.

Lively Days Ahead For Dundalk Foxes

Dundalk, Aug. 24.

"DOG DAYS is right." Sam Bellamy of this place has a foxhound which over the week-end gave birth to fifteen whimpering puppies, seven females and eight males. He is keeping eleven of them. Mother and family are doing well and it looks like a tough year for the foxes in this district.

BELLED 20 YEARS HAWK FOUND DEAD

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.— (CP)— A rough-legged hawk lived for more than 20 years with a bell attached to his neck and ranged widely over the continent, it was revealed today by the Department of Mines and Resources.

Judging by his great age, the hawk apparently found the bell no handicap in capturing his prey. He was found dead recently at Strongfield, Sask., and the bell and tag attached to him bore evidence of his life.

On Jan. 7, 1917, W. V. Shouse of Clayton, New Mexico, caught the hawk and attached the bell to his neck by means of a leather collar, also bearing a tag with the date and Mr. Shouse's name and address.

The finder of the hawk's body returned the bell and tag to Mr. Shouse who now lives at Booker, Tex. Because of the bell Mr. Shouse knows the hawk spent the winters of 1918 and 1919 at Clayton. He heard the bell.

The rest of the bird's movements in the 20-year period are unknown except that he is reported to have nested in the same tree at Strongfield, Sask., for the last four or five years of his life.

OLD WAR SPIRIT AMONG VETERANS BOON IN BUSINESS

TIMMINS, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP).—Canada owes first duty to veterans who suffered injury in the Great War and to descendants of those who died, in the opinion of Hon. G G. Power, Federal Pensions Minister. The Cabinet Minister also told the Ontario Command, Canadian Legion, at the opening of its convention yesterday, the second consideration of the Dominion Government must be for those who served and were unable to earn a living owing to age or physical infirmity.

Provision must also be made, he said, for those yet capable of working but unable to find employment. The government was actively engaged in attempting to find employment for thousands of Canadian ex-servicemen — permanent jobs had already been found for 1,000. Mr. Power said his department was busy clearing pension appeal cases at the rate of 200 a month. At present 12,000 in Canada draw veterans' allowances, he said, of which number 4,000 reside in Ontario. Declaring efforts were being made to eliminate "red tape" from pensions cases, he called for co-operation from employed veterans to help find jobs for their former comrades.

That Old War Spirit

Archdeacon F. G. Scott, wartime chaplain from Quebec, urged a return to the spirit of comradeship experienced overseas. Each member of the Canadian Legion naturally believed that his division won the war, but through all this ran a thread so strong that it joined us together in one great unit," he said.

"In industry today we do not see the spirit that existed during the days of the Great War. Why, the greatest ammunition we had over there was our spirit of comradeship. Why can't we have it today."

Some day he would like to see established a party called the "Dominion First National Party," a group of men with the welfare of the Dominion at heart, capable of defeating the present unrest that seemed to be splitting the Dominion into "a patchwork of separate provinces" instead of binding them together in an united Canada.

Brig.-Gen. Alex Ross, Dominion president from Yorkton, Sask., said the spirit of the Canadian Legion was "never so strong as it is today."

TWO MEN BARRED HUNTING LICENSES

GORE BAY, Aug. 24.—(CP)—Clifford B. Gilboe, Windsor, and Charles McDonald, Meldrum Bay, were given suspended sentence when they pleaded guilty yesterday to criminal negligence charges.

The charges arose out of a fatal hunting accident at Meldrum Bay Nov. 17, 1936, in which Leith D. Spence, Sudbury district relief administrator, was shot and killed. In passing sentence, Judge A. B. Curry ruled neither Gilboe nor McDonald could apply for a hunting license for two and five years, respectively.

Both men were warned by the Judge that they were not to apply in any form, directly or indirectly, for hunting licenses and were told not to discharge firearms during the periods of their license suspension.

The court further found that it was a shot fired by McDonald which killed Spence.

Shot On Runway.

Wearing a fawn coat and khaki trousers, Spence was shot as he stood on a deer runway. He was a member, along with Gilboe and McDonald, of a party of seven which had started out earlier the day of the accident. They were giving chase to a deer when the shooting occurred.

Preliminary investigation showed both Gilboe and McDonald had fired at what they thought was a deer but only one shot had struck Spence. He was instantly killed.

Text of the verdict rendered at the inquest the following day was to the effect that the fatal shot that killed Spence was fired by McDonald, and that "he fired it without malice and purely from thinking that what he saw in the woods was a deer."

Spence was a member of the Criminal Investigation Branch of the Ontario Provincial Police at Toronto before being appointed to the Sudbury relief position.

MANITOBA HORSES DYING IN EPIDEMIC

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24 (CP)—Mortality rate among horses suffering sleeping sickness in Manitoba was estimated at 25 to 40 per cent, Provincial Agricultural Department officials declared today.

While cool weather the last 48 hours slowed up spread of the worst plague of equine sickness Manitoba has ever experienced, lower temperatures remained the only hope of getting the disease under control, it was stated.

Dr. J. K. Morrow, Winnipeg veterinarian employed by the Manitoba Government a week ago to make a survey of the disease, confirmed previous reports that few districts in the Province had escaped.

In a report today to Hon. D. L. Campbell, Manitoba Agricultural Minister, he said harvesting was badly handicapped and in some sections only carried on with greatest of difficulty because there were few horses to do the work.

Sees Britain Low In Merchant Ships

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(CP)—Establishment of a Ministry of Marine is advocated by Paymaster-Lieut.-Commander E. C. Talbot-Booth in a foreword to his reference book, "Merchant Ships 1937."

Declaring there were 1,000 fewer British merchant vessels afloat today than in 1914 and the average size of ships was greater, he said "in times of national emergency it is numbers that count, not size, and even with our greater numbers during the war we were brought to within a few weeks of starvation."

He said the Empire link across the Pacific was almost broken. Japanese and United States' ships were driving British ships from the seas and lifting cargoes under British noses. State assistance and subsidies might be pernicious in principle but when rivals were using them Great Britain must take up similar weapons.

"Unless a Ministry of Marine is instituted without delay, Britain will be in a bad way," he concluded. "If it were necessary to control British shipping in time of war, it is equally necessary to control it in times of peace or economic war, and there need be no fear of unjust interference with the legitimate trading aspirations of individual companies."

Britain Protests Bombings Again

LONDON, Aug. 24 (CP-Havas) — British naval authorities today protested to Spanish Insurgent authorities at Palma, Majorgas, against the aerial bombing yesterday near Corsica of the British freighter Noemi Julia.

Protest against the attack, believed executed by Insurgent planes, was made before receipt of a report from the commander of the British destroyer Hostile, which returned to Barcelona today after going to Port Vendres, France, to investigate the bombing of the vessel.

PARALYSIS SCARE DELAYS OPENING TORONTO SCHOOLS

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP)—Death toll in Ontario's infantile paralysis epidemic today stood at 16, while at Toronto and London, the two centres chiefly affected, efforts to stamp out the scourge were redoubled. Since early June when the disease first appeared nearly 300 cases have been reported throughout the province.

Toronto's Public and Separate Schools will not open until Sept. 7 rather than Sept. 1, it was decided at an emergency meeting yesterday. Under consideration was the suggestion theatres and bathing places be closed.

Seven deaths have occurred since the outbreak in Ontario's capital. Twenty-four new cases were reported yesterday, bringing the total since June 10 to 134. Child specialists planned to confer on the situation. An "iron lung" respirator is being purchased to treat victims.

Western Ontario recorded another death overnight, that of Lloyd Lavery, 18, at Moorefield in Kitchener district. Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton Lavery moved to Moorefield two weeks ago, shortly before the boy took sick.

Ask Nurses Register

Graduate nurses were asked to register for service in London to help art, Victoria Hospital's Superintendent of Nurses, reported a shortage of help resulting from increases in the number of cases. Almost 40 cases were in hospital, the last five as suspected victims.

Purchase of an "iron lung" was authorized by the hospital trust and health officials moved to bar children from the movies. Swimming pools have remained closed this week and theatre managers were cooperating in refusing admission to children.

Throughout the province went a general appeal to persons who had recovered from the scourge to give their blood for serum to treat current sufferers. Donors were called for from public health institutes and offered the usual fees. A ready response was reported from many centres.

The outbreak took an international turn with word from Buffalo that officials there, having discovered several cases, were taking steps to prevent further infection from Canada.

Jap Suicide Squads Lead Troops Into Battle

Chinese Fire Great Warehouse Section as Fighting Rages on Dozen Shanghai Fronts.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 24. (AP).—Led by suicide detachments of the "white band of death" Japanese reinforcements were landed by the thousands at Woosung today for a concerted assault against the Chinese defenders of Shanghai.

Flanked by warships, the Japanese transports crept up to the Woosung wharves in the pitch darkness. The Chinese positions were ominously silent until the first launch was lowered. Then, as though at a signal, the still blackness became a living inferno of flame and noise.

The small improvised armored launch bore 75 picked and self-named "shirodasukitei," literally the "white band of death." The only color they wore was a white sash around their back and shoulders, the traditional guard of Japan's proud Samurai who enter combat prepared to die.

Japanese warplanes hovering in the darkness overhead swooped suddenly to within 500 feet of the Chinese lines, blasting with machine guns and bombs.

Dash Into Inferno

As the bottom of the launch scraped the Yangtze mudflats, the band of death leaped into the waist-deep water and waded ashore in the face of fire from machine guns and hand grenades.

As they scrambled up the low river bank a Chinese land mine was touched off and the "white band of death" was enveloped in a lurid sheet of flame. The few survivors closed in hand to hand combat with the Chinese.

The fighting progressed along the banks of the Yangtze river and the Woosung to Liuho to the west and down the Whangpoo River 12 miles to Shanghai's International Settlement.

Flames were sweeping vast areas

60,000 WARRIORS LOCK IN HOPEH

TIENTSIN, Aug. 24 — (AP). — Some 60,000 Chinese and Japanese troops were in action 30 miles southwest of Peiping to-day in the opening clash of a wide Chinese offensive to drive the enemy out of Northern China.

Japanese headquarters here admitted they were suffering heavy casualties but said the tide of battle was in their favor. Independent sources indicated the fighting, thus far was indecisive with the outcome not apparent.

Ninety-seven Japanese airplanes brought here especially to participate in this battle, were grounded at Tientsin by deep mud on the hurriedly built fields. The normal advantage of heavy motorized Japanese artilley and tanks was considered to have been neutralized by the swamp terrain.

Details of the first major battle in the seven weeks old conflict for North China were meagre. Based on Liangsiang, 21 miles south-west of Peiping, the Japanese forces had established strong positions to block the Central Chinese army.

Some 30,000 Chinese infantrymen were believed engaged with an equal number of Japanese.

The battle was but one phase of a three-pronged Chinese drive against the 100,000 men Japan is estimated to have moved into Northern Hopeh province since the outbreak of hostilities just west of Peiping July 7.

Dozing Is Fatal To Motorcyclist

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP).—Scott Overburgh, 19-year-old Simcoe motorcyclist, died early today in a collision near Canfield on No. three highway, a few yards from the spot where a Michigan physician was killed in an accident Sunday.

Police expressed belief Overburgh dozed for a moment and his motorcycle swerved and crashed into a car driven by Raymond Herriman of Erie. The body was removed to Cayuga.

Dr. W. L. Schofield, 56, of Athens, Mich., was killed Sunday when his car jumped a ditch and ploughed into a telegraph pole. His wife suffered lacerations and shock. Dr Schofield's body was taken to Cayuga and an inquest ordered.

Starved 40 Days To Aid His Family

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, Aug. 24 (AP)—Continued advances by five converging columns of insurgent troops today made it "apparent," said General Franco, that "fighting in Santander Province is virtually ended."

Franco's Salamanca headquarters predicted in a statement the rate of his army's advance would permit capture of the Provincial capital, Santander, "before the end of the week."

Government reports, admitting in part the insurgent claims, reported fierce infantry attacks supported by fleets of tanks and large masses of artillery and aviation on the tightening semi-circle centred on the Spanish Government's last important Biscay seaport.

Los Corriales, southwest of the beleaguered city, was heavily shelled by Franco's Palencia Road column, the government communique said.

Franco was driving that spearhead toward Torrelavega, seven miles north of Los Corriales, in an effort quickly to isolate Santander from Gijon, a considerably less important government stronghold on the Bay of Biscay, about 90 miles to the west. Government troops, the Madrid communique asserted, were resisting stiffly.

12 BURN TO DEATH 2 SCORE INJURED IN WYOMING FIRE

CODY, Wyo., Aug. 24—(AP). — Rescue workers poked through smouldering ruins of a mountain forest today, seeking additional victims of a gale-driven fire which burned 12 of their companions to death. Two score others were injured.

All the victims, many of them civilian conservation corps enrollees, were trapped while battling the blaze in Shoshoni National Forest in Northwest Wyoming.

"We don't know whether there are more men out there or not," said John Sieker, forest superintendent, who led the battle against flame in which 500 C.C.C. members, Rangers and Bureau of Public Roads employees participated.

Eight bodies were recovered yesterday. Three others were found last night.

The 12th victim was Roy Bevens, Smithville, Tex., who ironically gasped out: "God, how lucky I am to be alive," after he was carried from the inferno.

Doctors Hike Over Trails.

Several physicians from Cody hiked through darkness over perilous mountain trails nearly 10,000 feet above sea level, to set up a first aid station near the fire.

Dr. W. R. Morrison of Billings, Mont., and a corps of nurses made a 250-mile trip to give assistance.

The supply of picric acid—used in an ointment for treating burns—was exhausted quickly, and Lazelle Lowry of a Cody western drug company appealed to the Associated Press in Denver, 500 miles away, last night to rush five pounds of the acid back in an airplane which carried pictures to the Press Association.

The acid was quickly obtained for Pilot Bill Minday.

Forest Supervisor Sieker predicted that "with a good break in weather," the fire could be brought under control today.

MAN NOT WORTH $5.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 24—(CP)—"What will the license cost," a woman with her prospective husband asked the marriage license clerk. She was told the fee was $2. The clerk then said the minister's fee customarily was $5.

"Say, I wouldn't pay $5 to marry any man on earth."

The couple left, sans license.

$25 Reward Out For Lost Skeleton

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(AP).—A reward of £5 was posted to-day for the return of a 250-year-old skeleton stolen from a prison cell.

The skeleton, chained upright to an oaken chair, was stolen from Rye House at Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire, scene of the famous Rye House plot against Charles II.

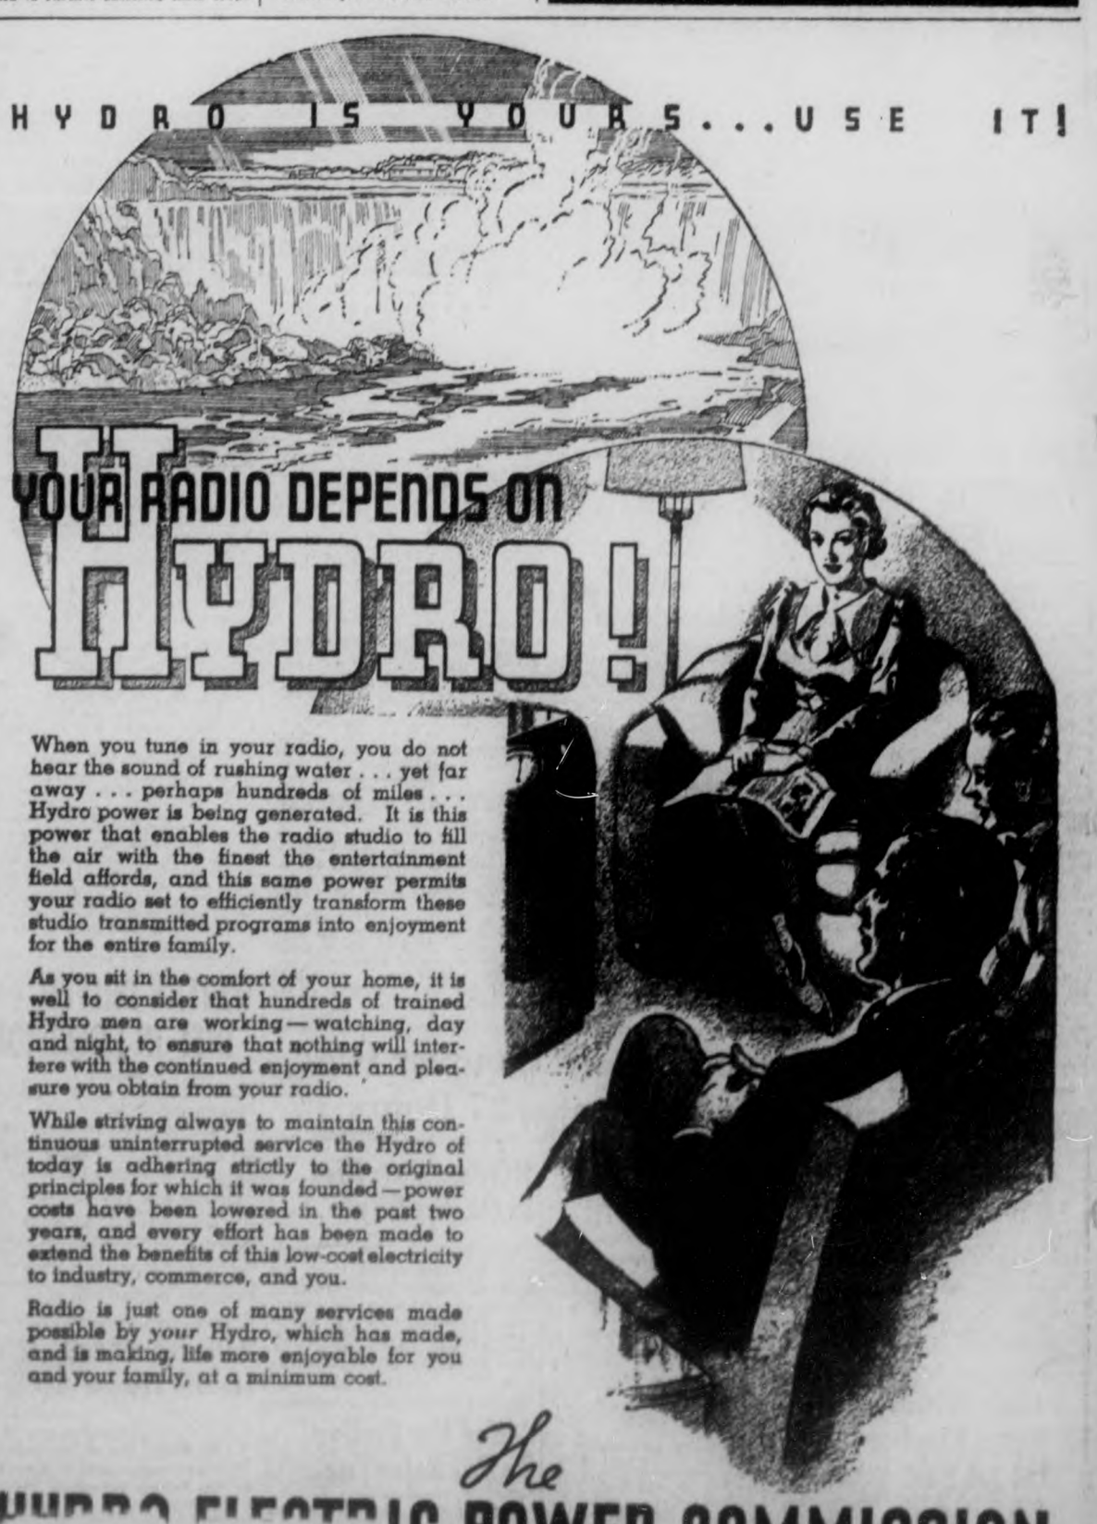
The castle is a tourist attraction and its owner, T. Green, said he believed the "kidnapping" was somebody's "grisly kind of joke."

The Rye House plot was a scheme by one of Cromwell's Republican officers to murder Charles III and the Duke of York, later James II, in 1683. The plan was to kill them when they returned from the New market races, but it was foiled when they returned a day ahead of schedule.

The plotters were arrested and the missing skeleton is supposed to be that of one of them.

SEVERELY SHOCKED.

GRIMSBY, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP).—Three daughters of Peter Zoellner were severely shocked and knocked unconscious when lightning struck a tobacco kiln in which they were taking shelter from a storm at Clear Creek. The girls, Laura, 19, Helen, 17, and Margaret, 15, are under doctor's care. Laura was blind for several days.



OLD WAR SPIRIT AMONG VETERANS BOON IN BUSINESS

TIMMINS, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP).—Canada owes first duty to veterans who suffered injury in the Great War and to descendants of those who died, in the opinion of Hon. C. G. Power, Federal Pensions Minister. The Cabinet Minister also told the Ontario Command, Canadian Legion, at the opening of its convention yesterday, the second consideration of the Dominion Government must be for those who served and were unable to earn a living owing to age or physical infirmity.

Provision must also be made, he said, for those yet capable of working but unable to find employment. The government was actively engaged in attempting to find employment for thousands of Canadian exservicemen — permanent jobs had already been found for 1,000, Mr. Power said his department was busy clearing pension appeal cases at the rate of 200 a month. At present 12,000 in Canada draw veterans' allowances, he said, of which number 4,000 reside in Ontario. Declaring efforts were being made to eliminate "red tape" from pensions cases, he called for co-operation from employed veterans to help find jobs for their former comrades.

That Old War Spirit

Archdeacon F. G. Scott, wartime chaplain from Quebec, urged a return to the spirit of comradeship experienced overseas. Each member of the Canadian Legion naturally believed that his division won the war, but through all this ran a thread so strong that it joined us together in one great unit," he said.

FRANCO EXPECTS SANTANDER CITY FALL DURING WEEK

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, Aug. 24 (AP)—Continued advances by five converging columns of insurgent troops today made it "apparent," said General Franco, that "fighting in Santander Province is virtually ended."

Government reports, admitting in part the insurgent claims, reported fierce infantry attacks supported by fleets of tanks and large masses of artillery and aviation on the tightening semi-circle centred on the Spanish Government's last important Biscay seaport.

Los Corrales, southwest of the beleaguered city, was heavily shelled by Franco's Palencia Road column, the government communique said.

Franco was driving that spearhead toward Torrelavega, seven miles north of Los Corrales, in an effort quickly to isolate Santander from Gijon, a considerably less important government stronghold on the Bay of Biscay, about 90 miles to the west. Government troops, the Madrid communique asserted, were resisting stiffly.

12 BURN TO DEATH 2 SCORE INJURED IN WYOMING FIRE

CODY, Wyo., Aug. 24—(AP). — Rescue workers poked through smouldering ruins of a mountain forest today, seeking additional victims of a gale-driven fire which burned 12 of their companions to death. Two score others were injured.

All the victims, many of them civilian conservation corps enrollees, were trapped while battling the blaze in Shoshoni National Forest in Northwest Wyoming.

"We don't know whether there are more men out there or not," said John Bleker, forest superintendent, who led the battle against flame in which 500 C.C.C. members, Rangers and Bureau of Public Roads employees participated.

Eight bodies were recovered yesterday. Three others were found last night.

The 12th victim was Roy Bevens, Smithville, Tex., who ironically gasped out: "God, how lucky I am to be alive," after he was carried from the inferno.

Doctors Hike Over Trails.

Several physicians from Cody hiked through darkness over perilous mountain trails nearly 10,000 feet above sea level, to set up a first aid station near the fire.

Dr. W. R. Morrison of Billings, Mont., and a corps of nurses made a 250-mile trip to give assistance.

The supply of picric acid—used in an ointment for treating burns—was exhausted quickly, and Lazelle Lowry of a Cody western drug company appealed to the Associated Press in Denver, 500 miles away, last night to rush five pounds of the acid back in an airplane which carried pictures to the Press Association.

The acid was quickly obtained for Pilot Bill Minday.

Forest Supervisor Bleker predicted that "with a good break in weather," the fire could be brought under control today.

MAN NOT WORTH $5.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 24—(CP)—"What will the license cost," a woman with her prospective husband asked the marriage license clerk. She was told the fee was $2. The clerk then said the minister's fee customarily was $5.

"Say, I wouldn't pay $5 to marry any man on earth."

The couple left, sans license.

$25 Reward Out For Lost Skeleton

LONDON, Aug. 24—(AP).—A reward of 15 was posted to-day for the return of a 250-year-old skeleton stolen from a prison cell.

The skeleton, chained upright to an oaken chair, was stolen from Rye House at Hoddeson, Hertfordshire, scene of the famous Rye House plot against Charles II.

The castle is a tourist attraction and its owner, T. Green, said he believed the "kidnapping" was somebody's "grisly kind of joke."

The Rye House plot was a scheme by one of Cromwell's Republican officers to murder Charles III and the Duke of York later James II, in 1683. The plan was to kill them when they returned from the New market races, but it was foiled when they returned a day ahead of schedule.

The plotters were arrested and the missing skeleton is supposed to be that of one of them.

SEVERELY SHOCKED.

GRIMSBY, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP).—Three daughters of Peter Zoellner were severely shocked and knocked unconscious when lightning struck a tobacco kiln in which they were taking shelter from a storm at Clear Creek. The girls, Laura, 19, Helen, 17, and Margaret, 15, are under doctor's care. Laura was blind for several days.

Starved 40 Days To Aid His Family

The man who gave the name of "George Jones" after he was found in a state of collapse in the elevator of an Oklahoma city business establishment, is shown receiving administration of glucose from Dr. W. F. Bohlman. The emaciated man had $1.80 in his pockets when found and inside his shirt was a diary, addressed to his wife, whose name was not disclosed, in which he depicted graphically his feelings and sufferings during forty days of starvation.

TRIM CARACUL COAT IS POPULAR

By Central Press

Caracul has grown to be one of the most popular furs for coats. A good caracul wears well and always looks smart.

This young woman is wearing one of the latest black caraculs in the new almost full-length style and swagger lines, which she was modeling at the Thistledown race track in Cleveland, O.

Swagger type fur coats are particularly popular this year because of the different lengths in which they are shown—from finger-tip to almost skirt length.

Long Wraps Preferred

For the college girl long evening wraps are quoted as most desired. Heretofore the short wrap has been her choice. Now she demands full-length wraps, usually in crush resistant velvet, which also put up a strong defense against rain, snow and other spotting.

In colors, black comes first, then reds — cherry, ruby or wine — and green next. One "best seller" has been a long velvet coat over which a little ermine jacket is posed. The fur may be worn over the coat or not, as preferred.

Kennedy—McLaren

A marriage of local interest was solemnized in Frankford on Saturday when Hilda Eileen McLaren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. McLaren of Frankford became the bride of Alex. Mowat Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy of Tilsonburg formerly of Campbellford. The wedding was held in the Anglican Church, Frankford and Rev. H. McConnell officiated. The wedding music was played by Mrs. J. Smith and during the signing of the register, Miss B. Outrum sang "Because". The Church was decorated with gladioli in pastel shades and the bride, given in marriage by her father wore a gown of white silk tulleover satin, trimmed with rows of white satin frills half way up the skirt. She wore a veil which fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of talisman roses and ferns. Miss Lola Heath of Sterling was the maid of honor and the Misses Jessie and Kathleen Kennedy of Campbellford, sisters of the groom, were bridesmaids. The maid of honor wore Marina blue taffeta with white accessories and carried pink roses and fern while the bridesmaids wore flowered chiffon in blue and pink and carried old fashioned nosegays. Donald McLaren, brother of the groom was the best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held at Carmette U. Looge where the bride's mother received in a white crepe ensemble with matching accessories. The bride's travelling costume was a rose berry suit with white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy are spending their honeymoon at Tilsonburg.

Carew—Taylor

ROSENEATH, Aug. 24.—A quiet wedding was solemnized at the United Church Parsonage, Cobourg, on Wednesday August 18, at 11 a.m. by Rev. W. P. Woodger, when Dorothy Rosella Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor, Roseneath, was married to Edgar Ferguson Carew second son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carew, Roseneath.

The bride wore a conoration blue lace gown over blue silk, with trimmings of coronation red. Shoes and other accessories were in harmonizing tones.

The young couple will take up residence on their farm near Roseneath.

Denies Romance

Still denying rumors she will marry Prince David Mdivani, last of the famous Georgian princes, who wooed and married American heiresses, Miss Murial "Honey" Johnson, well-known New York society girl, is shown on her arrival at New York from Europe. Miss Johnson claimed neither she nor the prince were romantically inclined; adding she hardly knew the prince.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"Madam thou errest: I say, there is no darkness but ignorance; in which thou art more puzzled, than the Egyptians in their fog."—Shakespeare.

And this: "By ignorance we know not things necessary; by error we know them falsely." Burton.

Dear Friends:

Recently I had a letter from a young man complaining rather bitterly because his people had kept him in such ignorance, and I am in full sympathy with him, for I was brought up the same way. I was busy reading all the time, but a lot of what I read went right over my head, as far as life was concerned.

Now, which do you think is better equipped to fend off any danger, one brought up in the slums where they see life in the raw, or one brought up in total ignorance? What used to aggravate us girls to the point of exasperation was when our parents told us, "If you ever get into trouble don't come home to us. We will want nothing to do with you."

We asked each other what this "trouble" could be, but none could answer. Then I was chosen as spokesman for the rest, and in fear and trembling asked my parents what they meant. Did I receive enlightenment? I did not! They simply told me I was too curious, and to go back and tell the rest that they must not send me to ask more questions. The folly of it.

Life and morals are as they are, and knowledge helps us to steer a straight course. If a person is told in a decent manner, there is nothing nasty about the facts of life. But—there is decidedly something nasty having to learn these things in whispers.

Forewarned is forearmed. If you know what you are fighting either from others or from yourself, you have a better chance of winning. Some might think that those on farms are less enlightened than those in cities, but they have a better chance of learning about life in all its aspects than those in towns.

I say parents are criminally responsible if they with-hold knowledge from their children. You might as well send a man to war without a weapon of defence. Talking about birds and flowers is no good, for a human being will never be either one.

And, after all, when we are so very squeamish about it, we must not forget we are condemning God for the way He has of procreating the generations. And when we are fighting something from within as well as from without, not knowing what it is all about, it is no wonder so many fail, no wonder there are so many broken lives and broken hearts.

I do not believe in telling children when they are too young, for then you are only putting ideas into their head. But when the time is ripe, let them know cleanly and decently. Don't do so much shushing when older people are around, but let it be casually spoken of, then it is not such a shock to the young sensibilities.

Let them know your opinions in decided terms of how a young man or woman should keep their bodies sacred, the temple of their soul. Stress cleanliness in all it's forms. Do not forget either to let them know what St. Paul said about their being no sin in the marriage bed.

Let them know the price they will have to pay if they go on what is erroneously said to be the Primrose Path." Show them how virtue can literally be it's own reward by the feeling of decency it leaves with a person. The young say "be good and you'll be lonely" but I would alter that to "be good and you'll never have to pay the piper" or "be good and you'll have peace of mind," for no one can consecrate either their own bodies or any one else's and have either. So parents, I beg of you, play the game with your children and save them and yourselves from bitter heartache. Hoping "8" that this will help you. Your Friend, ROBERTA.

Trip To Rhodesia Full Of Thrills

Those who have friends in South Africa may be interested in the following extracts from an account of a trip to Rhodesia written by Miss Alice Warren, who has been a resident of Cape Town for the past ten years. Miss Warren, who has travelled a great deal and is an accomplished linquist, is a cousin of Mrs. W. Blackwell of Benson avenue, this city.

We left Capetown in the evening and boarded a train which took us through the Hex River Mountains, through the Little Karoo, past Kimberley, the original home of the diamond industry, on through the Protectorate of Bechuanaland, and on the third day we arrived at Buluwayo, just past the borders of Rhodesia.

The Little Karoo consists of miles and miles of rough veldt, parched up with only a few sheep here and there, and occasionally a small dwelling or farm where water had been found, and where perhaps a little lucerne could be grown.

The rising of the moon on this first night in the train was an extraordinary sight—it looked like a fire on the horizon, so fiery red was it and so large.

The train stopped often, and apparently for no reason whatever, for there was not even a siding. Children of all ages came up to the train from a nearby kraal, some of them as naked as when they were born;

The Matopo Hills are about 30 miles out of Buluwayo. Most of the way is now strip tarred—that is, two strips in the road are tarred for the wheels of a motor or other vehicle to travel along. Everything was very dry and dusty—the driver told us they had not had rain for about four months. As we approached the Hills the road became narrower, and there was no more tar—the dust nearly suffocated us. We drew up at the foot of the Matopo Hills, where the grave of Cecil Rhodes is to be seen at the top of a kind of plateau called "World's View." The grave is made of solid granite, and on it is a slab mounted by a bronze inscription.

Another interesting time was spent at the residence of the Governor-General of Southern Rhodesia, some three miles out of Buluwayo. The house stands on a hill, and in the garden is the Rondavel where Cecil Rhodes lived and did his work when in that part of the country, and the tree under which Lobengula and his chiefs sat in consulation with Cecil Rhodes when the country was handed over to the English.

The next day we arrived at the Victoria Falls, all of us being glad that our three days in the train were a thing of the past.

After breakfast we set out in rain-coats for the Falls to see the wonderful Rain Forest, where the spray is so intense that it falls again in the form of heavy rain. The sun had not yet gained much power, and so the spray at many points shut out almost entirely the view of the Falls opposite; however, it lifted at intervals and wonderful—too wonderful to be described—was the view of the stupendous cascades, which have a depth of about 420 ft. In a short time we were all pretty well soaked, but it was worth the soaking; the view was too marvellous, and the force of the water seemed at times to take away one's breath. Rainbows of remarkable tints and shades appeared from above, and often smaller ones behind us in the recesses of the forest, where everything was a sparkling array of water and light. We saw amazing combinations of colour—pale blue shading off into a primrose yellow—a deep gold dissolving itself into a deeper hue, and so on. Among all this revelry of rushing, thundering water we found ourselves in a forest full of many kinds of ferns, maidenhair among them. We worked our way along the length of the falls—a matter of about a mile and a half—and came out at the westerly end, the Devil's Cataract, where angry foam met angry foam in a fury down the depth of the Cascade.

One of the trips down the Zambesi was to Kandahar Island. The trolleys from the hotel took us down to the landing-stage, where an electric launch was awaiting us. The river at this point is over a mile wide. The boat darted along, and presently we espied a crocodile at the edge of the bank—duikers of various kinds flew over our heads, and several other birds were to be seen at intervals, among them the hoopoe, a heron, the fish-eagle—a rich brown colour with white throat. Farther down the river another crocodile was basking in the sun on a mud bank. After landing on Kandahar Island, where the native boys made us an excellent cup of tea, we explored the island, which was full of semi-tropical plants, palms, etc.

As we were about to set off on the return journey some monkeys came leaping down the branches of a tree and took biscuits from our hands. . . .

Livingstone, a small town, is about eight minutes from the Falls on the road to the North—Belgian Congo, etc. The bus passes over the wonderful bridge which spans the Falls, and on the way we saw wild baboons and other interesting animals. There is nothing of much interest in the town except the museum, which has a fine collection of native beadwork, mats, baskets, witch-doctors' charms and poisons, as well as some interesting relics of Livingstone's journey across the Continent. A wonderful curio store in the town offered a variety of karosses, ornaments and animals carved in ivory, etc.

CHIC SUIT IN AZURE BLUE

(By the Central Press)

COLOR is sponsored for autumn by the best known couturiers. Black and white hold first place, as always, it is true, but color is very good.

The wide girdle craze that has attacked dresses this autumn is being used in London for coats. Full-skirted tweed coats are shown by Worth with wide, stitched self-fabric belts. One handsome model had the fronts backed with striped woollen fabric, which was repeated on the gilet of the accompanying dress.

Peter Russell, another prominent London designer, is showing rough woollen "cabby" coats, collared in velvet with huge revers of the jacket material, and fastened with large tortoise shell buttons.

There is plenty of originality in the style picture this year, you see.

Keeping Friends With Neighbors

By VIRGINIA LEE

THE NEIGHBORS and what they say and do may be a great cause of unhappiness. Neighborhood quarrels where people living side by side do not speak to each other can prove quite nerve racking experiences.

Neighbors often criticize young mothers for the way they manage their babies. It is one of the disadvantages of a city to have to live so near other people that voices carry and annoy, and folk live so much on top of each other that they get on each other's nerves.

On the other hand, living in the country or in a small town, "everyone knows everyone else's business," they say, and family history, and those things are a cause of gossip and unhappiness. Too bad people cannot learn to live happily together. But as long as there are people there are causes of dissension.

A young mother should make her own sensible and modern rules for training her babies and stick to them, no matter what the neighbors say. She shouldn't take advice from anyone but her doctor about giving the baby food and medicine. The sooner she realizes this the better off she is—and the baby. There are more superstitions about bringing up babies than about almost anything else. The sooner a young mother realizes they are only superstitions, the better off she is.

And when the babies grow into school boys and girls, she should teach them to be as considerate of the neighbors as possible, but don't squelch quite everything they want to do to save an utterly unreasonable neighbor annoyance. The children have some rights, too, you know.

Avoid quarrels as much as possible. If you can control your tongue, and never gossip, or talk in any way about your neighbors except kindly, you have more than half won the battle. You won't altogether avoid neighborhood difficulties, even if you are a saint, but you'll avoid the worst of them.

And it is one of the sweetest and most encouraging things in the world to find that when you are in trouble of any kind, neighbors, even the most captious, forget about the differences and try to help just as much as they can. Proves that we are all right fundamentally, even if we do seem rough, doesn't it?

Watch For Defect In Child's Speech

(By Logan Clendening, M.D.)

Children may be unable to speak properly because of physical defects. Impaired hearing is one. A child's articulate speech usually begins at the age of nine months, but parents need not worry if the child does not talk before the age of two years, provided the delay is not due to impaired hearing. After two to two and a half years, however, there is something wrong if the child does not begin to speak.

Sometimes the deficiency is due to defects in the central nervous system, or muscular inco-ordination of the vocal cords.

A pleasant speaking voice depends upon good hearing and the environment of pleasant speaking voices. As to what is a pleasant voice, we have the votes of a number of college students.

Answering the question: "Are you well satisfied with your speech as it is?" about one-fourth of any groups responds "yes" and about three-fourts "no."

"In what way would you like to improve it?" was answered, aside from small number who stuttered or lisped and naturally wanted to eliminate those faults, by a desire for these qualities: Enunciation, voice and tone quality, poise, clearness, diction, volume, fluency lower pitch, pronunciation.

Folk Like to Talk

"Do you like to talk?" is generally answered in the affirmative.

The peculiarities in the voice of others most readily noticed is in the order named: Pronunciation personality, foreign accent and loudness.

"What can you tell about a person from his speech?" is answered thus by a group of college students: Education, affectation, culture or refinement, where the speaker comes from, character, breeding, environment, training, intelligence, interests social status sense of humor, interest in subject, moods, politeness, type, leadership.

"The pleasantest voice you know?" has the following characteristics according to different people: Low pitch, clear, soft, well modulated, animated, mellow, vibrant rich resonant expressive quiet, slow, good enunciation, distinctness, good diction musical.

Wife Preservers

Mercerized embroidery cotton is fine for sewing on buttons, especially on children's clothes. It is heavy and strong and does not tangle.

Plants Suggested To Relieve Severity

The French decorative magazine, Art et Decoration, has been experimenting with the possibilities of using plants for relieving the severity of modern rooms. In one scheme the pots are fitted into hinged brackets screwed to the window casing, with six or eight brackets per window. In another the ends of a sofa have plant boxes.

Small tables have metal-lined boxes for potted plants or flowers. In one arrangement several ivy globes are fitted to metal holders which are clamped to the upright of a floor lamp. It is also practical to set flower pots into plaster wall "appliques" similar to those used for indirect lighting. Possibly the most original treatment suggested is a lighted wall niche with a glass front, for cut flowers.

Make Cuttings In August, September

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Central Press Garden Expert.

AUGUST and September are the best months in which to take cuttings from geraniums, if you wish to have winter bloom indoors.

Use any side shoots of a plant which are not blooming, cutting them off close to the main stalk. Do not plant immediately, but leave the cuttings in the shade a day. This will help to keep them from damping off when planted. When ready for planting, carefully remove the lower leaves and insert the bottom end, two inches deep, into a sandy soil mixture.

After the roots have formed on the cuttings, as shown in this Garden-Graph, the new geraniums should be potted and taken indoors before there is danger of frost. At first keep in a cool room and water sparingly.

He Will Figure It Out

A farmer who is keeping several hundred chickens, and who finds a good enough market for his eggs and poultry was asked by the Examiner whether he was going to feed his wheat this year or sell it as a cash crop. He has threshed out his grain and it ran from 35 to 40 bushels per acre and is a fair enough looking article. With the cash price for wheat well over the dollar market it would make rather expensive chicken feed.

The reply was "that is something we will have to figure out." When wheat was low in price he had been using it as chicken feed and some of it went in with the mixed grain for chop stuff, but with the increase in cash prices for wheat it presented something "he would have to figure out."

People who do not run farms and who know little or nothing of what a farmer has to do probably never stop to think there are a good many things he has to stop and figure out. We read a good deal in the papers about the condition of the crops and about the weather for harvesting, but the farmer's problem does not end there. He has a good deal of this figuring out business to attend to all the time. He has to look ahead and find whether he is going to make more by turning his grain into beef, or pork, eggs or poultry than by going out at once and taking advantage of a fairly good cash market for grain. Marketing and selling to the best advantage is a long end of farming today and the farmer has quite a bit more of this "figuring out" than most nonfarmers realize.

Just A One-Way Trip

There is always a little cermony at the conclusion of an exhibition such as have just concluded in Peterborough. It makes one think of the lines which say "The paths of glory lead to the grave" even if it has to do with animal life.

This way: When the pigs come to the fair they are fixed up a little better than when they are living on the farm. One hardly scrubs a pig as a usual thing because if one pig were scrubbed then all the others would have to receive similar treatment. But when they prepare for the fair they receive such treatment individually or by pens or however they are to be shown.

It may be that a pig or a pen of pigs finds considerable pleasure in being awarded first place, and perhaps a slightly reduced degree of pleasure in winning second position. Just how a pig registers pleasure we do not know, nor does it make much difference. But there is an amount of notoriety which even a pig must enjoy.

Then comes the momentous last day. And sad day. Buyers for Canada Packers gather where the pigs are exhibited and make bids against all others who might be inclined to do the same thing, and after that it is a short trip from the fair grounds to the packing house and the prize pigs do not return to the surroundings from which they came.

The prize pigs have no opportunity to go home and report to the barnyard the degree of success with which they met. If any pig were inclined to be at all boastful then would be the time when he would appreciate the opportunity of giving vent to his feelings. But the trip to the fair and all the trimmings and preparations going with it means only a one-way excursion; there is no return stub attached to their ticket.

Can Trust The Courts

Premier Hepburn when speaking at Brampton explained he desired to appeal to the people so he might be returned with a mandate which could be considered as authority for proceeding with the collection of money which he said was owing to the province from 44 estates. The sum involved was between $50,000,000 and $70,000,000,000.

If his government were returned for another term it would not be possible for "lawyers for these estates to stall off the inevitable. If these people can take these cases to the courts and procrastinate there is the possibility that a lot of money will be taken out of our jurisdiction." Meaning by that, we presume, that it would be taken out of the country.

But it was decided some time ago to use the regularly constituted courts of the country for the collection of such money, and it would be well if Mr. Hepburn were to explain fully how it would be possible to keep a case hanging so long in the courts that the ultimate outcome would be affected or the assets of an estate minimized or made to disappear in the meantime. If any such thing were attempted it would mean that those making the attempts would be liable to immediate and drastic action on the part of our courts. If courts are the plaything of procrastinating lawyers then the sooner we know about it the better. Our belief is that they are not so regulated.

Nothing For This Farmer

No matter what happens it seems hard enough for some farmers to run into anything which looks like luck. Take the strange case of H. A. Robertson, seven miles from Buhl, in Idaho. When his crops were about ready to be taken off his fields began to crumble and disappear. Geologists came and said the land had been undermined by water running below and a strata of lava had softened. They admitted it was all very interesting, but could suggest nothing which Farmer Robertson could do about it, and each day another section of his farm breaks off and goes rushing down into a hole which now looks like a new canyon.

But people come from great distances to see this disappearing farm. Woman next farm along the road and higher, invites tourists to enter by way of her property and collects 50 cents from each car. From her place they can watch in safety. In one stretch of ten days she had a parade of 2,000 cars, which would mean $1,000 in farm-gate entry fees. And she also prepared sandwiches and coffee for those who want to tarry. Doing well is this neighbor woman but it means nothing to Farmer Robertson on whose property all the show is being staged.

Then photographers came and took many pictures. And they have little booths along the road where they are sold. One place sold 1,000 "souvenir postcards" in a few days, but that of course does no good to Farmer Robertson whose farm is gradually sliding away. Near-by gas stations and hot-dog stands are doing business the like of which they never thought possible, but of course Farmer Robertson is not sharing in the profits. His acres are providing all the attraction and will continue to do so for some weeks to come. At the end others will have made some money out of his misfortune and Farmer Robertson will have to seek broad acres elsewhere.

When The Flies Bite

Prof. Selby Maxwell, meteorologist, writing in the Ottawa Journal, deals with the old saying that people can tell there is going to be a storm when the flies begin to bite. The sky may clear enough, but if the flies bite there is a storm or a disturbance on the way.

The ordinary house fly does not bite. Probably he would like to, but fortunately he has no equipment; a near relative, the black fly, is the biter.

The black fly, we learn, can only bite when he smells you. That may be an indelicate suggestion, but it is what the expert says. When a storm is on the way the barometer pressure of the air falls, and as the pressure falls odors escape from many surfaces. At such time perspiration in our skins moves out through the pores and when the flies scent this they smell dinner—and you are the dinner. So it is Prof. Maxwell believes there is truth in the old claim that when the flies begin to bite there is going to be a storm.

Admittedly it was interesting to read what this learned Maxwell had to say. All too often men who write about weather are inclined to deal in troughs of depression and far-off areas of pressure and such which are miserably hard to understand and harder still to believe. But when he turns to flies biting before a storm then it is delightfully easy to make out what it is all about.

Might Investigate

An airplane belonging to the Globe and Mail, and called "The Flying Newsroom" has met with destruction. It was moored or anchored—or whatever it is they do with such things—in Toronto harbor, and while some 120 gallons of gasoline was being placed in it a fire broke out and "Newsroom" was destroyed.

The Globe and Mail says there is nothing to explain the accident. It contends, though, if there had been proper places for such aircraft to seek asylum in Toronto nothing of the kind would have happened. So Toronto as such is roundly blamed. This way:

> "When an airplane travels many thousands of miles without accident, lands and departs in the relatively primitive conditions of the far North safely and encounters destruction at the airport base of Canada's second city, it certainly is serious reflection on Toronto's place in the flying world."

It may have been Toronto's strange atmosphere which had something to do with the explosion. Certainly conditions for landing and departing would have been as good or better there than in many of the places the ship has visited in safety. It would be a difficult thing to analyze. Toronto's atmosphere is highly charged with electricity and it has its effect on people and things in general. An affair which in other places would be an incident and nothing more becomes a crisis in Toronto. Our provincial statesmen who for many months of the year carry on quietly with the serious business of earning a living are apt to go popping off at an alarming rate when they gather together in Toronto. Men who are smooth spoken and of peaceful texture are apt to say things which the folk at home would never suspect they had it in them to say.

And when they elect a mayor, controllers and aldermen in Toronto it is accompanied by a very great hubub. The whole atmosphere is one where it seems anything could happen. The Globe and Mail might turn its sleuth in that direction. We have a sneaking suspicion it was that unnatural atmosphere in Toronto which caused its plane to meet destruction in its native moorings.

And Thus He Died

Near the Fourth Concession of Beverly Township, not far from Hamilton, one homeless wanderer (we call such a transient) found another of his kind, but he was dead. Underneath a maple tree. Officials were notified and they have been trying to identify this dead man. He is, they say, 80 years of age. They have gone through his pockets but nothing has been found. There would be no letters addressed to him because he had no address; there would be no business card with his name on it because he had no business; there would be no bank book showing where he did his banking because he had no money; there would be no laundry mark to help identify him because he probably did not patronize laundries.

Admittedly there is something friendly and home-like in the sound of the wording indicating the place where he was found—the Fourth Concession of Beverly Township. Makes one think of fields and barns and cattle and homes. But this man 80 had no part in it. He just happened to pass that way when he reached the point where he could do no more going or coming. It may be the maple tree near the Fourth Concession of Beverly gave to him what it had to give during his last hours here—some shade or a bit of protection.

Four score years is not the right age for a man to be tramping about the country. We have places in every county where old and homeless folk can live, and we also have a pension plan which comes into action much in advance of that advanced age. But this old man was able to find only a maple tree near the Fourth Concession of Beverly when he lay down to die.

WARNING

(By A. R. K.)

¶ We Angus has a friend of eight, he hasn't seen him much of late, not like it used to be; so when he met him yesterday, he chummed a while with him for play, then asked him in for tea.

¶ The little lad was quite polite, and did most everything just right, said thanks for all he got; he laughed at all the little jokes, then started talking on his folks, and he said quite a lot.

¶ He said his paw got awful cross, when things were running at a loss, or when he'd lost a bet; if things were not cut down at home, he'd have to go and live alone, be in the poorhouse yet.

¶ Then ma she'd tell him right off straight, about the nights he stayed out late, and gambled with the men; she'd like to poke him in the eye, if he should ever start and try, to take it out of them.

¶ He said his sister paints her jaws, and does it all he said because she wants to get a beau; her father didn't like the one, who started giving her a run, and so he had to go.

¶ The lad said far too much I know, said things he never should let go, slipped in his scandal clutch; so I told Angus he should see, if ever he went out for tea—he should not talk too much.

Justice For the Poor

Young Lawyers Planning For Free Legal Advice.

(From the Montreal Star)

THE best judicial system in the world is of little use to a person who has not the means to use it. A man or woman may suffer shocking injustice through lack of understanding of the law and lack of a few dollars to obtain the necessary advice. Understanding this, some of the young lawyers at the Canadian Bar Association meeting have been studying means of providing free legal advice for destitute people. If they are successful in extending their schemes these young men may help to fill up a serious gap in the machinery to Canadian justice.

A visit to the criminal courts alone is enough to show the need for such schemes. The same thing happens time and time again. A man or a woman stands in the dock, in court for the first time, to answer some minor charge. The clerk of the court reads off the charge at the tempo of a machine-gun burst. At the end he demands: "Do you want to be tried before twelve jurymen and one judge, or a judge alone?" The prisoner probably does not want to be tried before either, and without the advice of a lawyer has no idea what his choice will entail. Next, the clerk probably cries "Guilty, or not guilty?" In many cases the prisoner's great desire is to explain, and without advice he has no idea which plea will be best for him.

Real crooks nearly always have lawyers to defend them. Poor people who may have made one slip or who did not understand what they were doing, are those who are so often without assistance.

People without means are also liable to suffer injustice in civil matters. An abandoned wife does not know how to get about making claims on her husband. The child of a poor family is injured in the street and the parents do not know how to obtain compensation from the driver of the car. In hundreds of instances a scheme for the provision of free legal aid for those deserving assistance would lead to justice, where there otherwise may have been injustice. In many cases, too it would be of great assistance to charitable organizations.

Crumpled Like A Piece of Paper

Car Tried to Pass Bus on Road Got In Path Of Oncoming Car.

(London Free Press)

THE accident is believed to have occurred when a car driven by J. R. Orendorff, and containing his uncle, J. E. Orendorff, attempted to pass a northbound Greyhound bus, and crashed head-on into a southbound car, driven by Miss Hazel Ransom, of the nursing staff of the Ford Hospital, Detroit, who later died, and containing also Mrs. W. Haddley, Syracuse, N.Y. The collision occurred as the Londoner attempted to pass the bus, and in the collision the London car was forced into the path of the bus, forcing the latter to take to the ditch, clipping off four or five hydro and telephone poles.

Passengers on the bus who saw the accident, reported that the bus was traveling about 45 miles an hour when the Orendorff car attempted to pass. At the same time, the Detroit car was seen approaching from the north, and seemed to slacken speed just before the crash.

The collision occurred when the Londoners were at a point just in front of the bus and still on the west half of the pavement, directly in the Detroit car's path. The London car was carried over into the path of the bus by the impact, landing in the left front corner of the bus.

J. A. Montgomery, Toronto, driver of the bus, tried to avoid hitting both cars as they piled up, turning sharply to the east of the road, going off onto the slippery clay of the shoulder. After hitting the front of the bus, the London car bounced to the east side of the road, coming to rest close to the road fence and facing east.

With its front stove in, the Detroit car went backwards to the west of the road, and stopped, facing east, with its back against the fence. The bus came to rest about 300 feet from the point of impact the slippery clay making traction impossible.

Both smaller cars were so badly wrecked that they are almost beyond repairing. The front wheels of the London car were completely ripped off and left behind as the car careened across the ditch. The chasis was crumpled like a piece of paper. The engine of the Detriot car was pushed back into the interior and the wheels broken off. Considerable damage was done to the front of the bus as it crashed into the hydro posts, bringing down a tangle of wiring, and putting it out of commission. Passengers were transfered to another bus after some delay.

Dr. C. J. A. McKillop, this city, who attended the scene, ordered the two women brought to the Memorial Hospital in the ambulance. Miss Ransom died from internal injuries.

A sister of Miss Ransom, Mrs. A. J. Robertson, Detroit, arrived in the city on Saturday evening and made arrangements for the funeral. It is believed the body will be sent to Essex for burial.

The accident is being investigated by Traffic Officer Bert Moore, assisted by T. A. Bob Wills. Investigation is under way and it is expected a charge will be laid.

In Four Elections In Three Years

Colin Campbell to Quit Ottawa; Hepburn Wants Him In Cabinet.

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

WITH his unopposed nomination by the Liberal convention yesterday at Enterprise as candidate in Addington in the coming provincial election, Colin A. Campbell, M.P., embarks on his fourth political battle in a little more than three years. The present contest will bring his name for a seat in the Ontario Legislature and in Parliament to two each.

Mr. Campbell made his first appeal to the voters of Frontenac and Addington in the provincial constituency of Addington in the general election of 1934. He was defeated by the veteran Conservative, W. D. Black, but whittled down considerably the margin customarily enjored by Mr. Black in the long period he has sat at Toronto. Three months later he was again in the heat of a political campaign as Liberal candidate in the by-election to fill the vacant federal seat of Frontenac-Addington. This time he scored a notable success, bringing into the Liberal column a seat traditionally Conservative. He repeated that victory a year later in the federal general elections. Now he is turning his back on Ottawa, throwing aside the present political security of a hard-won seat in Parliament, to chance the uncertainties of a provincial contest.

The acceptance of the Liberal nomination for Addington by Mr. Campbell is evident confirmation of the accuracy of predictions that he is slated for a cabinet post if the Hepburn Government is victorious at the polls. In addressing the convention yesterday, he said that he was leaving the federal field because he thought he could be of more service to the people of the riding "as a supporter of Mr. Hepburn than as a common member at Ottawa." Premier Hepburn added to the evident inference to be drawn from Mr. Campbell's explanation with the statement that he was greatly disappointed over the defeat of Mr. Campbell in 1934, because he had "ear-marked" him as cabinet material at that time, and with the expression of confidence that the voters would reverse that decision and send Mr. Campbell to Toronto to give him (Mr. Hepburn) the support he was counting on from Mr. Campbell.

A DEPLORABLE STATE

(Montreal Gazette)

ACCORDING to C. Y. Chang, writing in the China Weekly Review, there are four hundred thousand bandits in Honan province who, in their forays, capture towns and villages and take all sorts of people, rich and poor, generally for ransom. This condition largely explains China's vulnerability to attack from outside. The people are divided and the government, or rather governments, have little or no control over roving bands. Until the Chinese set their big house in order, they will remain subject to encroachment by enterprising and designing neighbors.

STRIKE HUMOR

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

A STRIKE is usually a very serious business for both employer and employed. But there must have been many humorous incidents in connection with the recent strike epidemic in the United States—incidents which, at least temporarily, relieved the tension.

One of these was recounted by the United Press in a news item. It told of a butcher in Oklahoma City who unpicketed his shop when striking employees stationed a man in front of it with a placard telling their troubles. The butcher hired a negro mammy, who was said to be full of years and of ample girth, and had her walk along side the picketer, with a sign reading: "Just Married."

NOT IN BERMUDA

(New York Times

THAT ancient body, the Parliament of Bermuda, is about to convene in special session at Hamilton, and the new Governor, Lieut. Gen. Sir Reginald Hilliyard, it is rumored, will ask the legislators to allow him the use of an automobile in the course of his duties.

Americans who have visited that paradise of bicycles and antiquated horsedrawn vehicles will know the approximate betting odds on the Governor's request. The last Governor, Sir Astely Cubitt, failed to increase his stature with a similar request six years ago. The Assembly promptly turned it down, 19 to 9. One member declared he would not let the King of England operate a motor car in Bermuda. The Governor, if he wished, could probably have a litter in the old Roman style—but not an automobile.

CORRECT FOOD

(Galt Reporter)

THE builders of the educational structure is all countries have included a lot of frills but, peculiarly, they never considered it worthwhile to inject anything that would direct the student in the realm of correct food.

Speaking at the Imperial Social Hygiene Congress in London, Eng., recently, Sir. John Orr, director of a Scottish research organization, criticized this defect in the British educational system and his condemnatory remarks could be applied to the educational systems of the world, yet nutrition, and health are two elements vital to success.

Knowledge of how to feed a family to keep them in good health ought to be an extremely important department of information but the school system of Canada does not provide for that fundamental enlightenment.

ABOUT TRAILERS.

(Toronto Telegram)

THERE is room in the Highways Department for a research bureau charged with the investigation of the causes of accidents and the means of avoiding them. One question which might be submitted to such a bureau is that concerning the danger created by the operation of trucks with trailers. A motor vehicle with a couple of trailers behind it and travelling at a fair rate of speed is an awesome thing for any motorist to have to pass on a narrow road. There have been accidents on curves where the trailers have swung out like a game of snap-the-whip and have swept automobiles into the ditch. Frequently the swaying of the trailers presents a hazard to the motorist who is attempting to pass.

"THE MEN I KILLED" CREATING STORM

LONDON, Aug. 24 (CP Cable) — While Brigadier-General Frank Percy Crozier, author of the war book "The Men I Killed," lies critically ill in Walton-on-Thames Hospital, a storm of indignation was mounting today over allegations contained in the book concerning the courage of British soldiers during the Great War.

A demand for a public inquiry into the charges was voiced by Sir Charles Edwards, Labor member of Parliament for a Welsh constituency. In his book, Crozier declared: "My Welshmen took and held Bourlon Wood against endless counter attacks because they understood it is better to die at the hands of the enemy than be shot out of hand like rats by their own officers."

In a letter to War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha, Sir Charles said he believed he was writing on behalf of the Welsh nation as a whole in demanding that the government take immediate notice of what General Crozier had written. He suggested a full apology from the author to Welsh soldiers and the Welsh nation unless he were able to justify the allegations.

General Crozier, who is 58, entered hospital Saturday, suffering from an internal complaint. His condition today was described as low. He served as a captain in the Canadian Army from 1908 to 1912.

KEY CITY FALLS

TOKYO, Aug. 24 (AP).—The Domei (Japanese) News Agency reported today that Kalgan, controlling an important communication route from Mongolia through the Great Wall, had been taken by the Japanese.

The report said at least six, possibly eight, Chinese divisions now were trapped between mechanized Japanese armies at Kalgan and at Nankow Pass, to the south.

CHINESE OUTWIT JAPS AT PEIPING

TIENTSIN, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Chinese advance guards swept around both flanks of the Japanese army southwest of Peiping today and struck simultaneously in an effort to pinch off the 30,000 Japanese troops immobilized there by torrential rains.

Fighting, with at least 250,000 men engaged, was developing along a 150-mile front.

Japanese troops were hurriedly withdrawn from their extended positions west of Peiping and concentrated on the east bank of the Yungting river in the Fengtai and Wanpinghsien suburbs of Peiping and in Peiping proper.

Japanes planes were bombing the area from Nentoukow, 20 miles west of Peiping, to a point 40 miles to the southeast on the Peiping-Tientsin railway.

From a strong advance base at Chochow, 30 miles southwest of Peiping, the Chinese forces thrust three divisions against Japanese positions at Lianghsiang, five miles to the north.

One division made a show of force against the Japanese frontal positions while one sped past each flank and then struck. The Chinese left wing advanced as far as Nentoukow before it pivoted while the right wing penetrated to Kangchia, 10 miles south of the Marco Polo bridge across the Yungting at Wanpinghsien.

This placed both arms of the pincer well in the rear of the main body of Japanese at Lianghsiang. It was almost impossible for reinforcements and supplies to reach the main force. Roads to Lianghsiang were choked with hundreds of Japanese trucks stuck in the mud and abandoned.

Traffic was mired at Changsintien, beyond Marco Polo bridge, and the Japanese were commandeering mules and donkeys and all kinds of carts and wagons in an effort to get through to the front.

Twenty truck loads of Japanese dead were brought into peiping in one convoy, black flags dipping sombrely as they chugged slowly over the rutted roads.

During his visit in France the Sultan of Morocco attended the Paris mosque for ritual prayers.

ONTARIO GRAIN

Wheat, $1.05 to $1.07; oats, 41c to 43c; barley 54c to 57c; corn, 78c to 82c; rye, 75c to 80c; malting barley, 59c to 62c; milling oats, 41c to 43c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

A strong undertone prevailed in wheat futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day until the final minutes when appearance of hedging sales pared gains of more than a cent. Final values were ¼ to ¾ cent lower: October, $1.21¾; December $1.18¼ to ⅝, and May, $1.19¾ to ⅞.

Trading was generally dull, but higher prices ruled from the opening in sympathy with higher Liverpool quotations and dominating strength at Minneapolis and Chicago, where prices were up two cents and one cent respectively, in late dealings.

Sales of Canadian wheat for export were estimated at 500,000 bushels, double yesterday's trade. Southern interests were on both sides of the market.

Homesickness Leads Youth To Escape And Police Nab Him Asleep In Bed

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 24.

HOMESICKNESS brought about the capture last night of Mike Zebroski, 17, fugitive from Ontario Reformatory at Guelph since Friday. Police surrounded his parents' residence between Alberton and Jerseyville last night and found him sleeping in his bed.

Zebroski was recently sentenced at Toronto to 18 months for alleged participation in the hold-up of a railway constable. John Lynch, an older companion, was sentenced to Kingston Penetentiary for 10 years, Provincial Police said today.

Acting on the theory the lad would try to reach his family, William Oliver, sergeant of Provincial police, accompanied by constable Harry Bennett of Ancaster and provincial constables Don Sherville and John Reazley, entered the farmhouse after the occupants apparently had retired for the night.

Zebroski offered no resistence when the police awakened him, and explained his flight from the reformatory by stating he became homesick and thought a visit home the best cure. He accompanied the police to the stable and showed them where he had hidden his garb.

Zebroski was working in the reformatory kitchen when a cook told him to dump some garbage. He then escaped walking the railway ties friday night toward Troy and then cross country home.

He was held at Provincial Police headquarters here today for guards from the reformatory. . . .

LESS BUTTER

HALIFAX — (CP). — The Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture estimated July production of creamery butter in the province at 846,173 pounds this year, as compared with the 859,313 pounds of the same month last year. The decrease was said to be due to the higher consumption of milk and cream and ice-cream throughout the province this season. Butter prices are the highest since 1930.

FIGHT GYPSY MOTH

ST. STEPHEN, N.B.—(CP).—Entomologists are fighting against further invasion of the gypsy moth insect, first discovered in this district last fall. This is said to be the only part of Canada where the dreaded moth, living on tree leaves, has been found since an infestion in Quebec in 1924.

MARMORA.

LEGION ORANGE BODIES OBSERVE DECORATION DAY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Aug. 24. — Sunday, August 22nd was jointly observed in Marmora by Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion and No. 1 District Centre Hastings Orange Association as Decoration Day and the beautiful weather prevailing ensured the most satisfactory completion of all arrangements.

Legionnaires assembled at the Memorial Hall and headed by Marmora Canadian Legion Band under Assistant Bandmaster G. Woodhouse marched to the Sacred Heart Cemetery where the graves of the following ex-service men were decorated: Frank Bertrand, John O'Neill, A. P. McCallum, William Murphy, Lawlor Shannon, Joseph Reynolds, James Morrison and five others whose names are unknown, besides the graves of Matthew McFarlane and Charles Devine, Civil War veterans.

A short service was conducted by Rev. Father G. T. Martin who also gave an inspiring address on the symbolism of flowers and how we should not cease to think of those who have died.

March To School

The parade then reformed to proceed to the Public School grounds being joined at the intersection of Burstall and Matthew streets by members of the Orange Order. Here a flag covered table served as a rostrum. "Sun of my soul" having been sung as was the succeeding hymn with band accompaniment. Rural Dean A. B. Caldwell offered prayer and spoke briefly. Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth read a portion of Revelations 7 which was followed by the singing of "Blest be the tie that binds." Maj. Rev. E. Harston of Toronto, guest speaker gave a very appropriate address in which he stressed the fact that death does not end human influence or our memory of human lives and it cannot take the soul of man. Concluding prayer and benediction was then taken by Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth.

Marmora Protestant Cemetery was visited and graves of former veterans and members of the L.O.L., L.O.B.A. and L.T.B. were decorated. Graves decorated were as follows: By the Legion—Norman Mitchell, James Archibald, Archie Bowen, Stewart Jones, Fred Simmons, Jonnie Burns and Harold McWilliams. On their family plots, wreaths were placed in rememorance of the following five who are buried in Flanders fields—Samuel Smith, Thomas Smith, Fred Fry, John Fry and David Emmorey.

By The L.O.L.

L.O.L.—John W. Nayler, John Scott, J. C. Bailey, James Nickle, J. Ryder, John Green, George Robson, Thomas Warren, Archie Bowen, G. W. Bleecker, Daniel G. L.O.B.A.—Mrs. Sarah Osborne.

L.T.B.—Mrs. Rose Julian, Mrs. Annie Hamilton, Mrs. Mary Emmorey, Mrs. Emily Horton, Mrs. Mary McGarvey, Mrs. Jane Gray and Adam McGarvey.

As in the Sacred Heart Cemetery sacred selections were played by the band as flowers were deposited on the graves. At the conclusion of the Orange decoration, a circle of the brethren was formed and the special ritual was taken by District Master Murney Roy and Past County Master W. J. Cottrell.

Wreaths At Tablets

The return was then made to the Memorial Hall where wreaths were placed beneath the memorial tablets by Past President L. R. Rundle of Marmora Branch Canadian Legion and Wor. Bro. D. B. Sanderson, W.M. Marmora L.O.L. 319. Capt. Percy Gray incidentally the secretary of the local Legion and L.O.L. who was in charge of the parade extended his thanks and those of the two organizations to those who participated in the parade, local clergy and Major E. Harston and the donors who had so liberally given such choice flowers for the occasion. District Director Jeffrey was in charge of the Orange section of the parade. After dismissal the Marmora Ladies' Auxiliary served lemonade to legionnaires and members of the Orange Order.

OBITUARY

ANNE SULLIVAN.

(Examiner Correspondence)

HASTINGS, Aug. 24.—The death occurred at the Onondoga Hospital in Syracuse, N.Y., on Monday, Aug. 23, at 1 a.m., of Anne Sullivan, in her 82nd year. Her death came after a two months' illness in the hospital, although she had been ailing for two years.

The deceased was born on the homestead in Percy Township on the Hastings-Campbellford road, now occupied by her nephew, Alphonse Sullivan. She moved to Syracuse, N.Y., when she was sixteen.

She leaves to mourn two sisters and one brother: Mrs. P. Barry of Schenectady, N.Y.; Mrs. John Dunlay of Campbellford, and John Sullivan of Hastings.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, from the home of John Sullivan, Warkworth Road, to the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. Interment at Hastings R. C. Cemetery.

NURSE HURT IN CRASH

the ballot, according to the association's constitution.

Beer and Beer Gardens

In declaring himself a candidate, A. Roy Willmott, Cobourg lawyer, said he had supported Conservative standard-bearers in Northumberland for the last nine years. Two years ago he was proposed at the convention which nominated Major J. F. B. Belford in the federal general elections.

"I feel that it is in the interests of our party that a contest for this nomination should take place," Mr. Willmott said. "At the request of a large number of the people of this riding I have decided to enter the field. I feel that I would not be doing my duty to all those people if on any pretext whatever I withdraw my name."

One of Mr. Willmott's allusions to the government was that "Mitchell Hepburn had created a beer garden in the Legislature and a beer garden outside it."

Mr. Willmott is one of the younger lawyers of the district who, since coming to Cobourg twelve years ago, has gained a wide experience in municipal affairs as a member of the town council, subsequently reeve and member of the council of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, and finally as Mayor of Cobourg.

Mr. McArthur, in his brief address to the delegates asked for "one more turn, so I can go out as a victor." He represented Northumberland in the Legislature for four years, but was defeated three years ago by the present member, Harold N. Carr of Campbellford.

Dismissed Registrar

Arthur Willoughby was for years registrar at Colborne until his dismissal when the Hepburn administration came into power. He is a son of the late Senator Dr. W. A. Willoughby, who represented East Northumberland in the provincial house of 25 years and was the first Conservative to be elected to the Ontario Legislature from this riding.

Among those present were Senator John T. Haig of Winnipeg, a native son of Northumberland, who was for 17 years a member of the Manitoba Legislature, son of Joseph Haig, who recently told the Senator that he cast his first vote in the constituency 67 years ago.

Senator Haig, Major J. F. B. Belford and Mr. Ireland addressed the main gathering, while the delegates were voting in the Masonic Hall. The convention was not concluded until nearly 1 a.m. daylight saving time this morning.

Most of the speakers who preceded Hon. Mr. Rowe placed their emphasis on two issues: the amendment to the Assessment Act giving increased aid to Separate Schools, which they said was not "dead" in spite of the government's recission of the measure, and beverage rooms, which were declared to be "out of control."

Hon. Earl Rowe

The convention greeted the new Conservative leader with prolonged cheering and applause when he was introduced by Mr. Ireland before the result of the first ballot reached the chairman's table.

"I do not come before you for your votes and support by trying to out-Hepburn with promises the reckless statements made by the leader of the present government prior to the last elections," Hon. Mr. Rowe said. "I don't think he would have made those wild statements at that time if he had expected to be elected Premier of this province. I am more cautious because I am more confident that after the coming elections I shall be called on to form a new government at Queen's Park."

Mr. Rowe recalled that Mr. Hepburn had promised to peg the debt of Ontario, to reduce the cost of government by 50 per cent., and also reduce the number of civil servants by one-half. The debt of Ontario was $610,000,000 when Mr. Hepburn came into power, and it is now more than $680,000,000 by his own advertisements. He collected $32,000,000 more from the people of Ontario last year, and yet is able to show only $9,000,000 surplus, and he has admitted he has more civil servants now at Queen's Park than at any other time since Confederation, Mr. Rowe stated.

In 1933 the Conservative government collected $50,000,000 in taxes from the people and showed a surplus of $500,000. In 1934 with nine months of Conservative and three months of Hepburn administration there was a substantial increase in the amount of money collected. In 1936 the government took $32,000,000 more than any other government had collected, and this year it would amount to $92,000,000, or $42,000,000 more than the previous government had collected in one year.

In his election promises three years ago, Mr. Hepburn had been particularly solicitous for the "tax-burdened farmers," Mr. Rowe said.

"As tax-payers we expect in return for the money collected from us that services long established in Ontario will be maintained. This government that promised so much to the farmers spent almost $300,000 less than the previous government. Valuable services were discontinued all along the line. Bonuses for better livestock were reduced, grants for agricultural short courses for the benefit of young farmers who can't attend college were reduced. Ontario House in London was sold in the name of economy to save $35,000 a year.

I believe it was the intention of this government to create a political gold pot for election purposes."

Mr. Rowe said Ontario had never before seen such a stagnant Department of Agriculture as the present one directed by Hon. Duncan Marshall whose main achievement was to import a $15,000 bull from Scotland and civil servants from Alberta.

"I would like to ask how many old political ward heelers Mr. Marshall has brought from Western Canada, replacing efficient employees of the Department of Agriculture who had been fulfilling their work well, many of them returned soldiers. It is easy to establish a surplus when you take more money from the people in the form of taxes and give less in return. I am amazed that Mr. Hepburn didn't have a surplus of at least $20,000,000."

The government had spent $1,250,000 less on education, and $1,110,000 less on hospitalization.

"No government in this province has played politics with hospitals," Mr. Rowe continued. "But, immediately with the change of government in 1934 lumber that was piled on for the completion of new wings to hospitals was sold, and the excavations that were dug were abandoned and are there yet. Now, on the eve of an election and with a gold pot at his command, he is talking about plans for hospitals at St. Thomas and Port Arthur, and says he is going to undertake construction to cost $3,500,000 when he spent less than $100,000 for services that had cost $1,110,000."

Mr. Rowe mentioned phases of the hospital services in the province that had been diminished by the present government. In regard to the surplus of $9,000,000, he said that $6,000,000 had been collected more than by the preceding administration from the sale of intoxicating liquor, and $3,500,000 had been "chiselled" dishonestly out of federal relief grants that should have been passed on to the municipalities of the province.

"He called his budget a sunshine budget, but he should have called it a moonshine budget."

Mr. Rowe also scored Premier Hepburn for his succession duty tax collection, declaring that official records of collections were not available and the only estimates made public were "the fabulous sums Mr. Hepburn claims to have collected."

The taxpayer would "soon not have to pay taxes at all," if Mr. Hepburn's figures were correct, and if they increased much more, he said. Mr. Hepburn talked of scandals and frauds in the administration of succession duties branch of the Government, but he had not prosecuted any one nor named any instance of fraud.

"When I am in power every dollar owed to this province will be collected, he declared. "Perhaps the figures will not seem so large as the unpublished figures given by Mr. Hepburn, but they will be accurate."

Friends or Agitators

"In America the workers are asking for a living wage, so Mr. Hepburn says to his capitalist friends: 'Come to Canada and get cheap labor.' The Americans are friends if they come here to buy Canadian land without tender; if 3,000 square miles are sold secretly, without tender, behind closed doors to Mr. Alstead and Mr. Bensenbrunner; but Americans are foreign agitators when they came suggesting better living conditions."

House Is Looted Family On Veranda

Toronto, Aug. 24.

WHILE members of the household were sitting on the front verandah of 573 Lansdowne Ave., yesterday afternoon, burglars entered the house and stole $460 in United States bank notes from a club bag.

Mrs. Van Wicklin, mother of Burton Van Wicklin, tenant of the house, was on the verandah conversing with her daughter-in-law, when the thieves entered a rear door. The money belonging to Mrs. Van Wicklin senior, was in the club bag in the dining room. The bag was opened and the money and three bank books taken. Detective Sinclair found the bank books abandoned in a lane in the rear of the house.

CHILDISH PRANK DESTROYS BARN

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Aug. 24.—A childish prank on the part of his seven-year-old son proved costly for W. Graham, of Pefferlaw, on Sunday. The lad came into the house and informed his father that he had set fire to a straw stack in close proximity to the barn. The father hurried out to find that the fire had gained such progress that it had spread to the barn. It was impossible to stay the flames and the structure, together with a portion of the season's crop, implements, etc., were totally destroyed. The loss is a heavy one, as it is understood no insurance was carried.

A young girl named Long, residing in Lindsay, was viciously attacked by the family pet—a bull dog, at Sturgeon Lake on Sunday. The animal usually of nature, suddenly became enraged, and attacked the girl, tearing the shoes from her. A cottager, noticing the girl's plight ran to her rescue, and had to lasso the dog and drag it away.

Girl Swimmer Hurt

Provincial Constable Clubbe investigated the circumstances surrounding the accident which befell Margaret Wakelin, town, who was injured on Friday while bathing in the upper Scugog. She was painfully injured by the blades of a propellor on a passing launch. No action is being taken in the matter.

Blanch Carnochan, of Haliburton, was viciously attacked by a dog during the week-end and bitten on the face. The little tot was returning home from a visit to a relative when the dog appeared on the walk. She patted it gently when it attacked her. The dog was destroyed.

Transient Public No Good For Homes

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 24.—Rotarian J. D. Thompson of Harrow, Ontario, was the guest speaker at the Club's noonday luncheon held on Monday. Leaving Campbellford fourteen years ago to teach school in Coboconk, the speaker gave his impressions of the country and people as he found them in Harrow, Agincourt and South Porcupine, where he was subsequently employed as school teacher.

The large floating population in the north is probably the main reason why the homes in nthis part of the country lack in the solidity of construction that is found in other parts of Ontario, indicated Mr. Thompson. People buy good cars and furniture, anything that can be moved, but spend little on their homes and for this they give the fact that they don't intend to stay long. Even the children in school when asked why they don't take a greater interest in their school and community improvement give this as their reason. In spite of this the community has progressed to water mains and mail delivery and this largely due to their Chamber of Commerce which has taken an aggressive attitude.

At the conclusion of his address Rotarian Elie Brunelle moved the thanks of the club to the speaker.

The mimic warfare was to test the defences of the city against attack from a foreign enemy.

Present-Day Credit System Scored By Brighton Man Of 93 Summers

BRIGHTON, Aug. 24.—William Breeze, Brighton's oldest citizen, celebrated his 93rd birthday on Friday. Mr. Breeze is remarkably active for his age, taking care of his own garden and mowing his own lawn. He and his wife, who is a few years younger, do all that the average couple many years their juniors do. Mr. Breeze reads without glasses and carries on interesting and intelligent conversation. He scores the present day credit system pretty heavily, thinking that the method of buying on time and buying beyond one's means is responsible for much of the economic distress of today.

William Breeze and his wife have been married for sixty-five years, their anniversary having been celebrated last November. Thirty-three years ago they moved into the house they now occupy on Division street in Brighton. Before that they lived at Hilton, a village three miles north of Brighton and they have always been residents of Brighton township.

of Shanghai and the Woosung vicinity where the Whangpoo meets the Yangtze to form a great estuary of the China Sea.

Great flames began sweeping Pootung, just across the Whangpoo from Shanghai's Bund, before dawn. Seemingly, the Chinese were seeking to burn the great industrial section to the very waterfront rather than permit millions of dollars in property and supplies to fall into Japanese hands.

Woosung was wrecked by guns from the some 100 Japanese warships covering the landing of the reinforcements for the hard-pressed Japanese in the Northern and Eastern sectors of the International Settlement.

Figures Differ

Japanese claimed they had landed 50,000 troops yesterday before today's attempts were made. Chinese asserted no more than 15,000 had been brought ashore and Chinese batteries had taken heavy toll of those.

There was scarcely a house in Woosung untouched by the flames, the multi-million dollar whangpoo docks were heavily damaged; the repair shops of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway were demolished.

Kiaochow Beach, Shanghai's chief amusement centre, across the river from Woosung, was bombed and wrecked by Japanese planes. Some 20 villages near Woosung and Kiaochow were burning.

The list of dead and wounded noncombatants from yesterday's shelling of the heart of the International Settlement mounted steadily. It seemed as though the number of dead from the one shell that wrecked the two great department stores of Sincere Company and the Wing On Company would easily pass 400. More than 1,000 were wounded when the blast shook the intersection of Nanking, Chekiang and Hoopeh Roads.

While the Shanghai Municipal Council sought to fix responsibility police and volunteer workers dug under the piles of masonry and twisted steel to bring out more bodies.

Government authorities in Japan are taking drastic steps to stop abnormal increases in commodity prices and may invoke the anti-profiteering law.

Liquor Reforms

Mr. Rowe has also pledged his party to reforms in the Liquor Control Act administration, and in the Ontario civil service. He has not yet stated what riding he intends to contest. Should he elect to run in Centre Simcoe, that in which he lives, he would oppose Hon. Dr. E. J. Simpson, Provincial Minister of Education.

Premier Hepburn and many of his ministers have already been nominated for re-election. He will be opposed in his home riding of Elgin by N. R. Martin, Elgin dairy farmer. Both he and Mr. Rowe have heavy speaking programs that will see them appealing to the electorate almost every week-night and afternoon from now until polling day.

The Liberals were elected June 19, 1934, having 70 members to the Conservatives' 17 returned. With the exception of two Liberal seats left vacant by death, the party standing is the same as immediately after the election. The C.C.F. holds one seat, while an Independent Liberal and a United Farmers of Ontario representative make up the 90 seats.

Girl Badly Hurt Crash Near Simcoe

SIMCOE, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP) — Suffering a skull fracture and shoulder fracture suffered in a highway accident in North Simcoe Sunday night, Miss Violet Campbell, 18, of Courtland, is in critical condition in hospital. Lloyd Lambert, Courtland, suffered minor injuries. The accident occurred on highway at the Lake Erie and Northern Railway crossing. Lambert and Miss Campbell were riding in a disabled car that was being towed by another car driven by Lambert's brother Gene. As the leading car approached on a downgrade the driver slowed up for the crossing. The tow rope slackened and got around a front wheel of the following car which went out of control and into the deep south ditch.

Pay Your Own Price

IN A large measure, that is what every thrifty buyer does. Of course, the bottom price of most merchandise is definitely fixed by manufacturing and selling costs. But the top price of many articles changes with the calendar!

Right now, for example, August furniture sales are in full swing. Here are tables, chairs, desks, cupboards . . . much of what you've wanted at prices lower than you'd thought to pay. And so with other goods. Seven Are Given Freedom Nine Charges Are Withdrawn Against Textile Strikers

Twelve Charges Remaining Against Nine Accused Are Adjourned.

Thirteen men and three women accused in connection with a near riot at Bonner-Worth Mill of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited during the 8-weeks textile strike recently concluded, surrendered to bail or appeared on adjournment before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning.

Of a total of twenty-one charges involved, nine were withdrawn without costs by the Crown, leaving twelve charges against nine accused adjourned for preliminary hearing on September 1 next.

Alex Welch, United Textile Workers organizer charged with intimidation of workers and assault of Chief Constable Samuel Newhall, and Harvey Murphy of Toronto, president of the Ontario Federation of Unemployment, charged with spreading false news, each obtained renewed bail in the sum of $5,000.

The remaining seven accused, all local people were permitted to go on adjournment, they stand charged as follows: Alphonse Coughlin, two charges of assaulting provincial police officers; Dorothy Walwork, two charges of intimidation and obstructing the Chief Constable in the execution of his duty; Edwin Sanders, assaulting Emmet Travis; and Ethel Easton, Mrs. Edith Frizzelle, Michael English and Gordon Dundas each charged with intimidation of workers.

One of three charges against Alphonse Coughlin that of assaulting Mayor George Macdonald was withdrawn, as also was one of two charges against Gordon Dundas. Others against whom charges were withdrawn without costs were: Clifford Hutchinson, Joseph Vinette, James Dorrington, Gordon Grisdale, Harry Walsh, Ray O'Brien, and Harry Brooks.

TOURIST CAR IN HASTINGS SMASH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 24.—Betty Hart, of Columbus, Ohio, who has been spending the summer here with her parents, while driving on the Hastings-Campbellford road on Saturday evening at 10.30 p.m., had a collision with a car driven by a Campbellford man. Fenders of the Campbellford car were pretty badly damaged and the front left fender of Miss Hart's car.

The accident took place near the farm of John Gorman about four miles from Hastings. No one was injured other than a shaking up. Provincial Officer Campbell was summoned and as a result, Miss Hart gets a new fender. The Campbellford car is said to have been using both sides of the road and its actions puzzling.

MARETTA GRAY

MILLBROOK, August 24.—The death of Maretta Gray, in her thirty-first year, which took place on Thursday at the Muskoka Sanitarium, cast a gloom over the entire community. Deceased, who was the youngest daughter of Mrs. Wentworth Gray, and the late Mr. Gray, was born and brought up at Millbrook, and was a general favorite her cheerful and unselfish disposition and ambitious outlook upon life, winning for her a high place in the esteem and affection of all who knew her.

Receiving her education at the local Public and Continuation Schools, Miss Gray attended the Peterborough Normal School, and taught first at Hinden Hill, twenty miles north of Minden; other schools where she filled the position of teacher included Pine Grove, Pallis Line, and Realboro, and she had accepted a place on the teaching staff of the Lindsay Public School, two years ago, when failing health compelled relinquishment of active duties, and a term of treatment at the Muskoka Hospital.

Disappointed last fall at not having regained sufficient strength to return to the teaching profession, Maretta took up a business course by correspondence during the winter months, but a severe illness with pleurisy left after effects that made it necessary in June to return to the Sanitarium, and in less than two months the end came.

The immediate surviving relatives include her mother; three brothers, Dr. Alvin, of Victoria, B.C.; Henry and George at home; and two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Acton, of Detroit, and Mrs. Russell Smith, Millbrook. Previously deceased were two brothers, Maurice and Cecil, and one sister, Kathleen; there are a number of nieces and nephews. Deceased was brought up in the Anglican church, of which she was a loyal member, active in the Sunday School and A.Y.P.A., at one time filling capably the office of president of the St. Thomas' Young People's organization, removal to other places of residence and finally failing health compelling cessation of such activities locally.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from the family residence, Kling street, west, on Saturday at 2.30 p.m., the service being conducted by Venerable Archdeacon Simpson, B.A., rector of the parish of Cavan, assisted by Rev. H. R. Williams, B.A., of Grace Presbyterian church, and Rev. A. L. Biscoe of St. Andrew's United church. The pall-bearers were all cousins and included: Stephen Tate, of Toronto; Garland Cathcart, of Orono, Wesley Cathcart, of Kendal; Harvey Aiken, Millbrook; Lloyd Dunbar and Elwood Gray, of Perrytown.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful and besides those from the family, relatives and personal friends were wreaths from St. Thomas' Sunday School, and the public school at Plainville, where Mr. George Gray is teacher. Interment was in the family burial plot at the Presbyterian cemetery.

Attending the funeral were friends and relatives from Lindsay, Toronto, Reaboro, Port Hope, Peterborough, Omemee, Kendal, Orono, Uxbridge, Detroit, and other outside points.

Famous Pilots Begin Search For Russian Fliers

BOB RANDALL

JAMES MATTERN

JOE CROSSON

Chartered by the Russian Embassy at Washington, a Fairchild aeroplane piloted by Bob Randall, veteran northland pilot, has joined in the search for the six missing Russian aviators, down somewhere in the Arctic wastes. Joe Crosson, hero of many northern rescues and the man who flew the bodies of Will Rogers and Wiley Post back to the United States, has also joined in the search. Rescued by Sigismund Levanevsky, leader of the lost aeroplane, when forced down in the north in 1933, James Mattern is using his $125,000 "flying gas tank" in an effort to find the missing aviators. Mattern is planning to fly to Moscow over the North Pole, though United States federal authorities have refused to approve the flight.

HAND IS SEVERED BY FREIGHT CAR

Charles Dwyer, 46, 230 George street had his right hand completely severed at the wrist when he was accidentally caught under a freight car on the C.P.R. tracks at the east end of Sherbrooke street Monday afternoon.

According to an official of the company, Dwyer was trespassing on the tracks and was caught under the car when he apparently failed to observe that a locomotive was about to couple to the car.

Dwyer, employee of Peterborough Lumber Company, was rushed by ambulance to Nicholls Hospital. This morning his condition was reported to be as well as could be expected.

Views Of Ireland Presented Rotary

Interesting lantern slide views of Ireland were presented Rotarians by Rev. E. W. Young of St. Andrew's United Church at luncheon Monday. Many of the ancient architectural wonders of the country, a number of fine scenic views and many views depicting Irish peasant life were afforded by the slides.

A native of Ireland, Rev. Young chose for the occasion scenes with which he was personally familiar and provided a verbal commentary as the slides were shown.

A new member, Ian McCrea, assistant to the works' manager at the Canadian General Electric, was introduced to the club during the meeting.

ANSWERS LAST CALL.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 24 (AP)—Mickey has answered his last fire call.

"Killed in line of duty" is an epitaph prepared for Mickey—a two-year-old cat mascot, which slid down the brass pole with firemen.

He leaped for the pole and missed, falling 16 feet and breaking his neck.

465 CARS IN TWO HOURS

Indication of the volume of traffic which the Highway 28 exit from the north of the city bears is to be obtained from a count made last Sunday afternoon by a Water street resident. Between 2.40 p.m. and 4.40 p.m. Sunday afternoon, 335 automobiles passed north on the street and 110 south, a total of 465.

TRAFFIC BEEN HEAVY.

Thorough reconstruction of the surface of the road winding from Hunter Street to the top of Armour Hill has been carried out. The badly pitted road surface was torn up, relevelled and rolled. Seasonal traffic on the hill has been heavy, totalling several hundred cars a day.

PERMANENT PEACE.

J. L. Cohen, legal adviser to Auburn and Bonner-Worth strikers during the extended dispute which ended last week, expressed the conviction today a permanent peace had finally been reached. Operations were reported progressing smoothly at both plants today. According to schedule, the night shift resumed work at the Auburn at 6 o'clock Monday evening.

HEAVY NIGHT FOG.

Heavy fog in the country around midnight and the early hours this morning was an evidence of approaching autumn. Mists hung over the river, the swamps and low-lying fields, and laid a blanket on miles of road. The "flat" road from the city to Bensfort Bridge through Otonabee traversed one of the densest of the fog areas.

A DUET

A certain Lakefield housewife—and there must have been others, was heard to express the other day very dire desires—the mutterings sounded something like "murder," upon the passing of a motorcycle. Its muffler was not in too good state of repair, but from the serene look on the driver's face, was bothering him not a whit. However, seated behind him was the main source of the ruckus, his pal, and believe it or not he was yodelling—the bumps bringing out some exceedingly startling effects, and combined with the roar of the exhaust it was a duet the devil himself would have been proud to incorporate in his satanic orchestrs.

HUNTING OF DUCKS WILL BE EARLIER

The duck hunting season is to open earlier this Fall according to intimation from the Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries, received here today.

Secretary E. A. Outram of the local Fish and Game Protective Association stated he had received notification from the Department that throughout the Central Ontario district Highway No. 7 is designated as the dividing line between two duck hunting areas.

In territory north of Highway 7 the duck hunting season will be open September 15 to November 15, while in the area south of Highway 7, the season will extend from October 1 to November 30.

On Monday a shipment of 2500 brown trout yearlings was received here and a like number was also received today, making a total of 5000 for placement in local waters. The yearling trout used for restocking purposes came from Codrington Hatchery near Cobourg. They were placed in Eels Creek, Nogies Creek, Mississauga River and Sandy Lake. They average from four to six inches in length, it was stated.

11 PLANES READY TO HUNT RUSSIANS

BARROW, Alaska, Aug. 24, (CP)—Eleven planes were ready to participate in a widespread search today for the six lost Soviet transpolar fliers.

Generally bad weather, extending from Moscow, where three planes awaited a takeoff to follow a course taken by the vanished Sigismun Levanefsky to the North American continent, kept fliers grounded.

Levanefsky and five companions disappeared Aug. 13 shortly after crossing the North Pole on a projected flight from Moscow to Fairbanks, Alaska, enroute to Oakland, Calif.

Sir Hubert Wilkins, noted explorer and pilot Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, flying a 17-ton craft purchased especially for the search by the Russian government, yesterday flew about 750 miles northwest of Coppermine, N.W.T., Wilkins reported finding no trace of the lost plane.

Farmers Are Busy Hauling In Grain

Thousands of loads of oats and barley were hauled from fields to barns throughout the district Monday after a rather general suspension of harvesting operations for nearly two weeks. Extra work was entailed on the farms recently in scattering stooks of grain to let them dry. Some farmers reported that oats were beginning to sprout from the persistent moisture and heat. On nearly every farm between Peterborough and Hastings Monday afternoon farmers were hauling in grain, mostly oats.

STEEL STRIKERS DOUBLE PICKETS FOLLOWING RIOT

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24 (AP) — Women and children joined their men folks on the picket lines at the strike-bound Heppenstall Steel Company today as union leaders expressed fear of a renewal of yesterday's riots in which 11 were injured.

William Hart, head of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee local, placed 700 pickets at the plant, asserting he had received "a tip" non-strikers would again rush the gates, padlocked by strikers.

Approximately 50 pickets were on duty yesterday as four carloads of non-strikers led by C. W. Heppenstall, Jr., company vice-president, attempted to break the lines and open the gates.

Five strikers, an equal number of non-strikers and a policeman at Lawrenceville where the plant is located, were battered in the hand-to-hand fighting with bricks, clubs, bottles and fists.

BABY IS ABDUCTED CHICAGO STREET MIDST OF CROWD

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP)—Police officials pressed every available man into the search today for a three-months-old girl and the abductor who snatched her from a baby carriage in view of hundreds of shoppers.

The child, Diane Carol, disappeared from the carriage outside a grocery while her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Lucas, 22, was making purchases yesterday.

Mrs. Lucas waited nearly an hour before notifying police. She said she thought her husband, Herman, 31, had taken the baby as a joke during her 10 minutes absence. Police found the father at home, unaware of the abduction.

Investigators expressed doubt the infant was taken for ransom. They said the parents were in moderate circumstances.

Police Sergt. Michael Ahern advanced the theory the girl was taken by a childless couple or by some mother who recently had lost a child.

Mrs. Lucas suggested another theory when she told police a former woman friend of her husband had tried to break up their romance before their marriage Aug. 8, 1934. The woman was sought for questioning.

Hull Bank Holdup Suspect Arrested

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP)—Norman Mackenzie, wanted in connection with the holdup and robbery of the Banque Provinciale in Hull, Que., last July 26, was arrested here Saturday night and taken to the Quebec city yesterday, police announced today.

Mackenzie was arrested on a warrant charging him and two other men with holding up, while armed, the Banque Provinciale and stealing $20,000. The two others still are sought by police who said they expected to make an arrest within a few days.

With a woman, Mackenzie was found in an east end rooming house. He surrendered quietly and both were taken back to Hull.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, August 25

An interesting day, with matters taking unusual turns out of the routine, may be presaged from the ruling lunar and mutual aspects. While employment may have its minor anxieties, in other directions there are important developments probably calling for change or travel, causing expenditures or extravagances out of the customary schedule. These may be deemed ambitious or unique schemes, which might have to do with the emotional pasture or some novel creative talent.

Those whose birthday it is may not be surprised should a matter quite out of the routine develop during the year. It might be the expression of an unusual talent, with modernistic trends, or an emotional experience of intriguing or inspiring aspect. But all may involve change, expense, extravagance, with social prestige and much pleasure being derived.

A child born on this day may be endowed with gifts of an original creative and ambitious nature which may place it in the public eye. It may be conspicuous for some subtle singular or startling discovery or craft. It may have strong emotional and inspirational urges.

JAP PRESS ASKS WAR BE EXPLAINED

TOKYO, Aug. 24.—(CP-Havas)—The newspaper Asahi, mouthpiece of the moderate political elements, today criticized Japan's policy in China as the government pressed hasty preparations for next month's special Diet session at which new war credits and economic legislation will be sought.

Demanding the government clarify the purpose of the Sino-Japanese conflict, Asahi emphasized the variations in the official statements which have been made. It declared that on Aug. 11 the government said it would "take preventive measures to block a clash between Chinese and Japanese and to pacify North China."

When hostilities nevertheless broke out, the government spoke of "legitimate defence," Asahi said. "Later it was announced in the Diet that "Japan must punish Chian in order to make her consider."

More recently still, Asahi added, Premier Fumimaro Konoye told the press "we are obliged to punish China, but the final aim is cooperation."

Asahi concluded the basic purpose of the war was punitive.

HINT ARMY PLANS OUST GEN. BOOTH

LONDON, Aug. 24.(CP-Havas)—The Daily Herald reported to-day leading officers of the Salvation Army, uneasy over the "apparent reluctance" of General Evangeline Booth, commander of the Army, to retire at the age of 73, which she will reach next year, are threatening to depose her if she does not step out willingly.

The newspaper said the officers would summon the High Council of the Army into session to oust her as it did her brother, the late General Bramwell Booth, who was retired in 1929.

The regulation fixing 73 as the retirement age "for the time being" was established by General Edward Higgins, General Evangeline Booth's predecessor as commander.

General Booth will be 73 on Christmas Day, 1938. She is required to call a meeting of the High Council six months before that date for election of a successor.

Some commissioners fear she may attempt to change the regulation, as is her power, for 'she apparently feels she is strong enough and active enough to continue as Chief," the Daily Herald said.

LIBERALS TO NAME THEIR CANDIDATE ON SEPTEMBER 1

Peterborough Liberals announce their nominating convention for Wednesday, September 1, in the Canadian Legion Hall at 2 p.m. standard time, when they will also hold their annual meeting for the election of officers and other business. Members of the party mention a number of prominent possibilities for the convention honors including Dr. Donald Munro of Warsaw, Alex. L. Elliott, Charles S. Tanner of Lakefield, W. A. Anderson of Otonabee, T. J. Carley, W. F. Huycke and others, but opinion at present seem to be merely canvassing the field without any definite trend.

From the Conservative camp it was learned to-day that T. P. Lancaster of Havelock, present representative of the riding in the Legislature will seek renomination. He won the last election by defeating James Hawthorne of Dummer. There have been some rumors that Mr. Lancaster might seek the nomination of the Conservatives of the federal constituency of Hastings-Peterborough against Rork Ferguson, M.P., but to-day's information indicates that he will remain in the provincial field.

Where They Get 'Em.

(Examiner Correspondence)

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 24. — An early Monday morning catch resulted in one muskie and seven bass, landed near the dock by Mr. Ted McIlvena of Peterborough and his niece, Miss Lenore McIlvena, of Warsaw. The muskie weighed 9 lbs., 17½" in length, girth 13". Two of the bass tipped the scales 3 lbs. each, one of which was landed by Miss Lenore, who is holidaying at Beau Bejour with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver McIlvena. Bait used was live minnows. The same party was successful last year fishing at the same place.

LINDSAY, Aug. 24.—The largest maskinonge caught here in some years was landed Sunday by L. Mansfield, Toronto. The fish tipped the scales at 35 pounds and is entered in the anglers' competition at Fenelon Falls. Mansfield, holidaying at Sturgeon Lake, also caught a two five-pound bass.

(Examiner Correspondence)

HASTINGS, Aug. 24.—A fishing party composed of Henry Ostheim, Buffalo, N.Y., George Hunter of Toronto and Owen Phillips of Waverly Lodge, who guided the party, were successful in bringing in one of the nicest catches of fish on record for this village one day last week. They went out in the morning and fished two miles east of the village on the Trent and returned in late afternoon with three muskies, one weighing 17¾ lbs., sixteen pickerel between two and five pounds and two yellow bass two and four pounds. The day before they caught one muskie and 14 pickerel.

DOG DISRUPTS TRAFFIC.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24. (AP)—A new obstacle—terrior trouble disrupted traffic on the Broad street subway.

Romping up and down the tracks at the height of the rush hour, a perky wire-haired terrier pup held up trains for 17 minutes while subway employees sought vainly to catch him.

The dog disappeared from the tunnel as mysteriously as he had entered.

Gets Two Dips Out Of Rowboat Finally Lost The 'Lunge And Line

prise fish story of the season was told to The Examiner today, and the man who told the tale declares that there are plenty at Young's Point who will verify it.

On Sunday a man was seen out fishing in a rowboat, at Young's Point near the bridge. All of a sudden he got a lunge on the line and not allowing his fish to play, he immediately started to haul it in. The lunge came along readily until about 25 feet from the boat when it took a side jump and into the water went the fisherman. He struggled back into the boat and much to his surprise he found the line still wound around his hand. He started to pull him in again and once again he brought him up to the boat. The side flip came again and another dip for the fisherman but when he struggled back into the boat the second time he had lost his line, plug and fish.

French Pilot At Montreal Show

Among the arrivals at New York aboard the S.S. Paris were Mr. E. Dewoitine, well-known French aeroplane builder (LEFT) and Marcel Doret, famous French aviator. Both men were on their way to Montreal where Doret will take part in the Franco-Canadian air pageant to be held there on August 28 and 29. Marcel Doret, together with two other French pilots, will give a performance of racing and aerobatics at St. Hubert airport, scene of several similar shows in the past.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

NIGHTLY now the Orfuns will hold practises at six at King Edward Park. All those wanting tryouts are invited to come out and get in shape. Workouts will not be too strenuous at first, and the big squad will gradually work into shape in the next two weeks—then moving over to Riverside Park. Coach Bill Turnbull should have a big squad to select his 1937 crew from with plenty of experienced gridders battling for berths. While Orfuns will no doubt be strong again, they must not get the idea that the group race will be a romp for 'em. Every squad in the circuit will be tough and no fooling. Should have definite dope on the teams in the Central grouping in a day or two. Anywhere from four to six clubs.

* * * * *

AMONG the huskies who will tryout with the local rugbyists are Joe (Swede) Begley and Ford (Mike) Loucks, of Lindsay last year. Both ought to help a lot. Also Joe Jakafby, chunky righthand heaver of the Petes. And maybe Ken Long., big first-sacker of the local ballsters. Though the latter isn't sure yet if he'll be here this autumn. A fine fellow, Ken has been trying too hard to live up to advance hitting notices and the pressure didn't help his batting eye any. But he played a good game, nevertheless, and didn't do any squawking. We'd like to see him stick around.

THERE is a lacrosse match tonight in Wellington, Auburns meeting the Flying Rovers of Belleville there in a sudden-death game to declare a league finalist against the Norwood-Oshawa victor. The Woollens should cop the nod handily, while Oshawa should win in their serial, thus throwing the tough 222-ers and the classy locals into a nifty final series. The ultimate winner will stagger into O.A.L.A. intermediate playdowns. Friday night here sees an exhibition tilt betwixt New Toronto and Auburns.

* * * * *

DON'T forget the pro ball game next Saturday here between Knotty Lee's Colts of Ogdensburg, N.Y.a.k, and Smiths Falls. It'll be at three bells in Riverside and is a transferred Can.-Am. loop fixture. Run off in connection with the Smiths Falls' C.P.R. employees excursion which comes to Peterborough that day. The ball game ought to pack in the cash customers, and it'll be a treat to see two clubs that can really hammer the old apple into a jelly. This pro loop is a hitters' league, most of their games seeing some fancy scores hung up with flocks of extra-base blows. Fielders are a dime a dozen in pro company but it is the clouters who cop the jobs.

KINGSTON PONIES beat Napanee, 9-5, at home last night to go into a first-place tie with Oshawa. Jamieson allowed five hits and had five errors behind him as Spratt was nicked for 10 bingles and had better backing. Now Oshawa and Kingston will have to meet in a sudden-death tilt to settle first place. An executive meeting is being held in Belleville this p.m. to arrange for this sudden-death game and the semi-final and final C.O.B.L. series. The Petes will go into the semi-finals either late this week or early next, but of course they don't know yet which team they'll meet. C.O.B.L. must have a winner by Sept. 11th to go on in Ontario senior playdowns. Ed. Riley and Jim Dorris of the locals will attend tonight's meeting.

WESTCLOX gals won the loop softball title in Cobourg last e'en by a 16-5 secore. It ended in disorder when Manager Ernie Foote of Cobourg was chased from the game by ye umps and called his team off the field to start the ninth. Fans swarmed out and police had to step in to protect the arbiters. The latter waited 10 minutes for the Lakeshore lasses to return and then awarded the game to Westclox. The latter outfit were easy winners anyway, with an 11-run lead going into the final frame. This is the second time disgruntled Cobourg fans have mobbed the Westclox squad and the umps—and the local officials blame the Cobourg manager for inciting the rabid rooters. More will be heard about this trouble. Meantime, Westclox play Oshawa here Wednesday night—what time is it?—at the Bowl in the first of the P.W.S.U. playdowns, return game being Saturday in Oshawa.

* * * * *

TONIGHT at 5.30 o'clock in Central, Motorists meet Westclox in one or two games—playoff games to decare an O.A.S.A. team. Game or games will be seven-inning affairs. One win for Westclox will end it, but if Motorists win both, these teams clash again tomorrow afternoon at 1.30, the winner then going to Belleville in the evening for an O.A.S.A. playdown game. Seems Motorists lodged a protest over the last game, saying it ended in a 9-9 tie and defying the loop to prove otherwise, since there was no official scorer! The executive considered the matter last night and ordered it replayed tonight. Since they must have a team in Belleville tomorrow e'en, three games may have to be played here tonight and tomorrow afternoon. Some fun! So it's at 5.30 tonight in seven innings—and maybe two games—and there'll be an official scorer on deck this time.

QUINTE scribe says Auburns are so sure of themselves tonight in their game against Belleville that they're banking three games on the one tonight—a postponed tilt and two semi-final playoffs. A loss for the locals will put them right out of the playoffs for the year and send the Rovers into the finals. He says it is a straight case of five to one odds in favor of Belleville. "Auburns are either awfully good or at least they think they are," saith the scribe. Yeah, they are quite good and the Rovers aren't so hot, that's the way it is, pal. Devoting too much of his valuable column to this humble critic, he denies our hint that Umpire Ken Colling fears to ump a ball game in Peterborough. We are glad to hear it as local fans have always taken kindly to Quinte arbiters—despite minor situations surrounding Umpires Thomas in the palmy days of Goyer, et al, and Woodley in more recent years.

ROSENEATH FALLS TO GRAFTON 8-6

ROSENEATH, Aug. 24. —In a play-off game between Roseneath and Grafton Saturday afternoon on the former's diamond, Roseneath suffered defeat by the score of 8-6.

It was a pitchers' battle between Smoke and McMann, each having 12 strikeouts to his credit. Grafton got an early lead, 3 runs in the 1st inning on 3 walks, 2 hits and 2 errors and added another run in the 2nd inning on 4 hits. After that Smoke, of Roseneath, held them until the 8th inning, when after a bad decision by the base umpire and after much disputing by the home team, Grafton got the jump and scored 4 runs. Roseneath got a run in the 1st inning, one in the 2nd and 3 in the fifth, which put them one up, holding this lead until the disastrous 8th. They managed to get 1 run in the 9th.

Hefty Willow Work.

Dr. Morin led the home team at bat with 3 hits and a walk out of 5 times up. McMillan and Loukes each had 2 hits out of 5 up. Marsden and Smoke had a triple apiece. Cochrane, Immel, McMann and Smith each had 2 hits apiece for the winners. The line-ups:

Roseneath— Loukes 3b, Tucker ss, Morin rf, McMillan cf, Marsden 1b, Smoke p, Simpson c, R. Brown 2b, Halstead lf, M. D. Brown and S. Thackeray batted in the 9th for K. Brown and Halstead.

Grafton— Beatty rf, Smith cf, Brown ss, Cochrane c, Immell lf, Robins 2b, Lawless 1b, Phillips 3b, McMann p.

Score by innings:

Grafton	310 000 040—8
Roseneath	100 020 001—5

Umpires—McCann at plate; Gordon on bases.

Winnipeg Bolsters Lineup For Grid Title Comeback

Regina Riders and Calgary Bronks Also Strengthening Teams.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24 (CP).—With the three Western Interprovincial Football Union clubs rebuilding their already powerful machines, Winnipeg Blue Bombers planned carefully and grimly today to recapture the Western championship they lost last autumn to Regina Roughriders.

Kings of Canadian football in 1936, Winnipegs were blasted from the pedestal by Dean Griffing's Regina steamroller in the 1936 Western Conference playoffs. Riders are rated as powerful this year and a new challenge appears in a revamped and undoubtful stronger Calgary team, third member of the Union.

Bombers hope, however, to present a potential title team when they meet Calgary Bronks here under floodlights September 3 in the first game of the 12-game Conference schedule. They aim, too, to regain the Dominion crown which went to Sarnia Imperials last year when Regina failed to enter the East-West final.

Import Americans.

Three former United States stars of the 1936 Peg machine have left the club but three new American gridders are expected to more than fill their shoes.

Chief loss to the Winnipegs is the departure of Rebholz, former captain and forward-passing wizard. Other absentees are Pete Somers, high-stepping backfielder from Minnesota, and Joe Perpich, substitute outside wing.

Recruits are Art Stevenson, Nebraska triple-threat; Martin Gainor, dynamic middle-winger from University of North Dakota; and Ole Midgarten from Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., who will replace the retiring veteran, Roxy Adelman, as snapback.

Coach Bob Fritz and Assistant Coach Bert Oja believe Midgarten will start at centre, Oja and Bill Ceretti, inside wings, Gainor and big Lou Mogul, middle wings, and Jeff Nicklin and Bud Marquart at outside berths.

Number 71

In golf it is just as important to avoid making mistakes as it is to make good shots. Obviously none of us can get around the course without making some mistakes. The main point is to handle our mistakes intelligently.

One opportunity to do this is had in connection with penalties. When you have incurred a penalty the best thing to do is to take it immediately. For example, when your ball goes into a trap your first thought should be about getting into the clear again, not about getting distance from the hazard or trying to put the ball within inches of the flag.

The trap is placed on the course to penalize a bad shot.

If you have sent your ball off line you should stand ready to accept some penalty. By trying to get off without said penalty you are just kidding yourself, because you will pay a bigger fine in the end. It is most difficult to be philosophical about reversals on the course, but that is part of the game.

Even if you have been successful in getting good shots out of sand traps, you should not continue to tax your luck, for sooner or later you will pay the price. Golf is, above all things, a game of averages, and you can't beat the law of averages.

Lawn Bowling

LOOKING OVER our lists of tournaments posted up at the club house we find that our open doubles for tomorrow is the only tournament advertised for this Wednesday in the Central Ontario district. This should help us to have a large entry—and besides for the first time we are playing for the Empress Hotel shield. Last year we had 54 entries at this tournament and we are anxious to have just as many this time. Get a partner and telephone us your entry. The prizes are of excellent value, and remember this will be the last half-holiday of the season. The first draw will be made at 1.30 p.m. D.S.T.

ANOTHER GOOD crowd turned out to our twilight doubles last (Monday). These events are about the most popular tourney we have. The next one on Monday, September 13 will be run the same way, only it will be wide open—choose any partner you may. There was some big scoring last night: Fitzpatrick and Garner, getting a big seven in the first round, while Oke and Bennewith, and Gimblett and Cornell each got the possible 8 in the last round. We believe this to be a record, one seven and two eights and all in one evening.

MAYBE WE have gone a little hot on rules lately but it is part of the game, and rules should be studied and understood by all. Last night we deliberately and intentionally checked up on one rule that was abused by nine out of ten games played. It reads: "In all cases must the ditch be kept free of all foreign oostacles and it is the duty of the skips to see that this is done". Unfortunately this rules seems to be overlooked, even by our oldest and most experienced bowlers. The ditches were littered, last night, with score boards, bowls cases, bowling nets, mats and dead bowls. It might be that many a good toucher may be called dead by coming in contact with these foreign objects.

Winners

1—J. Sedgwick and R. Payne — Each leather bags.
2—W. Oke and H. Bennewith—Each leather bags.
3—J. Fitzpatrick and H. Garner—Each suit case.
4—J. Cullen and R. Hutchinson—Each electric lamp.
5—J. T. Braund and T. M. Fodden —Each brush and comb set.

LEAFS ELIMINATED IN SOUTHEND RACE

KEENE, Aug. 24.—Monday evening the Keensters eliminated the Maple Leafs by a score of 13 to 6, thus qualifying to meet De Laval in the Southend League final. A fair crowd saw some hefty clouting and startling plays. Fielding features were provided by Arnold Nelson, Ivan Fletcher and Holden.

Don McCarthy allowed 7 scattered hits, walked 6 and whiffed 5 batters, while Tom Cavanaugh for the Leafs was hit freely for 13 hits, walked 1 and struck out 3.

The power behind the bats were: For the losers T. Cavanaugh and J. Corbett got 2, the former getting a double, while Hatton connected for a triple. C. Gillespie got 3 hits while O. McCarthy, J. Gall and B. Renwick for 2 apiece. C. Gillespie and D. McCarthy got a triple and double respectively. For Gillespie's crew, Pearson shone in shortstop for the losers. Umpires, Jimmy McMartin on bases and Bernie Ashmore at the plate. Line-ups:

C.O.B.L. Notes

Final standing in C.O.B.L. schedule:

	P	W	L
Oshawa	24	18	8
Kingston	24	16	8
Petes	22	9	14
Napanee	23	6	17

The two top teams are tied and an extra game will be necessary to settle first place. The Napanee-Petes' game will not be played, having no bearing on the final standing. The Petes go into C.O.B.L. semi-finals against the team which finishes second, while the team which finishes first meets the semi-final winner in the league finals.

A meeting of the Central League executive is being held in Belleville tonight to decide when the Oshawa-Kingston game will be played to settle first place and regarding the semi-final and final league series dates and grounds. The league must send a winner into O.B.A.A. playdowns by September 11. The Petes may not play this week or, at any rate, not till later in the week.

GIANTS MAY GET NATIONAL FLAG ON HOME GROUNDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(CP)—The Giants may have their backs to the wall, but at least it's their own wall.

And that's something even though New York's second-string candidates for a five-cent world series aren't the iron-clad invincibles in their home Polo Grounds that the sure-fire Yankees are in their ball yard just across the Harlem River.

The Giants have lost more than twice as many home games—22 to 10—as has the Ruppert riot squad. Even so their record there is better than on the road.

The short targets in right and left field, familiar to Mel Ott and Co., may stand the Terrymen in good stead as, today, they face an 11-game stand against the west that started with a brief but potentially decisive two-game set-to with the Cubs.

Hubbell To Open

Charley Grimm's Bruins go into the opening game, against meal-ticket Carl Hubbell, still holding that four-game lead with which they left Chicago a week ago. A strong finish against the Reds after a poor start against the Pirates kept their margin safe, with additional help from the weather man, who chipped in with buckets full of rain that washed the Giants out of double-headers with the Phillies two days in a row.

The good news that Ripper Collins might be back in another two weeks spurred on the Chicagoans as they came to town. The Giants, on the other hand, had three of their front-line performers on the doubtful list—Rowdy Dick Bartell, their pepper-pot shortstop; Slick Castleman, who has to pitch in a harness if at all, and Sam Leslie, the slugging first baseman.

The Yanks, swinging into the west for the last time and stacking up against the White Sox, are in much better shape to sew up once and for all that American League bunting the boys have been draping around their necks since 'way back when.

Westclox	4	4	0	2
Omemee	4	2	2	2
Motorists	3	1	2	3
Young Petes	3	0	3	3

Westclox beat Young Petes, 14-7, last night at Central to eliminate the Y.P. boys in the round-robin race for the men's city softball trophy. Three teams still remain in the running. The Baptie bunch used three pitchers for the practice: Nalsh, Sturgeon and Currie; while Fleming went the route for the losers. Ike O'Leary led Young Petes at bat with four hits in five times, while Mike O'Leary got four for six for the winners and P. Calladine a single and two doubles. The teams:

Westclox: Dormer 3b, Starr c, ss, Playford cf, O'Leary ss, lf, Currie rf, p; Ellis 1b, Stanger 2b, Sturgeon lf, p, Nalsh p, Calladine c.

Joe Louis Finishes First Prep Training

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Aug. 24—(AP)—With 74 rounds of boxing against a capable group of sparring partners behind him, Joe Louis closed his ring work today in preparation for his defence of the heavyweight championship against Tommy Farr at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

There has been no breaking in the boxing routine since the champion walked out for his first round against Pal Silvers July 31. The pre-arranged schedule called for 80 rounds in the training ring and six today will make that total.

Louis has gone through his training routine without an injury and without annoyances or worries. He has had some tough workouts against a rought-and-ready trio of sparmates. Silvers, Tiger Haraton and George Nicholson. His hitting and timing should be properly attuned when he steps into the ring.

Sports Spice

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP).—Look for the fur to fly when the Giants and Cubs hook up at the Polo Grounds today.....The smallest turnout of visiting scribes at an important heavyweight bout since Braddock beat Baer will see Louis and Farr....The dolls are ago because Jim London is back in United States.....Looks like the weather man isn't going to give Mike Jacobs much of a break Thursday night.

Our number one pitcher in baseball is Carl Hubbell, with Diz Dean second....As the date of the fight near, it looks more and more like a $250,000 gross for Louis and Farr. Among the ex-champs at the ringside will be Jack Dempsey, James J. Braddock, Jack Sharkey and Max Baer....Bet you Braddock rates as many cheers as Dempsey when they are introduced from the ringside.... The Giants front office is getting turned good an dired of denying that new Terry contract report and may make it official any hour now.

Only superstition of Tony Lazzeri, Yankee second sacker, is a clean home plate....He deliberately kicks dirt over it every time he's in the batter's box . . . Yes, the umps get sore....The Marquis of Queensbury, grandson of the guy who wrote the boxing rules, arrives tomorrow for Louis and Farr bout. Everyone is glad to see Ernie Lombardi (he has the largest hands in baseball) having such a swell year with the disappointing Cincinnati Reds.

KINGSTON SOCCER CLUB HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

The Peterborough C.C.F. club were given permission to play Kingston soccer club here on Saturday afternoon at six o'clock in the evening. It was suggested that there be a game in the afternoon but the other local clubs preferred to concede a game so that every financial assistance be given the Politicians. The visitors defeated the local boys when they met them in the Limestone city a few weeks ago. Arrangements have been made so that King Edward Park will be in good shape.

Many local fans will be sorry to hear that Tommy Foster of the Canada Packers tore a ligament in his leg in a recent game which necessitates him being confined to his home. Perhaps, he may be compelled to rest the injury for at least, four weeks.

A game has been scheduled for this Thursday evening between the Canadian General and the Canada Packers. This is the last league match, providing that the Electrics can field a full quota, on that date, if not they will notify the Canada Packers club also the Association secretary and the press. If the C.G.E. defeats the Packers it will be necessary to have a deciding game. The team with the most number of points is the winner—not the best average in goals—it is only used in the case of relegation and promotion in international ruling.

A special practice game has been scheduled for Wednesday night for the C.C.F. players in preparation for the tussle on Saturday night. All signed players please report as early as possible.

A committee was appointed to consider the question of a field day with many attractions added to it to make it attractive. One of the features being the Soap Box Derby, the greasy pole, boxing entertainment and other interesting features.

JUNIOR BALL GAME IS UNDER PROTEST

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 24.—(CP)—The Belleville Kiwanis and Peterborough Rotary Junior O.B.A. play-off game schedule for Belleville Monday was postponed due to a protest entered by Cobourg against the Peterborough team. Cobourg alleged Peterborough played a player against them who was over age.

A meeting of the Lakeshore loop will be held tonight (Tuesday) in Peterborough to untangle the situation.

The O.B.A. advised Peterborough to play Belleville and barring Pete Vitarelli from competition in playdowns, Belleville winning the first game 6-5. Whether Peterborough or Cobourg will be allowed to continue will be decided tonight.

The Belleville management has requested the O.B.A.A. game here on Wednesday with either Peterborough or Cobourg.

Jacobs, Czar Of Boxing Once Assisted Rickard Milk Fund Started Him

Brain Child of New York Sports Writers Now Tops Fistic World.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Mike Jacobs new czar of boxing, is friendly to newspaper men . . . he ought to be . . . for newspaper men helped to make him . . . started him on the high road that led to virtual dictatorship as Madison Square Garden promoter . . . Of course, Mike has done a few things on his own hook, too . . . such as signing up Joe Louis when the Bomber first loomed into prominence.

Friendship for Tex Rickard in the days when the promoter from Nevada was fighting for a foothold in New York richly repaid Jacobs . . . back in 1916 Tex needed a bundle of cash in promoting the bout between Jess Willard and Frank Moran . . . Mike popped up with the money . . . Tex then sold him stock ($5,000 worth) in the new Madison Square Garden . . . Mike later sold the stock for a profit . . . but the important profit was the intimate association with Rickard that resulted . . . Mike became Rickard's box office expert, scaling prices for Garden shows . . . Mike is pretty proud of his ability in that regard . . . he boasts that he knows the Garden seating layout as well as he knows the living room of his hotel at Red Bank, N.J. . . . and can price the pews to make 'em yield every possible penny.

Back to Speculating

Well, after Rickard's death, Mike went right on pitching for Bill Carey who tried to fill Rickard's shoes in the Garden. . . . But Carey's regime was luckless . . . and Jimmy Johnston, Boy Bandit of Broadway, put on some very successful shows in the ball parks . . . Carey was replaced as president by Col. John Kilpatrick . . . Jimmy Johnson became Garden matchmaker . . . Mike went back to his old love, ticket speculating.

What happened then? Well, the New York Milk fund, a charitable project, was launched in New York . . . for a time the Garden was glad to co-operate with the newspapers promoting the benefits . . . but it developed that charity became a strain on gate receipts . . . Garden directors rebelled because the better boxing shows, and the more profitable, inevitably were milk fund affairs, with a nice fat cut in the gate for sweet charity.

Brain Child of Writers

The newspapermen promoting the milk fund shows—Damon Runyon, Bill Farnsworth and Eddie Frayne—took Mike to their bosoms . . . and the Twentieth Century club suddenly bloomed into existence to foster milk fund shows outside the Garden . . . that was Mike's entry upon the scene as a full-fledged promoter, and he has proved a master at the job . . . helped materially by the publicity, he ventured into wider fields, growing, gaining power as he went from one successful job to another.

When Mike persuaded Joe Louis to fight under his promotion he signed the warrant for Jimmy Johnston's doom as a power in New York boxing . . . though Jimmy Braddock was champion, and had agreed to fight under Garden auspices, Mike had a logical contended in Joe Louis, and lost no time luring Braddock to Chicago for a battle in which the title changed hands . . . Recourse to the courts proved of no avail to the Garden . . . now Schmeling, who has defeated Louis, will have to talk to Jacobs (to whom he owes some $35,000) if he wants a chance to win the crown he covets.

You may remember that a Braddock-Schmeling fight was in the making last winter . . . but the threat of Jewish boycott, because of Schmeling's Nazi association, reared its head . . . and frightened the Braddock cohorts as badly as a boogey man scares a child . . . Mike didn't have anything to do with the boycott, to be sure, but he must have enjoyed it . . . for the fear of a curtailed gate killed the Braddock-Schmeling fight in New York . . . it was just one of those strange quirks of fate that New York missed seeing Braddock defend his title because of the boycott business.

Aside from all that, Mike is 58 years old and bald . . . Mrs. Jacobs wishes he wasn't mixed up in the fight business because it keeps him away from home so much . . . Mike likes o gamble, but thinks a fellow is a sucker to play the horses or cards.

ROYALS SPLIT AND THE BEARS CLINCH PENNANT

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Gentlemen we give you the Newark Bears, International League champions for 1937 and by any standards that make sense one of the great minor league teams of baseball history.

The Bears backed comfortably into the pennant last night when the second place Montreal Royals split a double header with the Baltimore Orioles. Perhaps the news they were in was too much for them to stand, for the Bears staggered through nine innings to lose to the Buffalo Bisons by 9 to 7 and made six errors.

At any rate the Bears are in to-day with a 25 game lead.

The pennant is Newark's fifth. The Bears first won in 1913. They didn't win again until 1932, but they kept it up in 1933 and 1934.

The Royals, after beating the Flock 5-2 in the opener behind Crip Polli's four hit pitching fell before Bill Lohrman's relief hurling and a three run homer by George (Pooch) Puccinelli in the first inning, 6-4.

Toronto Maple Leafs nosed out the Jersey City Giants in the ninth, 5-4, and Rochester nipped Syracuse 3-2.

Farr Right On Edge For Thursday Show

LONG BRANCH, N.J., Aug. 24—(AP)—If those flashes of irascibility usually associated with "peak form" of a boxer mean anything, Tommy Farr is right on edge for his bout with Joe Louis Thursday night.

The Welshman has become increasingly irritable for the past few days. Everything seems to annoy him and his entourage, individually and collectively, has been a target for repeated outbursts. All this is pleasing to his manager, Ted Broadribb, with whom Tommy is hardly on speaking terms.

"Tommy's getting right on edge," Broadribb grins. "That's a good sign. When he begins to abuse even his closest friends, it means he's close to the peak of his form. He won't be very pleasant company for us but we're used to it. When he acts up this way, that's good news for us."

A Tommy Farr Romance?

Reunion in Long Branch, N.J., does not sound romantic, but there is a rumor that Tommy Farr's training camp has been decorated with posies and ribbons (say it isn't so Tommy) in preparation for Jeanne Manet's visit. The French actress is pictured with the British champ during a training when he attempts to wrest Joe Louis' world's heavyweight crown.

Westclox Win Title Over Cobourg Girls

Get 16-5 Win in Deciding Game Which Ends in Wild Free-for-all.

Westclox girls won their league championship last night with a 16-5 decision over Cobourg in eight innings, besides having the contest awarded to them when a disgruntled Cobourg squad refused to play the ninth frame. The Clockmakers looked like easy winners by the score in this tilt and had previously won two tilts in the three-in-five final series. They now go into P.S.W.U. playdowns, playing Oshawa here Wednesday in the first game.

The game last night in Cobourg ended in a free-for-all. Manager Ernie Foote was chased from the game by the umpires and he called his team off the field starting the ninth. The rabid Cobourg fans rushed out on the diamond and obstructed any possible play. After waiting 10 minutes, the umpires awarded the one-sided game to Westclox. Bats and fans were mixed up in the melee and police escorted the two umpires from the field at the finish.

Get Early Lead

The visitors took an early lead and looked superior all the way. With B. Blade holding the homesters to nine hits, her buddies gave her fair support in the field and hit R. Slater's offerings hard. M. Hawthorne and M. Snowden each clouted a homer and two singles while M. Ferguson got a double and two singles and B. Blade three singles. For Cobourg, R. Hoskin hit a double and two singles, and J. Young and E. Toyne two singles each. Good fielding was shown by D. Merrett, M. Ferguson, J. Young and B. Rowden. The teams:

Westclox: I. Pavy, c; M. Ferguson, ss; M. Hawthorne, 3b; M. Allison, 2b; G. Mortimer, 1b; B. Blade, p; D. Merrett, lf; A. Sturgeon, cf; M. Snowden, rf.

Cobourg: M. Perrin, 1b; B. Rowden, ss; R. Hoskin, c; W. Hoskin, rf; M. Bulkowski, 2b; R. Thompson, 3b; J. Young, lf; E. Toyne, cf; R. Slater, p.

Score by innings:

Westclox	301	531	30	—16	16	3
Cobourg	010	400	00	— 5	9	5

Umpires—Bailey and Bennett.

Western Athletes Prepare For Tests

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—(CP)—Athletes from Saskatchewan, Manitoba and the Lakehead sharpened spikes today for the zone tests for the British Empire track and field games here Saturday. Charley Gillespie, Fort William, Dominion 440-yard champion, is entered in the sprints and quarter mile while E. Gillespie, Port William, will enter the sprints.

Most surprising "comeback" contestant is Pete Hawryluk, Saskatoon, a member of the Canadian Olympic team in 1912. He is listed in the high jump and running broad jump.

Brantford Beaten By Terriers 21-15

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 24—(CP) — Orillia Terriers, Canadian senior champions, defeated Brantford Native Sons 21-15 in their last scheduled Senior Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association game here last night. The wide-open game before a crowd of 1,200 saw the Terriers out in front all the way.

Locke, a junior playing in senior company, tended goal well but Brantford was weak on defence and Orillia had little difficulty penetrating to the crease.

Tricky Wandy McMahon of Orillia was the scoring star of the night with five goals.

To Apsley Ball Team

The home team's lost another game
And we all feel it is a shame,
For when the season first began
We thought our team a noble clan,
We thought they'd bring the trophy home
Like legionaires of ancient Rome.

But they don't win games any more
They're headed for the cellar door,
And deepest gloom enshrouds the town,
Our citizens feel beaten down,
The merchants all stand by their door
And all men know they're feeling sore.

"Yes, trade is good" they say "by jings
But who can care for trifling things
When still we hear our boys exclaim
'The umpire robbed us of the game.'"

The pastors each stand by his kirk
They're doing fine and noble work,
And still the pastors both look sad
And say indeed it is to bad
The way our ball team slides down hill,
It gives us all a grevious chill,
It puts a blight on all our hopes
The town feels sick, it mourns and mopes.

The ball game between Burleigh Falls and Apsley teams was stopped by the heavy rainstorm. The small crowd gathered to witness the game scurrying to cars for shelter. At the end of the 4th inning when the rain caused the game to stop the score was Burleigh Falls 1, Apsley 5.

CLERKS SECURE GAME ADVANTAGE IN LOOP PLAYOFF

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 24.—The Clerks got away to a good start when they trounced the Tanners 15 to 10, in the first game of the local softball play-offs, played last night (Monday). It was a great reversal of form for the Clerks, who won only three games in the schedule. Led by the heavy clouting of Freddy Crate, the Clerks collected 20 solid base hits from the offerings of Earl Hahn.

The Clerks scored found runs in the first innings on three singles, L. Gibson's double and Crate's triple. Two singles and an error scored one more in the second, and four hits in a row were good for three in the third. They added another run in the fourth on two hits and one more in the fifth on a walk and Wilson's triple. Three hits scored another in the sixth, while four more Clerks crossed the plate in the eighth on three walks and three hits, to complete their scoring.

The Tanners scored two in the first innings on Thompson's single and Earl Hahn's long homer to deep left. They scored three in the second on two hits, a walk and an error. Whitred relieved G. Gibson on the mound for the Clerks to start the third innings. The Tanners scored one more in the fourth on a hit and an error.

After three scoreless innings they came to life in the 8th and chased four across on four hits and an error. They game was then called because of darkness.

Fielding Feature

Jones' hard running catch of "Curly" Scriver's lift in the seventh was the outstanding fielding event for the Clerks, while honors were divided between Turner and Kelley of the Tanners in the field. Kelley raced back to deep centre to take "Shiner" Stevenson's long liner in the fourth, while Turner robbed "Shiner" again in the fifth when he pulled in a long lofty fly to left field. Freddy Crate led all hitters with three singles, a triple and a walk in five times up, giving him a perfect day at bat. "Curly" Scriver led the Tanners at bat with four hits in five times up.

G. Gibson, on the mound for the Clerks, allowed five hits, struck out one and walked one in the two innings he pitched. Whitred, who relieved him, gave eight hits, struck out none, and passed none. The Tanners' pitcher, Hahn, was hammered for 20 hits, while striking out two and walking four.

This was the first two out of three game series to decide who will meet the winner between the Outlaws and Elgin. The teams:

Tanners.—C. Scriver, 3b; Thomnson, ss; Hahn, p; G. Scriver, c; Kelley, cf; M. Scriver, 1b; Turner, lf; Lemoire, 2b; Turcotte, rf, and Blackburn, rf.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Tanners ..... 220 100 04—10 13 4
Clerks ..... 413 111 04—15 20 5

GOVERNOR RESTS MOUNTAIN CABIN

STUIE LODGE, B.C., Aug. 24.—(CP via British Columbia Police Wireless)—Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir and six members of the governor-general's party rested here today at a cabin hotel in a mountain setting after flying yesterday from Intata Lake to Bella Coola on North Bentwick Arm.

The Vice-Regal party arrived here by automobile yesterday from Bella Coola where they will return Thursday for an official reception by Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia.

The Premier will arrive aboard H.M.C.S. Fraser for ceremonies staged by Bella Coola Valley settlers and a performance of the thunderbird dance, sacred ritual of the Bella Coola coastal Indians.

Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir and Part of their staff took off in three airplanes from Intata Lake at 9.30 a.m. yesterday as bad weather conditions lifted between there and the coast.

On Mackenzie's Path

The little air armada flew over Lakes Intata and Qualicho and circled Ulgatcho. On Ulgatcho shores Their Excellencies saw the Indian village where 144 years ago weary Alexander Mackenzie and his band of explorers rested a night before heading westward to complete the first overland crossing of Canada.

There was hard flying for the last few miles through high air with rain and low clouds, but eventually the party saw on the edge of turquoise-blue Kimsquit Channel, the little village of Kimsquit.

Thereafter the route was easy, following Deans and Labouchiere Channels into North Bentrick Arm and Bella Coola itself. The party had lunch, then drove to Stuie Lodge, managed by Tommy Walker, old boy of Marlborough School in England.

Ask 48-Hour Week Store Employees

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—(CP). — Montreal Store Employees' Union, claiming a membership of 1,500, sent to-day to William Tremblay, Quebec Labor Minister, a protest against "excessively and unnecessarily long work hours" and recommendations for a 48-hour week, observance of all legal holidays, no overtime work and a set schedule of weekly salaries.

The Union asserted store employees are not "adequately remunerated" and are on duty 60 to 85 hours normal business weeks and work longer during the holiday seasons.

NO SCHMELING FIGHT.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs said Monday there would be no fight this year between Max Schmeling and the winner of Thursday's heavyweight title match between champion Joe Louis and Tommy Farr.

Jacobs said there were two factors in the decision—first, the lateness of the season; second, Louis wants a rest. Joe has been in training almost constantly since the first of the year.

Schmeling hopes to reach a definite agreement with Jacobs whereby he will meet Thursday's winner next June.

Think Birds Victims Sleeping Sickness

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—(CP)— A strange sickness is spreading through the wild fowl population of Netley marshes at the mouth of the Red River and Lake Winnipeg, Aaron Gray, sportsman and conservationist of Winnipeg, said to-day.

Gray said hundreds of ducks and other marsh birds have perished and many are affected to the extent they are unable to escape when humans approach them.

Several stricken birds have been sent to Manitoba Game and Fishery authorities, for examination.

E. B. Pidlado of Manitoba Game and Fish Association said it had been suggested there might be some connection between the bird epidemic and the wave of sleeping sickness that has stricken horses in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and the United States' Northwest.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By
MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Mary Barrett, ambitious to become a dress designer, is in Paris where she has just obtained a job with Countess Anetka, owner of a small dress shop. She had been recommended to Anetka by Mark Sutherland, American playboy and mutual friend who admired Mary from the first following their meeting on shipboard. Mary likes Mark but misses Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York shop who gave her her start several months previously. She left Castle's shop suddenly, disillusioned, after an altercation with Tony's head buyer, Francine Long, and sailed for Paris impulsively. More and more she realizes she is in love with Tony. Mary does so well in the shop that Anetka offers her a partnership. Before long Mary has visions of wide success with the shop. Meanwhile, as Christmas Eve arrives, Tony still searches for Mary in New York.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 16.

Mary was showing an American acquaintance from Brooklyn, the sights of Paris. And here they were at a Parisian boulevard cafe with Anetka and Sergei.

"Dubonnet Cilzon," Mary said, and hastily touched the tip of Paul Joslin's brogue with the toe of her slipper. "See there! That agent de police has the longest mustaches in all France!" She spoke in a whisper while the waiter hovered anxiously but politely in the background waiting for M. Joslin to order his aperitif.

"Picon Grenadine," Paul said, dismissing him and giving his attention to the imposing mustaches. "Whew! Imagine one of New York's 'finest' done up in a cookie duster like that!"

"What is a cookie duster?" Sergei asked.

"Sergei, he does not understand American argot. One does not use French argot; it is not polite," Anetka explained to their guest.

Mary defined the slang expression for Anetka's fiance and was rewarded with a deep laugh of appreciation from the bearded Russian.

"Perhaps I'd better pick up some of the argot. I'll be a sensation back home," Paul said lightly.

"Perhaps you'd better not!" Mary said firmly. "There are too many other and finer things to take back from France."

"You like it here, don't you, Mary?"

"Of course, I do, Paul. Wasn't it Ben Franklin who said, 'Every man has two countries: his own, and then France'?"

"By golly, I like it myself. But that Metro!" He shook his head. "I can't get used to buying first-class tickets on a subway."

"It's one class in New York," Mary said for Anetka's benefit, "and every man for himself."

She thought: If we keep talking about these things, I'll have a first-class case of homesickness. She remembered the mornings and the evenings in which she had fought for a seat or even standing room at Times Square, and wished passionately that she might be there at the moment instead of sitting leisurely at a sidewalk cafe on a Parisian boulevard.

"One day we will all go to New York and M. Joslin will take us for a long ride on the subway," Anetka said happily.

"All the way from Van Courtland park to Coney Island," he promised.

To which Mary added:

"We'll take you to the department stores where you will see OUR models copied, Anetka."

Paul sighed. "Always business, Mary?"

"Mostly," she said.

"How can you? Only an American could sit here in the spring twilight and think of business," he deplored.

Another time, she thought, or another place with another person and this beautiful golden haze would hurt with its beauty, but now I am insulted to beauty that hurts.

"Paris never sleeps," Sergei said with an effort to be informative.

"How can it with so many things to be seen?" Paul took a deep breath as though to breathe it in. "I like the way the French enjoy themselves. They're like kids. Everything is gay to them. Gay and beautiful. I'm taking back pictures they can't put in books. The tree-lined boulevards, the beautiful buildings, the wonderful cafes. The places that are awake from dawn to dawn. And bands! Boy how I love band music!"

Mary smiled at him. "Paul, you're such a beautiful guest! So satisfactory. I'm so glad you looked me up. I thought you'd forgotten me."

"Kate wrote my sister that you were living with her, so it wasn't hard to trace you. As for forgetting you—you were the prettiest girl in our class at Eramus High."

"And you were the football hero!"

"Football! We must see the football in America. Perhaps next spring, yes?" Anetka broke in.

"Not in the spring, Countess, the autumn!"

"And not next autumn, either," Mary said. "We have plans for next autumn that do not include trips to America.

"You getting along all right, Mary?" Paul asked anxiously.

"Just splendid, Paul, but it's uphill work."

"How long you been over here?"

"It will be two years in June .... no, July. Anetka and I incorporated a year ago last December. At first when I came I thought it would take even less time to force recognition but now I know better. However, we're satisfied, aren't we, petruska?"

Anetka nodded her small blond head vigorously.

Indeed they had done well.

How well, Mary had not considered until Paul Joslin came to Paris. In her year and a half of association with Anetka, she had developed a Gaelic frugality. Her daring vision, which was to serve her well later, had been blurred by the strict adherence to matters of the moment.

To the small shop off the boulevard of St. Germain, there came an increasing number of clients. Busy with sketch pad, buying and supervising the execution of their mounting orders, Mary had little time to dream happily over the increasing figures in their joint account.

She had worked indefatigably now for over a year. She had made a few friends. Ellin had married her Bill and Kate had gone back to America. But it wasn't until her old neighbor, Paul had turned up in Paris with his pockets filled with money and enthusiasm the like of which Mary had forgotten, that she took time off to play.

This time, it was she who introduced a newcomer to Paris. And this time she found it great fun. Paul wanted to see the flamboyant gaiety of Paris and so they saw the underworld where they went to the shabby wine shops, to the basement cafes and the cabarets.

They spent a hilarious evening on the way to the Folies Bergere. And injoyed the inextricable position into which their taxi driver maneuvered their cab in the time-honored fashion. There were wheezes and blowing of horns and the gendarme's whistle and much brandishing of truncheons; then they fought their way through the vendors into the building.

They went to marionette shows, band concerts and dance halls. And, at last, Paul said the place he wanted most to see was Mary's shop. The folks in Brooklyn would want to know about it, he said.

And when Mary piloted him up the narrow stairs and into the now crowded "front" room, showed him her sketches, the books of orders and the busy workroom, he scratched his head and cleared his throat.

"Look here," he said, "I think you girls have got something here! But you're in the wrong spot. You ought to be on the ground floor. I've got a little money to invest, Mary. I haven't been doing so badly, and I'd be glad to give you a hand."

"Paul! I don't suppose I'd have thought of it, if you hadn't pointed it out to me right now. But that's what we should do and we've got plenty of capital to do it with. Thanks very much for the offer, but more for the suggestion.

"Anetka, Inc, is about to edge in!"

That night she decided that the firm would plunge.

Freighter Bombed But Escapes Shells

PORT VENDRES, France, Aug. 24—(AP).—The British freighter Noemijulia arrived here to-day undamaged by bombs launched at her by two mysterious airplanes in the Western Mediterranean, near Spanish civil war waters.

The captain said the planes began dropping the bombs without warning. He was headed for Barcelona, Spain, and at the time was just off Ajaccio, capital of Corsica.

He promptly swung the ship about and started for this port at full speed. Several bombs hit the water near the ship, but did nothing more than badly frighten the crew of the 2,499-ton steamship, which carried a cargo of phosphates.

TRENT RIVER

A torrential rain fell Friday afternoon accompanied by an electric storm, the second within two days. Roads and gardens were flooded.

Mrs. T. S. Tait, Miss Helen and Mrs. D. E. Tait were Friday visitors with Miss B. O. French.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Roy Burgess were Mrs. S. Elson and Mrs. John Mills of Toronto who were en route to the Thousand Islands for a day and were accompanied by Mrs. Burgess.

Mrs. Rose Cunningham, daughter Gloria and son Omar of Toronto who have returned from a holiday at Southern Ontario and North Bay are visitors with the former's mother, Mrs. William Preston and Mr. Preston.

Mr. and Mrs. Virnis Stewart, Harold, Leona and Vivian, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Miller and Julianne left Saturday for Akron, Ohio after holidaying for a week at "Beau Sejour."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lloyd have returned to Toronto after summering at "Isle of View."

The total receipts for the Women's Institute for their sale of home cooking and sale of tickets for the hooked mat (made by Mrs. Roy Longmuir) were $31.83.

MEET AFTER 41 YEARS

SYDNEY, N.S.—(CP)—Two men who worked side by side in a Pictou County industrial plant 41 years ago met here for the first time since—and recognized each other almost immediately. The two were Major J. W. Madden, K.C., and Daniel MacArthur, brother of County Court Judge Neil MacArthur. Both had entered the Court House, one on business, the other to wait for his brother, when they met.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S FIRE-CRACKERS

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily.

"I don't see anything very funny!" mewed Mrs. Hollyhock, the dear little old tabby cat lady who lived in a log cabin. "In fact I can't see anything!" she purred. "That's why I called for help but every one ran away."

"I know they did," said Uncle Wiggily, trying not to laugh any more. "Baby Bunty, Jingle and Jackie Bow Wow came running to my camping tent, very frightened after they passed your cabin and heard you saying, 'Oh, dear!' and things like that."

"It was silly of them to be frightened," mewed Old Mrs. Hollyhock. "All I wanted them to do was to help me."

"That's what I thought and that's why I came as quickly as I could," said Mr. Longears. "But—er—excuse me—would you mind if I had just one more laugh?" he asked, giggling a little.

"Oh, go ahead. Laugh if it does you any good!" mewed the old cat lady. "I suppose I do look funny but I can't see it myself."

All Over

"No wonder, with all that sticky fly paper plastered over you eyes," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "There's some on your left hind leg, too."

"Yes, and there's some on my tail!" purred Old Mrs. Hollyhock. "I'm all over fly paper I do believe! But please help me get it off. I sat right down in it."

"Why did you do that?" asked Uncle Wiggily, trying not to laugh any more.

"You don't suppose I did it on purpose, do you, Mr. Longears?" purred the lady cat, trying to look at the rabbit whom she couldn't see because fly paper was plasted over her nose.

"I wouldn't think so," said Uncle Wiggily.

"What happened was this," went on the lady cat. "I spread several sheets of sticky fly paper about my log cabin this morning. The pesky flies were so bothersome. I went out to pick some firecrackers and when I came in the wind had blown some of the sticky paper into my chair.

"Without noticing it I sat on it. Then when I tried to pull it off I got some of it on my left hind leg and then some on my tail—and, oh dear! I'm not proud but I'm very much stuck up!" she said with a funny laugh.

Helped, at Last

"So I see, but I'll help you," spoke Mr. Longears. With some warm water he helped Mrs. Hollyhock soak the sticky fly paper off her fur and when she was dry she thanked the bunny gentleman.

"Excuse me," he said when they were having a cup of tea together, "but did you say you went out to pick some firecrackers?"

"Yes," mewed Old Mrs. Hollyhock. "I did. But they aren't the kind of firecrackers you are thinking of. Not Fourth of July ones at all. I'm glad to see in many places they don't let children have bang-bang-bang firecrackers any more. They are too dangerous, like all fireworks for children. My firecrackers are flowers."

"Flowers?" exclaimed Mr. Longears in surprise.

"Yes," answered Mrs. Hollyhock, "firecracker flowers. Come out in my garden and I'll pick you some to take home to your wife. She will like them, I think."

"I'm sure she will," said Mr. Longears. So he went out into the dear old cat lady's garden to pick firecrackers. And something happened.

You shall hear about it in the next story, which will be about Uncle Wiggily's little joke. But please don't let the umbrella turn inside out to see what is making it get all wet in the rain.

COLLECTION RETURNED

FREDERICTON—(CP).— Worth about $20,000 and one of the three sets in North America, a collection of bird drawings from the originals of Audobon have been returned to the provincial library after a year's loan to the University of New Brunswick. The four volumes are owned by the province.

With the coffee crop growing greater, Brazil is increasing its rate of destruction of the bean in the hope of reducing the surplus supply by the end of the year.

HAVELOCK W. I., BELMONT GUESTS

HAVELOCK, Aug. 24.—The regular meeting of the Belmont Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Will Smith, with the Havelock branch as their guests. A large number of members from each branch present.

The correspondence consisted of a letter from Toronto, informing the members of a cream exhibit at Peterborough Fair, also a letter from Miss Pollard concerning the girls' achievement day. A letter of thanks from a girl of the community who had been remembered by the Institute when she was sick. The relief committee was asked to make a call on a sick lady who needed help. It was decided to purchase some silverware and a new table cloth for the community hall.

The first part of the program was put on by the Belmont branch and consisted of an exhibit of fancy stitches both ancient and modern. Mrs. Armstrong and Miss Wright of the Havelock branch were asked to act as judges. Miss Bexsmith won the prize for the ancient and Mrs. Kennedy the modern. Mrs. Dunlop put on a stitch contest. Mrs. Iles won first prize and Miss McBurney second.

The second part of the program was in charge of Mrs. Hoffman of the Havelock branch. After a community song, 'The more we get together," Mrs. Price gave a very humorist reading, 'How a married man sews on a button.' A very instructive and interesting paper on Home Economics was given by Mrs. Armstrong, a solo by Mrs. Sonnhward and an ice contest by Mrs. Price.

After the program the ladies were asked to go out on the lawn for their tea.

GIRL BREAKS RIBS AS HORSE BOLTS

LINDSAY, Aug. 24. (CP).—When driving to a well on an adjoining farm to get water, Iva White 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert White, Fenelon Falls, was thrown from the buggy when the horse bolted and ran away. The girl lay on the road for some time before being noticed by her mother, who summoned help. An examination revealed three fractured ribs. The girl said the harness broke, allowing the buggy to run up on the horse, which became frightened and ran away, throwing her to the road.

New Secret Plane Parts Are Stolen

NORBTONO, Surrey, August 24.—(CP Cable).—Vital parts of two secret type aircraft engines were stolen during the week-end from the experimental laboratory here operated by Noel Pemberton-Billings, inventor, who was away on a holiday in the Isle of Wight.

Workmen had been secretly experimenting with the engines, which were designed on entirely revolutionary lines, without valves, springs, crankshaft or spark plugs.

The inventor scouted the suggestion the theft was the work of foreign agents, declaring valuable tools and instruments lying in an open cupboard had not been touched.

"This will set me back about three months,' Pemberton-Billings said. "I have spent about £10,000 ($49,000) on my experiment and I was just at the critical stage of my tests."

Signals In Arctic Spurring Rescue

BARROW, Alaska, Aug. 24—(AP)—Reports radio signals been heard on the wave length of Sigismund Levanevsky's missing trans - polar plane spurred rescue fliers to new efforts today in their search for the six lost adventurers.

The signals, heard at Moscow yesterday, were unintelligible, but Soviet officials asked Northern Russian stations to broadcast rescue plans to encourage the fliers if they are stranded at some isolated Arctic point.

In this far northern outpost, belief began to grow the missing ship will be found "somewhere in Alaska." Pilot Bill Knox of Pacific Alaska Airways said Alaska fliers firmly believed the plane had landed on Alaskan soil. It disappeared a week ago Friday on a 4,000-mile flight from Moscow.

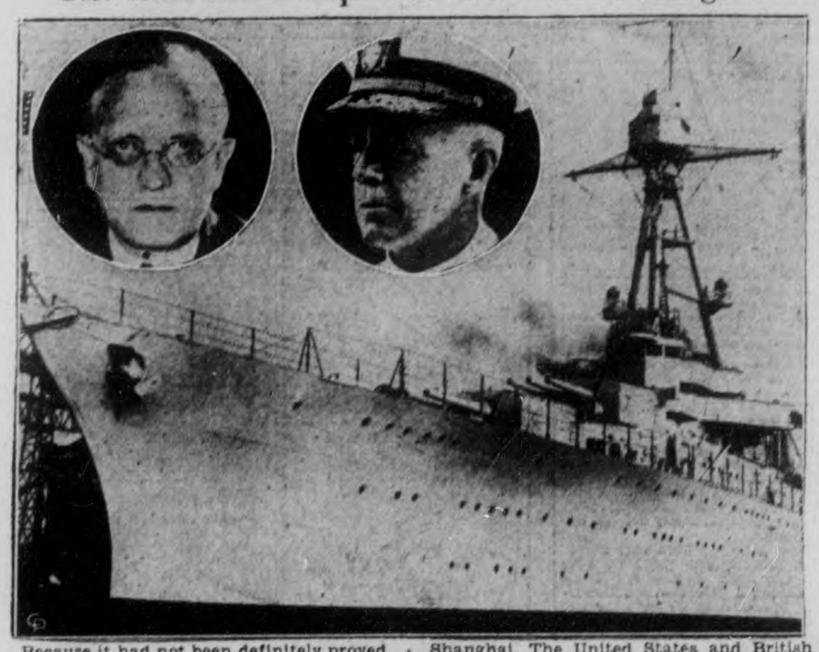
U.S. Authorities Reprimand Factions At Shanghai



Because it had not been definitely proved which side had fired the shell that killed a sailor aboard the United States flagship Augusta, ABOVE), both Rear Admiral Harry Yarnell, RIGHT INSET, and Consul-General Clarence Gauss, LEFT, have sharply reprimanded both the Japanese and Chinese forces. The Augusta was struck on the afterdeck by a shell while anchored off Shanghai. The United States and British commanders have refused to limit the movements of their ships as requested by the Japanese and have also refused to force Japanese ships from the battle area as suggested by the Chinese. Indemnities will be demanded if the circumstances justify, according to reports from Washington concerning the shelling of the American ship.

"Let's teach Temperance!"

—Overheard in a barber shop

1st Customer: . . . well, what do you mean by temperance education?

2nd Customer: I'll tell you what I don't mean! I don't mean telling children a lot of exaggerated stories so that they're scared out of their wits when they see their elders drink a glass of beer!

1st Customer: Oh, admitted that old-fashioned sort of propaganda is all wrong! But I still think something should be done . . . what is your idea of temperance education?

2nd Customer: It should teach people that there are a great many things in this world that are good servants, but bad masters. It should teach them to be able to use any of nature's gifts temperately. It should show them that not to use something, because they are afraid of using it to excess, is a confession of weakness. . .

1st Customer: That's all very well in theory. But let's get down to brass tacks. What would you teach them about drinking?

2nd Customer: Well, the first job is to get people to distinguish between moderation and abstinence, between necessary control and prohibition.

1st Customer: At least, I'll agree you can't make people sober by law . . . we tried that one!

2nd Customer: Yes, and our second job is to destroy one of the very wrong ideas left over as the handiwork of the prohibitionists . . . to get out of the people's heads the idea that the purpose of drinking, or even the necessary result of drinking, is to get DRUNK.

1st Customer: Right! Most of all the abuses come from misguided efforts to substitute law-control for self-control.

2nd Customer: And finally, we'd advance temperance education further if we'd make everyone see that drinking, like eating and smoking, is really a social custom . . . a thing least likely to be abused if people drink wholesome, mildly-stimulating beverages in public government-controlled premises. That is the British way of handling the problem. History proves it's still the best way!

ROWE TO QUIT HIS SAFE SEAT RUN IN SIMCOE

TORONTO, Aug. 25. — (CP).—Hon. Earl Rowe, M.P., leader of the Ontario Conservative party, announced to-day he will leave the "safe seat" of Dufferin-Simcoe in which he has been elected to the Federal House for 14 years. Mr. Rowe will run in the Oct. 6 election in Simcoe Centre. His opponent is Hon. L. J. Simpson, Minister of Education.

"I have accepted Dr. Simpson's challenge to test public opinion in his own riding," said Mr. Rowe. "I am confident that the electors will endorse my stand.

"Centre-Simcoe, in which I reside, is an excellent riding with which to test the vote....and I feel that rather than seek an election in a riding in which my majority is absolutely assured and which was over 5,000 in the last Federal election, I should meet these people on grounds of their own choosing."

HASTINGS FARMER IS BADLY INJURED

(Examiner Correspondence)

HASTINGS, Aug. 25. — William Eleanor, living four miles south of this village at Brickley, suffered two broken ribs and several bad abrasions and bruises when he fell between the wagon and the team of horses he was driving yesterday morning about 11 a.m.

He was working near the barn on his farm and was driving the team down a grade when the board he was sitting on moved forward and he was thrown between the wagon and the horses, hitting his side on the wagon. The horses became frightened and ran away, Mr. Eleanor lying flat on the ground and the wheels passing on either side of him. They knocked down two fences and ran over a lumber pile before finally stopping.

He was brought into the village where Dr. Campbell treated him for his injuries. Although having two ribs broken and receiving a severe shaking up, Mr. Eleanor considers himself very fortunate as he had presence of mind to lie still on the ground until the wagon had passed over him.

ANGLO-U.S. PACT PEACE GUARANTEE

TIMMINS, Ont., Aug. 25.—(CP).—An alliance between the United States and the British Empire is the only way of bringing about lasting world peace, in the opinion of Canon Frederick G. Scott, of Quebec, padre of the Canadian Expeditionary Force in the Great War.

Here to attend the annual convention of the Ontario Command Canadian Legion, the senior chaplain of the First Division said yesterday that in the event of war in the Pacific Ocean "the Monroe Doctrine and the American Navy would be our first line of defence."

'It has always amazed me that England should try and limit the size of the American navy," Canon Scott added. "The bigger and more efficient the Americans can make their fleet, the better it will be for Canada and the Canadian people.' Present disorders in the Far East "demonstrate more than ever" the need for closer harmony between the great English-speaking nations, he said.

"The Sino-Japanese war is of more than passing interest to us in Canada. One side of our Dominion lies open to a possible attack by an Asiatic nation. If war came today and England were faced with the combined attacking forces of Germany, Italy and Japan, British Columbia would be in the front line.

"If the British navy were tied up in the defence of England, Gibraltar, the Suez Canal, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, the Mother Country might not be able to spare ships in sufficient numbers to guard Victoria and Vancouver, where already there are more than 100,000 Asiatics."

Col. Alley Heads Legion In Ontario

TIMMINS, Ont. Aug. 25—(CP)—Col. H. R. Alley, D.S.O., of Toronto, to-day was elected president of the Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion at the annual convention here.

The new president succeeds Capt. Jules Ferry of Sudbury, who retired from the position after five years service.

The city of Brantford will be the site for the next annual convention of Ontario command, it was decided.

Cadi To Recommend Suspension For Life

Brantford, Ont., Aug. 25.

JOSEPH LAFORTUNE, Ottawa, was freed on suspended sentence when he pleaded guilty before Magistrate S. A. Jones today to a charge of driving a car in a manner to do bodily harm to his son, Morris. Morris Lafortune was killed in an accident here July 21.

"I am of the openion that in the death of his son this man has been sufficiently punished," said Crown Attorney F. E. D. Wallace. Magistrate Jones said he would recommend to the Department of Highways Lafortune's driving license be suspended for life.

Thinks Indian Diet Best For Longevity

New York, Aug. 25.

DR. WESTON E. PRICE, Cleveland diet specialist, returning today from two months studying Indians in Peru, said modern civilization is slipping largely because people don't eat the right foods.

The specialist analyzed foods eaten by pure-blooded and half-breed Indians and said those who have retained their primitive manners of diet are splendid physical specimens, while those who have gained the habits of Europeans have deteriorated physically and mentally.

BRITISH SAILORS MISSING IN FALL OF SANTANDER CITY

With the Insurgent Forces Outside Santander, Spain Aug. 25 (CP-Havas) — The provisional Basque capital of Santander today surrendered to General Franco's northern forces.

Insurgent commanders said that the entire government army, estimated at 15,000 men, would lay down their arms late today.

Basque authorities of the strategic seaport announced at 1.30 p.m. that the city had yielded to its besiegers.

Before the city's fall, a revolt of Rightist partisans in the panic-stricken capital was reported by Fascist sources.

Demanding that Leftist troops surrender the city, mobs fought in the streets against the few remaining defenders, these reports said.

Assault guards joined civilians in the uprising against the authorities, according to Rightist claims.

The Fascist command, announcing its vanguard was less than four miles from the capital, added troops might enter the city tonight. Earlier Rightist leaders had expected to enter about mid-day tomorrow.

A complete collapse of the defenders' moral had been foreshadowed in the flight of militiamen and even officers in small boats to French ports in the last 48 hours.

BRITISH SAILORS MISING

HENDAYE (on the Franco-Spanish Frontier)), Aug. 25 (CP-Havas) —A party of sailors from the British destroyer Keith who went ashore this morning at Cabomayor, at the mouthof Santander Harbor, to see about the evacuation of British subjects and political hostages had not been heard from for several hours, according to a wireless report from the ship received here tonight.

Montague Rests In Prison Cell

ELIZABETHTOWN, N.Y., Aug. 25 (AP)—John Montague, Hollywood's fabulous golfer, became "just another prisoner" today to Percy Eggiefield, Adirondack Mountain sheriff.

As the grinning debonair friend of stars of stage, screen and radio adjusted himself to life behind the bars of Essex county's modern, stone jailhouse, Sheriff Eggiefield remarked:

"He'll receive the same treatment as any other prisoner."

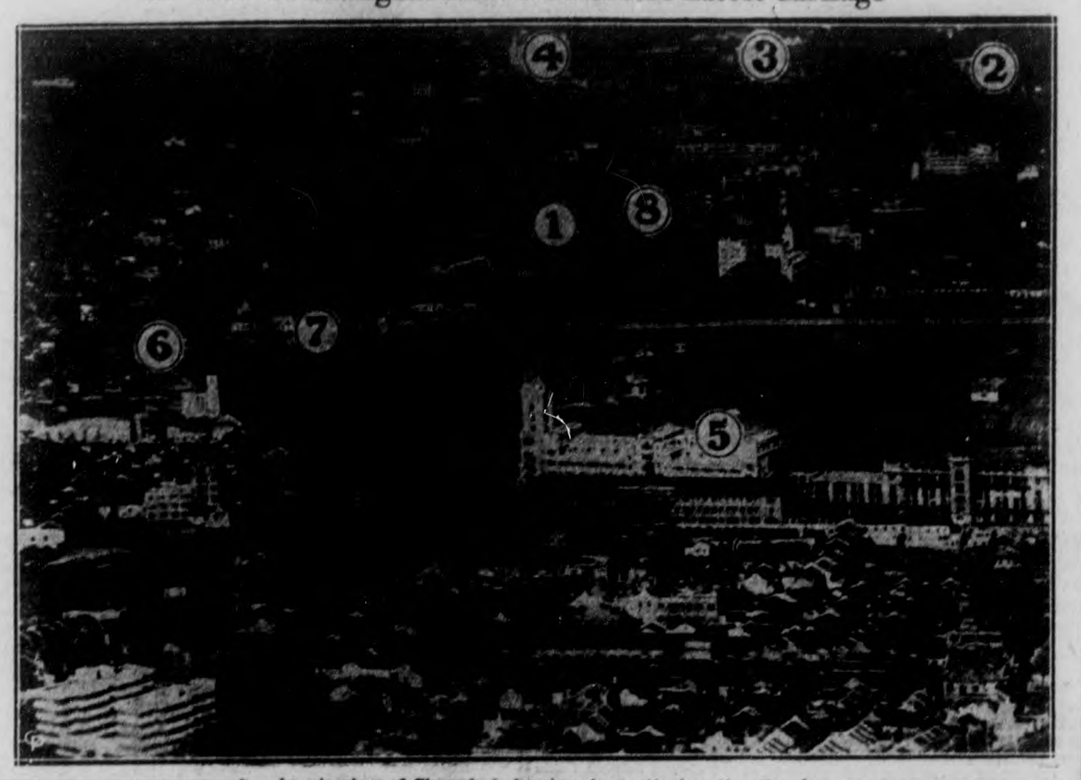
Brought here from the west coast to face seven-year-old robbery, Montague was locked in one of the jail's 20 barrel cells to await decision by Supreme Court Justice O. Byron Brewster on his application for bail. Hhe decision is expected tomorrow.

STAMP OUT TUBERCULOSIS.

HALIFAX, Aug. 25.—(CP)—Dr. P. S. Campbell, chief medical officer of health for Nova Scotia, announced today an intensive campaign would be undertaken this fall to stamp out tuberculosis among the Indians of the province.

The program, to be carried out by the provincial health officials, is being sponsored by the Dominion Government, Dr. Campbell said. It will start wit ha province-wide survey and examination of all Indians.

Air View Of Shanghai Shows Locale Of Latest Carnage



An air view of Shanghai showing, in particular, the district around Nanking Road which has been subjected to a merciless shelling. A shell, dropping in Nanking Road (No. 7), between the Wing On & Co. department store (No. 8), and Sincere & Co. (No. 1), partially destroyed both buildings and killed an estimated 400 persons. Also shown here are the Cathay hotel and the Bund (No. 2), in which much damage has already been done; the Japanese consulate (No. 3); the Broadway Mansions hotel (No. 4), said to have been captured by the Japs; the Shanghai Race club (No. 5); and the Park hotel (No. 6).

MRS. EMILY DRAKES APPLIES FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP).—Application for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Mrs. Emily K. Drakes of Luton, Bedfordshire, England, was made today to Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy at Osgoode Hall. Mrs. Drakes is held for trial at Oshawa, Ont., on a charge of uttering a forged cheque for $500.

Issue of the writ would be a preliminary to a motion for a judicial order quashing the warrant of Magistrate E. A. Gee committing Mrs. Drakes for trial. Mrs. Drakes was arrested in England March 15 and extradited to Canada.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Drakes pleaded she had been improperly arrested and a writ of habeas corpus was obtained from Mr. Justice Nasmith Jeffrey. On her release from jail at Whitby she was re-arrested on a new charge of uttering a forged cheque.

Counsel for Mrs. Drakes, Lewis Duncan, K.C., argued today the immigration inspector at Quebec had made an order declaring Mrs. Drakes had been rejected as an immigrant and providing for her ultimate deportation from Canada. This, he said, raised a nice question as anything done under the Immigration Act took precedence over anything done in the administration of justice in Ontario.

REFORMATORY TERM.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 25—(CP)—Wilfred Yardley of Toronto appeared for sentence to-day on a charge of converting 500 shares of Kaw Cross Gold Mines to his own use and was given four months definite and four indefinite in Ontario Reformatory by Magistrate James McKay.

"There are too many of these salesmen around of late and I find no alternative but to send you to reformatory," the Magistrate said.

NO ONE WAS HURT.

No one was seriously hurt when an ambulance and a motor car were involved in collision at the intersection of Park and Charlotte streets shortly before press time this afternoon. Both vehicles suffered slight damage.

Bahaman Officials Flee To Sea, 6-Day Riot

Burn Salt Works, Radio Station, Commissioner's Home, Kill One Man.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Aug. 25 (AP).—A force of five constables, sent from Nassau in response to a call for help, sought today to restore peace to the usually placid tropical isle of Great Inagua, scene of six days of rioting.

The constabulary arrived yesterday aboard the steamship Priscilla to restore law to the island where rioting cost one life, extensive property damage and forced 14 persons, including the British Commissioner, to flee to Cuba in a launch.

The constables, their commandant, a commissioner and a wireless operator were dispatched Thursday when a wireless call for help was interrupted. With communication cut off, it was not until yesterday when Arthur Symonette, Haitian Consul, boarded the Royal Netherlands steamship Medea some distance from the island, and sent a message, that government officials learned of the trouble.

Symonette said rioters had burned the island's principal industry, the $500,000 salt works, the radio station and the commissioner's residence. He said John Monroe was killed and 14 persons, including the Commissioner and Josiah Erickson, took to the sea in a launch. The refugees reached the coast of Cuba, 100 miles away, late yesterday, using their clothing for makeshift sails after the engine stalled.

The island is 400 miles from Nassau.

FIVE SMALL FIRES.

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 25—(CP).—Five small forest fires in three townships in the Sudbury area were being fought to-day and Ontario Forestry Branch officials here said the blazes soon would be brought under control. Since August 10 no fires have been reported in the district, but dry weather in the past few days, coming after a period of heavy rains, has increased the fire hazard.

DOCTOR DIES SUDDENLY.

TORONTO, August 25—(C.P.).—Dr. Roy J. Farmer, 51, a native of London, Ont., died suddenly last night after a heart seizure. A few hours before his death he complained to his wife he was "sicker" than the patients he was treating.

Dr. Farmer was a son of the late Magistrate and Mrs. John Farmer of London. He graduated from the University of Western Ontario, and came to Toronto in 1920.

New Device Lands Planes In Fog

Washington, Aug. 25.

THE United States Army Air Corps has perfected a revolutionary device which automatically lands airplanes under adverse conditions and without human control.

The apparatus, officials announced last night, was tested in a series of experimental flights at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, and showed "amazing accuracy."

Details of the electro-mechanic apparatus were not announced, but it was said:

"The perfection of this device makes it possible to land a plane in dense fog, in absolute darkness or under other adverse conditions.

ABERHART BLOCKS COLLECTING DEBTS

EDMONTON, Aug. 25 (CP), — Lieutenant-Governor J. C. Bowen will sign today an Alberta Order-in-Council passed to prevent corporations from collecting debts in the province.

In announcing the moratorium after a three-hour Cabinet session yesterday, Premier Aberhart withheld details pending signing of the order. The Premier said the moratorium was forced by "Ottawa's drastic action on behalf of the Bank of Canada and the chartered banks."

Bankers' licensing legislation passed early this month at a special Alberta legislative session was disallowed by the Federal government.

Calculated to prevent collection of money for transfer outside the province, the moratorium will be effective until March 1, and Mr. Aberhart said it will be extended from that date until financial problems have been "clarified" to make it unnecessary.

PEASANTS STRIKE.

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 25.—(AP) — A nation-wide strike of peasant farmers assumed a serious aspect today when factory and transportation places in Krakowy quit work in response to a Socialist call for a demonstration of sympathy.

Many Krakow shopkeeprs, fearful of violence, closed their establishments for the day.

COOLER WEATHER EXPECTED TO CUT PARALYSIS DOWN

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP).—Aided by cooler weather, health officials throughout Ontario hoped today their stringent precautions against further spread of infantile paralysis would prove effective. At London and Toronto—the centres most affected by the outbreak—children were barred from bathing places and opening of school had been postpond until after Labor Day.

Despite the precautions, 22 new cases were reported in Toronto yesterday, raising the total to 156 since June 10, when the scourge first became apparent. London's overnight report, however, was more hopeful with six of the 12 suspected victims released from hospital. Twenty-eight positive cases remained under treatment.

Advisability of closing schools as a method of prevention was questioned at Hamilton by Dr. James Roberts, medical officer of health. He said children are safer at school than when roaming the streets. Hamilton schools will open as scheduled September 1.

Theatres, playgrounds and other places where children congregate would have to be banned as well as schools if this measure were to be effective, Dr. Roberts said. This view has also been debated in Toronto, where authorities considered extending the ban to these other places.

Other Schools May Imitate

A board of education committee in Toronto expressed the opinion, although the point was not decided, that high and secondary schools' opening would be delayed the same as that of the Public and Separate schools. Forest Hill village and Leaside, in Toronto suburban district, followed Toronto's lead in postponing school opening until Sept. 7.

Dr. Alexander Elliott, Leaside M.O.H., is under quarantine, his young son having contracted the disease. There are four cases there and three in Forest Hill.

Health Minister Dr. J. A. Faulkner said at Toronto there was no shortage of paralysis serum in the province. Recovered victims were

Mines, Gun Traps By Wily Chinese Riddle Invaders

Resistance at Woosung Keeps 42,000 Aboard Ships—Industrial Areas Burn.

By Morris J. Harris
(Associated Press Foreign Staff Writer).

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25 (AP).—The lives of hundreds of Japanese soldiers were sacrificed today in a mass effort to land desperately needed reinforcements at Shanghai.

The city's wily defenders took heavy toll of Japanese landing parties, thwarting a Japanese plan to land 55,000 troops near Woosung and storm Shanghai's defence from the rear.

Woosung is at the junction of the Whangpoo and Yangtse, down river 12 miles from the heart of Shanghai.

An estimated 42,000 Japanese still were on their ships and the ranks of some that reached shore were riddled.

The Chinese allowed the new Japanese troops to rush what seemed to be second defence lines, then exploded hidden mines and virtually wiped out the invaders with sheets of fire from secret machine-gun nests.

Both sides admitted that casualties in the Woosung sector were heavy.

One late report tonight, unconfirmed, said the Chinese finally were withdrawing inland.

Foreign residents of the heart of Shanghai were surrounded by the devastation of 13 days of fighting — $125,000,000 worth of ruined property and at least 100,000 dead and wounded.

Chinese asserted two Japanese warships were sunk off Tsungming Island today in the Yangtze River, Shanghai's waterway to the sea; that 500 of a Japanese landing party drowned at one point alone.

Threat Spread, Terror.

A Japanese army threat to attack Shanghai's Nantao area, in the Chinese city south of the international settlement, threw Nantao's 200,000 inhabitants into turmoil.

Thousands struggled past blazing areas, set aflame by Japanese incendiary bombs, to seek refuge in the French concession. The terrified natives found their way barred because the concession already is choked with Chinese refugees.

Japanese commanders declared Chinese resistance in industrial Pootung, across river from Nantao, was cracking and civilians were fleeing across the Whangpoo into the native area. If the Chinese retreat in that direction, they said, the Japanese forces will pursue them.

Great fires raged in three sections of Shanghai, north, east and south of the international settlement. They were believed to have added more victims to the death toll.

Japan's third fleet, now in Chinese waters, stretched a blockade along 800 miles of the coast against all Chinese shipping from a point north of here to the extreme south of China.

Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, Commander-in-Chief of the Third Fleet, proclaimed the blockade immediately in force. He exempted all except Chinese vessels. The blockade embraces the lower Yangtze.

Chinese communiques from the Woosung forts zone said 800 Japanese soldiers out of 1,500 who tried to land at Wentsaopant were drowned in the Whangpoo and the remainder were driven back to their ships.

Across Soochow creek in the eastern international Settlement, the area near the new factory of the Simmons Mattress Company was in flames. The Pootung industrial section across the Whangpoo was also burning.

Pronunciation Ruled As Unimportant

New York, Aug. 25.

"I say Tomayto, and you say Tomato——"

In the words of a current song hit, the Board of Examiners for Teachers' Licenses is anxious to "call the whole thing off."

Dr. Joseph Van Denburg, Chairman, said that in view of the variety of authorities cited by candidates to support differing pronunciations, the Board has decided to relegate this particular bone of contention to the boneyard.

"Any pronunciation which has any authority at all will be accepted by the Board of Examiners," said Dr. Van Denburg.

GIRL GOES DOWN 3 OTHERS DROWN IN RESCUE EFFORT

DRUMMONDVILLE, Que., Aug. 25 (CP).—Police searched the waters of the St. Francois River today for the bodies of two of four victims of a drowning accident yesterday and planned an inquest into the tragedy which cost the lives of Mrs. Willie Grenier, 35, Marie-Paul Savoie, 12, Dolores Lapiere, 11, and Jeanne Savoie, seven. The bodies of Mrs. Grenier and Jeanne Savoie were recovered last night.

None of the four who were bathing near the river shore was able to swim. Wading in shallow water, the younger Savoie girl dropped into a hole. Her screams brought Mrs. Grenier and the other two children to her side, but all four disappeared in the water.

WILKINS COMBS ARCTIC WASTES

COPPERMINE, N.W.T., Aug. 25 (CP)—Air Commodore Herbert Hollick-Kenyon of Toronto piloted a Soviet-owned flying boat over the polar regions today, carrying Sir Hubert Wilkins' rescue party in search of six missing Russian fliers.

The expedition's second search flight began at 7.15 p.m. (10.15 p.m. EDT) last night from this settlement on Canada's Arctic coast.

Loaded with 1,900 gallons of gasoline, estimated sufficient for a 4,000 mile flight, the 17-ton flying boat headed toward the North Pole over a course similar to that taken Sunday night and Monday when dense fog forced the expedition to turn back without sighting the Soviet airmen missing since Aug. 13.

Wilkins made careful plans. He studied the route and arranged that, should Siglamund Levanefsky and his five companions be located where lack of open water in the ice pack made landing impossible, the position would be noted and communicated to the Russian ice-breaker Krassin at Point Barrow, Alaska.

SUBMARINE GRASS MOWER.

DETROIT, August 25—(CP).—In preparation for Saturday's Gold Cup power boat races a submarine grass-mower, designed and built by Car Wood, has been clearing the Detroit River course of weeds. Wood designed the strange-looking contraption to keep the course in front of his home free from underwater growths, one of speedboat racing's chief hazards.

Uruguayan Seeks His Revenge In Baccarat, "Wide Open"

Rebuilds Fortune, Invites Men Who Stripped Him of Million 8 Years Ago.

BIARRITZ, France, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Amleto Battisti stepped into the Biarritz Casino today with a head full of lightning mathematics, a fortune in his pocket and a determination to risk all his money for revenge at the baccarat table.

The Uruguayan mathematician and banker set the date of his big-money come-back game as Wednesday, Sept. 1.

Then he expects to meet at the "big table" in the Casino the men who took more than $1,000,000 from him in a single series of baccarat games eight years ago.

Lost Eight Years Ago.

Before that time Battisti had ranked among the top high-stakes baccarat players from South America, France and Great Britain. He dropped out of the "sky's-the-limit" group with his tumble eight years ago.

But he didn't quit playing. Quietly and carefully he built up his stake until he could bank a big game again.

Then he whispered to a gambling friend, Antonio Abecassin, that "I want a rendezvous with fortune." He delegated Abecassin to invite to

Celluloid Waste Damages Furnace

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—(CP).—An explosion reverberated through Toronto downtown streets to-day and a pall of black smoke arose from the Eclipse Fountain Pen Company plant. William Cottrell, engineer, suffered minor injuries in the blast which, he said, was caused by a quantity of celluloid waste thrown into a furnace. The furnace was damaged considerably.

Cornwall Mayor Settles One Strike Then 275 In Own Factory Quit

Cornwall, Ont., Aug. 25.

MAYOR Aaron Horovitz was faced with labor troubles of his own today when about 275 employees of the Cornwall plants and Prince Clothing Company of which he is president walked out. Mayor Horovitz acted as intermediary in the Canadian Cottons Ltd., strike settled last week.

The employees, it was said, walked out in protest against the dismissal of four workers, allegedly for union activities. A meeting will be held to decide whether or not a strike will be called.

The walkout was called by Ben Bishkoff, general organizer of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, organizing in the plant.

Today's walkout was the second within a week. Yesterday 28 carpenters working on the $2,000,000 addition to the plant of Courtaulds (Canada) Limited, walked out allegedly in protest against a foreman.

1,019 Start Fight For Share Eccentric Widow's Horde

74 Claimants Weeded Out In Day in Dividing of $877,500 Estate.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.— (AP)— Five years ago a lonely, wizened old widow with a genius for finance and a penchant for carrying fabulous sums in a paper bag, died in a hotel here.

Mrs. Ida E. Wood was a symbol for eccentricity to Manhattan's crowded, legend-loving millions.

To-day attorneys representing 1,019 men, women and children—most of whom never saw the queer little widow in life—sought in Surrogate Court to establish a right to share in the $877,500 estate left when she died March 12, 1932, at the age of 93.

The task of sifting the rival claims moved slowly and tediously. Seventy-four were eliminated yesterday, but claimants remained from almost every State in the Union and Canada, Newfoundland, Ireland, England and Scotland.

Musty records from graveyards, churches and genealogical libraries, brought into court by contesting lawyers, unfolded the strange career of brilliance to lead a solitary existence.

Urges Girls Snub Drinking Youths

Walkerton, Aug. 25.

"If young girls would adopt a policy of snubbing and dropping young men smelling of liquor at dances there would be far fewer cases of the promiscuous drinking habit in public places which seems the present mode," stated Magistrate F. W. Walker in weekly Police Court today. He was in the act of assessing a fine of $10 and costs of $4.25 on a young man who had pleaded guilty to drinking in a public place.

CHAPLIN FUNERAL TO-DAY.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Aug. 25.—(CP)—Rev. Thomas Eakin, president of Knox College, Rev. Dr. H. J. Cody, president of the University of Toronto, Rev. Roy Frid, pastor of the St. Paul Street Church, and Rev. G. N. Luxton, rector of St. George's Church, will officiate to-day at the funeral services of Hon. J. D. Record and Forecast of Weather

LOCAL TEMPERATURES

Night	—Yesterday—
Low	Noon.	Highest.	Lowest
56	67	66	54
This date last year		73	54

Four consecutive cool nights, one with a low temperature of 50 degrees, have supplied a contrast to the month's high reading of 97 on August 17—a wide range of 47 degrees.

Lower Lake Region—Moderate winds, mostly easterly; fine and warm today and Thursday. Friday—Probably fair and warm.

Georgian Bay—Light to moderate winds; fine and warm today and Thursday.

Northern Ontario—South and southwest winds, mostly fair today and Thursday, with possibly a few scattered thundershowers over north portion; continuing warm.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley—Light to moderate winds; fair and warm today and Thursday. Friday—Probably fair and warm.

Lake Superior — Moderate southwest winds, mostly fair and warm today and Thursday, a few scattered thundershowers in western and northern districts.

London — Temperature 56; clear; southwest light winds.

Parie—Temperature 56; foggy; northeast light winds.

Burns To Death As Car Upsets

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 25.—(CP)— William Arvonen, 32, was burned to death early to-day when trapped in capsized car at the outskirts of the city. Miss Evelyn Reid, a passenger in the car, suffered shock and Oris Campbell, owner and driver of the car, was held on nominal charge of reckless driving.

Campbell managed to extricate himself and Miss Reid, riding in rear seat with Arvonen. They were unable to get the latter out. An inquest will be held.

50,000 TRAPPED BACKS TO WALL IN SANTANDER

WITH INSURGENTS ATTACKING SANTANDER, Aug. 25 (AP).—One hundred thousand insurgent soldiers held Santander in a pincer-like trap today. The city's defence forces—50,000 or more Spanish Government troops—were cut off from all retreat, with their backs to the Bay of Biscay.

Advance patrols of General Franco's conquering legions were within five miles of the provincial capital.

A column of Varrequietes (Carlista) entered Torrelavega during the night and early morning, and closed Barreda, junction point on the only road from Santander toward the last government refuge in Northern Spain, Oviedo Province. Torrelavega lies 11 miles southwest of Santander, and Barreda 11 miles west.

The insurgent column that started northward 11 days ago as the extreme left flank of Franco's offensive reached the outskirts of Torrelavega late last night.

The "Navarras" found the important manufacturing and potash mining city defenceless and moved in behind tanks. The capture of Torrelavega virtually ended the campaign, Franco's commanders said.

Five other columns, welded in a semi-circular ring, moved toward the tottering city from other directions, ready for a final triumphal push through its gates.

ONTARIO FARMS NEED DRY SPELL

OTTAWA, Aug. 25—(AP)—Harvesting of grain crops is well advanced in Canada, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday in a general survey of conditions.

In the Maritime Provinces, the harvest has been early as the result of prolonged dry weather and yields are below earlier expectations.

In Quebec and Ontario, heavy rainfall has done considerable damage to standing grain and stooked fields. Dry weather is needed to facilitate completion of the harvest.

Manitoba crops are nearly all cut and considerable threshing has been done. Yields are mostly good, although grade will run lower than last year.

Where crops in Saskatchewan were worth cutting, the work is almost completed and yields are running from less than seed to as high as 25 bushels in the better areas. Feed supplies are low throughout most of the province.

Harvesting is progressing in Southern Alberta, but in other parts of the province dry weather is needed to hasten the ripening of crops. No frost damage has been reported as yet. Grasshoppers are plentiful on the prairies and many eggs are being laid for next year.

Fruit crops are promising in all the producing provinces.

The dry conditions in the Maritime Provinces have been partially relieved by scattered showers recently. More rain would benefit late crops and pastures. Early sown grains are promising, but late crops are only fair to poor. Late planted potatoes are below average, but early field crops are good. Apples will yield a large crop of good quality.

Rains have held up the harvest in Quebec and much of the grain crop is lodged. Yield of oats will be below last year. Pastures are good and the potato crop indicates a large outturn. Heavy rainfall in Ontario has delayed harvest and caused some losses from grain sprouting in the field. Yields are below the promise of some weeks ago. Pastures, roots and corn are all good and fruit crops are yielding well.

CENTENARY S. S. ENJOYS OUTING

ROSENEATH, Aug. 25.—The Centenary United Sunday school held a picnic on Tuesday afternoon at Minnetonka Park Rice Lake. Upwards of fifty people were present and games and sports were enjoyed by all.

The usual picnic supper followed the program of sports.

Roseneath United Sunday school held its annual picnic on Thursday at Victoria Park, Cobourg. Dinner was spread on the tables in the park and following this a program of sports run off. A peanut scramble was enjoyed by the ting tots, and a race run by these same tots was won by Francis Crego.

Primary class race—Sheila Burrison, Rex Crego.

Junior Girl "Save Your Balloon" contest, was won by Keitha Brown.

Jr. boys' running race —Perry Brisbin.

Intermediate boys' race— Jimmy Robins.

Intermediate and senior girls' class, hop, step and jump— Ruby Blodgett, Marie Mouncey, Lois Talling.

Among a number of amusing contests enjoyed by the adults was a ladies shoe kicking contest, won by Mrs. L. W. Scott, and the men's shoe kicking contest was won by Ray Bradshaw.

Men's hop, skip and jump—Ray Brown.

Card 26 Years Is Being Delivered

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 25 (CP)—A postcard mailed here 26 years ago was delivered in Cleveland two weeks ago, according to Mrs. Charles Norris of Brantford. There was no indication on the card why it was delayed so long.

The card was addressed to Mrs. W. C. Penfold, Cleveland, who died four years ago. An alert postman recalled the dead woman had a daughter residing in the city. The card finally was delivered to Mrs. Julius Eastman.

DECENT MINIMUM WAGE DEMANDED BY WAR VETERANS

TIMMINS, Ont., Aug. 25.—(CP)—Enactment of a minimum wage law "sufficient to provide a reasonable standard of living" was urged in a resolution passed last night by the Ontario command, Canadian Legion, at its 10th annual convention.

The resolution expressed belief that "in some instances employers exploit employees who are pensioners," and asked that an inquiry be made into wages paid ex-servicemen.

Government relief allowances to veterans were criticized in a discussion of the wage resolution submitted by Toronto district branches. Deduction of the amount of pensions from regular relief payments was protested.

Toronto delegates opposed new zoning proposals before the command as they believed the regulations would mean splitting Toronto posts in districts that took in both city and suburban members. The particular clause was referred to a caucus of Toronto members to be discussed after the session.

HEPBURN HINTS AT PROSECUTIONS IN DEATH DUTIES

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 25 (CP)—The Ontario Government does not question the right of men to strike, Premier Hepburn told an outdoor audience here last night.

"I don't question the right of men to organize for collective bargaining," he said. "In fact we'll assist them. We don't question the right of men to strike. Similarly no employer is going to coerce men into working against their will. And if any man wants to work, he's going to go to work and he is not going to be molested."

In the afternoon the Premier spoke at Kingsville to the Liberal nomination meeting which put Charles G. Fletcher, Leamington lawyer, in the South Essex field. Fletcher defeated Lambert P. Wigle, present member, and two others for the nomination. Wigle became the first member of the present Legislature to be defeated for renomination.

James H. Clark, Deputy Speaker of the Legislature, was renominated for the Windsor-Sandwich riding at the convention here. He declared himself unalterable committed to the Premier's Labor policies.

No Quarrel Over Law

Mr. Hepburn told his Windsor audience there is not one strike in Ontario today because of the spirit of conciliation among the workers and the advanced labor legislation put on the statute books by the present government.

The Premier restated his hostility to John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and his organization.

"I want to tell you fellows who are for Lewis that I will continue to stand for law and order and if you want Lewis, don't vote for my candidates because I am going to fight him to the last ditch," said Mr. Hepburn addressing himself to a group of hecklers.

Income taxes and inheritance taxes (succession duties) were the proper methods to bring about a levelling of wealth, the Premier asserted. That was why his government had imposed the provincial income tax and had made a drive for

DEATH DUTY DRIVE TO BE CONTINUED

MOUNT BRYDGES, Ont., Aug. 25.—(CP) — Charles MacFie, sitting member, last night was chosen Liberal-Progressive candidate for re-election in South Middlesex. An Exfrid township farmer, he was unanimous choice of the convention.

Speaking in the well-filled town hall, Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario minister of agriculture, said the government did not intend to let up on its succession duty collection campaign while the election campaign is on. He said that "within the next few days" the government would issue a writ claiming $1,500,000 in unpaid duties from an Ontario estate, which he did not name.

He said the large amounts collected in succession duties helped the farmers of South Middlesex. They were able to receive more service at lower cost as a result. He declared that if the Conservatives were elected the "huge revenues" from inheritance taxes would dry up.

Ottawa Women's Choir Leader Unhappy Over Eisteddfod

Contends Judging Not on Lines That Would Rule at Similar Event in Canada.

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP)—Experiences of the Ottawa Women's Choir at the recent Eisteddfod Choral competitions in Wales were not altogether happy, according to the leader of the Canadian singers, Wilfred Coulson.

Differences in language, different singing technique and the arrangements for the competition marred for them what Coulson termed "a really inspiring musical festival."

The Canadian choir placed fifth among eight entries, but the leader of the visiting singers contended judging was not along the lines that would prevail in such a competition in Canada.

In disagreement with Coulson's views was Sir Ernest Campbell Macmillan, dean of the Faculty of Music at the University of Toronto and leader of the Toronto Symphony orchestra, who assisted in judging several of the Eisteddfod competitions, including the women's choir contest.

Sir Ernest said he was certain the Ottawa choir competed under the same conditions as the other competitors. He said he was certain no favoritism had been shown the

$10,000 FIRE HITS WESTERN VILLAGE

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug. 25—(CP)—A bush fire caused $10,000 damages at Meath Park, 30 miles northeast of here, yesterday, when thousands of bushels of grain, several buildings, 25 telegraph poles, and 900 ties on the Canadian Pacific Railway roadbed were destroyed.

Tons of feed and hay were lost. The fire is under control.

In the northeastern section of Saskatchewan forestry officials report 11 new outbreaks in the Shed Lake area, west of Smoothstone Lake, where men and equipment are being rushed to combat the flames.

A serious outbreak was reported from the east end of Fort a La Corne Reserve, located a few miles east of here, north of the North Saskatchewan River.

Two planes were kept busy through the night carrying men out of Big River to fight the fires and men from the Torch River settlement, north of Nipawin, were called upon to battle flames which threatened homes, possessions and valuable timber tracts.

STOWAWAY FOUND COASTAL STEAMER

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25—(CP)—Officers and crews of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Princess Elaine, which runs on a regular service between here and Nanaimo, Vancouver Island, are having trouble with a persistent stowaway.

He is a nondescript wire-haired terrier who slips up the gangway at the Vancouver dock and hides until the vessel is well on its way, when he appears and begs snacks from the passengers.

Although chased ashore when the return trip is ended he always reappears, hopeful of stealing another sea voyage.

Hull Asks Peace In Sino-Jap War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(A.P.)—A public statement from Secretary of State Hull emphasized to-day the United States' view that world opinion demanded a peaceful settlement of the dispute between China and Japan.

A threat of serious hostilities between the two nations concerned all others, Hull said. "We urge that they settle their differences in accordance with principles which in the opinion not alone of our people but of most peoples of the world should govern in international relationships.

"Without attempting to pass judgment regarding the merits of the controversy," he said, "we appeal to the parties to refrain from resort to war."

DITCHED HUNTERS HELPED BY BEGUM

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25—(CP)—One may find luxury in the jungle and big game hunting in the modern way has many compensations, says Mrs. Mary Griffin in The Province, writing of the adventures of Mrs. Harold E. Molson, of this city, who is just back from such a trip to Tanganyika in East Africa with her husband. Mrs. Molson is the former Lila Malkin.

Sleeping in a tent surrounded by howling hyenas and being dragged out of a ditch by the Aga Khan's party, including the Begum, were only incidentals in the seven weeks in Africa. Mr. Molson brought down 18 different varieties of game, including two lions and a buffalo.

"No," Mrs. Molson replied to the question whether she did much shooting herself. "I only fired one shot at a big game animal but I got him. I swore I'd get the smallest head in Africa and I did—a Thompson gazelle."

"I was terrified," she went on, "that he would only be wounded and that his groans would haunt me for the rest of my stay, but thank Heaven he fell dead—shot through the shoulder."

While crossing the plains Mr. and Mrs. Molson received some well-timed graciousness and assistance when their car slid off the road and came to rest in a deep ditch. Both were looking around dismally for a solution when they suddenly saw bearing down upon them, the car of the Aga Khan followed by his tremendous retinue.

The party, led by the Aga's wife, the Begum, turned out into the plains to offerd welcome assistance in extricating the car. Finally they were on the road again. The Begum and her helpers clambered back into their equipages and the princely caravan with a final salute drove off across the plain.

JUDGE PAYS THE FINE.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Aug. 25—(AP)—D. M. Dierks, acting county judge, tempered justice with mercy in the case of Sol Lesser, charged with fishing without a license.

"I understand the extenuating circumstances in this case," said the judge. "I know you've being doing your level best to get along without going on relief. But you must buy a license."

Judge Dierks fined Sol and then paid the fine himself.

ABDICATION CRISIS MESSAGE RISKED TO SAVE EMPIRE

QUEBEC, Aug. 25. (CP)—The Bishop of Bradford, Rev. A. W. F. Blunt, said in an interview today he was author of the address that brought the British constitutional crisis into the open "because of the danger silence was doing to the crown and the Empire."

The Bishop said the address was written months prior to delivery Dec. 2 and originally had another meaning. He arrived here yesterday aboard the line Duchess of Richmond for a lecture tour.

The address, which broke the self-imposed silence of the English press, contained the remark: "The king is in need of God's grace. Some of us wish that he showed more signs that he was aware of the need.

When he delivered it, the prelate said, he was well aware "the gossip" about King Edward VIII had given his message a new meaning.

"I took the risk because of the danger silence was doing to the crown and the Empire."

He had been prompted to bring the matter into the open by knowledge that "cuttings from the American press were being handed around among the mill hands of Bradford by communists."

At the time the address was written, he said, he had never heard mentioned the name of the Duchess of Windsor. "My only purpose was to express the concern which many people felt at the indifference to religious observance which King Edward seemed to show in public."

He consulted no one as to the contents of the address. "Not a soul in the world knew what I was going to speak about."

The Bishop will leave for Halifax today, accompanied by Mrs. Blunt, and will attend the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada. He would not speak during the tour on the part he played in the Empire drama, said the Bishop, emphasizing he was not "doing a Jardine." This was in reference to Rev. Anderson Jardine, who made a lecture tour of the United States after officiating at the marriage of the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield.

HISTORY PROVES WOMEN CAN RULE

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—(CP)—Although Miss Dorothy Thompson, New York columnist and article writer, scoffs at the idea she might be nominated for president of the United States in 1940, as suggested in a Washington despatch to London, she wants it understood she does not regard women as incapable of ruling the United States or any other country.

Miss Thompson said she means no slight on the proven ability of women to rule by terming the Washington suggestion "ridiculous," and hastens to history for confirmation.

"Under the matriarchies there never was any soil erosion and there was always the most meticulous conservation of the forests," the writer said. "In fact, when women ruled the tree was the symbol of all the divine elements of nature. There are some authorities who say the land ruin of China began with the passing of the matriarchies."

Coming down to more recent times, Miss Thompson said there were too many distinguished queens to leave the anti-feminist much comfort. She cited Catherine of Russia, Marie Therese of Austria and those two great English queens, Elizabeth and Victoria.

Claimed to cool off the most ardent wooer and to kill all instinct for love, a fluid has been produced by scientists in Europe.

MILLBROOK BOARD APPOINTS JUDGES FOR ANNUAL FAIR

(Examiner Correspondence)

MILLBROOK, August 25, — The Agricultural Society met for a business session in the town hall on Monday, at 8 p.m., with the president, Reeve P. Stinson, in the chair. The secretary read a letter from Mr. R. S. Duncan, who had been invited to open the annual fall fair on October 1, expressing his intention of being present.

J. N. McGill, treasurer, reported total receipts from the annual sports' day in July as $359.90; expenditures $217.34; balance on hand $142.56. This will enable the Society to pay the interest due on a note held by the bank amounting to $31.70, and also to pay one hundred dollars on the note, reducing it to $918.45. On motion of Harold Tate and I. W. Larmer the finance committee was authorized to renew the note for this amount.

The matter of securing judges for the fall fair, September 30 and October 1, was discussed in detail, the following list being mentioned: Light horses, Sam Hastings, of Tottenham, with W. Scott as alternate; heavy horses, F. Batty, Brooklyn, with an alternate to be chosen, if necessary, in this case also; sheep and swine, judges from the Junior Farmers to be provided by A. E. Summers, Agricultural Representative for Durham; dairy cattle, W. J. Murphy, Lindsay; beef cattle, P. Webb, Beith Stock Farms, Oshawa; grain and seed, H. A. Attwood; poultry, N. Brimstin, Port Hope; roots and vegetables, J. Hickson, Lindsay; domestic science, Miss Greta Pollard, Bowmanville; ladies' work, Mrs. Mitchell, Port Hope; plants and flowers, D.Jordan, Peterborough; fruits, W. J. Oke, Peterborough.

Horse Racing

After considerable discussion it was decided, on motion of N. Earl and R. J. McCamus, to offer a purse of $150 for the speeding in the ring, two races to be run, five horses to enter and at least four to start, entry fee to be paid before the race. H. A. Falls has this matter in charge as convenor of the committee, with A. J. Henderson, H. Tate and P. Stinson as the other members.

The matter of preparing the grounds for the Fair was brought up for consideration, the "bee" to meet for work on Thursday, September 2. Directors R. J. McKnight, P. I. Bentley, and W. E. Ball were appointed a committee to see about securing the Millbrook Citizens' Band for the Fair, and after extended discussion it was decided to keep the entry fee to the Fair at 35 cents and 15 cents, with public school children admitted free. No action was taken on the bill presented by the president asking the society to pay $3.35—one-third of the expense incurred in repairs to the spring on the grounds, the secretary pointing out that the Agricultural Society has an agreement whereby, for the payment of five dollars per annum, it has the privilege of using the water on the Fair days each year.

The president reported that the revisions to the prize list are about completed and same will be published in the immediate future. The matter of entertainment on the night of the fair was left with the committee, and the matter of putting up a prize, possibly money, to be drawn for and for which coupons would be given with tickets sold at the gate, as well as ahead of time, was left over until the cost of printing the extra tickets could be obtained and considered.

A NEW DEAL.

WINDSOR, Aug. 25. — (CP)—Termed a "new deal" by Magistrate Arthur Hanrahan in an effort to reduce the number of traffic accidents in this city, three Windsor men received jail terms of 10 days each on reckless driving charges in police court to-day.

The three were Joseph Dawson, William Kavanaugh and William McKay. All pleaded guilty.

Women are becoming expert mountaineers in England.

LIFFORD LINE

Miss Vera Trimble former teacher at Lifford School has returned to her home at Bowmanville after spending a week with friends at Lifford.

Miss Laura Neals of Peterborough is spending a short vacation with several relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Deyell and daughter have left for their home in Swastika following a holiday at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Gervin Mulligan and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neals.

Among those from here who motored to Peterborough Exhibition on Saturday were Thomas and Offa Staples, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Preston and family.

Mr. W. A. Neals was a visitor to Peterborough on Thursday.

Miss Cora Johnston of Winnipeg, Manitoba is visiting several relatives in this locality and accompanied by Mr. J. J. Clarke of Bethany called on Mr. Richard Wilson and other friends on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McGill and family were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Staples.

A colossal Sunday School rally attended by a large representation from the various Manvers schools was held at Ballyduff Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon. The chief feature of the occasion was a splendid address appropriate to the occasion by John Star Kin, B.A. of Korea. Additional contributions were made in the rendering of musical numbers by representatives of neighboring schools and a most encouraging outlook was presented for the commencement of the Fall term in the various schools.

Harvesting in Manvers is almost completed, the recent rains having delayed the final round-up. The whistles of the threshing machine is heard on every hand and granaries are being filled in a much more satisfying manner than during the 1936 threshing season. Recent rains have made plowing conditions much improved so that farmers are able to proceed satisfactorily to their next line of work.

Marguerite Neals has returned home after spending a few days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Lowery at Orono.

Arthur and Lowery McQuade of Omemee were recent guests of several visitors at Lifford Line.

Stewart Staples is spending a week with his cousin Alvin Tate at Centreville.

Ruth Medland has spent the past month with her aunt in Toronto.

PICK WALLPAPER TO MATCH WOMEN

NEW YORK, August 25—(CP)—"Dusty" backgrounds in a variety of off colors designed to flatter blonde, brunette and titian feminity are on the wallpaper program for 1938.

That's what the Wallpaper Institute announced at the preview of its new decorative schemes. And there is every indication that turquoise, plum backgrounds will replace the browns and grays that were popular last year.

"Dusty pink" however is holding its own and will continue in vogue, said James H. Liberty, a director of decorative research. "We are illustrating now how flattering wall paper can be to an individual," he said. Here's the background formula: for blondes, dusty shades of green, white, blues; for red-heads plums, mauve, metals, gold and silver; brunettes, powder blues, dusty pinks, yellows and grays.

CERTAIN WEATHER SAID TO CREATE BAD FIRE HAZARDS

OSHAWA, Aug. 25.— Scientists are trying to determine just why and how certain weather conditions create fire hazards.

During recent years there were several fires in the New Jersey section of the United States. All involved the storage of nitro-cellulose in one form or other. All occurred in extremely hot weather. All were reported "of unknown origin."

But now science is endeavoring to find out just what connection these fires had with the weather. There is a definite link between the weather and certain types of fires. Exhaustive tests have shown that static electricity, cause of many explosions and subsequent fires, is more liable to be disastrous in weather of low humidity. Now chemical research work is being done in a further effort of investigation along these lines.

Surveys Fires.

So T. Alfred Fleming, Director of Conservation, National Board of Fire Underwriters, New York, declared here to-night when he addressed the annual dinner of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs. He spoke at length in a survey of fire after fire, showing that as industry has expanded with the use of chemical processes, new fire hazards have also developed. Science has been called to combat these hazards and solve the problems. "Results in the future," he concluded, "depend upon careful study to-day and that study includes the necessary co-operation of all forces in any way affected by fire losses."

Following a civic welcome by Mayor Hall and Alderman J. A. Coleman, of the city's fire protection committee, Chief A. Kappelle of Stratford, replied on behalf of the 250 delegates.

Chief Alex Hope of Port Arthur, dealt with a resolution passed at the Provincial Firefighters' Federation in Kingston to the effect that legislation be sought forcing the municipalities to pay a reasonable share of the maintenance of a pension fund, and reported he had learned that only five centres in Ontario had pension schemes, although the question had been brought up at every convention since 1911.

Lack Experience.

"The whole trouble has been that we chiefs have not been very good at playing the intricate game of politics," remarked Chief Kappelle, during discussion, at the conclusion of which a special committee was appointed by President Defields.

In the evening the annual dinner was held, at which T. Alfred Fleming, New York City, as the guest speaker. Other speakers who spoke briefly included Mayor Alex Hall and J. Grove Smith, Dominion Fire Commissoner.

LINDSAY PAIR GIVEN REMAND

LINDSAY, Aug. 25—Ken Pollock and Thos. Bryans appeared before Magistrate Gee Tuesday charged with keeping liquor for sale and for breaking and entering the Big 20 Cafe. The accused asked for a further remand and this was granted by the court. When Pollock asked to have his bail renewed, the bondsmen were willing, but Crown Attorney Anderson expressed doubt when the record of the man was considered. Bail was renewed, however, Bryans was remanded in custody. The accused occupied apartment on Kent street, and the police pulled off an early morning raid.

Isaac Rae Laidley, father of Ald. Dr. Laidley, town, passed away at his home here Monday night in his eighty-fourth year. The deceased had been a resident of Lindsay for the past thirty years, and was born on the 14th concession of Manvers. He is survived by his wife and three children.

Wilfrid Parliament, of Little Britain, brother of Roy Bullock, of town, passed away at General Hospital, Toronto, this week after a short illness. He is survived by his wife, several small children, his father, on brother and two sisters.

"Babe" Heels, the local man, charged with shooting at Gilbert Sanders with intent to cause bodily injuries, was remanded for a month on request of his solicitor, L. M. Frost, K.C., at Monday's session of the police court. His counsel stated the accused was suffering from painful skin ailment which required hospitalization.

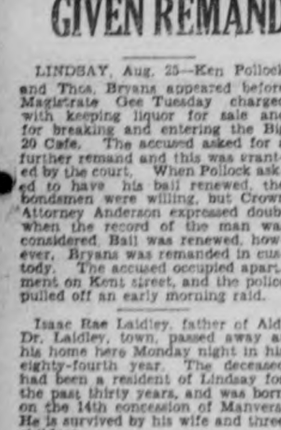
Kidnapped?



Jack Hamerly, 19-year-old Houston boy who was seized at Rosenburg, Texas, when the aeroplane of Bob Hunt, Houston aviator, ran out of gas there. Hunt is reported to have stated that Hamerly kidnapped him and forced him, at the point of a gun, to fly toward the Mexican border, where he intended looking for work. Hamerly is probably the first man to be seized for alleged kidnapping of an aviator and his aeroplane.

What Caused Portugal's Break?

Dr. Edouard Benes
President of Czechoslovakia

Marshall Antonio Carmona
President of Portugal

Portugal's severance of relations with Czechoslovakia has created a sensation in Europe. Portugal, a dictater nation, aligned with Nazi Germany in the Spanish civil war crisis, recalled its minister to Czechoslovakia when that nation refused permission of its largest armament factory to fill a Portuguese order for guns. The break was made on grounds that Czechoslovakia refused to deliver guns because of pressure from "a third nation." Czechoslovakia, a democracy, itself has been subject to bitter political attack in German Nazi circles as being an ally of France and the Soviet Union.

These Names Make News

MacMILLAN

One of the foremost musicians in Canada, Sir Ernest MacMillan, was recently adjudicator at the Royal National Eisteddfod in Wales. Born at Mimico, Ont., on Aug. 18, 1893 he took musical degrees at Edinburgh and Oxford. He has the distinction of being the first person in the British Empire outside of the mother country, to be knighted for his services to music.

BANTING

Sir Frederick Banting in collaboration with Grant Banting, medical research worker, surgeon and painter, is known throughout the world as the discoverer of insulin for the treatment of diabetes. The discovery was made by Dr. J. R. McLeod and Dr. Charles Best of the University of Toronto. He was knighted in 1934 because of his discovery.

C. I. O. CHIEFTAIN CHALLENGES FORD

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 25 (AP). —A C.I.O. chieftain said today factional strife within the United Automobile Workers of America was "cooling off" as the membership rallied for a fight which its militant president said would "lick Henry Ford."

Enthusiastic delegates to the U.A.W. convention cheered President Homer Martin's prediction "Henry Ford, or someone for him, will sign an agreement with the U.A.W."

"We'll get the agreement, no matter what it costs or what it takes," Martin told the convention in his annual report yesterday. He challenged Ford to "get ready" to put the union label on his cars "if he wants to continue making and selling them in America."

Admitting he was here to smooth inter-union differences as John L. Lewis' representative, John Brophy of Washington, executive director of the C.I.O., with which the U.A.W. is affiliated, said "our efforts have been toward conciliation but this situation is not a split."

The Martin-directed 'progressive' faction and a 'unity' group led by Wyndham Mortimer, first vice-president, have been at odds over centralization power in the president's hands. The 'unity' group wants Martin's powers divided equally between him and four vice-presidents.

Martin digressed from his prepared report to send the delegates into demonstration lasting six minutes with his challenge to Henry Ford.

100,000 CASUALTIES.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25.—(CP). — Some foreign observers to-day estimated the toll in the two weeks of fighting in and about Shanghai as more than 100,000 killed and wounded. Officially compiled casualties in the International area totalled 5,160, including 1,60 dead.

Course Designed For Farmers' Son

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—(CP)— A two-year agriculture course designed especially for farmers' sons will be inaugurated at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, September 20. The course has been prepared by Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, and Dr. G. I. Christie, O.A.C. president.

Mr. Marshall said he was particularly anxious for an increase in the number of two-year students at the institution. "In order to encourage farm boys who find it difficult to pay their expenses we have this year reduced the board for two-year students from $5.50 to $3.50 a week."

There will be no tuition fees for the new course, Mr. Marshall declared. Only boys who intend to make farming their life work will be accepted.

Buys Armaments

Three European loans and a $50,000,000 commercial credit with a Czechoslovakian armament firm were obtained by Dr. H. H. Kung, Chinese finance Minister, on what he termed a "satisfactory" business trip to Europe. Dr. Kung also visited several munition factories preparatory to placing large orders. Speaking about the trip, the finance minister said it had shown him "how great is the sympathy everywhere for China."

TEXTILES ALLOW STRIKERS WEEK TO START WORK

MONTREAL, Aug. 25. —(CP).— Unless they go back to their machines in four Montreal plants of the strike-fettered Dominion Textile Company, more than 4,000 textile workers here have the company's warning they may be without jobs after next week.

Dominion Textile's 10,000 employees in its nine plants in Quebec walked out Aug. 2 seeking higher pay or shorter hours and union recognition. All but a few, who last week heeded the company's back to work call from three Montreal mills, still are on strike with the dispute in a deadlock.

Hoping for a general return to duty by the workers, the company opened the gates of three Montreal plants a week ago, and the fourth's last Thursday, with the offer of paying them wages recommended by the new Provincial Fair Wage Board which becomes effective Sept. 1. Since the re-openings, an estimated 750 men and women tured up under police protection.

The company's managing director, G. Blair Gordon, warned last night "if the present situation continues, there is a strong possibility he will launch a drive next week to bring out working forces to normal and resume production."

Japan Blockades Chinese Shipping

TOKYO, Aug. 25 (AP). — Japan has ordered a blockade of all Chinese official and private shipping on the Chinese coast, the Domei (Japanese) News Agency said today.

The blockade was proclaimed by Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese Third Fleet in Chinese waters, effective at 6 p.m. tonight (6 a.m. E.D.T.). The blockade order included all Chinese shipping but specifically exempted shipping of other nations.

When A Man Is Sick

There is a native of Bulgaria in Hamilton, 32 years of age. If he were making a success of things in this country probably nothing would be heard of him, but things have been going badly. He needs assistance in the form of hospitalization because he has a chronic heart condition which makes it impossible for him to work.

When the case was being discussed it is reported the relief commissioner of Hamilton made the remark "Foreign countries send us their riff-raff. Bulgaria, Turkey and other countries send all their junk to this country."

We never heard of immigration being attended to that way by any country. There were many years in succession when the Dominion kept agents working in a number of lands seeking people to come to Canada. Steamship companies did the same thing—a privilege which should never have been extended to them.

If a man were well settled in any foreign country it is not likely he would be interested in leaving to come and live in Canada. Those who leave home for this or any other foreign country are most likely to be those who see little prospect of succeeding where they are now stationed. It is probably that expectation of somsthing better which prompts them to make the change.

It looks like a long and a poor statement to say that any country is sending to us its riff-raff and its junk. It is in particularly poor taste to introduce such a charge when a city is called upon to deal with a homeless man and one who is physically incapacitated by reason of a heart condition which removes him from the list of those who can accept any work available. There is such a thing as kindness and consideration left in this country and we would indeed be in a poor way were it to be dried up. The Bulgarian in Hamilton is destitute and friendless and sick. It is not the time to talk about riff-raff and junk.

Japanese Butchers

In the business section of Nanking there are large department stores, and in the middle of the day there are crowds of men ,women and children in there.

That was the hour of the day when a large shell from a Japanese gun struck a department store. It is reported that at least 400 were killed and 1,000 injured.

The people who were killed or mutilated were not participating in the war, so it must mean that the new technique of death engineered by the Japanese is something more horrible than the world has yet known. It must be considered quite right to drop high explosive shells or any other agency of death any place in the land which is being invaded. The chivalry which red-blooded men used to extend to women and children has been rubbed out in the East.

The League of Nations on which the world has spent millions, means nothing at all. Manliness has been cast to one side and military tactics are now written in the form of wholesale butchery of women and children. Japan has rubbed her name out of the list of honorable nations.

A Favorite Message

Sixteen British school girls, part of a group touring Canada, were officially welcomed in London, Ont., by a civic luncheon which was of two hours' duration. We learn there were a number of speeches made, and the school girls heard themselves described as "missionaries strengthening the bonds between the Mother Country and the Dominion," and so on. It is recorded the visiting girls looked rather serious through it all, and the after-dinner rhetoric may have been a trifle overblawn for them.

Always that is a favorite hill for the speakers to slide down when there are any visitors from other parts of the Empire. That business of strengthening the bonds of Empire is as certain to be present as the celery and olives.

Possibly the girls from British schools had come to Canada to see what sort of a place we had and to have a good time generally. When they departed they may have had so much luggage with them that they never thought to put in a bit of cement for the purpose of fixing up the loose corners of the Empire. Or it may be the girls from Britain figured the Empire was in fairly good shape before they started on their trip and they were content to leave it that way. We hope our after dinner speakers have not scared them.

Not Selling The Telegram

The Toronto Telegram uses front page space to announce that it has not been sold to William H. Wright, president of Wright-Hargreaves Gold Mines, and owner of the Globe and Mail. The reason for the Telegram's announcement was a story printed in the Winnipeg Tribune in which the statement was made "Trustees of the Evening Telegram, are considering an offer of $8,000,000 cash for that paper."

The trouble with a story of that sort and its denial is that unless the denial is widely circulated it will never catch up with the original mis-statement.

The Telegram was founded and rooted by John Ross Robertson, a man who had a purpose in life. He succeeded in his days of activity because he deserved to succeed, and his will he made certain that projects which he had fostered and principles to which he adhered would continue to be operating factors in the business. The Examiner is glad to hear the Telegram has not been sold nor is it being offered for sale.

Germany Ousts Rotary

If you happened to be a member of the Nazi party in Germany you would have to drop your membership in the Rotary Club. It is claimed that a number of Jews have recently joined the Rotary Club in various parts of Germany. Therefore the Rotary Club is out.

The reason given is that "No one in the Reich can be a member of an internationally controlled body." If the Rotary Club were a German organization then membership in it would be all right. But if the Rotary Club became a German institution it would cease to exist because it is international and world-wide in its outlook.

There is always present that force which seeks to keep the people of one nation from becoming friendly with the people of other nations. There is always the possibility under an international system of people in one country finding out that the people in another country are all right and would like to be on good terms with the rest of the world. In such an atmosphere it is difficult to the point of impossible to breed the amount of hatred and suspicion which the world's sword rattlers desire to exist. That is why Germany has struck at the Rotary Club. Hitler and his associates do not want the people of Germany to have friendly relations with the rest of the world. It suits their purpose much better to have them believe the rest of the world is at enmity with Germany and ready to strike at that country. Without such a feeling it is not possible for a distatorship to exist.

The Politics Of Ontario

Six weeks from today people of Ontario will elect members to their Legislature. The time in between is short, but there is not much of the element of surprise in the announcement.

The last contest in Ontario was on June 19, 1934, but the first session of the Legislature then elected was not held until February 20, 1935. The 1937 session was brought to a rather hurried conclusion, so the actual time which members of the present Legislature have spent in Toronto attending to provincial affairs has not been great.

There were years when only two parties figured in Ontario contests, but such years have been comparatively few. The contests of 1886, 1890, 1902 and 1905 list only Liberals and Conservatives as being returned. In 1894 there were 49 Liberals, 27 Conservatives, 14 Patrons of Industry and 2 P. P. A., (Protestant Protective Association), but in the contest of 1898 there was but one Patron of Industry returned and the movement as a political force and as a merchandising channel for farmers lapsed.

In 1558 Labor first elected a member, and the same in 1911 and again in 1914. Since then the classification has not been so simple. In 1919 the United Farmers of Ontario surprised the rest of the politicians and probably themselves as well by electing the majority group in the Legislature of 44 members ;there were 11 Labor members, one classed as a soldier and two independents. Then it was in 1926 that the Progressives, probably the logical successors to the former Patrons of Industry or the U. F. O., first made their appearance with a following of 13, which number was thinned out in the 1929 contest to a showing of five.

IN the last Ontario election the weight of the vote was to a large extent Liberal and Conservative, with the C. C. F. the third party on voting day although returning but one member. The general vote was distributed this way:

Liberals, including Lib.-Prog.	791,139
Conservatives, in Ind.-Con.	621,374
C. C. F.	108,961
Independents	17,462
Communists	9,747
Farmers, (Inc. U. F. O. and Far.-Lab.	9,376
Socialists	1,807
Other parties	157

So in the last contest in this province there were actually eight channels into which votes were being placed, but the great bulk of the votes went to Liberals and Conservatives, and the great bulk of the membership went to the Liberals.

'Parking' Horses In Brantford

In the Branford Expositor it is recorded that thirty-five years ago complaint was being made that some farmers were in the habit of tying their horses on Colborne and other business streets for hours at a time. Police were instructed to remove "all animals to livery stables when they had exceeded a certain parking limit."

Whether that word "parking" was actually used in the Expositor account of the event 35 years ago is something we do not know, but we believe it is more likely that the story of 1902 was rewritten in the language of 1937.

David Harum had a horse which would stand without hitching, but the farmers who drove into Branford 35 years ago possibly did not. The word "park" was something which came with the automobile. In former times its use was to indicate a piece of ground inclosed, and stored with beats of the chase; a piece of ground kept for ornamentation or public use; there is also references in dictionaries of long standing to a park or artillery, while the word "parked" means "to inclose in a park."

We doubt whether the city solicitor or the chief of police in Brantford 35 years ago, when considering the cluttering up of the hitching posts by horses left there too long would speak in terms of "parking." We either made or adopted that word after we started to drive cars and then began to search for places to put them. And each day the search becomes more acute.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Man in Winnipeg is under arrest charged with having bitten off the end of his wife's nose. Whether she was one of those sweet young things is not stated.

In the Old Land there has been invented a cow boot for animals with sore feet which need attention. Fine, and the cow has a horn to put it on with.

The Air Council in London has given official recognition to the bagpipes. But how can a piper perform when he is not able to beat time with his foot on the ground?

Quebec man went down stairs when he smelled gas and touched off a match to find the leak. Reports from the hospital indicate the man was right in believing there was a leak.

Toronto man was fined $25 and 30 days in jail at Hamilton for reckless driving. The $25 is a hard touch but having to spend 30 days in Hamilton is worse.

The mayor of Toronto says his office is too hot for working in summer days. The next time the Examiner's tourist edition comes off the press we'll have to send him a copy.

Police are seeking to halt the amount of liquor which is finding its way to the Muncey Indian Reserve. That is one trick the red man learned from the white, and it has never yet turned into a profitable venture for him.

The bridegroom may not come in for much attention at a wedding, but we just noticed that in case of a church or house wedding it was proper for the bride's parents to pay for the decorations and other such expenses.

Report from St. Thomas says there are 13 families on relief who have been in that position since 1930. That makes work simple for the relief office as there is now no time spent in the silly business of identification.

In the want-ad section of a paper published in the troubled city of Shanghai there appears this notice: "Wanted—One house, cheap. Bombproof cellar." We take it that any landlord possessing a bomb-proof cellar would have little trouble in finding a tenant.

In Russia a truck carrying children to a picnic turned over and killed nine. The owner of the truck was sentenced to be shot because he told the driver to go faster. The driver was sentenced to 10 years in prison. We haven't tried anything so drastic in this country—yet.

Toronto man was arrested in Chatham on a charge of being drunk while driving his car. And a woman of 37 summers who was with him admitted she was in the same condition. Possibly the woman had as much right to be drunk as the man, but when such cases come to notice there are a good many folk who will be thankful their mothers were always satisfied with an added cup of tea about four in the afternoon.

SAFETY

(By A. R. K.)

¶ The courts fine people every day, for driving in a careless way, the warnings are severe; the beak talks hard and straight to them, he numbers them with lawless men, and fills them up with fear.

¶ The man who keeps on cutting in, will get it daily on the chin, may have to seek some bail; if his supply of kale is low or if his payments come too slow, they bounce him off to jail.

¶ That's why I like my pink sedan, the best old crate that ever ran, although it's very old; and there are times when it moves slow, it may downright refuse to go, it quits then flat and cold.

¶ And it takes patience that I know, to try and make it puff and go, it is not smart at all; and when I start it up a hill, it rattles like a sawing mill, and gets there on a crawl.

¶ But I feel safe when I go out, no traffic cop will come and shout, and speak his sharpened word; nor will he speed to catch my cart, and throw a shiver in my heart, and draw me to the curb.

¶ My pink sedan has little speed, but it will do the things I need, and it will gee and haw; and though it bumps me rather rough, I know it can't go fast enough—for me to break the law.

OFFICIALS of General Motors Corporation made a request to the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission that no publicity be given to bonus payments made to its senior executives, but the request was refused.

That is how people came to learn that Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., 1936 president and 1937 board chairman received a combined salary and bonus of $561,311 last year.

William S. Knudsen, former executive vice-president and now president, was in receipt of $507,645.

Charles F. Kettering, vice-president, did not do so well, and had to be content with $353,755.

Not much has been heard of William Rockefeller, but his estate keeps speaking regularly. He was a brother of John D., and died in 1922 leaving a net estate of $50,000,000, to be distributed after 1950 among his great-grandchildren. A report to the New York Surrogate court which was made public last week revealed that in the last fifteen years the principal increased by about a million dollars a year and the fund now stands at 64 million. Trustees have kept 60 per cent. of the estate in bonds and 40 per cent. in stocks.

FOR 100 years after the Declaration of Independence was a finished article it had no permanent home. During its wanderings it found shelter in 10 cities and five states. Twice it narrowly missed destruction by fire and in both the Revolutionary War and the war of 1812 it was nearly captured by the British. In 1894 it was placed in safe in the State Department library for safe keeping. In 1921 it was moved to the Library of Congress where it is on permanent exhibition.

Doctors and Patients.

STATISTICS show that about 2 per cent. of the population can be counted on to be sick, and doctors probably have to consider that when seeking a location. On a population basis the profession is getting crowded. A recent survey showed that in New York there is one doctor for each 267 persons; in Boston one for 290; in Washington, D.C., one for 297. In San Francisco the number is one doctor for each 345 and in Los Angeles one for 384.

How They Settle Things In South

Families Take to Men's Feudin' Rifle and Revolver At Mail Box.

EVERYBODY in Appling County knew the Whitteds were feudin' with the O'Quinns. Ever since the government rehabilitated Miles Whitted and his wife and five children into those parts of the South Georgia piny woods, there'd been trouble about cows.

Two years ago one of the O'Quinn cows got into the Whitted pasture, and Whitted took a shot at it. Then an O'Quinn got to accusing Whitted's pa of stealing eggs. Not long ago the O'Quinns' oldest boy smacked a Whitted youngster with a glass jug.

One day last week Miles Whitted and his boy Bill, 18, trudged up the road to get their mail at the box across from Isham O'Quinn's combination store and home. Three of the seven O'Quinn children were sleeping. Mrs. O'Quinn was on the front porch with the youngest O'Quinn in her arms. As soon as she saw the Whitteds coming, she took the baby inside and returned with a rifle.

She shot once as Whitted pulled his revolver. His first bullet killed her. Then O'Quinn came out of the store blazing away with a revolver, and Whitted killed him. The sheriff gave Whitted a day or so to rest up from wounds in the scalp and forearm before arresting him.

This Woman Runs Two Newspapers

And She Is Making A Go of Them; Goes After Stories In A Daring Day.

From News-Week

ON% sweltering day in August, 1930, the staff of The Washington Herald assembled in a back room of their warehouse-like building on H Street. Despite the heat, all the men had donned coats and neckties; they were about to meet their new editor—Eleanor Medill Patterson.

They surveyed her with some dissatisfaction. A Washington society woman hardly seemed the person to put pep into the languid Hearst daily. Circulation hung around 61,000; many in the room wondered how long it would be before even that modest figure took a drop.

Their trim, red-haired boss sensed their attitude. "Suppose you say my being editor is just a stunt, but even so let's all try to put it over." She inspected the sweating masculinity. "And you don't have to wear coats while I'm around either."

By last week Herald daily circulation had reached an average 115,000 and the Sunday figure had jumped from 122,000 to 225,000. Mrs. Patterson was publisher as well as editor, having leased the newspaper —and agreed to absorb all losses. She had a similar five-year lease, taken last month, on Hearst's evening daily, The Washington Times.

Aug. 2, The Times (circulation 119,000) reflected the first touch of her handiwork—the old masthead spread eagle gave way to a Capitol dome; head and bank type was heavier and bolder; the whole paper looked cleaner and easier to read.

Cissy Patterson, as Washington calls her, smelled printer's ink from her crib. Her family has been in journalism for five generations. A great-great-grandmother set type, and a grandfather, Joseph Medill, rolled up wealth for himself and his heirs as publisher of The Chicago Tribune. Her brother, Joseph Medill Patterson, was co-founder of the immensely profitable New York Daily News.

Eleanor, born Nov. 7, 1884, spent her childhood in Chicago and attended Miss Hersey's School in Boston where she treated all subjects but English with frivolity. Later she visited St. Petersburg, Russia, with her uncle and aunt, met Count Joseph Gizycki, and became a Countess at 19. Of their daughter, Countess Felicia, the mother remarks: "She grew up to be very beautiful, which I never was. God knows."

Divorced from the Count in 1912, "Cissy" turned out a couple of novels, one of which—"Glass Houses"—satirized Washington society. Meanwhile she had married Elmer Schlesinger, counsel to the Shipping Board. In 1929 he dropped dead of a heart attack while playing golf.

Mrs. Patterson turned energetically to the career of her forebears. Within four days of taking over The Herald she startled the capital by tearing into her old enemy, Alice Longworth. A front-page box, headed "Interesting But True" denied a rumor that Mrs. Longworth would take the stump for Ruth Hanna McCormick, then a candidate for the United States Senate. "Mrs. Longworth cannot utter in public," The Herald announced. "Her assistance will, therefore, resolve itself, as usual, into posing for photographs."

She also leaped merrily into a circulation war with Eugene Meyer, publisher of the Washington Post. At one time The Post ran on its masthead a crowing rooster, apparently symbolic of the dawn. Mrs. Patterson countered with a drawing of a dead chicken with its feet in the air, captioned "You asked for it, Eugene." The feud flared into court in 1933 when both papers claimed the right to run Andy Gump and other comics syndicated by The Chicago Tribune. Mrs. Patterson's connections with The Tribune didn't help her; the court ruled in favor of Meyer.

Meanwhile the woman editor was making it hot for The Post and other rivals by raiding their staffs. From Meyer's daily she hired Ruth Jones, best society editor in town, and Bob Considine, ace sports writer. From The News she grabbed Jackie Martin, smart woman photographer. Presently he took on Frances Troy Northcross, expert home economist, and started The Herald's Home Maker Clubs which sponsored cooking classes and theatre parties and distributed refrigerators, stoves, and other household appliances to lucky subscribers. For civil-service readers, she engaged George D. Riley, who had been doing a Post column devoted to government clerks their welfare and problems.

Realizing that more ads were needed she hustled many herself putting the bee on the shop owners from whom she bought her costly dresses and holding frequent parties in her imposing house at 15 Dupont Circle. There potential advertisers could get an eyeful of society and officialdom.

Although she arrives at the office in a 16-cylinder Cadillac or some other costly creation the editor-publisher is not too proud to go out on a story alone. During the Winter of 1931 she sallied forth in old clothes as Maude Martin, a homeless, destitute woman seeking shelter in the capital. She slept in Salvation Army headquarters and landed a cook's job at $5 a week. While she didn't do any cooking, the adventure made a good eight-part serial. In Miami during Prohibition she walked boldly through the gates of Al Capone's bizarre mansion and—closely followed by eight husky bodyguards—bearded the bootlegger in his den. She came out with an interesting interview.

Count Jack Rabbits By Millions

They Eat Some of the Fields Bare As Many As 50,000 Taken In A Drive.

Niagara Falls Review

IT is said of Kansas that its residents always exaggerate both their blessings and their sorrows. In view of this Review readers can do what they like with the statement by a Kansan agricultural college professor in the National Geographic that some seasons Kansas has from six to twelve million jack rabbits.

This may be putting the number exactly as he put it, for his statement was:

"In years when crop damage from rabbits is worst there are from 200,000 to 400,000 jacks in every one of our thirty-odd western counties.

"Three jacks can eat as much as a sheep, and 25 of them as much as a steer. Often you'll see whole wheat fields eaten right down to the ground."

To meet this menace every so often the farmers gang up and drive the jacks into wire corrals. Up to 30,000 jacks have been "liquidated" in a single drive.

That is all to the good, and the statement that many of these are sent to the Salvation Army in New York City is also agreeable news. Further statement, however, that large numbers are grabbed by the ears, packed in crates and shipped east to be released in new homes is not so agreeable.

Well does the writer remember finding one winter morning the bark ripped off the south side of a large number of young apple trees, and small branches cut off the trees by jack rabbits. They are a pest, and to release them in new territory sounds extremely foolish.

PROTECTING BEAVER

(Sault Ste. Marie Star)

ENFORCEMENT of game regulations isn't always an easy matter and in most cases the game wardens do as well as they can be expected to do with the opportunity they have.

But it is evident that something will have to be done if the game resources of this district are to be preserved and developed as they should be.

There is a ban on the trapping of beaver and has been for a dozen years. But in section after section of Algoma you find the story told that instead of increasing the beaver are decreasing—because they are still being trapped. The writer has even heard rumors of one man who offered 100 beaver pelts for sale in one lot.

It should be possible in some way to check that sort of thing. Perhaps the answer is more game wardens. Perhaps it is a closer check on the buyers, for if there were no market there would be less incentive for the trappers to kill the animals off.

Then, too, there are game preserves. But back in the bush you will hear stories that these preserves are being systematically looted despite the watchfulness of the officials. It should be possible to stop that also.

Perhaps the answer lies in combining the patrol forces of the game department and the forestry department and so automatically increasing the number of wardens.

THEY JUMP WEST

(Niagara Falls Review)

HERE is a problem about as serious as the old one about the chicken crossing the road, and so far as we have read no one has been able to tell why a chicken crosses a road.

Last night the writer was driving north from Lake Erie. During this run of a few miles three husky frogs hopped across the road in front of our car. And they hopped in earnest —nothing lazy or deliberate about it, and no stopping rabbit-wise to see what the glaring light meant. It was a case of hop for dear life.

But they all hopped west. Ditches on each side are equally deep, with no water in either.

Why did all these frogs hop in the same direction? We'll expect an answer from someone who has made a real study of the frog and its haunts.

A GERMAN PUZZLE

(Ottawa Journal)

A CURIOUS footnote upon the argument that machines create unemployment has just come from Germany. It is a despatch telling that Germany has not only solved its unemployment problem but is actually suffering a labor shortage. Specialized industries can't get mechanics. General industries can't get laborers.

The interesting part of this is that Germany is one of the most highly mechanized countries in the world. There, more than in any country in Europe, not excepting England, technology reigns. How comes it, then that all these German machines haven't created unemployment? The fact that Germany is engaged in a vast rearmament program, can't be the answer. Not the complete one.

There must be some other answer.

POPULATION DECREASES

(Montreal Star)

SCIENTISTS gathered in condave in Paris recently forecast that the populations of eleven countries in northern and north-western Europe will decrease by 40,000,000 in the next sixty years. For hundreds of years the populations of those countries have been growing. They were the mainspring of the development of modern western civilization, and particularly in the last one hundred and fifty years the number of their inhabitants have swelled tremendously through natural increase. Now the current is reversing.

In England the population is said to have already started on the downgrade, since the experts said that 1936 would be the peak year. According to the authorities other countries will soon be noting a similar tendency.

BREAD ON THE WATERS

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

WE'RE going to plant raspberry bushes. A lady of our acquaintance gets quite a crop from her plants, far more than she can use herself. So she distributed dishes of them to her friends. So far this year six of her dishes have come back, none of them empty. One contained a lake trout, another cookies, the others, rolls, a cake, meat loaf and little pink beets. Ah, the reward of virtue! Yes, we're going to breed raspberries and give them away in big buckets!

Barron, Wis., has lost its mayor, and the place has a population of 1,863. This way: Mayor John A. Anderson sold his house and then he could not find another, so he had to move to near-by Rice Lake, but was no longer a resident of Barron. So he resigned.

HOSPITAL FULL.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 25 (CP)—Accommodation in the isolation wards at Victoria Hospital constituted a new problem for hospital and city health authorities today as the number of infantile paralysis cases reached 32.

All scarlet fever patients were sent home in order attention could be concentrated on the paralysis epidemic.

Ward three, known as the main isolation ward, is filled and the old isolation section almost taxed to capacity. Dr. C. A. Harris, medical health officer, said the intention was to return patients to their homes as quickly as possible when recovery seems assured.

TO BUILD $600,000 WING.

TORONTO, Aug. 25. — (CP) — Construction of a $600,000 addition to the Ontario Hospital at Mimico, Toronto suburb, will start "as soon as possible," W. J. Gardhouse, Liberal M.L.A. for West York, announced today.

The new wing will be for the reception, diagnosis and early treatment of new patients, said Mr. Gardhouse, and will house 120 beds. Plans have been completed and tenders will be called immediately.

Church Committee To Distribute Relief Funds in West

REV. DR. D. N. McLACHLAN

REV. DR. W. W. JUDD

REV. DR. R. B. COCHRANE

A joint committee of the Roman Catholic church, the Church of England in Canada, the Presbyterian church, the Baptist church and the United church, has been formed at Toronto to quickly mobilize relief for persons in the drought areas of Saskatchewan. The committee will ask ministers in other sections of the country to organize groups to collect carloads of fruit and vegetables, both canned and fresh. These will be shipped to the drought stricken country without charge by the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways. Members of the committee are Rev. Dr. W. W. Judd, chairman; Rev. Dr. R. B. Cochrane, vice-chairman, and Rev. Dr. D. N. McLachlan, secretary.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25—(CP). — Fair export demand following relative firmness at Liverpool were factors in nervous trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. After moving both one cent below and above yesterday's closing levels, wheat futures, assisted by light offerings, finished 4 to 1 cents higher, October $1.22¼, December, $1.19b, and May $1.20⅜.

Export demand for Canadian wheat accounted for sales estimated at 300,000 bushels in the earlier part of trading.

Some investment buying and mill demand lifted values nearly two cents from opening low points.

But support thinned and long periods of listlessness appeared until the final minutes when some hedging of yesterday's Western Canada wheat deliveries amounting to 1,519,000 bushels hit the market.

Liverpool closed ½d to ¾d lower due to disappointing demand for foreign wheat.

MONTREAL LIVESTOCK

Trading was restricted to the calf section of Montreal livestock markets throughout dealings yesterday, moving actively at steady and unchanged prices. In contrast, cattle moved slowly at steady prices, while sheep and lamb division held unchanged, with hog prices unquoted despite heavy offerings.

Receipts: Cattle, 121; calves, 274; sheep and lambs, 209; hogs, 1,100.

Grass calves sold at $4 to $4.50, with drinkers mostly $3 to $3.50, and common to medium vealers $7 to $8. Medium good and good vealers sold in mixed lots from $8.25 to $8.50.

Good lambs went at $8.50, with bucks and culls at $1 a cwt. Sheep sold down $3.25 to $3.50, with canners down to $2.50 and $2.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, August 25—(C.P.). — Calves moved 50 cents lower for the week on the Toronto Livestock Market to-day, while lambs were steady to 25 cents down. Cattle and sheep were near previous levels, while no hog price was established by early afternoon. Cattle holdover from Tuesday was 1,600 head.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Livestock Branch were: Cattle, 540; calves, 440; hogs, 9910; sheep and lambs, 420.

Trade was dull on common quality cattle. Weighty steers ranged from $6 for common to $10 for choice. Common to medium butcher cattle brought $4 to $6.50, and a few choice light steers, around 1,000 lb., were from $8.50 to $9. Good cows traded at $4.50 to $4.60, plain downward to $3. Bulls sold between $3.25 and $4.50.

Common to medium store cattle ranged from $3.50 to $4.50, and a few good stockers reached $5.50.

Choice veal calves were generally $9 to $9.50, common vealers as low as $5. Grass calves moved at $4 to $4.50.

Indications were off-truck bacon hogs would close near previous levels of $10 to $10.15.

Good ewe and wether lambs were priced at $9 to $9.25, others from $7 to $8.25. Sheep ranged from $1.50 to $4, with a few light ewes up to $4.50.

in 1900 the middle-aged widow forsook social life to carry on her husband's interests. With the acumen of a Hetty Green, Wall Street's best remembered woman financier, she added steadily to her fortune by astute stock speculation.

Then came the panic of 1907, when hundreds of banks closed. Mrs. Wood sold her holdings in time to avoid loss, but the experience left her badly frightened and profoundly distrustful of all banks.

In 1931 it was found she had not stirred for two years from her hotel where she lived surrounded by 40 trunks crammed with family relics, jewels, valuable books, silk and old lace worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

A court declared her incompetent in 1931. A nephew Otis F. Wood, appointed to care for her, disclosed the frail widow — she weighed only 70 pounds—for years had carried hidden in her dress paper bags containing $900,000 in $1,000 bills.

Friends said she told them of making a trip through Africa with $700,000 in a brown paper bag tied night and day to her wrist.

SPREADING "CULTURE."

BERLIN, Aug. 25—(CP-Havas). —"Cultural attaches" will be assigned to German embassies and legations abroad, it was announced here to-day.

Their duty, a communique said, will be to spread German culture and establish a basis for cultural collaboration between Germany and the countries to which they are accredited. The first of such attaches will be stationed in Great Britain.

Cigar Plant 'Big Family' Strike Finally Wearies Owner

Tries Kindness in Vain—Tries Court, Loses—Gang Sits On—135 Days.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 — (AP) — Employees of a cigar factory here to-day began the 135th day of a marathon sit-down strike—believed the longest in history—fortified by a court decision against their 'big brother' employer.

The employer, Ernest Eckes, refusing a demand for a six per cent. wage increase but hoping to win his 130 employees to him by kindness, treated the sit-downers with every consideration.

Did one of them want to go home to visit his family? All right, he could get back in. Was a striker wanted on the telephone? Eckes would call him. Was the room too chilly? Eckes would give them more heat. Also electric lights to read by.

But finally golden-hearted Mr. Eckes tired of his record-breaking sit-down. He turned off the electric lights. He told the switchboard operators not to take any more calls for strikers. Still the sit-downers sat.

Finally Eckes hauled five of the strikers before Magistrate Edgar Bromberger on charges of "unlawful possession."

He told the Magistrate the whole story.

"I just wanted to be nice to them," he explained. "Our factory before family with me the big brother.

"Did you ever lock the door to keep them from coming back?" asked the Magistrate.

"No," said Eckes, unhappily.

"It seems quite definite that the strikers were on the premises through permission and sufferance," ruled the Magistrate. "Case dismissed."

The five sit-downers went back to the factory.

Eckes sought aother court.

JOHNSON LOSES OUT.

CAPREOL.—Electors of this Northern Ontario town failed to support William H. Johnson in his protest against the High School Board's approval of coal orders without checking weights. Johnson resigned from the council in protest.

In the by-election yesterday to fill the vacant seat Edward Knapp defeated Johnson 215 votes to 140.

Canning Pamphlet Promised For Next Season By Mary Moore

Ready With All Up-to-date Methods For Next Canning Season.

By MARY MOORE

A BINDING promise is about to be made to you:

For so many summers that it seems like forever I have been deluged with mail demanding canning recipes "quick before my fruit spoils." My holidays are always haunted with typewriter, forwarding addresses and "what time is the mail collected."

Many times our patient patriarch (wouldn't he love being called a patriarch—him with red hair and looking at 34 like a callow youth of 20.) had to make flying drives over rocky northern roads to catch the mail train.

Exasperated at last he exploded: "Why don't you publish a pamphlet on canning, and merely mail it to the readers—it would be more satisfactory for everybody once you compiled it."

So, ladies—ever dutiful (and ever attempting to be smart enough to pounce on a good idea when I hear it) I hereby promise to compile a canning pamphlet with all the up-to-date methods of canning fruits and vegetables indigenous to this territory, and it will be ready for you next canning season.

Phew! It took courage to write that because time has a way of rolling round without leaving any of its precious self for doing such extras.

Since I am Mrs. Average Citizen too I am canning apples because they are so plentiful and we have such a generous neighbor; rhubarb because last winter I wished I had had some in my fruit cellar for Marianne who seemed to need some such alkalizer about February; peaches because we all love them, for breakfast, lunch or dinner, or in fruit salad combinations all year round; tomatoes because they are good for you, cheap, plentiful, and general favorites too—an unbeatable combination in food I think.

Some of you may be doing all of them, most of you will be doing some of them so here are the best methods:

Canned Apples

If you can get apples very cheaply if you have plenty of jars on hand, this is a good month to can them.

Wash, pare and cut apples into eighths by cutting lengthwise through the core 4 times. Have ready a solution of ¼ lb. salt and 3 and one-third quarts of water at 115 or 120 deg. Fahr. (Just above blood heat) to immediately submerge the apples in while preparing them to keep them white. When finished let them stand 20 minutes at this temperature; the vessel should be enamel or stainless steel or aluminium. Drain, and dip the apples in boiling water for 1 minute. Fill hot into sterile jars, packing down thoroughly using a plunger (for pint jars I used an empty glass paprika bottle that had been previously sterilized) and fill with boiling water, adjust sterile rubber, tops and rings (screwing down to within ¼ turn of tight) and boil 10 minutes (counting time after water which should come to with 1 inch of top of jars, has reached boiling point.) Remove cover from cooker, and add cool water so that jars may be removed from water and cooled quickly—the water must be carefully flowed down the side of the cooker to prevent cracking jars. Do no loosen seal, tighten seal immediately.

Canned Rhubarb

Wash but do not peel rhubarb, and cut in about 1-inch lengths, and soak in cold water overnight. Dip in boiling water for about 1 minute, or if rhubarb is young ½ minute will do. Fill into jars which have been previously sterilized, while hot and pack down well by knocking jars on wooden surface. Fill with boiling water and process pint jars 6 minutes in water just under boiling point; quart jars 12 minutes in water just under boiling point. Adjust rubbers, tops and rings same as directed for apples, and chill the rhubarb as quickly as possible without cracking jars.

Canned Peaches

Scald well ripened but not soft, peaches, in boiling water for about 1 minute, until skin is easily removed. Cool thoroughly in water. Remove skins and halve the fruit and remove stone and pack carefully in sterile jars. Add boiling hot syrup in proportion of 2 cups sugar to 3 cups water which has been boiled gently for 5 minutes, adjust sterile tops and process at boiling temperature for 20 minutes, having water come to within 1 inch of tops of jars. Do not loose seal, tighten seal immediately. Cool water in cooker as fast as practical.

Canned Tomatoes

Scald choice, smooth tomatoes, dip in cold water, peel, remove core and pack into sterile jars, knocking jars on wooden surface to pack tomatoes firmly. Some housewives like to add 1 teaspoon salt and sugar each to each pint of tomatoes. This is not at all necessary if you do not want to do it. Adjust sterile tops, process at boiling temperature for 45 minutes, having water come to within 1 inch of tops of jars—count time after water begins to boil. Do not loosen seal, immediately tighten seal. Cool jars as quickly as possible.

READERS—Please do not curb your writing urges because I mention the amount of mail. Half the fun of writing this page comes from the letters you write me with the valuable ideas and fresh viewpoints.

If you want specific canning instructions write mentioning the fruits you wish to can and we will publish the instructions as far as possible.

I have to leave you now for there are 2 11-quart baskets of yellow beans patiently waiting to be put into cans. Cheerio.

WHEN IS POTATO NEW?

LONDON—(CP)—Another problem solved is that of "when is a new potato new?" The Potato Marketing Board ruled no matter when it appears above ground, a potato is not "new" after July 31.

Tested Favorite Recipes

(By MARY MOORE.)

We used Astrakhan apples for the following, but no doubt any of the apples on the market now would be good; the pineapple juice would give the scrubbiest apple obtainable a good flavor.

Mauna Loa Apple Pie

Six medium sized rather tart apples, 1 cup white sugar, 1 cup unsweetened canned pineapple juice, 1 teaspoon cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon butter, plain pastry. Make a syrup of the sugar and pineapple juice and when it boils add the apples which have been peeled, cored and cut in quarters, reduce heat and cook very gently until fruit is slightly softened, but certainly not broken. Move them about barely enough to see that all pieces are kept touched by the syrup. Skim out the apples and place in pastry lined pie plate. Stir the cornstarch into 2 teaspoons cold water then stir it into the syrup and cook 5 minutes, stirring, until it thickens. Add the vanilla and butter and pour over the apples in pan. Cut remaining pastry into strips ½ inch wide, brush them lightly with cream or beaten egg mixed with water and place criss-cross fashion over pie. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. (very hot) for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 deg. Fahr. to finish baking.

This is such a delicacy I hesitate to suggest adding unsweetened whipped cream to it, but if you do or can buy Devonshire Cream in your neck of the woods it is fit for the gods.

Enquiry Column

Conducted by
Mrs. MARY MOORE

QUESTION: After reading your replies to so many readers I thought you might help me out.

I have been making my own vinegar from sour, water, sugar and fruit juices, but it never gets that tart taste that the commercial vinegar has. Can you tell me what is wrong? Sometimes it seems to all turn to water, the top scum. Is there any acid I can use?—we prefer the dark vinegar.

I would be glad of a reply soon as I would like to use vinegar for pickles this fall. Thanking you.—Mrs. M. W.

ANSWER: Thank you for your letter.

The following method of making vinegar we recommend because so many readers have been pleased with it.

Home-made Vinegar.

Five gallons of fresh cider (2 bushels of apples will yield about 5 gallons). Let stand for 2 days after it is pressed so that apple sediment may drop to bottom of container. To it add 1 fresh yeast cake which has been crumbled and dissolved in 1 quart of the cider, and stir all well.

The alcoholic fermentation is now about to take place. The liquid should be kept at a temperature of about 70 deg. Fahr. The sugar in the apple juice in combination with the yeast culture turns to alcohol and this process will take about 6 weeks to make a good strong vinegar—however it has been done in 4 weeks under ideal circumstances. To test liquid for complete alcoholization use hydrometer and it will register "Zero" when ready for next step. Many an experienced vinegar maker can tell when the sugar is completely turned to alcohol by tasting it.

After the alcoholic fermentation is complete, the juice should be carefully drawn off from the containers in which it stood, without disturbing the settlings in the bottom, and passed into very clean barrels for their final acetic fermentation, filling barrels about 2-3 full to expose as much of the surface of the liquid to the air as possible.

To each 5 gallons of liquid add 1 quart of good strong cider vinegar to hasten the change to acetic acid. Leave all bung holes open to admit air but cover top of barrel with cheesecloth to keep out dust and insects. If a good starter vinegar has been used and the juice is kept at about 70 deg. Fahr., the time required to convert the alcohol in the juice to acetic acid is between 3 to 6 months. We hope you will find this method satisfactory. You can see by reading it that you probably have tried to hurry your method too much—which gives you an unsatisfactory result.

Do write again when we can be helpful.

QUESTION: Kindly mail me your booklets regarding canning of all kinds of fruits and vegetables in open kettle. I know nothing about canning or preserving fruits and vegetables, and would like to do some, and expect to do my preserving in a kettle on stove. I wish you would help me. Thanking you.—Mrs. W. J. N.

ANSWER: Thank you for your letter.

Even to experienced canners I would not give advice to can by open kettle. We decidedly do not approve of the method, and since you are about to learn, and since you are serious by your effort to learn correctly, I know you will be glad to be advised soundly.

You should learn to can by packing your jars according to directions and then process them either in boiling water or by steam pressure. Start right now clipping all the cookery pages—during the canning season there is something relevant to it on every week's cookery page—if readers save these pages it saves much repetition and gives more space for new recipes and methods.

If you have not been saving the cookery pages, write to me again immediately and tell me what you want to can and I will give detailed directions either on the page—or if you send a stamped addressed envelope again I will send you the instructions by return mail. We do not have booklets regarding canning or I would be glad to mail them to you. Do not wait to write as the season is getting along so quickly.

QUESTION: I am thinking of buying a cast iron top style Dutch Oven, and would deeply appreciate some advice from you regarding same: (1) Is it best to get one with plain top or drip top? (2) Are they suitable for cooking vegetables, and should the little tray in the bottom be left in when vegetables alone are being cooked? Should a small amount of water be added? Should salt be added when vegetables are cooked? (3) I would like to know the proper way of cooking a pot roast in Dutch Oven. (4) Should I make or boil a small piece of ham (4 lbs. or so) in it? I mean, should I cover ham with water, or just add a little piece of water and cook slowly? (5) There is a size No. 8 which measures 10 inches across, and 4 inches in depth. Would this be a bit large for a family of 2 adults and 1 boy 4 years old? The No. 7 size is slightly smaller.

Would you also please tell me how to make deep apple pie. My husband is very fond of the kind with lots of fruit, no bottom crust, rich brown upper crust. Your column is very helpful and we look forward to it every week.—A. R. B.

ANSWER: Thank you for your gracious letter.

The Dutch Oven by its very construction and tight fitting lid is essentially for long cooking periods—and since so few vegetables require long cooking, I would not buy it with this use chiefly in mind. Bush vegetables as sweet potatoes and carrots can be beautifully "glazed" in it on top of stove—and it is ideal for making Boston baked beans in the oven because it can be closed so tightly and retains the heat so well.

Buy one with a drip top. Buy the No. 8 size—it is very little higher in price and the slightly larger size is a great advantage if you wish to fricassee a whole chicken, or pot roast some beef for guests.

If you do cook vegetables in it—remove the trivet, and add both water and salt just as you would in other utensils. It is not designed for waterless cooking.

The following two methods are ideal for Dutch Oven:

Pot Roast (the Original Method).

Wipe one and one-half pound lean beef (from shin) with a clean damp cloth and cut in 1½-inch cubes. Remove trivet from Dutch Oven, add 1 tablespoon butter, 1 onion peeled and sliced, 8 slices carrot, ¾-inch thick, 2 sprigs parsley, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon peppercorns. Add meat, and two cups each hot water and canned tomatoes (or cut up raw ones when they are in season). Cover and simmer gently for 3½ hours, if this is baked in oven do so at 275 for same length of time). Half hour before serving time thicken with 2 tablespoons butter, work until creamy and mixed with 2 tablespoons flour — add 1 cup canned peas. When serving remove onion, carrot, parsley and peppercorns and turn out on hot serving dish.

Pot Roast (American Style).

Four-lb. piece of beef from round, rump or rib roll. Wipe with clean damp cloth, rub with salt, sprinkle with pepper. Roll in flour and sear the entire surface in Dutch oven without trivet, in hot fat salt pork. Replace trivet, add ½ cup hot water, cover and cook 4 hours, adding more water if needed and turning three times during cooking period.

Put out on hot serving platter, garnished with whole cooked carrots and potatoes coated with butter and sprinkled with salt and paprika and garnish between these with generous sprigs of parsley. Cauliflower makes an attractive addition.

Cover ham with water when boiling it in Dutch oven.

Deep Apple Pie.

Six or eight large tart apples, grated rind 1 lemon, ½ cup white sugar, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 3 tablespoons butter, ½ cup brown sugar. Peel and core apples and cut them into eighths. Arrange in buttered baking dish, cover with mixture of lemon rind, sugar and nutmeg. Dot with butter. Cover with pastry rolled thin in the shape of baking dish, and press it down well around edges. Make 3 short slits in centre of pastry. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for 20 minutes—finish for 20 minutes longer at 375 deg. Fahr. To get deep rich brown crust brush top of pie with beaten egg when you reduce the temperature.

We hope we have answered your questions satisfactorily and hope we can help you in the future.

Dinners of The Week

(By MARY MOORE)

All These Meals Have Been Served, Eaten and Approved

SUNDAY (Economical Guest Dinner)
Beef Patties a la Mode (see note)
Broiled Corn on the Cob
Vegetable Marrow with Cheese Sauce
Cucumber Salad (see note)
Fruit Cup of Chilled Watermelon Balls and chopped apple Flavored with Lemon Juice and Corn Syrup.
Iced Tea.

NOTES: For the Beef Patties season 2 pounds ground beef from the shin with salt, pepper, grated onion and Worchester Sauce and catsup, and moisten with milk or cream or egg yolk and shape into cakes, wrap with strip of breakfast bacon, fasten with toothpick and broil or bake until brown and bacon is well frizzled. Broil the corn under very hot broiler, but searing it first, then when it is slightly golden garnish platter containing beef patties with it. Garnish top of Vegetable Marrow with grated cheese and paprika.

For the Cucumber Salad, slice a long cucumber in ⅛ inch slices and lay it on a long dish such as a bread tray or celery dish on bed of inner lettuce leaves, retaining its original shape perfectly. Sprinkle top with very finely chopped parsley and pass chilled mayonnaise at table. The cucumber should be very cold, and sliced only just before serving time. Very pretty and different.

MONDAY (Hasty)
Cheese Omelette
Mashed Potatoes
Raw Food Plate of Carrot Slivers, Cucumber Slivers, Tomato Wedges.
Peaches and Cream
Coffee.

TUESDAY (Baked Dinner)
Casserole of Lima Beans and chopped Ham (see note)
Salad Greens (Shredded Cabbage, Lettuce and Carrots)
Mauna Loa Apple Pie
Coffee.
(see elsewhere on page)

WEDNESDAY
NOTE: If you use fresh lima beans—this requires 1 hour—if dried limas are used 3½ hours. To the beans (soaked if dried) add 1 can of tomatoes, 2 tablespoons molasses, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon mustard and ½ or 1 lb. ground smoked ham (your butcher might grind scraps and charge you less)—mix all together and bake until golden and tender. A crust of buttered crumbs is good.

THURSDAY (Vegetable Plate)
Corn on the Cob
Broiled Stuffed Tomatoes (see note)
Cauliflower Au Gratin
Shredded Head Lettuce-French Dressing.
Apple Tapioca
Hard Sauce
Iced Tea

NOTE: Stuff the tomatoes with Grated cheese mixed with fine cracker crumbs, melted butter and little of the scooped out tomato pulp. Sprinkle top with buttered crumbs and bake until tender but not so soft they are hard to handle. The tomatoes, cauliflower and dessert can all go in the oven together.

FRIDAY
Fried Smelts
Potato Chips
New Chili Sauce
Cabbage and Tomato Slaw
Hot Apple Sauce
Plain Cake
Coffee.

SATURDAY
Sliced Cold Head Cheese
Relish (Corn preferred)
Shredded Buttered Green Beans
Creamed potatoes with Parsley
Cantaloupe
Coffee.

Park Street S. S. Organized Fifty Years

In a little school house on Dalhousie street, the Sunday School of Park Street Baptist Church was first organized fifty years ago to-day (Wednesday). At that time Murray Street was the only Baptist church in Peterborough, and the distances were too great for many of the children to attend Sunday school, till the efforts of the late Miss Margaret Mann, a tireless church worker, brought about the oragnization of the new school, with an enrollment of 30 children. The first superintendent was James Grundy, but Miss Mann, who was associated with the Sunday school for 46 years till she passed away in 1935, was later its superintendent for 18 years. There were just three classes at the beginning—primary, intermediate and an adult class, but from the first the little Sunday school was self-supporting, though under the management of Murray Street. The new church was not organized for several years.

To-day, just fifty years after its organization, the Sunday school of Park Street Baptist Church, has an attendance of over three hundred scholars; the present superintendent being George Batley, and the pastor, the Rev. C. C. Boyter.

Miss Jennie Smart Holds Trousseau Tea

Sprays of white heather from the hills of Scotland—white heather for good luck—were placed in slender silver vases to flank the wedding cake at the trousseau tea given by Miss Jennie Smart at her home on Maude Street, Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The guests were received by the bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. R. Smart. Displayed in the living room were the many beautiful wedding presents, including gifts from England and Scotland. Upstairs the lovely trousseau and large number of shower gifts were shown by Mrs. George Butcher and Miss Margaret Smart, in the afternoon, and in the evening by the Misses Jean Rose and Jessie Martin.

In the dining room, the attractive tea table was arranged with a cloth of Italian cutwork, the silver service, and as a centrepiece, a bouquet of peach gladioli in a low silver and glass container was placed on a reflector. During the afternoon, Mrs. Bert Pitchford poured tea and was assisted in serving by Mrs. A. Roeborough and Miss Beth Henthorne. In the evening, Miss Mary Eason presided at the tea table, with assistants in Mrs. Butcher and Miss Jean Hammond.

Over one hundred friends of the bride-elect attended during the day to wish her all future happiness.

Lynch—Greenan

In St. Mary's Church, Lindsay, on Tuesday morning, the marriage took place of Miss Mary Greenan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Greenan of South Ops, and Frank Lynch of Otonabee. The Nuptial Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Lynch of Kearney, brother of the groom.

The bride, who was a former school teacher in Douro Township, was attended by her sister, Miss Aileen Greenan, as bridesmaid. Joseph Lynch, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lynch will reside in Otonabee Township.

✧ ✧ ✧

Beatty—Thackeray

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Trinity United Church at eleven o'clock on Wednesday morning when Kathleen Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thackeray of Stewart street became the bride of Milton Clair Beatty, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beatty of Dublin street. The Rev. E. W. Young officiated.

A redingote of white suede lace over satin was worn by the bride. Fashioned on princess lines with slight train, small Queen Anne collar and long, close-fitting sleeves, it was fastened at the front with small self-covered buttons to the waist. Two large white velvet roses at the neck and bows of corded silk ribbon on the satin skirt completed the charming gown. The floor-length veil of fine white net was held in place with a wreath of tiny lillies, little clusters of the flowers being formed over the ears. She wore white gloves and shoes, and carried a bouquet of red Premier roses.

Miss Irma Beatty, cousin of the groom, as bridesmaid, was gowned in forget-me-not blue organdy. Slim-fitting, with short puffed sleeves her gown was trimmed at the front with a cluster of pink flowers, from which wide matching corded silk ribbons crossed to encircle the waist, being brought to the front again to fall in long streamers. She wore a picture hat of white braided straw, white lace mittens, white shoes, and carried a bouquet of pink Talisman roses.

The best man was Ernest Betty, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party and immediate relatives at Walkerfield House. Mrs. Thackeray, mother of the bride, wore a dress in redingote style of brown triple sheer over flowered silk, with cluster of red, blue and yellow flowers. Her hat and accessories were brown. Mrs. Beatty, mother of the groom, was gowned in navy triple sheer with inset panel of lace and matching collar and cuffs. She wore a navy hat and accessories.

Mrs. Mary Beatty, grandmother of the groom, from Long Branch, Ontario, was among the guests. She wore a gown of black satin with white trim, black hat and accessories.

The happy couple left later for a motor trip to the States, via Montreal, the bride wearing a dress of buttercup yellow crepe, white hat, polo coat and accessories. On their return the bride and groom will reside at 309 Maitland Avenue.

The groom's gift to the bride was a cheque, and to the bridesmaid and best man, Waterman pen and pencil sets.

McLaren—Heath

BETHEL, Aug. 25—In a floral setting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Heath, grandparents of the bride, the marriage took place Saturday evening of Lola Evelyn, only daughter of Roy Heath, to Donald Ketcheson McLaren, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McLaren, Frankford. Rev. James E. Beckel officiated.

Ivory satin with insets of Chantilly lace fashioned the bride's gown. Her silk tulle veil banded with orange blossoms was that worn by her mother at her wedding twenty-four years ago and she carried Talisman roses. Her father gave her in marriage, and her aunt, Mrs. Harold Elliott, played the wedding music. The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Alec Kennedy, who was married earlier in the day, and who was attended by Miss Heath as bridesmaid, made a lovely bridal attendant wearing her wedding gown of white silk net over taffeta and white picture hat. Mr. Kennedy was best man, and Bobby Elliott, soloist.

Following a reception at which guests were intimate friends and relatives, Mr. McLaren and his bride left for Detroit, the bride travelling in a frock of navy triple sheer with navy hat and accessories and polo cloth coat. They will live in Tillsonburg.

✧ ✧ ✧

Among the many lovely gifts received by Miss Jennie Smart, whose wedding takes place on Saturday next, is a handsome floor lamp, presented to her by the choir of St. James' United Church. The beautifully decorated wedding cake, surmounted by a silver bell, lilies-of-the-valley and cluster of daisies and ornamented with silver leaves at the corners of each of the three tiers, is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Northam of Northam's Bakery, where Miss Smart was formerly employed.

Washing Blankets

Never rub soap directly onto blankets in laundering them. Use a soap jelly or well dissolved soap chips. After the blankets have been rinsed dry them in the shade to prevent them from turning yellow. Press satin or silk bindings with a warm, rather than a hot iron.

The Pryde-Chapman Wedding Group

Princess Elizabeth, Shirley Temple Set Styles For Modern Young Girls

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. — With Princess Elizabeth and Shirley Temple offering plenty of inspiration to fashion-minded mamas all over the world, an important American firm adapting designs created by little tots to prints for small girls and another naming their diminutive creations after popular songs, clothes for the smallest members of the family are high-styled and handsome.

This is a fall to send your curly-headed young hopeful back to school in smart, colorful prints which are unique enough to satisfy her desire to be different so teacher will notice her yet practical enough to save you laundry worries.

Tailoring Counts.

The choicest children's frocks are completely pre-shrunk and fade-proof. Many are finished with white collars and cuffs. Several types have little yokes. Others are cut on dirndl lines with moulded waistlines and billowing skirts.

For cool days, little coats to go over the prints are classifically tailored in the best English manner—veritable miniature Chesterfields, they are, with vents at the back, velvet collars and double-breasted closings.

One handsome coat for a child is of hopsacking-type wool tweed with brown velveteen collar, a deep kick pleat opening out from the centre seam down the back and high breast pockets. This is worn with a roll brim sailor of matching fabric.

Later on, you'll put your daughters in Tyrolean jumpers over gulmpes or sweaters. A navy wool model has a pleated skirt, suspender top, embroidered in Tyrolean cross-stitching, and is worn over a yellow sweater with crew neckline.

Miniature Clothes.

Sweater and skirt combinations are exact replicas of the type of costumes Big Sister will pack for college. Miss Four-Year-old can look pretty sweet in a pleated skirt of dark brown tweed and a little yellow pullover under a turquoise cardigan. Let her wear the cardigan backward if she likes.

On rainy days put little precious in a chic printed raincoat or cape with a matching hat. Many of these prints, too, have been designed by children for children.

Accessories in the children's departments are more interesting than they were when you and I were young. There are printed purses to match dresses (less expensive than you think), cute little belts and neckerchiefs with which a little girl can change the appearance of an old sweater just as big sister does, ankle socks to match galoshes that hold curls in place. Also perfectly beautiful shoes which keep feet comfortable as well as pretty to look at. Modern footgear for children encourages little toes to grow straight and lovely and discourages corns, callouses and weak arches.

Should The Girl Share Expenses?

By VIRGINIA LEE

"THE QUESTION which has been bothering me," writes a college student, "is whether or not women should share expenses with their dates?"

There is more to his question than that, but that is all that seems necessary and can be discussed here. Of course I can answer your questions only as a member of the feminine sex, my boy, and there always is the other side.

About women sharing expenses on a date, it is done, and I think should be done more than it is.

Young people should feel free to have good times together even if neither has much money to spend. They can share expenses and to go more places if they can attain a perfectly frank and free companionship. I had such comradeship with my brother, who was very little younger than I, when I was a girl. We planned where we wanted to go and each paid his own expenses, except occasionally Alf would take me somewhere as if I was his girl friend.

Self-Sacrifice Good.

We had a grand time, and such times could be had by a good many young folk who are not related if the same kind of frank and free relationship could be established. I think co-educational colleges are doing much in this direction. There are so many young people of both sexes working their way through these institutions on a shoestring as it were, and being thrown together as they are in study and play, they feel much freer to discuss their condition and work out some such partnership.

But I think, too, that it does a young man no harm to be self-sacrificing to the extent of going without some things and saving to give the girl friend a treat once in a while, even if he can't do so often. And it certainly will not harm the young woman to similarly plan something for the youth she likes best and save her money to give it to him, even if that, too, means sacrifice.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"Whether one regards life as a garden or a wilderness, there must be a path if one is to travel any reasonable distance and reach any given goal. One need not be a Christian—I, a Christian, insist on that freedom—but one must adopt some intelligent inclusive scheme of life, some religion of completeness, if one is to make life satisfying or even tolerable. . . Let me repeat that religion is a way of life, a more perfect way of a richer and more adequate life."

—Handford Henderson.

Dear Friends:

A few of us were talking the other day about religion as applied to life. Some had never read the Bible, yet they seemed to be the ones who condemned religion the most. Some had too much church pushed at them when they were young, having to sit through long drony sermons.

Others had had a little of it, but found too many restraints on the activities they wanted in life, while others took for their theme the many hypocrites who go to church Sunday, and act as they like on week-days. Some said they did not like the everlasting same-ness of the ritual, claiming they got nothing to take away with them when they DID go to church.

And so they asked me to give my opinion and here it is. There is not one of us who will ever get any real satisfaction in life without religion, and that means being able to go to Someone more powerful than ourselves, something to look up to and strive for.

Someone to go to when our hearts are torn to ribbons, when we are deep in despair. One asked if I didn't think our earthly friends whom we could see, could not fill the bill in that respect? But I told her that it had been tried by people calling themselves "humanists," who assumed that all human beings were sufficient unto themselves, but it fell down badly.

I will grant you that God has given us many means of helping ourselves which are seldom used, because we lack belief. A tree does not bother or lack belief that when the leaves drop off in Fall, she will not be able to have a fresh crop next year, but humans lack belief although proof of every kind lies all around them.

But—whether you profess Christianity or not, whether you go to church as often as you can, or never go at all, you must have SOME form of religion before yo can truly and fully live.

Read back into history and see how often men have tried to put it down in one way or another. Visit any outlandish place on earth, and you will see where the natives have raised up gods to themselves of wood or stone. They had to have something to LOOK UP TO, and not knowing about God, they made gods to themselves and who knows but what God will understand and take this homage to Himself.

Our Lord said to explain His Crucifixion "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men's eyes to me." And while my type of religion might not suit you, yet you must have something to which you lift your eyes and your spirit, else one day your self-sufficiency will fall you.

If you were going a journey you would not pick out the rutty seldom-used roads to go there. If you have any sense at all, you get a map and plan the route, so that it will be shorter if you are in a hurry, and pleasant whether you are in haste or not. But how few will map out the best and pleasantest way to live, but go along lickety-split, or hippity-hop, bumping and lumbering when it could all be so much better.

This generation has turned thumbs down on religion, but I'll bet when they see what it does to their lives, they will see to it their children have something to tie to. God is giving them enough rope to see if they can get along without Him, and it is a grand thing to know He will not turn them down when they see their error.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

Blue Stays in Fashion Parade

By Central Press

Mary Carlisle

It's amazing——the popularity of blue. Blue usually is a spring color, but this year it has lasted through the summer and is a great pet of autumn.

A pretty little suit that is ideal for the college and business girl is shown here in two shades of blue, and worn by pretty Mary Carlisle, daughter of Anne Q. Nilsson, former screen favorite. The frock, designed by Edith Head, Hollywood designer, has a smooth, straight short skirt with a softly tailored bodice. The neckline is softened by a tied treatment accented with a monogram in royal blue.

Jacket in Royal Blue

A box jacket of royal blue velvet matches a rolling-brimmed sailor hat, all very smart for autumn.

Many of the new daytime frocks have velvet details. Daytime coats, too, often show velvet encrustations. Lyons ribbed silk velvet and velveteen is much used for coat suits. In daytime dresses there is much black velvet, also deep brown and a new grayed green called Armure. A second new color is crimson red, and also there is a current red.

There also are quantities of velvet toques with high bows in the Paris fashion showings.

OTTAWA WOMEN'S CHOIR LEADER

Welsh choirs. Those choirs, which placed first, second and third, he looked upon as possessing choral beauty and power of control not displayed by the Ottawa women.

Scores Arrangements.

While Coulson said he admired the choirs that obtained first and second places in the competition, he voiced disapproval of the administration and organization arrangements made at the Eisteddfod, and the method of adjudication. Reverberations of the Welsh nationalist dissension movement were apparent at the Eisteddfod, he thought.

"Certainly nothing was done to make us feel they were glad to have an overseas choir there," he said, "even though I believe we were the first overseas choir to attend.

"Everything was naturally strange to a choir from Canada. We had to ask questions continually and these generally, as it happened, of persons who had no interest in us.

"When the choir of 47 arrived on the ground we were kept standing in the broiling sun for more than 20 minutes before being informed we could line up at a particular door for admittance to a dressing place. There we had to wait another 10 minutes until someone told us to enter.

"Finally allowed into a hole under the stage to robe, the choir found no seats or amenities of any kind. Then again the choir had to wait another half hour before being called to sing."

Coulson said, however, all choirs used the same quarters.

Coulson said he had opinions different to the Welsh adjudicators as to the particular realm of music to which women's choirs should aspire. The Welsh choirs possessed splendid volume and massive tonal effects, with which the Ottawa choir could not compete. In this regard, Coulson contended a women's choir ought not to attempt to imitate a men's choir.

Rules and arrangements have been made. Battisti has promised to put himself as banker, against a field composed of the "big names" in the baccarat world.

Disinterested professional players will be on the sidelines as referees. Play will start in the afternoon, with a halt for dinner, and a night game "as long as the players desire."

Under the agreement, Battisti is to play as long as he has any money left or until the other players have lost all of theirs.

There will be no credit. No quarter will be asked. It's all or nothing for Battisti.

Cries of "What about Croll?" met Mr. Hepburn as he discussed Labor policies and restated the stand which caused him to ask for the resignation from his cabinet of David Croll, M.L.A. for Windsor-Walkerville. Until the Oshawa motor strike Mr. Croll was minister of labor, welfare and municipal affairs.

After referring to "a man for whom I have a high regard and with whom I differed," Mr. Hepburn reiterated his stand against C.I.O. incursions into Ontario industry. He did not refer to Mr. Croll by name.

HARVEST, THEME ROSENEATH W. A.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, Aug. 25.—The regular meeting of the Women's Association of Roseneath United Church was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. A. Nill.

Mrs. C. Sandercock, vice-president, presided over the devotional period; the theme was "Harvest," and hymns, scripture reading, prayer and special numbers were appropriate to the theme.

During the business session, presided over by the president, it was decided, on motion, to co-operate with the W.M.S. to hold a bazaar early in December. The president, with Mrs. C. Sandercock, vice-president, Mrs. E. Blodgett, secretary, and Miss Mary Braithwaite were the committee appointed to meet the committee from the W.M.S. to make arrangements for the bazaar.

Mrs. Ella Brown reported that the steps, recently erected to the alcove, were painted.

Mrs. Andrew Brown, convenor of the Parsonage committee, reported the pulpit chairs, recovered.

Mrs. Ella Brown, Mrs. C. Sandercock and Miss Mary Braithwaite were appointed a committee to purchase material and arrange to make a quilt, now on order.

Mrs. Stewart Thackeray will be hostess for the September meeting and Mrs. T. Carew and Mrs. Ella Brown are a program committee.

Mrs. Andrew Brown, program convenor, presided over a short program. Mrs. L. W. Scott sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Irene Brown. Miss Brown also accompanied Mrs. Ednel Blodgett, as the latter contributed a reading. Miss Doreen Redshaw of Oakville, guest of her aunt, Mrs. Ella Brown, played two guitar numbers, and Miss Irene Brown arranged a contest.

Following closing exercises the hostess served refreshments, and a social hour was enjoyed.

CENTENARY W. A. PLANS ON SUPPER

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Dawson Timlin was hostess on Thursday afternoon when the regular meeting of the Woman's Association of Centenary United Church was held in her home. Miss Jessie Sherwin, president, presided, and read the Scripture lesson, Psalm 1.

During the business session it was decided to hold a ham and tomato supper on August 27, with a program following the supper. Rev. L. W. Scott, Miss Hilda Arthur, Mrs. Isaac Skuce, and Mrs. Walton Lean were the committee appointed to arrange for a program. Tea committee: Mrs. T. Arthur and Mrs. T. Kelly. Door-keepers: D. Timlin and A. Sherwin. Table committee: Mrs. D. Timlin and Miss Jessie Sherwin.

The society is making a quilt for sale, and Miss Hilda Arthur was appointed to purchase necessary materials for finishing the quilt.

The president was asked to purchase material for aprons, to be made up for sale. The "Surprise Box," a system by which extra funds are raised each month will be in charge of Mrs. D. Timlin until the September meeting. Miss Hilda Arthur presided over a program with readings and poems read by Mrs. Isaac Skuce, Mrs. L. Harvie, Miss Hilda Arthur, Mrs. Dawson Timlin, Mrs. Lewis Dowler, and Mrs. James Timlin.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess, with the social half hour following.

Mrs. L. W. Scott will be hostess for the September meeting, to be held in the Parsonage, and Mrs. D. Timlin will be in charge of the program.

CONCRETE POURING MAKING PROGRESS ON HIGHWAY NO. 7

Pouring of concrete in the paving of No. 7 highway was passed Downer's Corners this morning with the prospect of reaching the Locks Bridge by the end of this week.

The Law Construction Company has travelled with seven league boots in this work which was started a short distance west of the Indian River. They are laying the north half of the road in one stretch and will return to the eastern end to lay the south half of the seven mile strip.

Some delay was caused this week when the Department of Highways acceded to protests of residents west of Burgess' store and lowered the grade of the road one foot. This required addition work, and with the lowering of the grade past the Burgess store it was reported a complaint was made to Jas. Hawthorpe and J. J. Duffus, representing the Department, that the road level was not too low for the convenience of customers, especially at their gasoline service station.

Traffic was held up half an hour yesterday afternoon west of the C.N.R., but these delays have seldom been necessitated. Water has been piped for miles from the river to the huge cement mixing machine, and when the work is in progress at the east end of the job the pipes tap a big spring in the side of the hill west of the sixth line of Otonabee.

The Examiner was informed that the entire construction crew were unanimous in declaring the spring water the most palatable and the purest they had ever tasted.

"None of our men complained of upset stomachs or any illness of that kind while we were getting water from the spring, but it was different when we had to depend on some of the wells after we had got too far from the spring," one of the staff told The Examiner. "And the quantity of water flowing out of that hill may be estimated by the fact that although we were pumping to the mixer the level of water in the barrel we sank never seemed to drop. It seems too bad that a spring of that kind is going to waste out there on the side of the highway."

War Rumblings Around Globe

SALAMANCA, Spain, Aug. 25.—(AP).—General Franco, the insurgent chieftain, in a blunt communique, threatened today to continue his campaign against ships aiding the Valencia government.

HONG KONG, Aug 25. (AP).—Alberta De Stefani, Italian financial adviser to the Chinese government, said today that China would have no difficulty in financing the war with Japan. De Stefani, en route to Italy, said the Nanking government, under the stress of war, would be able to triple its normal budget receipts.

Japanese Field Headquarters, Llanghsiang, Aug. 25. (AP).—The Japanese army threw all available troops into action west of Peiping today in an effort to halt a Chinese flanking movement through a 20-mile breach in the Japanese lines. Three Japanese columns, flanked by dozens of small patrols, attacked the Chinese troops, attempting to drive them out of their fortified positions in the western hills.

TOKYO, Aug. 25 (CP-Havas).—The Sino-Japanese conflict is not officially considered to be a "war", a foreign office spokesman declared today. Normal relations are continuing between the Chinese embassy here and the Japanese government, he said.

Considerable importance was attached to the report Hachiro Arita, former foreign minister and ambassador to China, would leave China this week.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25 (AP).—Chinese business men announced today that China, since the outbreak of Sino-Japanese hostilities, has cancelled contracts for $141,840,000 worth of Japanese goods.

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish frontier, Aug. 25 (CP-Havas).—For the third time, and again for political reasons, General Juan Yague, one of the most popular officers in the insurgent armies, has been recalled from the front and relieved of his command by General Franco, it was reported today.

Yague, who commanded the army corps advancing on Madrid until shortly before the fall of Toledo, was consistently successful in the field.

FREIGHTERS TIED UP.

NEWCASTLE, N.B., Aug. 25. (CP).—Grip of strikers in this district seemed slightly today when employees of the Warren Paving Company returned to road construction work between Chatham and Richibucto. It was understood no wage increase had been granted.

About 1,400 longshoremen and mill employees remained idle. Additional members of Royal Canadian Mounted Police were on duty.

About a dozen freighters were tied up at Miramichi River wharves waiting for some settlement to permit loading of lumber and pulpwood cargoes.

GERMANY TICKLED.

BERLIN, Aug. 25—(AP). — Official Nazi quarters exuded satisfaction bordering on elation to-day in announcing Great Britain and most of the other Powers with be represented diplomatically at the annual Nazi Congress at Nuremberg beginning Sept. 5.

In previous years important envoys, including the British, United States, and French Ambassadors, have sidestepped invitations to Hitlerian Germany's greatest spectacle.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

SAULT STE. MARIE.—First suspected case of infantile paralysis here this year was reported today by Dr. A. S. McCaig, medical officer of health.

Montague Gives Up

Hollywood's golfing phenom, John Montague (ABOVE), boards a train in Los Angeles, headed for the east where he will face charges of participating in a robbery in New York state several years ago under the name of La Verne Moore. He dropped his fight against extradition.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 1

While schools in Toronto and other large Ontario centers will likely remain closed an extra week, the infantile paralysis threat to Peterborough is not serious enough to interfere with the return to schools here, Medical Officer of Health Dr. G. Murray Fraser said today.

"There is no need for alarm," Dr. Fraser stated. "There are only two cases in the city at present and a cure is almost completed in one of these."

School Inspector K. S. Wightman said last night local public schools will open on schedule. No move to extend the holiday has been considered here, he reported.

The opening of Toronto schools has been postponed until after Labor Day. Health officers are hopeful that the arrival of cooler weather will check the spread of the disease.

Brantford Fears Paralysis There

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 25—(CP)—Two suspected cases of infantile paralysis have been reported to the Health Department here and Dr. W. L. Hutton, Medical Officer of Health, issued a precautionary warning to parents to watch for first symptoms in order to check further cases. Meanwhile the Board of Health will meet to-day and Mrs. M. H. MacBride, chairman of the Brantford Board of Education, was asked to be present. One question to be discussed was the advisability of delaying the opening of schools and of barring all children from theatres while the current wave of infantile paralysis continues in Ontario.

SOME SUNFLOWER.

Mr. H. E. Pollock, of Trent River, has some sunflowers, the tallest to be seen. A number have grown 12 feet in height. Some of the largest flowers measure 18 inches in diameter and weight 3¾ pounds. A number of the smaller flowers are a red color.

IS AT CONVENTION.

Fire Chief George Gimblett is attending the annual Dominion Fire Chiefs' Convention, which opened in Oshawa on Tuesday for a three-day session. A number of social functions were scheduled for the convention including a garden party at Parkwood, home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McLaughlin, for the delegates and their wives.

FADED LICENSE NUMBERS

The slant of auto license plates from which the figures and letters have been almost totally obliterated by exposure to the weather is becoming common on Peterborough streets. Although the Department of Highways has offered to replace such plates free of charge, relatively few motorists have taken advantage of the offer.

PASSED THROUGH LOCKS.

The "Fradna" a trim and luxurious cruiser passed through the Lift Locks last evening en route from Midland to Toronto. She had four passengers aboard and before proceeding on her way down, docked at George street government wharf for refuelling. She was stated to have been burned at her dock in Toronto earlier in the year and has just been rebuilt and outfitted at a Midland shipbuilding yard.

CAR-TRUCK COLLIDE.

When a motor car and truck were involved in collision on Lansdowne street Tuesday afternoon, the car was overturned and Roger McFadden, Braidwood avenue was pitched from the driver's seat into a deep ditch at the side of the road. Both vehicles were damaged but the respective drivers escaped personal injury. The truck owned by W. J. Oke and operated by Jack Oke of Reid street was stated to have collided with the car broadside.

STRIKE RELIEF DEPOT OPEN

The strike relief depot operated for distribution of food to the families of striking Auburn and Bonner-Worth workers during the long dispute is still functioning at the corner of Charlotte and Bethune streets. It is no longer open daily but at scheduled hours this week the depot is distributing groceries to those families who are still without sustenance pending receipt of the first post-strike pay envelopes at the mills this Friday. The heavier burden has been lifted from the depot as most workers have their credit restored now that the strike is over.

Iron Lung For Toronto Hospital

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—(CP)—Purchase of an "iron lung" for treatment of infantile paralysis patients at Riverdale Isolation hospital was approved by the board of control today as an "emergency" measure in treatment of the disease. The only "iron lung" in the city, at the hospital for sick children, has been in use continually for weeks.

SUFFERS HEAD WOUNDS.

CHATHAM, Ont., Aug. 25 (CP).—In a dazed condition, and bleeding profusedly from head wounds, Hector Desaulmier, 21, Chatham, was rushed to hospital today after his car had collided with another at an intersection.

Desaulmier, garage employee, was driving to work when the accident occurred. His car collided with one driven by Elmer McNelly, Chatham.

These Six Russian Airmen Are Lost In The Arctic

The six men comprising the crew of the giant monoplane "N-202", photographed in front of their ship just before they left an airport near Moscow bound on a projected flight to North America. Shortly after the men passed over the North Pole, their radio signals cut out. It is believed they have been forced down on a huge ice floe and may yet be alive. Skilled Arctic aviators, including Joe Crosson, Jimmy Mattern and Sir Hubert Wilkins, are scouring the region in a heroic effort to save the sextette. LEFT to RIGT the fliers are: N. J. Galkovsky, radio operator; N. G. Kastanaev, second pilot; Sigismund Levanevsky, hero of the Soviet, commander and first pilot of the aeroplane; G. Pobezhimov, air mechanic; N. N. Godovikov, air mechanic, and V. I. Levchenko, navigator. Twice previously, Soviet airmen in Soviet aeroplanes have flown from Moscow to the United States, across the top of the world.

FOUR-DAY FAIR FIFTY YEARS AGO OLD LIST REVEALS

Fifty years ago Peterborough had a four day fair according to an old copy of the prize list of 1887 which T. H. Jackson, 176 Aylmer street, showed Ald. R. M. Glover.

The Central Exhibition in the year of Queen Victoria's golden jubilee extended from October 4th to the 7th, inclusive. Admission was 25 cents with 10 cents extra to the grandstand, and it is believed the fair was held only in the eastern section of the present Park which was divided into two parts by a high board fence.

William Rutherford was the president; and others officers were John McClelland, Robert Vance, David D. Gallelly, secretary, and Charles McGill, treasurer; directors Hugh Davidson of Smith; Jos. Tully, North Monaghan; Wm. Collins, Smith; Joseph Redmond, Otonabee; Joseph Foster, North Monaghan; John Garbutt, Smith; James Stevenson, Peterborough; and W. M. Fair, North Monaghan.

In all its essentials the Exhibition of today varies but little from that of half a century ago. The change is only in degree and not in kind, which means that its original purpose of promoting agriculture and industry general has remained its guiding principle throughout the years. There was a grandstand program, perhaps sketchy, and including horse races, in the days when Dave Galletly was secretary, but many of the prizes were contributed by merchants. Hall, Innes & Co. for example gave a man's suit of clothes valued at $22 for the best pair of road horses, and Henry Best donated a Hall Stove worth $20 for a similar class of drivers.

SCARED REFUGEE FLEES TO STATES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—(AP).—Mrs. James B. Murphy, New York woman who is the first refugee to return to the United States from China, flew from San Francisco to New York to-day.

Mrs. Murphy, wife of the Director of the Cancer Department of the Rockefeller Institute arrived yesterday on the Pa-American Hawaii Clipper Plane.

"I was in Peiping when the Japanese took over the city," she said. "I thought what I saw there was something, but I didn't find out until later that Peiping was really a tea party.

I succeeded in getting on a train bound for Shanghai. When I reached the International Settlement all hell had broken loose. The entire sky was in flames, guns were roaring everywhere; it seemed that the end of the world had really come."

Fleeing from Shanghai, she encountered her most terrifying experiences travelling down the Whangpoo river to the German steamer Kulmerland.

"A deep pall of smoke hung over everything, rendering the river dark in spite of the fact the sun was shining," she said. "The waters were stabbed intermittently by red darts where artillery or bomb explosions were reflected.

"Ahead of us machine gun bullets spattered the water and the rat-tat-tat mingled with the boom of heavy guns.

"We passed a Japanese gunboat and 16 destroyers, all firing continuously into the air and at the shore."

The Rambling REPORTERS

TEN FLIES WITH TEN SWATS

The approach of Fall weather has driven flies indoors and provided a game for an idle barber in a well-known downtown tonsorial emporium. The game lies in the barber's wager that he can nail ten flies in ten swats of the fly swatter.

Highly practiced with the fly annihilating weapon, the barber has lost few wagers. If he fails to bat 1000 percent he compensates his error by knocking off two with one swing.—C.P.K.

The Examiner could use to advantage the services of an expert zoologist these days. Scarcely a day passes that fails to provide some new kind of bug for identification.

To-day the insect under scrutiny was a caterpilar of extremely unusual appearance caught by Jack Sullivan in his blacksmith shop on Hunter street. About an inch in length, the brown worm closely resembled a diminutive sea lion. Reporters gave up attempts at identification after a brief wrestle with the encyclopedia.

Of lesser difficulty but equally interesting was a long green specimen of the praying mantis sent in by Mrs. Harry Dulmage, 16 Benson avenue. Measuring four inches in length, it was caught at her home.—C.P.K.

Warden Moncrief Sponsors Picnic

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 25.—(CP)—More than 300 persons, including members of the county and township councils of Victoria county, boarded the steamer Stoney Lake at the government wharf today as guests of W. L. Moncrief of Omemee, warden of Victoria county, county and township officials. The trip this year is via water to Bobcaygeon where the day will be spent in sports of various kinds.

REVOLVERS USED IN ISLAND HOLD-UP STOLEN FROM "EX"

Three young men stated to answer the description of bandits who held up and fired at Fred Gladstone, 194 Ontario street, Kingston on Zwick's Island Sunday morning answer the description of three young men who stole two revolvers from a carnival concession at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

Provincial Constable David Silvester of the local detachment has notified district headquarters that the revolvers stolen here were of .38 and .45 calibre respectively, and has also afforded a detailed description of the trio believed to have stolen the weapons.

Police departments throughout Ontario have been circularized and a concentrated police effort to locate the armed bandits has been in progress since Sunday.

Skipper Near End 20,000 Mile Trip

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25—(CP)—Captain W. A. Crowell and his coal-black Spaniel tacked up the Pacific Coast to-day in their 23-foot ketch, on the last leg of a 20,000-mile voyage from Halifax, N.S., to Vancouver, B.C., via the Panama Canal.

The boat, named the "Queen Mary," slipped through the Golden Gate here yesterday after a 10-day overhaul after a rough trip from Mexico.

Captain Crowell, about 60, sailed from Halifax, July 16, 1936. He planned to reach Vancouver late next month or early in October, stopping off at Eurika, Calif., for mail.

He said he probably would take his boat home by truck.

He paid $1.50 to pass through the Panama Canal, lowest fee paid by any vessel to negotiate the locks.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

A PARTICULARLY auspicious day for promotion, preferment, profitable projects and the pursuit of hapiness is foreseen from the stellar operations. Employment is under splendid rule for advancement, finances should increase, and stability in the fortunes and possesions may benefit through the friendly intervention of powerful interests.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a very prosperous year, with much progress and advancement, both in employment and in important business projects. Those in power and financial standing will be found ready to co-operate in meritorious propositions, resulting in stabilized fortunes, increased possessions and enhanced personal popularity and prestige.

A child born on this day may be efficient, versatile and ambitious and may find its position and achievements in life enhanced by its noble, expansive, cheery and locable nature.

BRITISH CABINET HEADS MEET OVER SINO - JAP CRISIS

LONDON Aug. 25—(CP-Havas)—Prime Minister Chamberlain held a long conference to-day with Foreign Secretary Eden and Viscount Halifax, Lord President of the Council, on the Sino-Japanese conflict and recent incidents involving British ships.

He was expected to receive other key ministers this afternoon, possibly also discussing the question of granting de jure recogition to Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

Some sources predicted a full cabinet meeting would be held next week to deal with repercussions of the Spanish, Far Eastern and Ethiopian wars.

The Prime Minister, who expected to leave London to-night or to-morow to visit the King at Balmoral Castle, was cheered when he arirved at King's Cross station from Scotland.

The protest made to the League of Nations Monday by the Spanish government against interference with shipping will have a bearing on the Ethiopian problem, since Italian submarines have been suspected of attacks against merchant shipping in the Mediterranean.

Reinforcemetns of British contingents protecting Far-Eastern interests was believed to be another question to be discussed.

SET FIRE TO GARBAGE.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 25 (CP)—Police maintained an all-night vigil but failed to capture a will-o'-the-wisp pyromaniac who started three fires in garbage containers.

Charles Nantais said he saw a man pause to light a cigaret and then use the match to set fire to paper in a garbage container that was close to a garage.

Nantais trailed the man into an alley at the rear of a hotel. There he came upon another fire, with the contents of three garbage pails ablaze. He told police who found a third fire a short distance down the alley.

EYE IS PIERCED.

ST. JOACHIM, Ont., Aug. 25. (CP)—Sharpening a chisel on an emery wheel at his father-in-law's garage, here, Lorenzo Schiller, 32, farmer had one of his eyes pierced by a piece of flying steel. He is in a Windsor hospital, where every effort is being made to save the eye. St. Poachim is 23 miles east of Windsor.

C. P. R. PICNIC IS TO BE HELD HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Nicholls Oval is to be the scene on Saturday for a picnic of 1500 members of Smith's Falls and Perth branches of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Recreation Club, and their families and friends.

James J. Doris, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce here, through whom arrangements were completed by the prospective visitors, told The Examiner it was probable some of the company officials from Toronto would accept invitations from the picnickers to be present.

On their arrival at the C.P.R. station by special train around noon they will be tendered a civic reception by Mayor George A. Macdonald, and during the afternoon will participate in a program of sports and other entertainment arranged by their own committees.

One of the highlights of the program will be the ball game at Riverside Park between Smith's Falls and Ogdensburg, which the majority of the visitors will probably attend.

Following the game it is hoped through arrangements that are being made with A. L. Killaly, superintendent of the Trent Canal to have a boat pass through the Lift Locks in order that the visiting railroaders might have the opportunity of seeing the locks in operation.

It is probable that later in the season a much larger excursion of C.P.R. employees from Toronto will visit the city and make Nicholls Oval the centre for a program of sports and games. Already an official from Toronto has been here to look over the sit and has expressed the opinion that the grounds are ideally suited to the purpose, it was learned.

OBITUARY

THOMAS E. CUNNINGHAM.

The death of Thomas E. Cunningham occurred very suddenly following a heart attack on Friday morning, August 20. He passed away on his fifty-fourth birthday at his home in Orillia, Ontario.

The funeral service was held in the home at 8.30 Sunday evening, with Rev. Breckenridge of the United Church, Orillia, in charge. On Monday morning the remains were brought by motor to Peterborough for interment at Little Lake Cemetery. The service at the grave was conducted by Rev. F. W. Craik of St. James' United Church, assisted by Adj. Neil Warrander of the Salvation Army. The funeral was under the auspices of the Masonic Order, of which the deceased was a member. Fellow Masons who accompanied from Orillia acted as bearers.

Relatives from outside the city who were present included Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fyffe of Hamilton, Mrs. J. F. Cunningham of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lawrence of Gravenhurst, and Mr. R. A. Cunningham of Hamilton.

Left to mourn his loss are one son, Marwood H., of London, Ontario, and two daughters, Laurine (Mrs. Bert Lawrence of Gravenhurst), and Dorothy at home, besides the sorrowing widow, who was formerly Katie Hooper of Peterborough. One sister and three brothers of the deceased remain: Mrs. E. Walton, William H. and John J., all of Peterborough, and Robert A. of Hamilton.

The late Mr. Cunningham will be remembered by many of the older residents of Peterborough. He was the fifth son of the late John and Ann Cunningham, having been born in Percy Township. Coming to Peterborough as a boy, he was educated in this city and served as grocery clerk for the late George Carton and R. A. Dutton. He moved to Orillia about thirty years ago.

BELIEVES CRIME WOMAN'S BUSINESS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP). — Crime, said Judge Anna Kross today, is a "woman's business."

"I believe one reason why this country never has made much progress in curbing crime is that women haven't been given enough opportunity to help.

It is a woman's responsibity, she explained, because it involved the school, the home, and the church. "It is the result of a poor educational program in our communities, and shows that something is wrong all the way along the line."

What astonishes New York's militant woman jurist is that the United States has as little crime as it does; for the entire set-up of criminal law, she said, is archaic.

"We're always crowded. We've never caught up. We have so many absurd criminal laws that clog our machinery and should be modernized.

"We need social service bureaus, attached to Magistrate's courts. Crime cannot be handled if we confuse a social situation with actual crime."

BOYS' SKULL FRACTURED.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 25 (CP)—Three-year-old Gordon Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Windsor in hospital today receiving treatment for a skull fracture suffered in an accident reported to police by Ulysse Soulliere, Windsor, driver of a truck which hit the boy. Soulliere said the boy ran into the street from behind a parked car last night.

Yankee Magellans Arrive In London

With Big Ben in the background, Dwight Long (in yachting cap) and his mate, Wilbur Thomas, are shown aboard their 32-foot ketch Idle Hour, in the River Thames after a 30,000 mile voyage from Seattle, Wash. The boys left Seattle, Wash., in September, 1934, and have visited Honolulu, Tahiti, New Zealand, Australia, New Guinea, Singapore and Red Sea, Suez and Mediterranean ports.

Scrap Iron Supply In Peterborough Is Almost Completely Depleted

Upwards of 150 carloads of scrap iron and steel have been shipped out of this city so far this year and new loads are moving out each week, L. S. Moldaver of the Peterborough Metal and Waste Company estimated today. The total would be in the neighborhood of 4,000 tons, he said.

Although iron and steel scrap is still being salvaged zealously and profitably, the big movement which reached a peak in the late Spring months this year has slackened so far as collections in the Peterborough district are concerned, he said. From a high of $16 a ton paid by Canadian smelters for scrap in March and April, the prices of the various grades of scrap have sagged $2 to $3 a ton, he stated.

The estimated 150 carloads shipped out of here this year would be made up principally of scrap gathered throughout the Peterborough region, Mr. Moldaver said. Only about 20 per cent of the iron and steel which has moved through here has been salvaged in the city. He said the supply is now being exhausted. Almost every junk pile, every dump and every odd collection in the entire area has now been scoured thoroughly for iron and steel, he stated.

Where Are You Going My Pretty Maid

That's about as far as the words of the old song apply to this picture, for Esther Ann Walker is not going a-milking. Apart from the fact that it may not be that kind of bovine, Esther Ann is too busy as a member of the court of beauty for the Los Angeles county fair. She is among the beauties from whom will be chosen the fair lady who will reign as queen over the agricultural exposition, which opens there on Sept. 17.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

JIMMY JOHNSTON, editor of the Smiths Falls Record-News sends us some interesting info on the coming game between Smiths Falls Beavers and Ogdensburg Colts in Peterborough this Saturday. He says local fans will see Smiths Falls' players in action who will be wearing Toronto Maple Leafs livery next season. Dan Howley has four of his better farmhands at the Falls, Lanfanconia and Klivak, pitchers; Al Smith, second sacker; and Dick Henry, chunky first baseman. There is also Ernie Downer, fast centre fielder, who has hit 25 homers this year, and some fine flingers. One of 'em, Xavier ("Mister X") Resigno, recently hurled a double-header in Gloversville and won both, allowing three hits and four! That is real pitching, mes amis.

* * * * * *

KNOTTY LEE also has a bunch of stars on his squad. One of his better hurlers is a gent named Pukas, and last Saturday he twir'ed a no-hit, no run, game 'gainst Ottawa, the first perfect game in the Can.-Am. pro loop's history. The Colts have two of the league's hardest hitters in Benson and Vanrobay, the latter with 30 homers to date and the other chap just a few behind him. These teams, who play ball not far behind the calibre of the International League, are both battling now for a playoff berth.

* * * * * *

NORM BOWLER and Harry Low, organizers of the Riverview A.C. here, were pleased with the fine turnout of prospective boxers to their gym on Monday night. Close to 70 fellows came out that p.m., and 22 being signed up as members. They expect to reach their objective of 50 members quite handily this week. Among those signed were such local ring veterans as Len Minicola, Tony Minicola, Norm McIlmoyle, Art Hunter, Ken Roy and Jack Chamberlain. A lacrosse game and softball struggle Monday kept several other good boys from attending. Should be lots of fistic chatter around town shortly.

* * * * * *

A GIRLS' softball bizzle is listed for Riverside Park—not the Bowl—tonight (Wednesday) at six bells. Between the Phillips team of Oshawa and our Westclox crew, it being the first of the P.W.S.U. playdowns. Return game, or games, will be in Oshawa on Saturday. The Phillips squad won out in the Motor City playoffs and should be pretty strong again, though we doubt if they'll come up to the calibre of the Oshawa team that beat Keene in playdowns last year. Ab Delehaye's damsels should make a good showing, and this classic ought to draw plenty of fans. Admish is 15 cents for adults and a nickel for kids. Marg Snowden will be the home hurler.

* * * * * *

ONCE AGAIN Westclox men won the right to represent this city in O.A.S.A. playdowns when they beat Motorists, 5-3, last night at Central in a replay of that protested game. The executive changed its mind in the afternoon about a double-header—since a delay in the first playdown game in Belleville had been obtained—so just one game was ordered for last p.m. It was a tidy tilt all the way. According to the Quinte paper, the locals play Corbin Locks of Belleville here on Friday—likely in Riverside Park—with the return go being in Belleville early next week. More about it again. Tomorrow night at Central Young Petes play Motorists in a round-robin series game. The rumor that the executive will order the top two teams in this round robin playoff series to have another playoff can't be true, surely to gosh! It would be too absurd.

* * * * * *

HERB RALPH'S Rotarians play in Belleville today in the second tilt of their O.B.A.A. junior playdowns. There was a meeting last p.m. in Port Hope at which Belleville, Cobourg, Bowmanville and Peterborough were represented—following the disclosure that Pete Vitarelli of the locals was six hours over the age-limit, an oversight on the part of the local management. But when the facts were shown, Cobourg and Bowmanville agreed not to protest but to let Rotarians proceed in their playdowns against Belleville—it being but a technicality—and the O.B.A.A. said okay too so long as Pete wasn't used in future games. The Rotary crew will be out of further competition if they lose today's tussle. Third game, if necessary, will be in Cobourg on Friday. Local gents who attended the meeting were Bill Prindible, Ralph Clark, Jim Anderson, Russ Kitchen and Herb Ralph.

* * * * * *

AUBURNS won the sudden-death lacrosse semi-final match in Wellington last eve, handing Belleville a 32-15 licking. After the first frame, the Flying Rovers were never in the hunt as the classy Woollens turned on the heat and had themselves a good workout. They will now meet the Oshawa-Norwood winner in league finals. Meantime the other semi-final bracket will hardly get under way till next week as Norwood notified the 222-ers they couldn't have a team till Aug. 30th. We expect the Motor City crew to cop this home-and-home serial and then tackle Auburns in what should be a humdinger of a scrap. Dope on last night's game is in elsewhere tonight. Meantime, New Toronto and Auburns have an exhibition match here this Friday under the lights at the George St. arena and it ought to be worth seeing. New Toronto has several decisions over the Roden A.C. this season.

* * * * * *

KINGSTON and Oshawa play in Napanee this Friday to settle first place in the C.O.B.L. standing. If rain interferes it will be run off the next day. Should Kingston win out, then Oshawa and the Petes meet in semi-finals first game in Oshawa next Tuesday, then here Thursday and maybe Saturday (Sept. 4th) in Oshawa. If the GM-men oust Kingston in Napanee next Friday, then the Ponies and Petes clash in semi-finals, first one in Kingston on Monday, then here Wednesday and maybe in Kingston the following Friday. The three-in-five loop finals commence either Sept. 4th or 6th. Ken Colling and Walter Gerow will umpire all C.O.B.L. games for the rest of this season. That's the dope which came out of last night's league executive meeting in Belleville.

HITHER and yawn: Cobourg gals have protested their last loss to Westclox on umpire's decisions, even sending a wire and a letter to the P.W.S.U.....But the latter body sent back word that the protest couldn't be considered and for Westclox to go ahead against Oshawa ....Manager Foote was protesting against a ground rule which he himself made—and then killed off all sympathy for his team by pulling them off the field like a spoiled schoolboy....Louis-Farr fight in N'Yawk Thursday eve will be heard over Station CRCT that night ....Buster Whitton is only 28 years old, having played junior hockey in Oshawa in '28; he may try out for rugby here this autumn.... Shine and Naish both pitched nice ball in the men's softball scrap at Central yester gloaming....Joe Gould was in the Belleville lacrosse lineup last twilight....Elsewhere tonight is a clipping from Oshawa where that writer blasts the Cobourg gals' softball skipper plenty.... Young Petes may play the C.P.R. softballers at their picnic in the Oval on Saturday....Umpires Bailey and Andrews looked swell at Central last e'en....Schriberl's softball team, best gals' outfit in Northern Ontario, play Keene lasses an exhibition game Friday night at 6.30 in the Bowl....The way playoffs keep piling up around here, we're going to need our vacash in September like a cop needs corn pads.

HAVELOCK WINS SOFTBALL TITLE

(Examiner Correspondence)

KEENE, Aug. 25—Havelock defeated Omemee 5-4 in the deciding game of the first round of O.A.S.A. intermediate 'C' series played on the local diamond Tuesday evening. The game was a fast nip and tuck affair before a good crowd with both sides showing some smart ball.

W. Brunton hurled a good game, allowing 8 scattered hits, striking out 6 and issuing 4 free passes for the winners. his teammates gave him good support. The fielding features were provided by Bill Wood and Johnny Voyer. Stephenson pitched for the losers, allowed 11 hits, struckout 8 and gave 6 walks. His support was fair, Reed in right field and Weir at short were the pick. Jones and Brooks lead the losers at bat with 3 each.

Umpires—Herb Payne of Peterborough at plate, Clarence Gillespie of Keene on bases.

Non-stop Water Hike Albany To New York

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 25—(AP).—Charles Zimmy, 46-year-old legless swimmer, was somewhere along the Hudson River yesterday in an attempt to swim non-stop to New York City.

Zimmy, claimant of several long distance and endurance swimming records, took to the waters Monday night on the 155-mile trip he said would take nearly a week.

Several hours after the start, the grease-plastered swimmer was sighted by passengers and crew of a Hudson River Night Line steamer several miles below this city.

PORT ERIE, Ont.—(CP).—United States immigration officials said today a 10-year-old Eggertsville, N.Y., girl, ill with infantile paralysis in a Toronto hospital, would not be allowed to return to the U.S. until danger of contagion is passed.

Ontario health authorities notified officials at Buffalo parents of the child, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Wallace, wished to have her brought home. The girl was stricken last Thursday at Lake of Bays, 150 miles north of Toronto.

CALIFORNIA CHAMP WITHIN ONE STROKE OF TIEING RECORD

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 25.—(AP).—Sharpshooters who struggled so hard to win the 64 qualifying places in the United States' Amateur Golf Tournament here, tee off to-day for a battle that will leave only 16 survivors by dusk.

Roger Kelly, a stocky native of Winnipeg, who won the California State title last week, proved the crack shot of them all when he captured qualifying medal honors with a par-shattering 142.

Kelly, adding a dizzy 70 yesterday to his par 72 of Monday, came within on stroke of equaling the lowest qualifying score in the 41 years' history of the tournament.

Marvin (Bud) Ward of Olympia, Wash., Art Doering, Jr., of Chicago and Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, New York champion, carded 144 to tie for the second best medal score.

Canadians Qualify.

The trio of Canadians qualified handily, Dominion titlist C. R. "Bandy" Somerville of London, Ont., began to reach championship form as he toured the course in 74. He had 77 Monday for a 151 total. The opening round of match play today Canada's great all-round athlete drew Bob Servis of Dayton, O.

Ken Black of Vancouve and Joe Thompson, formerly of Hamilton, Ont., but now a New Yorker, qualified with scores of 152 and 154, respectively.

Cricket Results

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP Cable)—Driving ahead in a desperate last-of-the-season spurt, Middlesex climbed to the top of the English county cricket championship table Tuesday, replacing Yorkshire. The No. 1 berth has been alternating between the two clubs for some weeks and with only two more scheduled games before the campaign closes; the race is shaping up as the most bitterly-fought in years.

Helped along by some gallant bowling, Middlesex pulled out a tight 71-run win over Kent today while the Yorkshiremen were held to first-innings points by Surrey.

Last year's champions and up with the leaders this year, Derbyshire held its third spot with a close 45-run victory over Worcestershire. Placed 14th at the end of the 1936 season, Sussex holds fourth position although beaten on the first innings yesterday by Somerset.

Playing on familiar soil and shooting for its first win this year, Northamptonshire failed miserably against Warwickshire, losing by nine wickets. Glamorgan also came through with a nine-wickets decision over Leicestershire while Gloucestershire, in fifth place, drubbed Lancashire by 216 runs.

The other county match ended points from Nottinghamshire while with Essex taking first-innings the Hampshire-NewZealand "go" ended in a draw.

Middlesex 277 and 325 runs for seven wickets, declared (Hart 118, Edrich 60); Kent 173 and 368 (Chalk 107, Ames 90 Robins five for 49); at Lord's.

Yorkshire 463; Surrey 273 (Bowes four for 58) and 266 for six (Gregory 109, Fishlock 106); at the Oval.

Somerset 411 and 188 for six, declared (Jim Parks four for 40); Sussex 401 and nine runs for three wickets; at Eastbourne.

Northamptonshire 351 and 195 (Brookes 66, Hollies five for 53); Warwickshire 391 for eight declared (Croom 177, Wyatt 56) and 157 for one (Hill 58 not out, Croom 63); at Northampton.

Leicestershire 152 and 217 (Clay four for 60; Mathews five for 38); Glamorgan 350 and 20 runs for one wicket, at Cardiff.

Gloucestershire 427 and 204 for four, declared; Lancashire 240 and 186 (Goddard seven for 65); at Gloucester.

Essex 436 and 241 for five (Avery 109, Wilcox 66); Nottinghamshire 340 (Keeton 136, Farnes five for 90); at Nottinghamshire 340 (Keeton 136, Farnes five for 90); at Nottingham.

Hampshire 421 and 171 for five, declared; New Zealanders 324 and 165 for five; at Bouremouth.

AS WAS MENTIONED previously, our club is holding a ladies' Irish trebles competition on Wednesday, September 1. Invitations have been sent out to all surrounding clubs and a good entry is expected. It is listed to commence at 2 p.m. (D.S.T.) and the fee is $2.25 per rink. Every lady bowler is invited.

THE TORONTO Globe and Mail is holding an open doubles contest for ladies and our club is entitled to two rinks. Any of the local members who would like to compete in this play must make their entry in writing to K. Sloane, chairman of the ladies' section, not later than Friday night. If there is more than two local entries, then a contest will be immediately arranged to determine which two pairs will compete in Toronto on September 2.

THE GAMES for tomorrow night (Thursday) will be those that were rained out on Thursday, July 15. Skips are asked to get in touch with their rinks and have the boys out. Here is a piece of advice that we may all take a nibble at. "Onlookers—persons not engaged in the game must confine themselves to the banks outside the boundaries of the rink and perserve an attitude of strict neutrality."

Mimico Mountaineers Close Lacrosse Schedule On Top

Toss of Coin Decides Lead Position in Senior O.A.L.A. Race.

TORONTO, Aug. 25—(CP)—Mimico Mountaineers assumed first place in the final standings of the Ontario amateur lacrosse Association senior series over Orillia's Dominion champion Terriers today on the toss of a coin.

After Mimico defeated St. Catharines Athletics 22-6 last night, representatives of Mountaineers and Terriers tossed for first position, to determine the lineup of teams for playoffs. The final standings:

	W	L	F	A	Pts
x-Mimico	18	6	355	345	36
Orillia	18	6	325	355	36
St. Catharines	13	11	313	275	26
Marlboros (Tor.)	12	12	380	317	24
Brampton	11	13	284	248	22
Fergus	9	15	244	358	18
Brantford	3	21	235	389	6

x—First place on toss of coin.

Six of the seven teams will take part in the playoffs, opening Friday. Mimico plays at Fergus. Orillia at Brampton and Toronto Marlboros at St. Catharines. Return games in the best-of-three rounds will be played Monday at Orillia and Toronto and Tuesday at Mimico.

Ceded An Even Chance

The Mountaineers, season's surprises, are ceded an even chance to overthrow Orillia's title team. Second only to Marlboros in scoring totals, they have been at their best against the Terriers.

Playing at home last night, Mimico coasted to victory against a docile St. Catharines club that was without five of its mainstays. Gord Gair, with six goals, and Duke Harrison, with four goals and two assists led the winners.

BOWLING AT NORWOOD

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, August 25.—Three rinks from the local club plan to attend the mixed rinks tournament in Norwood on Wednesday afternoon. The rinks will be skipped by Messrs. Wiggins, Meyers and Locke. Assisting Mr. Locke are Mrs. P. M. Locke, Mr. Ross Douglas and Miss L. Smith. On the team with Mr. W. S. Wiggins are Mrs. Wiggins and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Thompson. The third rink consists of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Meyers and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Archer.

Clay Target Champ Surrenders Title

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 25—(AP).—Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro, O., Tuesday surrendered the North American Clay Target Championship, he had held for two years when he missed four targets of the first 100 in the 200-target race for the 1937 crown.

With less than a third of the field of 400 having reached the halfway mark, eight United States shooters had perfect scores of 100 in a row, and there was no change of Hiestand to tie the leaders.

Mrs. Lela Hall of Strasburg, Mo., winner of the womens championship the last two years hit the half-way mark with 98 of 100, after breaking the first 75 straight, and was a definite threat to become the first woman in history to win the title three times.

Fight Must Gross $230,000 To Get Jacobs Out Of 'Red'

Wet Weather May Hold Down Attendance—Louis Favored in Betting.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP).—If the rain lets up, Shufflin' Joe Louis is going to defend his heavyweight championship at Yankee Stadium tomorrow night against an old carnival fighter named Tommy Farr, who knows all the dodges and is as tough as they come.

Most everybody seems to think Louis, the youngest and least experienced champion ever to defend the big crown, will hang one on the Welshman's jaw early in the evening and then call by the pay-off window for the 40 per cent. Mike Jacobs has promised.

There isn't much argument around town except maybe whether it will gross the $230,000 necessary to get Jacobs off the nut. Some fellows are inclined to think there's going to be a better fight later on when the income taxers start hacking up Farr's $60,000.

A lot of people, including young Joe Louis, are liable to be making a serious mistake about this old carnival fighter, Tommy Farr.

It's a little difficult, on the Welshman's record, to understand why he's been sold down the river Farr, himself, is more puzzled about it than anybody else. He cut Max Baer up into small chunks at London, didn't he? Sure he did, and you may be certain he could do it again.

What the United States experts have based their opinion on, exclusively, is the fact that Farr has looked like an easy man to hit in the training. He is, without doubt, the world's worst gymnasium-fighter. Everybody knows that Louis can splatter any man he can hit right.

The point is, though, that Marie Baer tried to tag the Welshman solidly for 12 rounds, and never did. This fact would seem to indicate the visitor doesn't absolutely stick his chin out.

SPECIAL SERVICE TIRE
A particularly deep tread, and super strength cord make this tire especially suited for heavy road work. A first line tire that insures economy and many additional miles of safe and secure transportation.

DOUBLE SERVICE
A second line tire of tested durability. Lower in price with no sacrifice of high quality. All sizes in balloon or high pressure.

STANDARD SERVICE
A rugged tire that can be depended upon to give real service and exceptional tire value for the price.

Motorists Rubbed Out By Westclox Men, 5-3

Clockmakers Cop Nod in Replay of Tilt to Declare O.A.S.A. Team.

Westclox men softballers took a 5-3 win over Motorists before a big crowd at Central last night to definitely qualify for the O.A.S.A. playdowns. It was a replay of their previous game, which was protested, and the Clockmakers made sure of the verdict. They will now meet Belleville in the first round of the Ontario intermediate playdowns.

The victors last night won the game in the first two frames, scoring two runs in each inning. They added one more in the sixth while Motorists got a run each in the first and second and one in the eighth. It was a snappy softball scrap all the way with both pitchers settling down early and hurling excellent ball. Their support mostly was first-rate, but Motorists had a couple of costly boots.

SEVEN HITS EACH

Shine allowed seven hits as he fanned one and issued one walk on the losers' slab. Naish on the other mound also allowed seven hits while fanning two and walking three. Ellis led the hitters with three in four while Starr got a homer, O'Leary a triple and Stanger a double. For Motorists, Dorrington had a double and single and Shine two singles to top their teammates. Fielding features were supplied by Crary, Weir, Dormer and Stanger, while both infields dished up some snappy defensive work. The teams:

Westclox: P. Calladine, c; Dormer, 3b; Playford, cf; Starr, ss; O'Leary, lf; Currie, rf; Ellis, 1b; Stanger, 2b; Naish, p.

Motorists: Dorrington, 3b; Smith, 1b; Shine, p; Price, rf; Long, 2b; Weir, lf; Montgomery, cf, rf; Crary, 2b, cf; Gainey, ss; White, c; Board.

STOKE POGES, England—(CP)—Sandy Herd, famous golf veteran, is still pretty formidable. He turned in a sub-par 69 and a 71 in two rounds over the difficult Stoke Poges course.

Cotton Is Through With Pro Hockey

TORONTO, August 25—(C.P.)—Harold (Baldy) Cotton, for years a flashy left winger with Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League and with New Haven Eagles in the Canadian-American League last winter, Tuesday, announced his retirement from hockey.

"No more for me," said Cotton. "I'm through, providing I don't run out of cash, and there is little fear of that."

Instigator of many of the Leafs' famed goalward dashes, Cotton now is nearly 35. He was born in Nanticoke, Ont., November 5, 1902, and learned hockey in Toronto's East End. He played amateur hockey for Parkdale and Aura Lee and jumped to Pittsburgh to play with the Yellow Jackets.

Cotton turned professional with Pittsburgh in 1925. In the 1928-29 season he joined Toronto Maple Leafs, where he performed on left wing until traded to New York Americans in 1935-36. Cotton was shipped to the minor league New Haven club last winter.

Pro Baseball Game Set For Saturday

A pro ball game will be played at three o'clock in Riverside Park this Saturday afternoon between Smiths Falls Beavers and Ogdensburg Colts of the Can.-Am. loop. It is a league fixture, transferred here in connection with the C.P.R. excursion from Smiths Falls to Peterborough that day. A big crowd of fans, from here and other places, is expected to see this contest. It should be a fine display of fast baseball between these professional clubs, both of them battling it out for a playoff berth.

Knotty Lee has another hustling club with an ace pitcher in Lee Pukas and some hard-hitting outfielders, including two who have more than 25 homers apiece this season. The Beavers also have a lot of class, this being one of Dan Howley's farm clubs for Toronto Maple Leafs. Four of the Smiths Falls players will be trying out again next Spring with the Leafs down south. Some hard hitters, smart fielding players and good twirlers are on this lineup. Admission for the game here will be half a dollar for adults and a dime for children, with grandstands free.

Crowd Gets a Laugh But It's Not Funny

CHICAGO-GIANTS GAME RAINED OUT TO MEET IN TWIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (CP)—Forced, through the weather man's lack of consideration, to pack their two-game, potentially decisive series into one afternoon, Chicago Cubs and New York Giants today held the esteemed "front and centre" position on the United States baseball stage.

In the natural course of events, a doubleheader is a strain on the resources of both contending parties. This bargain bill at the Polo Grounds held a threat of becoming no bargain at all to the second-place Giants, who tomorrow are booked for another two games with the Pirates.

While yesterday's downpour pushed the Cubs and Giants into the background Boston Bees' big Jim Turner came up with one of the better pitching efforts of a fine season, shutting out the Pirates 1-0 on five hits to run his winning tally to 14.

That fancy coat of whitewash he daubed all over the Pirates was the fourth time this year he's kept enemy runners from planting their spikes in home plate. It was, furthermore, the sixth five-hit game he's won, the 16th time he's gone the route in 21 starts, and the 13th nine-inning victory he's gained. His other came in a one-inning relief hitch.

Yanks Fall to Chisox

The big southerner's performance was enough to overshadow even the fact that the Yanks dropped a 9-8 decision to the White Sox on Tony Piet's ninth-inning double, and that Rudy York blasted three homers and got two other hits while his fellow-Tigers were splitting a doubleheader with the A's.

Four-baggers No.'s 23 and 24, and effective pitching by Tommy Bridges won the opener for Detroit, 6-3. No. 25 came in a losing cause as the Tigers dropped the nightcap 9-8.

Roy Hughes' pinch single gave Johnny Allen and the Indians a 13-inning, 4-3 decision over Lefty Grove and the Red Sox and the Senators made Emil Bildilli's American League debut an unhappy one by routing the Browns' new pitcher in the fourth and going on to win 9-6.

Besides the Giants and Cubs, the Cards and Dodgers and Reds and Phils were rained out in the National. All were due for doubleheaders today.

Number 77

All the world responds to balance. The presence or absence of it in almost everything is immediately noticed by even the most inexperienced observer.

A building or any large object can be out of balance and it registers on the eye. The same thing goes for the balance of a dancer or anyone performing in any way where the body and hands are used. The presence or lack of balance registers immediately.

This seems so obvious that it is hardly worth while mentioning. Well, here is why I bring it to your attention—not one person in 100,000 understands balance in the golf swing. To most golfers balance is a matter of moving the body weight from one foot to the other. They lose sight of the more important item, which is how the weight is distributed from heel to toe. Whenever the player is out of balance he has allowed too much weight to be supported by his toes.

The proper heel and toe balance can best be had through trying at all times to keep most of the weight on the heels. The ever present tendency is to fall forward and bend down in toward the ball. Keeping the weight back on the heels will help to overcome this and afford much better body action for the swing.

Marmora Gets Win In Third Attempt

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Aug. 25.—After two vain attempts in close games to subdue C. McInroy's Deloro softballers, Alex Gawley's Marmora team took the honors at an interesting game at Deloro on Tuesday evening, winning by 8-4. Both teams relied on their regular pitchers who hurled well throughout the game. Aiding Marmora's success were double plays, Burns to Hollingsworth and Phillips to Hollingsworth.

Teams:

Marmora—Phillips, rf; Smith, c; Gray, cf; Fox, p; Hamilton, 1b; Nobes, 2b; Hollingsworth, 2b; Kerr, lf; Burns, ss.

Deloro—Brown, ss; W. Richardson, c; Townson, 2b; Smith, 2b; Regan, 1b; Gray, p; H. Richardson, cf; F. Loveless, rf; J. Loveless, lf.

Score by innings:

Marmora	200 401 1	—8

LEAFS NOT LISTED WITH CONTENDERS FOR PLAYOFF POST

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP)—Frank Shaughnessy, Montreal's president of the International League, is beginning to look like Santa Claus to five managers in his circuit.

If it weren't for the playoff system the ingenious Mr. Shaughnessy took from hockey and gave baseball Messrs. Maranville, Blades, Kelly, Crouse and Schalk would be listening to the "knock-knock" chorus in their home grounds. As it is Montreal, Rochester, Syracuse, Baltimore and Buffalo all have a chance to get into the playoffs and ease some of the grief caused by their negative efforts to head off Newark Bears.

Leafs Not Listed.

With the Bears in—and we mean in—all five clubs turned their thoughts to the post-season series, which included the first four clubs in the league. There are three berths open with Montreal, Syracuse and Baltimore currently the leading contenders.

Royals fought off the Orioles last night in a double bill, dropping the first 5-3, but winning the second 9-8. The Birds came very close to taking two, for they scored three runs in each of the last two innings of the nightcap and were not halted until Harry Smythe came to the hill in the ninth.

The Rochester Red Wings, sixth in the standing, pounded two Syracuse hurlers to win 8-2. The Wings thus gained a full game on the fifth place Bisons, who dropped a 6-2 decision to the Bears.

Jersey City and Toronto split a double bill; the Leafs took the opener, 4-3. Then the Giants turned around, and with Mike Radon in the box, coasted to a 7-1 win.

Latta Gets Title In Hastings Loop

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 25.—Invading the enemie's home camp, Latta did almost the impossible on Monday when after dropping the first two of a five game series in South Hastings Hardball League to Foxboro, they came back to take the cup holders for two straight losses to tie the series and yesterday annexed the silverware in taking the fifth and final game by the decisive score of 11 to 5.

Playing heads up baseball behind the seven hit hurling of Joe Marsh, the Latta club after spotting their rivals a three run lead up to the sixth and trailing three run to nothing, suddenly showed surprising offensiveness to score four runs in the sixth to go one up. In the seventh Foxboro tallied a single run to tie the score, but Latta went wild in the eighth to score seven runs and from then on the Foxboro team simply faded away and Marsh breezed home to an easy victory.

Score by innings:

Foxboro	101 100 101—	5 7 4
Latta	000 004 07x—11	11 3

Jim Turner, Bees—Disarmed Pirates with five hits, pitching 1-0 shutout in which he gave one base on balls and fanned three.

Tony Piet and Mule Haas, White Sox—Former's ninth-inning double whipped Yanks, 9-8; latter got four hits, including triple, and hit single that scored tying run.

Roy Hughes, Indians—Singled as pinch-hitter with bases full in 13th to nose out Red Sox 4-3.

Toronto Negro Enroll At Wayne U.

DETROIT, Aug. 25—(CP)—Sammy Richardson, 18-year-old long-geared Toronto Negro athlete, will enroll at Wayne University here this Fall, according to information received Tuesday. Richardson, who specializes in the hop-step and jump and broad jump, holds British Empire Games championships and represented Canada at the Olympic Games last Summer.

He had been counted on as a point winner at the British Empire trials September 11, but because of his enrollment at Wayne, will not compete in the trials. According to information here he has been offered a scholarship and an after-school job.

Oshawa Girls Team Here This Evening

The Phillips' girls' softball team of Oshawa meet Westclox here tonight (Wednesday) at six o'clock in Riverside Park. It is the first of the two-in-three Provincial Women's Softball Union playdowns, return game, or games, being in the Motor City on Saturday. Westclox won the Peterborough district championship after a bitter playoff series with Cobourg, and may go a long way in Ontario playdowns.

Admission tonight is 15 cents for adults and five cents for children, it being necessary to obtain a better gate than the Bowl provides for travelling expenses in playdowns.

The winner of the Oshawa city series has a number of good experienced players on the lineup, several having been on the British Consols' team of that city which defeated the local winner the past two years in playdowns. They should dish up a fine battle tonight. Marg Snowden is expected to do the flinging for Ab Delahaye's squad, the team being at full strength for this important fixture. A big crowd is expected out.

AUBURNS SWEEP BELLEVILLE OUT LACROSSE RACE

Auburns eliminated Belleville Flying Rovers, 32-15, last night in a sudden-death C.O.L.A. semi-final match in Wellington. They will now meet the Oshawa-Norwood victory in league finals, starting next week, the winner to advance into intermediate O.A.L.A. playdowns. Last night's game was a romp for the Peterborough squad most of the way.

Play was clean and fast with Auburns going to work after the first frame to pile up the count. They had a 9-6 edge in the first frame; the score was 17-8 for them at halftime; and it was 24 to 10 going into the last stanza. Auburns flashed a strong passing attack and deadly shooting in close while checking the Rovers up hard and keeping them well out for shots most of the distance. It was an open game with some good lacrosse shown. All the locals looked good, both forward lines figuring in the scoring and the defence and goalie checking well. Burdes, Gould, Lalonde and Day went best for the losers.

The Teams

Auburns: Goal, R. Creighton; defence, Miller and Cadd; centre, Dundas; wings, King and Dallin; rover, Whitton; alternates, Crowe, Magee, Vitarelli, E. Creighton, G. Creighton, Sloan and Chute.

Belleville: Goal Fox; defence, Burdes and Smart; centre, Lalonde; wings, Day and Tompkins; rover, Gould; alternates, Logie, Battison; Trepanier, Robinson and Burley.

Referee—Bud Fisher.

OSHAWA SCRIBE RAPS MANAGER COBOURG CLUB

(Oshawa Times)

Ernie Foote's girls were defeated in the deciding game Monday night by 16 to 5 and friend Ernie once again acted like a small-town manager when he pulled his girls off the diamond before the game was finished and now has entered a protest against some umpire's decisions.

After winning two straight, and getting the deciding game on their home diamond, we thought mayb the Cobourg-Port Hope "Combines might come through with a victory and win the league honors but it looks as if they weren't even good enough to win the Peterborough league—after dropping out of the Lakeshore League, because it was too fast for them.

With a score of 16-5 it looks as if the Westclox proved conclusively enough that they have the better team but protesting on umpire's decisions is an old trick for small-boy managers. We like to see a manager do plenty of battling and hollering for his rights and for the good of his team during the game but once the last out is made—it's time to quit "squawking."

Once again after four years of campaigning, the girls from down that way have failed to come through in the league finals, after setting a dizzy pace all season long.

Surely by this time, it must be apparent to even those down that way that the fault lies "on the bench." The girls are good enough they have the ability—they prov. that by winning all kinds of games during the season—but when the "checks are down" they aren't in the proper frame of mind to come through with championship displays.

One thing about all this hollering against the Peterborough umpires—along with Monday's protested final game. It should make a couple of Oshawa umpires "Joe" Blow and "Butch" Higgins feel much better. It shows the Cobourg - Port Hope men, Messrs. Ernie Foote and Archie Russell are always kicking about the umpires—when they get beat.

EXHIBITION SOFTBALL

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAMPBELLFORD, August 25. — The softball team will play their first scheduled game of the season with a visiting team on Thursday night at six o'clock when the All Stars will meet the Port Hope Red Indians in a game to be played on the High School diamond. Having had a bit of practice with the Ditch Diggers from whom they took two out of three games an interesting battle is hoped for.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Mary Barrett, ambitious to become a dress designer, is in Paris where she has just obtained a job with Countess Anetka, owner of a small dress shop. She had been recommended to Anetka by Mark Sutherland, American playboy and mutual friend who admired Mary from the first following their meeting on shipboard. Mary likes Mark but misses Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York shop who gave her her start several months previously. She left Castle's shop suddenly disillusioned, after an altercation with Tony's head buyer, Francine Long, and sailed for Paris impulsively. More and more she realizes she is in love with Tony. Mary does so well in the shop that Anetka offers her a partnership. Before long Mary has visions of wide success with the shop. Meanwhile, as Christmas Eve arrives Tony still searches for Mary in New York. An American friend, visiting Paris, suggests to Mary that her shop should expand.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 17

The open carriage rolled leisurely along the Champs Elysees.

In it were Mary and Sergei.

"Sergei, do ask him to hurry. It's nearly 2. If I leave Anetka alone with the decorators, we'll not have a penny left. She has developed a flair for sheer spendthriftiness—if there is such a word."

"Do not worry about Anetka," her companion soothed.

"I don't worry about her. She has been perfectly marvelous since the very beginning. Oh, Sergei, when I think how nervous and hesitant I was once when I asked her to throw out all those old Russian things and fix up that first little front room! But in that, as in everything else, she has been understanding and cooperative. Only now, I'm afraid she is a little too enthusiastic about the new. She is going, as we say in America, completely haywire."

"Anetka is completely under your spell. She does nothing without you. And well that she should regard you."

Mary smiled and looked at her watch for the third time in five minutes. She begrudged every minute spent away from the center of activities. The draperies man had promised to arrive at 2; she had been trying to get him for the last three weeks.

"Had you not come to save her," Sergei continued, "she would be forever in the shop above the tobacconist. You are the little genius. How do you do it?"

Mary resigned herself to the slowness of their pace.

"I don't do anything, Sergei." Indeed, she could not believe that she—and she alone—had wrought miracles out of her enthusiasm and hard work. "Anetka had all the things to begin with; the shop the customers, the materials and the credit. I happened to do things they liked—the customers—and I asked a little more money and they like to pay more.

"So now you spend more money and move into a big shop."

"Not a big one, Sergei. But one with a window. We shall make our fortunes, you will see!"

Sergei sighed and a long shudder ran through his powerful frame. "You American women! Yori and your fortunes. I do not want Anetka to make a fortune. I want her to marry me."

"I wouldn't be a bit surprised if she does, my friend, and one day you shall live as you lived in Petrograd."

He sighed again and was lost in his memories.

Mary was glad for the silence—she had figures to battle with, problems to meet. There was, in addition to the many things to be done in the new shop, the old one to keep going, orders to be finished.

And at last the new one was ready. Three days before the opening, the last of the models to be shown—in the manner of the grand collections at old houses—were completed.

This was no mere whimsy on Mary's part.

"We must have the guest list at at the Ritz and send them cards of invitation to visit our shop," she had said to Anetka. "That's the way the great houses do things. I'll apply a little American business method to the situation, and for a few hundred francs we'll get the mailing list."

Triumphantly she returned to the shop with an imposing list and was forever silent on her means of getting it.

The very first day the shop was opened they made two new clients and served cocktails to nearly a hundred of their old ones.

ANETKA. The name of the shop appeared in small gold letters outlines in black in the small window where a single gown was displayed.

Within there was a small salon. No "front" room for these girls. A salon it was. And so cleverly decorated and lighted that you had the impression there were rooms and rooms beyond. There were, but they were merely two small dressing rooms, an infinitesimal office, and a spacious workroom.

The salon was decorated in a soft shade of blue with silver to give it an atmosphere that was at once restful and chic. The sofas and chairs and tables had low levels to give the room height; the lights cast a flattering glow on the many mirrors that gave it depth, and the carpet was rich and deep and felt luxuriously under foot.

Mary's daring had almost stopped with the purchase of that rug. It would take many stitches to pay for it. It meant she and Anetka could not have the vacation in Switzerland they had planned, but what were vacations compared to this bold gesture on which so much depended.

Mary was determined that their small scale should would be a gem at whatever personal sacrifice she had to make. She abandoned her plan to move from the pension to a small apartment and alloted the extra sum to pay for the services of a small Chinese maid in costume who served a cocktail, or a cup of tea if you preferred.

In those first few summer months, when the tourist trade was at its peak, ANETKA did not do the flourishing business that Mary had hoped for. But it survived and it was young.

In August and September it picked up and Mary and Anetka were to congratulate each other and wonder how it happened.

There was the wife of an American senator who came in one day and brought her friends the next week. There were the two x-chorus girl brides of rich men. There were others who discovered if the prices at ANETKA were not cheap, they were not as high as the larger houses. And who, in Duluth, or Buffalo, or Omaha was to know that you hadn't paid 8,000 francs for a gown that looked worth it?

They began to talk about the shop. "This Barat"—Mary Barrett had begun to sign her name Mari Barat—"studies you. She talks to you leisurely about your hobbies, your pursuits, the sort of person you'd like to be. Then she asks you to come back—she doesn't sketch for you while you are there—and the next time she shows you the things you've always dreamed about. Somehow, she has a way of knowing what you want." So they talked. "Remember how dreadfully that Mrs. Ewing used to dress in her tailored things?" Well, my dears, this Barat tells her that she has an inferiority complex, that she is the Diana type and Mrs. Ewing comes back and knocks out everybody's eye." "And what she does in the way of line to make your hips disappear!"

By November Mari and Anetka knew that they were established.

And with that knowledge, Mari felt the feeling of discontent. She was beginning to learn that a career did not fill her life.

She had schooled herself to shutting out the pain of remembrance, but she could not school herself into becoming an automaton.

She drove out to Chartres to see Ellin and her Bill and Ellin's new baby, and came back to Paris determined to make more money. She decided she was going to adopt a baby.

Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY'S LITTLE JOKE

Old Mrs. Hollyhock led Uncle Wiggily to her garden. As she was about to pick a bunch of red flowers, all of a sudden the rabbit gentleman called:

"Oh, look out."

"What's the matter?" asked the dear little old cat lady. "Do you see a snake, Mr. Longears?"

"No, but I see many bees on those flowers you are going to pick to give to my wife, I thought the bees might sting you."

"No, the bees and I are good friends," laughed Mrs. Hollyhock, ed "But it isn't surprising there are bees on my firecracker flowers, for sometimes these blossoms are called bee balm. I guess the bees like them because of the honey that they get out of the blooms, or they may get pollen to build into wax boxes in which to store the honey. I have plenty of bee balm flowers and if I pick some for you there will be plenty left for the bees."

"Now I see why you call them firecracker flowers," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh as the bees flew harmlessly away from the blooms Mrs. Hollyhock was picking. "The blossoms look like bunches of small red firecrackers."

Harmless.

"That's what I call them," said Mrs. Hollyhock. "Others may give bee balm a different name, but to me they are make believe firecrackers. And the best part is they are pretty and harmless."

"Won't they explode with bangs like Fourth of July firecrackers the children used to burn themselves with?" asked Mr. Longears.

"No, indeed," purred Mrs. Hollyhock. "You may take these bee balm firecracker flowers of mine home and put them in water in your camping tent to make your wife happy. You can't put real firecrackers in water, you know."

"I should say not," laughed Mr. Longears. "Thank you for these blossom firecrackers, Mrs. Hollyhock. I'll hop home and put them in water."

"And thank you for helping get the sticky fly paper off me," mewed the lady cat. "I certainly was a mess when you came to my log cabin. Next time I'll fasten the fly paper down so it can't blow away."

Thinks of Joke.

"That's a good idea," said Mr. Longears as he hopped back through the woods. And on the way to his camping tent he thought of a little joke he might play on his wife or Nurse Jane.

"I'll hand them this bunch of red flowers and say: 'Have some firecrackers,' chuckled Mr. Longears. "At first sight they do look like Baby Chinese firecrackers. I'll play a joke on Nurse Jane."

Uncle Wiggily was laughing to himself thinking of his little joke when, all of a sudden, he heard a mean voice ask:

"What's so funny? Tell me and I'll laugh too."

Uncle Wiggily looked up. There stood the Bob Cat, twiddling his silly little tail no larger than a baby's thumb.

"What's so funny?" sneered the Bad Chap.

"Why-er-why-these firecrackers" cried Mr. Longears in a loud voice holding the bunch of red bee balm toward Bob Cat. "Do you want me to shoot them at you?"

"Oh, no. No. A thousand times no" howled the Bad Chap. Away he ran and then the rabbit laughed loud and long at his little joke.

And if the sidewalk scooter will give the fire hydrant a ride around the block I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the bat.

HASTINGS

Mrs. Bert Preston reports that they have had the best year to date as far as tourists are concerned. Mr. and Mrs. Preston own three cottages about two miles east of the village and at the present they have thirty-seven tourists staying there, and every tourist this summer to occupy their cottages have been Americans. This would seem to indicate that more Americans have visited this district this summer than for a few years past.

Jack Brinklow was treated for blood poisoning by Dr. Campbell on Sunday. Infection is centered on the wrist and the cause is unknown, but is thought to have been caused by an insect bite.

SOUTH DURHAM CALF CLUB WINS COUNTY CONTEST

South Durham Holstein Calf Club took leading honors in the boys' inter-calf club competition at the Exhibition last week with a victory in the showing of selections of three dairy calves, according to results announced today. Runner-up was the Durham Jersey Calf Club with the Norwood Holstein Heifer Calf Club representing Peterborough County in third place.

The three animals shown by each club were selected as the best of four club entries. South Durham entries were by Franklin Tamblyn, Orono; Morley Bickle, Port Hope; Donald Jose, Newcastle; and Sandy Muir, Courtice. Durham County Club entries were by Fred Brown, Millbrook; Joe Armstrong, Millbrook; and Elias White, Cavan. Four Peterborough County boys who entered calves were Arthur Drummond, Gordon Stabler, Irvine McIntosh and Keith Manley.

The Prince Edward County Boys Calf Club was in fourth place in this class. Animals were entered by Douglas Black and William Nightingale of Belleville; Donald Thompson of Picton, and Leland Doxsee of Demorestville. Four who entered calves from the Northumberland County Calf Club, in fifth place, were Howard Evans, Warkworth; and Donald Barnum, Ed. Rutherford and Henry Oliver, all of Campbellford district.

Individual Placings

Fred Brown of Millbrook was winner of the combined classes of Ayrshire and Jersey calves, with Joe Armstrong in second place and Elias White of Cavan in third. Fourth and fifth ribbon winners were Farley Lindenfield and Arthur McDonnel of Stirling.

Frank Tamblyn of the the South Durham Club took first place in the Holstein calves class with Arthur Drummond of the Norwood Club and Morley Bickle of the South Durham Club in second and third places. The next four to place out of the total field of 16 entries were, respectively, Howard Evans, Douglas Black, Donald Thompson and Irvine McIntosh.

South Monaghan

The honors in the Hereford and Shorthorn calves classes were taken by Jack Whittington of South Monaghan. The next five to place were Gordon Fallis of Millbrook, Ray Stewart of Ida, Bruce Fisher of Bailieboro, Alan Dawson of Bailieboro, and Alfred Allen of Bowmanville.

Showmanship winners in beef calves were: 1, Jack Whittington; 2, Alfred Allen; 3, Gordon Fallis; 4, Allan Dawson; 5, Bruce Fisher; 6, Ray Stewart.

Showmanship winners in dairy calves were: 1, Leland Doxsee; 2, Donald Thompson; 3, Douglas Black; 4, William Nightingale; 5, Gordon Stalker; 6, Irvine McIntosh.

W. P. Watson of the Ontario Livestock Branch, Toronto, acted as judge.

DOURO

Mr. Wilfred Kennedy was in Detroit last week, where he attended the funeral of his brother, John.

Mrs. William Allen returned recently from an extended visit with friends at Edmonton and Dewberry, Alberta and at Vancouver.

Miss Vera Foley of Madoc is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice O'Leary.

HOW OFTEN CAN YOU KISS AND MAKE UP?

FEW husbands can understand why a wife should turn from a pleasant companion into a shrew for one whole week in every month.

You can say "I'm sorry" and kiss and make up easier before marriage than after. If you're wise and if you want to hold your husband, you won't be a three-quarter wife.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women most endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere boxful movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Absolutely refuse anything else. 224

MARSDEN FAMILY HOLDS RE-UNION VIMY RIDGE CAMP

ALDERVILLE, August 25. — One hundred and fifty persons of the Marsden clan, descendants of, and relatives by marriage, of the children of Robert Marsden, of Alderville, gathered at Vimy Ridge Park, Rice Lake, on Tuesday afternoon to observe the annual family re-union.

Mr. Marsden, still keen of intellect, able to enjoy a daily walk, is ninety years of age, and looks forward each year to the family gathering. Mr. Marsden can tell the story of Canada from Confederation on to the present era. He can tell tales of thick forests, wolves and bears. He watches the world go by to-day by swiftly moving motor car, and more swiftly moving aeroplane, and contrasting the present day motion and methods with the former days, wonders of the years to come. Relatives gathered from Christian Island, from Akron, Ohio, Point Anne and other places for and near.

Following dinner a softball game was played, followed by the running races.

Girls 8 years and under—Audrey Marsden, Nora Simpson, Lois Bigwin.

Girls 12 years and under—Shirley Crowe, Rena Simpson, Irma Marsden.

Boys 8 years and under—Neil Crowe, Sandy Smoke, Iva Franklin.

Boys 12 years and under—Kingsley Crowe, Elmer Marsden, Jimmy Marsden.

Girls' open race— Shirely Crowe and Charlotte Marsden tied three times for first place, and refused to run the race again, so both were awarded equal prizes. Vera Birmington won second place.

Men's 100 yards dash—Dan Simpson, Everett Simpson, Lorne Simpson.

Women's race. — Miss Marjorie Marsden, Miss Shirley Crowe, Mrs. Clifford Yeo.

After supper all repaired to the Alderville community hall, where the band furnished the music and speeches were made by the president, Robert Marsden, of Christian Island (who is a son of Robert Marsden, senior of Alderville), and a number of others.

Among those attending from a distance were: Robert Marsden, Ephriam Marsden and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Marsden of Christian Island; Mr. and Mrs. Moses Marsden and family, of Lakefield; Misses Mabel, Jennie and Gladys Hill of Point Anne; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Marsden, Marlene and Patricia, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Marsden, and Norman Marsden and son Jimmie, all of Akron, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Sunday and family of Newtonville.

CAMPBELLFORD

Misses Ruth Moore and Elva Elliott have returned from a three weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Toronto and Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Phaon H. Bates of Washington, D.C., is visiting her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Erle J. Gillespie, in town for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Longmuir were guests last week of Mrs. E. Gillespie.

Miss Thelma Menzies returned on Saturday from Rochester, N. Y., where she has been visiting her cousin, Miss Hazel Labrash.

Mrs. H. Bates and Mrs. J. Gillespie were weekend visitors of Mrs. Gillespie's brother, Mr. William Morrow and Mrs. Morrow, at Chemong Lake.

Miss Jean Lockhart of Montreal, P.Q., is spending a week with her aunt, Mrs. Peter Stephens.

Mr. George F. Byam of Toronto, formerly of town, and his son George of Toledo, Ohio, were visitors in town on Monday.

COTTESLOE

Mr. and Mrs. James Blakely of Cottesloe had as guests on Sunday their children and granddchildren and Mr Blakely's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Will Gunn of Prescott, who very pleasantly surprised them on the occasion of Mr. Blakely's 80th birthday.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Blakely and family of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Blakely and family of Seymour; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jenkins and family of Seymour; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spencer of Brighton; Mr. and Mrs. Hilding Holm of Vancouver, B.C., who are visiting their parents; Miss Ruth Gunn, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gunn of Prescott, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnston Blakely and family of home. There were 30 present, and also 12 grandchildren.

Where They Get 'Em.

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 25.—Since the cool weather of the past few days fishing is good again. Mr. Earl Johnston of St. Catharines, son of Mr. George Johnston, caught his first muskie Monday morning while trolling down the Trent, weighing 5½ lbs., measuring 31 inches in length and 12 inches in girth.

Mr. Luchford of Mon Repos was successful over the week-end in landing a fine lunge and several good sized bass.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, Aug. 25.—Julian Bedore, one of Marmora's veteran anglers who has taken so many fish out of Crowe River these forty years or so that he could not, when questioned, recall his first capture, has had a coincidence this summer in his experiences.

On Tuesday of last week he secured a 15-pound maskinonge just below the dam at seven thirty in the morning. On Tuesday of this week at the self same hour and in the self same place he did better, landing a bigger specimen. That there might be no doubt as to the particulars, he had the fish weighed on the scales at Sweet's store and the needle almost hit the 20 pound mark. Then with a surveyor's tape line, he found the fish to measure 46 inches and to have a girth of 19 inches. Mr. Bedore used a Star Buffalo spoon and was alone.

CENTRETON

Mr. N. Bellyou of Trenton, was in the village on Monday during some repair work on the Taylor farm.

FLEMING FAMILY HOLDS REUNION SEARLE'S BEACH

IVANHOE, Aug. 25—Two hundred members of the Fleming family held their annual picnic at Searles Beach, Oak Lake on Wednesday afternoon. The event was a decided success and by unanimous vote it was decided to again hold a re-union next year, the third Wednesday in August. D.C. Fleming was named president of the association for the year with Harry Rollins of Belleville as vice president. Beste Fleming of Ivanhoe as secretary and James Haggerty of Belleville, treasurer. C. A. Fleming of Owen Sound was chosen as honorary president. Mrs. John Clements historian.

A delicious lunch was served at one o'clock. James Haggerty president called the gathering to order expressing his pleasure at the number present and welcoming the visitors: Mr. C. A. Fleming, Helen Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming, Owen Sound; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Whytock, Misses Marjery and Dorthea of Warner, N.H., after which all joined in singing "Roaming in the Gloaming."

The secretary's report was given by B. Fleming after which speeches were heard from Harry Rollins, treasurer; S. B. Rollins, Tweed; J. A. Kerr, Belleville.

A feature of the day was a brief history of the John Fleming branch of the family given by Mr. C. A. Fleming and his reminiscences proved most entertaining. D. L. Fleming newly elected president spoke briefly after which all joined in singing Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King.

An interesting sports program included races for the children and various contests. Results of the events were:

Boys race, 5 to 8—Teddy Fleming.

WALKING POPULAR

CRAIK, Sask.—(CP)—Walking is becoming popular—or maybe just a fad—in this dirtict again. In groups of three, four and more young people of the district and some of the older folk, too, have been making three and four mile walks nightly for exercise.

Jamaica is shipping almost twice as many bananas to other countries as last year.

JANETVILLE.

KOREAN PASTOR SPLENDID SPEAKER

JANETVILLE, Aug. 23. — John Starr Kim, B.A., (the only Korean in Canada) is a guest of his friend and college chum, Rev. Mervin Bury, B.A. at the parsonage and has already won many friends with his charming manner, ready wit and keen sense of humor.

Mr. Kim was in charge of both services in the United Church on Sunday and his splendid address as well as his violin selections will be long remembered by the unusually large congregations.

In the morning Mr. Kim's subject was "God's Harmony" although God has not made any two things exactly alike in this world, He has marvellously arranged them so that a grand harmony is the result. Each person, each community, each nation, while entirely different has its own special role to play in the great drama of God's harmony.

Mr. Kim used an unique method to prove his thesis of God's harmony. He asked Rev. Mr. Bury to sing with him the well known hymn, "He Leadeth Me", Mr. Bury singing in English and Mr. Kim in Korean. The result was amazingly and delightfully harmonious.

The service concluded very fittingly with the hymn "In Christ There Is No East or West".

Mr. Kim addressed a large audience at the Sunday School rally at Ballyduff in the afternoon and in the evening again conducted the service in the Janetville United Church. His subject was "Why Believe?" Mr. Kim used some very striking illustrations to prove his point in faith. He said none of us know what day our birthday is but we believe it was a certain day because our parents told us so. We believe, Mr. Kim stressed that faith is the mother of knowledge, the source of happiness and the key of success and above all "faith" is the only road that leads to eternal life. The speaker is a convert from paganism, a product of the missionary field and to know him and hear him speak and listen to his beautiful rendition in a violin solo of "Nearer My God to Three" is to see Faith personified.

During the evening Mr. Marshall Malcolm of Toronto sang a pleasing solo, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" and the service concluded most appropriately with that challenging hymn "Faith of Our Fathers" followed by the benediction pronounced by Rev. V. Walker of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Kim will show his famous moving pictures in the local church on Friday evening and on Sunday, August 29th will speak in Queen St. church Lindsay in the morning, in the afternoon at Mt. Horeb and in the evening at Omemee United church.

MARMORA

Mrs. Harry Smeaton and daughter, Helen, of Toronto, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Pearce.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Cross and family, of Port Colborne, spent the weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cross.

Mr. T. J. Doran of Brockville renewed acquaintances here last week.

Joining a group of old-timers who were discussing the most recent fish story of these parts, the Examiner representative learned that the largest maskinonge ever to be captured locally was secured by the late Matthew McFarlane at the junction of Crowe River and Beaver Creek about forty years ago. The big feller weighed thirty-nine pounds. Robert Bonter, at Crowe Lake some years later, had the thrill of capturing a thirty-five pound specimen.

CENTENARIAN DIES IN JOHN MORLAND

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 25.—John Morland, the oldest man in the County of Hastings, and one of the oldest in Eastern Ontario, died on Monday, following a lingering illness at the home of his son, Charles, of Moira, ten miles south of Tweed.

On February 20th of this year, Mr. Morland celebrated his 100th birthday but since that time he has been in failing health. On the occasion of his reaching the century mark, he was tendered a birthday party by members of his family and friends.

Mr. Morland was one of the pioneers of this country. Born in the province of Quebec, he came with his parents at an early age to the sixth concession of the Township of Huntingdon, where he spent his whole life. At that time the country was a virtual wilderness and he subdued it become one of the richest and most prosperous farm sections in the part of the province.

The centarian suffered an illness last autumn which threatened his life, but he rallied and was afterwards able to take his usual stroll around his farm, although his sight was impaired after the sickness.

Mr. Morland was, in earlier life the centre of one of the worst tragedies in this section of the country, when his first wife who was Kathleen Gallagher, and his two daughters, Sarah and Elizabeth perished in a fire which destroyed his home. Three other persons in the log cabin met death at the same time.

He afterwards married Isabel Orr, and of a family of eleven three remain; Charles of Moira, with whom he lived; Murney Morland and Mrs. Charles Rollins of Fuller.

He was a life-long member of Knox Presbyterian Church at Fuller and was a staunch Conservative, casting his ballot at the East Hastings by-election last autumn. In his early days, he was engaged in the lumber industry, but in later years he took up farming and was one of the most successful agriculturists in the township.

Travel Made Him Constipated

Salesman Says Kruchen Keeps Him "On His Toes"

"I am a commercial traveller," writes a correspondent, "and due to endless travelling by train and automobile I find that I become constipated if I do not keep myself internally clean. Kruschen Salts is the only thing that will do this effectively and not interfere with my work. I take a large dose of Kruschen every Saturday night and on Sunday, when I have no work to do, the Salts act on me. On weekdays I take a small dose on rising. It is necessary that I be 'on my toes' all through the day, and this is the only way that it is possible can be done."—V.L.

Kruschen Salts is an excellent recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The numerous salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth regular action. Your inside is thus kept clear of those impurities which, when allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system.
